LAKEFIELD IN LINE.

The American Federation of Labour, Plants a big Healthy Union in Live Lakefield.

The deputation from the Peterborough Branch of the American Federation of Labour, which went to Lakefield yesterday afternoon to organize a Union in that village, report the successful formation of a big, healthy labour organization. The rally of workingmen that met the deputation was a rousing one, and when the bona fide signatures of eighty-eight wage-earners was presented, it was seen that the local promoters had not been idle.

The meeting place was the Sons of England Hall, and at 4 p.m. President Henry, of the Peterborough Union, opened the proceedings by an intelligent address to the men on the objects and aims of the movement. The hall was filled with attentive listeners. After Mr. Henry's address, Mr. J. H. McClellan, of Peterborough, spoke words of advice and counsel to the men—to be tolerant and just and fair and not to resort to anything that might bring discredit and failure on their actions.

President Henry then officially organized the Union, which is to be called "Lakefield Union, No. 9677." The workingmen present were then all initiated and the meeting adjourned to 7.30 in the evening.

The deputation from Peterborough was invited to partake of the hospitality of the Lakefield brethern at the Craig House, where a substantial repast was provided for them.

The evening meeting was attended by a still larger number of men ready to be initiated. President Henry and Mr. J. H. McClelland again addressed the meeting, after which the formidable work of initiating the rest of the members was proceeded with. The members were then called upon to elect their first officers, which resulted as follows,—

President, T. A. Northey.
Vice-President, Jas. C. Craig.
Financial Secretary, W. H. Smith.
Recording Secretary, G. Hill.
Treasurer, A. Wood.
Inside Guard, C. Akombricht.
Outer Guard, J. W. Madill.

On behalf of the Peterborough Union, Mr. J. H. McClellan presented the new union with a pretty labour banner, as a souvenir of their visit. He expressed the hope that they would remember their foster fathers, and "keep working away." After votes of thanks, and a pleasant exchange of greetings, the successful meeting was concluded.

MR. JOHN CRANE IS THE MANAGER

Of the Local Branch of the Ontario Bank.

WAS APPOINTED YESTERDAY

And Received the Notification This Morning—Mr. A. A. Hollingshead Will be his Accountant.

Customers of the Ontario Bank, as well as residents of the town and surrounding country generally, will be greatly pleased to learn that Mr. John Crane has been appointed manager of the local branch of that institution.

It is fifteen years since Mr. Crane was transferred to Peterborough from the Whitby agency where he had entered the service of the bank a couple of years previously. Under the training of Mr. Chas. McGill, now General Manager, he was steadily advanced in position until fitted to step into the vacancy recently created in the management.

Mr. Crane's career since he took up residence in Peterborough has been a useful one, indeed, to the public, as his name is associated with the financing of a large number of benevolent and philantrophic organizations, the officers of which feel that they owe much to his generously-given advice and counsel. His abilities as an accountant soon earned practical recognition and to-day Mr. Crane holds the position of auditor for a number of the larger industries of the town. His long connection with St. Paul's church, as organist and choir-master, has brought him into a very close touch with the church officials, by whom his merit is appreciated to such a degree that Mr. Crane has found it impossible to retire, although on several occasions he has expressed a wish to do so.

The customers of the bank will experience a feeling of additional security in knowing that Mr. Crane is in charge of their interests in Peterborough, as his long and close association with Mr. McGill ensures the latter's energetic policy being still continued.

Mr. Crane was kept busy to-day receiving the hearty congratulations of his many friends. Mr. A. A. Hollingshead is also a subject of congratulation as he has received the appointment of accountant. Mr. Hollingshead has only resided in Peterborough for the last five years, but during that time he has become very popular amongst all classes of citizens. His close attention to business has earned for him a well-deserved promotion.

Proud of Our Patterns.

You won't wonder at our pride when we tell you that every pattern is the creation of our Millinery Staff. No French, English or New York Hats here, but—did you ever see more clever copies? One question that was asked repeatedly yesterday was:—Are these imported patterns? You cannot, therefore blame us for feeling a bit proud of these—our own creations, when we could answer in the affirmative.

Now, here is a strong point that we wish to impress upon you. It's this. What we have done we can do, and do it the season through. This should instil a great deal of confidence in the buying public, for you can see we don't have to buy Foreign or Pattern Hats of experts to gain your good impressions. We have experts in our Millinery Department that can do this.

Another feature regarding "foreign" patterns is the extravagant price at which they have to be sold. This is not the case with our own make, for they are moderately priced. Chic Millinery reasonably priced.

Easter is a bit quick in coming this year. Orders will be executed as received. Don't procrastinate.

THE SPRING OPENING OF THE TURNBULL CO.

A Magnificent Display of Millinery and Dress Goods.

The Latest Fashions in Headgear for the Ladies—Many Beautiful Creations —Tasteful Arrangement of Goods.

The Turnbull Company opening was largely patronized yesterday.

Miss Noble, recently of Detroit, is in charge of the millinery department. Her many fair visitors simply went into raptures over the beauties and elegance of her designs and millinery novelties. It surpasses all previous occasions. Parisian, American and many exclusive designs, of Miss Noble's own, and her expert assistant's creations, were on exhibition, that drew one as to a lodestone. The broad, flat effect which suit the broad "Gibson Girl" shoulders so well, are leaders. Hats droop at back, and are much trimmed over the hair. In fact, some hats have all the trimming at the back. The leading shapes are Florodora Picture Hat, Colonial, Alice Roosevelt, also Toques, Turbans, and again the round trimmed Sailor. The flower and flower straw hats are especially lovely. Hats trimmed with ostrich feathers only are quite a feature of this season. While flowers in soft tints and tender colours, in large and small, Foliage and Berries, some to almost surpass nature. Tasteful effects in flowers and ribbons lead. Pearls are the popular ornament, as (Queen Alexandra loose pearl.) Cabachons in straw jet and pearl are the latest. Quantities of lace in Irish Point, Brussels Point and linen colour are used. Combined with lilies Monselain de Soie, Chiffons, Chrysanthemum straws, artistically brought out many new ideas and dainty things to perfection. In colours a great deal of white, and white and black are shown also pale or lettuce green, pink, pale, blue, violet, castor and linen colour. In fact, every shade is more or less used. A beautiful assortment of children's hats and bonnets, as well as a fine display of Morning Sailors and ready-to-wear hats bought direct from the makers, are seen.

The rooms were most daintily and artistically arranged, showing everything in vogue for spring and summer. Among the many beautiful patterns shown was the Tryoon hat with brim of Maline in watermelon shades, caught with brilliant Cabachons, crown of foliage and finished at back with crushed roses. Another that was much admired was a Florodora, in pearl and cream basket straw with paneer velvet disks laced with tubular braid on brim, soft crown, caught well down in front with cut steel slide, shaded grey poppies mounted at side back. Also a black turban picture hat, entirely new in design, faced with fluted tulle, caught at side with rosette of tea roses and Cabachons, and at opposite side two prince plumes falling gracefully over brim. A large colonial hat in black chiffon and straw with frilled crown, and plaited edged chiffon fall, and side banked with shaded green locusts. These are only a few of the many important patterns and of those designed in our workroom. Any of those wishing to leave orders will always find the stock well assorted throughout the season. A specialty is made of ladies' and misses' ready-to-wear and outing hats, also children's head wear. Its the general opinion that the millinery is more beautiful than ever before.

Mr. F. J. Might is to be congratulated on the enterprise and business foresight which he displayed in arranging for a Spring Opening on so elaborate a scale.

FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 1902.

THE INCREASE OF INSANITY.

The report of the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities upon the lunatic and idiot asylums of Ontario for the year 1901, contains a very interesting treatise on the seeming increase of insanity.

The figures show that in 1861 there was one insane or idiotic person to 856 of the population, and in 1901 one insane or idiotic person to every 371 of the population. In other words, while the provincial population has increased from 1,396,091 to 2,182,924, or 50 per cent in the forty years, the number of insane and idiotic, officially known, has increased from 1,631 to 5,880, or 260 per cent. That is, the ordinary population has increased 1 1-2 per cent. per annum for the 40 years, while the insane and idiotic population has apparently increased about 6 1-2 per annum in the same time, as shown by the following table:

	Number of insane and idiots.	Ratio of insane and idiots. population
1861	1,631	1 to 856
1871	1,427	1 to 1136
1881	2,693	1 to 727
1891	4,119	1 to 513
1901	5,880	1 to 371

While there can be no doubt as to the correctness of the insane officially known on the dates named, the inspector says there are many indications that great allowance must be made before this can be adduced as conclusive evidence of the comparative increase of insanity, and one of the chief factors in this regard is the broadened views as to what constitutes the mental state of those designated insane. While there is no doubt that the term insanity is rightly applied as indicating an abnormal mental condition owing to distorted or deficient mental ability, ever-widening methods of investigation and research have detected other and new phases of the disease, and the result is that there is a largely increased number of patients committed to the asylums for treatment during recent years.

Again, the public sentiment which prevailed through former years against the commitment of patients to an asylum had the effect of retraining relatives and friends from making application for their admission, and the result was that few, if any, but the most refactory and maniacal, who could not otherwise be controlled, were considered proper subjects for institution care and treatment, and on that account accurate knowledge as to the number of this afflicted class at large must have been unobtainable.

That a great change has taken place in the public mind recently in regard to the benefits to be derived from asylum treatment is evidenced from the number of patients now admitted from the quiet and demented classes who formerly would have been cared for in their own homes, and as these classes form so large a proportion of the resident population of the several institutions it would not be incorrect to assume that the asylum population at present bears the same relative proportion to the total population that it did in former years.

Under the difficulties which beset efforts to reach a satisfactory conclusion as to the relative proportion of the insane of the provincial population it is interesting to compare the number here with those of other countries where the conditions are, to some extent, parallel, and from that point of view may be found useful when considering the questions of insanity in many of its important aspects.

The record furnished by the Commissioners in Lunacy in England in their late report gives the proportion of insane people as 1 to every 300 of the population, and in the state of New York the Commissioners in Lunacy report 1 to every 320 of the population, and as formerly shown, the Ontario statistics record 1 insane person to every 371 of the population. The figures are as follows:

New York State—Population, 7,268,009, as per commissioners' report. The insane population registered is 22,008, on 1 to 320.

England—Population, 32,091,907, as per report of commissioners. Insane population, 106,611, or 1 to every 300.

Ontario—Population, 2,167,978, as per census of 1901. Number of insane, 5,880 known to the department, or 1 to every 371.

The following table showing the assigned causes of insanity, from 1898 to 1901 inclusive, will be read with interest:

	Number from predisposing cause.	Number from exciting cause.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The report of the Inspection Liquor Licenses, 1901, printed by order of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, shows what can be done to diminish the operations of the drink traffic. Our country sorely needs similar legislation—The Christian Irishman, of Dublin, Ireland, for March, 1902.

Dealing with the last pulp agreement, the Hamilton Herald, (Independent), says: "In the Herald's judgment, almost all of Mr. Whitney's criticism and denunciation was unfair and unwarranted. No Crown land is given away. The company gets the right to cut pulpwood over a large area north of Pembroke; but for every cord the Government will receive a revenue of 40 cents, and the operations of the company need not interfere with settlement. Nor is a monopoly of the privilege of cutting pulpwood in this district guaranteed to the company; the Government reserves the right to grant similar privileges to others in the same district. In return for the privilege the company is bound by the agreement to erect a pulp mill to cost $500,000, with a capacity of 150 tons daily; to employ at least 250 men; $100,000 must be expended in eighteen months; $200,000 additional in the following years, and the whole $500,000 within three years of the date of the agreement. Although the Government's revenue from pulpwood cut is fixed at 40 cents a cord the Government may increase the price at will. It is simply nonsense to denounce this arrangement as "public robbery," and as "handing over the public domain to a private corporation." In the Herald's judgment it is upon the whole a pretty good arrangement from the public standpoint.

INTENSE SUFFERING

From Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble

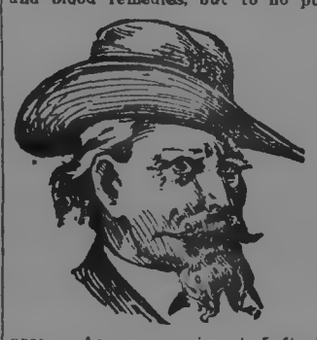
Instantly Relieved and Permanently Cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A New Discovery, but not a Patent Medicine.

Dr. Redwell relates an interesting account of what he considers a remarkable cure of acute stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia by the use of the new discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

He says: "The patient was a man who had suffered, to my knowledge, for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and and create gases in the stomach. He had pains like rheumatism in the back, shoulder blades and limbs, fullness and distress after eating, poor appetite and loss of flesh; the heart became affected, causing palpitation and sleeplessness at night.

"I gave him powerful nerve tonics and blood remedies, but to no purpose. As an experiment I finally bought a 50 cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. Almost immediate relief was given, and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances fully cured.



"There was no more acidity or sour, watery risings, no bloating after meals, the appetite was vigorous and he has gained between 10 and 12 pounds in weight of solid, healthy flesh.

"Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are advertised and sold in drug stores, yet I consider them a most valuable addition to any physician's line of remedies, as they are perfectly harmless and can be given to children or invalids or in any condition of the stomach with perfect safety, being harmless and containing nothing but fruit and vegetable essences, pure pepsin and Golden Seal.

"Without any question they are the safest, most effective cure for indigestion, billiousness, constipation and all derangements of the stomach, however slight or severe."

THROWN UP BY THE SEA.

Possible Traces of the Huronian—Hundreds of Bed Sacks, Used in Steerage Berths, Drift Ashore.

Halifax, March 21.—That an ocean liner has been wrecked on the coast of Nova Scotia during this week now seems certain. There is still no news of the Huronian, and people think that it may be that she has met with disaster. Hundreds of bed sacks, such as are used in steerage berths of ocean steamers, have drifted ashore on Cape Sable Island, Shelburne, and were found strewn from Hawk Point to the east end; sixty were picked up at Baccaro. The south side beach extends northeast from Cape Sable light, facing the Atlantic, and, with a southerly wind, drifts from the sea would have a free course to the land. Westward of Brazil rock, in Cape Ledge, where the Hungarian was wrecked in the path of passenger vessels, steamers might strike these shoals, and, sinking in deep water off shore would leave no trace of the wreck, other than such as has been found now. The bed sacks are new, and besides, boards were found, one of them apparently the partition of a ship's room and numbered 189 to 194.

A Case too Difficult and Complicated for the Ordinary Physician.

Paine's Celery Compound

The Marvellous Spring Medicine Rescues the Suffering man.

Mr. Forsythe Says: "I am Pleased to Recommend Paine's Celery Compound; I Believe it is the Best Medicine in the World.

Paine's Celery Compound surely and truly makes people well. It is the one true specific recognized and prescribed by eminent physicians for all diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system. As a spring medicine for the banishment of blood diseases, dyspepsia, kidney disease, liver complaint and rheumatism, it is unequalled in the world.

Mr. A. Forsythe, Manvers, Ont., says: "For two years I was in a low condition of health, suffering from nervousness, fainting spells, pain in the head, stomach troubles and loss of appetite. I was under the care of two doctors, but received no benefit from their treatment. I was then advised by a neighbour to use your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The use of this marvellous preparation soon produced the very best results. I am glad to report that my health is improved in every respect; I am stronger, sleep better, and my appetite is good and natural. I am pleased to recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sick people, as I believe it is the best medicine in the world."

A TORONTO MAN.

The Mr. Jardine Referred to, Lives in the Queen City.

Well-Known Throughout Canada as one of Canada's Commissioners to the Paris Exposition—His Statement is a Very Valuable one, and has Been Read With Much Interest.

Toronto, March 19. (Special).—Mr. J. G. Jardine, whose statement as to the wonderful curative and tonic properties of Dodd's Kidney Pills has been published in many of the papers, is a resident of this city. His home is at 305 Crawford street.

Mr. Jardine was chosen as one of the Canadian Commissioners to the Paris Exposition two years ago, and performed the onerous duties of that office with honour to himself and credit to his country.

It is to his experience in the French capital at this time that Mr. Jardine makes particular reference in the published statement in which he says:—

"During my stay in Paris I felt many times quite run down owing to the complete change and to the worries and work of our business there. I suffered not a little with backache, with general feeling of depression and I found Dodd's Kidney Pills invaluable.

"I had learned the value of this medicine before going to Europe as I had used it very successfully for backache which I found it relieved almost instantly. So when I went to Paris I was careful to take with me some of this, my favourite remedy.

"Every time I was threatened with a return of the trouble I used a few Dodd's Kidney Pills and can say they did not disappoint me. They are the best medicine I know of to tone up the system generally and they do certainly relieve backache instantly."

What Mr. Jardine has said is amply borne out by many others in this city whose experiences have been and are being published from day to day. Dodd's Kidney Pills are certainly without an equal as a medicine for those who are "tired out," "run down" or "used up."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have been endorsed most heartily by all classes.

Pictures and Phonograph.

The Campbellford Herald says: — "Mr. Jas. Stubbs, of Peterorbough, who is now travelling the country showing views of the South African war, the Northwest Territory, Pan-American Exposition, etc., and giving song services, gave an entertainment in the Music Hall on Monday night, at which there was a good audience. The views shown on canvass by gas light, were very clear, and the phonograph selections in connection with them, interesting and amusing. On Sunday afternoon, in the Royal Templars Hall, Mr. Stubbs held a gospel service, taking as his subject the life of Joseph, which was illustrated with many views. Quite a number of persons were present.

INTELLECTUAL LIGHT FOR DARK CONTINENT.

Miss Maud McFarlane and Miss Mabel Yennie Leave Shortly for South Africa, as Teachers.

The British Government are arranging for the supply of a number of teachers from the colonies to ply their profession in the concentration camps in South Africa.

The Province of Ontario, through the Minister of Education, is supplying twenty teachers, and Hon. Mr. Stratton has arranged with the former for the acceptance of two from Peterborough, Miss Maud McFarlane and Miss Mabel Yennie, both experienced teachers, the former holding a second class Normal School certificate, and the other a first class non-professional certificate. The remuneration allowed by the British Government is £100, ($500), for the first year with expenses for the outward journey. Should they desire to return at the expiration of one year their expenses for the return journey will be allowed them. If they should wish to remain longer it has been intimated by the British Government that teachers who have proved their efficiency might be retained at an increased remuneration for a period of years. A sum for equipment is allowed by the Government and expenses during the stay of one week in London and for any period of time spent in waiting for a steamer at New York.

The accepted candidates will be notified shortly of the date of departure and it is expected that the young ladies will go in parties to some central destination in South Africa, from whence they will be assigned to their respective duties. The trip to South Africa will no doubt be an enjoyable one and the experience gained by the long-distance teachers will be useful in their after-life. If these ladies do not return in due time equipped with diamond-studded husbands, it is hoped that they will, at least, return in good health and with recollections of a very pleasant experience. This latter, in any event, the Examiner and all their numerous friends heartily wish them.

THEIR FORMAL OPENING.

Messrs. Tully and Merrell the New Managers of Gough Bros., do the Grand.

The regular spring opening of Messrs. Gough Bros. mammoth clothing establishment, and the formal opening of this new concern under the new management of Messrs. J. A. Tully and W. H. Merrell, took place last night, and proved to be one of the greatest attractions of the kind that has been held in Peterborough in many a day.

The interior of the beautiful premises was handsomely decorated for the occasion. Flags and bunting were used in profusion and some exceedingly pretty effects were in evidence. Flowers from the greenhouses of Mr. J. H. Cobb were used to great advantage in the decorations, which combined with the pyramids of stylish new clothing, presented a decidedly picturesque appearance.

Messrs. Tully & Merrell, with that enterprise that has characterized their association with the business in times past, had music for the visitors. Mr. Butcher's orchestra was stationed in a central position and rendered a pleasing programme throughout the evening, whilst at intervals, Mr. Stubbs gave selections on his phonograph, one of the largest in Ontario. The orchestral music was supplied by Mr. Butcher, Mr. J. Miller, Miss McCabe and Miss Bell. The piano was kindly loaned by Mr. Stanley.

At 7.30 o'clock the crowds began to arrive, and from that hour until 10.30 there was a steady jam of people. They were all courteously received by Messrs. Tully and Merrell, and the heads of the various departments. The different lines of goods were displayed to good advantage, and the exhibition of new spring hats at the rear of the shop was particularly interesting. Altogether Messrs. Tully and Merrell had a most successful opening, and those who went were satisfied that the management of this well known establishment had fallen into safe hands.

THE ORGAN AND EAST PETERBOROUGH.

The Review seems to feel the weakness of its cause in East Peterborough. It seems to realize that Dr. Ford is not the man the electors of East Peterborough desire to have as a representative. The farmers who compose the greatest part of the riding have had a first-rate, advanced practical farmer as their member in the Legislature for a quarter of a century; and know the advantage of having one of their own class as a representative. They realize that Mr. Anderson is strong because he is a farmer, and, added to that, a man of wide, varied and useful experience in municipal matters; that he has been a member of the Township and County Councils for a great number of years, giving such excellent, steady and reliable service that he has been repeatedly returned by acclamation. The farmers know that Mr. Anderson has had an excellent training to fit him to worthily represent an agricultural constituency. He understands the needs of his riding thoroughly. He is abundantly able to bring to bear in committee of the House where the real work of legislation is done, his knowledge and experience in assisting in municipal and other legislation bearing upon the promotion of the interests of farmers. Dr. Ford may be a good physician and a worthy man otherwise, but he is totally without municipal experience. He has taken little interest in public affairs, he has not kept in touch with such matters and he has therefore everything to learn as to the needs of an agricultural community. Mr. Anderson is thoroughly equipped by long experience in these matters. Realizing all this the Review is putting in a plea for the professional man, but perhaps the less it says upon this subject the better the indifferent chances of the success of the Opposition candidate in East Peterborough. The farmers of this grand old riding have a well justified preference for a farmer representative, and will, we are sure, emphatically exercise that preference by electing Mr. Anderson.

POLITICALLY IMPECUNIOUS.

The Review, regardless of sense or reason, seems to delight in showing its hostility to any Government aid being given to public works in Peterborough, especially if it thinks it can in the process, injure a political opponent.

Our opponent singles out the Dickson Company in connection with the expenditure of provincial funds upon the Stony Creek dam, a work of public utility, and a convenience to any person who can use it to market his timber, as well as the Dickson Company, and the general public.

The attack is made simply because the Dickson Company are Liberal, an election being in sight our politically hard-up contemporary wishes to make a little political capital. Why does it not make an attack upon the two dams now being built for the Gilmour Company — as much as the Stony Creek dam were built for the Dickson Company? Why are these two dams being built? To make the streams floatable for logs, for the benefit of the Gilmour Company, the settlers in Harvey who may wish to market logs or timber, and whoever has occasion to use the conveniences created by these works.

It has been the practice of the Government for the past thirty years or more to construct dams and other works of a character similar to these mentioned. But it is only on the eve of an election that the Review discovers that it is a crime to do what incidentally benefits the Dickson Company, something that scores of other lumbermen, Grit and Tory, in other parts of the district have incidentally benefitted by for the past score and a half of years. The Review's narrowguage, littleness of soul in political matters as exhibited in the case in question, does not meet the approval of its thoughtful Conservative friends or those of the general public, or those of the lumbering interests at large.

GOVERNMENT RESERVE DAMS

For the Purpose of Storing Water for Navigation, Milling, Manufacturing and Lumber Operations.

If the Review want to complain on principle against Government expenditure on reserve dams for facilitating lumbering and other purposes, why does it not complain of the dams and works built on Deer Lake and Eagle Lake in Anstruther—for Mr. Alfred McDonald, Peterborough, as much as any body else. They helped Mr. McDonald to get out his logs, and settlers can market their timber and logs by the help of these conveniences. Why does the Review single out the Dickson Company for attack and let the Gilmour Company and Mr. McDonald alone? The cases are parallel, and parallel criticism should be given by a virtuous journal like the Review. Why does it not complain of the dams built a year or two ago or of any of the following dams which have largely been built by the Ontario Government for the convenience of lumbermen and the general public. Below is a list of dams built from time to time, chiefly by the Ontario Government. Scores of lumbermen have dared to make use of them and the Review has never discovered the iniquity of such constructions, till the Government built a dam which the Dickson Company also dared to make use of:

Reserve Dams on Squaw River.

Two Dams and Slides, Harvey.
Three Dams without Slides, for retaining water, Harvey.

Reserve Dams on Bear Creek.

Four Dams and Slides, Glamorgan.

Now, if the Review wants to be really patriotic and high souled, let it denounce the Government for squandering public money on private persons. In the above list there are half a hundred chances. If the several items in this list are as conscientiously used as the Stony Creek case, the Review's indignation won't be all expended till after the elections.

THE NEW SKATING RINK.

Another Meeting Which was Held Last Night—The Matter Discussed.

There was a good attendance of those interested in the scheme of erecting a new rink in Peterborough at the office of Messrs. Hatton & Bradburn last night. The chair was occupied by His Worship Mayor Denne, who briefly outlined the progress that had already been made in the direction of securing a new rink.

Those who had agreed to push the sale of the stock, reported that they had been quite successful, and that sufficient had been subscribed to secure the success of the undertaking.

The difficult question of selecting a suitable site was then talked over. There were one or two places in view and the committee which had been appointed at a previous meeting to obtain information as to sites, reported that they had received options on certain properties. The committee was asked to obtain from the owners of the lots in view, the lowest possible prices that they would take, and a committee was also appointed to meet the present rink company with a view of ascertaining what arrangements could be made towards acquiring the present rink company's property on Charlotte street.

The style and dimensions of the new rink have been about decided upon. It will have a seating capacity of 1700 people, and will have an ice surface of 75 x 175.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Officers of the 57th Regt.—The Committees for the Year Appointed.

The annual meeting of the officers of the 57th Regt., Peterborough Rangers, was held last night, Lieut.-Col. Edwards, Officer Commanding, presiding. There were also present Majors Miller and Stevenson, Captains Hayes, Clegg, Bennett, Mills, Cluxton, Hounsell and Walker; Lts. Matthews, McWilliams, Bradburn, Layfield, Hamilton and McLean; Paymaster, Major Dennistoun; Surgeon Major Halliday, and Chaplain Rev. J. C. Davidson.

The reports of the Regimental Band Rifle and Mess Committees were received and showed that the work of the regiment had been vigorously carried on during the past season. The Toronto trip had necessitated a much heavier expenditure than that of previous years, so that the financial statement showed a deficit.

The following committees were appointed for the ensuing year:

Regimental—Majors Miller, Dennistoun and Stevenson.

Mess—Major Halliday, Capt. Hayes, Capt. Eastwood.

Rifle—Major Stevenson and the Captains of the Companies with a man from each Company.

Band—Capt. Walker, Capt. Hounsell and Lieut. Matthews.

Drill will commence on April 1st.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—All Saint's confirmation class will meet this evening at 8 o'clock.

—A special meeting of Otonabee Lodge will be held to-night. A large turnout of the members is asked.

—At the police court this morning John O'Brien was charged with assaulting Mary O'Brien. The two are not in any way related. The defendant was given fifteen days on the hill.

—The junior Guild of St. Andrew's church celebrate the anniversary of the organization on Thursday, April 3rd, and have arranged with George E. Fax, humourist and entertainer, for that date in St. Andrew's Sunday School Hall.

—A correspondent thinks that the title of Rev. G. Warren's address on Wednesday might prove misleading, and points out that Mr. Warren spoke with approval of games and sports, explaining their relation to society, and only incidentally suggested that it was possible to overdo them and attach to them an importance in life which they did not possess.

—Mr. T. J. Parker's Bicycle and Repair Shop at the corner of Hunter and Queen street, is again in full swing. All orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to. A full stock of new and second hand wheels on hand. 30d61

Five Civil Actions to be Heard—Mr. Derocher Wants Damages for his Son's Death—List of Cases.

The Spring Assizes for the County of Peterborough open at one o'clock on Monday next before the Honourable Mr. Justice Lount. There are seven civil actions, five of which will be heard by jury.

The civil actions are as follows:

Card vs. Dickson Company.

The plaintiff Philip S. Card is a farmer residing in the township of Cavendish, in the county of Peterborough, and the defendant is a company carrying on business in the town and county of Peterborough. The plaintiff claims that he was at the time of the trespass complained of, and is at the present time, the owner of lot 12 in the 9th concession of Cavendish, and that the defendants by their employees and workmen entered upon the said lands and cut upon said lands and carried away therefrom a large quantity of timber and trees, the property of the plaintiff. The plaintiff claims that the defendants were duly notified of their trespass and requested to desist, but they refused to do so. He asks an injunction restricting the defendants from further trespass and his costs in the action.

The defendants, in their statement of defence state that they have for a number of years been in possession of lots 11 and 12, in the 10th concession and lot 11 in the ninth concession of the township of Cavendish, that the boundaries are unmarked, never having been defined or laid out on the ground, except as the parties hereto, or their agents may have defined or laid out the same for their own purposes, and if any trespass has been committed by the defendants the same was committed unintentionally and in mistake as to the true boundaries of the said lands. The defendants also claim that the plaintiff entered upon their lands, and took timber, and "without admitting the plaintiff's course of action, and for the sake of peace, and of avoiding further litigation, herewith pay into the Court the sum of $100, and say that the same is sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's cause of action." The defendants also put in a counter claim.

Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson for plaintiff; Roger & Bennet for dfts.

Wasson vs. Douglas.

This is an action that was tried a year ago. The plaintiff is John Wasson of Warsaw, and the defendant is Gilbert Douglas of the same place. The action is over the alleged diverting of a creek known as Indian River. On the argument before the Divisional Court a new trial was ordered.

Messrs. Edmison & Dixon for plaintiff; E. B. Edwards for defendant.

Elliott vs. The Huntsville Lumber Company, Limited.

The plaintiff George Elliott is a journeyman printer, but has been following the occupation of a mill hand in the Village of Huntsville in the District of Muskoka. The defendants are an incorporated company, having their head office at Huntsville. The plaintiff claims that a certain saw which he was working at in the Company's mill was not guarded as it should have been and that by reason thereof the plaintiff's right hand was cut wholly off, thereby rendering him unable to work, and putting him to great expense and leaving him permanently disabled. However, shortly after the injury the defendant, so the statement of claim says, came to the plaintiff and agreed to pay him $150 and give him permanent employment on condition that he would bring no action against the Company. This the plaintiff accepted, but he now asks that the said agreement be set aside as being obtained from him by undue influence, or in the alternative damages for failure of the defendants to furnish employment in accordance with the terms of the agreement.

The statement of defence sets out that there is no memorandum of any such agreement as alleged and that in any event the plaintiff's claim is barred by the Statutes of Limitations.

Wm. Steers, (Lindsay,) for plaintiff; Denton, Dunn & Co., Toronto, for defendants.

Derocher vs. Cox.

This action arises out of an accident that befel little Johnny Derocher who was killed by a log rolling on top of him near the Dickson mills on the 18th day of November last. The parents of the child, Israel and Mary Derocher, claim that John Cox, the defendant in this action, requested, invited, permitted and directed the deceased to place himself in a dangerous position on the said piece of timber to assist the defendant in such unloading, and that through the wrongful, careless, negligent and reckless manner of the defendant in so unloading the said timber the said fell upon the said John Derocher, causing injuries which resulted in his death. They claim $2,000, and the costs of the action.

The defendant says he is not guilty, and that the action was caused by the negligence of the child or its parents.

O'Connell & Kerr for plaintiffs; D. W. Dumble for defendant.

Forbes vs. Cordova Co.

The plaintiff, an infant, under the age of 21 years, through his next friend, George Boarer, sues the Cordova Exploration Co., for such damages as the court may seem meet for the loss of both of his hands, which he alleges were amputated as the result of injuries received through an explosion at the mine of the company, and through the carelessness of the company's officials.

The defendants deny that they or their superintendents were negligent, and that the accident to the plaintiff was caused through his own failure to comply with the rules of the company.

O'Connell & Kerr, for plaintiff; G. J. Sherry, Norwood, for defendants.

Conroy vs. McGrath, (Non-Jury.)

The plaintiff is Elizabeth Conroy, administratrix of the estate of Mary Fisher, deceased, and the defendants are David McGrath, Sr., Margaret Cronn and Elizabeth Conroy. The action arises out of the will of the late Mary Fisher, and is to recover rent and personal property belonging to the estate.

The defendants claim that the plaintiff should not have proceeded by action, but should have applied in a summary way for an administration order as provided by the rules of the Court.

D. W. Dumble for plaintiff; Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson for defendants.

McDermid vs. Bogue, (Non-Jury.)

The plaintiff's are Donald McDermid and C. Moodie, who were associated with James Bogue in the construction of the Mud Lake Bridge, and they claim that there is the sum of $700 owing to them. They ask that an account be taken of all dealings in connection with the said contract.

The defendant Bogue says that he relies upon a settlement made in November, 1901, with the plaintiff, when all the accounts were gone into and a division of the profits made.

Peussette & McWilliams for plaintiff; Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson for defendants.

There are no criminal cases to come before the assizes this term.

CAPT. SYER MARRIED.

An Officer of the 3rd Dragoons Takes Unto Himself a Bride.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated in St. John's church, Ida, on Thursday, March 12th, when Miss L. A. Touchburn, of Ida, was united in marriage to Captain G. H. Syer, of Millbrook.

The marriage was performed by Rev. W. C. Allen, of Millbrook, Miss Vance, daughter of Mr. Robert Vance, playing the wedding march. The bride was supported by Miss Staples, and Miss Hannah, and the groom by his brother, Thos. Syer. After the ceremony the guests proceeded to Pine Hurst, the bride's parental home, where a sumptuous supper was served from five to nine o'clock, and the remainder of the evening was spent in social enjoyment. The very bad condition of the roads prevented many invited guests from attending, yet the church was nearly full during the ceremony.

The bride was the recipient of very many handsome presents. The groom was the popular young officer commanding "B" Squadron, Third Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons. He is well known amongst local military men, all of whom will join with the Examiner in extending to Capt. Syer their best wishes for many years of happy married life.

CHANGES IN THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Measures to Facilitate Business of the General Conference.

The special committee of the Methodist General Conference have made arrangements which will mean a great change in the method of the deliberations of that body. An order of business has been sent out to the various annual conferences, accompanied by directions for the preparation of their business. These conferences will forward all their memorials and other documents to the secretary of the General Conference, who will arrange them in the proper order, and have them issued in the form of a blue book, which will be distributed to the delegates on their arrival at the seat of the General Conference. This innovation has been adopted from the procedure in the British conferences, where it has been found to facilitate very considerably the transaction of business.

The annual conferences will, as usual, elect their delegates at their sessions in May and June, but this year they will, in addition, apportion them to the different committees, for which purpose a list of the committees will be furnished in advance by the General Conference special. The names of the members of the committees will then be forwarded to the secretary of the General Conference, who will combine re-representatives of the different conferences into the full committees. Thus, on the opening day of the General Conference, the committee will be organized, and the documents will be distributed, and much valuable time hitherto spent in this work will be saved for more important concerns.

This way of treating affections of the throat is most economical, and is also most effective. Our little picture illustrates how it's used. CORONATION TROOPS

British Government Extends Canada the Invitation.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE SENATE

The Liberals Generous to the Conservatives—Allow Them Four of the Chairmanships, Although They Never Had One in Conservatives' Long Term—Mr. J. Charlton Speaks in Favor of Protection.

Ottawa, March 21.—It was learned last night on high authority that a despatch has been received from the British Government extending an invitation for a military contingent to attend the coronation ceremonies. The terms of the despatch are for the present confidential, as the communication has not been considered by the Government. It is thought, quite probable, however, that a detachment as large as that which appeared in the late Queen's Diamond Jubilee, and, perhaps even larger, will be sent to do honor to the King, and uphold the reputation of Canada. It can be safely assumed, also, that the contingent will not be confined to troops who have served in South Africa. There are many officers and men who did not fight on the veldt but nevertheless did good service at home, and it would not be fair to ignore their claims.

IN THE SENATE.

The Chairmen of Committees Chosen by the Liberal Majority—Generous Treatment of the Conservatives.

Ottawa, March 21.—Hon. Mr. Wark, the father of the Senate, entered the Upper Chamber yesterday during the reading of the petitions, and was received with applause from both sides of the House. Having bowed his acknowledgments, he took his accustomed place at the table by the assistant clerk. Senator Wark is 98.

Hon. Mr. Scott moved the second reading of the bill to transfer the law library in Regina from the Government to the Law Society of the Northwest Territories. The bill was read a second time.

Chairmen of the standing committees in the Senate were elected yesterday morning. Sir A. Pelletier (Liberal) was elected chairman of the Railway Committee; Hon. Wm. Gibson (Liberal), chairman of the Printing Committee, and Hon. Robert Watson (Liberal), chairman of the Internal Economy Committee. The Ministerialists thus control the patronage and expenditure of moneys in the Senate, and the most important committee in the Upper Chamber. The Conservatives were allowed to retain the chairmanships of four committees, as follows: Banking and Commerce, Hon. George Drummond; Standing Orders, Senator McKay; Private Bills, Senator Landry, and Divorce, Senator Gowan. Senator Pourier (Independent) succeeds Senator Bernier as chairman of the Debates Committee. The Conservatives in their long term of power never allowed a single chairmanship to a Liberal. The Liberals have therefore pursued a more generous policy towards their opponents in allowing four Conservatives to be elected chairmen.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Resumption of the Budget Debate—Mr. Charlton Speaks in Favor of Protection—Points by the Speakers.

Ottawa, March 21.—In the House yesterday afternoon, previous to the resumption of the budget debate, three bills were introduced. Mr. Henderson brought in a bill respecting the James' Bay Railway Co. Mr. Flint introduced a bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act, which Mr. Charlton seconded, after several other members had declined to do so. Mr. McCarthy introduced a bill to amend the Criminal Code.

Mr. Blain of Peel, resuming the debate on the budget, said the public debt of Canada to-day was $50 per head of the population, and that the tariff was not at all satisfactory.

Mr. Aulay Morrison declared that the present tariff was the most satisfactory one the country ever had.

Mr. Morrison urged that the poll tax on Chinese should be raised to $500, that the Government should exclude orientals and do something to promote white settlement in British Columbia.

Mr. John Charlton endorsed Sir Richard Cartwright's eulogium of the Mackenzie Government, but after sketching the history of protection in Canada, said the Government to-day was underrating the force of protectionist sentiment. He, however, didn't expect the Government to act this session. In fact he commended their course in waiting until after the conference in London.

Continuing after recess, Mr. Charlton said that the only radical change in the tariff made by the present Government was the preference. He was not in love with this preference, giving the British manufacturer a favored position in this country without getting anything in return. He believed the tariff might well have been somewhat amended this session, particularly in the interest of the woollen industry.

Mr. Edwards, in reply, accused Mr. Charlton of having been a protectionist in 1878, a free trader afterwards, then an unrestricted reciprocity man and commercial unionist, and now again a protectionist.

Mr. Jabel Robinson followed in reply. He expressed the hope that there would be no more begging for reciprocity at Washington. He deprecated expenditure beyond our revenue. He concluded by moving an amendment as follows:

"That, in the opinion of this House, the increased expenditure that is taking place from year to year is uncalled for and unwarranted and contrary to the professions of the Liberal party, and in accordance with these professions the expenditure in this country should not exceed the income. We believe the time has arrived when the interests of the farmers should be considered, especially in view of the fact that the Government cannot protect to any great extent the productions of the farmers, and as a moderate step in such direction the duty on agricultural implements should be reduced to 15 per cent. and the duty on coal oil should be reduced to 2 cents per gallon."

Mr. W. R. Brock spoke against the Government's useless expenditures, and on the tariff matter said that what was needed was a declared policy of protection, such as would give us a fair chance to compete at home for our own market.

Mr. Ralph Smith moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House rose at 11 o'clock.

DR. RODDICK'S BILL.

Discussed by the Select Committee Thursday, But Little Done.

Ottawa, March 21.—Dr. Roddick's bill to provide for the establishment of a Medical Council in Canada came up yesterday morning before the select committee appointed to consider it. Dr. McDonald, the Deputy Speaker, presided. The chairman suggested that the first thing to do was to discuss the constitutionality of the bill. Hon. Mr. Fisher did not think so. He said that they should proceed to discuss the clauses of the bill and allow the proper authorities to settled the constitutionality of the measure. Mr. McKinnon, Prince Edward Island, agreed with Mr. Fisher. Dr. Roddick said that there was no interference of any kind with the autonomy of the provinces. All the bill asked was that the qualifications of every practitioner should be as high as the highest, no higher. The Bill was then discussed clause by clause. When Sub-section C and D of Section 4, dealing with the requisition for registration and the Board of Examiners were reached, Hon. Sydney Fisher asked for information, as these clauses appeared to a lay mind to infringe on provincial autonomy. Dr. Roddick said that the intention of Sub-section 3 of Section 6 was to provide that this law could not come into force in any province until said province had passed legislation putting it into force. Mr. Fisher thought a special clause would be necessary to accomplish this. The clause stood over until the next meeting. The sub-section providing for the election of representatives of each provincial council stood over. It was suggested that the members of the council should be elected by the profession annually. After some further consideration of the other clauses the committee adjourned.

Importation of Sugar.

Ottawa, March 21.—A return brought down in the House yesterday, shows that in 1900 Canada imported $848,222 worth of refined sugar and $1,426,683 worth in 1901. In 1900 the importations of raw sugar amounted to $5,932,810, and in 1901 to $6,665,858. Of the refined sugar imported in 1900 $386,074 came from the United States, and in 1901 $548,660. From Germany raw sugar to the value of $1,642,574 was imported in 1900, and $2,309,680 worth in 1901.

Marconi Contract Signed.

Ottawa, March 20.—The contract between Mr. Marconi and the Government was signed Tuesday evening. There was some slight changes in it. One was, not to define exactly where the Cape Breton station was to be, and the other was to give power to Mr. Marconi to place his system in all lighthouses, but, if he did not do so within 28 days after being notified, then the Government could do so, at Mr. Marconi's expense. The Government will control outgoing messages and Mr. Marconi the ones that are received.

Verdict of Not Guilty.

Stratford, March 20.—The case of Benjamin Sillifant, charged with manslaughter, came before Mr. Justice Britton Tuesday. While riding a bicycle at a high rate of speed, Sillifant knocked down a boy named McLean, who was playing on the street, injuring him so that he died in a few hours. After hearing the evidence, His Lordship gave his opinion that a conviction was not justified by it, but that it was rather a case of accident, and advised a verdict of not guilty.

Special From Norwich, Ont.

The recovery of Mr. Norman Batty, hardware merchant, one of Norwich's oldest and most successful citizens has excited much comment. For years Mr. Batty has been an unceasing sufferer from Catarrhal Asthma and although no end of time and money was spent relief was not obtained until Mr. Batty commenced Catarrhozone treatment which perfectly cured him. This case is only equalled by that of Mrs. Bannon, wife of J. J. Bannon, druggist, who was also cured of Asthma and Hay Fever by Catarrhozone after 30 years' suffering. Fully a hundred persons in this town have been cured of Catarrhal troubles by Catarrhozone which is a remarkable proof of its value. Two months' treatment, Price $1. Small size 25c. Sold by all druggists or by mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

To Ratify the Treaty.

Copenhagen, March 20.—The landsthing (or upper house), in committee of the whole and in executive session, voted yesterday to ratify the treaty providing for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States. After this action there will be two readings, one of which is to be in open session.

Freed From Kingston.

Kingston, March 20.—Yesterday Judge Falconbridge released John Hays on suspended sentence. He was convicted of interfering with the employes of the C.P.R. during the strike of June, 1901, but the jury strongly recommended him to mercy.

Rhodes Grows Stronger.

Cape Town, March 20.—A bulletin issued at midnight last night said that Cecil Rhodes had taken nourishment, that he was slightly stronger and that at that time he was sleeping.

It was stated during the day that he was slightly weaker. The exceptional coolness of the weather, and the free administration of oxygen contributed to the patient passing a quiet night. He no longer reads.

BRONCHITIS

A SERIOUS DISEASE.

Becomes Chronic and Returns Year by Year or Develops Into Bronchial Pneumonia, Croupous Bronchitis, Asthma or Consumption.

The real dangers of bronchitis are sometimes overlooked. It is too serious a disease to trifle with, and for that reason everybody should be familiar with the symptoms.

Children are most liable to contract bronchitis, and if neglected it becomes chronic, and returns year after year, until it wears the patient out or develops into some deadly lung disease.

The approach of bronchitis is marked by chills and fever, nasal or throat catarrh, quick pulse, loss of appetite and feelings of fatigue and langor.

Bronchitis is also known by pain in the upper part of the chest, which is aggravated by deep breathing or coughing until it seems to tear the delicate linings of the bronchial tubes.

The cough is dry and harsh and is accompanied by expectoration of a frothy nature, which gradually increases; is very stringy and tenacious and is frequently streaked with blood.

There is pain, not unlike rheumatism, in limbs, joints and body, constipation and extreme depression and weakness. In some people the exhaustion amounts almost to nervous collapse, delirium follows, and in young children convulsions may follow.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is, we believe, the most effective treatment for bronchitis that money will buy. This fact has been proven time and again in many thousands of cases.

It is the most effective remedy for bronchitis, because it is far reaching in its effects on the whole system, not merely relieving the cough, but actually and thoroughly curing the disease. It loosens the cough, frees the chest of tightness and pain, aids expectoration and permanently cures.

There are other preparations of turpentine and linseed put up in imitation of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. To be sure you are getting the genuine see the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on the box you buy. 25c. a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60c. INSTITUTE OF BEAUTY.

Daughter-in-Law of Duke of Cambridge Has Established a Well-Equipped Massage Treatment Rooms in London.

Mrs. George Fitz-George, daughter-in-law of the Duke of Cambridge, has established well-equipped massage rooms close to Bond street, in the fashionable part of London, England.

Mrs. Fitz-George's charming suite of rooms lead one out of another. They are equipped with chintz covered furniture like a fashionable boudoir, and have walls of chintz paper hung with old engravings. The patient is seated before a dressing table, exquisitely appointed, with a battery upon it, lotions and creams in crystal bottles, and her attendant forthwith studies her needs. Perhaps a dense fog has imprinted its dusky fingers upon the skin, attentions which ordinary ablutions have been powerless to obliterate. In such a case and for other purposes steaming is given. The dress and hair are preserved by the application of a snowy snood, and the steaming apparatus, charged with a stimulating and cleansing unguent, is directed against the fact for a short time. Then the attendant laves the face with lotion, massages cream into it, so that crow's feet and wrinkles, hollows and other objectionable finger marks of time disappear, bathes it afresh, coaxing into it, in lieu of a careworn expression, the happier one that speaks of health, and finally touches the eyebrows and lashes with a little brush and bids the patient rise, rejuvenated in appearance and enlivened in feelings. Some specialists believe thoroughly in electricity, but Mrs. Fitz-George does not employ it.

London is not to be the only European capital to share with Paris the distinction of possessing an institute of beauty. Soon there will be one in St. Petersburg. Separate treatment costs half a guinea; six are given for £2 10s., while for a course of twelve a still greater reduction is made, the charge being £4 5s.

The Grass Lands of Great Britain.

Of the various crops known to British agriculture the grass crop is by far the most important, whether it be regarded from the point of view of its extent or from that of its value. It is the main source of our home-grown beef and mutton, and of the immense native supplies of milk and its products. According to the latest official returns, those for the year 1901, Great Britain possesses 16,827,949 acres of permanent grass land, or grass not broken up in rotation, and 4,856,887 acres of clover, sainfoin, and grasses under rotation, the total being 21,683,636 acres. As the total area under grass and crops of all kinds is returned at 32,417,445 acres, we get, by deducting from this the 21,683,636 acres of grass land, 10,733,809 acres as the aggregate area of all corn crops, green crops, hops, and bare fallow. In other words, the acreage under grass is double that occupied by all other agricultural crops together. It should be understood that the acreage of grass here indicated does not include mountain and heath land, of which there are some 13 million acres used for grazing. About one-half of the rotation grass and about one-third of the permanent grass are mown annually for hay, the remainder in each case being exclusively grazed. Last year the mown area was nearly seven million acres, and the area not mown was close upon 15 million acres, so that the latter is rather more than double the former. These figures are sufficient to demonstrate the great extent of the grass crop and the vast importance of the pastoral industry in this country. So much wealth, indeed, is stored up in our grass-covered acres that no means should be neglected of adding to their productive capacity, whether in their yield of fodder in the form of hay or silage or in the more direct production of meat and milk as the result of grazing.—London Times.

Curious Royal Household Officials.

Many curious officials still appertain to the royal household and many have been dispensed with of late years. Among the latter class must be placed the royal ratcatcher; the office has become obsolete, but not unfortunately for lack of rats. It was during the reigns of the Georges that this functionary had his heyday, hence, perhaps, the popular idea that the now very prevalent brown rat came over with the Hanoverians. Like other esteemed royal officials, the ratcatcher was distinguished by a particular dress; it was of a scarlet hue elaborately embroidered with yellow worsted, and displayed figures of rats destroying wheat sheaves. The Gentleman's Magazine of 1741 contains an announcement that "Mr. Gower had been selected for the office of ratkiller to His Majesty, with a salary of £100 a year," and that it was "an honorable office," which remark seems unnecessary. Is there a living descendant of Mr. Gower to place his claims before the court?—London Chronicle.

Couldn't Go at All.

It is not always safe to jest with a railway reporter. According to the Liverpool Post a traveler arrived at a wayside station, and in a wild burst of humor asked the porter at what time the five-thirty train left. "At half-past five precisely," the other replied. "But," said the traveler, "I observe that the station clock points to five-twenty-seven, the postoffice clock to five-twenty-eight, and the church clock to five-twenty-nine. Which shall I go by?" You may go by which you like," the porter answered. "The train's gone."

THE OUTLOOK

For a woman's happiness in the married state depends less, as a rule, upon the man she is to marry than upon her own health. The woman who enters upon marriage, suffering from womanly weakness, is "heaping up trouble against the day of trouble."

Weak woman are made strong and sick women are made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the one reliable regulator. It dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It nourishes the nerves and invigorates the entire womanly organism. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives strength to nursing mothers.

"I suffered for twelve years with female trouble," writes Mrs. Milton Grimes, of Adair, Adair Co., Iowa, "which brought on other diseases—heart trouble, Bright's Disease, nervousness, and at times would be nearly paralyzed, filled neuralgia of stomach. I can freely say your medicines (nine bottles in all, five of 'Favorite Prescription,' four of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets), have cured me. I can work with comfort now, but before I would be tired all the time and have a dizzy headache, and my nerves would be all unstrung so I could not sleep. Now I can sleep and do a big day's work, something I had not done for over eleven years before."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

EVENING GOWNS.

Floral Trimmings Combined With Lace and Ribbon.

The evening sleeve of the moment is a matter of taste. It is made with one single puff to the elbow or tight fitting a la Marie Antoinette with a frill. Some sleeves are composed of seven or eight accordion plaited frills. On many gowns there are no sleeves at all, only shoulder straps composed of jeweled chains or ropes of flowers. If a woman has good arms, she should display them; if not, there are transparencies of chiffon and sheer effects.

FOR A YOUNG GIRL

Frocks of gray chiffon are worn by those who are in half mourning and by many who are not. There seems to be a craze just now for these soft pale gray frocks. They are relieved with violets or pale blue flowers.

Floral trimmings are much the style and with dainty touches of lace and ribbon form admirable trimmings for evening frocks. Roses, tuberoses and orchids are made so natural that they almost defy detection.

The French dress in the illustration is of pale yellow mousseline. The skirt has a double tunic effect, the edge of each tunic being embellished with a band painted design. The decollete waist is held in place by narrow straps of velvet, and the half sleeves are of lace and mousseline. There is an odd tunic overdress effect of cream guipure lace. The corsage is daintily finished with a cluster of tinted yellow blossoms.

Charged With Conspiring.

Port au Prince, Hayti, March 20.—Many citizens, charged with conspiring against the Government, were arrested and imprisoned yesterday, and a number of others sought refuge in the various consulates. Among the citizens imprisoned are Judge Bourjolly of the Supreme Court, and General Destouche. M. Seneque, a candidate for the presidency, was refused an asylum in the French legation. The agitation is spreading in the republic. The Minister of Public Works, M. C. Leconte, has left Port au Prince for Jacmal with a detachment of troops.

Verdict of Not Guilty.

Stratford, March 20.—The King v. Jesse Peters and Robert Slater, occupied the Spring Assizes yesterday before Justice Britton. The prisoners were charged with manslaughter, and were respectively engineer and fireman of a G.T.R. train, which ran over and killed Mrs. Emma McCann near St. Mary's on Oct. 14 last. Considerable evidence was gone over and an effort made to fix the responsibility for the accident on the train hands on account of not giving the usual warning approaching crossings. After a few minutes' absence from the court the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Only a Little Backache.

That is the first unmistakable symptom of diseased kidneys, an ailment which no one can neglect without inviting Bright's disease, diabetes, rheumatism and the most painful and fatal maladies. Example of the Aristocracy.

London, March 20.—In giving evidence yesterday before the select committee of the House of Lords, appointed to investigate the evils of betting and its remedies, Rev. J. W. Horsley, who, as former chaplain of Clerkenwell Prison, had been in contact with 100,000 criminals, traced many of the crimes he had investigated to betting, which, he declared, was due to the example of the aristocracy. "If," he said, "the King would say to-morrow, 'I will never again go to a race-course where betting is practised,' the evil would entirely disappear."

HOCKEY.

(Lindsay Post.)

It was Ladies' Night at the skating rink last evening, and the fair sex were out in large numbers, although there was a good representation of gentlemen present. The attraction was a hockey match, the ladies of Peterborough and Lindsay coming together in a friendly game. The ice was in perfect condition and the hour's entertainment put up by the lady puck-chasers was much enjoyed by the spectators.

The ladies from the Otonabee town came on the ice about 8.30 wearing short skirts, white sweaters and ribbons galore—the latter the colours of the Peterborough Hockey Club. They were applauded by the crowd as they made their appearance. Then the local septette of fair ones appeared on the ice and their entry was a signal for tremendous cheering. The home seven were the sweaters of the Lindsay senior team, and when a spill on the ice occurred the black and yellow was much in evidence.

Splendid rushes were made by both teams and some hard checking was done by the players. When a scrimmage took place the Lindsay girls might be heard saying, "Great Scott, if it had not been for the Misses Scott the puck would have passed through the Peterborough goal." Considering that it was the Lindsay ladies first game—and perhaps the first time some of them ever handled a stick—they gave a fairly good account of themselves. The visitors are excellent hockeyists and some of them can play the game far better than would be expected of a lady. Miss G. Hall, captain of the Peterborough seven, is certainly a star player and was applauded many times for her brilliant work; being a fast skater and a good stick-handler she did nearly all the scoring for the visitors. Lindsay scored one goal and how they got it is a problem, but they were determined to escape a whitewash. Miss Coburn did some pretty playing for the local seven. Miss Benson caused no end of amusement when she threw the puck with her hand in a lively rally. In the first-half Miss Sylvester defended the nets, but in the second she played on the forward. Her place at goal was taken by Miss Rankin, who stopped a few hot shots.

There were four sisters — the Misses Scott — on the Peterborough team, and they won the admiration of the audience by their brilliant playing. Although there was no combination work displayed the game was entirely free from roughness and was played in a ladylike manner. Dr. Walters refereed and gave good satisfaction.

The Ping Pong Club, their friends, and the Peterborough and Lindsay Ladies' Hockey Teams, numbering 70 in all, were entertained last evening after the game by Mrs. Dr. Allan, at her commodious residence, Hall street, and a very enjoyable evening was spent in games and dancing. The Peterborough team, with the exception of a couple of the players, returned on the 10.40 train. The young ladies were exceedingly pleased with the kind treatment received from the Lindsay people.

TWO GOOD ONES.

To-morrow evening the public will have an opportunity of seeing an exhibition of the indoor gymnasium game, when perhaps two of the best playing teams will be the contestants. The Harriers are senior players and have been playing steady since New Years. The Brownies are a boys' team, who are equally as fast. The teams will line up as follows:

Harriers—Campbell, Dobbin, defence; Richardson, centre; Kemp and Laing forwards.

Brownies—Boucher, Hall, defence; Daly, centre; N. Miller, T. Miller, forwards.

Umpires—Messrs. Maguire and Hall.

Referee—Horace E. Ayers.

Scorer—H. A. Pearson.

MRS. WEST INJURED.

While Crossing George Street, she was Knocked Down.

Mrs. Robert West, of 696 George street, while crossing George street last night, in front of Mr. J. D. Tully's drug store, was knocked down by a passing team, and badly shaken up. She was carried into Mr. Tully's drug store, and Dr. Scott was summoned. There were no marks on her body, other than a bad bruise over one eye, although her escape from more serious injury was indeed miraculous. She was conveyed to her home in a hack after her injuries had been attended to.

DANGEROUS SURGERY

Should be the Last Resort.

Many people suffer from piles, because after trying various lotions, salves and ointments without relief or cure, they come to the conclusion that a surgical operation is the last resort, and rather than submit to the shock and risk to life of an operation, prefer to suffer on; very often, however, the afflicted one is over persuaded to resort to the knife, and even though the operation is apparently successful, and there is complete recovery from the shock incident thereto, the result is invariably the same; the piles sooner or later return because their cause has not been removed. This result is a logical one, inasmuch as the knife removes the effects of the disease only, while the cause remains as before. There is claimed to be a remedy which does remove the cause, hence eradicating the disease, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure; it is in the form of a suppository, is applied directly to the parts affected, and brings about a complete cure, quietly and painlessly. In this connection the testimony of Mr. John Cullen Bryant, the well known bookseller of Haverhill, Mass., is of unusual interest.

"I desire to contribute an unsolicited, but purely voluntary testimonial in favour of Pyramid Pile Cure. I have suffered for more than twenty years with hemorrhoids, and have consulted numerous physicians and expended a great deal of money for medicines that did me no good. I had often seen Pyramid Pile Cure advertised, but hesitated for months before buying same, thinking it a patent or quack remedy that had no merit; but having tried every other remedy prescribed I was finally persuaded one year ago, to try Pyramid Pile Cure. I bought a fifty cent package at the drug store, and while I may not be permanently cured, the past year has been the only year of my life worth living during the past twenty years, and nothing but the Pyramid remedies have wrought this change. I offer this testimony for the benefit of suffering humanity."

For whooping cough and croup, Vapo-Cresolene is a simple and perfect remedy.

MR. J. M. KILBOURN WRITES

An Account of his Trip—Something About Malta—On the way to Athens.

The appended very interesting letter has been received by Mr. Aubrey Kilbourn, of Lakefield, from his father, Mr. J. M. Kilbourn, who is touring in the East:

Wednesday, nearing Malta, S.S. Celtic, Feb. 23, 1902.

We lay out off the port there a whole day longer than our time. About 250 went ashore and could not come on board owing to the turbulence of the waves. The morning of Friday was rainy and windy, but many went ashore hoping it might clear. The rain did cease but the wind increased in violence till it was impossible to go upon the ship from the boat and all attempts to do so were abandoned about two o'clock. The boats would rise and fall as high as twelve feet, and many were deathly sick in holds of the little steamers which conveyed them out. Mother and I and Mr. and Mrs. B., indeed about all the Canadian party were snug on board and amused ourselves watching the struggles of those trying to get on. Hope of being able to board the ship was entertained on shore all the day and the wharves were crowded with anxious people. Many again attempted coming out on the little steamers but seeing the condition of things steamed in again. About four o'clock our captain sailed in, and sheltered somewhat by the break-water the wind having moderated, they managed to get on, but the difficulty was very great and the hardship to the ladies standing on the gunwale supported by a man at each side and one behind, watching the opportune time when the stair and ship side were close enough to be covered by a spring, a sailor or two standing on the stair and ready to grab the woman as she reached the stair. The pulling, hauling, falling, snatching and grabbing were painful many times to see. However all landed aboard without any accident and set off about six for Malta. The sea was still rough all night but an ordinary storm has no effect upon this immense ship. We in fact forgot we were on ship board most of the time. The greater number of the passengers are I think on our deck. Our berth is about midships and we are very comfortable. My cold is still troubling me, i. e., the cough lingers, but I am again enjoying my meals and am about like others. Algiers is a very old and interesting place. Now a province of France, it is dominated by a garrison of 5,000 French soldiers. The Government is in no sense representative but is nominated from time to time by the dominant party in France. The government consists of a governor, and deputies, and in the outlying or rural parts, small troops of soldiers to maintain order and enforce decrees. The Moorish quarter has been rebuilt since French occupation and presents quite a handsome appearance. Solid masonry, stone pavements, lofty arches and lofty buildings rising one behind the other about four or five stories high with stained or coloured tile roof, blue, pink, red and white. No streets visible running up the mountain, save one, which commencing at a park or square, seems to divide the French from the Moorish quarter. All is different in the French quarter. Leaving the business blocks, a wide sweep of sloping hillside broken by a steep and bluff range of rock, and by many a ravine and gully worn by the water, but every inch beautiful with pretty dwellings and pretty flowers and shrub adornments, interspersed with well graded and beautifully built roads. Many large and costly houses could be discerned, the Governor's residence and the fine hotels for winter boarders being the most conspicuous. The shops are small but filled with goods. Have been sailing along the coast of Malta for an hour. Have noticed three islands; the place of Paul's shipwreck is marked with a monument that is discernable with the naked eye. The surface seems smooth, but rolling, and the island populous, a great many towns appearing, as well as scattered dwellings. We shall leave at six o'clock to-night. The winter has been cold it is said everywhere we have been. To-day is bright and sunny and promises to remain fair and give us a good time on shore. We go next to the Piraeus and Athens to keep out of the way of a large party of tourists ahead of us. We have had no letters from home yet. Hope things are doing well at Lakefield. There are about twenty Canadians on board. With kind remembrances to Lakefield friends.

I am affectionally yours,

J. M. KILBOURN.

RADIANT WINDOW DISPLAYS.

The Turnbull Co's Big Store Abud With Spring Millinery—Ready for the Greatest Easter Business in its History.

No one can pass the J. C. Turnbull Co's windows without being forced to stop and gaze in admiration at the many tasty effects shown.

In the south window a model dress from the hands of Miss Burton, head dress-maker, attracts unusual attention. It is of silk and wool voile. The skirt is trimmed with velvet medallions and the waist with linen applique. No sweller outfit could be conceived, as the general effect is very rich. Surrounded with model hats and enviroined in a rich setting of Mr. Maude's design, the costume is one which catches the eye of all. The north window is devoted largely to dress materials, and the manner in which these are draped to show to the best advantage is most tasteful. Baptistes, organdies, dimities and chambrays are shown largely. A Gibson waist catches the eyes of the ladies. It is of linen mercized chambray, and is the latest hint from New York. They are also made to order in orblood, new blue and linen shades.

This will be a great wash goods season. Some of the new lines Turnbull's are showing are Albatross Crepule, Stella Batisk, Mayflower Batisk, French Organdies, plain, coloured dimities and linen allovers.

The great piles of linens, prints, ducks, etc, and heavier goods, show that the more staple end of the business is also well provided for.

Miller's Worm Powders; the medicine for children. Sold by all druggists.

Proud of Our Patterns.

You won't wonder at our pride when we tell you that every pattern is the creation of our Millinery Staff. No French, English or New York Hats here, but—did you ever see more clever copies? One question that was asked repeatedly yesterday was:—Are these imported patterns? You cannot, therefore blame us for feeling a bit proud of these—our own creations, when we could answer in the affirmative.

Now, here is a strong point that we wish to impress upon you. It's this. What we have done we can do, and do it the season through. This should instil a great deal of confidence in the buying public, for you can see we don't have to buy Foreign or Pattern Hats of experts to gain your good impressions. We have experts in our Millinery Department that can do this.

Another feature regarding "foreign" patterns is the extravagant price at which they have to be sold. This is not the case with our own make, for they are moderately priced. Chic Millinery reasonably priced.

Easter is a bit quick in coming this year. Orders will be executed as received. Don't procrastinate.

THE RETAIL MERCHANTS.

A Circular Which Sets out the Aims and Objects of the Association.

Protection for its Members, is What the Organization Seeks—No Combine Intended.

A circular sent out from the head quarters of the Retail Merchants' Association, in Toronto, points out very fully the scope which that organization covers. As some misunderstanding appears to exist in regard to this the circular is published herewith:

To the Retail Merchants of Canada:

Dear Sirs,—The following aims and objects were adopted by a committee appointed at a convention of Retail Merchants from various parts of the Province, held on November 27th, 1899.

We need not tell you that in order to accomplish these objects a strong organization of all classes of Retail Merchants in every city, town and village is required. No single merchant or merchants of any city or town can accomplish anything alone. We must be united on broad, general lines. Unity among all those who are buying, selling, holding and distributing merchandise was never more needed than now. It is estimated that the value of the merchandise in the stores of the retail merchants of Toronto alone, amount to about fifteen million dollars. Consider what the value must be of the stocks carried by the retail merchants of the Province or the Dominion of Canada. The retail merchants of the city of Toronto pay over 45 per cent. of the entire taxes of the city. How much do the taxes of the retail merchants of the Dominion amount to? Should they not have something to say and do to improve the internal commerce of their cities and towns? All classes of trade are rapidly becoming organized. Enormous trusts are constantly forcing the prices of their wares higher, and the retail merchants are degenerating into the unpaid agents of the manufacturers, wholesalers and the public. Their taxes are increasing and their profits are decreasing. By organized effort and consultation better relationship will exist between the wholesaler, the manufacturer and the retailer. The public will be better served, and more honourable conditions will prevail. Are you willing to assist yourself by assisting the Association to put the following aims and objects into operation.

1. We want to safeguard the interests of the retail merchants of the various departments of trade throughout the Dominion.

2. We want the retail trade of the cities, towns and villages to be confined to the legitimate retailer.

3. We want to endeavour to enlist the co-operation of all manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers in securing just and equitable prices on all classes of staple and standard merchandise, and to confine the sale of staple goods of well-known manufacture to the legitimate trade so as to prevent them being used for advertising purposes by unscrupulous dealers and department stores, and thus produce a more healthful condition of trade.

4. We want to secure closer friendly relationship and good fellowship among retailers and other similar Associations which have for their objects the advancement of our mutual interests.

5. We want the Transcient Traders' Act enforced so that the busy season for merchants in any line will not be invaded by transcients who come and go to suit their convenience to the detriment of the tax paying retailer.

6. We want the entire Pedlars' License system of the City, Province and Dominion re-adjusted.

7. We want to secure equitable legal recognition for the protection of the just rights of mercantile interests, part of which is to make corporations and their officers responsible under the law the same as is now meted out to individuals when they commit fraud and practice deception.

8. We want laws placed upon the Statute Books making it a criminal offence, to advertise goods, either in weight, quality, or price different to what they are, either in the daily press, through circulars, catalogues or by any other means.

9. We want a legislative Act to prevent the false stamping of goods.

10. We want to enforce the Adulteration Act so as to protect the public against fradulent and adulterated goods.

11. We want proper equalization of Insurance rates.

12. We want proper equalization of taxation so that we can compel department store trusts and other combinations to pay their proper share of taxation.

13. We believe that it would be greatly in the interest of all the labouring, manufacturing, commercial and purchasing classes of the Dominion to have all lines of trade defined by mutual consent of the Merchants and a record of them placed upon the Statute Books of the Provinces and that power be asked to regulate and control by license or otherwise all such lines of trade in cities having a population of 30,000 or over.

14. We want improvements in municipal laws so as to stimulate the internal commerce of all cities, towns and villages.

15. We want all legislation that affects retailing interests that is introduced into either the Provincial or Dominion Legislatures to be made known to the retailers before it becomes law.

16. We want the fees for the collection of small debts in the lower courts reduced so that accounts can be collected more easily.

17. We want to promote legislation in the direction of securing an efficient Insolvent Act and better Postal Regulations.

18. We want by co-operation to have reduced railroad rates for retail merchants so as to enable them to visit the manufacturing and business centres in any part of the Dominion.

19. We want to abolish, as far as possible, all gift schemes, trading stamps, cash coupons, and coupons of all classes; also all systems that are injurious to the retail trade.

20. We want to direct the retail advertising patronage toward those newspapers that are not controlled by department store or trust advertisements.

21. We want to encourage merchants to co-operate by buying from one another and thus keep their currency in local circulation, and not spend their money with department store trusts.

22. We want every member to have the address of any dealer or manufacturer in his line in any part of the world, and to receive any trade information obtainable.

23. We want all complaints of false weights and false stamps, adulterated goods and misrepresentations in merchandise of all kinds to be registered at the Association offices for investigation, and when sufficient evidence has been obtained, we will undertake the prosecution and thus save individual merchants from appearing.

24. To accomplish these objects, as well as others that are required, we believe they can be better carried out by having strong branches of The Retail Merchants Association of Canada in every city and town in the Dominion, all united through a Central Committee in which all will be represented and all will have control.

A Central Committee was appointed by the convention to give the above their attention on behalf of the Association, and every retail merchant in every city, town and village in Canada, is requested to give them their support and assistance.

DISCUSSION WANTED.

What the Journal of Commerce Says Concerning Boards of Trade and Other Bodies.

(Journal of Commerce.)

The Board of Trade, Orillia, at a meeting on the 18th ult., engaged in a discussion of Inter-Imperial trade which was conducted with much ability. The meeting then took up the question of British postage, which resulted in the following resolution being passed unanimously:

"Whereas, newspapers and magazines from the office of publication pass between the United States and Canada, at the domestic rates of the two countries, which are merely nominal; and whereas the postal rates on newspapers from Canada to Great Britain, and vice versa, are so heavy as to discourage the interchange of publications; and whereas such interchange would do much to foster a sentiment of Imperial unity, to encourage immigration from the Mother Country to Canada, and to promote inter-Imperial trade; Resolved, therefore, that this Board of Trade of the Town of Orillia, considers that in the best interests of Canada, Great Britain and the Empire, the postage on newspapers and periodicals should be reduced to a point where there would no longer be any discrimination in favour of the United States."

President Smith said that in "some cases the postage on British publications amounted to a hundred and fifty per cent. of the price charged by the publishers." The resolution echoes the views expressed in this journal in an article published on 17th January last, in which we said, "The postal regulations regarding the transmission of Canadian publications to Great Britain and of British periodicals to Canada cannot but be perniciously detrimental to the good feeling and sense of unity in the two countries. Our people are kept out of touch with British sentiment and public opinion, and the British people are shut off from becoming intimate with Canadian sentiment and opinion."

We had much pleasure in finding these views so well expressed in the Orillia Board of Trade and that they were unanimously endorsed by that body. Since publication we have received a letter from Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner of the Dominion in London, in which he describes the postal conditions above referred to, as "an anomaly," for which he trusts some remedy may be found.

Were the example set by the Orillia Board of Trade followed generally by other similar bodies throughout the Dominion a distinct step would be taken towards some more reasonable arrangements regarding the exchange of postal matter between Canada and Great Britain. At present, as we said in January, the postal arrangements distinctly discriminate against British magazines, reviews and newspapers in favour of those issued in the United States. Such arrangements seem designed to discourage Imperial sentiment and to develop antagonism between the old land and this country. The merchants of Orillia have done well to start a movement for remedying a manifest evil and we trust equally intelligent and patriotic action will be taken by every Board of Trade in the Dominion.

Since writing the above, we received a communication from the worthy president of the Peterborough, (Ont.) Retail Merchants' Association directing attention to a discussion held at a recent meeting of that body. The report referred to has not reached us.

The Australian Speaker.

The Hon. F. W. Holder, Speaker of the Australian Commonwealth House of Representatives, has been a Wesleyan local preacher in Adelaide for many years, says The London Chronicle. He has, of course, to spend most of his time now in Melbourne, the Federal capital for the time being, and he has just made his first appearance in the pulpit of a Melbourne Wesleyan church. He had a really formidable task if he attempted to realize the promises held forth in the rather injudicious placards by which his advent was announced. It was proclaimed in large capitals that Mr. Speaker would conduct a "service for the people, bright, attractive, intellectual, spiritual, inspirational." Mr. Holder, ignoring this bombastic introduction, gave a plain, practical deliverance on the subject of "Evil" to a crowded congregation. Here is one of his typical observations: "Cowardice is often misnamed charity, when people know that certain things are wrong and fail to denounce them."

Mrs. D. Arnold, President German Woman's Club, Grand Pacific Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal., Relieved of a Tumor by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered four years ago with a tumor in my womb, and the doctors declared I must go to the hospital and undergo an operation, which I dreaded very much and hesitated to submit.

"My husband consulted an old friend who had studied medicine, although he was not a practising physician, and he said he believed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure me. That same day I took my first dose, and I kept it up faithfully until twelve bottles had been used, and not only did the tumor disappear, but my general health was very much improved and I had not felt so well since I was a young woman.

"As I have suffered no relapse since, and as I took no other medicine, I am sure that your Compound restored my health and I believe saved my life."—MRS. D. ARNOLD.

CHAPTER XXVI.

The Bushman frequently has recourse to a much simpler plan. Having discovered the nest of an ostrich, he removes the eggs as the first fruits of conquest, and then, concealing himself in the empty cavity, patiently waits for the return of the bird, which he generally dispatches with one of those poisoned arrows which make incredible havoc among the wild birds of the bush or the savannah. According to Dr. Livingstone, the venom most generally employed is the milky juice of the tree euphorbia, which is particularly hurtful to the equine race. When it is mixed with the water of a pond, a whole herd of zebras will fall dead from the effects of the poison before they have moved away two miles; while on oxen and men it acts as a drastic purgative only. This substance is used all over the country although in some places the venom of serpents and a certain bulb are added in order to increase the virulence. A slender reed, only slightly barbed with bone or iron, but imbued with the poison is sufficient to destroy the most powerful animal. Thus we find the African savage subdues the beast of the field by similar means to those which are used by the wild nations on the banks of the Orinoco or the Amazon.

The ostrich generally passes for a very stupid animal, yet to protect its young, it has recourse to many cunning stratagems. Thus Anderson and Galton, while traversing a barren plain, once hit upon a male and female ostrich, with a brood of young ones about the size of ordinary barn yard fowls. This was a sight they had long been looking for, having been requested by Professor Owen to procure a few craniums of the young ostrich, in order to settle certain anatomical questions, so forthwith dismounting from their oxen, they gave chase, which proved of no ordinary interest. Says Anderson—"The moment the parent birds became aware of our intention, they set off at full speed, the female leading the way, the young following in her wake, and the male, though at some little distance, bringing up the rear of the family party. It was very touching to observe the anxiety the old birds evinced for the safety of their progeny. Finding that we were quickly gaining upon them, the male at once slackened his pace, and diverged somewhat from his course; but seeing that we were not to be diverted from our purpose, he again increased his speed, and with wings drooping, so as almost to touch the ground, he hovered round us, now in wide circles, and then decreasing the circumference till he came almost within pistol shot, when he abruptly threw himself on the ground and struggled desperately to regain his legs, as it appeared, like a bird that had been badly wounded. Having previously fired at him, I really thought he was disabled, and made quickly towards him. But this was only a ruse on his part, for on my nearer approach he slowly arose, and began to run in an in an opposite direction to that of the female, who by this time was considerably ahead with her charge. After about an hour's severe chase, we secured nine of the brood, and though it consisted of about double that number, we found it necessary to be contented with what we had bagged."

While breeding, the ostrich likewise resorts to various artifices to remove intruders from its rude nest, which is a mere cavity scooped out a few inches deep in the sand, and about a yard in diameter. Thus Thunberg relates that riding past a place where a hen-ostrich sat on her nest, the bird sprang up and pursued him, in order to draw off his attention from her young ones or her eggs. Every time the traveller turned his horse towards her, she retreated ten or twelve paces, but as soon as he rode on, pursued him again. Is it not wonderful how parental affection, at the approach of danger, seems to rouse the intelligence of the animal to higher exertions, and to raise it above its usual sphere!

The instinct of the ostrich in providing food for its young is no less remarkable, for it is now proved that this bird, far from leaving its eggs, like a cold-blooded reptile, to be vivified by the sun, as was formerly supposed, not only hatches them with the greatest care, but even reserves a certain portion of eggs to provide the young with nourishment when they first burst into life. A wonderful provision, when we consider how difficult it would be for the brood to find any other adequate food in its sterile haunts. In Senegal, where the heat is extreme, the ostrich, it is said, sits at night only upon those eggs which are to be rendered fertile, but in extra tropical Africa, where the sun has less power, the mother remains constant in her attentions to the eggs both day and night. The number of eggs which the ostrich usually sits upon is ten; but the Hottentots, who are very fond of them, upon discovering a nest, seize fitting opportunities to remove one or two at a time, and this induces the bird to deposit more, and in this manner she has been known, like the domestic hen, to lay between forty and fifty in a season. But the ostrich has other enemies beside the savage, or the hungry traveller to fear for its young brood. Thus the natives about the Orange River assert that, when the birds have left their nest in the middle of the day in search of food, a white vulture may be seen soaring in mid-air, with a stone between his talons. Having carefully surveyed the ground below him, he suddenly lets fall the stone, and then follows it in rapid descent. On running to the spot, you will find a nest of probably a score of eggs, some of them broken by the vulture, who used this ingenious device for procuring for himself a dainty meal.

ADVERTISING KAWARTHA LAKES.

On Monday last, Mr. Charlton, Manager of the Grand Trunk Advertising Department, opened at Saginaw, Mich., a ten weeks tour through Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Kentucky. Mr. Charlton is sending a collection of over 100 bromo enlargements of views of our lake regions, each picture being 4 ft. 2 in. by 3 ft. 6 in. Many of this collection were on view at the Pan-American last year, but there are some new and very beautiful views. He is also sending one of the finest collection of mounted fish that has ever been seen. The gentleman in charge of the exhibit will spend two days at all the chief cities, occupying rooms in the business portions of the cities visited. The quantity of literature to be distributed at these exhibitions is something immense, and it is placed directly in the hands of those interested. Mr. M. C. Dickson, the G.T.R. Passenger Agent, of Toronto, who so cleverly manages the tourist traffic of this great region, distributed fully 50,000 pleasure seekers last year. Mr. Dickson is an enthusiast in the capabilities of Ontario's Highland lakes, and the enormous possibilities of increased traffic. The traffic to the Kawartha Lakes during the coming season, should be easily double that of last year and those interested, from Coboconk to Lakefield, should be prepared with accommodation and entertainment that will please the visitors. The entertainment of the visitors should be by no means neglected. People who come out for Holidays and Health, do not expect to spend their time in seclusion and prayer. They want every means for out door exercise, boating, swimming, wheeling, tennis, golf, everything that the natural facilities of the neighbourhood, affords, and rooms or pavilions for concerts and dancing. It is not much that is required to supplement prodigal gifts of nature, but that little must be supplied. —Bobcaygeon Independent.

IN THE AIR.

The Germs of La Grippe are Conveyed Through the Atmosphere.

No one can escape the la grippe germ because when an epidemic of the disease is prevailing the air is laden with it.

The reason that everyone does not have the disease at the same time is because the persons who are enjoying perfect health are able to successfully resist and throw off the infection, while those, who for any reason are not in the best of health, fall ready victims.

The first symptoms are those of acute catarrh resembling a hard cold and if prompt treatment is applied at this time, it can easily be broken up; one of the best remedies at this stage is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, sold by druggists everywhere and if taken freely, say one tablet every hour or two for two or three days, the danger of pneumonia and serious complications will be averted.

The Rev. L. E. Palmer, Baptist clergyman of Ceresco, Mich., makes a statement of interest to all catarrh and grip sufferers. He says: "Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have certainly been a blessing to me. I have used them freely this fall and winter and have found them a safeguard against la grippe and catarrhal troubles from which I have suffered for years. I feel that I can freely and conscientiously recommend them."

Persons who suffer from catarrh of the head and throat are very susceptible to la grippe and such will find a pleasant, convenient and safe remedy in this new catarrh cure.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are composed entirely of harmless antiseptics and may be used as freely as necessary as they contain no cocaine, opiate or poisonous drug of any kind.

EXPERT TESTIMONY.

Before the New York Society of Medical Jurisprudence in the Academy of Medicine a few nights ago, Dr. Graeme M. Hammond read a paper deprecating the disrepute into which expert testimony had fallen, and blamed both attorneys and physicians. He said—

"In trials as they are conducted at present there is no possible chance for an agreement of experts. The witnesses for the two sides are not asked to give opinions based upon the same assumptions; each counsel has his own hypothetical questions, which differ from his opponent's as the night from day. They are based upon absolutely different assumptions of facts, and the answers given are in accord with the assumptions in each question. Should the opposing counsel exchange hypothetical questions, the answer of every expert witness would be changed also.

"The expert opinions are of no value unless the assumptions contained in the hypothetical questions are proved to be true. If the jury believes the assumption in one hypothetical question the expert opinion based thereon is worthy of consideration, otherwise not. If these points were understood generally it would be seen that the seeming clashing of expert opinion is in reality nothing ing of the sort, but that the opinions given are nearly what they claim to be, honest answers to absolutely different questions."

Dr. Hammond proposed as a remedy the selection of experts by each side, in litigations, who would examine the plaintiff or defendant in each other's presence and in the presence of a stenographer who should note all that was said and done in the examination. This he said, would do much to secure unanimity of expert opinion.

BLOOD TROUBLES

Manifest Themselves in Many Disagreeable Ways

Such as Scrofula, Eczema, Boils and Pimples—The Blood Should be Purified During the Spring Months.

The Spring season is the time for blood cleansing and blood renewing. Blood troubles are many — and dangerous — and manifest themselves in a score of painful and offensive ways, such as scrofula, eczema, boils and pimples. The impurities that get into the blood pursue their poisonous way all over the body and are responsible for a large proportion of all diseases, various in their nature but dangerous in the extreme. To have pure blood and plenty of it, you need a tonic and blood builder, and for this purpose there is nothing can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These pills cure all diseases due to impurities in the blood by promptly cleansing and freeing the blood from all poisonous and offensive matter. If your blood is thin or insufficient; if you suffer from exhaustion at the least exertion; if you are pale, easily get out of breath, and feel constantly languid and fagged out, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure you by filling your veins with new, rich, red blood. Mr. Robt. Lee, New Westminster, B. C., says:—"Before I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, my blood was in a very impure state, and as a result, pimples, which were very itchy, broke out all over my body. My appetite was fickle and I was easily tired. I tried several medicines, but they did not help me. Then my wife urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got a half dozen boxes and by the time I had used them I was completely restored to health, and my skin was smooth and clear. I shall always speak a good word for these pills when opportunity offers."

It is because these pills make rich, red blood that they cure such troubles as anaemia, shortness of breath, headache, palpitation of the heart, rheumatism, erysipelas, St. Vitus' dance, and the functional ailments that make the lives of so many women a source of constant misery. The genuine pills always bear the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper on every box. Sold by all dealers, or sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A LONG-DISTANCE RUN.

The Belleville Ontario says: "A horse which belongs to George Brummell of Trenton, holds the championship for long-distance running. The horse started to run away on Saturday, five miles north of Trenton. It came through the town, and although several attempts were made to catch it, the horse, like De Wet, escaped the net and came on to Belleville. It went through on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, and it was going at a good clip. It turned down Front street from the Lower Bridge, cut across the market, and struck the Kingston road. It kept on down the road, passed through Shannonville, and stopped in Milltown for a drink. It was captured there.

"The horse had travelled a distance of 27 miles without a stop. It pulled a light wagon behind it and the rig was not damaged. The horse probably started to do a century run, and would have gone to Kingston, only it stopped to have a drink. The owners came down yesterday and got the animal; it seemed to be none the worse for its escapade.

A Consultation Held.

Drs. McDade, Rush and Sims, three of the most eminent American doctors, in a series of articles outlined a tonic treatment calculated to cure a vast number of diseases. Their suggestions were embodied in a formula which is dispensed by a Brantford druggist and called Merrill's System Tonic. It is a reliable and pleasant remedy for stomach, bowel and kidney diseases. Sold at 50c. per bottle at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Floods in Maine.

Bangor, Me., March 21.—The flood on the Penobscot which has long been feared, came last night. Bridges were carried away, entailing a loss of many thousand dollars, and cutting all communication between Bangor and Eastern Maine. The ice jam caused the river to back up rapidly, basements of stores in the business section were flooded and goods worth thousands of dollars were ruined.

DISEASE GERMS IN WALL COVERINGS

In these days when small pox and other contagious diseases are so prevalent, the question of how we shall decorate the walls of our homes and insure a healthy condition is one of great moment.

PHYSICIANS ALL AGREE that wall paper with its poisonous coloring matter and mouldy paste is unsanitary; that it affords an elegant opportunity for bacteria to thrive. This is evident not only from what they say, but from the fact that the walls of hospitals are never papered.

ANOTHER POINT. Sanitarians all tell us that the walls of a room to be healthy must breathe; that wall paper and paint obstruct wall respiration.

THE BIG POINT IS that Church's Cold Water ALABASTINE has none of the disadvantages of either paper, paint or kalsomine, but all the advantages of a pure, porous, cement-like wall-coating that hardens with age, and can be recoated as often as is necessary to renew.

With ALABASTINE the most beautiful effects can be produced; anyone can do plain tinting. Write for free book of instructions about how to decorate. Mention this paper.

ALABASTINE is for sale by Hardware and Paint dealers everywhere. Never sold in bulk. Practical man, ask your dealer for free offer "Two Good Things," or address

To Get Well.

Send No Money. Simply Tell Me Some One Who Needs Help.

If you are sick let me know it.

If you have a friend who needs help, tell me his address. Let me send the book he needs. Let me offer the sick one a way to get well.

Do that much, and I will do this:—

I will send with the book an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I will tell the druggist to let you test it for a month. If satisfied then, the cost is $5.50. If not, I will pay your druggist myself.

It will not cost you a penny.

Please note what that means.

I furnish the treatment, give you my best advice, answer all of your letters.

If I succeed, the cost is only $5.50, and the result is health. If I fail, my effort and my medicine is free.

Can't you see that I must know how to cure?

The reason is this—I have spent a lifetime in learning how to strengthen the inside nerves. That nerve power is the force that operates every vital organ. It is to your body what steam is to an engine.

When any vital organ is weak and fails in its duty, I bring it the power it needs. The results are certain, and most chronic diseases cannot be cured in any other way.

My book will tell you why.

I don't mean that I never fail. I can always bring back this vital nerve power; but sometimes an organic disease, like cancer, makes a cure impossible.

But such conditions are rare. In any case, no matter how difficult, I will take the entire risk.

My record shows that 39 in each 40 who get these six bottles pay for them—pay because they are cured. It is this remarkable record that makes such an offer possible.

There are 39 chances in 40 that I can cure you or your friend.

It is absolutely certain that in most chronic diseases my treatment represents the utmost that medicine can do.

It is certain, too, that no other physician will assume the risk, for no common treatment could stand a test like that. No matter what your prejudice or doubts, remember that I take the risk. I alone am the loser if I fail. And if I succeed, you are well.

Be fair with yourself. At least get my book. I am sorry for the sick one who can say "no" to my offer.

Simply state which book you want, and address to Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

LACROIX PAYS FOR HIS CRIME.

Double Murderer Hanged at Hull, Quebec, on Friday.

Hull Jail, Que., March 22.—Stanislas Lacroix was hanged in Hull jail yesterday morning at 8.05 o'clock. He died gamely. Rev. Father Forget made a brief statement on behalf of the murderer, who said he admitted his guilt, and died at peace with the world and his God.

Lacroix did not go to bed Thursday night, but sat up with the nuns and prayed. His little son was with him until nine o'clock, and was with his doomed father again early yesterday morning. The three brothers of the murderer and his three sisters bade him farewell about twenty minutes to eight.

When the hangman entered the cell Lacroix said he bore him no hard feeling, and asked him to do the job well.

The scaffold was exposed and about fifteen spectators were present. After the black cap was adjusted Lacroix was cautioned by the priest to keep up heart. He said, "I am not afraid to die." At 8.05 the signal was given and Lacroix fell nine feet. Thirteen and a half minutes later the jail surgeon pronounced the man dead. His neck had not been broken by the fall, but death was due to strangulation.

Lacroix was hanged for the brutal murder of his wife on Aug. 24, 1900. A year previous they had separated. The day before the crime Lacroix bought a revolver and then followed his wife into the house and caught her crouching behind the door, and holding the baby. Catching her by the hair of the head he dragged her out. The woman, clinging to her baby, tried to reach the door, and Lacroix shot her in the hand. Falling upon her knees the woman screamed, "Stanislas, what do you mean?" For an answer Lacroix shot her again and she fell dead. Lacroix returned to the house where his wife had been and shot dead an old man named Hippolyte Thomas de Franchemontagne.

Special From Norwich, Ont.

The recovery of Mr. Norman Batty, hardware merchant, one of Norwich's oldest and most successful citizens has excited much comment. For years Mr. Batty has been an unceasing sufferer from Catarrhal Asthma and although no end of time and money was spent relief was not obtained until Mr. Batty commenced Catarrhozone treatment which perfectly cured him. This case is only equalled by that of Mrs. Bannon, wife of J. J. Bannon, druggist, who was also cured of Asthma and Hay Fever by Catarrhozone after 30 years' suffering. Fully a hundred persons in this town have been cured of Catarrhal troubles by Catarrhal troubles by Catarrhozone which is a remarkable proof of its value. Two months' treatment, Price $1. Small size 25c. Sold by all druggists or by mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

FRANCE AND BRITAIN.

Some Interesting Questions in the French Senate Friday—Expects Russia to Act Fairly in the East.

Paris, March 22.—In the Senate yesterday, during the discussion of the foreign budget, Senator Gotteron criticized the Government's foreign policy. The extension of the Franco-Russian alliance to China, as announced yesterday, he said, was a reply to the Anglo-Japanese alliance, and the situation appeared to the senator to be grave. They had three enemies yesterday, and to-day they had five.

M. Delcasse replied, denying that a proposition for a Franco-German understanding had been made to either M. Hanotaux or himself.

Referring to the Anglo-Japanese treaty, the Foreign Minister said there was nothing in it at which Franco need take umbrage. Respect for the integrity of China was the basis of France's policy, and France was equally satisfied regarding the open-door principle. The Anglo-Japanese had broken down resistance to the policy of alliances. Everybody now recognized that alliances are necessary, and where a community of sentiment as well as a community of interest exists, the result is a most solid alliance, which was the secret of the strength of the Franco-Russian alliance, whose durable character was shown by the visit of the Czar to France and the coming visit of President Loubet to Russia, "bearing to our ally the cordial greeting of France."

The Foreign Minister concluded by replying to questions regarding Frenchmen captured by the British while fighting for the Boers. He said: "Some of the prisoners were arrested at Johannesburg under the pretext that they were engaged in certain intrigues. We consider a prisoner of war can only be taken on the field of battle. But Great Britain does not accept this view. There is only one French prisoner of this category, however, who has not been released, and strong efforts are being made to obtain his liberation.

"Regarding the concentration, the British Government informs us that all facilities have been given for forwarding provisions and other objects requested by the French committee."

The Minister's statement was applauded. The foreign budget was then adopted.

Expects Russia to Act.

London, March 22.—In replying to a question regarding the situation in China, asked in the House of Commons yesterday, Viscount Cranborne, Under Secretary of the Foreign Office, said that Great Britain looked to Russia to fulfil her declared policy in Manchuria, namely, to restore the province, under certain conditions, to the same position as before the troubles.

There was no reason to suppose that Russia had receded from this position or from her declared intention to restore the port of Newchang and the Shanhaikwan Railway.

The Government, the speaker added, believed that the rebellion in the southern part of China was greatly exaggerated, but was making further inquiries into the matter.

BOERS STRONG IN TRANSVAAL W.

In the Orange River Colony the Enemy Is Split Up Into Small Groups—No Commando Over 300 Strong in the East, But in Western Transvaal They Are Stronger—Few With Botha.

London, March 22.—Arriving at Klerksdorp (Western Transvaal) after several weeks' trekking in the Eastern Transvaal, says a correspondent of The Times, one is struck by the different aspect of affairs in various centres of the military operations.

In the Orange River Colony, the enemy is split up into small groups, many of the Boers are dismounted and in hiding, while, because of the defection of Dewet, they are without a prominent leader.

In the Eastern Transvaal, south of the Delagoa Railway line, there are still organized commandoes, but none over 300 strong. All are continually bustled, and every month Commandant-General Botha's influence grows weaker. North of the Delagoa Line, the Boers are more anxious to lead peaceful lives, and will embrace the first opportunity to discontinue hostilities without rendering possible a charge of cowardice.

In the Western Transvaal, the correspondent goes on to say, the Boers are supplied with guns and ammunition, and have unlimited transport and a large amount of stock. Their numbers give them confidence, and the blockhouse system has not been extended sufficiently to alarm them. Because of their general insufficiency the British troops are unable to cope adequately with the Boer forces, all of the burghers in the Western Transvaal being fighting men. The waverers have been captured or have surrendered, and those in the field seem to have no intention of surrendering.

Lieut.-Col. A. Wools-Sampson has been directed to take over the "field intelligence" service in the Western Transvaal, but, the correspondent says, it will take time to work up the service to the standard reached in the Eastern Transvaal.

FEARED HURONIAN IS LOST.

Now One Month Overdue and All Hope Is Abandoned.

St. John's, Nfld., March 22. — Incoming shipping brings no report of the Allan Liner Huronian, Capt. Brodie, from Glasgow Feb. 11 for St. John's, now about one month overdue. It is generally believed in marine circles here that she foundered with all hands, or that she sank from collision with ice in the North Atlantic. There is a bare possibility that she has been caught in the ice floes, and that her crew has been rescued by some sealing steamer, as happened in the case of another steamship a few years ago, but this, it is thought, is very unlikely.

A TORONTO MAN.

The Mr. Jardine Referred to, Lives in the Queen City.

Well-Known Throughout Canada as one of Canada's Commissioners to the Paris Exposition—His Statement is a Very Valuable one, and has Been Read With Much Interest.

Toronto, March 19. (Special).—Mr. J. G. Jardine, whose statement as to the wonderful curative and tonic properties of Dodd's Kidney Pills has been published in many of the papers, is a resident of this city. His home is at 305 Crawford street.

Mr. Jardine was chosen as one of the Canadian Commissioners to the Paris Exposition two years ago, and performed the onerous duties of that office with honour to himself and credit to his country.

It is to his experience in the French capital at this time that Mr. Jardine makes particular reference in the published statement in which he says:—

"During my stay in Paris I felt many times quite run down owing to the complete change and to the worries and work of our business there. I suffered not a little with backache, with general feeling of depression and I found Dodd's Kidney Pills invaluable.

"I had learned the value of this medicine before going to Europe as I had used it very successfully for backache which I found it relieved almost instantly. So when I went to Paris I was careful to take with me some of this, my favourite remedy.

"Every time I was threatened with a return of the trouble I used a few Dodd's Kidney Pills and can say they did not disappoint me. They are the best medicine I know of to tone up the system generally and they do certainly relieve backache instantly."

What Mr. Jardine has said is amply borne out by many others in this city whose experiences have been and are being published from day to day. Dodd's Kidney Pills are certainly without an equal as a medicine for those who are "tired out," "run down" or "used up."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have been endorsed most heartily by all classes.

A Little Maid's Recovery

The Touching Story of the Saving of Pretty Alice Marsan of St. Hilaire, P. Q., from Consumption.

The Facts Are Sworn To.

DOMINION OF CANADA, PROVINCE OF QUEBEC, } To-wit: IN THE MATTER OF THE CURE OF ALICE MARSAN.

I, JOSEPH MARSAN, of St. Hilaire, in the Province of Quebec, Fruit Grower, DO SOLEMNLY DECLARE THAT I am a resident of Mount St. Hilaire and have been for the past ten years. THAT my daughter Alice, now thirteen years of age is a resident pupil of the Institute Methodiste Francais, 95 Greene Ave., Westmount. THAT some four years ago, she with other members of the family, took la grippe, which in her case resulted in a chronic cough that could not be checked. THAT her disease was finally diagnosed as "Consumption," and no hope was held out for her recovery. THAT she was taken out of school in January, 1900, to end her young life at home. THAT she expectorated heavily and the night sweats were very severe. She had no appetite and was much wasted in body, while rest was almost unknown to her. THAT she received hospital treatment for one whole summer and also used large quantities of cod liver oil to no purpose. THAT early in August, on hearing of the wonderful curative powers of Powley's Liquified Ozone, I at once procured a bottle and began giving it to our dying child. THAT the peculiar and powerful action of this marvelous remedy brought the diseased matter from her lungs in such volumes that she had to be rubbed three and four times a night to keep her from choking. THAT on finishing the first bottle my wife and I were overjoyed to notice her appetite improving, while the night sweats and cough were less severe. THAT we hopefully continued the treatment and after using six large bottles she eats, sleeps and looks well. Her cough is no longer a source of annoyance and she has been going to school since October 1st of this year. THAT we honestly consider Powley's Liquified Ozone a blessing to mankind and cannot too warmly express our appreciation of it. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act, 1893. JOSEPH MARSAN.

Alice Marsan, Mount St. Hilaire, P. Q.

Declared before me at the City of Montreal, in the Province of Quebec, this twenty-fourth day of December, A. D., 1901. R. A. DUNTON, Notary Public.

DOMINION OF CANADA, PROVINCE OF QUEBEC, } To-wit: IN THE MATTER OF THE CURE OF ALICE MARSAN.

I, JENNIE DUVAL, wife of Alfred Duval, of 1853 St. Catherine Street, in the city of Montreal, in the Province of Quebec, DO SOLEMNLY SWEAR THAT my niece, Alice Marsan, of Mount St. Hilaire, thirteen years of age, is a resident pupil of the Institute Methodiste Francais, Westmount. THAT some four years ago she contracted a distressing cough, the persistent continuance of which was a source of painful apprehension to her parents and relatives. THAT on the failure of every effort to restore her she was taken home from the Institute about a year ago with the conviction that she would never return. THAT she suffered much from night sweats, loss of appetite, heavy expectoration and want of sleep. THAT she continued to sink, (though using quantities of cod liver oil) until mid-summer, when her parents dropped all other remedies and began giving her Powley's Liquified Ozone. THAT an improvement was manifest from the first bottle, and after using six of the large size, she was able to return to school and resume her studies. THAT she is now more rosy and healthy in appearance than ever, and seems to enjoy life with all the natural vivacity of youth. THAT though I personally have but a slight knowledge of the "New System of Curing Disease," still this remarkable instance of its efficacy in, I might say, my own family, is sufficient to establish it as a very superior one, and to commend it to all thinking people. And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act, 1893. MRS. JENNIE DUVAL.

Declared before me at the City of Montreal, in the Province of Quebec, this twenty-sixth day of December, A. D., 1901. R. A. DUNTON, Notary Public.

Fancy the joy and gratitude occasioned by the recovery of Alice Marsan from pulmonary tuberculosis. The same experience is being repeated all over this broad Dominion. Wherever the beneficial effect of Powley's Liquified Ozone has been felt you will find thankful people who praise it for saving them from consumption—a living death. Cases such as these are very significant. They prove in an absolutely convincing way that Ozone will cure consumption permanently. It cures it in the right way, too—Nature's way. It increases the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, forms sound, healthy flesh and destroys the tubercle bacilli. If you have any lungs at all and they are diseased, Ozone will arrest the germ attack and restore the tissues to their proper and normal condition. We state actual cases and give you simply the facts. The extraordinary power of Powley's Liquified Ozone to cure pulmonary consumption compels these statements. We will furnish you with the original sworn statement of these or any other case we have ever published—we will do anything in our power to assist you in a searching investigation of the merits of our preparation. REVOLT IN CHINA.

20,000 Well Armed and Drilled Troops Desert and Join the Rebels.

Hong Kong, March 21.—Advices from Canton say it is credibly reported there that the Viceroy has received telegrams from Laungchang, on the Annam border, alleging that the whole of Marshal Su's troops have deserted and joined the rebels. If this be true, says the advices, it adds to the revolutionists twenty thousand armed and drilled troops, capable of defeating any force the Imperialists can raise.

The telegrams further say the country is undoubtedly ripe for rebellion. Robberies are of frequent occurrence. The long continued drought prevents the planting of spring rice, and this has led the farm laborers to become robbers. Well-informed persons consider a rebellion similar to that of the Taipings probable.

HIGH CLASS ENTERTAINMENT.

Messrs. Jones and Smiley, and Miss Richardson

Were the Artists at the Recital in the Opera House Last Night—A Large Audience—The Programme.

To Mr. John Crane, organist and choir-master of St. Paul's church, the music-loving public of Peterborough is always indebted for the excellence of the entertainments he superintends, and for his bringing to Peterborough talent of exceptionally rare ability. The recital which took place in the opera house last night, and which was arranged by Mr. Crane merely for the purpose of providing the lovers of high class music in Peterborough an opportunity of hearing three very distinguished artists, which many would otherwise not be privileged to hear, must be admitted to have been a great success.

The artists taking part in the programme were Mr. Hirwen Jones, England's most eminent tenor, Mr. Owen A. Smiley, Canada's well-known elocutionist and entertainer, Miss Hilda Richardson, of the London and Provincial English Concerts, violinist, and Miss Constance Veitch, of London, accompanist.

The appearances in Peterborough of so prominent a quartette brought out one of the largest and most fashionable audiences that has assembled in the opera house in some time. Almost every available seat was occupied, and that the audience was highly appreciative was amply demonstrated by the fact that they wished an encore to each number, which was generously acquiesced in by the respective artists.

Miss Richardson was the first artist to appear on the programme. As a 'cellist she has few equals, and her selections were of such a character that made exacting demands both on the technical equipment and musical qualifications of the performer. The enthusiasm she excited was intense and the many recalls testify to the delight of her hearers. Her selections were such as to afford excellent scope for her most perfect and exquisite work, and every passage was treated by Miss Richardson in a delightfully clear manner, with graceful execution and clearness of tone. Her encores were generally sprightly little numbers which in some cases caught the spirit of the audience to as great an extent as the principal selections. Her selections were from Popper, Chopin and Dunkeer.

The advance notices of Mr. Jones had raised high expectations from the critical audience assembled, nor were they disappointed. Mr. Jones possesses a pure tenor voice that must not be confounded with the usual high baritone. His work bears the stamp of the true artist, such in fact as doubtless has not been heard in Peterborough before. His selections were in almost every particular new to a Peterborough audience, but their selection was characterized by due regard to the requirements of modern as well as historical music. It would be invidious to compare, but certainly his singing of Parcell's (1658-1695), "I Attempt from Love's Sickness to Fly," was given with rare beauty of conception, and stamped at the outset a peer among vocalists. His numbers throughout were exacting and distinctly removed from the too-much-used six-eight numbers so prevalent. Mr. Jones received hearty recalls upon each appearance. As a closing number he gave a group of Welsh airs, with the true spirit of a Welshman.

Mr. Smiley was a great favourite and had the audience in spasms of laughter during the evening through his quaint humour and generally dramatic style. His Irish jokes were heartily received and his burlesque attempts on the piano were amusing to say the least.

Altogether Mr. Crane's recital was a grand success, thoroughly enjoyable and of high merit.

A Number of Prominent Speakers Were Present and Delivered Addresses.

The mass meeting of the Liberals of the West Riding this afternoon in the Opera House, was attended by a most encouraging number of the supporters of the party, every township having representatives in attendance, even the far north sending in its delegation.

Hon. J. R. Stratton was unanimously re-nominated to contest the riding. During the afternoon speeches were delivered by Hon. Mr. Stratton, Hon. Senator Cox, Mr. Andrew Pattullo, M.P.P., and others. A full report of the proceedings will appear in Monday's issue.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Samuel Curtis on Friday Last.

The death occurred yesterday of a very old and most highly respected resident of the county in the person of Louisa George, wife of Mr. Samuel Curtis, at the advanced age of 85 years.

Mrs. Curtis has been gradually failing for the last two years, but awaited the end with that Christian fortitude which characterized a life devoted to caring for the welfare of others. The deceased was born in Corcerton, within a mile of Warminster, England, and came to Canada with her husband in the early forties, taking up residence at first with an uncle, the late Joseph Ford, at Warsaw. From there the family moved to lot 22, in the 2nd concession of Douro, and a few years ago changed their residence to the 6th line of Smith, afterwards coming to Peterborough to live.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at half past two from the family residence, Stewart street, Ashburnham, and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery.

DEATH OF JOHN CADIGAN.

He Passed Away Yesterday After an Illness of Three Years Duration.

Mr. John Cadigan, aged 56 years, died yesterday at the family residence on Stewart street, Ashburnham, after an illness extending over the past three years. Mr. Cadigan for many years attended to the switch at the locks, and had a wide circle of friends who will regret exceedingly to hear of his death.

The deceased was born in Ennismore, being a son of the late Mr. Patrick Cadigan of that township. He leaves a wife and four children, the latter being Misses Sadie, Mary and Kate and Bert.

The funeral will take place at nine o'clock on Monday morning, and will proceed to St. Peter's Cathedral, and afterwards to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

CAPT. CALCUTT'S CERTIFICATE

Has Been Restored by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Hon. James Sutherland, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has restored to Captain Chas. W. Calcutt, his Master's certificate, which was cancelled by the Minister last summer owing to the alleged carelessness of the Captain in not seeing that the steamer was properly equipped with a gang plank. The minister believes that the punishment has been sufficient and will be a warning to him to exercise greater care in the future.

HAVELOCK'S INTERESTS.

(From the Havelock Standard.)

The session of the Ontario Legislature has prorogued, and the topic of conversation will shortly be the political contest. The Standard has never before taken any decided position in regard to political matters, but the time seems to have come when it should come out and define its attitude. The politics of the Standard is the village of Havelock; that is, whatever will best promote its material interests and contribute to its welfare and advancement, will receive the support of this journal. After looking the situation over carefully we have come to the conclusion that the interests of the village will be best promoted by supporting a Government containing a member residing in, and representing a part of this county. The history of the past fifteen or sixteen years in Peterborough has shown that Hon. J. R. Stratton, who for that length of time has represented the West Riding in the Legislature, has been most energetic and active in doing what was in his power to benefit this county, justifies this position; and we believe that the return of the Government will still retain these services, with the opportunities for service which membership in the Government can and does advise.

Havelock's future depends upon the extent to which the resources of the back country are made tributary to us. We want the roads and highways that centre or should centre in Havelock, built, extended and improved. We want electric railway connection with the Cordova Mines, and all means of communication so far perfected that we shall secure the fullest possible benfit. We shall be benefitted by the policy of development which the present Government has adopted. Our situation on the line of that giant corporation, the C.P.R., makes us naturally the distributing centre of this district; and if we can help the Government in its policy of development of the mineral and other resources to the north and northwest of the village we feel that we shall be doing good service, and advancing its growth and general prosperity.

We all know, and are learning more every day of the great mineral wealth of the county in the near vicinity of Havelock. We have without doubt, some of the most important and best paying gold mining properties in the Dominion of Canada; we have in great abundance ores capable of yielding arsenic for commercial purposes to supply under proper development, the requirements of the world. The Government of Ontario is at present considering the question of a bounty on the production of this mineral and we are hopeful that this will be granted. In this event a tremendous impetus will be given to local mining and smelting, operations, meaning a great increase in the capital invested and a ten-fold increase of the labour employed. All this concerns Havelock and will powerfully effect our prosperity, and we must be in a position in regard to our representatives and our relations to the Government to reap the fullest possible advantages. It may be said that any Government might serve this end, but all who know the energetic and aggressive character of the member for West Peterborough will admit that the Government (even with all the other conditions equal) which contains him as a member, is the Government in the interests of Havelock.

The Standard does not agree with the Ross Government in regard to many things, but on this one point we espouse its cause, and our support of the candidates of that Government in East and West Peterborough naturally follows. The election of Mr. Anderson and Mr. Stratton will, it seems to us, be so plainly in the interests of Havelock, that no apology is needed from the Standard in urging all who desire to advance the prosperity of the village, to give their support to Messrs. Anderson and Stratton.

The view we take may not be a very large one, but we notice that the great journals published in large cities are looking out for their own interests, and we have enough loyalty to the best interests of Havelock, to advocate what we honestly think is the best for them.

Referring to the Liberal Convention which is taking place here to-day the Bobcaygeon Independent says:—"This will no doubt bring out a large attendance, for the present member, Mr. Stratton is exceedingly popular with his constituents, and they will certainly be anxious to show their appreciation of his services, by giving him a handsome start in the approaching elections. The great bulk of the conservative side would be well pleased to make his election by acclamation, but there are always a certain number of pushers in all parties who for self interest engineer a contest."

FEDERAL LABOUR UNION.

Continued Large Attendance at Regular Meeting—Mr. Flett Present.

The regular weekly meeting of Federal Labour Union No. 9240, was held last night in the Central Labour Hall, Water street. The attendance was very encouraging to the promoters of the organized labour movement—the hall being filled to its utmost capacity.

Fourteen new members were initiated, and additional applications were received.

Nearly the whole of the time of the meeting was taken up with a discussion of the question of the separation of the indoor wage earners into a lodge by themselves.

The matter was introduced by Mr. J. A. Flett, the organizer of the American Federation of Labour, who was present. The object which Mr. Flett sought to accomplish was to relieve the present large membership by calling out the indoor workers of the present union and organizing them into a branch union of their own, with the right to manage their own affairs.

The discussion on this question was quite animated, and brought out divergences of opinion as to the wisdom and propriety of such a step. Some members took the ground that it might tend to weaken the present solidity of their union, maintaining that it was in the unification of all the members that their strength consisted. Besides an affiliated union was likely to trespass on the jurisdiction of the existing union, and it would necessarily require a new charter, a new set of officers, and other formalities, involving additional working expenses, and demanding additional taxation.

The question is to be more fully considered at another meeting.

BEING CARVED UP.

The P. A. A. A. Grounds in Ashburnham are now no More.

The old P. A. A. A. grounds, the mecca of sport in years past, will in a few days be no more. The old hen-coop, as some cruel sporting editors were wont to call it, that has seen many a stubbornly fought battle between lacrosse teams; that has been the resort for townspeople on public holidays, when the base-ball or foot-ball teams were endeavouring to uphold the honour of Peterborough, and that has seen close and exciting finishes, when bicycle racing was at the zenith of its popularity, will no more ring with victorious shouts or bar the small boy from within its sacred precincts.

For some years past the managers of the estate which own the grounds, have been threatening to carve it up and to-day the operation is in progress. The fences are being torn down and the name P.A.A.A. grounds in Ashburnham will soon sink into oblivion.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh, and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Naturally and gradually this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body and thoroughly overcomes disease.

ENJOYABLE RECEPTION

At the "Y" Yesterday Evening to Mr. Fred Anderson—Had Tea Together.

A very enjoyable reception was tendered Mr. Fred W. Anderson by the Bible classes at the Y.M.C.A. last evening, when all took tea together. Mr. Anderson is a graduate of Toronto University, and has, until recently, been college secretary for Ontario and Quebec. He will go to India in July as the representative of the two provinces in that country as National Secretary for Western India. He will be supported by the Associations, and already steps have been taken to have the local Association members share in this work.

The enthusiasm at the gathering last evening and the singleness of purpose in the matter promises much for the success of the undertaking.

Mr. Anderson gave an impressive address, and pointed out what the Y.M.C.A. had been doing and what they planned to do for the two hundred million young men in non-Christian lands. In response to urgent calls from the missionaries, the International Committees had undertaken the work. In the last ten years 23 men had been sent out to occupy 14 centres in South America, Japan, Corea, China, Hong Kong, India, and Ceylon.

Many of the members present expressed approval and promised to co-operate in the work.

MR. WOOD REMEMBERED

By his Friends, Before Leaving Town A Presentation and an Address.

The friends in town of Mr. John A. Wood, who has been in charge of the construction work of the Canadian General Power House and who leaves very shortly for Seven Islands, below Quebec, to assume a similar position, on Thursday night at the White House presented him with a token of their appreciation of his many amiable qualities. Mr. R. Gutterson presented Mr. Wood with a beautiful pipe on behalf of his many friends, while Mr. D. J. McDonald read the following address,—

To John L. Wood, Esq.:

Dear Friend,—It is with feelings of sincere regret that we learn that, having completed the important work which brought them to our good town, you are about to leave us.

Though your sojourn here has been only a matter of months, our associations as members of what may be called a "happy family" so pleasantly domiciled in the White House, have brought us into the closest relations of daily intercourse. It has been said that "you never know a man until you have lived with him." There is a lot of truth in this statement, for the intimate associations and close contact of living in the same house gives every opportunity to judge a man in all his varying moods. But you have stood this test, and we desire at the end of a pleasant six months spent together, and before our associations are severed, to bear testimony to your genial disposition and your sterling character, which have won our esteem and our friendship.

When you leave us, we desire you to carry with you some little token of our regard, so that in the days to come, wherever your lot may be cast, you may remember the good friends you made in Peterborough, and may recall the pleasant associations of our days spent in the White house.

As you go, we wish you success in the future, and earnestly assure you that whenever you may return to Peterborough, you will always find "the latch string on the outside," and a hearty and warm welcome awaiting you here. (Signed.)

W. Cotton, W. Gentchs, R. Anson, W. Wright, D. J. McDonald, J. M. G. Wilson, J. Fitzgerald, Gus White, R. Gutterson, C. Demel.

Mr. Wood made a happy, yet feeling reply.

IN LOCAL MILITARY CIRCLES.

The Spring Drill of the 57th Soon to Start.

Will There be a Military Day Here on May 24th?—The Long Service Medals.

The unfortunate turn of affairs in Fred Bradfield's military career will be regretted by military men of all ranks. Bradfield enlisted for South Africa and was in earnest about going, but he afterwards yielded to the pleadings of his mother, and when the Peterborough contingent left town he was not with them. His subsequent arrest for alleged "absenting himself from the service of his regiment" was quite unexpected, and there is prevalent a grossly erroneous idea of what prompted his arrest, which was accomplished by civil and not military authorities. The papers were sent by Col. Otter to Lt.-Col. Edwards, by reason of his being the senior officer of the local garrison. Col. Otter requested that the matter be placed in the hands of the local police, which the Commanding Officer of the 57th Regiment accordingly did. But how can Col. Edwards be accused of prommoting Bradfield's arrest? We venture to say that Lt.-Col. Edwards was as sorry as anyone to see Bradfield arrested, and took no part in the affair other than that which has just been related.

The announcement that the spring drill of the 57th Regiment will commence on the evening of Tuesday, April 1st, will be received with general satisfaction by the members of the Regiment of all ranks. It is somewhat unfortunate, however, that the first drill will take place on the evening of the Golf Club dance, as many of the "society" members of the Regiment will be placed in a rather difficult position. It is, nevertheless, a source of satisfaction that the annual drill is in sight, and there is reason to believe that the work this year will be entered into with much enthusiasm. It is the intention of the officer commanding to have the season's drill carried vigorously on until July, when the annual inspection will very likely be held.

It is scarcely probable that an outside city regiment will visit Peterborough on May 24th. Most of the city regiments or at least most of those accessable to Peterborough have by this date accepted invitations elsewhere There are however, a number of crack Rural regiments in the Peterborough district that might be induced to come to town on that date. The 40th, 45th, and 46th Regiments could assist in putting on a rousing military day along with the 57th Regiment, the local squadron of the 3rd Dragoons, and the two local sections of the 14th Field Battery.

Is the matter of new colours for the 57th Regiment a dead issue? It is a well known fact that there is the nucleus for a fund of this kind already in the bank, and the agitation in this line appeared to be more assuring ten years ago than it is to-day. There is no need in dwelling here, on the need of a new stand of colours for the Rangers. The texture of the present colours is such that a stiff breeze would soon tear them in shreds.

It is rumored that when the 3rd Dragoons go into camp this summer, that a great many new faces will be seen amongst the officers. Of course, this seems quite natural, when it is remembered that the establishment of the Dragoons has been greatly increased since last camp. However, the new officers of the 3rd will, if rumor is correct, not be green at the profession of soldiering. There will likely be a number of excellent officers who have served their time with some of the infantry regiments in this district. A careful watch on the Militia General's orders may prove interesting to readers of military gossip.

Major R. H. Bonnycastle, of Campbellford, has received from the Government one of the medals which will be distributed among officers of the various regiments as a mark of honour in recognition of their long service in the military ranks of this country. His military career covers a period of 41 years. A medal will also be presented to Capt. John Girven, who has seen twenty years of service, and Mr. Wm. Kierney, who has been in the ranks a like period.—Herald.

It is evident that the Imperial Authorities intend to make an elaborate display at the King's coronation of the military resources of the Empire. Contingents have been invited from all the colonies and dependencies, and there is every likelihood that the procession in London when His Majesty proceeds to Westminster Abbey will be on a far larger and grander scale than at the late Queen's Diamond Jubilee in 1897. India has been asked to send a thousand native troops, but in the case of Canada, Australia and New Zealand, the quotas will not be as large. It is thought that the number to go from Canada will not exceed 500, and the probable expense will be about $50,000.

There was a time when the officers commanding the various squadrons of the Dragoons were all benedicts, but for the past few camps the bachelors have come into prominence. It looks now, however, as if the benedicts were again going to be in the majority, and no later than last week Cap. Syer, of "B" Squadron, proved himself a deserter from the ranks of the bachelor officers of the regiment.

The Cobourg World says that at the annual meeting of the Dominion Artillery Association held in Ottawa last week, the following motion was adopted: In view of the many drawbacks attending the use of the tidal range and the limited space available at the Isle of Orleans, it is strongly recommended that this year the garrison artillery may be authorized to hold their gun practice in camp at Fort Dufferin, St. John, the sea range at this locality being practically always clear and the locality itself very suitable for the garrison artillery units in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island." This means that the Cobourg Company of Garrison Artillery will go to St. John's N. B., this year instead of Quebec, as formerly.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

CRICKET.

A meeting of the Juniors of Omemee, was held on the 17th inst., for the purpose of organizing a cricket club of juniors for the coming season. The names of the members present were as follows: Ross McPherson, captain; Chas. D. McCaffrey, secretary and treasurer; Melville Evans, Wm. Lang, Harry Evans, Leonard Sandy, Harry Clark, Ernest Kennedy, Wm. Gallagher, and Norman Godfrey.

It was proposed to call another meeting in the near future to arrange other important matters.

THE WING.

Eighteen thousand pigeons, among the most beautiful and graceful of all the beautiful and graceful things into which God breathed the breath of life, are to be blown into fragments in front of the guns of the marksmen at the so-called "grand" American handicap tournament to be held at Kansas City, March 31 to April 5. Eighteen thousand cooing, fluttering, soft and gentle birds to be cruelly butchered to make a holiday for fashion, frivolity and that which is falsely named sport. One moment a thing of beauty, strong-winged and joyful, the next a mangled, suffering, blood bedraggled mass of feathers, gasping its poor little life out on the grass.

THE TURF.

The fashion or fad of docking horses' tails has survived the protest of the growing spirit of kindness and humanity, and the adverse legislation that expresses the best thought of the age. But it has probably received its quietus in the mandate that has gone forth almost simultaneously from King Edward VII. and President Roosevelt. King Edward, whose influence in matters of custom and usage is paramount in Britain, has made it known that he will neither purchase nor own nor even use a horse that has been mutilated by docking, while President Roosevelt has set the fashion in the United States by issuing specific instructions to the effect that horses purchased for his use at Washington must not be docked.

BASEBALL.

A meeting of the Young Cobourg Baseball Club was held on Tuesday evening and was well attended, all last year's team being present and everything points to a very successful season. Another meeting will be held in the near future. The following officers were elected:

Hon. Pres.—Rev. Melville A. Shaver.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—John Dick.
Pres.—Jas. Mitchell.
Vice-Pres.—Jas. Rooney.
Treasurer—Rich. Floyd.
Secretary-Manager—Jack Toms.
Captain—Arthur V. Bentley.
Committee—Ed. Moffat and P. Bond.

HERO GOURLEY.

The scrapper true and great,
"To every man upon this earth
Death cometh soon or late.
And how can man die better,
Than facing to the South,
And with some planks just hand the Yanks
A swift one in the mouth?

"Get out the English language
With all the speed you may;
I with two more to help me
Will hold the foe in play.
In Canada a million
May well be stopped by three,
Now who will stand on either hand
And do the job with me?"

Then out spake Hughes, of Lindsay,
A peacherine was he;
"Lo, I will stand at thy right hand
And execute with thee."
Then out spake H. Bourassa,
Another warm M. P.,
"Will I abide by thy left side?
I will with pleasure, Cuil!"

In Parliament all morning
The Three in all debates,
Arose and calmly walloped
The great United States,
And when they'd finished talking
The gory, blood-stained grass,
Dented death and slaughter
From Cal. to Boston, Mass.

STOCK MARKETS.

(The Haight & Freese Company—W. F. Nelson, Local Agent.)

Despite a bad year for crops in the Territory through which the Texas Pacific runs, the road made on March 19th an annual report, making new records in its history. Gross and net earnings were never so large, the gross earnings showing an increase of $2,018,820, or 20.70 per cent. The report shows considerable increase to be due to the prevailing industrial activity, largely stimulated by the oil discoveries at Beaumont. Large amounts of new capital has come into the state the past year, creating new industries and stimulating railway traffic generally. The population of the state has increased prodigiously the past year, creating new industries. Increase of population is the greatest lever for railway earners—the kind guaranteeing permanency. The increase in earnings was $817.35 gross per miles, gross $210.48 net. Vast amounts charged to operating expenses were expended upon the property. Cotton freight contrary to expectation, increased over the preceeding year, due to increased yield in Louisana. The company's showing shows vast improvement in passenger equipment and train service. The property has made gigantic strides and is increasing in value more rapidly than ever before. Texas Pacific is one of the lines that will enter the Gould "Greater Missouri Pacific" system. The Texas Pacific road running to the Mexican Border at Eagle Pass, and there, connecting with the road running direct to the City of Mexico, will be one of the natural logical routes for interchange traffic between the two republics. This class of business is still in its infancy. Its development in the coming five years will be likely to border upon the marvellous. We know of no stock selling in the 40s whose prospects are more bright for the future. Buy it and hang on to it. The fertile land throughout which the Texas Pacific Railway runs is just commencing to be developed. It is as certain to improve rapidly, correspondingly benefitting the share holders of the Texas Pacific, as is the ebb and flow of the tide.

Lasts a Lifetime.

That is just what they say of Vapo-Cresolene. The vaporizer is practically indestructible, and the Cresolene is certainly not expensive. This way of treating affections of the throat is most economical, and is also most effective. Our little picture illustrates how it's used. You put some Cresolene in the vaporizer, light lamp beneath, and then breathe in the soothing, healing vapor. For whooping-cough and croup it's a perfect specific.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. VAPO-CRESOLENE CO., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

FOR THE CORONATION

A Great Display of Colonial Troops Intended.

THE QUOTA FOR CANADA 500

The Northwest Territories Application for Provincial Autonomy in the Senate—Hon. Mr. Scott Gives Some Information—Will Go Over a Session—Mr. Ralph Smith on the Chinese Question.

Ottawa, March 22.—It is evident that the Imperial authorities intend to make an elaborate display at the King's coronation of the military resources of the empire. Contingents have been invited from all the colonies and dependencies, and there is every likelihood that the procession in London when His Majesty proceeds to Westminster Abbey will be on a far larger and grander scale than at the late Queen's Diamond Jubilee in 1897. India has been asked to send a thousand native troops, but in the case of Canada, Australia and New Zealand the quotas will not be as large. It is thought that the number to go from Canada will not exceed 500, and the probable expense will be about $50,000. The Imperial Government's invitation is now before the Dominion authorities, and action in regard to it will shortly be taken. Major-General O'Grady-Haly was yesterday morning summoned to consult with the Governor-General in regard to the military contingent to be sent to the coronation ceremonies. It is understood that the contingent will be constituted on the lines of that which attended Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee in 1897. This was under the command of Col. Lord Aylmer, and consisted of 202 of all ranks, composed as follows: Officer command, 1; cavalry officers, non-commissioned officers and men, 51; artillery, 28; infantry, 77; other officers selected, 20; Northwest Mounted Police, 25. The Department of Militia is overwhelmed with applications from officers and men who are anxious to serve on the contingent.

THE N. W. T. APPLICATION

A Portion of the Northwest Territories Have Made a Request to Enter Dominion Under Provincial Autonomy.

Ottawa, March 22.—The Senate yesterday passed the first bill of the session, an Act to transfer the Government Law Library in Regina to the Northwest Bar Association.

Hon. Mr. Perley inquired if the Government of the Northwest Territories had made application to enter confederation under full Provincial autonomy, and, if so, what were the terms and conditions proposed by them.

Hon. Mr. Scott said an application had been made for the admission of a portion of the Territories, but nothing had been done, or was likely to be done at present. The papers were confidential, and could not be brought down without the leave of the Northwest Government.

In answer to Hon. Mr. Lougheed, he said the matter could not be dealt with at the present session. It was under consideration.

Hon. Mr. Lougheed said the feeling in the Territories was strongly in favor of Provincial autonomy, and the present Liberal Government were understood to be not adverse to giving the Territories autonomy. He was sure there would be great disappointment if some measure long these lines was not brought down at once.

Hon. Mr. Scott said there were several questions to be settled, such as whether there should be one province or several, where the capital should be, etc.

In answer to Mr. Perley, he had not heard the school question mentioned in the matter.

THE CHINESE QUESTION

Mr. Ralph Smith Wants the Findings of the Commission Put Into Force in the Dominion.

Ottawa, March 22.—The debate on the budget was continued in the House of Commons yesterday, and the speeches made were decidedly above the average. Mr. Ralph Smith presented in a vigorous manner the British Columbia view especially with reference to Chinese immigration, which he wanted dealt with according to the findings of the commission which had recently reported. Mr. E. F. Clarke discussed the labor problem and the tariff question. Mr. J. J. Hughes insisted upon the rights of the fishermen and farmers of Prince Edward Island to compensation bounties upon their products if higher protection was given the manufacturers. Mr. Johnston (Cardwell) voiced the claim of Ontario farmers for protection, and Mr. Oliver, (Alberta), speaking for the farmers of the west, protested against the manufacturers, who represented 10 per cent of the exports, being granted increased protection at the expense of the other 90 per cent., representing the farm, the forest, the fisheries and the mines.

To incorporate the Medicine Hat, Northern and Alberta Railway Company.

To incorporate the Coast Yukon Railway Company.

Bills Finally Passed.

The following bills were finally passed: To incorporate The Indian River Railway Co.; respecting the Port Dover, Brantford, Berlin and Goderich Railway Co., and to change its name to "The Grand Valley Traction Co."; respecting the Windsor and Detroit Union Bridge Co.; respecting the Quebec and Lake Huron Co.; respecting the Buffalo Railway Co. and the International Railway Co.

The New Remedy FOR Kidney Troubles.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the prescription of Dr. Zina Pitcher (formerly Professor of Materia Medica and Genito-Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich., U. S. A.) which he used with wonderful success for over twelve years in private practice and in the Western Hospital, Detroit.

These Tablets are therefore a thoroughly tried and tested remedy of a famous kidney specialist, who has devoted his life to the study of diseases of the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs. They contain specific ingredients not found in any other kidney remedy, and it is not surprising, therefore, that they make cures in very many cases where other remedies had proved altogether ineffectual.

Dr. Pitcher does not claim that his Backache Kidney Tablets will cure everything. They are designed for diseases and disorders of the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs, and symptoms traceable to derangement of these organs, such as:

Backache, Lame or Weak Back, Pain in the Back or between the Shoulders, Swelling of the Feet and Legs, Bloating, Puffiness under the Eyes, Puffy and Pasty Appearance of the Face, Dropsy, Bright's Disease and Diabetes (except in the last stages), Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Brick Dust Deposits in the Urine, Scalding or Irritation of the Urine, Frequent Calls during the Day or Night, Inflammation of the Bladder or Cystitis, Catarrh of the Bladder, Milky Color of the Urine, High Colored or Foul Smelling Urine, Sudden Stoppage of the Flow of Urine, Scanty Flow of Urine, Dribbling, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pains in the Joints or Hips, Uric Acid in the Blood, Heavy Feeling or Pain in the Head, Impure Blood, Drowsiness, Rapid? Loss of Flesh, Great Thirst, Excessive Quantity of Urine, Specks floating before the Eyes, Bad Taste in the Mouth (especially in the mornings), Constipation, Torpid Liver, Dragging Pain in the Loins, Sense of Weight or Pressure in the Region of the Bladder, Kidney Troubles of Old People, Bed-wetting of Children, Kidney Troubles of Women, and all symptomatic indications of Kidney Derangement.

In these days of much advertised "cure-alls," it is well that the public should use care and caution in the purchase of remedies. It stands to reason that a remedy that confines itself to a particular range of diseases is more potent for those special diseases than a medicine that claims to cure everything. When your back bothers you or your kidneys are out of order take Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, a specific remedy for these complaints.

Tobacco Trade Is Threatened.

Ottawa, March 22.— A delegation of tobacco manufacturers, accompanied by Messrs. M. K. Cowan, R. F. Sutherland and numerous other members of Parliament, waited upon the Premier and Minister of Justice yesterday morning and drew attention to the policy of the American Tobacco Trust in Canada, which threatens the trade of the Canadian manufacturers. The American Tobacco Trust has bought out the business of the Empire Tobacco Company of Canada, and, it is alleged, is now seeking to compel Canadian wholesale and retail dealers to handle only the Canadian leaf which it manufactures, under penalty of refusing to supply them with American brands which are popular in Canada. If this were permitted it would cut off the medium of distribution for the Canadian manufacturers. Hence they are asking the Government to provide some means of release from a state of things which threatens to become intolerable.

CAREFUL MOTHERS.

Should Always be Prepared to Promptly Treat the Minor Ailments of Their Little Ones.

No mother can hope that her children will escape all the minor ailments that afflict little ones and she should be prepared to treat these ills instantly when the emergency arises. At the same time mothers cannot be too careful what they give their little ones in the way of medicine. Doctors have long protested against the use of the so-called "soothing" preparations, and they are still used and with alarming frequency by mothers. These preparations invariably contain opiates which drug and stupefy the little one into temporary quiet or sleep. For all the minor ills of little ones there is no medicine which acts so speedily as Baby's Own Tablets and they are sold under a guarantee to contain no opiate or other harmful drug. Thousands of mothers now use no other medicine for their little ones and all who have tested it speak of its prompt and safe action in the warmest terms. Mrs. Geo. B. Kilgore, Wellwood, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets in my house for some time, and I can sincerely say that they are the best medicine I have ever used for my little ones. They act promptly and the results are always beneficial. I think mothers should keep these Tablets constantly in the house." Baby's Own Tablets are a positive cure for such troubles as colic, sour stomach, indigestion, constipation, simple fevers, diarrhoea and worms. They break up colds, prevent croup, and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. Sold by druggists at 25 cents a box, or sent post-paid on receipt of price, by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Trouble in Afghanistan.

Calcutta, March 22.—Trouble is brewing in Afghanistan between Amir Habib Ullah and Bibi Hakimar, the mother of Umar Khan, the Amir's youngest brother. Bibi protested because Habib Ullah had not consulted her in the conduct of the affairs of the Government. The Amir replied by murdering three of Bibi's advisers. It is feared that Russia will seize the incident as an opportunity to foment an insurrection. The Indian officials fear that as Russia's activity in the Far East is curbed by the Anglo-Japanese treaty she will renew her intrigues in the Indian border states.

ELEVEN WERE KILLED.

Major Waller Admits It—Counsel Says the Major Was Sane.

Manila, March 22.—The court-martial appointed to try Majors Littleton and W. T. Waller and Lieut. John A. Day of the Marine Corps, on the charge of executing natives of the Island of Samar without trial, yesterday proceeded to try the accused officers. Major Waller pleaded "not guilty" to the charge of murder, but admitted that eleven men had been killed.

Captain Robert E. Dunlap of the Marine Corps testified that he received information from Lieut. Gridley and Sergt. Quick regarding the arrival at Cargadores of prisoners, who, while on the march across the island, ate roots and parts of plants, while refusing to assist the marines by giving them similar food. He reported the facts to Major Waller, who was lying in a cot, and who ordered Lieut. Day to take the prisoners and have them shot.

The witness said Major Waller was not excited.

Captain Arthur T. Marix, Marine Corps, representing Major Waller, objected to testimony given by Dr. Love regarding the sanity of Major Waller at the time, claiming that his fitness for duty was a matter for the defence alone. He conceded that Major Waller gave the orders while in his right senses.

Malt Breakfast Food

Makes the Weak Strong and Keeps the Strong in the Bloom of Health.

It is well known to medical men and food scientists that half of the stomach ailments to which men and women are subject, have their origin in the use of impure and badly prepared breakfast cereal foods. Quite often, the use of oatmeal, hominy, wheat granules or cracked wheat at the morning meal proves a source of misery and wretchedness for the whole day. Such foods are full of insoluble starch which hamper digestion, heat and irritate the blood and produce unsightly skin troubles; they commonly give rise to stomach derangements, waterbrash and heartburn.

Malt Breakfast Food is the only cereal preparation that can guarantee perfect digestive vigour, purity and normal temperature of the blood, regular and natural appetite. No other product in the world can equal Malt Breakfast Food as a flesh, muscle and tissue builder.

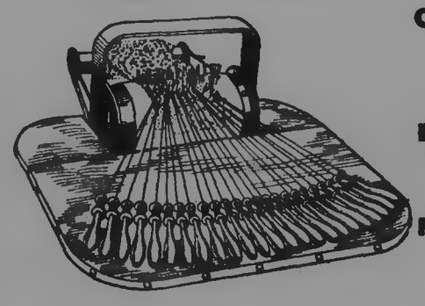
Home Work for Ladies



CONGENIAL WORK. Lace making is a fascinating employment of absorbing interest, and with our Lace Loom the finest grade of Torchon and Valenciennes Laces (hitherto almost exclusively made by the women of Germany and Sweden) can be made at home in the evenings or other spare time.

EASY TO LEARN. Our Lace Loom, though ingenious in construction, is easy to operate without a teacher as the illustrated book of instructions accompanying each machine is full and complete, and patterns are furnished free by us.

PROFITABLE. In European countries where these laces are made it forms the chief industry of the women, who make them in their own homes. By working for us in their spare time ladies can add considerably to their income or by giving more time to it can make an independent living for themselves.

THE NOTTINGHAM LACE CO., TORONTO, CANADA

WANT TO ENGAGE A FEW MORE LADIES
IN ANY PART OF CANADA TO WORK FOR THE COMPANY
AT THEIR OWN HOMES

Our plan is simple and is here fully explained. The work is also simple and easily performed on the Lace Loom furnished by us. With each Loom is furnished an Instruction Book with which the different kinds of lace can be made without a teacher. If you wish to make an independent living, or if you wish to add to your income by lace making in your spare time, write to us promptly, enclosing Contract Order Form given below, with remittance, and we will send the Lace Loom and outfit to begin work at once.

The market for Laces of all kinds is so large, and increasing so rapidly, that we can sell practically unlimited quantities, and we are anxious to get as many new workers as possible.

Our plan of buying material in very large quantities and employing people at their own homes working on their own Looms saves us many business expenses and, with the Customs duties, enables us to undersell foreign manufacturers.

The prices we pay our workers for making the ordinary kinds of lace that we sell, range from 3 cents per yard for the narrowest and easiest made upwards to 20 cents. With practice, very fine and beautiful laces can be made for which we pay very much higher prices.

The Loom accommodates work of from half an inch to eight inches in width, and with the number of bobbins used an immense variety of patterns can be worked. The accuracy and ease with which the work can be turned out is marvellous, and yet all the grace and beauty of handwork is retained. Lace of the most delicate and intricate texture as well as the more simple though pretty patterns can be made. The work is easily and rapidly done. You will be surprised at the speed with which the roll of finished lace grows on the Receiving Spool. As the art becomes more familiar it is done almost automatically, although the great number of beautiful patterns supplied free by us gives the work a constant variety and makes it of absorbing interest. We cannot lay too much stress upon the fact that the products of this Loom are not cheap imitations of lace, but genuine fine laces, such as are made by hand (as the machine is so constructed that one's own handiwork enters into it), and they are of the same quality as the most high class imported handmade laces which sell at the highest prices.

We supply all material, patterns, etc., free of charge, commencing with enough for the first samples to be made by beginners. When these samples have been made satisfactorily and returned to us, we send a quantity of material and patterns at our own expense for lace to be made for us to sell and we pay promptly for the making. We pay the cost of sending everything to the worker and they pay the cost of sending the finished work back to us. The cost of sending back the lace to us is very little, as many yards of lace can be sent from any distance by post for a mere trifle. The work is very simple, and rapidly done. Everything necessary for the work except the Loom is furnished free to our workers. The manufactured price of the Loom is $10, and those desiring to work for us must sign the Contract Order Form in this advertisement and send the remittance of $10 for the Loom. This is necessary to give us confidence that you mean business. Our interests are the same, and there must be mutual confidence in order that your business with us will be successful. We are in a large way of business and have a regular system from which we cannot deviate. We guarantee fair dealing and prompt payment for work. Indeed we could not remain in business otherwise than on the foregoing principles.

The Loom and all patterns and material to begin are all absolutely your own property to do what you like with after you have paid the $10; but after you have sent in your first sample satisfactorily, we send you more material for making fine laces for us to sell and for making which we pay you; these last materials will belong to us and must be returned to us when made into lace. If at any time after you commence working for us you wish to discontinue we will buy back the Loom and refund the $10 less costs of our expense, expressage, etc.

If you engage with us we will keep you supplied with work as long as you do it satisfactorily. Our workers are engaged summer and winter (whole or spare time whichever they wish), year after year. We entrust them with large quantities of valuable material, and though they may make lace for themselves or their neighbors (as the Loom and pattern and outfit are their own property), yet we expect them to take good care of the material we send them to be worked up for us, and for this work we pay well and pay promptly.

We have here stated, as briefly as possible, just what our method is, and we simply say as to the Loom, it is just what we represent it to be, and will positively do everything we claim for it, or we will refund the money.

CONTRACT ORDER FORM

To the Nottingham Lace Co., McKinnon Bld'g., Toronto, Canada:—

GENTLEMEN,—I desire to do the work as described in this advertisement and enclose $10 to pay for one Lace Loom together with patterns, instructions and everything necessary for the work. The same to be sent to me by express, charges prepaid.

It is understood and agreed that any time I wish to discontinue working for you that you will take back the machine and outfit and and refund to me the $10 less your expenses, expressage, etc.

State how much time you can devote to the work and also how you wish to be paid, weekly, monthly, or as you send in the work. Send your remittance by Express Money Order, Registered Letter, or Post Office Money Order, and we will be responsible for its safe passage to us.

Imperial Commons Then Suspended John Dillon, M.P.

LANGUAGE STUNNED THE HOUSE

Called Mr. Joseph Chamberlain an Adjectival "Liar"—He Also Called the Boers Who Side With the British Traitors—The Amenities of Parliament in the Mother Country—Quick Results.

London, March 21.—One of the liveliest scenes witnessed in the House of Commons since the palmiest days of the Irish Nationalists, ended yesterday afternoon with the suspension of John Dillon. During the discussion of South African affairs, the Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, vigorously protested against the Government's conduct in uttering "malignant slanders" in calling the Liberals "pro-Boers."

The Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, in the course of an equally incisive reply, said he desired deliberately to accuse Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman of losing no opportunity for slandering his countrymen, the soldiers and the Government. Consequently the "malignant slanders" had come from the Opposition side.

The Speaker, Sir William Court Gully, here intervened and declared that the term "malignant slander" was unparliamentary.

Both Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Mr. Chamberlain thereupon withdrew the words, amid cheers.

Mr. Chamberlain, proceeding, referred to the Boers who are fighting on the British side, when John Dillon (Irish Nationalist) interjected, "They are traitors," on which Mr. Chamberlain retorted:

"The honorable gentleman is a good judge of traitors."

A scene of great confusion ensued. When order was partially restored Mr. Dillon demanded a ruling on Mr. Chamberlain's words.

The Speaker said:

"An honorable member spoke of soldiers serving under the British flags as traitors. I deprecated the interruption and I deprecated the retort of the other member."

Mr. Dillon then said:

"I will tell the right honorable gentleman that he is a damned liar."

A dead silence followed this remark. Such unparliamentary language seemed to stun the House.

The Speaker invited Mr. Dillon to withdraw the expression, but the latter said:

"I will not withdraw."

"Then I must name you," said the Speaker.

The Government leader, A. J. Balfour, then said:

"I beg to move that Mr. Dillon be suspended from service in the House."

The motion was carried by 248 to 48 votes.

Mr. Dillon immediately, by direction of the Speaker, left the House, amidst wild Nationalist cheers, and Mr. Chamberlain resumed his speech.

Mr. Dillon's suspension under the present rules cannot exceed a week. His offence would have been much more severely dealt with had the new rules been in force.

The ejection of Mr. Dillon did not serve to clear the atmosphere, and the remainder of the debate was filled with personal allusions and unpleasant expressions, the nature of which would have excited comment had they not been discounted by the first explosion.

David Lloyd-George (Welsh Nationalist), bitterly attacked the Government, drawing a harrowing picture of conditions in South Africa, and charged the War Office with pigeon-holing important information.

Sir Charles Cayser (Conservative), interrupted Mr. Lloyd-George, saying that the speaker was playing to the pro-Boers, whereupon Mr. Lloyd-George characterized the interruption as "an insolent remark."

This caused confusion in the House and chorus of "Withdraw."

John Redmond (leader of the Irish party in the House of Commons), appealed to the chair, and Sir Charles reluctantly withdrew his statement.

W. R. Plumer (Conservative) and Mr. Redmond then had an altercation, and, after more disorder, Mr. Lloyd-George succeeded in finishing with the remark that he did not know who was responsible for all the errors and incompetency in South Africa, but that the men who had profited by these conditions now sat upon the Government benches.

Mr. Brodrick, the Secretary of State for War, answered Mr. Lloyd-George with a long defence of the War Office.

John Dillon is M.P. for County Mayo, which he has represented since 1885. He is 51 years of age. He was educated at the Catholic University, Dublin, and is by profession a doctor.

The Feeling in Ireland.

London, March 21.—The feeling in Ireland is well illustrated by a resolution now on its way to Mr. Kruger, "care of Queen Wilhelmina," adopted yesterday by the Edenderry (King's County) guardians, an elective body, as follows:

"We desire to record our admiration of the magnificent stand the brave South African Republics have made against the colossal might of the British Empire, and to congratulate the humane Boer leader, Delarey, on his recent great victory, which not only covers England with disgrace and ridicule, a result eminently gratifying to the rest of the civilized world, but which must have a chastening effect on the jingoes of the greatest helot empire the world has ever seen."

Two Thousand More Australians.

London, March 21.—During the discussion in the House of Commons Mr. Brodrick and Mr. Chamberlain showed themselves to be very hopeful over the position of affairs in South Africa. Mr. Chamberlain estimated there were still 9,000 fighting Boers in the field.

This optimistic view is rather offset by the fact that the Government has again telegraphed Australia inviting that commonwealth to send 2,000 more men to South Africa.

Treated Them Very Kindly.

New York, March 21.—C. A. Wessels, A. D. Wolmarans and J. M. De Bruyn, Boer delegates, who have been in this country for some weeks, sailed on La Gascogne yesterday. Mr. Wessels said he did not believe the ammunition found in the ruins of the Hoboken fire was intended for the Boers. "The Boers have no money to buy ammunition," said he, "but when they need any all they have to do is to capture a British convoy and they have enough to supply them for a long time. The Boer war is a long way from ending as yet. We have about 12,000 troops in the field to-day, and they are fit and strong. I cannot talk of our meeting with the President except to say that he treated us very kindly."

THE SMALLPOX REPORT.

War Office and Admiralty Know Nothing of Victorian Being Quarantined.

London, March 21.—The morning papers here yesterday contained a cablegram from Ottawa to the effect that the steamship Victorian, with the second section of the 2nd Battalion Canadian Mounted Rifles on board, were held at quarantine at Durban with several cases of smallpox among the men. Enquiry at the War Office and at the Admiralty yesterday failed to elicit any information and at both offices it was stated that no such report had reached there. At the Admiralty it was further stated that the Victorian was on her way home.

Has Made No Demand.

Washington, March 21.—It is now stated that the State Department has made no demand upon Turkey for reimbursement of money expended in the ransom of Miss Stone. Consequently the Turkish Government has not flatly refused to pay.

Now It Is Murder.

Calgary, March 21.—Arthur Simpson, the victim of the shooting outrage of Sunday last, died yesterday. It is considered phenomenal that he lived so long. Simpson was a tent maker by trade and an Englishman.

Lord Kimberley Dying.

London, March 20.—Lord Kimberley, the Liberal leader in the House of Lords, who has been ill for some time passed, suffered a relapse yesterday and is in a semi-conscious condition are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

Blood Disorders

Topsy-turvy.

That's a favorite attitude of the small boy. And in this again "the child is the father of the man." The man does not essay to walk through life on his hands, but he creates for himself a kingdom of topsy-turvydom. He turns night into day. He eats regardless of time and physical necessities. He makes a pleasure of his business and a business of his pleasure. In fact, he effectually reverses the order of natural living. The result is physical disability generally introduced by "weak" stomach. The food he eats does not nourish him because the stomach and its associated organs are not able to extract the nourishment from the food. Hence, the body is under nourished and disease develops in one form or another.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures through the stomach diseases which originate in a diseased condition of the stomach and its allied organs. Hence, it cures "weak" lungs, "weak" heart, "weak" nerves and other forms of so-called weakness.

"I had been troubled with catarrh of the stomach and heart trouble," writes Mr. W. D. Merchant, of Tylersburg, Clarion Co., Penn'a. "Had doctored for some time without relief, then I began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took seven bottles. Before I began to take it I weighed 119 pounds, and now I weigh 176. I am working steadily and feel like a well man. I send you many thanks."

FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN
Wise Women Use the Great Spring Medicine
Paine's Celery Compound

It is the Only Remedy That can Provide for the Increase of Red Corpuscles in the Blood.

From every section of the land, from Newfoundland in the east to British Columbia in the west, strong and well-attested reports of women, bloodless, nervous, dyspeptic, neuralgic, rheumatic and rundown, and in many cases so weak as to be bedridden, who have been enabled to resume their places in the family and in social life, enjoying health, vigour and true happiness, all through the aid of that great blood-purifier, blood maker and health-giver, Paine's Celery Compound.

When Paine's Celery Compound is used, the rapid change in colour, flesh and expression of the face is so marked and observable, that repair of the wasted tissues might well be called a renewal of life.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that can effectively increase the proportion of red corpuscles in the blood; this is a source of power over all blood diseases, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney and liver troubles, dyspepsia, indigestion and general rundown condition. Mrs. E. Trinder, Simcoe, Ont., writes thus:

"Having used your wonderful Paine's Celery Compound with great success, it gives me pleasure to write in its favour. For a long time dyspepsia and indigestion made life miserable for me. I was so bad I could not go out of the house, do housework or get regular sleep. I bought six bottles of Paine's Celery Compound from Mr. Austin, our druggist, and commenced to use it regularly. I was obliged to consult a doctor about another trouble, and he advised me to continue with your compound, and told me if I had not been using it he would have recommended it to me. Paine's Celery Compound worked wonders for me; it has banished my dyspepsia, indigestion and sleeplessness, and given me a new life."

Run on a Bank at Wiarton.

Wiarton, March 22.—There was a run on the local branch of the Union Bank here, which caused a heap of excitement. Stories were circulated, it is alleged, by a dismissed employe of the bank, and this caused depositors the uneasiness. When the bank opened there was a rush to draw, and by noon depositors had carried away from the bank the sum of $35,000. The manager of the bank offered explanations to the depositors as they presented themselves to collect their money. Their money was promptly paid where desired, and by 1 o'clock the tide began to turn. Two hours later public confidence was restored in the bank, and nearly all the money withdrawn deposited again. The bank management commenced an action against the man who circulated the reports.

Victim of the Flood.

St. John, N.B., March 22.— The body of Priscilla MacPherson, the first victim of the flood, was recovered yesterday. The floods surrounded the house of Miss MacPherson and her mother, aged 70 years. They endeavored to wade to higher ground. The young woman was caught in a hole near the barn and was drowned, while Mrs. MacPherson escaped only by climbing to a fence.

It was thought that trains from the west would reach St. Paul yesterday, but they cannot arrive before to-day, 144 hours since the last train came in from the west.

DR. BLANCHARD WRITES.

A Member of the Canadian Mounted Rifles Sends Word to his Wife.

Mrs. Blanchard has received the following interesting letter from her husband who is with the Canadian Mounted Rifles:—

Troop Ship Manhattan,
Jan. 19, 1902.

My Dear Wife.—I have had very little to write about until to-day, Sunday. We left Halifax on Tuesday, the 14th inst., at three o'clock p.m., and we were soon out of sight of land.

Next morning, Wednesday, it began to blow a pretty strong gale, and then the boys began to fall sick one by one, then two by two, etc. I had my usual good fortune, not the least bit sick. You would be surprised if you saw me to see how fleshy I am getting. I feel out of sight.

Well, on Thursday it was still rougher all day and more were sick. There were only six men in our troop reported for duty.

We get everything good to eat, you will see from the following list what it consists of: Meat, hash, soup, rice, tapioca, plum pudding, also bread, buns, biscuits, syrup, butter, salt, jam, cheese, pickles, oranges, apples, boiled lobsters, etc., and numerour other eatables.

There are thirty-four tables in the eating room, 16 to 18 men at each table, so you know how many men there are to feed and wait on. There are sixty-eight waiters, two for each table.

It is now Friday, and it is still rougher than before, and more boys sick. Well, it is the same thing over again, playing cards and singing after supper. This continues till nine o'clock, when the lights are put out, and all are supposed to be in bed except those on guard.

Saturday, Jan. 18, rougher. But this boat is the steadiest I ever rode in. She does not toss, pitch, or roll any more than the little steamers on Stony Lake in a storm.

On Saturday morning I renewed acquaintance with Dr. James from Ottawa, whom I had gone to college with. He knew that I was not on the Vet. staff—that I came on as a trooper. So he said that I should be on it at once, and told me to report at the veterinary pharmacy after dinner. I went there and was put on the Vet. staff at once. My name was read out to-day in the orders, so that I have only to do veterinary work now. I have several men, they call farriers, under me to do as I say, and give medicine, wash wounds, etc.

It is now Saturday, Jan. 25th, 1902, and we are now two thousand three hundred miles from Halifax. Yesterday we were only one thousand five hundred miles south of England. Well, we are supposed to cross the Equator next Wednesday and we shall have lots of fun. Old Neptune will come on board, and those that have not crossed before will have all sorts of tricks played on them. I will tell you more about it after we have crossed the line.

The weather has been lovely ever since Saturday—beautiful, cool breezes. The ship, as I told you before, is as steady as a rock, why you would not know but that you were on land, if it were not for going on deck and seeing nothing but sky and water.

The men sleep in hammocks slung after another in a row. Since I got on the vet. sutff I have a sleeping room of my own under lock and key. I allow Alex. Trotter to share it with me.

I got a pair of spurs the other day that were taken off a dead Boer out in South Africa. We are out twelve days to-morrow, and we have only lost three horses so far. To-day we saw some flying fish, but the water is too rough to see many fish.

We had a concert on deck a few nights ago; music from piano, organ, violins, mouth organs, and guitar, also songs, dancing and boxing, etc. There is another one to-night and I expect there will be one every few nights.

It is now January 30th. We are now out sixteen days, and have lost 5 horses. We lost one to-day—prostrated by heat; the heat is suffocating. To-morrow we cross the line. I expected to cross it on Wednesday, but did not. We are just about half way to Capetown, so the boat is making good time; it runs ten knots an hour.

The men started a few days ago to clip the horses. They had six machines turned by hand, and they have clipped a great many, but not being used to the machines they have broken every one of them, and only about half the horses are done. There are only two pair of clippers on board, and it is great fun to see the men trying to clip them with these.

February 6.—I have not had time to write anything more till to-day, but I am at it again. The equator was crossed and old Neptune came on board and we had a big time. He came escorted by his daughter, a doctor, a minister, two barbers, six policemen, a donkey and a rider. All stopped in front of the quarter deck and bowed to all the officers. Then they were photographed by a dozen cameras. Afterwards they proceeded to the quarter deck to the throne. His Majesty and daughter seated themselves and the fun commenced.

They began with all the officers that had crossed before. They were introduced to his Majesty and daughter. Then the fun commenced. One at a time passed the doctor, got a pill or medicine, then one barber lathered him well and the other shaved him with a wooden razor two feet long. As soon as that was done two policemen had hold of him by the arms, and pushed him backwards off the stool—he fell about six or eight feet into the bath, where he was caught by two men, who dressed him in sacks with ears on, and mauled ly get a breath. Well all had to go through it and lots of fun we had, head doctor had to go under, clothes and all. Of course the officers came prepared but the men did not; they had to go in clothes and all; then it got rough and anybody that they could lay their hands on was thrown in and the policemen came tumbling in with the rest.

That night we took up a collection for Neptune, and he deserved it because he had given us a good time. Of course he was one of the men dressed up to suit the occasion and his daughter was the cabin boy dressed up as a girl. He had hair made out of pulled rope.

We are now about 1400 miles from Capetown. We passed Ascension Island yesterday and the island of St Helena to-day, so they say; we did not see them they were too far away.

We are now thirty days at sea, and the first thing this morning we sighted land off the coast of South Africa. It is not known whether we stop here or go on to Durban. That will be five days more sail for us.

You will find out by the papers if we stop at Cape Town. So good-night, dear. We have to give in our mail before noon to-morrow, and it is now nine o'clock, retiring time.

I hope you and the boys are in perfect health. Kisses and love to yourself, dear, Rollie, George, Bruce and Herbie. Give my love to your folks, and in fact all the friends. I will send this by the first chance. I am in the best of health and have enjoyed it to perfection. Love again to you and all the boys.

I remain.

Ever your affectionate husband,
W. H. BLANCHARD,
V. S.

Fly Fishing.

There is no doubt that certain flies are best adapted to different seasons, times of day and conditions of weather, but a dozen flies of different names will fully answer all of these requirements. An angler's flies resemble nothing when cast upon the water. They are simply a something which attracts the trout. Color has more allurement than form, and as there are not so many colors there is no use for many flies. The general rule is for light flies on dark days and dark or darkish flies on light days. Sizes are more to be considered than form and mixture in makeup. A large trout wants something worth his making an effort to secure. It is doubtless true that an arbitrary cast of flies cannot be made up which will be adapted to all waters.

"Would you rather be born lucky or rich?" "Well, if I were born rich, I should consider myself lucky; and if I were born lucky I should get rich, so it wouldn't matter. The trouble is that I am neither!"—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

Why a Limpet Sticks.

The limpet has gained notoriety by the strength with which it adheres to the rock on which it decides to rest. The force required to detach the limpet from the rock has lately been tested by a well known naturalist, who found that more than sixty pounds must be exerted for the purpose. So this little thing, weighing about half an ounce, sticks so tightly that a force equal to two thousand times its own weight is necessary to drag it away.

It was at one time supposed that atmospheric pressure had something to do with the adhesive power of the limpet, but it is now generally agreed that the creature exudes a kind of glue for this purpose. If you place your finger on the rock immediately after a limpet has been detached, you will feel that the surface is sticky, and if you allow your finger to remain there for a short time you will notice that it is beginning to stick quite tightly.

BOER "GOVERNMENT"

The Wandering Organization Interviews Lord Kitchener.

PEACE IS AGAIN IN THE AIR

Schalkburger and Others Taken by Special Train From Balmoral to Pretoria—Thence They Went to Orange River Colony—The War Office Has No News of This Movement.

Pretoria, March 23.—Acting President Schalkburger, F. W. Reitz, ex-Secretary of State of the Transvaal, and Commandants Lucas Meyer and Krogh, with their secretaries and attendants, arrived here yesterday, March 22, at 2.04 on a special train from Balmoral, about 50 miles east of here. They came into Balmoral under a flag of truce.

Upon arriving here Mr. Schalkburger and his party drove immediately to Lord Kitchener's headquarters, where he had an interview with the British general. The Boers afterwards proceeded to the railway station and entrained at five o'clock for Kronstad, whence they will go out under a safe conduct.

For a week past Mr. Schalkburger and his colleagues have been stationed at Rhenoster Kop, north of Balmoral, where they have been closely pressed by British columns. Dispatch riders entered Balmoral Friday night and notified the British of the approach of Mr. Schalkburger and his party.

It is reported that the Boer position at Rhenoster Kop had become almost hopeless, and that Mr. Schalkburger narrowly escaped capture.

Another Attempt at Peace.

London, March 24.—The news that the wandering Boer "Government" had entered the British lines is regarded as having but one meaning, namely, that another attempt is being made to negotiate peace. The fact that the censor passed the news of this movement is accepted as confirmation of this opinion.

Nothing is actually known here of the intentions of Messrs. Schalkburger, Reitz, Meyer and Krogh. It is possible they have only sought permission to traverse the British lines in order to consult with Mr. Steyn and the Boer Generals Dewet and Delarey, but, whatever their object, the news has been welcomed in London as pointing to the possibility of peace.

Some correspondence which was seized some time ago when Mr. Steyn narrowly escaped capture proved that he and Mr. Schalkburger were anxious to conclude peace. No extravagant hopes, however, are being built on the outcome of the movement of Mr. Schalkburger and his companions, chiefly because it is feared that Delarey, in the flush of his recent success, will refuse to be a party to any negotiations.

The War Office states that it has received no official information either to confirm or contradict the news.

Commandant Krogh is one of the secretaries of the Boer Government. He was formerly the administrator of Swaziland, and has not been prominent during the war.

Meyers Presence Significant.

London, March 24.—Few of the papers here comment on the news from Pretoria. These take it for granted that Mr. Schalkburger and his companions are on a mission of peace, and again engage in a discussion of possible peace terms, expressing the hope that the overtures will have a successful outcome. The presence of Lucas Meyer is regarded as significent, as he is an intimate friend of Louis Botha.

The Daily Chronicle, commenting on the absence of Botha from the deputation, suggests that he is standing aside owing to the failure of his overtures of a year ago, and considers that, although the conditions Lord Kitchener then offered Botha had been annulled, it is highly probable that peace will be arranged on similar lines, but that the Boers cannot expect more lenient terms.

The Daily News remarks that a settlement would be possible if the Boers were treated like civilized combatants, "but men do not surrender unconditionally, just after taking one of the enemy's generals and four of his guns."

A Continental Opinion.

Brussels, March 24.—Le Petit Bleu, referring to the arrival at Pretoria of Messrs. Schalkburger, Reitz and Commandants Meyer and Krogh, says it believes Mr. Schalkburger's move is in response to fresh overtures for peace from Great Britain, made out of gratitude for the release of Gen. Methuen. The paper predicts that these overtures will lead to no result unless Boer independence is conceded.

Switzerland Not to Interfere.

Berne, March 24.—The Bundesrath Saturday rejected the proposals of the Federal Assembly inviting the Government to join with other states in approaching Great Britain on the subject of the concentration camps in South Africa, on the ground that Great Britain had already taken measures to relieve the suffering, and that the results should be awaited.

Tablet to Lord Ava Unveiled.

Ottawa, March 24.—Lord Minto yesterday morning unveiled a tablet in St. Bartholomew's Church. New Edinburgh, to the memory of Arthur, Earl of Ava, son of Lord Dufferin, who was mortally wounded at Wagon Hill, near Ladysmith, on Feb. 20, 1900. On one side of the tablet is another erected to the memory of three Ottawa boys who fell in South Africa. On the other is a tablet to Lord Ava's aunt, Mrs. Stephenson, a sister of Lady Dufferin, who died on shipboard in 1885.

Proud of Our Patterns.

You won't wonder at our pride when we tell you that every pattern is the creation of our Millinery Staff. No French, English or New York Hats here, but—did you ever see more clever copies? One question that was asked repeatedly yesterday was:—Are these imported patterns? You cannot, therefore blame us for feeling a bit proud of these—our own creations, when we could answer in the affirmative.

Now, here is a strong point that we wish to impress upon you. It's this. What we have done we can do, and do it the season through. This should instil a great deal of confidence in the buying public, for you can see we don't have to buy Foreign or Pattern Hats of experts to gain your good impressions. We have experts in our Millinery Department that can do this.

Another feature regarding "foreign" patterns is the extravagant price at which they have to be sold. This is not the case with our own make, for they are moderately priced. Chic Millinery reasonably priced.

Easter is a bit quick in coming this year. Orders will be executed as received. Don't procrastinate.

RAILWAY GRIEVANCES

Prof. S. T. McLean's Report to the Dominion Government.

A COMMISSION RECOMMENDED

A Plan of Organization Outlined—Chief Differences Between a Commission and the Railway Committee States—Qualifications of Members of the Commission Outlined—Commissioners in Office.

Ottawa, March 24.—A Parliamentary paper has been issued containing the reports of Prof. S. J. McLean, Ph.D., M.A., on Railway Commissions and railway rate grievances. The blue book contains 79 pages equally devoted to the two subjects. The report on Railway Commissions bears date of Feb. 10, 1899, and the chief points have been already made known to the public. The report on rate grievances is dated Jan. 17. Prof. McLean states that investigations were conducted at Toronto, Woodstock, Chatham, St. Thomas, Windsor, London, Stratford, Seaforth, Walkerton, Guelph, Winnipeg, Saltcoats, Yorkton, Portage la Prairie, Brandon, Regina, Prince Albert, Calgary, Edmonton, Revelstoke, Kamloops, Vancouver, Victoria, Rossland, Nelson and Montreal. The findings of the investigation are placed under the following headings: 1, classification; 2, distributive points; 3, carlot and less than carlot rates; 4, excessive rates and discriminations; 5, competitive versus non-competitive traffic; 6, American rates and Canadian rates; 7, minimum weights; 8, rebates; 9, settlement of claims; 10, changes in rates; 11, through rates; 12, rates to the northwest; 13, complaints in connection with transcontinental traffic; 14, regulation of rates; 15, the Railway Committee; 16, Railway Commission in Canada.

One of the most important points investigated by Prof. McLean, and one most exhaustively discussed in the report, is that of excessive rates and discriminations, no less than eleven pages out of forty being given up to this subject, much of the space being, however, occupied by tables filed by the Canadian Pacific Railway, in which comparisons are made between rates charged by the Canadian Pacific and rates charged by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railways in contiguous United States territory.

Committee v. Commission.

Discussing the Railway Committee, Prof. McLean briefly reviews the objections to it, summarizing them as follows: (1) It has a dual function—political and administrative; (2) there is not continuity of tenure; (3) there is a lack of technical training for the work; (4) the lack of migratory organization renders it impossible to deal effectively with smaller complaints; (5) the distance to be traveled by the complainants makes the expense great.

Dealing then with the question of a Railway Commission, he says: "The work of railway regulation is concerned with administrative, not political, problems, and should be placed in the hands of a body specially organized for the purpose, and independent of political conditions." He proceeds to discuss the lessons learned from the experience of Great Britain and the United States, and states that: "The especial difficulties which the commission have met, in so far as these are the outcome of defects in the legislation, are: (a) lack of clear-cut statement; (b) question of relation to the courts; (c) qualifications for office; (d) tenure of office." Upon these points he adds some interesting observations, and declares that: "The following conclusions applicable to conditions in Canada would appear: (1) There must be great care in the definition of the powers conferred upon the commission; (2) the matters to be dealt with are concerned with administration and policy, rather than formal judicial procedure; (3) subject to an appeal to the Governor in Council, the decision of the commission should be final; (4) there should be requirements in regard to technical qualifications for office, one commissioner should be skilled in law and one in railway business; (5) the commissioners should hold office on the same tenure as the judges."

The provision that review might be had to the Governor-General in Council would, he thinks, safeguard the principle of Ministerial responsibility.

Turks Take a Village.

London, March 24.—A despatch to The Morning Leader from Sofia says that fourteen Turks and over 30 Bashi-Bazouks were killed in the recent conflict between Turkish troops and Macedonian revolutionists at Sistova, near Kastoria, European Turkey, during which the Turks surrounded the village and overcame the rebels.

Cecil Rhodes Weaker.

Cape Town, March 23.—At 9 o'clock this evening Cecil Rhodes was weaker. Otherwise his condition is unchanged.

Cape Town, March 24.—6 a.m. — After a restless night Cecil Rhodes is weaker this morning.

Anti-Gambling Law in Belgium.

Brussels, March 24.—The House of Representatives has voted in favor of the bill for the suppression of gambling houses throughout Belgium. The bill now only lacks the royal signature to become a law.

Salamon Is Guilty.

Winnipeg, March 24.—Usup Salamon, the Galician on trial here for the past week for wife murder, has been found guilty.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

A Somewhat Mysterious Affair at the Hamilton Mountain.

Hamilton, March 24.—Early yesterday morning a young man named Hunt was taken to the General Hospital suffering from gunshot wounds. The police heard of the case, and during the day tried to get some information regarding the shooting, but the hospital authorities refused to give any information to the detectives, who were unable to see the injured man. No information was laid in the case, and the inference was that Hunt did not want it known how he was injured. The injured man was Charles Hunt, son of Richard Hunt of Barton-on-the-Mountain. He and several other young men, it is alleged, were on their way home about 12 o'clock Saturday night. They were quite hilarious, and sang songs on the Jolley Cut at the head of John street. They stopped in front of Mr. Charles Jolley's residence longer than was agreeable to some of the inmates. A window went up and a head went out. They were ordered to move on. All did so but Hunt and Alfred Taylor. They were defiant. A man said he would shoot if they did not go away. They didn't go, and he fired. It is alleged he shot twice, one barrel for each. Taylor was also struck. Just how badly the men were injured cannot be learned.

THREE MONTHS IN JAIL.

Owen Sound Lad Was Brutally Treated by His Employer.

Owen Sound, March 24.—John Haines of Keppel was brought before Mr. George Spencer, P. M., and Mr. John Rutherford, J.P., charged with cruel treatment of Samuel Penn, a lad of 14, whose mother lives here. It was proven that the accused had brutally beaten and kicked the boy, who was working for his board and clothing only, and that he had finally turned him out on a cold day to find his way home, some 14 miles, as best he could, with the result that, being poorly clad, his feet and hands were frozen. The bench sentenced the accused to three months in jail.

ITALY TO SEIZE TRIPOLI.

Preparations Being Made For an Expedition on a Large Scale.

Rome, March 24.—Preparations are still proceeding at Spezzia, Naples and other ports in Italy for an expedition of some kind on a large scale. It is presumed the objective point of the expedition is Tripoli.

Ten steamers have just been chartered from the Italian General Steam Navigation Company and are being fitted out for the transportation of troops. Great activity prevails in the War Department, and not a day passes without the leading generals conferring with the Minister of War.

Brockville Nurse's Fatal Mistake.

Brockville, March 24.—Miss Mary Jackson, eldest daughter of Mrs. Joseph Jackson, died a shocking death yesterday morning at the General Hospital, where she was employed as nurse. About ten o'clock Saturday night she went to the drug department with the intention of taking epsom salts. In some way, the unfortunate young woman took a dose of bichloride of mercury in mistake, and though everything possible was done, she expired at 3 o'clock, after suffering terribly. She was 23 years of age.

Broke His Backbone.

Bowmanville, March 24.—Saturday Thomas R. Hoar of Tyrone, a well-known Darlington farmer, while pruning apple trees, fell to the ground, breaking his backbone near the shoulder, paralyzing his body from that point downwards. Two of his children found him lying unconscious under a tree. Two doctors have been in attendance, but cannot say yet whether the injury is likely to terminate fatally or not. He had recently bought another farm, and was preparing for wider farm operations.

Big Strike of Hired Men.

London, March 24.—A despatch from Rome to The Central News says the strike of agriculturists is spreading throughout Italy, and that 150,000 farm laborers are now out in the Provinces of Ferrara, Bologna and Vicenza, while in 16 other provinces it is reported the laborers are organizing. Thus far no violence has been reported.

Man's Body Found.

Sault Ste. Marie, March 24.—Some workmen fitting out the steamer Merritt found the body of a man in proximity to the Government Dock on Saturday. It is not definitely known, but generally believed to be that of a Mr. King formerly a school teacher in Korah Township.

Scouten Shot Simpson.

Calgary, N.W.T., March 24.—The verdict of the coroner's jury in the shooting affray was: That Arthur Simpson came to his death by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of George Scouten in the Atlantic Hotel, Sunday, March 16.

Two Deaths by Drowning.

St. John, N.B., March 24.—Gilbert Palmer was drowned yesterday by his canoe upsetting in the Kennebecassis River, and Fred. Miller, aged 18, of Moncton, lost his life while breaking ice in the millpond at Humparsey's Mills.

Huronian Still Out.

Halifax, March 24.—The Parisian, from Liverpool arrived Saturday. The officers of the ship report they saw nothing of the mission Huronian. They think there is but little chance of her ever being heard from now.

Killed Himself in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 24.—David Hall, porter at the Occidental Hotel, committed suicide on Sunday morning. He was 50 years of age.

PETERBOROUGH PRESBYTERY

Held a Meeting at Cobourg on March 10th and 11th.

At Cobourg and within the vestry of St. Andrew's church there, the 10th of March, at 7.30 o'clock, the Presbytery of Peterborough met according to adjournment, and was duly constituted by Mr. Sinclair, Mod. pro tem.

There were present, Messrs. Bennett, Duncan, McLeod, Lord, Oswald, Johnston, Potter, McIntosh, Hunter, Kannawin, Sinclair, Campbell, Beattie, (Ministers), and Messrs. Craick, Carruthers, D. McIntosh, Rev. Alex. McNaughton, Smith and Coulter, (Elders.)

Commissions were received on behalf of F. Armstrong, Lakefield; Thos. Thompson, Keene, Thos. Wilson, Mount Pleasant; Alex. Robertson, Springville; and George Coulter, Pontypool, as representative elders of the several kirk sessions, and their names were added to the roll of Presbytery.

The minutes of the last ordinary meeting, being in printed form, and in the hands of members were held as read, and were sustained. The minutes of the intervening meetings, viz., of the pro re nata meetings in Peterborough, on the 24th Dec., 1901, and on the 6th February, 1902, were read and sustained.

The report of the meeting of Ministers at Keene, at the time of the funeral of the late Dr. Andrews, was read. The report was received.

The Rev. J. G. Potter was chosen as Moderator for the next six months, and took the chair. A docket was read, to which it was agreed to adhere as the order of business.

Messrs. Lord and Duncan were appointed a committee on obituary notices in connection with the deaths of Drs. Andrews, Robertson and Laing to report as as early a date as possible.

Mr. Potter reported regarding the progress of Home Mission work, especially in the Cordova field, announcing that the Mission Church had been completed and had been dedicated on the previous Sabbath, under most propitious circumstances. He further announced regarding the presentation to the congregation of a handsome pulpit chair by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Maxwell, of Port Hope, for which a very hearty vote of thanks was given to the donors.

The report was received, and thanks tendered to Mr. Potter for his zeal and diligence in the prosecution of the work of Missions within the bounds.

At this point the Presbytery withdrew to the auditorium of the church for conference, as appointed at last meeting.

There was a good attendance of the general public. Mr. Potter, the Moderator, continued to occupy the chair. After singing, reading and prayer, the Rev. R. P. McKay, D. D., Secretary of the Foreign Mission Society, addressed the meeting on "The Present Outlook of Foreign Missions," and Mr. J. A. McDonald, Editor of The Westminster, followed with an address on "The Problem of the Home Field."

The thanks of the meeting were tendered to Dr. McKay and Mr. Macdonald, for their very interesting, instructive and earnest addresses.

The Presbytery adjourned to meet to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and the Sederunt was closed with the benediction.

J. G. POTTER,
Moderator.
WM. BENNETT,
Clerk.

Same day and place on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock the Presbytery met, according to adjournment, and was constituted by Mr. Oswald, Moderator, pro tempore.

Messrs. Lord and Duncan gave notice of their inability to act as a Committee on Obituary Notices and Dr. Torrance and Mr. Bennett were appointed to act in their stead.

The Clerk reported that the congregations of Keene and of Warkworth had been declared vacant since last meeting. The report was received and leave granted to these congregations to call again as soon as prepared for the step.

Mr. Lord reported regarding the state of the augmented congregations and as to the desirability of again attempting a re-arrangement of stations so as to obviate the necessity of such large drafts upon the Augmentation Fund. The report was received, and on motion of Mr. Sinclair the Convener was appointed to visit Keene and Westwood with a view to the re-arrangement of that field, and the Clerk was instructed to find a suitable date on which the visit may be made.

The committee appointed to examine the Draft Constitution of Young Peoples' Societies reported, approving of the Constitution and recommending its adoption. The report was received and adopted.

Mr. Hunter gave notice of motion for the afternoon in the following terms, viz.: "That we protest against the irregular procedure of the members of Presbytery who attended the funeral of the late Dr. Andrews of Keene, in appointing a Moderator for the vacant congregation, but in the circumstances we condone their action. The next meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held in St. Paul's Church, Peterborough on the 2nd Tuesday of July at 9 o'clock, a.m.

The reports of Standing Committees were at this stage called for.

Mr. Kannawin reported on behalf of the Committee on Young Peoples' Societies. The report was received, and its recommendations considered seriatim. These were all successively adopted and are as follows:—

1. That all ministers so far as they possibly can, see that the Secretaries of Young Peoples' Societies send in as full reports of their work as possible.

2. That in those congregations in which there are at present no Young Peoples' Societies, a diligent effort be made to organize the young people into Societies for the performance of some definite line or lines of Christian work.

3. That the Presbytery adopt some plan of making the Committee more useful in assisting new or struggling Societies.

On motion of Mr. Lord, a Committee on "Home Mission Organization" was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Lord, Sinclair, Kannawin, McIntosh, and Hunter, with instruction to report in the afternoon.

Mr. Campbell gave in a very interesting report on Sabbath Schools. The report was received and its recommendations considered seriatim. These were severally adopted, and are as follows:—

1st. That a conference be held on Sabbath School Work at next regular meeting of Presbytery.

2nd. That the Sabbath School Committee of Presbytery be chosen from the several districts of the Presbytery and that each member of the Committee have superintendence of his particular district.

3rd. That arrangements be made for the Presbyterial visitation of schools during the year.

Mr. Beattie read the report of the committee on "Church Life and Work."

The report was received and its recommendations considered. Those were all successively agreed to, and are as follows:

1st. That in next year's form space be left for the names of congregations submitting the reports.

2nd. That we place on record our profound gratitude to Almighty God for the measure of success vouchsafed to His church during the past year.

3rd. That we urge upon all Sessions the great importance of keeping in touch with the homes of the people by systematic visitation.

4th. That we urge upon all Sessions that they make forcible representations to the members of the Provincial Legislature, and those in authority, regarding the shameful laxity in the enforcement of the present liquor laws.

Presbytery adjourned to meet again at one o'clock and the Sedurunt was closed with the Benediction.

D. P. OSWALD,
Mod. pro tem.
WM. BENNETT,
Clerk.

Same day and place at one o'clock p.m., Presbytery met according to adjournment and was duly constituted.

The committee on "Home Mission Organization," appointed in the morning, reported that owing to lack of time they had no opportunity for business. They made request to be continued with power to meet at the call of the convenor, and to have the name of Mr. Beattie added to their number. The report was received, and the leave craved, granted.

Messrs. Lord and Sinclair were appointed to make suitable arrangements for the promised visit of the representative of the Studentas' Volunteer Movement in April next.

There was laid on the table and considered a call from the congregation of Warsaw to the Rev. W. L. Atkinson, a minister without charge. Mr. Campbell reported the steps taken and that the call was entirely harmonious. Messrs. McIntyre and Rose, delegates from the congregation, were heard in support of the call. The Moderator's conduct in the case was approved of, the call sustained as a regular Gospel call, and ordered to be forwarded to Mr. Atkinson for his consideration.

On application made by Mr. Oswald, and after explanation given, the Clerk was instructed to communicate with the Clerk of the Whitby Presbytery, regarding the claim of the congregation of Ballyduff on the manse property at Blackstock.

Rev. A. McNaughton and Mr. T. Thompson, appeared as delegates from the Mill street church, Port Hope, to make request to be put on the list of Augmented Congregations, and to have a grant of $300 for the present year obtained on their behalf. The Presbytery agreed at length to forward the application, simpliciter, to the Assembly's Committee on Augmentation.

Mr. Hunter presented the motion, of which he had given notice in the morning, regarding procedure of members of Presbytery who had attended the funeral of the late Dr. Andrews, as already recorded.

The motion was seconded by Mr. McIntosh. The motion was carried by a small majority. Mr. Bennett craved and obtained leave to enter his dissent from the finding.

The following were appointed as delegates to the Assembly, viz.:—By rotation, Messrs. Hamilton, McIntosh and Hunter; by ballot, Messrs. Lord and McLeod.

The Elders chosen were Messrs. W. J. Speir, D. J. Craig, Arch. Miller, Sheriff Hall and W. E. Roxburgh.

Messrs. Potter and Bennett were appointed a committee to examine and report upon the sample pages of a proposed Presbytery roll-book forwarded for inspection by the Clerk of the Barrie Presbytery.

Mr. Lord was appointed to represent the Presbytery on the Assembly's Committee on Bills, and Mr. Beattie, Minister, and Mr. J. Craick, Elder, on the Corresponding Committee of Synod.

Mr. Campbell, Lakefield, was appointed to represent the Presbytery at the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Foreign Mission Presbyterial Society in June next, and to give an address on Foreign Missions.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Beattie for his kindness in making such suitable arrangements for the entertainment of the Presbytery.

Presbytery adjourned to meet in St. Paul's church, Peterborough, on the 2nd Tuesday of July at 9 o'clock a.m., and the meeting was closed with the benediction.

Killed at Brantford.

Toronto, March 24.—One of the bell boys at the Grand Union Hotel was notified early this morning of the death at Brantford of James Quirk, the well known proprietor of the Commercial Hotel there. The bell boy, who was a friend of Quirk's family, was askod to notify deceased's daughters, who are attending Loretto Abbey on Wellington Place.

Deceased left his hotel about five minutes before he was discovered. He had gone to the barn to attend to some game chickens, and it is believed that in leaving the loft he fell down the ladder. Death was due to an extensive fracture of the skull. Quirk was 42 years of age.

London Man Found Dead.

In his pockets were found a bankbook on a London, Ont., bank, bearing the name J. McGregor. He also had a mileage book from London, Ont., to Winnipeg.

MR. SCHWAB'S LATEST PURCHASE

Interested in Canadian Nickel Mines to the Extent of Securing the Controlling Interest in the Canadian Copper Co.—With Others He Organized a $9,000,000 Company to Operate Here.

New York, March 24. — The Tribune says: A report was current three or four months ago, and denied at the time by representatives of both companies, that negotiations were in progress for the purchase by the United States Steel Corporation of a controlling interest in the Nickel Corporation of London, England. The basis for that report developed yesterday, when it was learned that Charles M. Schwab, acting, however, as an individual, and not in any sense as a representative of the United States Steel Corporation, had, in company with certain other capitalists, purchased an interest in the Nickel Corporation and other nickel-producing concerns.

Robert M. Thompson, president and principal owner of the Orford Copper Company, when asked about a published statement that control of that company, the Canadian Copper Company of Cleveland, and the Nickel Company of Paris, France, had been obtained by Mr. Schwab and several of his financial associates, who had organized a $9,000,000 for taking over these properties, said:

"Our company obtains a large part of its supply of nickel from the mines of the Canadian Copper Company, in the Province of Ontario, and the New Caledonian Mines of the Nickel Corporation of London (not the Nickel Company of Paris). The stock of these two companies seemed to me a desirable investment, and I and several associates, among them Mr. Schwab, purchased a controlling interest in the Canadian Copper Company, and a considerable block of stock of the Nickel Corporation, although not enough to constitute control. It is our purpose to form a holding company, capitalized, probably at $9,000,000, to which will be transferred the controlling interest in the Orford Copper Company and the Canadian Copper Company, and our holdings of Nickel Corporation stock. The Orford and Canadian companies will continue to be operated separately. The former has $300,000 stock, and the latter $2,500,000, while the capital stock of the Nickel Corporation is £750,000."

THIRTY RIOTERS KILLED.

Strikers Storm a Jail at Batoum and Are Driven Back.

Tiflis, Transcaucasia, Russia, March 24.—The official Caucasus Gazette reports a strike among the men employed at the Rothschilds petroleum works at Batoum, on the Black Sea.

According to this newspaper three hundred strikers went last Friday to the police station and demanded the release of ringleaders who had been arrested the previous day. This demand was refused. The strikers re-assembled the following day (Saturday), attacked the jail and attempted to release the prisoners. They fired at the soldiers, who were guarding the prison. The latter in turn fired on the mob, and 30 of the rioters were killed.

One soldier was wounded.

Didn't Know His Wife.

When T. Coleman, a Brantford traveller, left on a three weeks trip his wife was a yellow faced, fagged out looking woman. When he returned he didn't know her. Her eyes were bright and her skin clear, and she walked differently. Merrill's System Tonic did it. 50c. for 50 doses. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Cambridge Won the Race.

London, March 24.—Swinging together in perfect unison, like the various parts of a splendid piece of mechanism, without showing signs of distress, the Cambridge crew shot across the finish line Saturday at Mortlake, winning the 59th annual boat race between the two great English Universities.

Five full boat lengths behind, tugging and straining at their oars, came the vanquished wearers of the dark blue.

The time (19m. 9s.) is fairly good, but there is no doubt that Cambridge could have cut it down at least 20 seconds if pushed. There was a fair tide with the crews.

All Arms of Service in It.

Ottawa, March 24.—It has not yet been decided what shall be the composition of the force of 580 officers and men who are to constitute Canada's military contingent at the coronation.

In a general way it is understood, however, that it will represent all arms of the service, as was the case with the Jubilee contingent, and all the provinces of the Dominion.

Preference will be given to officers and men who have served in South Africa.

PREMIER SEDDON TALKS.

What the Australian Squadron Is Designed to Do.

Wellington, New Zealand, March 24.—Speaking at a banquet here Saturday night, Prime Minister Seddon said he was in favor of the increase of the Australian squadron. He declared that Russia was plainly attempting to secure a large seaboard in China.

The Anglo-Japanese agreement was made in order to prevent Russia from becoming the controlling power in the North Pacific. The Japanese navy and the British-Chinese squadron, the Prime Minister declared, would be sufficiently strong to combat the Russian influence.

The Australian squadron would have to protect the trade of the colonies. Some of the cruisers now in service were out of date and would have to be discarded and replaced by better ships.

London, March 24.—Wiring from Vienna, the correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says it is officially reported that M. Sarafoff, the chief of the Macedonian Committee, is in communication with the American Revolutionary Committee for the purpose of arranging a general uprising in Macedonia. The correspondent also says that the Porte has notified the powers that comprehensive arrangements have been made to suppress any Macedonian revolution.

QUEER LAKE GEORGE

IT WAS LOST TO SIGHT FOR YEARS, BUT APPEARED AGAIN.

Cattle Pastured in Its Bed, But the Day Came When the Settlers Had to Flee Before the Rising Waters—Game, Birds and Fish—Has No Outlet Except by Evaporation.

Lake George, the largest lake of New South Wales, Australia, has no outlet, except evaporation. For a series of years, the brooks that tumble down the mountains which edge the lake may steadily contribute to it a larger quantity of water than is evaporated from its surface.

Then the lake steadily rises. The water pushes north and south until the lake is twenty-one miles or more in length with a width of seven or eight miles.

For another series of years the waters brought by the brooks may be steadily smaller than the quantity evaporated. Then the lake begins to fall, shrinking in a few years to half its former dimensions, this process going on sometimes till Lake George entirely disappears except for a few water holes in the lowest part of its bed. The lake was in flood during 1891 extending north and south for twenty-one miles with a depth of twelve feet.

Twice in the last century thousands of sheep and cattle were pastured on large areas now covered with water. They were the most numerous representatives there of the larger forms of animal life just as fish and water fowl are to-day.

The cabins of the stock raisers or squatters, as they are called, were scattered over the meadows. Vegetables were raised and patches of wheat. So little was known of Lake George in those days that the herders really had a feeling of security and permanency; but the day came when the rising waters swished around the cabins, drowned some of the stock and drove the squatters to the highlands.

Everybody knows now that the bed of Lake George offers a very uncertain tenure to settlers. When it comes into view again perhaps no attempt will be made to utilize it on so large a scale as was done in the 30s and '40s of the last century.

The lake, which is about 150 miles southwest of Sydney, near the south end of the Blue Mountains, was for many years almost inaccessible among the wilds that hem it in, but now a branch of the railroad between Sydney and Melbourne skirts its eastern shore. Many sportsmen alight at the neighboring station for a season of fishing or shooting.

The incredible number of ducks, swans, pelicans and other water fowl makes the lake one of the finest shooting resorts in New South Wales. The birds have few such opportunities in the almost lakeless continent and they make the most of this basin when it is worthy to be called a lake. At an elevation of over 2,200 feet, not many lakes outside of Africa and inner Asia are so high above the sea.

The lake lies at the lower end of a basin so walled in by mountains and hills that the drainage into it has no chance to escape to the sea. It was long before this fact was discovered. Some early maps show Lake George as the probable source of a small river known on the coast; but a careful survey finally revealed the fact that not a drop of water escapes from the basin except to the clouds.

The native blacks have always regarded it with superstitious dread. When they piloted the first exploring party to the lake in 1820 (the first reports of its existence came from the blacks in 1818) a splendid sheet of water was found.

The whites were first perplexed and then amused by the stories the natives told them. One old woman said she had seen a time when there was no lake, but many trees were growing over the place now covered with water; others reported that sometimes the lakes disappeared and a number of little ponds occupied its place; still others affirmed that all of the water sometimes sank through the bottom and nothing was to be seen but dry land.

It was years before it was discovered that the natives had been trying to tell, in their imperfect way, of phenomena that mystified them. It all seemed very uncanny to the poor blacks, who feared the lake and usually avoided it.

Eighteen years elapsed after the white settlers became acquainted with the lake before its waters entirely disappeared. In 1838 and 1839 the surface of the lake bed was dry and firm.

The period between 1838 and 1851 was the heyday of the pastoral industry; parts of the bed afforded the richest of pasture lands, tens of thousands of acres being devoted to grazing. Cart roads connecting the ranches extended across the bottom in all directions.

In these fourteen years the lake was not entirely dry excepting in 1838-39 and 1846-49, and even in those years a few water holes and swamps were found on the lower levels. The lake retains all the mineral substances brought to it by the brooks that wear away the granite and other rocks of the mountains.

When the lake is shallow or nothing but swamps and ponds, its waters are not potable. The only drawback of which the herders complained was that they had to haul water from the foot of the mountains to their cabins, the contents of the water holes being too salty for use; but when the basin is filled the water is only slightly brackish and may be used for many purposes.

It was a strange sight to see rich meadows stretching away where only a water expanse had been visible a few years before. The boundaries of these grazing lands, however, kept changing from year to year as the waters advanced or receded.

The mountain feeders greatly increased their contribution of water about 1850, when one-sixth of the bottom became covered, and two years later Lake George was seven-eighths of its present size and eleven feet deep. A little water spread over the bed was enough to spoil the grazing. The herders often retreated hastily from meadows that were turning into bogs. They sought higher and drier grounds, till finally they were driven out of the basin entirely.

Since 1849 the lake has never been wholly dry. It varies much in size, sometimes being only eight to ten miles long and four to six feet deep, and then swelling again to its largest proportions. At times one may drive on dry land across a part of the lake where a few years later there are ten or twelve feet of water.

For nine years after 1855 a farmer used the narrow, northern part of the lake as a cattle run, cultivating at the same time about ten acres of wheat a year; fifteen feet of water covered this part of the lake in 1876.

When Lake George is steadily losing more water by evaporation than it receives, which happens for years at a time, the usual rate of fall is about twenty inches a year. On the other hand, when the water receipts exceed the evaporation the rise in level is likely to be much more rapid, large floods pouring so great a volume of water into the lake in a short time that years are required to evaporate it.

About the middle of the last century a wealthy herder filled a water cart with Murray cod and perch from the Murrumbidgee River and placed them in water holes in the nearly desiccated bed of Lake George. The perch did not thrive, but the cod multiplied rapidly, making the lake one of the best fishing resorts of Australia. The lake has never been quite dry since the fish were introduced, the myriads of cod being all derived from the original stock.

"Thou has given me a South Land; give me also springs of water," was the impressive petition on the title page of one of the first books written about Australia. Most of the continent is very thirsty.

The prevailing trade winds drench the eastern mountains with the moisture they bring, and provide abundant water for the narrow strips of farming land between the great hills and the Pacific. But west of the mountains the winds, wrung nearly dry give scanty rain to the grass lands which very gradually merge into the parched desert still further west, in whose frightful wastes explorers have been swallowed up and left no trace.

The little basin of Lake George lies near the border between mountains and grass lands right on the verge of insufficient rainfall; this accounts for the vagaries of the lake. Sometimes an atmospheric swirl brings a great downpour, imprisoning a large volume of water in the basin. These are the palmy days of the lake, when it is long and wide with a wealth of water fowl and fish.

But Lake George is not a very graphic recorder of rainfall conditions. Floods of some importance scarcely seem to make any impression upon its water level. The skies may be rainless for many months before it is really apparent that the surface is falling. But the scene when its dried bed is covered with herds and flocks tells the story of long years of almost brazen skies.

Lake George is a type of many lakes situated, as it is on the edge of deficient precipitation; and it is more interesting than almost any other lake of its class because it is surrounded by civilization and has played a part in human activity whether showing a beautiful expanse of water or only the bed where a lake has existed.

GREAT INTEREST

Evidenced in the Case of a Prominent Toronto Citizen.

The public generally who are acquainted with Mr. Alex. Lang, 67 Sumach street, Toronto, are wondering greatly at the remarkable recovery this gentleman had of a bad stomach disorder and blood disease by taking the new discovery, Dowey's Liquified Ozone. Mr. Lang had been troubled very greatly; physicians had tried to give him relief in vain, and he believed his case was utterly hopeless. Now he writes: About two years ago my stomach completely gave out. I was in a wretched condition, and my life was anything but pleasure. I tried several prescriptions from my doctors, and also other remedies which I saw advertised for dyspepsia, but I was getting worse all the time. I might say that at the same time I had a breaking out on my face and body which gave me great annoyance. Ordinary remedies and drugs I took could not relieve me of this vexatious disease. At last I was advised to try Ozone. The first bottle gave me relief. I took about ten bottles altogether, and I am thankful I can report to you that I am completely cured. I can eat anything now, without the least uneasiness; also the itching eruptions which I believe were caused by germs in my blood are all gone. I also use Ozone for my children when any ailment overtakes them. (Signed) Alex. Lang, 67 Sumach street, Toronto, shipper P. Freyseng & Co., cork manufacturers, Toronto.

You can get well if you have stomach disorder just as easily as Mr. Lang. The facts show on investigation that he was very seriously ill—more than his statement gives you any idea. If your case is chronic and you have almost given up hope, stop taking drugs and try Ozone; you can procure a bottle at your druggist's for 50c or $1, and you will be surprised at its beneficial action.

He Wanted to Die.

Montreal, March 22.—Adam Kerr, representing a Toronto firm, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. Kerr was taken to the hospital, and he may recover. No cause is given for the rash act.

Mild but Vigourous.

When you are tired of the list of cures your friends suggest for bronchitis—try Scott's Emulsion. It is rather mild tasting compared to most medicines, but makes a vigorous attack on all forms of throat and lung disease.

DIAMOND BACK TERRAPIN.

Formerly Despised. They Are Now Considered a Delicacy.

Half a century or so ago diamond back terrapin were fed to slaves and hogs. Today they are the rarest delicacy known to the epicurian world, says the Philadelphia North American.

Then they sold for $1 a barrel, and laborers, when hiring out, specified that they must not be compelled to eat terrapin more than twice a week. Today a barrel is cheap at $800, and millionaires travel hundreds of miles for a chance to feast on this most delicious of all meats.

Of course this means genuine diamond backs. There are many imitations.

Every first class restaurant in the country features "terrapin a la Maryland" on its menu, but in not one case out of a hundred is the real terrapin served. The diner regales himself on what he believes to be Maryland's choicest dish. Instead he is merely eating fresh water turtles, "sliders" or "North Carolina goldens."

The reason is simple. Restaurateurs don't serve real diamond backs because they can't get them. The world's total terrapin population does not exceed 25,000 of legal size, and these are confined to the shores of the Chesapeake bay, the only place that produces them.

Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York enjoy a monopoly. These three cities get practically the entire output, but few ever find their way across the Blue Ridge. The epicure unfortunate enough to be born in Chicago or St. Louis must either come east or forego the joys of terrapin.

To select a real diamond back amateurs should be guided by these distinguishing and characteristic markings:

It is of a greenish, dark olive color, sometimes running to spotted gray, yellow on the plate which surrounds the shell and has concentric dark stripes along the plate on both shells. The sides of the head are a dirty white, sprinkled with small black spots. The bottom shell is of whitish yellow.

The males are much larger than the females and have the concentric streaks much better defined. The female has the more delicate flesh. The male can be distinguished by his toe nails, which are much longer than those of the female.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh, and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Naturally and gradually this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body and thoroughly overcomes disease.

An Aristocratic Grain.

Could plants lay claim to aristocratic position, as representing an old family, rice might safely claim to be of the most ancient pedigree. It is the earliest cereal known. Originally a native of India, it has crossed the ocean and made a home for itself where heat and moist soil could be found. It grows in all warm portions of the globe and furnishes the principal food of nearly one-third of the human race.

School Gardens.

Scientific gardening is taught in the national schools of Sweden and in the seminaries for the education of national schoolteachers. There is a school garden in nearly every rural school district in the kingdom. The garden is placed near the schoolhouse, and the children receive practical instruction in the cultivation of plants, berries, flowers, herbs and fruits, the management of hotbeds, greenhouses, etc.

Quack Doctors Versus Druggists.

It is a more sensible thing for the public to entrust their health in the hands of a skillful chemist than to a quack medicine. Merrill's System Tonic is a reliable drug store remedy—pleasant to take—which purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. 50 doses in each 50c bottle. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

ROY SCRIBER'S CASE.

He Stole Mail Matter From the Post Office—The Children's Aid Society.

Roy Scriber, a boy of 11 years of age, was this morning given over to the Children's Aid Society by his mother. Young Scriber was fast becoming a daring criminal. On Saturday he was arrested charged with stealing parcels from the post office. There were found at young Scriber's home a number of parcels that had been posted but that had not reached their destination. The boy's mother is a charwoman at the post office. The boy was allowed to enter the post office, it is said, in the hope that he might help his mother, but he helped himself instead. He was arrested on Saturday, and the charge of theft is still pending. However, the Children's Aid Society have taken Master Scriber in hand, and his mother very reluctantly agreed to him being taken over this morning. The mother said this morning that the boy's right name is Allan Roy Woodcock, she having been previously married.

FOR OUR CONSUMPTIVES.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir,—From a herb doctor in town, by the name of Demara, we learn that he has treated no less than 45 cases of well developed consumption in and about the town during the last nine months. Speaking with respect to the proposed grant by the Town Council and the sending of a delegation to them to provide means for poor people suffering, he said that nothing could be more urgent. The condition of poor people is usually made worse by their not being able to provide themselves with the ordinary comforts of life, and in this way the disease is greatly aggravated and the suffering increased. Without doubt in a few years, if the efforts of the people at large corresponds to that of Lord Strathcona, Sir William Meredith and others in Ontario who are taking it up, and have formed themselves into a central committee for that purpose, the disease will be stamped out. It has become a veritable white plague. It is to be hoped that the council will take this matter into their very serious consideration. Money spent in this way is not only for the benefit but is absolutely essential to the safety of the people.

SATURDAY'S NOMINATION.

If ever a candidate had reason to feel especial pride and gratification at the circumstances of a nomination, that candidate is Hon. J. R. Stratton, who received the unanimous nomination on Saturday. Never before in this riding has such a large and enthusiastic mass meeting, so representative of every part of the riding, and so expressive of the harmony and unanimity of a party assembled for the purposes of making a nomination. Two circumstances that emphasize the important significance of the great size of the gathering was the fact that the bulk of those present were from the rural districts, and that the roads were in a bad condition; and it was a foregone conclusion that the sitting representative would receive the nomination. Therefore, the large attendance was, it seems fair to argue, attracted by public spirit, and by a spirit of recognition and approval of the past career of the representative of the riding for sixteen years, and of confidence in the record and policy of the Government, which he as a member of it locally represents. Another feature of the gathering was the presence of a large number of fair-minded Conservatives, who have supported, and continue to support, Mr. Stratton, because they have taken the position that he has worked, and worked hard and successfully, to advance the best interests of Peterborough and of the town. In so doing they sacrifice none of their party convictions. They doubtless are, and will continue to be, Conservatives at heart, but they feel, no doubt, that by taking a public-spirited position, they are more true to the principles of the political creed they profess—Liberal-Conservatism — than they would be if, irrespective of other modifying conditions, they followed hard and fast political lines for the sake of a comparatively trifling party victory, to the sacrifice of material conditions of public and local advantage. Peterborough, especially the town, has outgrown very largely the childhood stage, when one prominent citizen, no matter of what party, suggesting some public enterprise or improvement, was met with paralyzing apathy, or actual opposition, born of envy or the fear that his success, no matter how much in the interests of the town, might give undesirable prominence to a political opponent or a business competitor. But we have outlived that, and the people of the town, realizing what the possibilities of Peterborough are, what a great future, with the co-operation of all classes of citizens awaits it, are working in greater harmony, feeling that to realize our future, we must work together, and subordinate for the common good, many personal and party considerations, and enlist every influence that may help to advance the material interests of the town. Under such circumstances, does it not stand to reason that we should be benefitted by a continuance of our relations with a representative, who, in his representative capacity and in the interests of his riding, has shown that he knows how to ignore party considerations and make the welfare of his constituents and his constituency the first consideration? His most bitter party opponent, if he speaks his mind, will acknowledge that Mr. Stratton has faithfully, fairly and impartially represented West Peterborough and to the best of his ability, and now that his position enlarges his capacity in this direction and increases his opportunities for service, is it not a fair question to consider, whether his return at the forthcoming general elections will not be in every sense in the interests of West Peterborough, town and county alike? The mass meeting of last Saturday as a guage of public sentiment potently suggests that the answer will be, yes. This is the local aspect of the subject. Mr. Stratton's relations to the wider sphere of public activity may well make a subject for future treatment, and it will be found to bear as close analysis and with as favourable results as his more local representative relations.

The Review seems to have dam on the brain and dam, with another kind of spelling in the heart, in regard to the public improvements on Stony Creek Waters. What the Review expects to make out of its crusade in this matter, except party capital it is hard to imagine. It is not solicitude for the public interests, for the dams it treats in language not always parliamentary, are for the public convenience, though at present the Dickson Company derives a large advantage. The Examiner published a long list of dams and other conveniences for lumbermen and settlers in the waters of this district, which are as defensible as the construction of the Stony Creek works, and by the way, are from a party point of view, as deserving of the Review's condemnation as it seems to think the latter works are. The Review may take this comfort that Mr. Stratton and the Government believed they were acting in the public interes s and are taking the responsibility; and the fair minded public, who will not follow our local contemporary in hounding and denouncing a representative for procuring local improvements for his constituency, will approve. A progressive government looks ahead. Other dams, like the Stony Creek dams, may at first be of most benefit to individual lumbermen, but they will be for public use as long as they last. There may be little settlement on the Stony Creek waters at present, but the Government withholds the lands from settlement, owing to the danger of forest fires in the process of clearing. When the limits are cleared, then settlement will follow, and the works in question will be of use to the public. It is only the Review and those who, from party motives, wish to hamper a representative in the work of benefitting and building up his own constituency, that take the narrow guage view of these things.

GREAT NOMINATION MASS MEETING

Hon. J. R. Stratton Unanimously Re-nominated.

ENTHUSIASM AND HARMONY.

Provincial Secretary the Candidate for West Peterborough.

Accepts the Candidature for the Sixth Time—His and Other Addresses on the Occasion—Mr. Stratton's Career Heartily Endorsed — An Inspiring Mass Meeting.

The largest and most enthusiastic mass meeting ever convened to nominate a Parliamentary candidate, assembled in the Opera House on Saturday afternoon. The commodious hall was packed with supporters of the Ross Government, representing every part of the riding, even the most distant townships sending large contingents, and the temper of the gathering was marked by enthusiasm and unanimity. Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, who has represented West Peterborough continuously for the past sixteen years, was unanimously nominated, and the enthusiasm that was expressed in confirming his nomination was an expression of approval and satisfaction with the representation he has given for that time, of which any public man could feel proud, and was an index of the enthusiastic support he will receive in the coming electoral contest. Mr. Stratton, in accepting the nomination, made a vigorous speech, in which he set forth the claims which the Ross Government, of which he is a member, has upon the support and confidence of the people, while the other speakers who addressed the gathering, paid eloquent tributes to the services Mr. Stratton had given the riding, the district, and country. Altogether the nomination proceedings were of a highly successful character from every point of view, and the unanimity of the nomination, and the harmony that marked the meeting, indicate that Mr. Stratton and the Ross Government have a solid support behind them in West Peterborough, which place the result of the coming election beyond doubt.

The Business of the Day.

Mr. G. M. Roger, Secretary of the West Riding Liberal Association, occupied the chair, and upon the platform were Hon. Senator Cox, Hon. Senator McHugh, Hon. J. R. Stratton, T. Blezard, Esq., M.P.P., Andrew Pattullo, M.P.P., Woodstock, Mr. Peter Hamilton, Mr. William Crough, Enniamore; Mr. Wm. Graham, Smith; Mr. Wm. Anderson, Liberal candidate, East Peterborough; Mr. J. H. McClellan, Mr. E. B. Stone and Mr. Robert Walton.

Resolutions.

The first business of the meeting was the adoption of resolutions, and the following were introduced, with brief remarks, unanimously adopted, and, as to the first, with every expression of enthusiasm:

Moved by Mr. E. M. Elliott, Smith, seconded by Dr. Moher:

That this mass meeting convened to nominate a candidate in support of the Ross Government, declares its complete confidence in that Government, and its hearty appreciation of its energetic and advanced administration of the affairs of this Province and of the broad and progressive policy whose vigorous application in the short space of time the Government has held office, has been attended with such beneficial effects, that its future application will, we believe, lead to still greater results and bring about to a most important degree the development of our great resources, in a way which will not only build up New Ontario, but reflect important benefits upon the Province at large.

And that this meeting takes this opportunity of expressing its very cordial appreciation of the excellent representation this riding has received at the hands of Hon. J. R. Stratton during five parliaments of this Province, every want and interest of the riding having been looked after with a public spirited solicitude and effectiveness which have earned the warm gratitude of his constituents of every party, creed and condition, and lead to the hope that he will continue the services which his membership in the Government will permit him to render, to the greater advantage of West Peterborough, this county and district and the Province as a whole.

Moved by Wm. Graham, seconded by R. P. Mowbray:

That this mass meeting desires to place upon record its most earnest sympathy and condolence with Hon. G. W. Ross, Premier of this Province, in the very great bereavement he has sustained in the death of his wife, the helpmeet and partner of his life, whose fidelity to his person and position, has been of inestimable assistance and encouragement in the performance of the arduous duties incidental to the splendid services he has rendered this Province and this country as its Premier and as a statesman of a long, brilliant and fruitful career.

And this meeting hopes that in partial mitigation of his loss, he may receive from a Higher Source the comfort, strength of soul and vigour of body which will permit of many further years of invaluable service to the state.

The Nomination Made.

Mr. Peter Hamilton in rising to make a nomination said it did not seem very long since they had met in that place for the purpose of making a nomination. It had been his good fortune to nominate a candidate who had been successful in five different electoral contests which was an unusual circumstance. On the first occasion he had nominated Mr. Stratton with a good deal of trepidation. He was a young and untried man, but he had entered the contest with vigour and justified the confidence the Liberals had reposed in him and was successful and he had been successful on four occasions since. (Applause.) It afforded him great pleasure to have the privilege of nominating Hon. J. R. Stratton again, as a candidate to contest the coming elections which would be on before long. He could not, Mr. Hamiltpn remarked, say much but what was in favour of Mr. Stratton. In coming in contact with the electors he, (Mr. Hamilton,) had often heard them say, especially those opposed politically, that in no case had they ever appealed to Mr. Stratton, but that he had treated them as a representative of the whole people of the riding—he would do anything for them in his power and he would do it more in the light of receiving than giving a favour. In every case Mr. Stratton had been anxious to do

HON. J. R. STRATTON, PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.

all he could do for West Peterborough as its representative. He had more than a local or Provincial reputation. The speaker had heard prominent persons from distant points expressing appreciation of him. He had great pleasure in nominating Mr. Stration. (Loud applause.)

Seconded and Supported.

Mr. Wm. Crough, of Enniamore, had great pleasure in seconding the nomination. We couldn't have a better man.

Mr. Wm. Graham, Smith, asked leave to "third" the nomination. (Laughter.) The man nominated was one of our Peterborough boys. We had reason to be proud of him. He had worked nobly for Peterborough, and he should receive general support—had worked in the interest of both parties. Mr. Stration might be allowed to be returned unopposed. One might as well try to stem the current of the Otonabee as to try to defeat Mr. Stratton in West Peterborough. (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Mark Spencely asked leave to support the nomination of Mr. Stratton. He should be in parliament, and added Mr. Spencely, "As for me and my house we will do all we can to get him there." (Applause.)

The chairman called for other nominations and no others being made Mr. Stratton's nomination was unanimously carried amidst the most enthusiastic sheers.

In tendering the nomination to Mr. Stratton, Mr. Roger remarked that he had never witnessed as large or enthusiastic a nomination meeting. He had watched with interest Mr. Stratton's rapid political rise from a position of comparative obscurity to a place in the cabinet, and that was not the end of his rise. He tendered the nomination to Mr. Stratton to renewed applause.

Hon. Mr. Stratton Accepts.

Hon. Mr. Stratton, on rising to speak, was greeted with enthusiastic and prolonged cheers. When they had subsided, he said that he heartily appreciated the cordial menner in which the nomination had been tendered him. It was gratifying to see such a splendid gathering of electors. It was another evidence of the great and long-continued kindness he had received from the people of West Peterborough. He accepted the nomination in the same cordial spirit that it had been offered. (Applause.) He had been liberally supported on five different occasions, on which he had appealed to the electors, and his thanks were due, not only to his Liberal friends, but to a large number of Conservatives, who had had faith in his earnestness of desire to advance the best interests of the riding. As a member of the present Government, he could safely assert that that no Government had ever made a more honest, and, he might say, successful, endeavour to give better laws, and better administration, than the Government of this Province, (applause) which had been privileged in the past with Liberal rule. Without any disparagement to Sir Oliver Mowat and Hon. Mr. Hardy he asserted that we had to-day as competent and progressive a leader in Hon. G. W. Ross as ever ruled in this Province. (Applause.) He had behind him a Cabinet which was in perfect sympathy and accord with his broad policy, and behind the Cabinet was a faithful following. Mr. Stratton said that he was not given to boasting, but he was as sure as the sun would rise to-morrow that the present Government would be returned at the coming elections. (Applause.) Why should they not be returned? It should be, because both its legislation and its administration had been good. Judged by comparison with other provinces and countries, there could not be found a country with a sounder financial position than Ontario. (Applause.) Nor a Government that had returned more to the people in the lessening of local taxation.

Our Excellent Financial Standing.

When Hon. Mr. Ross took office he appointed a Royal Commission of our most eminent financial authorities, and after thorough investigation their report showed that the book keeping methods were good, receipts fully accounted for, and expenditures accurately recorded, and after an expenditure of 111 millions of dollars, there was no evidence of a single dollar having been misappropriated or misapplied, (applause) and after all public services and obligations had been met, that we had as claimed, a surplus of $2,500,000, of which over $800,000 was cash in the bank. Since that time, a little over two years, the cash balance in banks, with the surplus of assets at about the same figure, had grown till at the close of the last session on March 15th last the cash in the bank to the credit of the province amounted in round figures to nearly two million dollars—a little over $1,900,000. (Applause.) After detailing the chief sources of our receipts of $4,660,000 in 1901, Mr. Stratton pointed out that of this amount there was expended upon Administration of Justice, Education, Agriculture, Colonization Roads, Public Institutions, Maintenance of Hospitals, and Charities, $2,612,000, or over one-half of our total revenue was returned to the people under these services. (Applause.) These large payments to the people of Ontario were made from funds of which none was raised by taxation of the people; instead these payments lessened the rate of direct municipal taxation which on that account was very low compared with the rate of taxation elsewhere. In a dozen states of the Union mentioned the average rate of township taxation was 23 7-10 mills, while the average rate in Ontario for the past fourteen or fifteen years was only 9 9-10 mills. Thus the township taxation in Ontario was less than half as large as in the United States. Why? Because the Ontario Government gave money to the people to lessen direct taxation, whilst direct taxation was levied in the states for services paid in Ontario by the Government. In this way in the past over sixty millions of dollars, or half of the total expenditure have been returned to the people to lessen direct taxation. (Applause.)

Developing Natural Resources.

After referring generally to the resources in our new country, Mr. Stratton dealt with the pulp agreements with several companies. He showed how these agreements protected the public interests. These agreements give these companies nothing but the right to cut pulp wood on a given area at a certain price per cord, the present price being 40 cents, which may be at any time increased. These agreements do not give a right to a foot of land. But a large expenditure must be made in the erection of works and a large number of hands must be employed. In the seven agreements made with as many companies, they are required to expend a total of nearly five million dollars—$4,900,000 and to employ nearly 2,000 hands—These five millions spent on construction works, mean large orders to manufacturers in older Onterio. The rights of settlers are protected. In any of these districts they settle in the settler gets the timber on his land, and this he can sell to pulp works, making money from the beginning, and in the process clearing his land, whose crop finds a sale in the supply of food, etc., to the men employed in the pulp mills. These agreements help and do not hinder settlement, and they are so evidently in the public interests that in the House, Mr. Marter, former Conservative leader, voted against his party and endorsed the action of the Government as good business practice. (Applause.)

Railway Policy.

Mr. Stratton, in referring to the Algoma Central Railway, remarked that at the "Soo" was the site of the first pulp mill, and instead of the expenditure of $400,000 required by the agreement, there had be expended about twelve millions, to be ultimately increased to twenty millions of dollars. This was the direct result of the pulp agreement made in 1895. The Algoma Central and Manitoulin & North Shore Railways had been assisted by land grants. The Government did not tax old Ontario nor take its funds to build these lines, but made the lands of new Ontario build those lines. The former railway was a development railway, pure and simple, and would ultimately be extended to James' Bay, while the latter was largely intended to bring the trade of the new country to old Ontario, and would in time form part of a competing trans-continental line. We had in the new country sixteen million acres to be opened up for the boys of old Ontario, and the Government in addition to aiding the railways mentioned, had become the pioneer in state railway construction and ownership, and would build the Temiscaming Railway as a Government line. In all these the Government controlled the freight rates and no Government had ever made better terms in the interests of the country. (Applause.) Time would show their wisdom, and he had no fear that the people would not endorse the course pursued in this regard.

The Referendum.

Mr. Stratton said he desired to say a few words in regard to the question of intoxicating liquor. An Act had been passed by Manitoba, and approved by the Privy Council. A similar Act, on the same lines, had been passed by the Ontario Government, to be submitted to the people for approval. The policy of the Government in the matter was a united one—no divisions or differences in the Cabinet. The Government took the full responsibility. They passed the terms of the Manitoba Bill as approved by the Privy Council, and it will be submitted to the people on December 4th. The Government takes full responsibility of this, and also of its submission to the people, who should have an opportunity of expressing their opinion. The Government takes the full responsibility of the percentage required to make the bill law. There were between 560,000 and 600,000 persons entitled to vote in the coming elections. There were 4,6 000 polled at the election of 1898. There are in this province two and a half millions of people, and at the last general election 426,000 persons voted, and if 213,000 odd come out and vote for the Liquor License Act of 1902, it becomes law, and the Government will assume the responsibility of enforcing it. The Government asked the best temperance sentiment of the province, not the Grit and Tory temperance men, to say, whether, if 213,000 are not in favour of the bill it should be made law, whether it could be enforced without a strong sentiment and moral support behind a Government. The Government takes the responsibility of its course and the question is left to the decision of the people, untrammelled by its incorporation with any other question that would interfere with the casting of an unbiased vote. (Applause.)

The Situation.

Speaking generally, Mr. Stratton stated that the opponents of the Government said the tide was against it. Did the result of eight or ten elections triumphantly returning Liberals, since Mr. Ross became Premier and the speaker a member of the Cabinet, show anything like this? It would be seen that the forward policy of the present Government would be endorsed by the people. Oliver Mowat saved New Ontario from the greatest crime the Conservatives of this country ever attempted, and the Ross Government was going to develop it—a country with enough revenue yielding resources to keep off direct taxation for a hundred years. (Applause.) The Conservative Opposition of this province helped in the attempt to rob us of this territory, and they did not deserve the confidence of the people. The present Opposition had ability but they did not use it to useful ends. They contented themselves with a policy of drift, assumed no responsibility, and seemed to have little conception of the duty they owed to the state. The policy of the Ross Government to develop our new territory, to open it for homes for our Ontario boys, to promote railway enterprises for the material development of the old and new, were the aim and policy of the Government, on which it was sure of a favourable reply from the people.

In conclusion Mr. Stratton thanked the splendid gathering of the day—the largest he had seen in sixteen years—thanked them for their renewed confidence. He was in a different position than four years ago. He sought their support then as a private member. Now as a member of the Government his opportunities for service would be greater, and he assured the people that by no act of his should they regret that they had trusted him. Peterborough was a great town, and if it progressed in the next ten years as much as it had done in the past ten it would be in advance of all the minor cities, as it was now ahead of the most of them. No place outside the large cities enjoyed greater prosperity than Peterborough. They lost a good citizen in Senator Cox but had enough good citizens left to make Peterborough, with united effort, the greatest town in the Dominion. (Applause.) Mr. Stratton said that in the past as a representative, he had known no man's politics. He had as willingly extended favours to Conservatives as to Liberals. In this he had only done his duty as a representative, and if he were again given the opportunity he would continue to do his duty — first to this town and this riding, next to this district, and the province as a whole. In a Government that had made so splendid a record in the past two years the people had a Government in whose support the people could heartily unite. (Long continued cheers.)

Mr. Blezard Speaks.

Mr. T. Blezard, M. P. P., next briefly addressed the meeting. He pointed out that when he first entered the House 25 years ago, the Opposition were raising the cry that the province was becoming bankrupt, and that direct taxation was staring us in the face. But after a quarter of a century we had a good sound surplus, and were apparently no nearer direct taxation though the Opposition of the day said it was at hand. The Opposition that said this was of the party that helped the Conservatives at Ottawa to rob this province of a vast territory which Sir Oliver Mowat saved and in doing so he saved resources that would keep direct taxation at arms' length for ever so long. In its policy of development the Ross Government was on the right track and in Mr. Stratton they had a good strong friend. It was a God-send to the country that we had a Ross to develop what Mowat saved. After paying a tribute to the capabilities of the several Cabinet Ministers. Mr. Blezard said that Mr. Stratton had done much for both East and West Peterborough and spoke of the excellent way in which he had managed the affairs of his large and important department, and the people owed it to themselves to retain the services of so capable and active a member. (Applause.)

Hon. Senator Cox.

Hon. Senator Cox received a splendid reception. He stated that he did not come down to Peterborough to make a political speech, as he was out of politics now, giving his attention more to business, but when his old friend, Mr. Stratton, asked him to come to the meeting he could not refuse. He was pleased to look into the faces of old friends again and have an opportunity of thanking them once more for the support they had given him when he contested the constituency. He had not been returned, still he had been placed in other fields where he thought he was of more use to the community. In referring to Mr. Stratton, Senator Cox stated that the majority of his constituents did not begin to know anything about the service which that gentleman was doing for the town. The erection of the big Cereal Company buildings on the raceway would have been blocked, if the company had not been able to reach the ear of the Government through Peterborough's representative, Hon. J. R. Stratton. (Cheers.) The honour, therefore, of inducing this industry to locate in Peterborough should be fairly divided between himself and Mr. Stratton. Through his own business connections he had been able to get the members of the Company to look favourably on Peterborough as a location. Not a cent was asked from the town in the way of a bonus. All the Company asked was that their improvements on the raceway should not be taxed for a period of 42 years. This concession, however, could not have been obtained without the consent of the Government and this could not have been secured so readily, if at all, without the aid of Mr. Stratton. He congratulated Peterborough on possessing so strong and influential a representative in the Government, and regarded it as of the first importance to the Province that the Ross-Stratton administration be sustained, and of the first importance to Peterborough that its present representative be returned. (Applause.)

Hon. Senator McHugh.

Hon. Senator McHugh has evidently many friends and admirers in Peterborough as he was most cordially received. He was pleased to witness the hearty endorsation which the electors of West Peterborough had given his friend Mr. Stratton. No candidate could appeal to them on the ground of having done them good service than Mr. Stratton. Victoria County claimed him as its Cabinet Minister, as well as Peterborough. He represented the district and he did it ably. (Applause.) His influence was felt in Victoria and more favours had been received since Mr. Stratton entered the Cabinet than ever before. He was ambitious and young. He was not looking back on the good work which he had done, but was looking forward to the future. The speaker commended Mr. Stratton's policy of taxing the big monetary institutions, the distillers and the brewers in order that the money might be returned to the people through the medium of contributions to the schools and the Agricultural Societies and better still to the charitable institutions. Who had a better right to contribute to the maintenance of these institutions than the wealthy corporations. He thanked Mr. Stratton for the aid which he had given him in his own campaign and asked for his return by a larger majority than ever (Applause.)

Mr. Pattullo Speaks.

Mr. Andrew Pattullo, M. P. P., Woodstock, and publisher of the Woodstock Sentinal-Review, followed in a most effective address of which space permits only a summary.

After making complimentary references to the candidate selected, Mr. Stratton, and paying a warm tribute to his successful management of our provincial institutions which experts from the United States said were the best and most economically managed in the world, Mr. Pattullo dealt principally and in a very effective manner with the agricultural record of the Government. He showed in disproof of the claim that a Government could not do much for the farmer, what great things the Government had done to help the farming industry and, as upon that industry depended general prosperity, how much the Government had done in this way for the country at large. He traced the great growth of the cheese industry which in twenty-five years had grown so that our exports of cheese amounted to twenty-five millions of dollars, and this result was largely due to the help given by the Agricultural College, and kindred agencies. The Travelling Dairy had done much to stimulate the production of butter which had now reached a very large export value. The same applied to our bacon trade which disputed place with the Danish product and amounted to twelve millions of dollars a year. If it had not been for the various agricultural agencies supplied by the Ontario Government we should never have gained such a footing in the British market and we could not continue to hold it if such agencies were not effectively continued. The efforts of Hon. Mr. Ross had drawn British attention to Canadian horses and as a result thousands had been purchased in Ontario, which had a great future for horse-breeding to supply Britain and the Northwest. The Fat Stock show at Guelph was cited as one of the ways in which the Government helped the farmers in the matter of the raising of improved stock. Mr. Pattullo referred briefly to the work of the Government with regard to education and particularly technical education to enable the boys of Ontario to succeed in agriculture and to compete with those of all other countries in railroading and electricity, and the development of the mines and natural resources of Ontario. He contrasted in an amusing way the course of the Government with that of the Opposition, which had done nothing for agriculture except to contribute to the animal history of politics in the form of the "Ram Dan," "The Calf with a Cough," etc.

The Transportation Problem.

Mr. Pattullo then went on to speak of the transportation problem, particularly in relation to "Good roads." Ontario had spent 16 millions in railways, canals, and other works, but the benefit to the people would be more direct if our highways were made better, for without good highways we could not have the full benefit of railways and canals. "One of the greatest questions of the day before the farmers," declared Mr. Pattullo, "is the question of good roads." In the appointment of Mr. A. W. Campbell as Good Roards Commissioner, the Government has done a national service. The Liberal Government has been in power a great many years and the sum of their record was that the Liberal Administration stood for all that was best in public life, but the Liberal party could not live in the past; we must live in the future.

Must Develop Ontario.

What of the future? We have worked in the past to build up the older parts of the province; now we must develop the newer parts. It was for the benefit of older Ontario that we were, through pulp agreements, and other means, throwing population into New Ontario. A few years ago the population there was only 15,000; to-day it was 150,000. There is room there for millions. The trains that come down on the railways we are building must go back laden with the products of the workshops and factories of old Ontario. And there was no place more likely to be benefitted by the great possibilities of electrical development of the new country, than the town of Peterborough. Though the Liberals had done much in the past they had only entered upon the supreme work of the future, the development of the resources of New Ontario, which had great possibilities—if one put his ear to the ground of that region he could hear the tramp of the coming millions, (applause) if the Liberals were given an opportunity of carrying out their progressive and wise policy. The speaker concluded by saying he did not believe that the people would let one of the greatest statesmen of the day fall before the work of developing New Ontario had been well placed on the highway to completion. With an able Cabinet behind him, he had the admiration of the country, and Mr. Pattullo believed that the electors of West Peterborough would do their duty when the time came and see that his colleague and supporter was returned by a great victory. (Applause.)

Mr. J. H. McClellan.

Mr. J. H. McClellan was received with applause. He stated that he would not make any remarks at length as all would hear from him during the ensuing campaign, if there was any opposition to Mr. Stratton. He did not think that Mr. Stratton would be opposed, however, as any other candidate would realize the futility of running against him. If he was opposed he would like to see his friends get out and work and not only poll their own vote but see that their neighbour's was polled also in order that the majority might not stop at 999 but roll up to 1,999.

With cheers for the King, the Ross Government and Hon. Mr. Stratton the highly successful meeting came to a close.

IS CRYSTAL GAZING

LATEST FAD OF ANDREW LANG, PROLIFIC AUTHOR AND CRITIC.

He Is a Prime Mover in This Form of Passing the Time in London—A Man Who Does a Stupendous Amount of Work Who Has a Good Bit of Time for Play.

How Andrew Lang, the most prolific of writers, finds time for crystal gazing is beyond comprehension. Crystal gazing, by the way, is London's latest fad, in which Mr. Lang is the prime mover. In an article in a recent monthly review he recommended that everyone should possess a crystal ball and sit down with it in the hope of seeing uncanny pictures. His advice has been taken to the extent that about all London is now crystal gazing.

It is best, he says, to go into a room and sit down with your back to the light. Place the ball at the proper focus on a piece of dark cloth. Try to exclude reflections. Think of everything you please. Stare, say five minutes at the ball. That is all. Mr. Lang says he has known people to see in the crystal things actually happening miles away.

The versatility of Mr. Lang's genius is marvelous. He does more things than anybody else. While it is difficult to understand how he finds time to do it, Mr. Lang certainly does a stupendous amount of work and still has a good bit of time for play. He writes leading articles for one daily newspaper, reviews novels for another and contributes to the magazines. He is the new historian of Scotland. He writes fairy tales, which delight English speaking children the world over. He edits Dickens and Walter Scott, translates Homer and Theocritus and knows Edmund Gosse. He can preface anything—Coleridge's poems, Australian folklore or Hittite inscriptions. He is a poet and parodist, a philologist and anthropologist and a lecturer on natural religion. He discovered Rider Haggard and is the biographer of, Lord Iddlesleigh and Lockhart. He is indeed a veritable literary syndicate. Besides, he knows all about cricket, is a crack golf player and now appears as the high priest of the crystal gazing cult.

Now that the holiday rush is over, there is a calm in the book world, while we wait the coming flood of light literature for summer perusal. History, biography, religion and science appear to be the themes of most of the new books now appearing. Among the historical works is a reprint of Morgan's "League of the Iroquois," with copious additions by Herbert M. Lloyd. The book was published in Rochester in 1851, was originally issued in a small edition, which has long been out of print and extremely rare. The alterations and new matter supplied by Mr. Lloyd consist of corrections made by Mr. Morgan in his own copy of the book, personal reminiscences of Morgan by Mr. Charles T. Porter, who was a collaborator on the original edition, and a short biographical sketch of Morgan, with an account of his work and full notes by the editor. The latter include a large amount of Jesuit material, translated especially for the present edition. Some of this matter had been previously translated, but the greater portion appears for the first time in English, the whole being an original translation. There has also been added considerable matter excluded by Mr. Morgan from the original edition for lack of space, but which subsequently appeared in various volumes long since out of print. "The League of the Iroquois" has long been considered the best of all books relating to the institutions and customs of that people. The present edition will go rapidly out of print. The book is to be published in two editions, one on handsome paper, limited to 300 copies, at $15 net, and a Japan edition, limited to thirty copies, at $30 net. The handsome paper copies are illustrated by sixteen full page plates in color and fifty text cuts. There will also be a portrait of Morgan in photogravure and two large maps in color.

And now we are to have "letters." Those of Napoleon to Josephine, many of them passionate love letters, are being collected by Henry F. Hall, who will translate them into English for a single volume which will be published in England shortly. The letters are linked into consecutive form by a social and historical chronicle of the years in which Napoleon and Josephine were such great figures. This chronicle is compiled from contemporary sources. The book has photogravure portraits of Napoleon and Josephine.

"First Makers of England," a volume by Lady Magnus, wife of Sir Philip Magnus, which is being published by John Murray of London, is the story of Julius Caesar, King Arthur and Alfred the Great. The volume has a frontispiece of Julius Caesar.

EDWARD II. CORONATION.

A Great Occasion Which Was Marred by Many Blunders—Weak Fondness of King for a Favorite.

Edward II. and his Queen Isabella were crowned together at Westminster Abbey on Feb. 24, 1308. The great occasion was marred by many blunders, chief among them being the weak fondness shown by the young Queen to his foreign favorite Piers Gaveston. He was put forward as the principal personage—the principal object of attention and worship, to the great insult of the barons and chief men of the realm. Gaveston only must carry the crown, before the King and Queen, though this was an office to which the great Earls of Lancaster or Hereford might have laid more fitting claim. The nobles were filled with indignation, which Gaveston, instead of endeavoring to disarm by more modest conduct, appeared to take a particular pleasure in aggrevating to the extreme. He appeared in the greatest splendor of attire, and his equipage and retinue outshone them all. It seemed as if every opportunity was sought rather than merely employed, to exalt the favorite, no matter at whatever cost, whatever risk, or whatever alienation of men's minds. The selection of Woodcock, Bishop of Winchester, to crown the King and Queen was an evidence of the unworthy character of the monarch, that prelate having conspired against his Sovereign, Edward I. Owing to the clumsiness of Gaveston's arrangements it was three o'clock before the consecration of the King and Queen was over, and the short wintry days protracted the banquet till dark. The lateness excited the wrath of the hungry nobles, and still more what followed, for the food was badly cooked and ill served, with a total want of ceremony. The Queen experienced many slights, but whether intentional on the part of Gaveston or otherwise is not known. Isabella, however, sent a letter to the King of France, her father, complaining of Gaveston. At this coronation, so great was the pressure of the crowd that Sir John Bakewell, knight, was trodden to death. In course of the ceremony the King offered, first, a pound of gold, made like a king holding a ring in his hand, and afterwards a mark, or eight ounces of gold, formed into a pilgrim putting forth his hand to receive the ring—a conceit suggested by the legend of Edward the Confessor.

An Historical Reminiscence.

Green, after noting the unpopularity of the Government on account of the breaking up by the military force of a reform meeting at Manchester in 1819, says, "The death of George III., Jan. 29, 1820, and the accession of his son, the Prince Regent, as George IV., only added to the general disturbance of men's minds," says Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper. One result was a plot by some desperate men to assassinate the whole Ministry. The head of this conspiracy was a discharged soldier named Arthur Thistlewood, who had been imprisoned for twelve months for annoying Lord Sidmouth. Along with a band of a dozen or more desperadoes it had been arranged that some of them should watch the door of Lord Harrowby's house, where, whilst one of the gang delivered a pretended despatch-box, the rest were to rush in and kill all the King's Ministers while they were at dinner, Lord Sidmouth and Castlereagh being specially marked out for vengeance. From Grosvenor square they were to rush off to the barracks in Hyde Park, and thence to attack the Bank of England and the Tower of London, as they expected that they would have the people with them. Meantime, however, the Government had obtained scent of the intended massacre through a spy, and whilst the assassins were assembled in a stable loft in Cato street they were surprised by a body of Bow Street officers, who made their way up the ladder into the loft. Thistlewood, seeing they were betrayed, stabbed Smithers, one of the police, to the heart, blew out the light, and made his escape. Nine of the conspirators were secured, with a quantity of arms and ammunition. Thistlewood was soon captured, and he and four others were executed. There was no real danger to public order in the conspiracy, which was largely fomented by Government spies.

A Sluggish Inactive Liver

Brings Biliousness, Indigestion and Most Painful Bodily Derangements—The Wonderful Curative Influence of

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Not only is the liver the largest and one of the most important organs in the human body, but when deranged it becomes the source of endless suffering. When the liver is clogged by the inactivity of the kidneys and bowels it, becomes torpid and fails to filter the bile from the blood, thus producing biliousness and a general impairment of the digestive system.

The tongue is coated, the head aches, digestion is imperfect; there is aching of the limbs, and back, feelings of fullness, weight and soreness over the stomach and liver; the eye becomes yellow and jaundiced, and the complexion muddy; the urine is scanty and highly coloured, and the bowels irregular, constipation and looseness alternating. There is little use of treating the liver separately, as it can never be set right until the kidneys and bowels are made active in removing the waste matter from the body. It is for this very reason that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have always proved so wonderfully successful in curing the most chronic cases of liver complaint, biliousness and complicated ailments of the kidney, liver and bowels.

Mr. James Clark, Canseeon, Prince Edward Co., Ont., states:—"Eleven years ago I was taken with pains in my back, settling in my hips and extending up my spine. The pain was very severe and at times almost unendurable, and many days I was not able to do an hour's work. My weight was reduced from 190 to 160 pounds, and though I had consulted many first-class physicians and tried several advertised medicines, I could get no relief.

"At this time my father-in-law told me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and said he knew they would cure me. I secured a box, and great was my surprise when I began to feel better after using only the one box. I continued their use until I had taken four boxes, which made me a sound man, and I also regained my usual weight, 190 pounds. I cannot say too much in favour of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which have done so much for me. I have recommended them to a number of my friends and have never met with one case where they did not meet with good success. My daughter, Mrs. Chas. Philips, has also been cured of a severe stomach trouble by the use of these pills."

Tired Stomachs

Show Little Evidence of Real Disease—They Have Simply Been Overworked and are Tired, Fagged, Played-Out, Exhausted.

Don't try to whip them to greater exertion with stimulants, condiments and spices. Such treatment will only leave them worse in the end.

The proper treatment is something to help digest the food and give the stomach needed rest and at the same time tone up and energize the exhausted organ.

There is one remedy that will do this. It is convenient, safe, cheap, reliable and satisfactory. Once used, the dyspeptic is its advocate and friend. It can be bought at any drug store for fifty cents a box; call for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and you have it.

Mrs. G. H. Crotsley, 538 Washington St., Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'tablets' and she drops everything else and runs for them."

Miss Lelia Dively, 4027 Plummer St., Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish everyone to know how grateful I am for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 50 cent box at the drug store. I am only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that has reached my ailment."

From Mrs. Del. Eldred, Sun Prairie, Wis., "I was taken dizzy very suddenly during the hot weather of the past summer. After ten days of constant dizziness I went to our local physician, who said my liver was torpid and I had over heated my blood; he doctored me for two weeks without much improvement; I finally thought of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I had used long before for various bad feelings) and the first three tablets helped me.

They are easily the best all around family medicine I ever used."

Mr. N. J. Booher, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but to-day I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

BOBBING ON BEEMER'S BEND

By JAMES ALLISON

Copyright, 1901, by A. S. Richardson

"Did you ever meet such a prig?" exclaimed Madge Turner as she jerked at the laces of her skating boots. "If Tom had hunted his class over, he couldn't have found anything more stupid."

"He would say 'could not.' This in a mischievous tone from Katherine Crozier, who was spending the Thanksgiving holiday with Madge at the latter's home in Vermont. "I believe your father is enjoying his visit tremendously." Mr. Turner was principal of the high school.

"Well, I do think," snapped Madge, tugging at the buttons on her fur trimmed jacket, "that in view of the fact that I'm buried alive in this town nine months in the year Tom might have brought home a real jolly college chap, some one who would make things lively for us all."

"You need not complain," suggested Katherine. "You have Harry Martin, and he probably would not welcome any rival"—

"That's quite enough, Kit. When will you learn that there is absolutely nothing between Harry and me"—

"No thanks to Harry for that state of affairs," laughed Katherine as the two girls left the room.

A party of merry young people had gathered round the great fireplace in the hall, waiting for Madge and Katherine to join them on a bobbing trip to Beemer's hill. Madge ran out to the kitchen for a farewell word with her mother, who was never happier than when entertaining her children's friends. Tom was standing near the table enjoying a hot doughnut, and as Mrs. Turner disappeared in the direction of the hall laden with a plate of the toothsome cakes Madge turned to him impatiently.

"Who is to ride with your beloved Mr. Brome?"

Tom turned to his sister in surprise.

"Madge, that doesn't sound like you. I hoped you'd show him the courtesy"—

"Don't preach, brother mine. I treat him decently when I'm with him, but to save my life I don't understand why you brought him home for the vacation when there are so many other chaps to choose from."

"So long as you put the question so bluntly, I'll tell you why, Madge—because while most of the fellows in my class could go home for their holidays Brome felt that he ought not spend the money for the trip to Illinois. Then I knew he wanted to come. When my little sister came down to the junior prom this fall, Brome thought she was the most charmingly unaffected and gentle mannered girl he had ever met, and with his usual frankness confided this opinion to me. Now"—

Madge's cheeks flamed brilliantly, and the twinkle faded from Tom's eyes.

"Madge, dear, it isn't always the fellow who talks the most brilliantly, who goes in for sports and social gayeties, who finally scores best at college. There's lots in Brome that neither you nor I have ever fathomed, and I'm proud to call him my friend. He's quiet and rather delicate and not half so stylish as Harry Martin, but"—

"That will do," exclaimed Madge curtly. "Never mind the list of virtues. The crowd is waiting."

But when she swept into the great hall the flush had not entirely faded from her cheeks. It seemed to Charley Brome that she had never looked so pretty as at this very moment.

He trudged along at her side, pleased because she had quietly fallen behind the merry throng to talk about some new fittings for Tom's room at college. Brome thought it must be very delightful to have a sister to make the dainty knicknacks which somehow never found their way into his den. His mother was managing a small farm in Illinois and with three other boys to clothe and send to school had little time for fancy work. Madge tried to think that she was simply doing her duty by her brother's guest, but before the mile to Beemer's hill had been covered she became deeply interested in her companion. If he did not belong to the football eleven, he knew the record of every man in the team. If he had never tobogganed or helped to build an ice castle or played polo, he could talk entertainingly on the latest new books, of which he seemed to possess a surprising number.

But after the first trip on the bobsled the illusion, as she termed it, seemed to fade again. He was just what she had first pronounced him—a prig; more than that—yes, a coward!

Beemer's hill was the most noted coasting ground in the county. It was a public highway, steep and smooth, with a gorgeous incline that kept the sleds plunging downward at an exhilarating speed. To be sure, wiseacres in the neighborhood had long predicted that some day reckless coasters would meet with an accident at the bend below Mr. Beemer's house, where the road rounded above a great cliff. But Tom Turner's bob was the finest in all the country round, heavily weighted to give it speed and steered by a well adjusted wheel, and the young people on this particular morning boarded it without a tremor.

Tom steered, and Madge sat well to the rear and in front of Brome. Several times during the mad ride she felt his hand close almost convulsively on her arm, but she fairly reveled in the wild moment. She was strongly athletic in her tastes and afraid of nothing.

When the party reached the brow of the hill for the second plunge, Brome looked very grave, and while he made no effort to induce the others to give up the trip he firmly declined to make it again. Instead he would build a fire and have it jolly and comfortable on their return. Madge gave Katherine a significant glance, but she could not catch her brother Tom's eye.

On their return from the run they found Brome chatting pleasantly with Harry Martin, who had driven over in his smart new cutter. Katherine and Madge sprang into the sleigh and cuddled down under the fur robes, while Harry stood beside them, his hand resting lightly on the reins.

Suddenly a shout of laughter from the group around the brushwood fire startled the horse, and he plunged forward, jerking the reins from Harry's hands. Straight down the hill he tore, headed for Beemer's bend and the sheer cliff. What if his foot should slip on the bend!

The two girls did not scream, and Madge made a vain effort to snatch at the reins dragging on the ground. Her brother groaned and suddenly threw his hand in front of his face. That was why he did not see a slender, lithe figure throw itself on the bobsled and send it shooting after the runaway. It was Brome, skillfully steering the great sled so that it kept between the runaway and the outer edge of the road. The two vehicles, the swaying cutter and the jerking bobsled, round the fatal cliff, with just a few inches to spare on its edge for the brave fellow who handles the wheel. Now the horse gains, but the road is safe and level. Brome steers his unwieldly sled to the inside of the road. He gains once more. As he shoots past the cutter he leans forward and clutches the reins. The sled darts from under him. He is on his feet, sawing on the lines, but with the blood flowing from a cut on his head.

* * * * * * * *

In the twilight Madge Turner sat by the lounge in her father's library. Brome, with an aching head and a bruised body, was lying there contentedly watching the dancing flames in the grate.

"Would you mind," suggested Madge in a subdued voice, "telling me why, if you were not afraid to take that awful ride after us, you would not board the bobsled for fun?"

"Because," said Brome, a slight flush spreading over his pale cheeks—"because my mother has sacrificed a great deal to send me to college. I want to repay it some day, and I have no right to run unnecessary risks"—

"Oh!" said Madge, with an eloquence which only a woman can throw into her voice.

Katherine appeared at the door half an hour later and remarked:

"If you're going to the church social with us, Madge, you'd better get dressed."

"I—I guess I won't go. Let Tom go. I—I've promised Mr. Brome to read to him awhile."

"Yes," assented Tom, his head appearing above Katherine's in the doorway, "and I think the rest of us had better go. The more quiet old Charley is the better."

The Fabulous Basilisk.

The basilisk was the most famous of the many fabulous monsters of mediæval folklore. According to the popular notion, it was hatched by a toad from an egg laid by the cock of the common barnyard fowl. In the ancient picture books it was usually represented as an eight limbed serpent or dragon, sometimes with and sometimes without wings. Its name is derived from basiliscos, meaning a little king, and was applied because the creature was figured with a circle of white spots on its head which much resembled a crown. The cockatrice, a species of basilisk, besides having a crown possessed a comb which was an exact counterpart of the cock's.

Pliny assures us that the basilisk had a voice which "struck terror to the hearts of men, beasts and serpents." The Bible classes it with the lion, the serpent and the dragon as one of the most formidable creatures. Old writers, Pliny, Bascho and others, say that its bite was mortal in every case, that its breath was suffocating and that no plant would grow in the vicinity of its lair. Its dead body was often used, suspended in belfries, to prevent swallows from building there.

Castles In the Air.

Yet I dream my dreams and attend to my castles in Spain. I have so much property there that I could not in conscience neglect it. All the years of my youth and the hopes of my manhood are stored away, like precious stones, in the vaults, and I know that I shall find everything convenient, elegant and beautiful when I come into possession. As the years go by I am not conscious that my interest diminishes. If I see that age is subtly sifting his snow into the dark hair of my Prue, I smile, contented, for her hair, dark and heavy as when I first saw it, is all carefully treasured in my castles in Spain. If I feel her arm more heavily leaning upon mine, as we walk around the squares, I press it closely to my side, for I know that the easy grace of her youth's motion will be restored by the elixir of that Spanish air. If her voice sometimes falls less clearly from her lips, it is no less sweet to me, for the music of her voice's prime fills, freshly as ever, those Spanish halls. If the light I love fades a little from her eyes, I know that the glances she gave me in her youth are the eternal sunshine of my castles in Spain.—George W. Curtis in "Prue and I."

Special From Norwich, Ont.

The recovery of Mr. Norman Batty, hardware merchant, one of Norwich's oldest and most successful citizens has excited much comment. For years Mr. Batty has been an unceasing sufferer from Catarrhal Asthma and although no end of time and money was spent relief was not obtained until Mr. Batty commenced Catarrhozone treatment which perfectly cured him. This case is only equalled by that of Mrs. Bannon, wife of J. J. Bannon, druggist, who was also cured of Asthma and Hay Fever by Catarrhozone after 30 years' suffering. Fully a hundred persons in this town have been cured of Catarrhal troubles by Catarrhal troubles by Catarrhozone which is a remarkable proof of its value. Two months' treatment, Price $1. Small size 25c. Sold by all druggists or by mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Inventor of Stoves.

While Benjamin Franklin was born in Boston, he can be said to belong to Pennsylvania as truly as does William Penn, who was born in England, but came here, as did Franklin, from Boston. And how many people in Philadelphia—or elsewhere in the United States—know that we are indebted largely to Franklin for the stoves which a century ago began to replace the fireplaces and more crude arrangements for grates warming our houses?

The Franklin stove, which in its days of early development was merely a portable iron fireplace, with open front, in which wood was burned to heat an apartment, was given its name because it was invented by Benjamin Franklin and was really the connecting link between the rude fireplaces of the last century and the stoves of today.

Diamonds From Volcanoes.

It is frequently observed that some of the most destructive and fearful agencies of nature are at the same time lavish in their gifts for the benefit of man. A volcano seems the very personification of the power of devastation, and yet, according to investigations, it seems probable that we may owe our possession of the gem that has in every age dazzled the imagination more than any other, the diamond, to the productive energy of volcanoes

The English Pheasant.

The pheasant in England, if not exactly indigenous, is certainly effectually naturalised and, though originally from the Caucasus, may after a thousand or so years of acclimatization be looked upon as truly British. Tradition has it that the pheasant was brought into Europe by the Argonauts. It was probably introduced into England by the Romans. It certainly preceded the Normans. "Pesant hen and pesant cock" appeared in King Harold's bill of fare. Thomas a Becket is popularly supposed to have dined off a pheasant the day he was murdered.

In the time of Edward I. the price of a pheasant was fourpence, while woodcock (it makes one's mouth water) were but 3 farthings a pair. Two hundred years later pheasants had risen to twelvepence apiece and woodcocks to a penny, while snipes could still be had at threepence a dozen.

As long ago as the time of Henry VIII. the pheasant, as it still does, apparently led to a "tip," though on a somewhat lower scale than now. "Rewardes for bryngyng of p'sents" appears in L'Estrange's "Household Book:" "It'm to Mr. Asheley svnt for bryngyng of a fesaunt cocke and liij. woodcocks ye XVIIJth daye of Octobre, in reward iiijd."

Odd Club Names.

There are a number of societies in the world that bear strange names, but probably one of the most curious was a club founded in 1735 by an English actor. It was called the Sublime Society of Beefsteaks and had among its members the Prince of Wales and other royal personages. They met in the painting room of the Covent Garden theater and dined upon beefsteaks. The club was in existence for more than a hundred years and became quite noted because of its odd customs. Another strange name was that of the Scriblerus club, which Swift founded in 1714 and to which Pope, Gay and other literary men belonged.

Imitations

of Dodd's Kidney Pills are legion. The box is imitated, the outside coating and shape of the pills are imitated and the name—Dodd's Kidney Pills is imitated. Imitations are dangerous. The original is safe. Dodd's Kidney Pills have a reputation. Imitators have none or they wouldn't imitate. So they trade on the reputation of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Do not be deceived. There is only one DODD'S. Dodd's is the original. Dodd's is the name to be careful about—

The doctor sometimes passes a harder sentence than the judge. But the sentence of the doctor is more often set aside or overruled than is that of the judge. In the case of Mrs. Reycraft given below, the doctor sentenced her to about eighteen years of physical punishment and misery. But she rebelled against the sentence and commenced the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In a few weeks she was a well woman.

It's a peculiarity of the cures effected by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they are generally cures of chronic diseases. A woman suffers with diseases peculiar to her sex, she takes medical treatment, gets no better, and has no hope held out to her of improvement. Then in her discouragement she turns to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and finds a prompt and lasting cure. "Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Four years ago my health began to fail," writes Mrs. Nellie M. Reycraft, of Glenwood, Washington Co., Oregon. "I had a very heavy dragging and weight in the region of the uterus, pain in back and loins, could not lift anything heavy, rest at night very poor; stomach deranged One physician said I was overworked, another said I had congestion and falling of uterus. He treated me nine months and said I would not be well until I had passed the change of life. I was only twenty-seven years old then. I became discouraged, and began using Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Took a teaspoonful three times a day; began feeling better right away. Am using my third bottle now, and feel I am in good health. I believe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has restored me to health. If suffering women would give it a fair trial they would give it praise."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHURCH CHIMES.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

Mr. James Browne gave a splendid interpretation of "The Palms," in All Saints' yesterday morning, and in the evening he rendered the solo "Jerusalem," exceedingly well, the choir joining in the chorus with good effect.

ST. PAUL'S.

At St. Paul's church yesterday morning Mr. Harry Milne sang "The Palms," in excellent manner. In the evening Mr. James Dawson, assisted by the choir, sang, "Saviour, When Night Involves The Skies."

GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

The music at George street Methodist church yesterday, at both services, was appropriate to the special missionary services. The morning anthem was "Hast Thou Not Known," by Carl Pleuger, and during offertory the solo and chorus "Jesus Saves" was given with good effect by Mr. G. W. Mulligan and the choir. In the evening two anthems were sung by the choir—"The Radiant Morn," and "Zion," by Rodney Rees.

At the George street Methodist church last evening the cause of Foreign Missions was ably upheld by Dr. Hendery son, of St. James' church, Toronto. His eloquent address was a masterly effort, and appealed strongly to the sympathy of the large congregation that filled the church. Sympathy is the greatest power that sways mankind, and a few of the speaker's remarks by which he awakened that power in his large audience last night are as follows,—

What right have business men of today to subscribe to the cause of Foreign Missions? The advanced position in which the world now stands is a direct result of Foreign Missions, for if missionaries had never started out, the world to-day would be peopled by cannibals. Consider Rome, when in its pomp and splendor, and the zenith of its power, it lived to itself, and did not know the meaning of Foreign Missions. At that time three-quarters of its inhabitants were slaves. Every British subject was a slave to some Roman, and a mere handful of men ruled all the rest with a stern, iron hand. Women were only toys, and in fact the whole picture presented in those ages is too dark for us to behold, and too awful to comprehend. If the full history of that darkened age was to-day revealed, the Christian world would be shocked beyond measure to think that such conditions could really exist. But the world gradually grew better, and in time missionaries found their way abroad, and flowers sprung up where before only thistles grew. England, at that period the most insignificant land on the face of the globe, speedily developed under the direction of Christian missionaries, and to-day it waves a golden sceptre over all other nations, and controls 70 per cent. of all the commercial trade that is carried on. It has no water power, no mines of gold or silver, no vineyards, and few indeed are its natural advantages, yet consider it to-day—there is more machinery moving to the square yard in England than [illegible] any other country; its financial [illegible]lth extends to every quarter of the [illegible]be; its people drink wine by the tub[illegible], and it leads the way in all lines [illegible] national significance. What other country can compare with it?

The speaker concluded with a vivid word picture of lands where Christian influence does not prevail, and described scenes that it had been his lot to witness. The congregation were exhorted to extend a helping hand to those who sit in darkness, knowing that we will not be helped ourselves until we have endeavoured to help others.

The collections during during the day were in aid of Foreign Missions, and amounted to between four and five hundred dollars.

STOCK MARKETS.

(The Haight & Freese Company—W. F. Nelson, Local Agent.)

New York, March 24th.

This week will be broken by two holidays at the close, and this will have an effect upon the trading during the first four days. Money and crop conditions will govern the price movement of stocks, but aside from the uncertainty regarding a strike of the coal miners, there is nothing unfavourable to influence any selling movement. It is still a professional market, but the big operators are returning to town, and after the holidays we look for a more active and better market. Crop reports are encouraging, and the market to-day, while somewhat irregular in its movements, should on the whole be strong and show improvement. Five per cent. money is not a bear card, and stocks are held by strong hands, and are not to be shaken out on any trader's movement. STP., UP., Southern Pac., Steel Pfd., Mop., and the Southern stocks are slated for higher prices, but temporarily purchases should be made only for quick turns and moderate profits. Leave the specialties alone.

Town Topics.—Belief that peace negotiations are progressing in Africa is helping all markets. No corn failure likely this year. Copious rains in Kansas and Nebraska. Grangers will go up. We look for the Pacific shares, Ln. and Atch., to get a move on. The Baker Moore millionares are bulling RI. for 200. The short interest is large in Bo. Readings are a cinch, if one will only exercise patience. Car Foundry, Cti. and Rubber Goods are going higher.

ENGLISH MEN AND WOMEN.

The Girls Are Growing Stalwart While the Men Are Deteriorating.

"Do you see that giantess?" said a famous medical man recently, as he called attention to an unusually tall woman in Sloane street.

She was walking across the street with the stride of a Life Guardsman. Her head was erect, her cheeks glowed with the evidences of pure, fresh, buoyant health, and her height was 6 feet at least.

"Now," said the physician, "look at this one and that, and those two and another just stopping to get in that ridiculous little brougham. They are all tall and athletic looking and active. Look about you among this throng of handsomely dressed shoppers. Do you see any midgets among them?"

There were, indeed, few short, under-sized women. There was, however, a strange predominance of tall, straight-stepping, broad-shouldered ladies, and the great authority who had first called attention to them made a startling prophecy regarding future femininity.

"Fifty years from now," he stated, "the women of the leisured classes—that is, those women whose occupations do not keep them constantly within doors—will be six-footers. You see the evidence before you. Year after year women have been growing taller and stronger, save those who work in offices and factories. They are exempt from my prophecy."

"What about them?" was asked.

"Ah, that is difficult to say," replied the doctor, "but I do not think I am far off in stating that inddor women will become shorter and less robust. I have given much study to this subject during the past ten years. I have made minute investigation and careful tabulation.

"I have seen the golf-playing, hockey-driving, bicycle-riding girl sprout upward inch by inch year by year, and, on the other hand, I have noted that the lack of air and exercise have had a correspondingly deteriorating effect upon those poor things who are perforce obliged to work indoors.

"Open windows would do much for them. In fact, I think it would be best if all employees were made to provide fresh air, either by way of windows or air tubes. Posterity demands fresh air. Here in the street is your proof, for all these strong, tall Englishwomen are airgrown.

"I have often noted," said the prophetic medical expert, "that foreigners say the tall Englishwomen is vapid, brainless, lifeless, all muscle and no mind. Now, I am prepared to disprove that. Where in all the world are women more intelligent? In Germany? Perhaps in the lore of the cookery book. In France? Yes, if you confine the question to the art of the needle.

"No, the charge may have been correct twenty-five years ago when the gawky, ill-dressed, heavy-footed English girl invaded the continent with her walking stick, her mahlstick, and her 'par ploo ker kangs secongs dong l'o compreneny?' but now, since this blot on the nineteenth century's fair fame has gone into the Ewigkett the tall lithe Englishwoman, who eats her meals rationally and as much as she likes, has gained not only in muscle and bone, but in brain as well.

"And what about the man of fifty years hence?" was asked.

"A great bulging head, a set of useless legs, a pair of electric glow lamps for eyes, and the whole huddled up in a new-fangled 'tupenny tube,' hustling frantically to Throgmorton Street," was the reply.—London Mail.

Smoking in Church.

Smoking in church is a Dutch custom. Dutchmen are such inveterate smokers that one of them is rarely seen without his pipe. He finds himself unable to deprive himself of the indulgence, even for the short period of a church service. A similar practice exists in several churches in South America. Smoking in churches in Great Britain is said to have been prevalent at the end of the sixteenth and the beginning of the seventeenth century. At one time smoking was carried to such an excess in Seville Cathedral that the chapter applied to the Pope for power to repress the abuse. Urban VIII., yielding to their wish, issued a bull, which was promulgated January 30, 1642. In Wales smoking in church was indulged in as late as 1850. In one church the communion-table stood in the aisle, and the farmers were in the habit of putting their hats upon it, and when the service began they lighted their pipes and smoked without any thought of irreverence in the act.

More Proof.

Some time ago we drew attention to the wonderful theory of a cryptogramist, that Shakespeare wrote the Psalms, because the forty-sixth word from the beginning of the Forty-sixth Psalm was "Shake," while the forty-sixth word from the end was "spear," the number forty-six being obtained by sliding the final "e" of Shakespeare, which leaves four vowels and six consonants. Further proof is now adduced by a correspondent of a contemporary, who finds that in the first line of the second verse of this Psalm the word "will" occurs, while in the first line of the second verse from the end is "I am," making, of course, "William." What more could be needed?—London Globe.

What the Indian Eats.

The typical Indian home of today consists of a mud chinked log shack, a tepee or two, usually a hay barn and sometimes a corral. As a general rule, they live in squalor, yet many Indians possess nice homes and enjoy well cooked meals from neatly set tables. But the ordinary Indian eats meats largely of questionable character. He delights in dog stew and other savory dishes. He has excellent teeth and an envied digestion.

Indian children are shy and close mouthed to strangers, but the squaws are often loquacious. Their doors are always open to visitors. The red man has an aversion for soldiers and frankly tells them that he does not fear them. Although he possesses an excellent constitution, disease finds in the Indian an easy victim.

"Minne Giggle" Falls.

"Some years ago I visited an old friend of mine in Minneapolis," said a well known Milwaukee railroad man, "and he spent considerable time taking me about to show me the many interesting places in that interesting city. One day he took me out to see the famous Minnehaha falls, and after I had feasted my eyes on this beautiful work of nature he invited me to accompany him down the gulch through which the little stream flows—at least half a mile—and there called my attention to a little cascade that is an exact miniature of Minnehaha falls.

"'What do you call this cascade?' I asked of my friend.

"'We call this Minne Giggle.'"

The Artist and the Critic.

Sidney Cooper, the English artist, happening one day to visit the Royal academy, where some of his works were on exhibition, while a couple of critics were examining the pictures, strolled up to where they were standing. At that moment the younger of the two critics exclaimed, "Any machine could turn out sheep like that!"

Mr. Cooper put his hand in his pocket, produced his card and, handing it to the newspaper man, said, with gravity, "If you will kindly send that machine to this address when completed, I'll send a check for $1,000 to the institute for decayed journalists!"

Soup by the Pound.

In China liquids are sold by weight and grain by measure. John buys soup by the pound and cloth by the foot. A Chinaman never puts his name outside his shop, but paints instead a motto or a list of his goods on his vertical signboard. Some reassuring remark is frequently added, such as "One word hall," "A child two feet high would not be cheated." Every single article has to be bargained for, and it is usual for the customer to take his own measure and scales with him.

THE LOCAL SPRING ASSIZES.

The Grand Jury Makes its Presentment.

The Case of Card vs. the Dickson Company was Settled—Wasson vs. Douglas.

At the assizes which are now in progress before the Honourable Mr. Justice Lount, yesterday afternoon was taken up with the case of Card vs. The Dickson Company.

The plaintiff Philip S. Card is a farmer residing in the township of Cavendish, in the county of Peterborough, and the defendant is a company carrying on business in the town and county of Peterborough. The plaintiff claims that he was at the time of the trespass complained of, and is at the present time, the owner of lot 12 in the 9th concession of Cavendish, and that the defendants by their employees and workmen entered upon the said lands and cut upon said lands and carried away therefrom a large quantity of timber and trees, the property of the plaintiff. The plaintiff claims that the defendants were duly notified of their trespass and requested to desist, but they refused to do so. He asks an injunction restricting the defendants from further trespass and damages and costs in the action.

The defendants claimed that they have for a number of years been in possession of lots 11 and 12, in the 10th concession and lot 11 in the ninth concession of the township of Cavendish, that the boundaries are unmarked, never having been defined or laid out on the ground, except as the parties hereto, or their agents may have defined or laid out the same for their own purposes, and if any trespass has been committed by the defendants the same was committed unintentionally and in mistake as to the true boundaries of the said lands. The defendants also claimed that the plaintiff entered upon their lands, and took timber, and without admitting the plaintiff's cause of action, and for the sake of peace, and of avoiding further litigation, they paid into Court $100, contending that this amount was sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's cause. They also entered a counter claim for damages. Some little evidence was taken in the matter but when court resumed this morning counsel announced that a settlement had been arrived at between the parties concerned.

R. M. Dennistoun and E. A. Peck for plaintiff; G. H. Watson, K.C., and G. M. Roger for defendants.

THE PRESENTMENT.

The Grand Jury this morning made its presentment which was as follows:

The Honourable Mr. Justice Lount,—

May it please your Lordship, the Grand Jurors beg leave to present their report as follows;

In the first place we have to offer congratulations on the absence of crime in this country, as shown by the fact that there was no criminal business to demand our attention at the present assizes, and we are sure you will join in the congratulations upon a fortunate condition, which perhaps indicates a higher tone of popular morality, conjoined doubtless with an abundance of employment, which has a tendency to lessen the temptation to the more petty criminal offences.

Your Grand Jurors have visited and carefully inspected the jail and jail premises, and found everything well kept and in proper order. But your Jurors regret to note among the inmates some persons for whom a jail is not a proper place of confinement. These include one insane person, an invalid, suffering, it is said, from paralysis, and a young woman recovering, or rather not satisfactorily recovering, from confinement in child birth. These two latter cases are more fit for hospital treatment than for confinement as criminals in a jail, and your Jurors would recommend that immediate steps be taken to provide care for those unfortunate persons.

In this connection your Jurors desire to heartily agree with your suggestion as to a House of Refuge. Time after time Grand Jurors have urged this matter, but so far the town and county authorities have failed to unite on any basis of agreement, looking to the provision of so necessary an institution as a House of Refuge.

Your Jurors also visited the Nicholls Hospital, the St. Joseph's Hospital, the House of Providence, and the Protestant Home. All these institutions were found in apparently good condition, sanitary and otherwise, and the several staffs seemed to be doing their work faithfully. At the Nicholls Hospital it was found that several improvements in the internal arrangements of the building have been made. There exists however, one serious want, which we would recommend should receive attention. There should, it seems to us, be provided an insolation ward or wing for the reception and treatment of infectious diseases. Such provision, we believe, does not exist at either hospital, and as a ward or wing of the kind named is necessary for giving the best treatment, we would be glad to have your Lordship's approval of our suggestion that such a necessary adjunct should be provided as soon as practicable.

Your Jurors also visited the Children's Shelter, maintained under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society, and found everything in a very satisfactory condition. The children seemed to be well cared for in every way.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

On behalf of the Grand Jurors,

J. J. McBAIN, Foreman.

Sereneness IN SUITS and MILLINERY

The Millinery and Ready-to-wear trade promises to be a very large trade this Easter. Good Friday coming so early most folk thought it wasn't necessary to have a new hat or a new frock, which would altogether likely look out of season. But not so. Who can remember more favourable Easter weather? We venture no one—and it seems to be growing brighter each day and hour; and the new hat and that new frock has to be procured, and quick too. Those in best shape to do big trade are going to be winners. We're in the race for the Millinery and Easter fitting-out things. Increased facilities are going to work in our favour. Increased room is helping us to more judiciously display the perfection of art that abounds in every quarter of our enlarged and spacious show rooms.

MILLINERY.—The work of experts. The modelling and the work of deft fingers have created some "dreams" for head decoration. While sweetly pretty, yet not marred by unreasonably high prices.

COSTUMES containing excellent ideas and new thoughts in styles. It's a wonder how those chaps get all these new ideas into their noddle. We are showing some smart models in New York-made Suits. They'll be ideas for you. Might as well see them.

SKIRTS made from well-thought-of materials into up-to-date conceits, which find favour on the American side. All these Skirts are Sutcliffe-made Skirts, ensuring proper widths and thoroughly made garments, possessing a fullness that goes for style and not for how much cloth we can save. We have the smart Skirt at $2.75 to the elaborate at $8.50.

OTTAWA DEPUTATION

To Oppose Legislation in Favour of the Bell Telephone Co.

The Town Very Nearly had to go Without Having its Streets Watered This Season—The Frontage Tax System Advocated.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of deciding what action should be taken in reference to a Bill which is now before the Dominion House, and which if passed will give the Bell Telephone Company power to erect poles and wires on the streets of any municipality without reference to the wishes of those concerned.

A letter was read from Mayor Howland, of Toronto, urging Peterborough to send delegates to join a deputation to Ottawa from the various cities and towns, which will oppose the passing of the Bill on Wednesday.

On motion of Ald. Batten and Rush, Mayor Denne and Ald. Morrison will join the deputation.

Ald. Batten reported on the condition of the town water-carts. The matter of their repair was left in his hands.

The matter of advertising for tenders for street watering then came up, when Ald. Best advocated the adoption of the frontage tax system to defray the cost incidental to street watering. He stated that the cost promised to be excessive this year through the action of the Water Commissioners in taxing the town $1,000, for the water used on the streets, and he knew there would be great objection on the part of the taxpayers to paying so much for street watering when so few people derived any benefit from it.

Ald. Corkery stated that he was sure seven-eights of the people were benefitted. If the cart did not pass in front of their premises still they were benefitted by walking over the watered streets on their way to the business portion of the town.

Ald. Best said he knew of whole districts in the town where the people did not come up to George street once in three weeks.

Mayor Denne hardly knew a farmer that didn't come into town that often. In regard to the extra $1,000 charged by the Water Commissioners, he should that it was merely a matter of bookkeeping being charged to the town in one case and credited in another. The money all came back to the town again unless some extraordinary expenditure arose which was at this time unforseen.

Ald. Clinkscale wanted to see the frontage tax system adopted in paying for the street watering

Mayor Denne pointed out that in this event the people would have to petition for street watering if they wanted it, and the districts could not be arranged at so late a date. It would mean that there would be no street watering this year at all.

Ald. Clinkscale thought the people would get along just as well without it.

Ald. Corkery and Edgcumbe moved that the Town Clerk be authorized to advertise for tenders for the street watering as usual.

Ald. Clinkscale moved that the portion of the town watered be west of Water street, north of King, east of Aylmer, and south of Murray, and that the cost be met by the general tax.

Mayor Denne spoke of the trouble that would ensue if discrimination of this nature was shown.

Ald. Best and McGregor moved as an amendment that the street watering be done under the frontage tax system, on account of the action of the Commissioners in charging for the water, and that only such streets be watered as are petitioned for, as provided by law.

This amendment was lost and the original motion made by Ald. Corkery and Edgcumbe was passed.

Ald. Best then warned the council of the need of preparing to meet a demand from the Town Trust Commissioners which would exceed by twenty-five or twenty-six thousand dollars any previous demand.

Mayor Denne stated that this, like the demand of the Water Commissioners, was purely a matter of bookkeeping. The demand would be made in connection with the purchase of the waterworks, and the town would pay the money over only to receive it again from the Waterworks.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE REFERENDUM.

We have received a number of letters, one of them childishly insulting, expressing disappointment that we have not joined those who want the temperance people to repudiate altogether the referendum offered by Mr. Ross. If the conditions of it can be improved we shall be very glad, but if the whole matter should be shelved at the request of the temperance people we should fear that it would take a very long time to resuscitate the question at all. So far as we can gather, the only referendum which our mentors would consider a fair one would be one under a simple majority of whatever votes might be polled. Suppose these same mentors to be in a judicial position, wanting to find the opinion of the people on some subject, on neither side of which they were personally enlisted, they would probably say that some provision should be made that there should be something more than an insignificent vote. A referendum vote recently taken in Montreal on an important financial issue did not draw out half a dozen votes in the most intelligent ward in the city. Surely, a Government wanting to have the substantial backing of the community in essaying new and untried legislation may demand some some greater evidence of zeal than this. Granting, then, that there should be some limit to the vote's insignificance, the only question that remains is what that limit should be. We have had no hint from any of these repudiators of the referendum how they for their part, would propose to secure a reasonable responsible vote. We think that a Government which really wanted a large vote would have, if possible, arranged that the prohibition vote should be taken at some time when the voters would have other attractions to the polls, though it must be admitted that less weight would attach to the additional vote evoked by that process. There is one thing, however, about the attitude of these ardent prohibitionists which is incomprehensible to us. While declaring that every one who stays away from the polls will be counted in the negative, they threaten if the referendum cannot be annulled to add themselves to that number. They may rest assured that if the vote is taken, whatever defects may attach to the method, the attitude of the parties towards prohibition for many years to come will certainly be governed by the result of it, not necessarily by whether it reaches Mr. Ross' prescribed requirement, but by the proportions of the vote and by the evidence that can be drawn from it as to the strength of prohibition sentiment in the Province. They accuse Mr. Ross of playing into the hands of the liquor interest, and yet they propose themselves to do exactly what the liquor men would particularly wish them to do.—Montreal Witness.

A TORY SNAP VERDICT

Childish Conduct of Conservative Members of the Senate.

ANOTHER CONTINGENT RUMOR

Mr. Borden, Leader of the Opposition, Questions the Finance Minister About a Newspaper Rumor, But Mr. Fielding Declines to Discuss Rumors in the Newspapers—Many Questions Answered.

Ottawa, March 25.—The Conservatives in the Senate obtained a snap verdict yesterday afternoon. It was on a motion by Senator Landry, calling for a return showing the minutes of the meeting of the special committee held on February 21st to strike the standing committees. The motion was an unusual one, as the Conservative leader himself admitted, but Senator Landry wanted to find out how the members of the Striking Committee voted on the occasion mentioned, and any other information that could be gleaned as to changes in the constitution of the committees. The Government leader declined to agree to the motion, and on a division it was carried by a vote of 24 yeas to 20 nays. The total vote was, therefore, 44 out of a House of 81. With 37 Senators absent, including many Ministerialists, the Opposition were able to carry their point. No importance attaches to the division, but it affords another illustration of the resentment felt by the Conservatives at the control of the Upper House passing from their hands. It was eminently a proper thing for the Government supporters, now that they are in the majority, to secure adequate representation on the standing committees. The Conservatives, however, would still like to predominate in the committees, although they are in a minority in the Senate, and in a spirit of pique they are asking why Opposition members should have been replaced by Liberals. This conduct is equally as childish as that which led the Conservative members of the Striking Committee to stand aloof whilst their Liberal confreres drew up the standing committees. The Ministerialists have so far behaved with generosity towards their opponents, but they cannot be expected to display magnanimity if the desire is shown to thwart their wishes on every possible occasion. The report of the Striking Committee was adopted by the Senate last week. The time to have raised objection was when the report came up for adoption, and no good or useful purpose was to be served by reverting to the past and endeavoring to ascertain why such and such a thing was done. The division upon Senator Landry's motion seems to have been unexpected by the Ministerialists, several of whom are absent from their places. Yesterday's division, therefore, carries with it a moral so obvious as not to need pointing out. For the remainder of the session, or until the Liberal majority in the Senate grows larger, it would be well to look out for surprises. Hon. Mr. Perley asked the Government if they have provided for or are going to give the Government of the Northwest Territories a larger grant of money to carry on the administration of affairs then they did last year, and, if so, what amount? Hon. Mr. Scott could not answer till the supplementary estimates were brought down. Hon. Mr. Perley said it was unfair to expect that the Government of the Northwest Terrftories could meet the expenses consequent upon increased immigration on the old allowance. Last year there was a shortage, and this year there would be a greater one. Mr. Haultain had said if they did not get a larger Federal allowance they must have provincial autonomy.

DR. PITCHER HELPS AN OLD MAN.

The Kidney Weakness, Irritability and Frequent Rising at Night, all Cured by Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

People advanced in years are so prone to kidney trouble. The filters of the body become clogged up and out of order after years of incessant work keeping the blood pure.

There is too frequent urination, disturbing the rest at night, pain or scalding, weakness of the bladder, non-retention of the urine, and severe pain in the back, making stooping or rising a painful operation.

For these conditions there is no remedy so effective as Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

They make old people rejoice in renewed strength and vigour of the whole urinary system, take the pain and stiffeness out of the back, and permit undisturbed rest at night.

Mr. Joseph Bippon, 503 Dundas street, Woodstock, Ont., who has been in the book and stationery business for over thirty-five years, says: "With people reaching my age, sixty-seven years, more or less backache and kidney trouble is not uncommon. For over a year I have had more or less trouble and irritation in that direction, which I lay to the long hours on my feet of years past. Wishing to put an end to a trouble that was growing progressively worse, I procured a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and am pleased to say they are satisfactory in every respect. I did not quite finish the one bottle I got, yet all pain and irritation are completely gone. I am pleased to recommend them to others."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a bottle or three bottles for $1.25 at all druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

ANOTHER CONTINGENT.

Mr. Fielding Declines to Discuss Newspaper Rumors Thereanent.

Ottawa, March 25.—Just before the House adjourned last night Mr. Fielding, in response to a question by Mr. Borden, leader of the Opposition, respecting the rumor that another contingent is to be equipped and sent to South Africa, said it would obviously be inconvenient for the Government to be held responsible for newspaper reports, and declined to discuss the question. The budget debate occupied the greater portion of the day, Mr. Bell (Pictou), Mr. Johnston (Cape Breton), Dr. Sproule and Mr. Davis (Saskatchewan) participating. Incidentally in the course of discussion upon a private bill, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick questioned the soundness of the position taken by the Bell Telephone Company, that they were not subject to the control of municipalities so far as work upon the public streets was concerned.

Bills Introduced.

Previous to the House going on with the budget debate the following private bills were introduced: Respecting the Central Counties Railway Co.; respecting the Canadian Pacific Railway Company; to incorporate the Ross Rifle Company; respecting the Dominion Cotton Mills Co.; to incorporate the Pacific Northern and Yukon Railway Co.; to incorporate the North Shore Power, Railway and Navigation Co.; respecting the Ottawa, Brockville and St. Lawrence Railway Co.; to incorporate the Knapp Tubular Steamship Co..

The Minister of Justice introduced a bill to abolish compulsory pilotage for vessels drawing less than 16 feet and plying between the Great Lakes and Gulf of St. Lawrence ports.

Another bill introduced by the Minister of Justice is to provide for assistant judges of the Supreme Court of Canada in cases where a quorum of judges cannot be had, either because of the absence of one or more of the judges, or the disqualification of a judge to sit because of previous connection with a case. The object is to prevent inconvenience to counsel by postponement. The bill provides that the assistant judge shall be from the same province as the disqualified judge whose place he takes.

The bill to incorporate the Sprague's Falls Manufacturing Co. was read a third time and passed. Several other private bills were given a second reading and referred to committees.

Answers by Ministers.

Mr. Clancy was informed that the approximate amount of the Dominion claim against the Province of Ontario under Indian Treaty No. 3 was $475,000. The claim was made in 1893 and 1895, but had been postponed from time to time. It would, however, the Government promised, soon be taken up.

Mr. McCreary was informed by the Minister of Agriculture that the Government was aware from the form of contract that the War Office excluded colonial cattle from army beef contracts. The Government did not know, however, what was the cause for their exclusion.

The Premier, replying to Mr. McCreary, said the Government had received from the Manitoba branch of the Dominion Alliance a petition dealing with the constitutionality of the referendum. But no action had been taken upon the petition.

Mr. Lancaster was informed by Mr. Blair that there is a minimum depth of 14 feet of water on the mitre sills of the Welland Canal. To the Hamilton Cataract Power Company the use of 100 feet per second had been granted.

Since June 30 last, the Minister of Customs said in reply to Mr. Cowan, 776,419 bushels of flax seed had been imported from the United States, valued at $1,553,416.

Mr. R. L. Borden was informed that the cost of the new Intercolonial Railway ferry service on the Straits of Canso was $413,318. The steamer was delivered in September last. It had been tested, but no teams carried over it, because of the approaches being incomplete.

The Minister of Militia, replying to Mr. Kemp, said the Government had armed, equipped and transported overland the first and second contingents. The third consignment was armed and equipped at the expense of the Imperial Government in accordance with the Imperial request. Dr. Borden said it was considered in the public interest to do so. He added a challenge to Mr. Kemp, if his views were otherwise, to set them forth.

The Budget Debate.

Mr. Bell of Picton, resuming the budget debate, reviewed the fiscal policy of the two parties in Canada.

Mr. Johnson of Cape Breton, Dr. Sproule and Mr. Davies also spoke.

Mr. Borden said: I would like to bring to the attention of the Minister of Finance, who is leading the House at this time, a communication from Ottawa, which I observe in La Patrie of this evening. As that paper has somewhat the character of an official organ, I attach more weight to this article than I might to one in some other newspapers. The communication, which I will translate, is as follows:

"I have nothing official, but I am under the impression that, if the pending negotiations between Kitchener and the Boers are not successful, a new contingent will be recruited in Canada, at the expense of the War Office. It is even said that, in case of peace, this contingent will serve as police, and will replace troops whom it is desired to retire from active service."

I wish to inquire whether there have been any negotiations, or whether any circumstances have arisen to lend any warrant to this statement in La Patrie?

Mr. Fielding declined to state the accuracy of the report. He said: "It would be obviously inconvenient for us to be held responsible for everything that appears in the newspapers, even in so excellent a paper as La Patrie. I would not like to discuss the matter on the basis of a newspaper report, and I think that my hon. friend will see that that is a wise and proper course."

The House adjourned at 11.40

A Cause of Headache

One Very Common Cause, Generally Overlooked.

Headache is a Common and Distressing Affliction and May Be Due to a Number of Causes.—The Principal Cause of Frontal Headache is Here Pointed Out.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, Kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill-fitting glasses, all produce headaches, and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault, the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in the forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head and throat; when headache is located in back of head and neck, it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or of the liver.

At any rate, catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches, and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in Tablet form, composed of antiseptics like eucalyptol, guaiacol and blood root, which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches, and eulogizes Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a cure for them. She says:—"I suffered daily from severe frontal headaches, and pain in and back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh more or less for years, but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case, but the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and a pleasant catarrh cure, and after using a few fifty-cent boxes, which I procured from my druggists, I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at fifty cents per package, under the guarantee of the proprietors that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures) no opium (so common in cheap cough cures) nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

KILLED BY SNOW AND FIRE.

200 Lives Are Lost in a Disaster at a Japanese Refinery.

Tacoma, Wash., March 25. — The steamship Duke of Fife, which arrived last night, brings news of a terrible and unprecedented disaster at the Ohio petroleum works, the big refinery establishment at Katsunosawa, near Nilgatta, on the west coast of Japan, which involved the loss of fully 200 lives.

The works were located under the brow of a steep hill, and there had been a heavy fall of snow. Suddenly a huge avalanche thundered down from the sheer height of 600 feet, crushing and burying the oil works, buildings, tanks, reservoirs, offices and work people's dwellings.

Part of the place was completely submerged; in another portion the roofs were crushed in and buildings shattered. This caused an outbreak of fire, which reached the oil and spread with awful rapidity through that part of the building less heavily buried.

Up to the time of the latest telegrams received at Yokohama 80 bodies had been recovered and four persons had been dug out terribly injured and barely alive.

The total number buried and burned was not yet ascertained, but the superintendent of the works placed the number of fatalities at not fewer than 200.

DANGEROUS SURGERY

Should be the Last Resort.

Many people suffer from piles, because after trying various lotions, salves and ointments without relief or cure, they come to the conclusion that a surgical operation is the last resort, and rather than submit to the shock and risk to life of an operation, prefer to suffer on; very often, however, the afflicted one is over persuaded to resort to the knife, and even though the operation is apparently successful, and there is complete recovery from the shock incident thereto, the result is invariably the same; the piles sooner or later return because their cause has not been removed. This result is a logical one, inasmuch as the knife removes the effects of the disease only, while the cause remains as before. There is claimed to be a remedy which does remove the cause, hence eradicating the disease, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure; it is in the form of a suppository, is applied directly to the parts affected, and brings about a complete cure, quietly and painlessly. In this connection the testimony of Mr. John Cullen Bryant, the well known bookseller of Haverhill, Mass., is of unusual interest.

"I desire to contribute an unsolicited, but purely voluntary testimonial in favour of Pyramid Pile Cure. I have suffered for more than twenty years with hemorrhoids, and have consulted numerous physicians and expended a great deal of money for medicines that did me no good. I had often seen Pyramid Pile Cure advertised, but hesitated for months before buying same, thinking it a patent or quack remedy that had no merit; but having tried every other remedy prescribed I was finally persuaded one year ago, to try Pyramid Pile Cure. I bought a fifty cent package at the drug store, and while I may not be permanently cured, the past year has been the only year of my life worth living during the past twenty years, and nothing but the Pyramid remedies have wrought this change. I offer this testimony for the benefit of suffering humanity."

The Ontario Riflemen

Toronto, March 25.—The affairs of the Ontario Rifle Association appear to be in a flourishing condition, judging by the reports presented at the annual meeting held in the Military Institute yesterday morning, while the outlook for the future is distinctly encouraging. There was a large attendance of members. The president, Mr. E. B. Osler, was re-elected. The royal review was a success and yielded a surplus of over $5,000.

Woodstock Bylaw Defeated.

Woodstock, March 25.—The Loan Bylaw, to grant the sum of $12,000 to the Woodstock Wagon Company, when resubmitted to the ratepayers of Woodstock yesterday, was again defeated, the vote standing 745 for, 268 against; 197 additional votes were essential to carry the bylaw.

Four Men Killed.

Youngstown, Ohio, March 25.—In a head-on collision between freight trains at 3.10 o'clock yesterday morning on the Pittsburg, Youngstown and Ashtabula division of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road, four men were killed and three injured.

Russia and France.

Paris, March 25.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday, and afterwards the Senate adopted a bill providing a credit of 500,000 francs to defray the expenses of President Loubet's visit to Russia.

ARMISTICE GRANTED

No Fighting While the Boer Leaders Are Consulting.

MISSION OF SCHALKBURGER

Acting President Goes to See Steyn With a View to Peace Proposals—British War Secretary's Announcement in the Commons Received With Cheers—Banishment Proclamation Probably Withdrawn.

London, March 24.—In the House of Commons yesterday the War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, announced that a fortnight ago Mr. Schalkburger intimated to Lord Kitchener his desire to be granted a safe conduct through the British lines and back in order to see Mr. Steyn with reference to the possibility of peace proposals. Lord Kitchener, with the consent of the Government, has acceded to the request. The announcement of the War Secretary was received with cheers.

An Armistice Arranged.

The Daily Chronicle this morning asserts that an armistice has been arranged pending the duration of Schalkburger's mission to Gen. Dewet, and that offensive operations against Dewet, Delarey and Botha will be suspended; also that these three generals have agreed honorably to observe the armistice and to refrain from operations until the return of the envoys to the Boer lines.

It is believed, continues The Daily Chronicle, that the envoys, after acquainting Botha with the result of their mission, will again confer with Lord Kitchener, although no second conference with Lord Kitchener has actually been arranged.

Will Withdraw Banishment.

London, March 25.—The Associated Press has good reason to believe that Lord Kitchener, in his interview with Mr. Schalkburger, agreed to withdraw the banishment proclamation, issued in September, if Gen. Dewet and the other Boer leaders surrendered.

In a despatch from Pretoria, made public last night, Lord Kitchener gives his usual weekly total of captures, etc., but does not mention the Schalkburger incident.

Relief in Boer Circles.

Amsterdam, March 25.—It is believed in Boer circles here that the move of Acting President Schalkburger is the result of a communication from the Boer representatives in Europe.

A former member of the Transvaal Government said last night: After the exchange of the Dutch-English notes, a conference was called for February. This conference was attended by Mr. Kruger, Dr. Leyds, and the delegates, and it was decided to send six emissaries to South Africa by different routes, with despatches for Steyn and Schalkburger, giving them a detailed account of the situation. One of these agents ought to have arrived about this time.

Documents lately received from Schalkburger indicated that peace terms had recently been discussed by the leaders in South Africa, but the leaders declared they could not accept anything less than the terms demanded at Middleburg (by Gen. Botha, Feb. 28, 1901), and especially the point of complete amnesty for Cape rebels, because the greater part of the commandoes actually in arms are composed of Cape insurgents.

"The fact that the Boers in the field are inclined to compromise their demands for absolute independence," continued the speaker, "seems to be indicated by the plan Schalkburger has outlined, for the government of industrial centres. This consists of a British board of administration, with proportional Boer representation."

Another Trooper Ill.

Ottawa, March 25.—Roland Agassiz of the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles is reported to have been dangerously ill of dysentery at Charlestown, on March 20. The next of kin is Mrs. Agassiz, London, Eng.

A cablegram to His Excellency the Governor-General from Cape Town announces that Charles W. Mechian of the South African Constabulary was dangerously ill of enteric fever at Vet River, March 20. His mother resides in St. Mary's, Ont.

Offer of Col. Hughes.

Ottawa, March 25.—It is understood that Lieut.-Col. Sam Hughes, M.P., has made an offer to the Minister of Militia to raise a contingent of 2,500 men in Canada to go to South Africa to put down the Boer war. There are said to be conditions attached to the offer. One is that Col. Hughes is to go in the capacity of commander, and the other is that he will not be responsible to any British officer except Lord Kitchener or Gen. French, or some British officer who, in the opinion of Col. Hughes, is competent and able to appreciate and take advantage of Canadian troops.

Lt.-Col. Hughes, when seen last night, stated that his offer was sent to the Government on the 10th of March. He had received a reply, but it was only a mere acknowledgment of his offer. Col. Hughes said he had been induced to make it by the way things were going out in South Africa. According to a letter which he had received from Kimberley, the districts of Griqualand West and Langenburg were in the hands of the Boers, and Pete De Villias had set up a republic there.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief, and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the region of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25 cent bottles.

The butchers were out in full force, but trade was slow, owing to the very high prices at which good cattle were held. Easter cattle sold at from 5½c to 7c per lb., and some were held at higher figures. Prime beeves sold at from 5c to 5¼c, and medium cattle at from 4c to near 5c per lb., while the common stock brought from 3c to 3¾c per lb. Good large fat bulls sold at from 5c to 5¼c per lb. Most of the calves were small lots, and these sold at from $1.50 to $3 each. Calves, two to three weeks old, sold at from $4 to $6 each, and prime calves, five to six months old, sold at from $35 to $45 each, or from 6½c to 7½c per lb. Old sheep sold at about 4c per lb., and yearlings at about 5c per lb. Spring lambs sold at from $2 to $6 each, but some of them were rather small for human food. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

A PRESENTATION.

To Mr. V. P. Thewlis Prior to His Leaving Town.

On Saturday evening Mr. V. P. Thewlis, prior to his departure from town, was presented with a farewell address and a volume of Longfellow's Poems by the members of George street Epworth League, in which Mr. Thewlis has been an active member since coming to town.

The address was as follows:

Mr. V. P. Thewlis, Town.

Dear Mr. Thewlis,—In bidding you farwell on your removal, the members of George Street Epworth League desire to give expression to their high appreciation of the services you have rendered the Society. Since coming among us we have found you at all times willing to place your talents at the disposal of the League, and the musical portion of our meetings, with your valuable assistance, have been a source of great pleasure to all. In parting with you we feel we are losing one whose place it will be exceedingly difficult to fill.

As a very slight token of our gratitude and appreciation of the good service done, accept the accompanying small gift, which we trust will ever bring to mind pleasant memories of your connection with George street Epworth League.

We wish you and Mrs. Thewlis many years of prosperity and happiness, and trust that the talents you have so generously placed at our disposal may continue to be spent "For Christ and the Church."

Signed on behalf of the League,
E. M. MILLER,
Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Thewlis leave on Wednesday evening for Hanover, Illinois, where Mr. Thewlis has accepted a position.

THE LATE MR. GREENHOW.

An Interesting Account of the Deceased's Life—His Religious Views.

Yesterday's Examiner contained an account of the death of Mr. Thomas Greenhow. The deceased gentleman was born in London, England, in 1809. Having met with business reverses he came to Montreal in 1853, and removed to Peterborough in 1864.

In 1835 he was married to Martha B. Cranfield, youngest daughter of Thomas Cranfield, known as the founder of Southwark Sunday School Society in connection with Rev. Rowland Hill's chapel, and with whom Mr. Cranfield was associated as a worker. Mrs. Greenhow predeceased her husband in 1874.

Very early in life he was converted, and at the age of 17 he united with George Whitfield's Tabernacle, Moorefields, London, of which his parents were members, and of which he was afterwards a deacon. After leaving Montreal Mr. Greenhow cast in his lot with the Methodists.

During his long life he was actively engaged as a local preacher, class leader and Sunday school teacher. For the last thirty years his time has been wholly given up to works of faith and labours of love. The Sunday previous to his last illness he was with an invalid whom he had visited regularly for some years, and told her it would be the last time he would see her.

His illness lasted six weeks, during which time he suffered much, but never murmured. His fine intellect remained unimpaired unto the last.

His end was most triumphant. At times he would exclaim, "Lord, I can hold no more glory—I must have a new body—it is too much for this old tabernacle." On another occasion he said, "I have been looking for my sins, but cannot find one—Jesus has taken them all away. He has nailed them to the cross. "Death has no sting for me; Jesus has taken it away." 'It is all victory, victory, victory." "Blessed Jesus, He has done it all." "Let every one who comes to see me, behold what the grace of God can do."

His dying testimony was, "A sinner saved by grace."

"I am a poor sinner, and nothing at all,
But Jesus Christ is my all in all."

He said, "I would like to have all the young people here to give them three verses,—

1st. "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

2nd. "Hold Thou me up, and I shall be safe."

3rd. "Thy word have I hid in my heart that I may not sin against Thee."

Then he added, "The man that hides can find."

"Happy, if with my latest breath,
I may but gasp His name,
Preach Him to all and cry in death—
Behold, behold, the Lamb!"

THE RETORT-CORTEOUS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, In the Review of Monday, I notice a paragraph containing an impertinent reference to myself. I have been some months a resident of this fine town, and have tried, and I believe, succeeded, in minding my own business. If the sharp Alec of the Review would do the same, he would find his time fully occupied—he has his work cut out in finding a candidate who can beat one-half of one side of the Government candidate, who, with all the faults the local mud-slinger attributes him, has the decency not to try to gain party capital by slandering and abusing his fellow citizens. The Review man may throw dirt now, but he will have to eat dirt by the bushel before another campaign ends.

Yours, etc.,
M. C. TOOLEY.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as everything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with twenty-eight years' experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

"ANYTHING GOES."

Our evening contemporary quotes from the Montreal Gazette, with the approval of leaded display, an article under the heading—"Anything goes in Ontario Politics." That seems to exactly fit the Review, for in the article immediately following it deals with Saturday's nomination in the opera house in a manner so reckless, and devoid of argument, so effusive of insinuation that its motto evidently is "Any thing goes in discussing Ontario politics." In a column of twaddle, the Review hardly makes one pertinent statement in accordance with the truth. The rest is all insinuation, a figment of its diseased imagination. No effort to discuss seriously the public issues in the election contest. The Review must have a low estimate of the intelligence of its readers if it thinks they will be edified and instructed by such literary froth—the scum of its political pot. Personal attacks on public men may be the methods of a political foot pad, but can hardly be considered in the light of a valuable contribution to the discussion of political questions that are in issue in the present, or at least, prospective political contest. Verily, "anything," in the way of personal abuse, which has been our contemporary's favourite weapon against the Provincial Secretary, "goes in Ontario politics" with the Review.

The Mail and Empire is magnaminous. In yesterday's issue the senior Conservative organ kindly relieves governments of their duties. It kindly relieves the Ontario Government of the work of dissolving the Legislature and fixing the date of the elections. We are glad to know that the Mail and Empire has fixed the date of the elections. This is very kind, seeing that the Government has not yet decided upon the date itself. Now nothing is left for the Government but just as a matter of form to announce the date selected by the Conservative organ, the Royal Gazette and Cabinet maker; for in addition to fixing the date of dissolution and the elections, the Mail has reconstructed the Ontario Cabinet, and even given Sir Wilfrid Laurier a lift by appointing Sir Oliver Mowat to a second gubernatorial term. The statements referred to are a sample of the twaddle the Mail talks, and are just about as reliable as any of its political utterances. If you see anything in the Mail and Empire in reference to political subjects, you may as a rule make a discount of 100 per cent., and what is left may be a possible approximation to a shadow of truth.

THE GOLF CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING.

It was Very Largely Attended—Much Enthusiasm.

MR. J. CRANE IS PRESIDENT.

The Affairs of the Club in a Prosperous Condition—Annual Reports Were Submitted.

The annual meeting of the Golf Club was held, last evening, and if the record-breaking attendance and the enthusiasm manifested count for anything the ensuing year will be by far the most prosperous in the Club's history.

The chair was occupied by the President, Mr. Peter Campbell, who, after calling the meeting to order, called attention to the fact that the time had come when in order to meet current expenses the club fees would have to be raised. The present fee of five dollars was not enough. The ladies, realizing this, proposed to give $150.00 this year instead of $100.00, for the privilege of playing over the links, providing the men's fee was increased in a proportionate degree. The ladies were raising their fee from $2.00 to $3.00. Mr. Campbell also mentioned another matter. In connection with the expenditure he asked that the control of the funds be left in the hands of one or two instead of the entire executive being given power to contract debts.

Mr. C. H. Bradburn, Sec.-Treas., then presented a statement showing the club's financial standing to be in a favourable state.

The report of the House Committee was submitted by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, the chairman, as follows:

To the Officers and Members of the Peterborough Golf Club.

The House Committee beg leave to report as follows,—

Your Committee commenced the year with an overdraft of $4.54, which amount was paid the Committee out of the General funds of the Club. The balance of receipts was made up by the lease of lockers to members, thirty-three lockers having been rented at 50c each, producing a revenue of $16.50. The expenditure of the year was as follows,—

New Lockers, ...	$12.00
Painting Flag Pole, ...	.50
R. Hall & Son, material, etc., ...	2.70
Lamps	1.25
Work in Ladies' Room	2.00
Hardware, ...	3.05
Ice, ...	3.00
Total	$24.50

A cheque for $1.20 paid Richard Hall & Son in the previous year was returned, which leaves the present overdraft $6.30.

As this committee will, during the current year, have 36 lockers to rent, and no expense attached to the same, they should have ample funds to pay off the overdraft, and in addition provide all the necessaries required.

Respectfully submitted,

R. M. DENNISTOUN,
For House Com.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Myles Hamilton, the Captain, made a most interesting verbal report in which he recalled the experiences of the local golfers in the early days when they played over a four hole course on Burnham's Point, moving afterwards to Jackson Park, from where they removed to the present fine course. The captain complimented the players on the great advance which had been made in the play during the last year, not only in results but in form and general style. He gave great credit to the Colts for bringing the newer men up to such a state of proficency that they had won two matches with foreign clubs and had then taken on the seniors at a stroke a hole, for a dinner, which the seniors had the pleasure of paying for. He predicted that, this season, the fag-end of the team would be as strong as the first men, and it would no longer be a case of the tail wagging the dog, as formerly. He hoped the Colts would keep together, but they would have to give up a number of their men to the seniors, who needed them for the first team.

Mr. Bradburn then read the secretary's report as subjoined:

March 24th, 1902.

To the Officers and Members of The Peterborough Golf Club.

Gentlemen,—The membership of the Club, according to the Auditor's report of last year, does not appear to have increased, but there has been an appreciable increase in the membership fees, with a smaller membership, and at the same fees as last year, which is gratifying. This year we have 58 members, one of whom joined so late in the season we thought it reasonable to accept half the usual fee, and two junior members, in all 55. We lost through death during the year Mr. R. S. Davidson and Mr. H. C. McHarrie. Messrs. A. G. Parker, Holst and Archie Morrow have left the town and they will probably all be missing from our membership list next year. The membership list has been limited to sixty members, and if all our present members rejoin, there will be ten vacancies next year. The executive committee held thirteen meetings during the year.

The Executive Committee has vested all club trophies in the President, and the Secretary-Treasurer as trustees and they are responsible for the safe-keeping of the same. The Secretary-Treasurer for the time being is the custodian of all club trophies.

Your Secretary collected all the amendments to the Rules and Regulations of the club. They have been typewritten and are now in convenient and permanent shape, and can be readily referred to, and amendments readily noted.

The selection of the representative team is now in the hands of the Executive Committee, and it is hoped that the result of the scheme now in force will prove satisfactory.

All score cards that have this last year been dropped in the box, have been preserved, and a record of the score is available. Your Secretary had hoped to tabulate them, but put the matter off until too late for this meeting. The cards will, however, give valuable data for the handicapping in the coming year, and the scores can be easily tabulated.

The minutes of all meetings are written up-to-date, as are all the directions given the Secretary at the annual and general meetings. All of which is respectfully submitted.

CHARLES H. BRADBURN,
Hon.-Sec.-Treas.

The report was adopted.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun explained to the members at length the exact position in which they stood in regard to the property on which the links are laid out, a client of Mr. Dennistoun's having purchased the land. A most favourable arrangement was made in regard to the lease and an option for purchase.

It was decided that the President, Sec.-Treasurer and Captain be added to the strength of the Executive Committee, and that the former be the chairman of the same.

Mr. H. D. Burnett introduced a number of amendments to the constitution, in relation, more particularly, to the manner in which the personnel of the first team should be divided. It was decided that a special meeting of the club should be called in order that the proposed changes be discussed at length.

On motion the offer of the ladies in regard to the increase of the fees was accepted and the club fee for men was raised to $7, members joining after June 1st being called upon to pay an initiation fee of $3 in addition.

The date for the annual meeting was fixed for the first Friday in March, hereafter.

The President and Secretary-Treasurer were appointed as a committee to meet the ladies in reference to the fee question.

Officers were then elected as follows for the ensuing year:

Hon. Pres.—Mr. Peter Campbell.
Pres.—Mr. John Crane.
Captain—Mr. H. D. Burnett.
Sec.-Treasurer—Mr. C. H. Bradburn.
Green Committee — Messrs. R. Myles Hamilton, (convenor,) Robert Neill, C. F. McGill, Dr. Greer and A. H. Stratton.
House Committee — Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun, (convenor,) Dr. Eastwood and Mr. Walker.
Auditors — Messrs. Peter Campbell and John Crane.

STOCK MARKETS.

(The Haight & Freese Company—W. F. Nelson, Local Agent.)

Chicago, Ill.—Judge Grosscup has issued a temporary injunction against all roads centering here, restraining them from cutting rates or in any way infringing on the interstate act. The roads have made no argument, but reserved the right to do so at a final hearing on June 8th.

New York, March 24th. — Standard leaders in the van. The improvement in speculative activity in the better class of shares is one of the best features of the current situation. Stocks which have fluctuated more or less aimlessly for some time past have thrown off their lethargy and lined up in the bull column. The Birwind party in the Atchison issues are more aggressively bullish than for some time past, and predict considerably higher figures for both the pfd. and com. shares. The Leeds-Moore party in Rock Island have been urgent and persistent buyers at steadily increasing prices, the stock making a new high record price the past week. Some financial plan is on foot in these shares. A prominent Railway statistician just returned from a trip over the Union Pacific lines, says the company is earning at present about nine per cent. on its stock. Declares the road to be in magnificent physical conditions, and given a good crop along its lines, the coming season they will be able to make a new showing in earning from 12 per cent. to 15 per cent.

March 25th.—Ln. and Southern Railroad are wheeling into line. The latter has just placed its preferred stock on the full five per cent. basis, while Ln. has been acquiring new mileage, improving the old lines and establishing new feeders calculated to greatly augment its business. It is to-day a remarkable cheap stock, and should rule very much higher this spring.

The Gould party have been carrying on a gigantic work in the south west, with the view of consolidating its lines, improving its service and increasing its service and increasing its earning power. All the stocks located in this territory will do very much better in the markets. St. Paul has been hardening in the markets. This stock is becoming more scarce daily in Wall street, due to its constant absorption by investors. Measured with the advances made by some of its compatriots such as Nw., St. Paul should easily work its price up fifteen points. Do not overlook the coalers and tractions when casting about for a marginal purchase. These shares are all directly in the line of improvement, and are bound to do better.

Penna. and N.Y.C. also look inviting to buy. The market certainly looks well all along the line. Interest is growing, while the pools and banking interests are most confident. We consider the stock market unusually attractive to buy at present writing. — Haight & Freese Company.

LETTER FROM TOM.

Mrs. F. W. Miller Received Word From Her Son in South Africa.

Mrs. F. W. Miller has received the following short letter from her son in South Africa:

Blomfontein, Feb. 22, 1902.

Dear mother,—I received your welcome letter to-day, and was very pleased to hear from you.

There is not much chance of us going back for the coronation. We received a new draught of 200 men a short time back, so that don't look much like going home, does it? There are two of our companies on the march again, but I don't think my company will have any more of it to do. Well, dear mother, I don't know of any more to say this time, so hoping to hear from you again, I remain, your loving son, Tom.

In a previous letter Tom states that his company is engaged five days in the week in bringing Boer prisoners from Blomfontein to Elmfontein, a work he does not care for.

HEALTH VERSUS STRENGTH

A Good Stomach is Worth More Than Muscular Power.

The strong man was doing some of his most sensational "stunts." Evidently his performance was free from trickery. The muscles spoke for that, and there were ease and enjoyment in all his movements.

"What a splendid fellow!" exclaimed a college student in a front row to his older companion. "I'd give all I expect ever to know of the classics in exchange for that physique. Just think what it means—unlimited endurance and strength. With that and a fair share of brains, there isn't anything a man couldn't accomplish."

The older man smiled at the youngster's enthusiasm.

"You're doing very well as it is," he said. "The battle may generally be to the strong and skillful, but it isn't just muscular strength that counts. To tell you the truth, you've inherited something that is worth more to you than all the mere muscle you could put on in a lifetime. I mean your stomach."

"Yes, of course; that's important, but"—

"It's everything, my boy. Now, suppose I should tell you that that big fellow up there is in greater danger of collapse than you are likely to be if you take fair care of yourself and exercise in moderation."

"How is that possible? He is the picture of health and strength."

"And what do you say to this fellow?" asked the physician, drawing a photograph from his pocket. It was the likeness of an athlete not much the physical inferior of the strong man.

"This chap," continued the medical expert, "came to me for treatment recently. He needed it. The flesh was literally falling off him. He was losing a pound a day. You see, he had suddenly collapsed."

"What was the trouble?"

"Stomach. I'm not telling you anything new, but it's astonishing how much an elemental truth is overlooked. A man is no stronger than his stomach.

"If your stomach isn't far better than that of most Americans, look out! This patient of mine had changed his food, and it came near costing him his life. So don't be too quick to envy the strong man, and go ahead with your classics, not forgetting twenty minutes or so a day of well directed exercise."

Do Not Carry Your Load of Disease Into the Spring Season.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Makes Rich Pure Blood, Strong Nerves and Gives a new Lease of Life.

Too often people drag with them into the spring season a load of disease that has proved a heavy burden during the winter months. Impure and poisoned blood, eczema, salt rheum, boils, eruptions, neuralgia, rheumatism, kidney disease, liver trouble, dyspepsia and nervous complaints claim thousands of victims throughout the land.

The cleansing, healing and life-renewing work of Paine's Celery Compound in the past should be a sufficient guarantee to every sufferer that it will surely and quickly overcome every form of disease just referred to. In every case Paine's Celery Compound is the one remedy that will completely and permanently bring back health, make pure rich blood, regulate and build up the weakened nervous system. Mrs. Adamson, Head of Millstream, N. B., who, after years of sickness and suffering at last found a new life in Paine's Celery Compound, writes thus:

"I feel it a duty to briefly testify regarding the value of Paine's Celery Compound. Since childhood I suffered from sick headaches, neuralgia and constipation. Had attacks once a week which kept me confined to my bed. Have beneficial results. I procured six bottles of Paine's Celery Compound which was strongly recommended to me, and after a short time I found that new life and health coming that I had so long wished for. Two years have passed and I have not had a return of my old troubles. I can never say too much in favour of Paine's Celery Compound."

The First Sod Turned.

Niagara Falls, March 25.—In the presence of a large number of interested spectators the first sod on the work of the Ontario Power Company was turned yesterday in Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park. Under the company's plan of development water will be taken from the Welland River from a point in the village of Chippawa and conveyed through open canal and conduits to the cliff near Table Rock House at the Horseshoe Falls. The initial development will be for 125,000 horsepower, to be increased as the demand requires. The first section of the power house, which will be constructed below the cliff, will have a capacity of 62,500 electrical horsepower. This power will be used locally by electrolytic and other industries to be established here, and a large block will be transmitted to Toronto and other Canadian cities. This company expects to generate and supply power in fifteen months from date.

Consumption is Infectious.

Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the White Plague. Persons coming in contact with consumptives should inhale Catarrhozone several times each day, as it is a powerful destroyer of germs and renders them inocuous. Catarrhozone is a most efficient preventive and may be thoroughly relied upon to promote expectoration, soothe the cough, and benefit in many ways too numerous to mention. Both from a medical and scientific point of view Catarrhozone is the most valuable addition to the armament against consumption. Its merit cannot be too warmly applauded. Sold at all druggists, two months' treatment, price $1; small size, 25c.; or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

LOSING FLESH.

Are you losing flesh? If so, better consult your doctor at once. He will tell you the cause. We can provide the remedy, which is Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

A young woman in Batavia writes us she had lost twenty-five pounds in three months, and her lungs were seriously affected. She took three bottles of Scott's Emulsion and gained fifteen pounds, and was able to resume her work.

TWO POEMS.

I—The Sea by the Wood.

I dwell in a sea that is wild and deep,
And afar in a shadow still,
I can see the trees that gather and sleep
In the wood upon the hill.

The deeps are green as an emerald's face,
The caves are crystal calm,
But I wish the sea were a little trace
Of moisture in God's palm.

The waves are weary of hiding pearls,
Are weary of smothering gold,
They would all be air that sweeps and swirls,
In the branches manifold.

They are weary of laving the seaman's eyes
With their passion-prayer unsaid,
They are weary of sobs and the sudden sighs
And movements of the dead.

All the sea is haunted with human lips
Ashen and sere and grey,
You can hear the sails of the sunken ships
Stir and shiver and sway.

In the weary solitude;
If mine were the will of God, the main
Should melt away in the rustling wood
Like a mist that follows the rain.

But I dwell in the sea that is wild and deep,
And afar in the shadow still
I can see the trees that gather and sleep
In the wood upon the hill.

II.—The Wood by the Sea.

I dwell in the wood that is dark and kind,
But afar off tolls the main,
Afar, far off I hear the wind,
And the marching of the rain.

The shade is dark as the palmer's hood,
The air with the balm is bland;
But I wish the trees that breathe in the wood
Were ashes in God's hand.

The pines are weary of holding nests,
Are weary of casting shade;
Wearily smoulder the resin crests
In the pungent gloom of the glade.

Weary are all the birds of sleep,
The nests are weary of wings,
The whole wood yearns to the swaying deep,
The mother of restful things.

The wood is very old and still,
So still when the dead cones fall,
Near in the vale or away on the hill,
You can hear them one and all.

And the falling wearies me;
If mine were the will of God, why then,
The wood would tramp to the sounding sea,
Like a marching army of men!

But I dwell in the wood that is dark and kind,
Afar off tolls the main;
Afar, far off I hear the wind,
And the marching of the rain.

—Duncan Campbell Scott, in The Canadian Magazine.

She Knew It.

A Philadelphia man thought he would be more successful than his wife in securing servants. So he cut out a number of advertisements from the "situations wanted" column of a newspaper and started out in a cab to visit the various addresses. The first place he stopped at was in front of a little house in a narrow street, from which a cook had advertised. He saw her and was favorably impressed.

"I am looking for a good cook," he said.

"Sure, an' don't Oi know it!" exclaimed the cook. "Oi only left your house yestidday!"

He made a hasty and undignified retreat and decided to allow his wife to continue in her direction of the household affairs.

She Had Improved.

The Princess Charlotte, daughter of George IV., was a young woman of great spirit and originality. One day one of her teachers chanced to enter the room when the princess was reviling one of her attendant ladies in great wrath, and, after giving her a lecture on hasty speech, he presented her with a book on the subject.

A few days later he found her still more furious and using language even more violent. "I am sorry to find your royal highness in such a passion," said he. "Your royal highness has not read the book I gave you."

"I did, my lord," cried she tempestuously. "I both read it and profited by it. Otherwise I should have scratched her eyes out!"

Wheels.

The earliest mention of wheels in the Bible is in Exodus xiv, 25, when the chariot wheels of the Egyptians were taken off by the Lord. But chariots are mentioned in Genesis xli, 43. But there were older nations than the Egyptians. The Chaldeans used chariots, and the Greeks—Homer's poems date from about 900 B. C.—had chariots at the siege of Troy, 1500 B. C. Probably in reality the wheel is about as early a piece of machinery as any now existing. Of course it has been developed, but the bicycle wheel of today is a lineal descendant of the section of a log of wood used by the agricultural peoples thousands of years ago.

Mild but Vigourous.

When you are tired of the list of cures your friends suggest for bronchitis—try Scott's Emulsion. It is rather mild tasting compared to most medicines, but makes a vigorous attack on all forms of throat and lung disease.

JAP-ANGLO ALLIANCE.

British and Japanese Diplomats Who Negotiated the Lately Announced Agreement for Five Years to Come.

The four statesmen who negotiated the treaty for the offensive and defensive alliance between Great Britain and Japan are Lord Lansdowne, the Marquis Ito, Sir Claude MacDonald and Baron Tadasu Hayashi. Lord Lansdowne is the secretary of state for foreign affairs in the present Unionist ministry and was head of the war office in the last ministry. He is believed to be the complacent representative of the Prime Minister, Lord Salisbury, who, until his recent fresh accession to power, himself filled the office of foreign secretary, which is considered the most important position in the British Cabinet. Marquis Ito is the foremost statesman of Japan. It is said that his late visit to the West was made for the purpose of adding the finishing touches to the treaty. The other Japanese diplomat involved in the negotiations was Baron Tadasu Hayashi, the envoy extraordinary from the Emperor of Japan to the court of St. James. Sir Claude Maxwell MacDonald, who took part in the earlier transactions leading up to the treaty, is the British minister to Tokio and formerly occupied the mission to China.

The First in the World.

Merrill's System Tonic is the first medicine to combine the tonic with the reconstructive treatment in the cure of disease. The blood is purified, new blood is made, the nerves, muscles and tissues of the heart, stomach, liver and kidneys are toned toned and strengthened, and then nature is enabled to throw off the disease which has been ravishing the body. For Constipation, Catarrh, and Chronic Rheumatism, System Tonic is a positive cure. Sold at 50c per bottle by Ormond & Walsh.

His Valuation of It

There was a case brought into court the other day concerning the manuscript of a novel. In the course of it a Scottish novelist, who had read the manuscript, was placed in the witness box. The judge asked him what value he would place upon the book. "Well," the witness replied, "I do not know what the English custom is, but in Edinburgh we have to pay for the removal of waste paper."—London Globe.

Nervous Dyspepsia

Can Never be Cured by Mere Temporary Aids to Digestion—The Nerves Must be Restored and Filled With Vitalizing Nerve Force.

You know that certain drugs, such as pepsin and bismuth, bring about artificial digestion, and if you have dyspepsia or indigestion it is possible that, like hosts of others, you have taken these into the stomach, hoping that they will take the place of gastric juice and other digestive fluids, digest the food and by resting the stomach effect a cure.

Did you ever hear of a bodily organ being strengthened by inactivity? It is to the organ that is exercised that the new, rich blood is conveyed in order to restore the tissues wasted by the functions of that organ, and so the stomach that is given rest does not get stronger, but the gastric juice gradually ceases to flow, and you are finally compelled to resort to the continual use of artificial digestants.

If instead of these temporary aids you seek permanent cure you must treat the nerves, because it is the nerves that control the glands of the stomach, and only when the supply of nerve force is liberal is digestion rightly performed and the body properly nourished.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is no experiment, as you know if you have read the hundreds of testimonials that are appearing in the daily press. We recommend it for nervous dyspepsia and headache, because it has actually cured scores and hundreds of cases. Here is an interesting letter:

Mrs. R. H. Scott, 667 Queen street east, Toronto, states:—"For a long time I was a great sufferer from nervous dyspepsia, and as a consequence of the stomach trouble I was nervous and sometimes had severe headaches and dizzy spells. Since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I can say that my digestion is good, and as a result I have been entirely freed of the other troublesome symptoms. I think this an excellent treatment for nervous dyspepsia, as well as an invaluable system-builder."

This treatment will prove equally effective in your case, because it actually contains the most powerful restoratives known to the medical profession. It cures by building up the system, and instilling new vital nerve force into the wasted and depleted nerve cells. 50 cents a box; 5 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 10

SERPENTS OF OCEAN

MORE BEAUTIFUL AND MORE DEADLY THAN LAND SNAKES.

Countless Millions of Them Encountered by Mariners—Miles of Snakes—There Are Scores of Varieties—Power of the Tail—Gives a Fatal Bite—Haunts of the Reptiles—Hunt Like Hounds.

When a British skipper reported at Ceylon recently that his vessel had steamed for two hours through masses of snakes forty-three miles southwest of the city, most persons who read the story thought the mariner had drawn a very long bow. But the captain had only told the truth. A year or so ago Dr. Becker of the United States Geological survey made a scientific and official report of the existence of great sea snakes in numbers so vast as to challenge credulity. In his report he says that between Cebu and Jolo the ship passed through sea snakes for 100 miles. Dr. Becker computes that there were at least 5,000 of them to each square mile, and that if the "school" of serpents was as broad as it was long there must have been 50,000,000 of them.

There are fifty known varieties of these dreaded creatures, all classified under the general title of Thanatophidia. None of them is able to live anywhere except in ocean water. Every variety and subvariety is as poisonous as the cobra or the bushmaster of Africa. Indeed, with the exception of these two land serpents, there is no snake on dry land that kills so swiftly and as terribly as do the sea snakes.

No snake on land except the coral, grass and carpet snake, is clad so beautifully as are almost all the Thanatophidia. Banded, striped, speckled, blotched, green, olive, yellow, blue and black, they seem the most beautiful things that the eye can hope to see as one watches them "swimming and coiling" far below the surface in the glorious transparence of the deep blue Indian ocean. No man who has not seen them can form even a conception of their grace and agility. When they are racing along their sole means of locomotion is their broad, paddle-shaped tail, which is peculiar to all the sea snakes, and forms the only striking difference between them and the ordinary terrestrial serpent. This paddle is used like a steamer's screw, and has immense power. Bent sideways it will stop the snake instantly, as if the creature had anchored suddenly. Indeed, when dozing or resting over reefs and in the sea caves that are common in the coral banks they hold fast to the rocks or bottom with the broad tails, and will often sway thus for hours in calm weather.

For a time scientists were inclined to the belief that the deadliness of the bite was due not to a venom like that of land snakes, but to some property that caused blood poison, as does the bite of many fishes that are not poisonous in themselves. But the case of a sailor on the British war ship Algerine, coming under the careful observation of medical men, proved that the snakes are directly poisonous, and that they carry fangs charged with venom just like the cobra.

The Algerine was lying in front of Madras when a school of brightly colored snakes suddenly rose almost under the keel and began to hunt fish. The sailors caught a big one, measuring about six feet, and drew it on deack. None of them dreamed that the creature was poisonous, but it snapped at its captors so fiercely that luckily they feared to touch it until at last a young gunner seized it. It turned and bit him in the index finger of the right hand. He instantly cut the serpent's head off with his cutlass, and, after examining the bright body for awhile he gave it to one of his shipmates, who skinned it. The gunner went below and ate his breakfast about half an hour later. For some time he felt no pain or discomfort from the bite, and indeed did not give it a second thought, as the flesh had hardly been broken by the fine, needle-like teeth. But he had been on deck again less than two hours when he suddenly became sick. His pulse began to weaken almost at once, and finally it became intermittent. Still he did not suspect that he was suffering from the effects of the bite, and therefore did not even mention to the surgeon who attended him that he had been bitten.

The pupils of his eyes began to dilate and cold perspiration appeared. His face assumed an expression of intense anxiety, and the surgeon became convinced from the symptoms that the man was suffering from a violent poison. He began an investigation and found the snake. A native who happened to come on board identified it as being one of the poisonous sea snakes. By that time the victim's throat had become paralyzed, and the edges of the tiny wounds were swollen and had begun to darken. Soon the swelling extended over his entire right side, and his neck and face became spotted and blotched with dark purple and gray. Twenty minutes after the discoloration had appeared first, it had spread over his entire body. Death ended his suffering four hours after he had been bitten.

Other cases in the same neighborhood went through the same stages, varying only in length; death coming from eight to seventy-one hours from the time of being bitten.

Sir Joseph Fayer and Prof. Russell permitted a five-foot sea snake to bite a bird. It died in four minutes. A second bird, bitten by the same snake, immediately afterwards, died in ten minutes. Another snake killed a bird within seven minutes. Then they teased a sea snake till it bit a soft-shell turtle in the mouth. Five minutes afterward the turtle began to scratch the bitten spot. Sixteen minutes after that it was paralyzed completely, and in fourteen minutes it died. A second turtle succumbed in forty-six minutes. A tree snake died in thirty minutes after being bitten, and a toad fish was killed within ten minutes.

The sea snake lives entirely in the open ocean. They do not even ascend rivers. Their favorite hunting grounds are the wide and deep arms of sea that separate the islands of China, Indian and South Pacific seas. They do not often haunt the shores, but remain at some distance from land. They can hardly move on dry land and, after wriggling around a bit and biting savagely and blindly in all directions, they lie still until they perish.

Their range is great. They are found throughout the Indian and Pacific oceans from Cape of Good Hope and Madagascar to the western shore of Panama, and from New Zealand to Japan, in the Bay of Bengal and the seas around the Nicobars, Molucca, Timor and New Guinea.

They hunt like hounds, often forming a great circle of miles in circumference around a spot that is filled with prey, and gradually closing in as they devour the fish. Often such hunting lasts for weeks until the last fish in that part of the sea has been destroyed.

Of the fifty different species, the hydrophinae are the most common. Like all the other species, they have heads that are comparatively small, with bodies that are heavy in the forepart and laterally compressed toward the end, finishing in the paddlelike tail. Over the nostrils are scales that open and shut at will. The poison teeth are in the front of the upper jaw, and are curved and grooved. Behind them are fine, needlelike teeth, and on the lower jaw are the seizing fangs, with which the prey is held.

The sea snakes are permeated with a strong, fishy smell, which remains with them even after they have been preserved in spirits.

Building

Requires a foundation. That is just as true of the building up of the body as of the building of a house. The foundation of a strong body is a strong stomach. No man can be stronger than his stomach. A weak stomach means a weak man.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of the food which is eaten. Thus it builds up the body and restores strength in the only way known to Nature or to science—by digested and assimilated food.

"While living in Charlotte, N. C., your medicine cured me of asthma and nasal catarrh of ten years' standing," writes J. L. Lumsden, Esq., of 221 Whitehall Street, Atlanta, Ga. "At that time life was a burden to me, and after spending hundreds of dollars under numerous doctors I was dying by inches. I weighed only 131 pounds. In twenty days after I commenced your treatment I was well of both troubles, and in six months I weighed 170 pounds, and was in perfect health. I have never felt the slightest symptom of either since. Am sixty-five years old and in perfect health, and weigh 160 pounds. No money could repay you for what you did for me. I would not return to the condition I was in, in October, 1873, for Rockefeller's wealth."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery," when a laxative is required.

And also how important it is that each of these organs should be strong and healthy so that their work may be thoroughly accomplished. The Poor Little Fellow.

The street Arab lives by his wits, if he lives at all well. Two youngsters who peddle cough drops on Chestnut street have learned this thoroughly. One of these boys is much larger than the other, and a crowd was attracted to the corner of Ninth and Chestnut streets the other day to see the big boy pummeling the little boy. At the proper time the big one disappeared, leaving the little one surrounded by sympathetic onlookers. Several persons, pitying the "poor little fellow," gave him nickels and pennies.

The sequel showed that the "poor little fellow" was in league with his supposed tormentor. No sooner had the crowd dispersed than the big boy came along for his divvy. The scene was repeated several times, always with the same result.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles as the trouble is likely to become chronic and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation, and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

Obliterating Smallpox Pittings.

Scientific treatment and much skill are required to remove smallpox pittings successfully. This treatment is given by a masseuse, but massage is not used, as it would never remove the pittings. The process requires a careful removing, little by little, of old cuticle. The new, which takes the place, is smoother than its predecessor and requires about ten days for treatment. Thus, after a couple or more treatments and in a comparatively short time, the deepest scars are replaced by a perfectly smooth skin.

Not to His Advantage.

"Huh!" grumbled Mr. Skinnay, who was being uncomfortably crowded by the jolly looking fat man. "These cars should charge by weight."

"Think so?" replied the fat man. "Why, they'd hardly think it worth while to stop for you."

But for money and the need of it there would not be half the friendship that there is in the world. It is powerful for good if divinely used.

Investigation will reveal that every successful man gets down to work early.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

Mrs. Hoodless Delivered an Interesting Address.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES PRESENT

Would Like to see the System Introduced Into the Local Schools—Other Schools are Trying the Experiment.

Mrs. Hoodless, of the Educational Department of the Ontario Government, met the members of the Peterborough Board of Education, the Separate School and the Ashburnham School Boards in the Y.M.C.A. last night, when she delivered to them a very interesting lecture on the matter of introducing into our schools the study of Domestic Science and Manual Training.

The chair was occupied by Mr. J. J. Hartley, who introduced Mrs. Hoodless to the audience.

Mrs. Hoodless is a very pleasant speaker. She said that it was not her intention to explain in detail the advantages of teaching Domestic Science, but merely of talking over in an informal manner the reasons why she thought it should be seriously considered. In the course of her introductory remarks she said that Canada was away behind other countries in the matter of Manual Training and Domestic Science. In Germany this training is compulsory and in other European countries it is extensively studied. The present educational system of our country is not educating our children for the business or duties of life.

A liberal education is "the harmonious development of the human powers." The learning without doing has a tendency towards developing the mental without co-relation with the executive faculities.

The aim of an educational system should be to develop the power to think, to observe, and to create—in other words the mind should be the controlling agent of other trained faculties.

The weakness of the present system lies in too much attention being given to the purely theoretical and neglect of the practical application.

The dictionary definition of education is as follows:—"To inform and enlighten understanding." "To qualify for the business and duties of life." Does this imply that only the mental powers should be cultivated? Is it only possible to enlighten the understanding through books, and by absorbing the ideas of other people? The Royal Commission of England in its last report laid down the principle, "That the true object of education is to give such instruction to the scholars as will best fit them to fulfil the ordinary duties of life to which they are likely to be called."

Hitherto there has been little choice of calling through the medium of education. The over-crowded professions, the super-abundance of teachers, clerks, bookkeepers, etc., testify to the power of education on the lines provided.

The subjects which are easily given first place in modern education for girls, and which stand in relation to general culture for girls as manual training for boys, are "Domestic Science and Art." It is not proposed to isolate these subjects from the ordinary curriculum, but to incorporate them as an integral part of our system of education, and as a remedy for such objections to the present system as that of Dean Farrar, who says, "The traditional system, which we call education, neglects some of the faculties of all minds, and all the faculties of some minds."

Herbert Spencer, many years ago, deplored the absence of practical education in the schools, and predicted that the best results could not be obtained from any system until more attention should be given to the Sciences, especially the Science of Living, and claimed that of all branches of knowledge, Science was of most worth.

It is a disputed question whether Domestic Science should be considered a distinctly scientific subject, or as manual training. The majority of subjects included in this branch of education are classed as Sciences; the practical application of these principles and the manipulation of food products seem to be more on the line of manual training, as the two seem so closely related there has been no definite decision as to which class it should belong.

Domestic Science provides what Huxley might call "a liberal education." It combines a knowledge of chemistry, physics, physiology, bacteriology, hygiene, dietetics, psychology with the science of nutrition and a knowledge of the constituent parts of the body—in brief the science of living.

The utilitarian value of this study adds to its importance. It is a partial preparation for the life work of the average woman, the home maker; it forms a connecting link between the home life and the school, thereby creating an interest in the practical duties of life, and which will have a tendency to counteract the commercial instincts which have been so prominently developed hitherto. It teaches economy in the purchase of supplies and saving of time and labour. The practice of Domestic Science keeps pupils active and alert, instead of listless and inattentive; it makes them more capable and hence more inclined to be useful at home.

While it is impossible in the short course prescribed in the schools to turn out expert housekeepers, yet it is possible that the principles which are taught and results proved in the presence of the pupil will have an abiding influence, and will lead that pupil to a more intelligent conception and appreciation of domestic duties, and will naturally create a desire for more knowledge.

Domestic Science will have a marked and most desirable effect upon society, with a better knowledge of correct living, the needs of the constituent parts of the body, and improved methods of cooking, the maximum of domestic comfort and prosperity may be secured at a minimum of physical and economic expenditure.

The study of Domestic Science will train the brain to "think," it is an agent of the mind through the working hand. The executive faculty, the most important of all our powers in the practical work of life, is developed by the arranging and preparation of materials and the cooking within a specified time. The cultivation of manual dexterity re-acts advantageously upon the intellectual faculties; it trains to independent and logical thought and observation, develops the power of expression in action, and gives a broader interest in the daily duties of life. Mrs. Hopkins says, "Observation, experiment and representation are required in every department of work and thought. The work is creative, as well as practical."

The physical exercise afforded by Domestic Science is a desirable change from the sedentary habits of ordinary class work. As one enters a kitchen where girls are actively engaged in the preparation of food, the change from more or less passive and inert attention to one of energetic interest is very noticeable. The manual work provides exercise for nearly all the muscles of the body, thereby strengthening them and making them more flexible. The different parts of the body require the habit of obeying the will; and the senses, particularly the sense of touch, are more finely developed. Correct habits of living are inculcated, which tend to a better physical condition.

Physical training relates to action, mental training to direction of action, moral training to correct action or conduct—the latter being the outcome of the physical or mental. Emerson says, "The great object of education should be commensurate with the object of life. It should be a moral one, to teach self-trust; to inspire the useful man with an interest in himself, with a curiosity touching his own nature, to acquaint him with the resources of his mind, and to teach him what there is in all his strength." "Pupils are not being taught the immeasurable possibilities and potentialities planted within themselves."

Whenever children are taught to use their own faculties, their powers of choice, of intelligent selection, are developed, until by habit — which becomes an instinct — preference for the good and dislike for the bad becomes ingrained. Through Domestic Science we learn the relation between cause and effect, which leads to a clearer conception of right and wrong. It strengthens judgment, and leads to appreciation of perfection, self-reliance and independence. These in time develop self-respect, through the knowledge, ability to accomplish certain ends.

Domestic Science is chiefly and above all to be desired for its disciplinary value as an educational method, apart from its practical value. To satisfy an impulse or interest means to work it out, and working it out involves running up against obstacles, becoming acquainted with materials, exercising ingenuity, patience, persistence, alertness, all of which are of necessity brought into play through the daily duties of life.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Hoodless' excellent remarks, the chairman asked that those present might take part in the discussion; Mrs. Hoodless would be pleased to answer any questions that may be asked.

Mrs. Hoodless having in the course of her remarks made the statement that she had seen a meal for six persons prepared at a cost of 25 cents by a pupil at a Domestic Science School Mr. Bamford asked what kind of a meal they could possibly get for this small amount. Mrs. Hoodless said that she would not say that the meal would be sufficient for six big men, but it was reckoned as a meal for a father, mother and four children.

Mr. Bamford also asked what the object was in teaching a boy to sew? Mrs. Hoodless said it was only incidentally taught to boys; it would often come useful to them; it was not the intention to make dressmakers of the boys.

After some further questions, Mrs. Hoodless said that to establish a school of the kind in Peterborough would require a special teacher at a salary of not less than $500. The teacher must have excellent qualifications, and graduates of universities are preferred. The cost of an outfit would be at least $350, and the fuel, supplies, etc., for a year would amount to $150. This would mean a cost of about $1000 for the first year but not more than $700 for subsequent years. Of this amount the Ontario Government would contribute about one-half. In Nova Scotia the Education Department allowed $6 for each pupil per year. They were, however, exceptionally liberal in this regard. Each pupil would spend two hours a day in the new department.

Mrs. Hoodless' address was exceptionally interesting and was delivered in a fluent and convincing manner. She claimed that she was not talking from a visionary standpoint but could bear out what she had said by recommendations from the best authorities in the land. Brampton, Stratford, Berlin and Hamilton have schools of the kind, and there were a number of other towns adopting the scheme after midsummer.

THE TALK OF PEACE

Transvaalers Favor General Surrender of Boer Forces.

MR. KRUGER IS LOSING SUPPORT

Sir George Goldie Says the Most Serious Question to Deal With Is the Treatment of Rebels—100,000 Men Necessary to Preserve Peace—Steyn's Confidence in Boers' Success.

Wolvehoek, Orange River Colony, March 25.—The train having on board acting President Schalkburger and his party passed this place on its way to Kroonstad yesterday. The Transvaal Government officials were accompanied by Captain Marker, Lord Kitchener's aide-de-camp, and five other members of the staff of the British commander-in-chief in South Africa. The impression here is that the Transvaalers favor a general surrender of the Boer forces.

Boers Fight Confidently.

Amsterdam, March 26.—Abraham Fischer, the Boer delegate, in an interview yesterday gives a variety of reasons why the Boers in the field should be in a mood to continue the war, rather than accept terms less advantageous than those previously recommended. The latest reports from President Steyn, received under date of Feb. 15, says:

"Last year we fought hopefully; now we are fighting with confidence, not to the bitter end, but to a happy end."

The Boer forces have plenty of everything except clothing.

Steyn in Control.

London, March 26.—Sir George Goldie, vice-president of the Royal Geographical Society, and founder of Nigeria, who has just returned from a thorough investigation of South Africa. In the course of an interview, Sir George said he was convinced that the question of peace or war rests in the hands of President Steyn, and that Mr. Kruger and the other Boers in Europe no longer represent Boer opinion. The real difficulty in the path of peace is the question of granting amnesty to the Cape and Natal rebels, and the promises of the British Government have not the slightest weight while the fighting burghers are in their present state of mind. Sir George Goldie advocates granting amnesty to the rebels, but he insists that every one must be disfranchised for life. This, he claims, would go far towards allaying the bitterness of the loyalists. Sir George depreciates any attempt to permit the use of a dual language. He says English alone must be the official language, and adds that the fact that practically the whole of the rising generation of the two republics are now in the concentration camps, and are rapidly learning English, will be of great aid in this direction. He estimates that 100,000 armed men will be needed in South Africa for some years after the conclusion of peace.

Talk of Independence Is Foolish.

London, March 26.—In regard to the latest developments in South Africa the Brussels correspondent of The Times says enlightened opinion in Belgium is not in accord with Mr. Kruger and the Boer delegates as to the question of independence. The leading Belgian organs say that the pretensions of the Boers to preserve their independence would be mere folly. The vague proposal to exchange the Rand for independence and the rest of the Transvaal is dismissed as equally impracticable. The arrangement now advocated is that the late republics be made British colonies, with sufficient autonomy to preserve a semblance of nationality, and it is urged that Great Britain should refrain from insistence on the idea of domination in the terms of surrender.

CANADA ASKED FOR 2,000 MEN.

Possibility of Another Canadian Contingent For South Africa.

Ottawa, March 26.—The rumors which have been in circulation here for the past couple of days in regard to the possibility of another Canadian contingent going to South Africa have crystallized into the statement that the Imperial authorities have asked for a mounted force of 2,000 men. It is stated that the matter was before the Cabinet yesterday, but strict reticence is observed as to the action, if any, which was decided upon. From what can be learned, the Imperial Government has suggested that the force should be equipped and transported at its own expense. The application will doubtless be acceded to, and should this prove to be correct Canada's contribution of troops will be brought up to a total of 7,000 men.

Another Canadian Dead.

Ottawa, March 26.—Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has cabled to Lord Minto that Trooper Goodman, S. A. C., died from enteric fever on March 18. Goodman's next of kin is Mrs. Dorothy of Winnipeg.

BALFOUR VS. BULLER.

Former Says Lord Roberts' Despatches Were Revised to Save Gen Buller's Reputation.

London, March 26.—An acrimonious correspondence between A. J. Balfour and Gen. Buller has been published. Mr. Balfour contends that Gen. Buller was in chief command at the battle of Spion Kop, while Gen. Buller denies this assertion. To his contention Mr. Balfour adds: "There is no reason why all the Spion Kop despatches should not be published."

To this Gen. Buller rejoins that he hopes the despatches will be published without manipulation.

Yesterday Mr. Balfour replied to Gen. Buller, protested against the latter's insinuation and declared that the only manipulation which had been exercised with regard to Gen. Buller's despatches was the excision of a single sentence criticising Sir Charles Warren, whilst the omissions from Lord Roberts' despatches relating to operations in Natal were made, said Mr. Balfour, "solely for the purpose of if possible sparing your feelings and maintaining your military reputation."

Sereneness IN SUITS and MILLINERY

The Millinery and Ready-to-wear trade promises to be a very large trade this Easter. Good Friday coming so early most folk thought it wasn't necessary to have a new hat or a new frock, which would altogether likely look out of season. But not so. Who can remember more favourable Easter weather? We venture no one—and it seems to be growing brighter each day and hour; and the new hat and that new frock has to be procured, and quick too. Those in best shape to do big trade are going to be winners. We're in the race for the Millinery and Easter fitting-out things. Increased facilities are going to work in our favour. Increased room is helping us to more judiciously display the perfection of art that abounds in every quarter of our enlarged and spacious show rooms.

MILLINERY.—The work of experts. The modelling and the work of deft fingers have created some "dreams" for head decoration. While sweetly pretty, yet not marred by unreasonably high prices.

COSTUMES containing excellent ideas and new thoughts in styles. It's a wonder how those chaps get all these new ideas into their noddle. We are showing some smart models in New York-made Suits. They'll be ideas for you. Might as well see them.

SKIRTS made from well-thought-of materials into up-to-date conceits, which find favour on the American side. All these Skirts are Sutcliffe-made Skirts, ensuring proper widths and thoroughly made garments, possessing a fullness that goes for style and not for how much cloth we can save. We have the smart Skirt at $2.75 to the elaborate at $8.50.

BRITISH PACIFIC CABLE.

It May Be Finished by the End of the Year.

Ottawa, March 26.—Sir Sandford Fleming has received the following cablegram from Sir Joseph Ward, Postmaster-General of New Zealand:

"Sir Sandford Fleming, Ottawa.

Auckland, March 25.—The first section of the Pacific cable connecting New Zealand with Norfolk Island and Australia finally, was completed to-day at Doubtless Bay. I have specially arranged to be present at the landing of the cable and send you one of the first messages. This section will probably be open to the public by May 1. I hope the whole cable will be completed by the end of the year, thus forming another important link in the chain which binds together the whole of the British empire. (Signed) J. G. Ward."

DEATH OF CECIL RHODES.

His Large Ideas Regarding South Africa now Being Carried Into Effect.

A cablegram announces this afternoon, that the Right Hon. Cecil Rhodes is dead. His life has been despaired of for some time and his death has been expected almost hourly for several days.

Cecil Rhodes was born in 1853, in Hertfordshire, England. His father was Vicar of the parish of Bishop's Storeford, and he was educated at Oxford. Between the years of 1873 and 1881, while studying, he spent his holidays in South Africa, and by speculation in diamonds amassed his vast fortune. His dream was to weld South Africa into a coherent whole. He foresaw that the South African States must be federated and he was determined that when the federation was effected the States should form a portion of the British Empire. The present state of affairs in South Africa were brought about largely through his instrumentality.

DRUMMER LOST HIS BOOT.

Amusing Episode at the Departure of a Fenelon Falls Wedding Party.

Monday afternoon two of Fenelon Falls most popular young people were married, and of course they were given a grand send-off at the station by their many friends when departing for an extended honeymoon trip. Quantities of rice and old slippers were hurled at the bride and groom as they boarded the train. When they had got comfortably seated in the car the groom noticed a boot, and thinking it was one that had been thrown through the car window to him he threw it back at his friends as the train was moving away. It happened that the boot belonged to a commercial traveller who had removed it in order to ease his sore feet. When the groom arrived in Lindsay the first thing he did was to buy the drummer a pair of new boots.

THE PULPWOOD AGREEMENTS.

In its issue of Monday, the Review publishes with approval, under the heading, "Anything Goes in Ontario Politics," the following from the Montreal Gazette:

"One of the last acts of the Ontario Legislature was to grant 1660 square miles of pulp wood lands to the Montreal River Pulp and Paper Company, the promoters of which do not yet seem to be generally known. The grant was made without tenders being called for, or any steps being taken to ensure that the province, in the dues on the wood cut, will get market value for its property. The statement was made in the Legislature that the favoured grantees have arranged to sell the freely-given concession for $600,000, and that the purchasers are re-selling it for $800,000; and some recent transactions in timber lands in the same region made it possible to believe this statement is true. And if it is true, the thing will not be morally worse than others which have attracted attention in the province. Anything goes in Ontario politics."

The chief feature of the above maliciously misleading article, is that not one statement in it, intended to reflect discredit upon the Ontario Government, squares with the facts.

The first sentence is an untruth. The Government has not granted, by virtue of this or any other agreeagreement, a single foot of pulp wood lands to this or any other company.

It is true that at the last session of the Legislature an agreement with the "Montreal River Pulp and Paper Company," was ratified, but it is not true, or rather it is misleading to say that the promoters are not generally known. The names of the promoters are printed in a public document intended for distribution, and have been published in the press, so that they are as 'generally known," as any other details of legislation.

It is true, but misleading to say, that the agreement — there was no grant made — was made without tenders being called for, for the simple reason that anyone who knows anything about the subject, knows that in such arrangements, the tender principle is as inadmissible and impracticable as the average householder securing his household supplies for the year by tender.

It is not true as asserted, that the agreement was made "without any steps being taken to ensure that the province in the dues on the wood cut will get market value for its property."

The agreement provides that the price per cord, fixed at 40 cents, shall be subject to increase at the option of the Crown—as the market value increases, or as the interests of the public suggest.

The several pulp wood agreements made by the Government are in the public interest, and in that of the development of the resources of our new country.

The pulp wood has been growing, decaying after being nutured, or destroyed by fire, and growing again, for hundreds of years. In their present condition our pulp woods are as worthless, because unutilized, as is unattainable, or unobtained, gold in the bosom of the earth. They are of no use, unless made use of, and these pulp agreements are the means employed to make them of value to the country, by way of revenue, and in other ways. Left as they are they are liable to be destroyed any dry summer to the extent of millions of trees by forest fires.

What do these pulp agreements mean? They mean in the first place that the Government gives the companies absolutely nothing material—only the right to cut and harvest pulp wood of a certain size over a certain area, and for every cord of pulp wood cut the Government collects 40 cents. The company gets no right or title to a foot of land; any more than a child who gets permission from a farmer to glean grain in a field gets a title to the farm, and the company has no property in a single stick of pulp wood till it is paid for.

The Government retains the right to sell or locate any of the lands in the territory over which leave to cut has been given, and any settler has the same rights on such lands as if no such agreement existed.

These agreements instead of retarding, assist, settlement of, especially, the lands in the vicinity of the mills, for the settler having a right to the pulp timber on his land, in the process of clearing, makes money with the first stroke of his axe. He can sell his pulp wood to the mills, and when he has reaped the harvest of pulp wood he can sell his crops from his cleared lands to the employees of the mills.

The pulp company gets nothing but the right to cut pulp wood, subject to payment at 40 cents per cord, and that is only part of the price to be paid. The company is bound to expend in the construction and equipment of pulp mills the sum of $500,000, and to operate the mills, so that the daily output of the mills will amount to 150 tons of pulp and paper, and so that at least 250 hands shall be employed in connection with them, at least ten months in the year.

With such a heavy expenditure required, it is only natural that any company undertaking it should be assured of a sufficient and continuous supply of pulp wood to keep the mills in operation for the 21 years covered by the agreement.

The company takes the risk of a sufficient supply; for the Government in no case guarantees any quantity of pulp wood, but the intention of the agreement is that the territory set apart should supply a sufficient quantity of wood.

The article quoted above states that the company has arranged to sell the "freely-given concession" for $600,000.

This is very doubtful, for the 21st clause of the agreement forbids the company to "sell, dispose of or assign the rights or privileges granted by the agreement" until the mills required by the agreement shall have been "erected, completed and in operation." This condition is a matter of record and solemn agreement, while the "yarn" of the sale is only an unconfirmed and improbable rumour.

Now what is wrong or contrary to the public interest in these agreements? Nothing whatever is given away, but the right to cut pulp wood at 40 cents per cord is given on the condition that $500,000 must be spent in construction and equipment of works, with all the advantage to the manufacturers and workmen of older Ontario this condition implies.

There is nothing unfair, wrong or unbusiness-like or prejudicial to the public interests in this, or the other pulpwood agreements.

Let us illustrate: Suppose a man in Peterborough county has several farms with more or less woodland on each. These patches of woodland have more or less fallen or dead timber on them. This man wishing to realizing upon this before it rots, or is destroyed by fire, negotiates with a neighbour, and the latter enters into an agreement which gives him the right to cut this wood. He gets no right to the land, only the right to cut, and he must pay, say, 40 cents a cord for every cord he takes off. In addition the agreement requires him to build a mill to cost, say, $2,000, to cut the timber. He must buy all the timber, stone, etc., that he needs in building the mill, from the owner of the land—he must buy all the machinery he needs in Peterborough County, and he must employ so many hands so long every season. Would anybody think that the man who bought the right to cut, had, in the language of the street, any "snap" in his agreement. Would any one say that the man who sold the right to cut, was, in the extravagant language of Mr Whitney, committing "robbery" upon himself? Yet the above hypothetical case is precisely the the same in principle as the pulp wood agreements, so unthinkingly condemned by the Opposition.

Where then is the sense of the cry that Mr. Whitney raised in the House about this (Montreal River) agreement being a "gigantic public robbery?" Nobody believes him—he doesn't even believe himself. If one agreement is a "robbery" they all are. In all seven pulp agreements have been made since 1894, and Mr. Whitney and his followers consented to all agreements passed except those of the last two years. Then he has been asleep and a party to "gigantic public robberies."

A conservative estimate places the amount of our pulp wood in new Ontario at 288 million cords. At 40 cents per cord, that means a Government revenue of 115 million of dollars—more than the total revenue of the province since Confederation from all sources—Dominion subsidies, interest on money held by the Dominion, Crown Lands, etc., etc. And if the present price of 40 cents is doubled as was the price of the first agreement, our pulp wood has a revenue value of 230 millions, enough to run the province for 75 years even if all other sources of revenue were cut off.

And longer than 75 years. For it is asserted that pulp woods reproduce their selves in from 20 to 30 years, and, as no timber is to be cut under six inches, a pulp area which takes 21 years to cut, will, at the end of that time, be ready for another 21 years cut; so that the supply in unsettled regions, or regions unsuitable for settlement, will be perpetual and great source of revenue.

What is the effect of these agreements which Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition, with such disregard for facts, and such effrontery of bombastic exaggeration, calls "gigantic robberies," "public crimes," etc.?

Are they robberies? Are they one-sided or altogether in favour of the companies, or do they require the companies to pay pretty dearly for the comparatively limited privileges they get?

There have been made seven of these agreements and they require the expenditure of $4,900,000 in construction and equipment of buildings before the companies can exercise the privilege of paying 40 cents a cord for the pulp wood they cut. As the result of the first agreement there has already been expended in preparing for operations arising out of the pulp wood industry, an expenditure at and in the vicinity of the "Soo" of from 12 to 15 millions of dollars.

If we had not had that agreement such an expenditure would not have been made, nor would old Ontario have had the benefit of furnishing so many hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of dollars for supplies of various kinds.

If it had not been for this first pulp agreement, the big orders for machinery received by the William Hamilton Company and the Canadian General Electric Company would not have been received here and our local workmen would not have had the added employment the filling of these orders represent, nor have had the additional wages to expend in purchase of the products of local farmers.

How can the Opposition be so short-sighted, and one-sided, so determined to gain political party capital at the expense of the substantial progress of the province? It would seem that opposition to advance movements is made simply to embarrass the Government.

It is folly to argue that the development of the new country is made at the expense of the old. The exactly opposite conditions prevail.

Every new industry established in New Ontario means added business for Old Ontario. These pulp works must have machinery, and Old Ontario must supply it, in the process distributing money, giving added employment to workingmen, etc. If five millions of dollars must, according to the agreements, be spent on buildings and equipment—what follows? Take the last agreement. It is stipulated that the cement used and the machinery installed, must be of Canadian manufacture. Suppose two of the five millions are needed for these purposes, is not that an important new expenditure to be made in older Ontario?

Then the settlement attracted by these works has its benefits to us. Every settler means a demand upon the manufacturing resources of older Ontario. He must have stoves, furniture, ploughs, harrows, reapers, axes, and all sorts of supplies, and this province will supply them.

Multiply one settler by one, ten, twenty or a hundred thousand, and the dullest cannot fail to see the benefits that will be distributed. Add the expenditure for building supplies, cement, hardware, etc., and machinery, and we have the circle of commercial and industrial benefit proportionately enlarged.

These agreements are sound business propositions, which any unprejudiced business man will endorse.

So strongly did Mr. Marter, of North Toronto, feel this that he broke from his party and supported the Government in the Montreal River agreement, which the Gazette condemns. Speaking on the subject in the House on March 15th, Mr. Marter said:

"This is not a party question, it is a business proposition, which should be, if it is right, endorsed by all in this Legislature, irrespective of party. Viewing it as I do, so from a business standpoint for the benefit of our country. . . . I feel so certain that what the Government is doing is in the interests of the business men of this city and the Province generally, that I know they will be a unit in saying, "Yes, give every concession that you can as long as they are guarded by the fair terms contained in these agreements."

What has experience shown? What have been the results of former concessions? The first pulp agreement, made in 1895, passed into the hands of the Clergue Company, and from that has sprung industries and expansions that have resulted in the expenditure of between 12 and 15 millions of dollars in only getting ready for work. We have as a result the "Soo" advanced from a village to a city with immense industries employing thousands of hands, and representing wonderful development. Just now they are making steel rails from Ontario ore at the Sault—and that is only one result—others are the smelter at Midland and the great works under way at Collingwood. All those great industries at the "Soo" with a pay roll for wages and supplies of millions of dollars a year had their start and owe their growth to the first pulp agreement in 1895.

Similar results promise to be true of others when they get under way. In the building of the works of the Spanish River Pulp and Paper Company, a big brickmaking industry has arisen, and so rich are our resources in the new country that it is probable that the pulp industry, great as it will be, will be less important than the aggregate of the industries that spring out of it.

There is nothing in the cry that is raised by some Opposition journals and politicians that the Government is developing new, at the expense of settled, Ontario. The Government realizes that we have great resources in the new country, and, having faith in them, has arranged, and is arranging, that new Ontario shall develop itself, and in the progress help build up older Ontario. In these pulp wood agreements not one foot of public land is alienated; provision is simply made for utilizing timber resources now useless from a commercial point of view, and liable to destruction by fire, and for utilizing them in such a way that trade with the settled portion of the province is encouraged.

The Government's policy of new Ontario development makes no demand upon the funds of the province. The Government has provided for the construction of over 500 miles of railway in new Ontario without the granting of a dollar in money. The otherwise waste lands are made to build these lines, which will make provincial lands valuable, will open up the country, help develop its resources and increase trade with settled Ontario—bringing down the products of the new country and taking back from old Ontario the products of the farm and factory.

This is a great province with vast resources, which must, to be of public benefit, be made commercially useful. It is self-evident that we can never advance by a policy of sitting still and waiting. We must put things in motion, and that the Government is doing by means of its energetic advance policy.

The people of the province are go-ahead and alive themselves, and will and do sympathise with a Government that puts these qualities to practical use, and the people will, we are sure, give the Government a further mandate to continue the great work of which so much has already been accomplished, so that we shall progressively and ultimately realize to the full the significance of the motto of the Ross Government,

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. I Will Cure You of Rheumatism
No pay until you know it.

After 2,000 experiments, I have learned how to cure Rheumatism. Not to turn bony joints into flesh again; that is impossible. But I can cure the disease always, at any stage, and forever.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, for every druggist keeps it. Use it for a month, and if it does what I claim, pay your druggist $5.50 for it. If it doesn't, I will pay him myself.

I have no samples. Any medicine that can effect Rheumatism with but a few doses must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs. It is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that, even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how impossible this seems to you, I know it and I take the risk. I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that 39 out of every 40 who get those six bottles pay, and pay gladly. I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. Let me send you an order for the medicine. Take it for a month, for it won't harm you anyway. If it cures, pay $5.50. I leave that entirely to you. I will mail you a book that tells how I do it.

Simply state name of your dealer, and address Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

A Recommendation to Mercy For Solomon—The Edmonton Hanging Is To-Day—The Prisoner Has Confessed.

Winnipeg, March 26. — Salamon, the Galician wife-murderer, was yesterday sentenced to hang on May 27. He asked the judge for mercy for his four little children, and asked him to go to the King and do something for him. When he had finished a most pitiful plea, his lordship told the interpreter to inform Salamon that the jury had recommended him to mercy, that he would send that recommendation to the Governor-General at Ottawa.

Hanging at Edmonton.

Edmonton, March 26.— Captain Binkley of Ponoka, the executioner, arrived on Thursday night's train, and was immediately driven to Fort Saskatchewan. He claims to have officiated at 143 hangings in Ohio.

Bullock, the father of the condemned man, went to the fort yesterday to see his son for the last time. He is very much affected, and has in his possession a rambling letter from his son which ends up quite unintelligibly. He says the boy's mother is completely broken down. It was a question whether the would stay at home to see her die, or go to the fort to see his son die.

The prisoner had a long conference with Rev. Mr. Aldridge, Methodist minister, Monday. It is believed he has made a confession.

LUMBAGO CURED.

A Serious Case of This Painful Disease is Restored to Good Health.

Satisfactory Improvement Leads to a Continued Treatment Which Results in a Complete Cure—An Interesting Story Which Will no Doubt Profit Anyone Suffering With Lumbago.

Holyrood, Ont., March 23. (Special.)—Mr. Bat. Pinnell, of this place, has for the past two years been a great sufferer with that most painful and stubborn disease—Lumbago.

The pain he suffered was almost beyond description and many were the medicines and treatments he used to try and get some relief. However, nothing he could find seemed to help him in the least, and he became very downhearted.

At last someone suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills and Mr. Pinnell, although very skeptical, thought he would make one more trial for a cure and began to use them.

The first box did not do him very much good, but after he had used part of the second he began to feel a change for the better, so he kept on until he had used in all seven boxes, when he was delighted to find that every symptom of the Lumbago had entirely disappeared.

His general health is much improved and he feels better to-day than he has for years.

To say that Mr. Pinnell is pleased does not begin to express it. Only those who have suffered as he did with this very painful disease can understand the extreme satisfaction of one who has found a complete cure and restoration to health and strength.

Lumbago is a direct result of disordered kidneys and should always be treated as a Kidney Disease.

Efforts to cure or even relieve by outward applications are invariably unsuccessful. Rubbing may in itself for the time being produce a little relief, but in order to secure a complete cure it is absolutely necessary to go right to the root of the trouble.

The Kidneys must be restored to their normal condition. This is just what Dodd's Kidney Pills do, and this done the Lumbago very soon leaves for without diseased Kidneys there can be no Lumbago.

SIR RICHARD'S REPLY

A Spirited Answer to Mr. Bell's Charge of Misquoting.

HE PRODUCED THE BOOK QUOTED

Mr. Bell Postpones His Reply For Reasons—Debate on the Budget Continued—All Hope of Concluding Debate Before the Easter Holidays Abandoned — The Speakers on Tuesday.

Ottawa, March 26.—All hope of concluding the budget before the Easter vacation has been abandoned, and the debate is approaching the stage when the average attendance of members barely exceeds the quorum. At the opening of the House Sir Richard Cartwright made a spirited reply to some charges made by Mr. Bell, that he had misquoted from a public document. The speakers on the budget were Messrs. T. O. Davis, A. E. Kemp, R. F. Sutherland (Essex), Edward Hackett and Henri Bourassa. Mr. Bourassa adjourned the debate.

Sir Richard Cartwright.

On the opening of the House Sir Richard Cartwright rose to make a personal explanation in reference to a charge by Mr. A. C. Bell that he had misquoted the Statistical Year Book. He said: I did not expose the matter yesterday afternoon, because I wanted to see how far stupidity and party spite would drive these gentlemen, and I also wanted to see that they should be so committed that there could be no possible quibbling, and no possible wriggling out of the position in which they placed themselves. I will proceed briefly to give the House the authority on which I made the statements with respect to what appears in the Statistical Year Book for the year 1889. The House will recollect that I have used certain estimates of the population of Canada in the course of my remarks on the budget, and I stated that those had been derived from the Statistical Year Book of the year 1889. The House will also recollect that yesterday it was stated in this House that these figures were not to be found in the Statistical Year Book, that other figures were given, and a long deduction was made therefrom. Sir, I have here the Statistical Year Book for 1889. On page 116 of this valuable and veracious document will be found the following statement: "In the fiscal year ending the 30th of June, 1887, the estimated population of Canada is given at 4,875,005 souls." Immediately thereafter, for the fiscal year 1888, the population is given at 4,972,101, and for 1889 the population is given at 5,075,555. Sir, that is enough in itself, but there is more also. I stated besides, that these hon. gentlemen, at least the predecessors of these hon. gentlemen, had carried out the calculation, at any rate as regards one year, and that they had produced the result of showing that in 1890 or thereabout the populatfon estimated by them for Canada would exceed 5,200,000. I have here the trade and navigation tables for the year 1890, counter-signed by Sir Mackenzie Bowell, then Minister of Customs, under date of Dec. 29, 1890. In it the total duty collected for customs is put down as $24,014,908. On the opposite page you will find the amount of customs duties paid per head of the population put down at $4.60. You will further find at the bottom of the page this statement: "The calculations in this column are based on the estimated population of the Dominion in each year, as published by the Department of Agriculture, and statistics in the Statistical Year Book. See page 116 and 180 of that book for 1889, the figures this year having been corrected to correspond with those in the said Statistical Year Book." Now, I suppose it would be possible for these hon. gentlemen to go through the profound arithmetical calculation of dividing $24,014,908 by $4.60, and if they do, they will find in the quotient that the estimated population of Canada by the customs returns and the Statistical Year Book amounted to 5,220,632. Sir, I leave the House to say who has falsified the statements in the Year Book.

Mr. A. C. Bell.

Mr. A. C. Bell (Pictou) replied: I regret very much that I did not hear the first part of the remarks of the hon. Minister of Trade and Commerce, and, furthermore, that I am compelled to leave the city on the first outgoing train, and therefore, have not time just now to reply adequately to what the hon. Minister says. I regret that I am called away by circumstances over which I have no control, the death of a near relative, to go out of the city immediately, but on my return I will deal with this matter, and I trust that the question may be settled satisfactorily to the House and the country.

After a discussion with Mr. R. L. Borden, to whom Sir Richard had also referred, Sir Richard said that Mr. Bell, if he had any sense of honor, would withdraw his statements.

Mr. Albert Malouin introduced a bill respecting the trans-Canada Railway Co.

TURNED THE TIDE

In half an hour after Mr. Lavers took the first dose of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart he was on the road to permanent recovery.

"I was under treatment with some of the best physicians in London (England) for what they diagnosed as incurable heart trouble. I suffered agonies through pains about my heart, fainting spells, palpitation and exhaustion. As a drowning man grasps at a straw, I tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. The first bottle relieved me greatly, and when I had used two bottles all the symptoms of my heart trouble had left me."—A. Lavers, Collingwood. 95

Five Dollars a Box

The Price Cut no Figure With Him.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop my purchasing them should I ever suffer again as I did for a week before using them.

The one 50 cent box I bought at my druggist's did the work and my digestion is all right again.

Many of my neighbours have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented and Mr. Ellms also wants me to use his name in endorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. (Signed,) A. Ellms and Chas. F. Buzzell, Asst. Postmaster, South Sudbury. Mass.

Mrs. Jas. Barton, of Toronto, Canada, writes:—"For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took meicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surpised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestive, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere endorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

Mr. Davis of Saskatchewan renewed his speech on the budget, declaring that the west was thoroughly satisfied with the present tariff and would resent an increase in duties.

Mr. Kemp followed. He dealt with the tariff, the trade and expenditure, making a reference to Imperial matters.

Mr. Hackett (P.E.I.) vigorously defended the National Policy, and pointed to its operation in the Maritime Provinces with pride.

Mr. Bourassa believed protection was forced in Canada by inside and outside circumstances. He condemned the preferential tariff, as tending to patronize the British and German manufacturers instead of the Canadian manufacturer, and yet the Canadian consumer got but very little advantage in price.

As to oriential immigration, he claimed Canada should exercise the right to act as her own interests demanded, and not to be bound to a policy declared by Imperial considerations. He moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House rose at 11.20 p.m.

In the Senate.

Ottawa, March 26.—In the Senate yesterday two private bills of interest were introduced. One was the bill respecting the Bell Telephone Company, and the other was the bill to extend the charter of the Georgian Bay Canal Company.

FARMER VERSUS RAILWAY.

Mr. Lancaster's Cattle Guard Bill Adjourned For a Session.

Ottawa, March 26.—All the leading railway men of the Dominion and their legal representatives were here yesterday opposing Mr. Lancaster's bill for cattle guards at railway crossings. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, William Wainwright, D. Mann and others were in attendance.

It was a question between the farmers and the railways. Several amendments were proposed to meet objections on the one side and the other.

Finally the Minister of Railways was asked for his view. Mr. Blair said that, as there was the greatest divergence of opinion as to matters of fact, he suggested that the matter be left over until next session, and that meantime a commission be appointed to look into the best kind of cattle guard to use, and once this was done, then make it compulsory on all railways to use it. On this statement by Mr. Blair a motion to adjourn the bill was carried.

The Telephone Bill.

Ottawa, March 26.—The Railway Committee yesterday appointed next Wednesday for the consideration of the telephone bills. To-day the Minister of Justice will hold a conference with the representatives of the municipalities on the question of protecting the rights of cities and towns over their streets and roads.

Discussed the Roddick Bill

Ottawa, Ont., March 26.—The special committee appointed to discuss Dr. Roddick's bill for the establishment of a Dominion Medical Council met again yesterday and discussed several of the clauses. It is probable that evidence will be taken at the next meeting.

ALLIANCE PROHIBITIONISTS.

Get Down to Business and Make an Announcement.

Toronto, March 26.—The Executive Committee of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, and the Ontario section of the Standing Committee on Temperance and Moral Reform of the General Conference of the Wethodist Church held a joint meeting yesterday afternoon and evening, with Dr. J. J. Maclaren, K.C., in the chair. A lengthy announcement was submitted by F. S. Spence, and, after a number of amendments, was adopted by the meeting.

The only remedy against the liquor traffic, the announcement says, lies in securing the nominatfon and election of reliable candidates, who will undertake, regardless of party, to support the bringing into operation of prohibitory legislation. In conclusion the announcement says:

While we protest against the unjust requirements of the referendum plan, we deem it our duty to stand by the cause we have always supported and we earnestly urge our people to organize to secure another victory on the referendum on Dec. 4.

The following resolution, moved by Rev. J. D. Ross, D.D., of Walkerton, and seconded by Rev. W. A. Mackay of Woodstock, was carried unanimously:

"That the Executive desires to place on record its high appreciation of the noble efforts made in the Legislature on behalf of provincial prohibition by Mr. George F. Marter, M.P.P., and we hereby convey to Mr. Marter and to the other members who voted with him, our hearty thanks for proposing and voting in the House for the changes desired by the Dominion Alliance on the conditions of the referendum."

Identified as J. V. M. King.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., March 26.—A body found floating in the river here Monday was identified yesterday as that of J. V. M. King, a former Episcopalian minister, who had been teaching in this vicinity of late. He formerly held pastorates in Minneapolis, Sherbrooke and Cobden, Ont., but was deposed from the ministry. It is thought that he became despondent and committed suicide. King's parents, who are well-to-do, live in Newfoundland. He was educated for the ministry at Canterbury, and ordained at Kingston, Ont.

Dares Mr. Monk to Come On.

Montreal, Que., March 26.— An action for $10,000 damages, taken by F. D. Monk, M.P., against La Patrie newspaper, was inscribed yesterday. The suit arises out of a report of a meeting at St. Etienne, in connection with the Beauharnois bye-election. Mr. Monk claims that the speech and the action attributed to him on that occasion are false.

La Patrie declines to apologize or retract and dares Mr. Monk to persist in his actfon.

Roblin on the Liquor Act.

Winnipeg, March 26.—Premier Roblin declares over his own signature that the Liquor Act is "no prohibition bill whatever, and it is simply a bill providing for free whiskey."

WITH GRATITUDE.

Stomach Disorder Permanently Cured in the Case of Mrs. Joseph Roy, Montreal.

With the greatest gratitude I give my testimonial of the wonderful curative properties of Powley's Liquified Ozone, and what it has done for me. I have been troubled with indigestion and heart-burn, and also neuralgia for over six years, and have used many different kinds of remedies and drugs without obtaining much relief. About two months ago I commenced to use Ozonie, and after taking four bottles I am happy to say that I am cured. My appetite is good, and I can eat anything I wish without feeling any inconvenience or pain, and I owe it to your no drug preparation, Ozone. (Signed) Mrs. Joseph Roy, 266 St. Dominique-street, Montreal, P. Q.

The reason that Powley's Liquified Ozone is so very effective in curing disorders of the stomach is because of its remarkable power to assist the digestive process and restore natural conditions to the functions of the stomach. It is a natural blood food and body tonic, making use of Nature's great element, oxygen, to create and establish permanently health and strength. Many people hurt their stomachs by feeding on a certain diet too long or by not eating judiciously. How many there are who, when they sit down to a repast numb the stomach and drive away the blood from the digestive organs with a glass of ice water. Observe the laws of hygiene—eat slowly, masticate your food carefully, drink very little liquid at meals and follow it all with a dessert-spoonful of Powley's Liquified Ozone, and you'll rid yourself of indigestion in a very short time. A bottle will cost only 50c or $1 at all druggists.

A Hamilton paper says:—"The announcement is made to-day of the marriage at Toronto of Miss Florence Baugh, daughter of Dr. Baugh, to W. A. Tebb, manager of the local branch of the Semi-Ready Clothing Company. The news of the wedding will surprise some of the friends of the contracting parties, but on their return from their honeymoon they will receive many congratulations, as the bride and groom are very popular. The wedding was a quiet affair, Cupid having kept it a secret."

Closing Exercises.

The closing exercises of the gymnasium of the Y.M.C.A. will be held on Friday, April 4th. This has always proved to be one of the leading attractions of the season in connection with the local Y.M.C.A., and there is reason to believe that the annual affair this year will be up to the usual high standard. The programme will include every feature in physical exercises, and as the "Gym" possesses a number of very excellent athletes some splendid exhibitions of gymnastics may be expected. The public should avail itself of this opportunity of seeing what the "gym" department of the Y.M.C.A. is doing.

ROYALLY ENTERTAINED.

Mr. E. C. Complin, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce—At Officers' Quarters, 57th Regiment.

There was a most enjoyable gathering in the officers' quarters of the 57th Regiment last night, when a little informal send-off was tendered Mr. E. C. Complin, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who leaves shortly on a three months' visit to the Old Country. Mr. Complin, before coming to Peterborough held a lieutenant's commission in the Queen's Own Rifles, of Toronto, and during his residence here he has been attached to the 57th Regiment. His interest in the affairs of the local city regiment was such that his fellow officers could not see him leave without tendering him a hearty farewell as a token of their appreciation of his services. Almost every officer of the 57th Regiment was in attendance last night as well as Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, ex-commanding officer of the 3rd Dragoons; Lieut.-Col. J. A. Rogers, ex-commanding officer of the 57th; Lieut.-Col. J. Rogers, Grafton, ex-commanding officer of the 40th Northumberland Regiment of Infantry; Surgeon-Major Young, Capt. W. D. Johnston and Lieut. W. T. Hall of the 3rd Dragoons, and Lieut. E. O. Bradburn, of the 14th Field Battery.

The chair was occupied by Surgeon-Major Halliday and after ample justice had been done to an excellent menu, an informal toast list was run off.

Major Dennistoun, on behalf of a number of prominent citizens, personal friends of Mr. Complin's, presented that gentleman with a well-filled purse. Mr. Complin made a happy reply in which he thanked the officers of the 57th Regiment for their kind references to him and he assured them that he had enjoyed his connection with the Rangers. After the usual toasts had been proposed, the affair was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

The death occurred this morning of Adelle Labrieux, wife of Mr. Francis Turcotte, at the age of 67 years. Besides her sorrowing husband eleven children survive to mourn her death. They are William, of Fulton, Ill.; Joseph, of Oscota, Mich.; Frank and Fred of Toronto; Thomas and Albert, of town; Mrs. M. L. Labelle, of Toronto; Mrs. Wm. Bloom, Mrs. Frank Lafountaine, Mrs. Lacheur and Miss Louise of town.

THE LOCAL LADY GOLFERS

Held Their Annual Meeting Last Evening at the Y.M.C.A.

Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year—The Meeting was Largely Attended—Annual Reports Submitted.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Ladies Golf Club held last evening in the Y.M.C.A. parlours, was marked by a very large attendance.

Mrs. Boucher, the president, was in the chair, and Miss Barlee, the secretary-treasurer, presented the report for the year as subjoined:

During the season of 1901 there were 48 playing members and 13 associate members, against 45 playing and 20 associate in 1900. Of the 48, a few paid only half fees, joining for either the beginning or end of the season. The decrease in the associate membership may be accounted for by the fact that the teas were held fortnightly instead of every week, as in former years. This number should easily be increased this season.

At a meeting of the Entertainment Committee held on April 4th, Mrs. McAllister was elected Chairman of that Committee, and she, with Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun, elected at the same meeting, and the President, Mrs. Boucher, form the House Committee.

Owing to the absence of Mrs. McAllister there is no report from the Entertainment Committee. She, however, arranged all regular teas, and it is owing to her, that everything passed off so satisfactorily. There have only been two Executive meetings held, at neither of which was there any important questions to be considered.

Mr. C. H. Bradburn, Secretary of the Peterborough Golf Club, has been most obliging in furnishing this club with every assistance in his power. There is a balance at our credit in the Bank of Commerce, and all debts have been paid.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

M. C. BARLEE, Hon. Sec.-Treas.

The report was adopted, after which the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year.

Hon. Pres.—Mrs. Robt. Hamilton.
Pres.—Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun.
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. W. A. Sanderson.
Captain—Mrs. Campbell.
Entertainment Committee — Mrs. Hill, Mrs. McAllister, Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Richard Hall, Mrs. A. H. Stratton, Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. D. J. Lundy, Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. Eastwood, Miss Laura Davidson, Miss Fair, Miss Tucker.
Match Committee — Miss Archer, Miss Clementi, Miss Halliday.

Acknowledgment was made of the gifts which had been made to the club in the way of trophies and fittings for the rooms, etc. Votes of thanks were passed the press, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., and the retiring officers.

PETERBOROUGH PRESBYTERY

Met This Morning and Made Arrangements for Induction.

A meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough was held this morning in St. Andrew's church. There were present Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. J. G. Potter, Rev. Mr. Campbell, Lakefield, Rev. Mr. McCuaig, Rev. Mr. Blewett, Elder Alex. Robertson, of Springville.

The meeting was called to arrange for the induction of Rev. Mr. Atkinson at Warsaw, on April 8th, at 3 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Cambell was appointed to preside at the meeting and induct; Rev. Mr. Potter to preach; Rev. Mr. Kannawin of Omemee, to address the minister; and Rev. Mr. McIntosh, of Centreville, to address the people.

Applications for grants to Augmented Congregations were considered, and a grant of $200 to Warsaw, and $150 to Springville, were made, the same to be paid after the induction of their respective ministers.

The application of Mill street church, Port Hope, for $300 was considered but final action was deferred inasmuch as all the documents necessary for the disposal of the matter were not in hand.

All the business of the presbytery was not concluded to-day and an adjournment took place until the induction service at Warsaw on April 8th.

EASTER TOGGERY FOR MEN AND BOYS.

H. LeBrun & Co. are Holding a Special Easter "Opening" Event.

The question of dress is paramount this week. With the advent of the new season, the principal thought of the masculine, as well as the feminine, world, is that of dress. Where is the man, woman or child who will not don new raiment on Easter?

For the Men and boys, Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. are holding a special "opening" event before Easter. All departments are thrown open for their inspection. Their exclusive display of new spring clothing, hats, neckwear, shirts, gloves, handkerchiefs, hosiery, underwear, etc., is a sight for good dressers. The City Clothing Store has been successfully catering for the dress needs of the men and boys of Peterborough for the past twenty-five years.

This season's carefully selected suits, spring overcoats and other seasonable outfittings does the firm especial credit.

The hats and neckwear stocks make a very fine showing of the smartest, nobbiest spring styles in vogue. Their list of Easter novelties should keep the clerks busy all week.

THE ASSIZES.

The time of the assizes has been taken up all day yesterday and to-day with the case of Wasson vs. Douglas. About 14 witnesses have been examined and the indications are that there will be as many more. The Court sat until 10 o'clock last night.

Another Meeting of the Promoters was Held Last Night—What They did.

There was a good attendance at the meeting in Messrs. Hatton & Bradburn's office last night of those who are interested in the matter of erecting in Peterborough a new and up-to-date skating rink.

His Worship Mayor Deane occupied the chair, and announced that the amount already subscribed was $2500, but the opinion of the meeting was that the erection of the structure should not be commenced until at least $6,000 had been subscribed. To accomplish this, Messrs. R. H. Kells and J. S. Knapman were appointed as promoters, and the work of securing subscribers for stock will be pushed vigorously forward.

It is understood that the old skating rink company will sell their Charlotte street property and get out of business for $5,000.

SUPREME COURT.

The Case of Brophy vs. North American Life up Again.

In the Supreme Court at Ottawa on Friday, the hearing proceeded in Brophy vs. North American Life Insurance Company. In 1897 the company issued a policy on the life of one Cromar, the first premium being paid by Brophy. The policy was subsequently assigned to Brophy, prior to which an annuity was issued in the latter's favour of $300 a year, he paying the amount required to procure the same. Cromar died in April, 1900, and after his death the company brought an action to have the policy delivered up to be cancelled, claiming that it was issued in pursuance of a scheme originated by Brophy and Cromar, and that it was a wagering policy, and void under 14th George III., chapter 48. It was shown that Brophy held several other policies on Cromar's life. At the trial judgment was given against Brophy, ordering the policy to be cancelled. This judgment was affirmed by the Court of Appeal, but varied by ordering the premiums to be returned by the company with interest. Judgment reserved. Daniel O'Connell, Peterborough, and Butler for appellant; J. K. Kerr, K.C., and J. A. Patterson for respondent.

AN ACCIDENT.

Intoxicated Lindsay Man Met With a Serious Mishap on Saturday.

(Lindsay Post.)

Saturday evening about 7 o'clock, James McGlynn, of Russell street west, was found lying in the ditch alongside the high sidewalk west of the Smyth block on Kent street. He appeared to be in a helpless state of intoxication and Constable Reeves, on being notified, secured aid and had him carried to the lock-up opposite.

It appears that McGlynn recently returned from the shanties with the proceeds of his winter's work, and has been indulging rather freely. It is said that when he returned home Saturday evening at supper time he discovered that he had been robbed of $200, and it was while coming down town in the hope of tracing the money that he staggered off the walk and met with the accident. His left leg was broken in two places.

This morning the injured man was sent to St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on the advice of Dr. Herriman, the nature of the fracture being such as to demand the best care.

DELORA MILLS

To be Closed on April 1st—Between 100 and 150 Men Will be Thrown out of Employment.

We are informed by a gentleman who has just returned from Marmora that it is the intention of the Canadian Gold Fields Company of Delora, near Marmora, to close down their stamp mills and other works, with the exception of the arsenic mill, on April 1st next. This, we are informed, will throw at least 100 men out of employment. It is the intention of the company to continue the mining operations during the coming summer, which, together with the staff required by the arsenic mill, will necessitate the employment of about 50 men. At present, or at least until quite recently, some 200 men were employed. Though our informant did not like to so state, he says that not unlikely the recent strike had something to do with the mills closing down.—Belleville Intelligencer.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

All Saints' Branch Holds its Regular Meeting.

The annual meeting of All Saint's branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was held last night with a large number of women of the parish present. After prayer, Rev. W. L. Armitage gave an interesting address on "Women's work in the Church." The president, Miss Chamberlen, then took the chair and the several officers gave their reports which showed that a successful year's work had been done. Mrs. Edward Harris read an interesting paper on "Mission work of the Church in the large cities of England."

The officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, and are as follows:

Hon. Pres.—Mrs. Beck.
Pres.—Miss Chamberlen.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Hooper.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. D. J. Lundy.
Sec.—Mrs. Latimer.
Treas.—Mrs. Gilbert.
Con. of P.M.C.—Mrs. Buller.
Organist—Miss Bullen.
Superintendents of Jun. W.A.—Mrs. Hickey, Miss Cochrane and Mrs. Smeaton.

Some twenty new members joined last night and more are expected later on.

A most interesting feature of the evening was the presentation to Miss Chamberlen of a Life Membership in the Diocesan Branch. Miss Chamberlen was taken entirely by surprise but replied in most feeling terms of gratitude for the honour done her.

Those present were then entertained to refreshments by Mrs. D. J. Lundy, and after votes of thanks to Mrs. Lundy and Mr. Browne, who had sung a couple of sacred solos during the evening, the meeting was closed with the members' prayer and benediction by the Rector.

GOOD FRIDAY CONCERTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear sir,—Will you allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words about the day on which the Christian Church commemorates the death of the Lord Jesus Christ? Of late it has been customary with some people to arrange for concerts and entertainments on Good Friday, on the plea that it is a holiday (holyday would be better) when people ought to be entertained. One can hardly think it possible that any person who has regard for solemnities would have rejoicing and feasting on the anniversary of the death of a dear relative. Those who are responsible for holding a concert, etc., on the day when Christ's death is commemorated by the whole Christian race, certainly expect to share in the efficacy of the death of the Saviour, and yet have apparently not the least desire to mourn for the sad fact that their sins nailed the Saviour to the cross. Would to God that there were more reality in religion, and that the professing Christians would be more in earnest as to manifesting their love to Christ!

Sincerely Yours,
E. A. LANGFELDT.

NEW IRISH LAND BILL

Mr. T. M. Healy Thinks It Will Aid Towards Settlement.

REDMOND RESERVES JUDGMENT

What the Main Provisions of the Bill Are—Consent of Three-Quarters of the Tenants Is Required Before Commission May Purchase an Estate When the Owner Is Willing to Sell.

London, March 26.—The Chief Secretary for Ireland, George Wyndham, introduced the Irish land bill in the House of Commons yesterday.

The main provision of the bill authorizes the land commission to take over the whole or any part of an estate whose owner is willing to sell. The commission will then resell it to the tenants, but, the assent of three-quarters of the number of the tenants is necessary to purchase the land before the commission will undertake to transfer any part of an estate.

The Irish members evinced little enthusiasm over the bill. John Redmond, the Nationalist leader in the House, said he purposed to reserve his judgment until he had studied the provisions of the bill carefully. He warned the Government that universal compulsory purchase must be the ultimate solution of the problem, as nothing else would be accepted.

Timothy M. Healy (Nationalist), said he believed the bill would do something towards settling the question, but that much depended on the constitution of new estates and the commission.

Getting Back at the Speaker.

London, March 26. — John Redmond, the leader of the Irish Nationalists, gave notice in the House of Commons yesterday of a motion, equivalent to a vote of censure on the Speaker, William Court Gully, for not having made the Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, withdraw his remark, "the hon. gentleman is a good judge of traitors," addressed to John Dillon (Irish Nationalist) in the House on March 20, which led to Mr. Dillon's retort on Mr. Chamberlain.

Petition For Protection.

London, March 26.—James Lowther (Conservative), the former Chief Secretary for Ireland, caused considerable amusement in the House of Commons yesterday by presenting petitions from Liverpool and Cardiff, containing 35,000 signatures, praying Parliament to impose duties on foreign goods.

TROUBLES OF THE SOLDIERS.

Leytonstone, Eng.

Dear Sirs,—With regard to Kelpion, I cannot speak too well of it. It was the only medical store we had with us, and I don't know how we should have got on without it.

The Regulars were always "rolling" up for a "rub of Kelpion" for different complaints, and I certainly think that all soldiers should be served with "one pot Kelpion" when going on active service.

I think it was owing to your ointment that so many of us were able to keep up and do the record march under Lord Kitchener.

The first time I saw it used was for a bad foot, which was badly jammed by a railway carriage door. In three days he was able to wear his boots and in less than a week able to walk. At Orange River I used it for my throat which was swollen to Tonsilitis, and by rubbing your Kelpion well in. I was soon cured. For bruises, veldt sores, etc., nothing can beat it.

(Sgd.) REG. E. COOMBS,
No. 504, C.I.V.

P. S.—I shall certainly advise my friends to use Kelpion.

Consumption is Infectious.

Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the White Plague. Persons coming in contact with consumptives should inhale Catarrhozone several times each day, as it is a powerful destroyer of germs and renders them inocuous. Catarrhozone is a most efficient preventive and may be thoroughly relied upon to promote expectoration, soothe the cough, and benefit in many ways too numerous to mention. Both from a medical and scientific point of view Catarrhozone is the most valuable addition to the armament against consumption. Its merit cannot be too warmly applauded. Sold at all druggists, two months' treatment, price $1; small size, 25c.; or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Benefits of the Birch.

The cane should never be used as the ordinary instrument of school punishment. A cane may possibly bring about irreparable damage, and caning on the hands is the most senseless and cruel form of punishment imaginable. The birch is the best implement of punishment for small boys. First, it hurts; secondly, if applied in reason, it does no harm.—London Lancet.

FRENCH EASTER OMENS.

Reading the Future In Flowers, Eggs and Easter Water.

If young people want to try their fortunes on Easter morning, the following superstitions are gleaned from an old French seeress, who vouches for the infallibility of each:

The most powerful cosmetic and love potion, she asserts, is Easter water, and while to procure it requires a great amount of courage, yet if the love that is to live always is only to be secured in that way we give the young people a chance by unfolding these mysteries.

Easter water is the water that is taken from the river on Easter morning before the sun has risen. The person wishing to test its efficacy must rise while it is quite dark, walk to the river, fill her vial or pitcher and return home in perfect silence and without looking back even once. She may then return to bed and finish the interrupted nap.

The water thus obtained, so runs the legend, will keep sweet throughout the year and is considered invaluable as a remedy for diseases of the eye. Bathe your face with it every year, and you will never have wrinkles. The dew gathered at sunrise from crocuses is also a preventive against wrinkles.

If you stand silent and alone and watch the sun rise, fixing your eyes on the radiance until dazzled; then, closing the eyes, say three times:

"Beautiful sun, oh, show to me
The face of my love that is to be!"

then let imagination do the rest, you will see the face of your future husband.

Yellow garters worn on Easter day every woman knows bring luck, and the maiden must get up at midnight and put them on; then she must go back to bed, and she will dream of her future husband. A widow must put a purple and a yellow pansy on with hers to dream significantly, and the woman who is either separated or divorced may wear purple garters with yellow pansies. If she dreams of her former husband, they will be reunited and live happily, but if she dreams of another she will very likely marry again.

If a small spider is found near you at any time on Easter day, it will bring you luck and money the rest of the year.

If you shed tears on that day, it foretells misfortunes and unhappiness of all kinds.

A present on Easter is a good omen. Always wear something new—a dress or a bonnet, if procurable; if not, some article worn next to the person.

To prepare a love potion gather in silence while the full moon is in the heavens three white rose leaves, three red rose leaves, three forgetmenots and five blossoms of veronica. Place them in a vessel and drop upon them 595 drops of Easter water. Place the vessel over a fire or spirit lamp and boil exactly the sixteenth part of an hour, then remove and pour into a vial, corking it tightly. It will keep for years without losing its power. Three drops swallowed by the person whose love you desire will make him your slave.

Eat an apple on Easter morning as soon as you awaken and repeat all the while:

"As Eve in her thirst for knowledge ate,
So I, too, thirst to know my fate."

Then count the seeds, and if they are of even numbers your sweetheart will prove true; if uneven, he will prove false.

Another test: Break an egg at midnight, carefully separating the yolk and white; pour the white into a cup and let it set until you rise in the morning. The particles will separate; examine them well, and if any letter has formed it will be the initial of your future husband's name.

Now, girls, this is all that I could find out; only don't wear any flowers on Easter except jonquils and violets. Widows must wear violets always, but every one must wear some spray of green, no matter how tiny.—Karma in Pittsburg Dispatch.

Away Down in Mexico

There grow two plants known and used before Columbus discovered America. One is a specific for inflamed membranes and the other a certain cure for bronchitis. Combined with Tar, Tamarac, Tolu and other herbs they go to make up Four T's, the only positive cure known to-day for whooping cough and bronchitis. A 25c. bottle cures an ordinary cough in 24 hours. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

3 MISERABLE MONTHS

South American Nervine cured this severe case of a generally upset nervous system which developed into Neuralgia of the stomach. No nervous trouble that it will not cure quickly and permanently.

William Davidson, of Thedford, Ont., put in three miserable months of very acute suffering from neuralgia of the stomach and a generally disordered nervous system. Doctors failed to find any treatment that would give me any permanent help. A friend, whom South American Nervine had cured of a very stubborn case of stomach trouble, recommended it for his case. He tried it—one bottle greatly benefited and six bottles effected a permanent cure. 20

Cures Coughs, Colds, Lung and Bronchial affections that other remedies won't touch.

MR. THOS. J. SMITH, Caledonia, Ont., writes: "A year ago I had a very severe cold which settled in my lungs and in my throat, so that I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I tried several medicines, but got no relief until I used one and a half bottles of Norway Pine Syrup, which completely cured me."

BRANTFORD TRAGEDY

Nature of Quirk's Wounds Precludes Theory of Accident.

BRUTALLY HACKED ABOUT HEAD

He Had Only Left the Hotel Ten Minutes Before His Lifeless Body Was Found — The Scene of the Supposed Murder the Harness Room—The Inquest Opened—Stories of Witnesses.

Brantford, March 25.—The opinion of everyone in the city is that a diabolical murder took place on Sunday night, when Mr. James Quirk fell a victim to a cunningly planned and cleverly executed attempt on his life. The theory which was entertained at first, that death was due to an accident, has entirely disappeared in the light of later developments. The facts surrounding the death of James Quirk are as much shrouded in mystery at the end of twenty-four hours as they were when the death occurred. The deceased was around in his usual health and spirits on Sunday evening. About 10 o'clock he went out for a walk with Mr. Dave Thomas of the street railway staff. They returned to the hotel about 11.30, and Thomas left Quirk at the door.

The latter stepped into the hotel, and found Toole, his partner, and Eddie Kennedy, the bell-boy. Quirk told Toole that he had better go to bed, and he (Quirk) would stay up and look after things. Toole went off to his room. Shortly afterwards Quirk told Kennedy that he also might retire. After that all knowledge of Quirk's movements are shrouded in mystery. Within ten minutes Kennedy, whose room is just above the harness room of the stable, heard loud cries coming from that direction. He thought perhaps someone had got kicked by a horse, and he hurried down to the front office, where he found Bob Ryan, the cook.

Together they hurried out to the stables, which are immediately in the rear of the hotel, and, in the harness room, they saw Quirk lying in a pool of blood. He moved slightly while they were looking at him. They immediately hurried into the hotel and called Toole. Dr. Digby was summoned, and he arrived shortly afterwards. He at once pronounced Quirk dead and suggested that the police and coroner be sent for. Sergeant Wallace appeared first on the scene, and was followed by Chief Vaughan and P. C. Donnelly. The three made a minute examination of the surroundings, and agreed that circumstances pointed strongly to murder.

Up in the hayloft the deceased, who was a noted fancier of game chickens, had about 50 game fowl which he was very proud of. At first it was believed that he must have heard a disturbance among his chickens and gone out to investigate, and that, while ascending the ladder, he was struck from above from some one concealed there. To further confirm this view of the tragedy, was the presence of blood spots the entire length of the ladder. To those who know the surroundings the explanation is not satisfactory. Deceased was not the kind of man who would needlessly place himself at such a disadvantage as to go up a narrow ladder with a dark hayloft above.

An impression is gaining ground that the tragedy took place on the floor, and that the blood was either on the ladder previously, or was placed there by the murderer. The nature of the wounds preclude the theory of accident. There were two deep gashes across the left eye. If a fall caused one of the wounds it could not possibly have caused the others. When the murdered man was found he was lying on his back on the floor, with legs extended toward the door, and with his head leaning to the right.

There were two deep pools of blood underneath him. Outside of the terrible wounds on the head and forehead, there were no marks on the body, and the spinal column was not broken. There was no trace found of either the perpetrator of the crime or the instrument used by him in doing his purpose. Judging by the nature of the wounds they were inflicted by some sharp, heavy weapon, resembling an axe.

Although the victim was discovered within ten minutes after he was seen last in the hotel office, nothing was seen of anyone else in the vicinity of the crime. Two boarders, who were awakened by the cries of the victim, looked out of their window, which overlooked the yard, but could see nothing unusual. They went back again to bed, but, the cries continuing, they returned to the window and saw that the door leading into the harness room was wide open. The yard was almost as light as day at the time, owing to a full moon, and it seemed remarkable that, although about fifty boarders' rooms overlook the yard, and although many of the boarders had not yet retired, that none of them could hear Quirk go out to the stable.

The coroner, Dr. Fissette, decided to hold an inquest. The jury examined the surroundings and remains at 11.30 a.m. and adjourned, to meet in the court house at 8 p.m. When the inquest was resumed last night, there was a large crowd of spectators, all anxious to see the proceedings. Nothing of a startling nature was developed at the session. Evidence was given by David Thomas, Bob Ryan and R. Ellis. Their stories tallied with the account of Quirk's movements given above. The inquest was adjourned until Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the police station. An autopsy will be performed on the remains to-day by Dr. Harry Frank.

The local police at once recognized that they were confronted with a crime of the most desperate character, and yesterday morning sent to the Attorney-General, asking for the services of Detective John Murray. The latter arrived last evening, and is now engaged on the case.

No arrests have yet been made, but the police are said to be at work on a definite clue.

MOTHERHOOD

Is a natural instinct which shows itself in the girl as soon as she is big enough to play the mother to her doll. Unfortunately the womanly health does not always keep pace with the motherly instinct, and when real motherhood comes it often comes to mothers who suffer intolerably during maternity and who are unable to nurse the weakling child which frets and moans in their arms.

Motherhood is prepared for and provided for by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures nausea, tranquilizes the nerves, gives a healthy appetite and promotes restful sleep. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives the mother abundant strength to nurse her child.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing "just as good" for weak and sickly women.

"Two years ago I was very sick and began taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. Ed. Hackett, of Chardon, Geauga Co., Ohio. "When my baby boy came he weighed twelve pounds and a half. Have had good health ever since, until about three weeks ago, when weaning my baby, I contracted a heavy cold. Am taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I am thankful that poor sufferers have such a grand chance to regain their health by using Dr. Pierce's medicines. It would take pages to tell the good it has done in our family, and in a great many more families under my observation.

"I thank you for your kind medical advice."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 31 cents in one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Nearly Fatal Fire in Toronto.

Toronto, March 25.—One of the wings of the Boys' Home, 339 George street, was gutted last night, and a second fire in the pattern shop in connection with the Poison Iron Works Company did considerable damage. The inmates of the Boys' Home were all rescued without injury, except one, 6-year-old Victor Sinclair, who was unconscious when taken from the building. He was taken to the General Hospital and is progressing favorably. The loss by both fires will be about $15,000.

Worst Seal Season on Record.

St. John's, Nfld., March 25.—The steamer Newfoundland, the first sealing ship to return from the ice floes, arrived in the channel yesterday morning, with reports which indicate that the season's fishery was the worst on record. She sailed March 10, proceeded up the coast of the island, met with no ice or seals, passed in through Belle Isle Straits to the Gulf of St. Lawrence and cruised there. The steamer reports meeting the whole fleet March 15, with practically no seals.

Dr. Talmage Seriously Ill.

Washington, March 25.—Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage is dangerously ill at his residence on Massachusetts avenue, this city, and the greatest fears are entertained for his recovery. It was said yesterday by a friend of the family that a fatal termination would not be a surprise. Dr. Talmage returned from a trip to Mexico a week ago. He was taken ill with a severe cold en route to Washington, and has been since lying in a semi-comatose condition.

Civic Holiday August 4.

Toronto, March 25.—Monday, Aug. 4 will be Civic Holiday for the city this year.

Oil From the Porpoise.

The porpoises killed in winter are the fattest and produce most oil. The largest size measure about 7 feet in length, 5 feet in girth and weigh about 800 pounds. Such a porpoise yields from six to seven gallons of oil. The blubber of a big porpoise weighs about 100 pounds and is one and a half inches thick in summer and two in winter.

The jaws of the porpoise yield a superior quality of oil. When hung up in the sun, it readily drips away into cans provided for the purpose, the quantity of oil thus procured, however, being not more than half a pint to the jaw. The oil from the blubber gives an excellent light and is in demand along the coast for lighthouse use. It has no offensive odor.

Porpoise shooting is followed at all seasons and in all kinds of weather. On a calm summer's day the porpoise may be heard blowing a mile or two away. If you wound a porpoise and there are any sharks around, the shark is very apt to share your booty with you even if he doesn't devour it in toto.

He Was an Artist.

A lady of high position once ventured to remonstrate with Worth, the Parisian milliner, because he had charged her £120 pounds for a ball dress.

"The material," she said, "could be bought for £20, and surely the work of making up would be well paid with £5 more."

"Madame," replied the milliner in his loftiest manner, "go to M. Meissonier, the painter, and say to him: 'Here is a canvas, value a shilling, and here are colors, value 4 shillings. Paint me a picture with these colors on that canvas and I will pay you one and threepence.' What will he say? He will say, 'Madame, that is no payment for an artist.' I say more. I say, if you think my terms too high, pay me nothing and keep the robe. Art does not descend to the pettiness of the higgler."—London Tit-Bits.

What He Was There For.

There is at least one court in the world, an English midland assizes, the judge of which is not afraid to say that black is black. The Birmingham Post gives the following glimpse of his method of dealing out justice:

A respectable looking man was in the court in the autumn session. The charge was theft. The aggregate value involved was considerable, and the plea was guilty, but it was alleged that there were extenuating circumstances.

The defense introduced a medical expert to testify for the prisoner. He said that the self-confessed thief had kleptomania.

"What's that?" asked the judge gravely.

"Er — it's — er— a disease, my lord," said the astonished expert.

"What kind of a disease?" asked the judge.

"Well, it's a—er—a mental disease that causes the subject to appropriate property not his own," stammered the physician.

"Makes him steal?" asked the judge.

"Yes, my lord, that is generally the effect."

"I know the disease," said his honor, a grim smile in his eyes. "I know the disease, and I am sent here to cure it."

A Sidewalk Prescription.

The busy doctor was hurrying down the street when he was stopped by a man noted for his ability to get "sidewalk" advice.

"I am thoroughly worn out and sick and tired. What ought I to take?" asked the man.

"Take a cab" replied the unfeeling doctor.

Some Remarkable Beliefs.

There are naturalists in this day and age who believe that horsehairs will turn to living snakes, that toads will live for thousands of years in the cavity of a rock without food or water, that the barnacle goose was developed from the shellfish of that name and that the bird called sora is a species of winged frog.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles as the trouble is likely to become chronic and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation, and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

The Heat of Australia.

Australia is the hottest country on record. I have ridden for miles astride the equator, but I have never found heat to compare with this. Out in the country in the dry times there appears to be little more than a sheet of brown paper between you and the lower regions, and the people facetiously say that they have to feed their hens on cracked ice to keep them from laying boiled eggs.—Sydney Telegraph.

Considerate.

Young Husband—Don't you think, darling, that it would spoil the curtains if I should smoke?

Young Wife—You are the best and most considerate husband that ever lived, dear. Of course it would.

Young Husband—Well, then, you'd better take them down.

Censure and Criticism.

Censure and criticism never hurt anybody. If false, they cannot hurt you unless you are wanting in manly character, and if true they show a man his weak points and forewarn him against failure and trouble.

Consoling the Old Lady.

Old Aunt (despondently)—Well, I shall not be a nuisance to you much longer.

Nephew (reassuringly)—Don't talk like that, aunt. You know you will!—Punch.

FORTUNE-TELLERS ACQUITTED.

The Judge Takes the Case From the Jury.

Yesterday's Toronto Mail says: — "Georgina Chilcott and Annie Young, of the "Royal English Gypsies," were placed on trial in the Sessions yesterday charged with fortune-telling. Constables Thompson and Irwin, of the Morality Department, had been despatched to the gypsy camp on Wilson Avenue, and in consideration of 25 cents each the officers had their palms read. They were required to sign a notice, in which the gypsies say their work is done on scientific principles, and that they wished to deceive nobody. Judge Macdougall took the case from the jury and ordered a verdict of not guilty to be returned.

A BOY'S LIFE SAVED!

A Grateful Mother Writes About the Rescue of her Child.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Triumphed After a Physician's Failure.

Mrs. G. Stone, of Eganville, Ont., grateful for the rescue of her little boy from death, writes as follows;

"I think it is my duty to inform you of what Paine's Celery Compound has done for my little boy. He became very ill and had the attendance of our physician, but no good results followed. The dangerous turns to which my boy was subject became more frequent and always worse in winter. He would become pale as death, feet and hands icy cold, and vomiting always followed. He seemed to be powerless and for days could not lift his head from the pillow. After trying various kinds of medicines we decided to get Paine's Celery Compound for him. One bottle made him well and since that time he has not been ill. I have every reason to believe he is permanently cured."

In the face of such testimony, who can deny the fact that Paine's Celery Compound saves life? Hundreds of such letters as Mrs. Stone's are on tyle for the inspection of doubters.

When your children are nervous, fretful, despondent, sleepless, weak, run down, have loss of appetite, slow circulation of blood and decreasing in weight, give them Paine's Celery Compound for a week or two, and note well the cheering results in returning health and vigour. We strongly urge the immediate use of the great medicine for all sickly and weak boys and girls.

Vapo-Cresolene quickly cures colds, coughs, sore throat, whooping cough and croup.

STOCK MARKETS.

(The Haight & Freeze Company—W. F. Nelson, Local Agent.)

March 26th.—Now that the position of the United Mine Workers' Union is definitely known, there is less apprehension of a strike of the coal miners. The appointment of a committee to come to New York to confer with the interests concerned indicates that the miners are anything but confident. We do not regard a strike as probable. It is only a traders market, and owing to the approaching holidays nothing better can be expected. The northern securities case is losing importance, and it is believed that the legality of the Company will be fully affirmed. There is no selling movement of any importance but there will be considerable evening up on accounts on Thursday, and it is advisable to take profits of one to two points whenever possible. We look for an irregular market.

New York Coalers, Southern Railways, and Louisville are in trim to sell much higher. The buying of these is most excellent. Remember the Morgan factions are likely to become immediately active in their specialties. Buy Erie first. Buy Copper on dips, but be sure to resell on rallies. Sugar is still a purchase on all recessions. Atchison, C. F. I. and American Foundary are excellent speculative propositions. Buy these conservatively.

Reading and Erie issues heavy on strike talk. Boston houses reported selling sugar and copper. Good selling reported in St. Paul. Hocking coal people talking higher prices.

Dever, Col., March 25.—The sugar trust has obtained control of great tracts of land surrounding three independent beet sugar plants in Colorado, with idea of forcing them to sell out. It is said two companies with a combined capital of one million have been incorporated by sugar trust attorneys.—D. J. & Co.

New York, March 25th.—Each day witnesses increased scarcity of the primest investment shares, figures at which many of them are now quoted cause them to yield but a meagre return upon the investment. Money is being made so quickly in this country that cash for investment purposes is increasingly rapidly. Many investors who have been waiting, hoping to secure more favourable opportunities for buyers are speedily coming to the conclusion that they have been letting their chances slip away. They are commencing to become nervous, and each day now witnesses new orders given to pay market prices. Cash increasing so much more quickly than the choicest investments, is pressing in the market to buy the Standard shares. So to-day they are again showing buoyancy where for some time past they have been more or less sluggish and different in their fluctuations. The leading investment houses of the street report greatly increased inquiry for fractional and full lots of such stocks as Ill. Central, L. & N, Penna., N. Y. C., Mop., C. & O., N. & W., U. P., and Southern Pfd., and all stocks, whose outlook for the future would lead to the belief that they would in time enter the dividend paying list. Inquiry has also sharpened for the preferred industrials, which are now paying from four to seven per cent. dividends. No factor can have greater effect in ultimately lifting the market sharply. The belated will come in with a rush, and values will spin. As a rule, investment demand increases greatly with advancing prices. The average investor is usually a poor bargain hunter. When bargains are in sight he usually is afraid they will be lower, adn therefore loses his opportunity and in the end places his investments at higher figures. It seems to be one of those peculiarities of human nature. We are prone to like encouragement. Encouragement is given by a higher market, and consequent more confidence by investor and speculator alike. It is an old Wall street saying that more buyers can be found at high prices than at bargain figures. This has always been true, and always will be. The high prices now recorded for such stocks as Pullman, General Electric, D. & L. W., C. & N. W., is driving investment funds into other issues, and this fact is extremely beneficial to the general market.

ENTERTAINMENT LAST NIGHT

Miss Marks Presented With an Address.

A Splendid Programme at George Street Methodist Church Last Night.

George street Sunday school room was filled to its utmost capacity last evening at the Easter entertainment given by the pupils of the Primary Department. The entire programme with one or two exceptions, was furnished by the little people, and the various songs, drills, etc., amply demonstrated their ability to give an entertainment unsurpassed even by larger pupils. Great credit is due Miss Mark and her assistants for their untiring efforts with the little people, resulting in such an unqualified success.

The Grandmother's Drill, the rag doll drill, under the direction of Miss B. Griffith, and the Wreath Drill, conducted by Miss Lena Frise, were especially good, and the little ones took their parts well.

Mr. T. W. Robinson acted as chairman. The programme was as follows:

At the close of the programme, Miss Mark, who is about to leave town, was made the recipient of a silver fern dish by the assistant teachers and pupils of the Primary Department. The address was read by Mr. Knapman, and Miss Whiten made the presentation. The address was as follows:

Dear Miss Mark,—We the assistant teachers and scholars of the Primary department of the George street Methodist Sunday School, desire to avail ourselves of this opportunity of expressing to you our deep regret at your departure from us, our high appreciation of your services as our director and at the same time to offer you our hearty congratulations on the approaching happy event that necessitates your separation from us.

We have learned to respect and admire you as a teacher, on account of your natural fitness for the office; at the same time we have been led to love you for your various amiable personal qualities; and the children shall never forget the many useful lessons you have taught, the many kind things you have said and the very pleasant way you have always treated them and us.

Though they are but little children, they have felt your love and kindness, your patient efforts to teach God's word and to make them better boys and girls; and we think you may feel sure on leaving us that your teaching and example have not been in vain.

As your colleagues, we shall miss your direction at every point; we have grown accustomed to rely on your tact and skill, your cheerfulness, patience, and energy, to make the work smooth, efficient and pleasant; always kind yet firm, zealous yet sympathetic.

You have fulfilled your arduous duties so acceptably and well, that your loss is one that cannot be repaired.

With this imperfect expression of our feelings, we ask you to accept this "fern-bowl," and we beg you to esteem it; and not for its slight intrinsic worth.

We wish you in your new home, long life, happiness and prosperity, and pray that God's richest blessings may crown you and yours wherever in His Providence, He may see fit to place you.

Dominion Government Will Recruit Another Force for S. A.

A HOT RUN AFTER DELAREY

British Columns Covered 80 Miles in Twenty-Four Hours—Three 15-pounders, Two Pom-poms and 135 Prisoners Captured—Also Carts, Wagons and 1,000 Cattle—Lieut.-Col. Lessard May Command.

Ottawa, March 27.—It is understood that the Dominion Government has returned a favorable reply to the communication from the Imperial authorities asking whether a mounted force of 2,000 men could be recruited in Canada for service in South Africa. The Government here now awaits a statement from the Colonial Office giving details as to how the force should be constituted.

When that is received arrangements will be made for raising, clothing and equipping the force and appointing the necessary officers. Within a month after the word is given to raise the force it can be fully outfitted and ready to embark. The point of mobilization, it is expected, will be Quebec, and the War Office presumably will furnish the necessary transports.

Two thousand horses will be required, and they can be obtained if the necessary price is paid. It is thought that the force will be divided into two regiments, to be known as the 3rd and 4th Canadian Rifles respectively. In such a case two commanding officers will be needed. Possibly Col. Lessard, who commanded the Royal Canadian Dragoons in South Africa, may be asked to undertake the command of one. There will also be an opportunity for several smart, capable non-commissioned officers to secure commissions. It is not improbable that recommendations for men of this class may be invited from the heads of the Mounted Police, the permanent cavalry and some of the regiments of active militia. No definite action, however, can be taken until the wishes of the Imperial authorities are officially communicated.

HOT RUN AFTER DELAREY.

The Boer Leader, However, Is Beat on Avoiding Lord Kitchener—One Hundred Boer Prisoners Taken.

London, March 27.—Incomplete reports of the result of the combined movement of British columns against Gen. Delarey have enabled Lord Kitchener to announce the capture of about a hundred prisoners, three 15-pounders, two pom-poms, and quantities of stock, wagons, etc.

Gen. Delarey appears to have successfully evaded Lord Kitchener's cordon at the offset.

In a despatch dated from Pretoria at noon Tuesday, Lord Kitchener says:

"At dusk on the evening of March 23 the combined movement against Delarey was undertaken by columns of mounted men, without guns or impediments of any sort. The columns started from Commando Drift, on the Vaal River, and traveled rapidly all night, and at dawn March 24 occupied positions along the line from Commando Drift to the Lichtenburg blockhouse line.

"The troops moved rapidly eastward, keeping a continuous line, with the object of driving the enemy against the blockhouses or forcing an action. The result has not yet been fully reported. Kekewich's column, after the commencement of the action, captured three fifteen-pounders, two pom-poms, nine prisoners, and a hundred mules, carts and wagons. Gen. W. Kitchener's column captured 89 prisoners, 45 carts and wagons, and a thousand cattle.

"The troops covered 80 miles in 24 hours. The total number of prisoners is 135."

WHEELED RIGS

Built for Style, Beauty, Durability to be Seen at Doughty & Son's Warerooms.

Those who are interested in wheeled rigs should pay a visit to Messrs. W. J. Doughty & Son's warerooms on Water street. This firm is doing a large trade in rigs of such first-class makers as the Brantford Carriage Co., Palmerston Carriage Co., McIntosh Carriage Co., of Alexandria, and the Heeney Carriage Co., of Montreal. The display gives the largest choice anyone can desire in new and popular styles for the season. A new express waggon built by Meader & Son, of Orillia, is worthy of special mention. It is a neat express for Mr. Jack Mervin, and will be seen on the street Saturday. It is one of three which this firm have orders for Nothing has been seen in town to equal this "spanking" fine outfit. It has a wide-spreading top, a light body made of painted and oiled waterproof canvas instead of wood; well ventilated doors and sides, and convenient shelving and compartments. The gear has solid forged connections and duplex front springs, and the painting and decorating is a work of art. It's a dandy, and will stand a 2.40 clip. 1d

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Remember Ross!

Build up Ontario.

Portal is a good name for a frontier Manitoba town, especially, as already this spring 3,000 United States farmers have passed through this portal to take up land and make homes in the Prarie Province.

The Mail and Empire says: "No Government ought to be thirty years in office. No Government ought to be given a 35 year term." To complete the statement: There are some proposed Governments that should never be in office. There are some proposed Governments that should not be given a five years term.

The referendum condition of the Liquor Act of 1902, is for the purpose of ascertaining whether public sentiment is strong enough to insure the moral support necessary for its effective enforcement. The necessity of a large majority vote is conceded. Rev. John Potts, D.D., who is a prominent Methodist divine and a Conservative politically, speaking upon the necessity of this in regard to the Dominion plebiscite, a mere theoretical measure, said:—

"I stated before the vote was taken that unless a majority, and a substantial one, was in favour of prohibition, I did not think the Government would be bound to crystallize the plebiscite into legislation for prohibition. The people exhibited an apathy which resulted in a vote which I do not think would warrant prohibitory legislation. While the people did not ask for a plebiscite, still, when one was offered them, they should have placed themselves on record by polling the largest vote ever polled in Canada. If this had been done Sir Wilfred would have been compelled to introduce a prohibitory Bill. But as it is at present, I do not think Sir Wilffed is breaking his pledge or promises."

The Mail and Empire is devoting itself to the guttery but congenial work of attributing to the Globe an interest in some "pulp-wood deal." The chief reason, aside from direct denial, for assuming that the Globe has no such interest, is found in the fact that the Mail makes the statement. The organ will not, however, have anything more to say on the subject, now that the Globe has shown that the Mail and Empire is itself in the business beneficiary of a big pulp and paper combine "graft." Last summer the same paper was falsely asserting that the Provincial Secretary was interested in a "water power deal" in Peterborough, but when the Examiner showed that the Mail owed its daily existence to the greatest water power favouritism on the continent, the senior Conservative organ shut up like an oyster shell and became as dumb as the modest mollusk inside. The business end doubtless intimated that it did not propose to have its vulnerable spot subjected to undesirable exposure by the vindictive imbecility of the sanctum end. The Mail has only itself to blame if its indecent discussion of the business affairs of its contemporaries incites to the tu quoque style of argument as a disciplinary measure.

THE COMING OF A GREAT HOST.

Our merchants and manufacturers would do well to devote a good deal of attention to events impending in western Canada. Every day has its record of the arrival of batches of ingoing settelers. One day it is a thousand Mormons who have joined their brethren in southern Alberta, the next it is a party of 400 English and Irish farm labourers. But the overwhelming preponderance of the rush of settlers is expected from the United States, and from this source a migration is looked for which will equal, if not surpass, anything of a similar kind that has ever taken place on this continent. The Oklahoma rush of 1889 was thought to be the most remarkable movement of population that has been seen in this western hemisphere. It was certainly the most rapid. Within a few days 50,000 people went in to the land to inherit it. We are not going to witness any such high-pressure settlement as that, but before the season of 1902 closes, unless all signs fail, a considerably greater number of homeseekers will have gone into the Canadian west than were engaged, in the first rush across the Oklahoma border. The more moderate estimates are that at least 70,000 people will have taken up their residence in western Canada before another harvest has been reaped, and the more sanguine estimates are put at as high a figure as 200,000.

If the lower figure is the nearest to the mark it will be a sufficiently remarkable event, and its influence on the currents of commerce in the west will be wide and deep. The settlers from the United States are coming in, no doubt, with a great many of their wants already supplied, but, however well furnished with their main requirements, the sum of their unexpected or unprovided for needs will be great. It is thought in some quarters that these settlers from the United States will, for various reasons, prefer to procure their wants, even after they have settled in the new land, from American towns where they have been accustomed to deal. It is scarcely credible that they would put themselves so much about unless they found that they got better goods and more suitable goods across the line than they do here. We should think that it would be well worth while to pay some attention to the preferences, or even the prejudices, of the incoming host, giving them such excellent quality and value for their money that any disposition to look to the old home for their supplies would quickly be removed. There is one thing, at all events, that the eastern merchant and manufacturer have to get a good firm grip of, and that is the fact that this year will see such a transfer of population as this continent has has not witnessed, to the same extent at least, for many a day.

The day of big things has already arrived for the west. The debate in the Commons on the grain blockade in Manitoba and the Territories contained revelations even for the well-informed members of Parliament. It was stated even by those who complained of the blockade that the Canadian Pacific Railway had moved 35 per cent. more wheat and 125 per cent. more oats, than it had done in the previous year up to the same time, and yet had made but little impression on the mountains of grain that still remain to be moved. The fall rains last year greatly delayed the threshing, with the consequence that the railway had but 43 days to move grain before the closing of navigation. This was an unusually short season, and at the best the margin of time between the reaping of the crop, and the closing of navigation will always be narrow. But what we are concerned with now is the magnitude of the production which the actual physical handling of the grain has demonstrated. The Canadian Pacific Railway had during the grain moving season 7,000 box cars, and 256 engines on the western division. In the transport of grain alone, 3,000 of these cars were employed. If strung out along the track they would extend almost from Toronto to Hamilton. Between the first of September and the 28th of December, the railway delivered 14,281,401 bushels of wheat at the Fort William and Port Arthur elevators. A great deal has since been moved and yet the west still reeks with wheat. Every possible place of cover, except the churches, has been filled with wheat, and great pyramids of it have been piled outside and covered as well as the necessities of the case will allow. The situation is, as put by Mr. T. O. Davis, the member for Saskatchewan, that 400,000 people all told have produced 100,000,000 bushels of wheat. If we are going to add to these producers at the rate of 100,000 a year the problem of transportation is bound to grow greater and greater, and that is the fact that the mercantile and industrial world of the east, as well as the railways and the Governmental authorities must look at, not as a question of the future, but as a question with which they are face to face.—Globe.

The Hamilton Spectator says: —"The most important subject — almost the only subject—now before the people of Ontario is the referendum." This is the opinion of the most pronounced pro-Beer journal in in the country. Wonderful how these virtuous journals of the Spectator's brand love the temperance cause—when they see a chance to make party capital out of it.

LAKEFIELD.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mr. A. Kilbourn was in Lindsay Monday in the interests of the Lakefield Portland Cement Co.

Mr. Bravender, of Warners, New York, who has been in Lakefield for the past week on business, was taken ill on Saturday with an attack of tonsilitis. We are pleased to report that Mr. Bravender is progressing favourably.

Several of our most prominent citizens went to Peterborough Saturday for the purpose of attending a mass meeting held there, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Ontario Legislature. Every one came home highly satisfied with the speeches delivered, and by the result of the nomination. Hon J. R. Stratton being unanimously chosen as the Liberal candidate.

Mr. A. S. Butchart is in London this week in the interests of the Lakefield Portland Cement Co.

Messrs. R. Graham & Son held their spring millinery opening on Tuesday. The showroom presented a very brilliant spectacle; with many new and artistic effects in millinery being much in evidence, reflecting no little credit on the artist who had the arrangement of the display in hand. Judging from the number of young men who take an interest in millinery openings one is led to believe that milliners are sometimes artful as well as artistic.

Mr. Wm. Leahy had the misfortune to lose by poisoning one of his very handsome and valuable carriage dogs.

Mr. Chas. Penty, who has been confined to his room with a sprained knee, is able to be at work again.

Mr. James Moore's family have been suffering from a severe illness for the past two weeks, and are now on a fair way to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cox, of Peterborough, drove to Lakefield on Sunday and paid a short visit to friends in the village.

It is with much regret that we have to report the demise of Mrs. Blomfield, who has been for so long a period of years a resident of the village. Mrs. Blomfield will be very much missed in the community as her kind words and loving manner were familiar to all who came in contact with her. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

HOW TO MAINTAIN SOIL FERTILITY.

"We all know that it is very desirable to have a fertile soil in which to grow crops," says F. P. Peck, of Michigan, "for success in farming depends largely on the fertility of the land. Every one knows of many, once fertile farms which are not now producing half what they should — scarcely enough to pay for the labour necessary to produce a crop. It is more profitable to farm so as to maintain or improve the soil than it is to rob the soil of its fertility, and in the end bring ruin to the owner of the farm."

How is this to be done? I believe our greatest loss of fertility is the loss of humus. A soil without humus will not carry a crop successfully through drouth. A clay soil devoid of humus will be lumpy and hard, and will not retain moisture for very long. We all know the effect on the crop, and the great amount of labour required to prepare such a piece of ground for a crop. Hence our aim should be to farm so as to produce and leave as much humus in the ground as possible. This is best accomplished by a rotation of crops, and one crop in the rotation should be clover, which is our greatest soil renovator. We should aim to feed everything, or nearly everything produced on the farm, and if we add a little bran or concentrated feed to the ration of each animal, and carefully save and apply all the manure, it is easy to see that we shall maintain, and probably add to the fertility of the soil.

Many advocate the plowing under of green crops, but unless a farm is very much run down, I would not practice this, unless it be to bury a second crop of clover, or a clover crop sowed to protect the ground during the winter. A clover crop should always be sowed whenever a piece of ground remains idle during the fall and winter. Many times we have a piece of stubble which we intend to plant to corn or potatoes. On this we can grow a crop of rye or peas and barley, either of which will make a large growth and can be plowed under in time to plant to corn. This adds largely to the humus of the soil, and will tend to carry the crop through a drouth without injury.

As I said, it should be our aim to feed all, or nearly all, we raise on our farms for the purpose of keeping up the fertility of the soil, and I believe it to be more profitable to sell our produce in the form of butter, beef, pork, etc., than to sell it in the rough. I believe our produce fed to good stock will bring us more than twice what it will sell for on the market. For example I can feed a cow for 12 1-2 cents per day, and have her bring in 25 cents per day or more for butter alone, and I believe the same to be true of all other kinds of stock.

Many advocate the use of commercial fertilizers. Of course the basis of all our fertility is the amount of nitrogen, potash, and phosphoric acid the soil contains. When we consider that an ordinary crop of wheat of 25 bushels per acre removed about $8.75 worth of these elements from the soil, and a crop of corn nearly as much, we can readily see that when a soil is exhausted of these elements it is quite expensive to replace them by using commercial fertilizers. Now if we feed our crops on the farm we can return about 80 per cent of these elements to the soil in the manure and at the same time get twice the market value of our produce. We can readily see that it is more profitable to farm so as to improve our soil than to sell our crops on the market and at the same time be losing heavily in the fertility of the soil.

I would not advocate the feeding of wheat, but would sell it, and purchase bran or cottonseed meal, which is worth more for feed than wheat, and has about double the manurial value. If I sold much wheat I would use commercial fertilizers freely, for it is impossible to keep up the farm and sell grain without their use. If we grow all the forage crops we can and feed them on the farm, carefully save and return the manure, we need have but little fear about the fertility of the soil.

Live Stock Commissioner.

DANGEROUS SURGERY

Should be the Last Resort.

Many people suffer from piles, because after trying various lotions, salves and ointments without relief or cure, they come to the conclusion that a surgical operation is the last resort, and rather than submit to the shock and risk to life of an operation, prefer to suffer on; very often, however, the afflicted one is over persuaded to resort to the knife, and even though the operation is apparently successful, and there is complete recovery from the shock incident thereto, the result is invariably the same; the piles sooner or later return because their cause has not been removed. This result is a logical one, inasmuch as the knife removes the effects of the disease only, while the cause remains as before. There is claimed to be a remedy which does remove the cause, hence eradicating the disease, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure; it is in the form of a suppository, is applied directly to the parts affected, and brings about a complete cure, quietly and painlessly. In this connection the testimony of Mr. John Cullen Bryant, the well known bookseller of Haverhill, Mass., is of unusual interest.

"I desire to contribute an unsolicited, but purely voluntary testimonial in favour of Pyramid Pile Cure. I have suffered for more than twenty years with hemorrhoids, and have consulted numerous physicians and expended a great deal of money for medicines that did me no good. I had often seen Pyramid Pile Cure advertised, but hesitated for months before buying same, thinking it a patent or quack remedy that had no merit; but having tried every other remedy prescribed I was finally persuaded one year ago, to try Pyramid Pile Cure. I bought a fifty cent package at the drug store, and while I may not be permanently cured, the past year has been the only year of my life worth living during the past twenty years, and nothing but the Pyramid remedies have wrought this change. I offer this testimony for the benefit of suffering humanity."

Kidney Troubles of Children.

There are many mothers blessing Dr. Pitcher and his wonderful Backache Kidney Tablets. This remedy has proved so successful for that serious affliction of children—bed wetting—that mothers rejoice to know of a positive cure. The Tablets have a strengthening and tonic influence on the weak urinary organs of children and enable them to retain their water naturally.

Don't let your child grow up with this weakness blighting his life. Have the trouble cured in time before it does permanent injury to the health.

THE DIFFICULTY REMOVED.

Mrs. W. M. Glover, Pearl Street, Brockville, Ont., says: "One of my children that had been suffering from sluggish kidneys read about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and procured a bottle from F. R. Curry's drug store. They removed the whole difficulty promptly. That depressing pain over the kidneys stopped, dizziness and headaches ceased, and there was a general invigorating of the system. There is no question regarding the merits of these Tablets for the back and kidneys."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c. a Box, at all druggists or by mail, THE DR. ZINA PITCHER CO., Toronto, Ont.

IN THE SENATE.

The Subsidy to Prince Edward Island Under Discussion.

Ottawa, March 27.—In the Senate yesterday Hon. Mr. Ferguson enquired whether the subsidy due by the Government of Canada to Prince Edward Island at the beginning of the present year was computed and paid on the census returns of 1901. If so, was a readjustment then made of the precedent semi-annual payment, putting the subsidy due on July 1 last on the same basis of population? Whether subsequent to the payment of the subsidy to Prince Edward Island for the current half year, a correction has been made of the account by placing the said subsidy on the basis of the population as shown by the census of 1901? If such correction was made, has the Government of Prince Edward Island been notified thereof? Did the Government of Prince Edward Island, at the falling due or payment of the subsidy at the beginning of the present year, object to said subsidy being computed on the decreased population, as shown by the census of 1901?

Hon. Mr. Scott said the subsidy, which became due in July and December, were paid on the basis of the census of 1891. Afterwards the Auditor-General drew the attention of the Finance Department to the fact that the population had decreased, and that the sum of $4,655, or 80 cents per head, on the decrease, had been overpaid. The Provincial Government were written to, but no answer had been received. Hon. Mr. McKinnon had discussed the matter and held that there was no provision in the terms of union for any decrease. On reference to the [illegible] Justice, it was held that whilst the terms of union provided for augmented subsidy in case of increase of the population, no provision was made for a decrease. There the matter rested.

The second reading of the Georgian Bay Canal bill evoked some discussion, but the bill was read a second time, when the Senate adjourned.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief, and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the region of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25 cent bottles.

Authorities Will Pay Him Now.

Toronto, March 27.—The Ontario Cabinet yesterday afternoon appointed P. E. Kingsford, deputy magistrate of Toronto, at a salary of $1,500 a year. This is the first appointment under the new law passed at the last session of the Legislature. Previous to that deputy magistrates had to be paid out of the pocket of the magistrate.

Double Tragedy.

London, Eng., March 27.—At Colwyn Bay, David Richards, thought his sweatheart had stolen money entrusted to him. He shot her, and killed himself. His employer found the money, but too late to save the victims of this misunderstanding.

Contract Is Let.

Winnipeg, March 27.—Contract has been let for the construction of the big residential building block, to be erected on the corner of Broadway and Main street for Lord Strathcona.

CECIL RHODES DEAD

Most Remarkable Figure in the History of South Africa.

THERE WILL BE PUBLIC FUNERAL

Mr. Rhodes' Body Will Be Buried in the Matoppo Hills—Deceased Died at 5.57 p.m., Wednesday, With His Friends Around His Bedside — Sketch of His Career — Comments From London.

Cape Town, March 27.— Cecil Rhodes is dead. He died peacefully at 5.57 p.m. yesterday. He slept during the afternoon, but his breathing became more difficult and his strength perceptibly diminished until he passed away.

Mr. Rhodes was conscious until 5.55 p.m., when he muttered a few words and sank quickly. The immediate cause of his death was two successive attacks of heart failure.

The first public announcement of Mr. Rhodes' serious illness was made on the 6th instant. It was at first thought to be exaggerated, but was subsequently confirmed by statements that his condition was grave, and that he was suffering from neuralgia of the heart.

At his bedside were Dr. Jameson, Dr. J. W. Smartt, the Commissioner of Public Works; Col. Elmhurst Rhodes, Director of Signalling of the South African Field Force, and Mr. Walton of Port Elizabeth, a member of the assembly. Mr. Rhodes' last words were the names of his brother and some of the others present, which were meant to be good-byes. The only person who attended him during his illness and who was not present at his deathbed, was Dr. Stevenson; all his other boys and personal servants were admitted at the last.

The body will be taken to Groote Schurr, his residence near Cape Town, on a special train to-day. There it will probably lie in state for a day or two, and the public will be admitted to view it. It has not yet been determined where Mr. Rhodes will be buried. It was his wish that he should be buried at Matoppo Hills, Rhodesia. Certain of his friends will proceed to Matoppo Hills to determine whether it is practicable to carry out this wish.

The features of the dead man are placid and a death mask of them will be taken.

A Public Funeral.

The Government has decided to give Cecil Rhodes a public funeral. His remains will be brought here from Groote Schurr for the burial service, which will be held in the cathedral. The body will then be taken back to Groote Schurr, and will eventually be buried at Matoppo Hills.

Since Mr. Rhodes took to his bed three weeks ago, his friends had been most anxious that he should recover sufficiently to be taken back to England. The cottage where he died was a simple seaside cabin, small, and close to the railroad. It was fit-fitted to be a sick chamber, although the utmost was done to improve the ventilation and make it more comfortable. Dr. Stevenson slept by his patient every night, that he might be in readiness to administer oxygen, which practically kept Mr. Rhodes alive.

Last Sunday he lost all interest in everything, and since then he dozed the hours away. His rally from the crisis of Tuesday left but the faintest hopes for his ultimate recovery. These were entirely abandoned with the renewed attack at noon yesterday.

The news of his death spread through Cape Town between seven and 8 o'clock last evening, and caused profound grief. All places of amusement were immediately closed. An open-air concert was stopped, and the audience uncovered while the band played the "Dead March." The people then silently dispersed.

Sketch of His Career.

The Rt. Hon. Cecil Rhodes, ex-Prime Minister at the Cape, was the fourth son of the late Rev. T. W. Rhodes, vicar of Bishop Stratford, Herts, and was born at that place on July 5, 1853. He was educated at the local school, acquitting himself there, one is told, creditably. Thence, the state of his health being a matter of some concern, he left England to join his eldest brother, Herbert, who was planting in Natal. On the discovery of the river diggings in Griqualand West, Mr. Herbert Rhodes took part in the "rush," and was shortly afterwards joined by his younger brother. Not long before this, Cecil Rhodes determined to obtain a university degree. He accordingly managed, while carrying on work on the fields, to do some reading, and to spend enough of each year at Oriel College, to qualify for his degree.

The hero of Khartoum appears to have had a liking for, and a high opinion of Mr. Rhodes, and before he started on his last mission to the Soudan, wrote to him, asking the young politician—for he was then in the legislative assembly—to join him as private secretary.

Cecil Rhodes was one of a family of whom seven were sons. The eldest, Herbert, was killed while elephant hunting in the Shire District. The rest were nearly all soldiers, the second son being Col. Frank W. Rhodes, D.S.O., who was educated at Eton, and until recently was in command of the 1st (Royal) Dragoons. He returned recently to Matabeleland to take Dr. Jameson's place as administrator during the latter's visit to Europe.

It is barely a quarter of a century since Mr. Rhodes first landed at the Cape. Those who only know South Africa as it is to-day would find it difficult to realize the absolute commercial stagnation which ruled supreme before the discovery of the diamond mines in 1867. When Mr. Rhodes arrived he entered a country sunk into a veritable slough of despond, from which, however, the diamond mines were soon to extricate her. Along with C. D. Rudd, a Cambridge man, they purchased a quarter claim each in "Baxter's Gully." They accumulated wealth rapidly, and it was not long before Mr. Rhodes was a millionaire. It was the reconcentration of the innumerable rival and divergent interests which originally existed in the various mines at Kimberley which made for Mr. Rhodes a European reputation as a financial diplomatist of the first rank.

In due course Mr. Rhodes entered the legislative assembly, and, on the resignation of Sir Gordon Sprigg, took the Premiership. He can claim to have added nearly three-quarters of a million square miles to the British Empire. In 1896 and 1897 he paid several visits to England in connection with the Jameson raid, and his conduct in the matter was variously criticized.

Dr. Jameson, in a number of reminiscences of Mr. Rhodes, emphasizes the kindly feeling he always had for the natives, pointing out that he could not be charged with any harshness to the natives or any neglect of duty in his management of Rhodesia.

To Mr. Rhodes is due the credit of establishing peace in Matabeleland, when the natives were in revolt. He went into their very midst without any weapons, and by friendly counsel got the men to accept reasonable terms of settlement.

In 1888 he submitted a proposition for Imperial Federation in the House of Commons in England, which found ready converts in Lord Rosebery and Parnell. The proposition was that every step towards closer union should come from the colonies themselves, and that any colony should be able to send members to the House of Commons at Westminster if it desired to do so, the condition being that the number of members should be limited to a number proportionate to the colony's contribution to the normal expenditure for Imperial purposes, that is, for the army and navy and diplomatic service.

London Comment.

London, March 27.—The estimates of the career of Cecil Rhodes and the effect of that career on the history of the British empire, are colored largely by the political views of the papers making them. But the opinion is unanimous in the press here that in spite of the defects and the limitations of his forceful character, few men have more profoundly impressed the imagination of their contemporaries, or played a larger part in the world's affairs than Cecil Rhodes, and the empire is poorer by his premature death.

With the expression of admiration for his great services are mingled kindly worded regrets for the disastrous mistake made in the Jameson raid.

The Times says in an editorial: "With all his undeniable faults, and the errors which marred his noble work, Cecil Rhodes stands an heroic figure, around which the traditions of Imperial history will cling."

Surprising Results.

A Simple Internal Remedy Makes Remarkable Cures of Catarrh.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes, for catarrh, and have found how useless and inconvenient they are, will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form; druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents for full sized treatment is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children, by destroying nerve sensation. The irritation in throat which causes coughing, is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause, but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach, because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics, Blood Root, Red Gum from Eucalyptus Tree, etc., when you use these Tablets you know what you are putting into your system, and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates, or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Mr. Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures, says: "I can heartily recommend to all Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches, and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by by this harmless but effective remedy."

Dr. Wainwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for Catarrhal Headaches and Catarrhal Deafness, because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children, because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croups at the very beginning.

CHURCH ROBBERY.

Roman Catholic Church at Barrie Desecrated Wednesday Night.

Barrie, March 27.—The Roman Catholic Church here was desecrated last night between 11 and 12 o'clock. Three men are under arrest charged with the theft of a number of costly articles used on the altar of the sacred edifice. On the person of one of the prisoners was found a number of articles taken from the altar, and a small diary, which bore the name of Henry Patterson, Dundas, Ont.

In the meantime the priest and capturing party went into the church, and found that the silver chalice, valued at $100, had been stolen, the drawers, containing sacred emblems, ransacked, and numerous costly articles taken.

Farmer Takes His Life.

Dunnville, March 27.—The people of Dunnville and vicinity were much shocked to hear of the tragic death of Alvin Ayers, a prosperous farmer, residing in Moulton Township, about ten miles from Dunnville. Mr. Ayers was found dying, with his throat terribly cut and lacerated. He committed the deed himself. No reason can be found for his rash act. Deceased was about 30 years of age, and had a fine home. He leaves a wife and little daughter.

G. T. R. Was Negligent.

Oshawa, March 27.—The inquest, called to inquire into the death of Grand Trunk Brakeman William John McCausland, at Oshawa Junction on the morning of March 20, gave the following decision: That William John McCausland came to his death by getting his foot fast in a frog on Grand Trunk property through the negligence of the Grand Trunk Railway, by not having the said frog properly packed.

A PRESENTATION

That was Made This Afternoon to Miss Mable Yenny, by her Pupils.

The pupils of School Section No. 8, Otonabee, this afternoon made their teacher, Miss Mabel Yenney, a presentation of a suitable nature before she took her departure for South Africa. Miss Yenney was agreeably surprised during the afternoon when she was made the recipient of a handsome writing portfolio and the following address:

Miss Mabel Yenney, Peterborough:

Dear Miss Yenney,—We, your pupils of School Section No. 8, Otonabee, learn with deep regret that we are to lose your presence, the efficient and painstaking instruction we have received from you, and the personal kindness you have always shown us.

We are sorry to part with you, especially as the call of duty takes you to a far distant part of the Empire, but there is comfort in the thought that your experience will be a novel and interesting one, and we remember that the loving kindness of the same God will be about you, the same glorious flag will float over you, and our prayers for your welfare will be as fervent as if you were with us in person.

We part with you with regret, and pray that you may have a safe and speedy voyage, and that your duties may be pleasant—we know they will be faithfully done—and that in due course you may return to us safely.

As a token of our esteem, love, and good wishes we ask your acceptance of this writing portfolio. We feel that it will be useful to you and at the same time we feel that our selfishness somewhat prompts such a gift, for we hope that while you are using it to write to your many friends you may not forget those who made the gift. Please accept it with our best wishes and dearest love.

Signed on behalf of the pupils,
K. HAZLITT,
M. CRANE,
L. DUFFIS,
A. CROWLEY,
D. CORKERY.

Miss Yenney replied, thanking the scholars for their kindness and she assured them that she would long remember her connection with the pupils of S. S. No. 8, Otonabee.

A HORSE SHOW.

Sensation Created by a Balking Horse Yesterday.

A horse, a road-cart, and two men, on the dusty square, corner of Aylmer and Hunter streets, yesterday at the noon hour. Presto! change: a transformation—a mule, a demoralized road-cart, and two demoralized men.

The horse became a mule in the sense that it balked, and refused to move a step forward—only with a vicious headshake a wicked gleam of the eye, characteristic of the balking horse, practicing intermittent two-steps on its hind legs, and turning in a circle. A big crowd gathered, for as the brute was revolving in the middle of the square, no one knew in what direction he might take a fancy to bolt, the crossings were considered unsafe and there was, consequently, a congestion of pedestrians from the four points of the compass. The horse apparently felt that it was up to him to provide amusement for the crowd, and he was equal to the occasion. Suddenly his head went down, his heels went up and in a twinkling the splashboard of the road-cart was flying in splintery fragments in the air, and the vicious heels were flying perilously near the face of the driver, who, however, pluckily kept his place, while the other occupant of the seat tumbled over behind, with his back in the dust. The kicking convulsion didn't last long, for there was nothing within reach of the horse's heels to smash. Suddenly—this was a very sudden horse—at a word from the driver, the animal, which was a fine-looking beast, started off as quietly as a cart horse, and ambled down the street as decorously as if he had never been anything but a good Sunday school horse from his colthood days.

There are a good many human beings like this horse. One never knows where to find them. Suddenly, sometimes, without any preliminary incantation, they raise the devil, and after making everybody around them uncomfortable and mildly murderous towards them, they all at once become as mild as sucking doves, as sweet as lollipops, and go on their way with a hypocritical assumption of meekness, as serene as if a short time previously they had not been guilty of conduct that made a good sound kicking an act of duty.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

HOCKEY.

Mr. Wm. Breen, who worked so faithfully with the team as one of the trainers, was presented with a cheque for $25.00 at the hockey banquet last evening.

BASKET-BALL.

The Toronto Globe in speaking of the game at the West End Y.M.C.A. between Ottawa and the West End team says: "The Ottawa boys will have a hard row to hoe as they have arranged games with all the crack western teams, including Peterborough, Hamilton, Brantford, Toronto Central, and Toronto West End. The West End have been honoured with the first game, after which basketball enthusiasts will be able to get a line on the style of game played down east." This is the Ottawa team that will play Peterborough.

TENNIS.

At a very enthusiastic meeting, the Tennis Club in connection with the Y.M.C.A. was re-organized last evening, when important business was transacted. The Park Tennis Club has amalgamated with the Y.M.C.A. Club, which feature will prove beneficial to members in that they will be able to play on both grass and cinder courts. There will be at least three good courts at the Nicholls Oval. This arrangement should accommodate all present and intending members of the Association. The fee has been placed at 50 cents. The following officers were elected:

Hon. Pres.—Mr. Richard Hall.
Pres.—Dr. Tate.
Vice-Pres.—Harold Brown.
Sec.-Tres.—Lawrence McLennan.
Assistand Sec.-Treas. — Archie Laing.

The Club promises to be in a flourishing condition with a much increased membership.

THE SILVER LINING IN THE CLOUD.

Messrs. Pete Simons & Co. can Look on the Bright Side of Things now.

After a season of adversity, such as they never hope to experience again, the tailoring firm of Messrs. Pete Simons & Co. comes to the top once more. They are being congratulated on their new and handsome premises in the Morrow Block, nearly opposite their former collapsed store. Having first been threatened with fire and shortly after with being buried alive, it looked as if the Fates had a pick against Pete, and that he was up against a pretty hard proposition. But its all explained now—the silver lining in the cloud has appeared. The fine new premises which the firm now occupy is a satisfactory compensation for past troubles and they are to be congratulated on the taste and enterprise which they have shown in fitting it up. The interior has been re-fitted and re-furnished in an up-to-date manner, new counters, shelving and tables installed, and the floor covered with a neat pattern of oil cloth. A fine office and trying-on room gives an added air of business to the door. A large cutting room is situated in the rear, and a commodious workroom for the tailors is located on the second floor.

STOCK MARKETS.

(The Haight & Freese Company—W. F. Nelson, Local Agent.)

New York, March 27.—The Southern Pacific Co. is showing earnings a trifle over 7 p.c. and is as yet paying no dividends. A good crop would undoubtedly mark the commencement of returns to shareholders. The enormous sums being spent upon the property also wondrously enhance its value. Another year of prosperity would make a remarkable showing for Southern Pacific. The bulk of its lines lie in the one great undeveloped section of the country. Twelve months more of prosperity would bring an influx of new inhabitants, increased business and stimulate these productive and consumptive abilities of that section which the astute owners of the shares expect to ultimately carry them above par.

St. Paul is a road with a brilliant future that will be benefitted by a good crop. Both St. Paul and R.I. must and will ultimately build through to the Pacific Coast. Their ultimate destiny is very high prices. It is plainly evident that all these roads will be able to keep up present ratio of earnings even if the coming crop is bad. If they do, all these stocks should advance quite considerably. If coming crops prove large, bullish trading would probably run wild, and the prices recorded would astound the most optimistic. The fact that the public have so few stocks, means once they come in, their buying power would run to extreme, their ability to purchase being great as their holding to-day are so small.

New York, March 27.—Atch. gross earnings for month of February increases $134,507. Net earnings for month of February increased $186,450.

New York, March 27.—The winter wheat news was slightly less favourable, and the Pacifics and Grangers show a heavy tone in consequence. London traded about 35,000 shares, evenly divided. The short interest in the tractions helped the bull side in Manh. and B.R.T. to rally their stocks.

New York, March 27.—Inside bull pool said to be working for higher prices in corn products. Readings and Eries heavy on uncertainty of meeting to-day. Ice weak on adverse dividend talk said however. Morse following has accumulated stock in the recent past. Some short interest discovered in Manh.

Chicago reports from all parts of country where wheat is growing shows good rains.

H. F. & CO.

March 26.—London positively stagnant. Copper slightly better. More confidence is expressed regarding peaceful outcome of the anthractite coal labour conferences. Largest interests satisfied that there will be no strike.

Holders of Readings, Eries and O.W. should average on any further decline. Good buying of Southern Railway, L.N. and Kans. City Southern pfd is going on and higher prices are predicted for these. Be careful of bulling Monan or any of the Thomas breed of stocks. Washington buying Sugar and much higher prices are predicted. Standard Oil crowd not yet advising purchases of Amalgamated Copper.

Atch. corn and C.F.I. good to hold.

GARLAND CUP WAS PRESENTED

To the Local Intermediate O. H. A. Champions.

BANQUET AT THE ORIENTAL.

Speeches by Local Orators—Souvenirs Presented to the Players and Officers of the Club—The Toast List.

The hockey season is now surely over. The second grand banquet to the Intermediate Champions of the O.H.A. took place in the Oriental Hotel last night, when about 40 or more townspeople sat around the festive board to do honour to Capt. Glover's speedy aggregation of stick handlers. The banquet was given by the club to the team and the occasion was taken advantage of by the O.H.A. to make the formal presentation of the Garland Cup to the Intermediate Champions and of suitable souvenirs to the members of the team. In fact it was a time for presentations all round, for saying good words about everybody and an occasion for general congratulations.

The chair was occupied by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, president of the Club, and the vice-chair by Dr. Andrew Scott, vice-president. To the right of the chairman sat Mr. R. M. Glover, the captain of the victorious seven, whilst to his left sat Mr. W. A. Buchanan, treasurer of the Ontario Hockey Association, and a former secretary of the local club. Seated around the tables were, Rev. W. L. Armitage, chaplain, A. W. McPherson, sec.-treas., Walter Stocker, Harry Thompson, Herb. Edmison, R. F. McWilliams, W. Breen, Wm. Bunton, Dr. Wightman, Joe Gibson, R. P. Watt, F. A. Clarke, Jack Comstock, M. C. Tooley, F. D. Kerr, Alex Gibson, R. M. Roy, H. Rush, Jas. McCabe, C. H. Bradburn, A. A. Hollingshead, C. G. Graham, Roy Armstrong, Fred Whitcroft, H. Morgan, H. Armstrong, E. Dillon, A. J. McClellan, E. O. Bradburn, R. J. Frost, F. H. Dixon, D. Davidson, S. S. Moore, A. Hall, E. S. Clarry.

THOSE WHO REGRETTED.

After a very excellent menu had been disposed of the chairman read a number of letters of gentlemen who regretted that they were unable to attend the banquet. Amongst them were Messrs. John Ross Robertson, president of the Ontario Hockey Association, Francis Nelson and A. H. Beaton, member of executive and secretary of O.H.A., respectively, Mayor Deane, A. H. Stratton, and Dr. Bradd. Mr. Robertson's letter was received with much enthusiasm. He referred to the brilliant work of the team and congratulated the boys on their record.

Rev. W. L. Armitage, chaplain of the Club, was asked to propose the first toast, which was of course, that of the King. He made a very happy speech in which he referred to the manliness of King Edward and the manliness of the members of the Peterborough Hockey team both on and off the ice. He felt proud to be connected with the Club, and he congratulated the boys upon their magnificent record.

The toast was loyally honoured in the usual manner.

Mr. A. W. McPherson, secretary of the Club, proposed the toast of the O.H.A., coupling with it the name of Mr. W. A. Buchanan. In so doing he eulogized the O.H.A. executive for the able manner in which the affairs of the association are managed. He also reviewed the work of the team during the past seasbn and in conclusion bore testimony to the assistance Mr. Buchanan had rendered on the O.H.A. executive. Mr. McPherson claimed that Galt and not Peterborough benefitted by the O.H.A. executive's decisions during the past year.

Mr. Buchanan was received with much enthusiasm. He claimed that he was in Peterborough to-night more as an old Peterborough boy than as a member of the O.H.A. executive. He referred in a humorous manner to the manner in which the Galt people, and perhaps some people outside of Galt, claimed that Peterborough had been favoured, while to-night the Peterborough club was declaring the favours went entirely the other way. He thought that the general opinion in Toronto, and the opinion of many in Galt, was that the better team won. They won on soft ice and had the ice been hard they would have won by a much greater margin. As to the matter of Mr. Schooley's referring, he said Mr. Schooley was always impartial in his decisions. Referring to the O.H.A. generally the speaker thought that it was one of the best athletic organizations in Canada. It was their highest ambition to stamp out professionalism and have the sport looked up to in Canada. He thanked the Peterborough club for the confidence they had placed in him, and he felt that he could not do enough for Peterborough, although he did not want to deal unfairly with another club. He looked upon himself as being the representative of the Midland District. The Ontario Hockey Association is going to expand and take in new districts. He did not look with any degree of sincerity upon the proposition of the Western Ontario clubs to organize a new league. Anyway the O.H.A. could always reckon on having one club stay with them until the end—and that was Peterborough.

When Mr. Buchanan sat down, Mr Kenner spoke a few words of appreciation of the valuable services that Peterborough's representative in Toronto rendered the club. As a token of the Peterborough club's appreciation, he presented to Mr. Buchanan a box of choice cigars.

At this juncture Mr. Buchanan on behalf of the Ontario Hockey Association, presented each member of the Peterborough team with a handsome little stick pin in the form of a gold hockey stick and puck. He also presented to the club the beautiful Garland Cup, which occupied a conspicuous place on the table. In presenting the souvenirs he claimed, amid much applause that the Peterborough team was composed of gentlemen.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, in a few appropriate remarks, proposed the toast of the Intermediate champions. He spoke of the excellent record of the Peterborough team during the past season, and hoped that they would soon tackle the Senior O.H.A. championship. The boys had reason to have swelled heads, although they had not taken their honours in this manner. The club and the members of the team are held in high estimation by the people of the town, and he hoped that they would continue as successful in the future.

Captain Glover, who responded, was received with cheers and applause. In his modest manner he thanked the proposer of the toast for the kind reference towards the team, and for the kindness of the executive and the townspeople in general during the past season. He referred to Mr. Buchanan's keen interest in the affairs of the club and the splendid judgment displayed by the executive in the appointment of referees. He thought that the Peterborough club would never bring discredit on the town. In conclusion Capt. Glover presented Mr. Kenner with the puck that was used at Galt in the final match. It was artistically decorated and suitably engraved.

Mr. McPherson was presented with the puck that was used against Port Hope in the district championship match. It was similarly gotten up.

Both gentlemen acknowledged the presentations in short speeches, in which they expressed their feelings of appreciation of the honours the team had done them.

The members of the championship team were then presented with gold watches by the Executive. Messrs. Jim McCabe, Ed. Dillon and W. Breen were the recipients of similar presents.

Mr. T. F. Matthews, 2nd vice-president of the Club, proposed the toast of "Kindred Sports," and coupled with it the names of Messrs. R. F. McWilliams, president of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club; A. W. McPherson, captain of the Rugby Club, and Dickson Davidson and M. C. Tooley on behalf of the Curling Clubs, all of whom extended to the Hockey Club their heartiest congratulations.

"The Ladies" was proposed by Mr. R. F. McWilliams and responded to by Mr. C. H. Bradburn. The Press proposed by Mr. Wm. Bunton, drew forth replies from the local representatives present.

The affair was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

During the evening Mr. Gliddon's orchestra furnished an entertaining programme of music, and Messrs. Walter Stocker and Wm. Breen rendered vocal selections.

DETECTIVE MURRAY'S THEORY.

One Person Killed James Quirk and Before He Ever Had a Chance to Climb the Ladder.

Brantford, March 27.—The funeral of the late James Quirk, the murdered proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The remains were interred in Mount Hope Cemetery. Among the relatives of the murdered man who were present were his father and mother from Wingham, and brother from Buffalo.

No arrests have yet been made in connection with the terrible crime of Sunday evening. Detective John Murray of the Government detective force is on the case. The local police have rendered him all the assistance possible. Tuesday afternoon he inspected the scene of the tragedy and interviewed Mr. Toole and the bell boy, Kennedy. If he has any suspicion of the guilty parties he will give no hint of it. The detective is firmly convinced that death was not due to an accident, but was a diabolical murder which circumstances for the present involve in mystery.

When interviewed yesterday Detective Murray said he believed that there was but one person who committed the crime. It would have been too dangerous for two persons to have been in such a deed. In all his experience, the detective says, he has found that criminals distrust one another. When a man performs a murder he covers the tracks of his deed as completely as possible, and never utters a word about it. Such a course is always the safest. It is Detective Murray's belief that the deed was carefully planned and executed, and that it was the masterly work of one person. In every particular the greatest precautions had been taken to entirely obliterate the tracks of the perpetrator of the crime.

In regard to the crime itself, Detective Murray has established an entirely new theory, which has not been advanced in the city before. He declares that Quirk never ascended the ladder, but that he met his death as he entered the harness room. His murderer was there in the room when Quirk entered, or he followed him in and there committed the crime. According to the detective, Quirk was struck on the head five times with a small hatchet which the murderer carried off with him. Any one of the blows would have caused death. Quirk instantly fell to the floor. He might have groaned. It is probable that he would have groaned. The murderer then placed Quirk's body in the position in which he was found. "No man could fall from a ladder and strike as Quirk did," said the detective.

He also believes that Quirk was lured into the barn by someone whom he knew well on some pretext.

Startling developments are expected at any moment. The police authorities are reticent, but the opinion is general that they are on the right clue, and an arrest may occur at any time.

Spring Wretchedness, Misery and Suffering Permanently Banished When You Use PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

A CURED AND GRATEFUL LADY SAYS:

"I can Honestly say I Would not be Living To-day if it had not Been for Your Wonderful Remedy."

A few words to weak, broken-down nervous and sick women at this time, and the perusal of Mrs. Charette's letter, will, we trust, kindle hope and inspire new confidence in many a home where some loved mother, wife or daughter is hovering between life and death. At this season, thousands are nearing the grave; they can be saved by the prompt use of Paine's Celery Compound. Mrs. Chas. Charette, Chambly, P.Q., writes as follows for the benefit of sick and ailing women:

"I can honestly say I would not be living to-day if it had not been for your wonderful remedy. For a long time I suffered terribly from nervousness, sleeplessness, head and stomach troubles, and never received much benefit from ordinary medical treatment. I heard of your Paine's Celery Compound and was strongly urged to give it a trial, and I have good reason to thank God that I did so.

"I can now eat and sleep soundly, and my nervousness is a thing of the past. I now feel perfectly rested after a night's sleep, which was never the case before using the compound. My neighbours, who know how I formerly suffered, are surprised at the grand cure made by your medicine, and some of them are using it now. I thank you sincerely for the honest results given by Paine's Celery Compound."

120,000 Accounted For.

St. John's, Nfld., March 27.— The steamer Leopard has arrived here from the seal fishery, loaded with 12,000 seals. She brings a much better report from the sealing fleet than the steamer Newfoundland brought on Monday. The reports of the Leopard account for about 120,000 seals so far.

POISON-PAINS

Rheumatism is really a poison in the blood, and where there is poison there's disaster in a lesser or greater degree—but there's a cure.

South American Rheumatic Cure neutralises the acid poison in the blood in a few hours, and hence relieves at once—the complete cure is effected a little more slowly, but surely. When the disease is of only a few years standing, not more than one to three days' time is required to effect a complete cure. When it has been present in the system for 10 or 15 years the acid poison has permeated the flesh and often the marrow of the bones. In such cases, relief is obtained at once, but a cure cannot be secured under two or three weeks. 66

ADDITIONAL WOUNDS FOUND.

Result of Autopsy on Body of Late James Quirk.

Brantford, March 26.—Provincial Detective Murray of Toronto arrived here yesterday morning and is now at work in investigating the tragic death on Sunday night of James Quirk, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel.

Drs. Digby and Frank yesterday conducted the autopsy and discovered two additional wounds upon the skull. There are four distinct fractures from the top of the head to the back of the neck, in addition to the two sharp cuts over the left eye.

At present the police are trying to account for Quirk's whereabouts from 11.30, when Robert Ryan, cook in the hotel, saw him go towards the lavatory as he supposed and the time his body was found in the barn.

Killed in a Well.

Perth, March 26.—An accident occurred here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, whereby Charles, the two-year-old son of Mr. George Drysdale, lost his life. The lad was laying around the well at his home, and one of the top boards broke, and he fell through. His dead struck a stone, and several deep gashes were inflicted, from the effects of which he died. The boy was missed from around the house, and, in a search being instituted, the remains were found in the well.

Consumption is Infectious.

Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the White Plague. Persons coming in contact with consumptives should inhale Catarrhozone several times each day, as it is a powerful destroyer of germs and renders them inocuous. Catarrhozone is a most efficient preventive and may be thoroughly relied upon to promote expectoration, soothe the cough, and benefit in many ways too numerous to mention. Both from a medical and scientific point of view Catarrhozone is the most valuable addition to the armament against consumption. Its merit cannot be too warmly applauded. Sold at all druggists, two months' treatment, price $1; small size, 25c.; or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

COLDS THAT WILL NEVER BE CURED

Are Being Contracted Every day—The Treatment Prescribed by an Eminent Medical Author and Physician—Timely Action the all Important Point in Treating Colds.

"Colds that will never be cured." A startling sentence, but you know it to be true. Scarcely a day passes but some death from consumption, pneumonia or similar ailment emphasizes the truth of this statement. It is well to remember a newly-contracted cold can, in almost every case, be cured. It is the neglected cold that leads to death—the cold that runs on and on—the cold that is added to by fresh colds from time to time.

But what treatment is to be chosen from the great number of remedies that are recommended? You can use common-sense in buying medicine, just as you can in the purchase of a piano, a bicycle or a sewing machine. Find out what treatment has the best record in the past, apply the test of time and get the opinion of people who know from experience.

If you apply this test to medicines for coughs, colds and similar ailments, you will select Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, because of the extraordinary merits which it possesses, and which have become known to the public generally through years of trial. The sales of this remedy are far in excess of any similar preparation, and have never been so large as during the present season. These two facts are, we believe, the strongest evidence that can be produced in verifying the merits of any remedy that has been thoroughly tested for years.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is prized especially because of its far-reaching effects, even in the most serious cases of bronchitis, whooping cough, croup and asthma. It is not a mere relief for coughs, but acts on the whole system thoroughly, curing the cold and removing chest pains, soreness of the lungs and bronchial tubes, and all inflammation of the respiratory organs.

Just a word of warning. There are other preparations of turpentine and linseed put up in imitation of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. To be sure you are getting the genuine, see portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on the wrapper. Twenty-five cents a bottle, family size, three times as much 60 cents. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto. 11

The Good Friday Bun

THE significance of the bun in connection with Good Friday appears only a legitimate descent from the cake baking or cake offering of olden time festivals. The custom belonged to the Hebrews, Babylonians, Egyptians, Greeks, Romans, and the Hindoo elephant headed god Ganesha is frequently represented holding in one of his four hands a bowl filled with small cakes on which he is supposed to feed. Ancient writers speak of the boun, a kind of cake made of flour and honey and presented to the gods. When the prophet Jeremiah rebuked the women for idolatry, they answered, "Did we make her cakes to worship her?" And, since bannocks belong to Michaelmas, seed cakes to All Hallow eve, plum puddings to Christmas, spiced bread and sugared cakes to Twelfth Night, pancakes to Shrove Tuesday and simnels to Midlent or Mothering Sunday, Good Friday may also have its special delicacy.

Why the bun should be marked with a Greek cross has given rise to much speculation and many theories. The cross would seem to refer the cake distinctively to the Christian era, but as small cross marked loaves were found at Herculaneum it is probable that this mark was originally made to facilitate the division of the loaf into quarters. In the ancient Greek liturgy the priest divides the sacred bread into four parts.

Why the Good Friday bun is found only in England (there chiefly in the south) and nowhere among the Roman Catholics of the continent is not so readily explained. In Edinburgh to eat hot cross buns on Good Friday has been regarded like the eating of meats offered to idols. Possibly when the early missionaries went to convert our Anglo-Saxon ancestors they may have introduced the cross marked bread and made it the symbol of that broken by Christ at the last supper.

It is an old belief that to eat cross buns on Good Friday protects the house from fire during the year. Mr. Quiller-Couch, writing of the folklore of a Cornish village, says: "In some of our farmhouses the Good Friday cake may be seen hanging to the bacon rack, slowly diminishing until the return of the season replaces it by a fresh one. It is of sovereign good in all manner of diseases that may afflict the family or the cattle. I have seen a little of this cake grated into a warm mash for a sick cow." In Warwickshire a lady inquired of a laborer's wife regarding her little son who was ill. The mother replied that he had been very poorly, but she had grated some Good Friday bread into a little brandy, and it had cured him. The bun never grows moldy, and she had kept this one seven or eight years. Poor Robin's Almanack for 1733 says of the Good Friday bun:

Whose virtue is, if you believe what's said,
They'll not grow moldy like the common bread.

For two persons to break a Good Friday bun between them was considered not only a pledge of friendship, but a surety against disagreement, the act being accompanied by the words:

Half for you and half for me,
Between us two good will shall be.

In a paper before the British Archæological society in 1878 Mr. H. L. Cuming stated that he had known a woman to take a little grated bun as a cure for a sore throat and that even in that year twenty stale Good Friday buns strung on a cord were hanging as a festoon above the door of a room at Brixton Hill in the belief that this protected the house from witches and evil spirits.

An Easter Souvenir.

A pretty little Easter souvenir, and one that always pleases a child, is made by gluing an empty eggshell laid on its side on a card, then placing in it one of the fluffy little chickens or ducks which may be purchased at a Japanese store. Instead of the chicken or duck a little China or Japanese doll may be put in the shell. The Easter date or motto may be put on the card instead of on the shell. The little toys that are put in the eggshell should not be glued in, for it will be a pleasure to the little recipient to take them out and put them back again.

Rheumatism..

is Uric Acid in the blood. Unhealthy kidneys are the cause of the acid being there. If the kidneys acted as they should they would strain the Uric Acid out of the system and rheumatism wouldn't occur. Rheumatism is a Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills have made a great part of their reputation curing Rheumatism. So get at the cause of those fearful shooting pains and stiff, aching joints. There is but one sure way—

His Wife's Weak Heart.

It is a singular thing that in the popular view of disease the interdependence of the several organs of the body is lost sight of. The heart, for example, is diseased and it is treated as if it were entirely separated from, and independent of, every other organ.

The fallacy of this opinion is shown by the cures of heart "trouble," liver "trouble," kidney "trouble" and other so-called "troubles," effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Primarily the "Discovery" is a medicine for the cure of diseases of the stomach and blood. But it cures diseases of organs seemingly remote from the stomach, because these diseases have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition.

"I doctored with three different doctors for weak heart, but they did me no good," writes Mrs. Julia A. Wilcox, of Cygnet, Wood Co., Ohio, Box 52. "I was so tired and discouraged if I had had my choice to live or die I would have preferred to die. My husband heard of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and he bought a bottle. I took that and the first half seemed to help me. I took six bottles before I stopped. I am perfectly well, and am cooking for six boarders. It has been a God-send to me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

EASTER PRESENTS.

Appropriate Tokens, Fanciful, Costly and Otherwise.

In the way of gifts Easter is fast becoming a miniature edition of Christmas. Flowers and bonbons in beautiful holders represent the most popular presents, and city florists and confectioners reap an immense harvest from this custom of Eastertide. Any fresh growing thing, from a pot of hyacinths to a stately Easter lily or handsome blooming shrub, may be given and accepted as an appropriate present, says the Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph. It is in bonbon holders, however, to a great extent that the typical Easter gift is most apt to be found, and very costly they are despite the airy unsubstantiality of some of them.

The display in the shops is bewildering. Great straw eggs are made of colored braids interwoven with gilt and have large straw rings ready for hanging them. When one of these wicker eggs parts in the middle, the interior is seen lined with peachblow satin, so that it may act conveniently as a workbasket when its mission as a candy holder is over.

Eggs of various colors, covered with satin and exquisitely hand painted, open to reveal sweets within. Some are lined and wadded and answer for ring or cuff button cases.

Dainty bonbon cases are made of fine porcelain, decked off with flowers of various hues. Some choice china bonbonnieres have on the closely fitting covers little scenes from farm life, the hen and her progeny having prominent place in each.

Flower trimmed fancy baskets in all sorts of odd shapes and laden with sweets are favorite Easter reminders. Opera bags and workboxes and heart shaped boxes decorated with flowers typical of the season are all in the Easter swim.

Jewelers' small wares come in for a large amount of attention, and not only prayer books, crosses, rosaries, etc., for the devout, but silver trifles, such as glove hooks, envelope openers, pin trays, bonbonnieres, purses, cigarette cases, etc., for the more worldly are in requisition.

Those who manufacture the gifts which they present at Easter are apt to restrict themselves to small and dainty trifles, such as perfumed sachets of various kinds, decorated boxes for ribbons, handkerchiefs, gloves, etc.; bookmarks, photograph frames, opera and waist bags, and other personal knickknacks.

One of the many exquisitely bound little books which publishers bring out for the season is a graceful gift, provided one understands well the tastes of the recipient.

Easter an Old Time Holiday.

Long before the Christian era the festival was observed, says the Montreal Herald, as the season of rejoicing when the life imprisoned in the frozen earth broke forth into the sunlight and the first shoots of grass peered above the barren soil. It was then the festival of the goddess Eastre, or Hesta, who typified the revivifying power of nature and who was symbolized in heathen days by the egg, the most complete type of hidden life. When man became Christianized, he still clung to the old season of rejoicing, and this led the early fathers of the church to add Eastre's day to the list of Christian holy days.

But in doing so they imparted to it a deeper and holier significance. Instead of merely commemorating the awakening of nature to the sun they celebrated on it the resurrection of the Lord and his awakening from the dead. Yet many of the old heathen customs still cling to Easter. The Easter egg is only the successor of Eastre's egg, which the votaries of that joyous goddess gave to each other on her festal day. The Easter lily is but the stately descendant of the tiny, white crocus, which is the first flower to thrust upward its sturdy blossoms through the frozen soil and which was the one to decorate the altar. The hot cross bun is a survival of the little cakes marked with the "tau" or sign of life, which Punic housewives baked for their children on this old time holiday. Back as far as man's record extends Easter has been a holiday.

At Eastertide.

He knelt in church; so reverent
His attitude of prayer
That all his heart and soul seemed bent
On heaven and only there.
Yet not above the starry sky
Was the divinity
He worshiped; not afar, but nigh;
Two pews in front sat she.

28 Gallons of Blood

pass every hour through the heart kidneys and liver. How vastly important it is that this blood should be pure so that these important organs are not irritated. And also how important it is that each of these organs should be strong and healthy so that their work may be thoroughly accomplished. Merrill's System Tonic is not only a powerful purifier but a reconstructive tonic for these important organs. 50 doses, price 50c, at Ormond & Walsh.

How He Spoiled It.

He—I thought you looked charming last night.

She—Oh, now, did you really?

He—Yes. Why, I could hardly believe it was you.

The Height of Politeness.

Cleverton—Since you have been calling on Miss Pinkerly how have her father and mother treated you?

Dashaway—Splendidly. I haven't even met them.—Judge.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles as the trouble is likely to become chronic and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation, and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

It appears from it that the total receipts for the year were £131,081, and, after making total payments amounting to £115,660, the balance carried forward is £15,421, as compared with a balance of £8,722 in the preceding year. The two largest items of disbursement are: Payments made to His Majesty's use for the period to Jan. 22, 1901, £21,983 19s 7d; payments made to His Royal Highness's use from Jan. 23 to Dec. 31, 1901, £52,000; making together £73,988 19s 7d paid to royalty in a year when there were two Princes of Wales. EASTER TOGGERY FOR MEN AND BOYS.

H. LeBrun & Co. are Holding a Special Easter "Opening" Event.

The question of dress is paramount this week. With the advent of the new season, the principal thought of the masculine, as well as the feminine, world, is that of dress. Where is the man, woman or child who will not don new raiment on Easter?

For the Men and boys, Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. are holding a special "opening" event before Easter. All departments are thrown open for their inspection. Their exclusive display of new spring clothing, hats, neckwear, shirts, gloves, handkerchiefs, hosiery, underwear, etc., is a sight for good dressers. The City Clothing Store has been successfully catering for the dress needs of the men and boys of Peterborough for the past twenty-five years.

This season's carefully selected suits, spring overcoats and other seasonable outfittings does the firm especial credit.

The hats and neckwear stocks make a very fine showing of the smartest, nobbiest spring styles in vogue. Their list of Easter novelties should keep the clerks busy all week.

For whooping cough and croup, Vapo-Cresolene is a simple and perfect remedy.

"THE CHOICE OF A TRADE."

Mr. A. C. McCallum Delivered a Helpful Address

OF INTEREST TO BOYS,

Pointing out the Guiding Principles Which Ought to Govern the Choice of Life's Work.

The Intermediate Social Bible Club at the Y.M.C.A. seems to be able to successfully combine Bible study with the development of all-round manliness. They hold weekly meetings, the fourth one of which, while it includes a stated Bible lesson, has additional attractions. These attractions vary from time to time. Last night the boys listened to an interesting and profitable address by Mr. A. C. McCallum on "How to Choose a Trade or Profession."

On rising to speak, Mr. McCallum was warmly received. He prefaced his address by a brief history of his youth. The recital of some of his early aims and ambitions and of the ways by which he sought to accomplish them brought forth hearty laughter. He made apology for the fact that he would have to frequently make use of the first personal pronoun. The knowledge that his remarks were based on practical experience found favour with his hearers. Among many good things he said:

In the first place one must deal with the average youth, because, as a general rule, this youth has no clear purpose in his mind as to the direction in which he may take himself when he is called upon to decide what trade or profession he may take up.

To the speaker's mind the choosing of our life's work is second only to that of our eternal salvation. This is not putting it too strongly, for many a man has discovered when too late that he has hidden his talents, coming upon this truth when too late to rectify the error made.

The first point upon which observation was made might be fairly called the keystone of a man's success:

"A KNOWLEDGE OF ONESELF."

It is because so few young men have a correct knowledge of themselves that they make such disastrous failures, or fail to achieve what they had set out for themselves. No two men are constituted exactly the same, no two faces are identical, the lines upon no two persons' hands are found exactly in duplicate. One man can learn certain subjects with remarkable ease while others cannot attain any success at all. What one man can understand another cannot, what one man is capable of doing is beyond the power of another. Therefore, the nature, thoughts, character and capacity of one person is utterly unlike that of another. Hence it is important that each young fellow should look into himself and find out what has been given him and come to a clear understanding of what he can do and what he cannot do.

Arrival at more mature years makes this fact become more important and the regret of many a man is, that when he had learned to know himself it was too late to take advantage of his opportunities. And because of this failure we see so many men, particularly young men, floundering and fluttering from one phase of life to another unable to fasten upon any special work for life simply because a knowledge of themselves is absent. So we see round men in square holes. They are misfits.

An understanding of oneself is reached by different methods by different people. No rule can be laid down. Every thought, every taste, every desire and every action reveals ourselves to ourselves. There is something within us, which, when we have formed a plan causes us to hold it, so that we cannot be swayed from it by others. Having resolved to be something in art or business, greater and higher than others we know, this spirit or gift will keep us to that resolve.

The young man or boy who would succeed in life must always in mind live, move, think, act as if he had gained that success, or he will never gain it.

It is said that a man shows his real side in the pleasures which he seeks and enjoys. The character of his pleasures will have both a direct and an indirect bearing upon the more practical side of his nature. In our formative years we show to a great extent what may indicate the choice of life's work. We have the boy who at school was much given to trading the jackknives, marbles, etc., or the youth who goes about with his mind charged with the intention of acquiring knowledge from books, or other sources, or, perhaps, the youth who shows his aptitude for mechanics by the things he builds. We realize that there is in him those instincts which would help him to make a choice of life's work. But he should feel in every way possessed by his choice before he adopts a trade or profession. In this way the young man may study himself through his pleasures.

UNDEVELOPED TASTES.

There is a possibility that an undeveloped taste may prove false, and he may be led into something different. It is well for him to allow his developing taste full play. Ambition is a good quality, so long as it is kept in the proper place. It should always be a trifle behind our judgment—never in advance of it.

Sometimes parents are much to blame for the condition of many of our young men. His failure may be traced to the fact that he was dissuaded from his choice of life's work. This accounts for the many mediocre lawyers, doctors, preachers, mechanics, etc. No boy can make a success of life who does not love his work for its own sake.

In youth it is well to benefit by counsel given by those who have had experience, but, after all, a realization is needed that each fellow is the architect of his own fortune. A perusal of biography will reveal the fact that the most honourable careers were those which were shaped by the individual's own hand. It is invariably safe to follow instincts; water will not run up hill, and there is likelihood of trouble for a boy who is forced to work in channels not to his liking.

In conclusion Mr. McCallum emphasized the needs of courtesy, of a singleness of purpose in life, and of unswerving fidelity to that purpose. He pointed out that some men are just as much called to trades and professions as are others to preach the Gospel. Christ dignified labour—He was a carpenter.

A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Louis Johnston, seconded by Arthur Upton and enthusiastically demonstrated by the boys.

Refreshments were then served, after which the club was photographed.

A GOOD SALE OF DEBENTURES.

Those in Connection With the Water Works Deal Sold Well.

CAPITALISTS WANT SYSTEM.

A Company Offers to Purchase at an Advance of $45,000 Over the Price Paid by the Town.

Tenders for the purchase of the Waterworks debentures were considered by the Finance Committee last night, and at a special meeting of the Town Council this morning it was decided to sell to the highest bidder. The report of the Committee was received as follows:

Peterborough, March 29th, 1902.
To the Council of the Town of Peterborough;

Gentlemen,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report as follows;—

1. In accordance with the instructions given we advertised for offers for the $330,000 of Water Works debentures and received the following offers;—

Hanson Bros., Montreal, $97.03 for each $100 ($323,189.)

G. A. Stimson & Company, Toronto, $220,500.

W. G. Brent & Co., Toronto, $220,106.

A. E. Ames & Co., Toronto, $219,731.

Dominion Securities Corporation, Toronto, $217,416.

Jose Parker & Co., Boston, $93.65 — $215,395.

These offers all add accrued interest up to the time of delivery.

We recommend that the offer of Hanson Bros., which is the best offer received, be accepted, and that this Committee be authorized to carry out the sale.

2. We recommend the payment of $35 a hydrant per year to the Peterborough Water Commissioners, to be paid quarterly, in the same manner as payment for hydrants was made to the Peterborough Water Company.

3. We recommend that the expenses of the Mayor and Chairman of Manufacturers' Committee to Toronto, respecting manufacturing interests, be confirmed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

G. M. ROGER,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Ald. Best in commenting on the adoption of the report, thought that careful consideration should be given the matter before a sale was made. He was authorized on behalf of responsible capitalists, to offer the town an advance of $45,000 on their bargain with the Water Company for the purchase of the system, provided they were given a 15-year franchise. While this offer would hardly be accepted by the council, still the publication of the fact that such an offer had been made might tend to make the debentures sell for a higher price.

As the security was considered "gilt edge" anyway, it was decided that the offer would not affect the sale of the debentures to any degree, and the Town Clerk telegraphed the acceptance of Hanson Bros.' offer.

Ald. Best stated further that the gentlemen on whose behalf he had spoken in reference to the purchase of the works, had been interested in the old Water Company. He thought this offer should convince everyone that a purchase most advantageto the town had been made.

The Treasurer was authorized to issue a cheque in payment of certain costs incurred in connection with the suit against the G.T.R. in reference to the maintenance of the Smith street bridge.

The council then adjourned.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Jennie Scott and Mr. John T. Stewart.

"Riverview," the residence of Mr. Samuel Scott, Asphodel, was the scene of a very interesting event on Wednesday, March 19th, when his third daughter, Jennie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. John T. Stewart of Bowbells, N. Dakota.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. N. Taylor of Norwood, in the presence of about one hundred and twenty-five guests, including several from Campbellford, Peterborough, Harwood, Hastings, and Toronto, as well as those from the surrounding country.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Eliza, the groom being supported by his cousin, Mr. W. J. Stewart, of Hastings. The bride who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of cream cashmere with trimmings of silk applique sequins, chiffon, and cream satin ribbon and wore the conventional veil caught up by a wreath of lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid was dressed in white organdie trimmed with lace insertion and ribbon. The entire wedding party entered the parlour to the strains of a wedding march, played by Miss Minnie Linton.

Congratulations being over, immediately after the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of, the remainder of the evening being enjoyably spent in games and other amusements. The bride was the recipient of many useful and costly gifts, including a gold watch and chain, the gift of the groom.

The happy couple left the evening following amidst showers of rice and good wishes poured upon them by a host of friends who assembled at the station to bid them God speed. The bride wore a dress of stone grey cheviot with hat to match. They will visit Toronto, Chicago, Minneapolis and other cities, before going to their far away home in North Dakota.

NO DAMAGES AWARDED.

The Judgment in Derocher vs. Cox Case.

A Miner Gets $800 for the Loss of Both Hands at Cordova Mines.

At the assizes on Thursday, before the Hon. Mr. Justice Lount, the case of Derocher vs. Cox, was concluded, and resulted in a verdict in favour of the defendant.

This accident arose out of an accident that befel little Johnny Derocher who was killed by a log rolling on top of him near the Dickson mills on the 18th day of November last. The parents of the child, Israel and Mary Derocher claimed that John Cox, the defendant in the action, requested invited, permitted and directed the deceased to place himself in a dangerous position on the said piece of timber to assist the defendant in such unloading, and that through the wrongful, careless, negligent and reckless manner of the defendant in so unloading the said timber, it fell upon the said John Derocher, causing injuries which resulted in his death. They claimed $2,000 and the costs of the action.

The defendant Cox held that he was not liable for accident and that the action was caused by the negligence of the child or its parents.

The chief witnesses in the case were the father, mother, and two brothers of the deceased boy, and several playmates who were with him at the time the accident occurred.

His Lordship's charge was favourable to the plaintiffs, but the jury evidently saw matters in a different light, and awarded the plaintiffs no damages whatever. It is said that the defendant some time ago offered to settle the matter for $150.

D. O'Connell and F. D. Kerr, for the plaintiffs; D. W. Dumble for defendant.

At the conclusion of the Derocher case, the action of Forbes vs. the Cordova Exploration Co. was taken up.

The plaintiff, an infant, under the age of 21 years, through his next friend, George Boarer, sued the Cordova Exploration Co., for such damages as the court saw meet for the loss of both of his hands, which he alledged were amputated as the result of injuries received through an explosion at the mine of the company, and through the carelessness of the company's officials.

The defendants denied that they or their superintendents were negligent, and that the accident to the plaintiff was caused through his own failure to comply with the rules of the company.

After several witnesses had been examined, the counsel for the plaintiff announced that a settlement had been reached. The defendant was given $300 by the company.

O'Connell & Kerr, for plaintiff; G. J. Sherry, Norwood, for defendants.

VISITED LINDSAY.

100 Oddfellows Paid the Scugog Town a Visit on Thursday Night.

Peterborough Oddfellows invaded Lindsay in large numbers on Thursday night. About 100 of the local brethren went up to the Scugog Town leaving here per special train about 7 o'clock. The Lindsay Oddfellows know how to entertain, and the reception they gave their visitors from Peterborough and other places will be long remembered.

The degree team of Otonabee Lodge conferred the 1st degree upon several candidates, and the degree team of Peterborough Lodge put on the 3rd degree. At the conclusion of the conferring of the degrees the entire assemblage sat down to an excellent spread. The delicious supper that was served was such as to reflect credit upon the Lindsay Oddfellows and to class them as entertainers of the front rank. An impromtu concert that was put on at the close of the banquet, and which was given exclusively by Peterborough talent, was highly appreciated by the Lindsay people. Mr. J. Halpany and Bert Scott rendered humourous selections whilst the Peterborough Lodge orchestra, consisting of Mr. Staples, sr., on the violin, Mr. Staples, jr., on the piano and Mr. Beech on the kettle drum surprised a good many. Mr. Beech by special request gave a drum solo—an imitation of a train approaching a station—that brought forth much applause.

The Peterborough Oddfellows cannot speak too highly of the treatment accorded them by the Lindsay members of the Order.

BRIDGE SUPPORT GAVE WAY.

Thomas Fox Killed in a Strange Manner at Toronto.

Fost Fractured His Skull—Was Thrown Twenty Feet at the Don Valley Brick Co's Yards Yesterday.

(Toronto World.)

Thomas Fox, a labourer, was instantly killed Friday afternoon, while at work in the Don Valley Brick Co's yards at Todmorden. Deceased was 25 years of age, and lived at 13 Sword street, in this city. He came to Toronto several years ago from Peterborough, where his father now resides.

The accident occurred about three o'clock. Fox was engaged in the quarry, when a very heavy post, one of several supports for a tramway bridge, over which sand is hauled, gave way and struck him on the back of the head, fracturing his skull, and knocking him a distance of twenty feet to the ground below. Fellow-employees hurried to his assistance, but life was extinct. The remains were brought into the city, and conveyed to the undertaking rooms of Millard, Yonge street.

Coroner Arthur Jukes Johnson issued a warrant for an inquest, to be held on Monday at three p.m., but it will likely be withdrawn.

The father of the unfortunate young man is expected to arrive in the city from Peterborough this morning to claim the remains. Deceased formerly boarded with Thos. Bennett, on Ellerbeck street, Doncaster.

The deceased was the son of Mr. Henry Fox, who resides on the Norwood Road, a short distance out of Ashburnham. The remains are expected to arrive in Peterborough on the C.P.R. local this evening.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.

The members of L.O.L. No. 80, at a recent meeting passed the following resolution of condolence:

To the Family of our Late Brother, Thomas Brown.

Dear Friends,—We, the undersigned, on behalf of L.O.L. No. 80, Peterborough, do hereby express our heartfelt sympathy with you in the sad loss you have recently sustained in the death of your beloved father.

The loss of a loved one is always hard to bear, but we should remember that what the Great Father of all light doeth is well done, and we recommend you to Him who only is able to fill the vacancy made by His pleasure.

We always found Brother Brown true to the principles of our Order, courteous not only to us, but to everyone, and an efficient officer in the many positions he has held at various times in the Society. During his long term of membership, extending over a period of sixty-five years, he was faithful and active in his allegiance to the cause which he loved to the last.

We hope and trust that the Mighty Hand that has stricken him down will in His goodness and mercy, be ever bountiful to you, and in all your deliberations and travels may the great Grand Master of the Universe, the Great Star, be ever your comforter and guide, so that when our meetings end here you may have a happy meeting with those gone before where there are no tears, and where sorrow never enters.

To the Electors of the Electoral District of West Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—

Having received the unanimous nomination of a mass meeting of Liberals and supporters of the Ross Government of West Peterborough, I hereby respectfully solicit your votes and influence in support of my return as a representative of West Peterborough and a member of the Ontario Government. In appealing to you on personal representative grounds I would remind you that I have had the honour of representing this, one of the most important constituencies of the Province for the past sixteen years. During that time the electors have had ample opportunity of observing the manner in which I have discharged my duty towards my constituents. I have endeavoured, as faithfully as was in my power, to look after every interest of every part of the riding — to be fair and impartial in my representative relations to the electors, irrespective of considerations of nationality, creed or political affiliation. I have regarded every elector as having equal claims to my services as their representative. If, in the judgment of the people I have succeeded in an earnest and honest endeavour to promote the material and general welfare of West Peterborough; if the confidence which has been shown in me on so many occasions, has been justified by my course, then I feel that I can, without incurring a charge of undue assurance, appeal for a renewal of that confidence, coupled with the promise that I shall continue in future, to use in advancing the interests of West Peterborough, and, perhaps, more successfully from the larger opportunities circumstances have afforded me.

All My Ability and Influence

Since I last presented myself for your suffrages this riding has been honoured with representation in the Government of the Province; a deserved recognition, you will admit, of its importance, and of the long continued support it has given in the person of your humble representative. The fact of my being a member of the Government, does not, by any means, lessen my ability, nor decrease my opportunities, nor weaken my determination to give this riding effective service. The present gratifying industrial expansion in Peterborough is, it is to be hoped, only a forecast of future advancement in this direction. If, in a personal representative or official capacity, I can employ the opportunities I possess to the promotion of such or other interests, my services will, as they have heretofore, be cheerfully given.

But it is not on personal or representative grounds that my appeal to your support is chiefly based. I appeal as a supporter, and as a member of a good, live progressive Government, which has, during its term of office, maintained, if not bettered, the splendid administration the Province has received in the past.

The Financial Record.

In this connection some points of interest might be recalled or suggested, which go to strengthen the Government's claim to the continued confidence of the people. In the Fall of 1899, when Hon. G. W. Ross became Premier, and assumed the reins of government, he entered upon the work with a full and earnest sense of his responsibility; he outlined a bold, vigorous and aggressive policy of advance and development, affecting the older as well as the newer parts of the province. The financial administration and standing of the Province, while generally admitted to be, as in fact they were, exceptionally excellent, had been impugned in some quarters in certain respects. In November, 1899, just after his assumption of office, Mr. Ross took steps to settle the financial question beyond cavil. The Government appointed a Royal Commission, composed of gentlemen of eminence in financial circles, to make an exhaustive investigation. The Commission reported that the Government's "financial records are excellent," the book-keeping also excellent, and showing "in full detail as in an ordinary financial institutions, all the financial transactions of the Province." The report also showed, the figures being extended to Dec. 31st, 1899, a surplus at that date of assets over liabilities of $2,268,494.44, of which $836,195.59 was cash in bank. In order to show that the Ross Government has maintained the traditions of which distinguished its predecessors, it may be mentioned that not only has the surplus of assets been retained at substantially the same figure it was in 1899, but the cash balance to the credit of the Province has been strengthened every year since. On Dec. 31st, 1899 this cash balance was $836,195.39; Dec. 31st, 1900 it was advanced to $1,033.546, and on the 31st of December last year — that is practically at the present moment — the cash balance to the credit of the Province was $1,468,492.99, or an improvement of $622,297.60 in two years. And at the same time all the public services have been liberally and adequately financed. These excellent results of the government's financial management have enabled them to devote $1,000,000 to the improvement of the highways of the Province, and set aside a large sum—$225,000—to encourage the growth of sugar beets in Ontario. Not only, as the adduced instances show, has the Government's management of our finances been capable, but it has been clean—out of a total expenditure of nearly $113,000,000, there is, and there can be produced, no evidence of the crooked or wrongful expenditure of a single dollar. This, taken in conjunction with thrifty administration, constitutes a record of which any country can be proud; and places Ontario finances in the very forefront of all countries anywhere, for soundness and healthy condition.

Crown Lands Administration.

Cognate to the financial question is that of Crown Lands, so large a source of revenue and whose efficient management very largely contributes to our financial soundness. Our timber has been sold to excellent advantage by the Liberal Government of Ontario. Of over 20,000 square miles of Crown timber sold since 1841, 13,100, sold before Sir Oliver Mowat took charge of the affairs of the Province in 1872, realized an average of about $135 per square mile. The average price of the 5,153 square miles sold since 1873 was nearly twenty times as great — $1,324 per square mile — which, however, is much below the average of later sales. Not only has the policy been pursued of securing the best value and largest revenue, but steps have been taken to preserve and reproduce our forest wealth by a system of fire ranging to prevent fires which are considered as great a source of depletion (and less profitable) than the lumberman's axe. More important than this are the plans of the Government for preserving our timber supply. Nearly twenty years ago the Government began educating public opinion on the dangers of deforestration, and the necessity of protecting new timber growths. Practical steps consist in setting apart, as forest reserves, lands unsuitable for farming but capable of growing trees. There are three of these reserves set apart by the Ross Government, with an aggregate area of over a million and a half acres, not including Algonquin National Park, of over a million acres, and this policy will be continued in respect of other parts of New Ontario. Another provision in the interests of our timber is the law forbidding the export of Crown Lands timber in an unmanufactured condition, which has given a

New Impulse to the Saw Milling Industry, and called for the new expenditure in saw-milling properties of over a million dollars —$1,030,900—and the employment of over 2,000 hands most of the year. In March, 1900, the Ross Government provided by legislation that no pulp wood should be exported in an unmanufactured condition, a provision which will result in giving Canadian labour and capital profitable employment. The magnitude of the possibilities of our pulp wood industry places it second only in importance to our pine timber industries. According to the report of the exploring parties sent out by the Ross Government, there are north of the C.P.R. in New Ontario, 288 million cords of pulpwood, at the present price fixed by Government, 40 cents a cord, representing a revenue of $115,000,000—more than the total expenditure of the Province since Confederation, and nearly four times the revenue received from Crown timber, etc., for the same period. Therefore with the care taken by the Government to preserve our pine and pulpwood, and husband our forest resources, they promise to be a long continued source of revenue, especially as pulpwoods reproduce themselves from the seed in from 20 to 30 years.

Care of Agricultural Interests.

The importance of the agricultural interests of Ontario, which employ nearly 1000 millions of capital, and have an annual product of nearly 160 millions of dollars, is fully recognized by the Ross Government, which is carrying out with renewed vigour the policy of the past. The farmer is deserving of a liberal expenditure to promote his interests, and with a comparatively moderate expenditure much has been accomplished. The improvement in advanced farming methods caused by the diffusion of special knowledge, through the Agricultural College and Experimental Farms with the co-operation of Farmers' Institutes, the Dairy Schools and the Travelling Dairy, have placed the farmers of this province at the head of their class on this continent. This was shown especially at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, where Ontario, with its population of two and a half millions, competed with a population of seventy-five millions of the United States, and won great triumphs, taking over a third more prize money in cattle than the whole of the United States, being far ahead of that country in sheep and swine, nearly equal in the matter of prizes in horses and poultry, and in sweepstakes, medals for cattle, horses, sheep and swine, the 2 1-2 millions of Ontario won 19 and the seventy-five millions of the United States only nineteen. The only medals awarded to cheese went to Ontario and in butter we took second place. In all other departments and the splendid success of Ontario in competition (the true test of excellence) shows that the enterprising and intelligent farmers of the Province are quick to take advantage of the opportunities for advancement in their calling which the varied educational facilities presented by the Government afford. The Government has always taken a practical and intelligent interest in our greatest industry, shown, not only by the numerous educational aids provided, but by specific legislation in the farming interest. During the past 15 years—since 1888—there have been placed on the statute book in the interest of every branch of the farming industry no fewer than 45 distinct enactments, of which eight have been passed since the Ross Government came into power. These latter do not include the act devoting a million to good roads, something which is in the special interests of the farmer, as has been recognized by the county council of this county, which has endorsed the principle and taken steps to avail itself of the liberal provisions made. Good roads are so self-evidently in the interests of the farmer — promoting his ease of access to, and return from, market, facilitating intercourse with other sections of his community, saving time, and practically shortening distance, and lessening wear and tear of vehicles and animals, that even so large an expenditure is amply justified and advantageous to the most numerous and important class in the community.

This Province More Than Held its Own

Philanthropic Public Institutions.

The philanthropic side of administrative function receives large attention from the Government. The Department of the Provincial Secretary with the charge of which I am honoured, exercises control over the public institutions, asylums, the License Department, registration of births, etc., the Board of Health, etc. To give some idea of the magnitude of the task, with its necessary multiplicity of detail, it may be mentioned that the Provincial Secretary has charge of seven asylums, with their six thousand population; of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and the Institution for the Blind, of the Central Prison, with its industries, of the Mercer Reformatory, and the Girls' Refuge, and the Asylum for the Idiotic at Orillia, with their inmates; in these and the other institutions throughout the Province, receiving Provincial aid, such as hospitals, charities, gaols, etc., there is a population of about sixty thousand under his direct or indirect official custody and supervision. Since Confederation there has been expended by the Province in the erection and equipment of asylums for the insane and feeble-minded about $8,000,000, and the patients under treatment have increased from 1717 in 1872 to 5949 in 1901. These inmates are treated and maintained in the municipalities from which they came, in the best possible manner, well housed, well clothed, well fed, and with delicacies, if the condition of health so demands. Yet such is the economy and business methods practised, such the attention to every detail, that the cost is less per head than the average of any English, Colonial or Provincial Institutions of a similar character. The per capita tax in all these institutions outside Ontario is an average of $176.85 per head, while the average per capita cost of maintenance in the institutions of this province since the present Government came into office in 1899, is $122.82, a difference of $54.03. The average daily number of patients in Ontario asylums for the years 1898 to 1901, was 5,114. A saving of $54.03 on each represents an annual saving of $276,309.42—saved by economical and careful management. The same holds with regard to the charitable institutions for the deaf and dumb, blind, etc. The average cost per pupil in seven United States deaf and dumb institutions is $316, while the average in Ontario is $274. In 26 United States institutions for the blind, the average cost is $280, while the cost per head in the Ontario Institution is $184.

To the Relief of Local Taxation

Promotion of the Public Health.

The Provincial Board of Health, also under the charge of the Provincial Secretary, performs an important work in connection with the local Boards of Health throughout the Province — the special object of the Provincial Board being to disseminate information to prevent the spread of infectious and contagious diseases, and it has done most satisfactory work in this regard. The Board was established in 1882. In 1883 the general death rate was 10.9 per thousand; in 1901 the general death rate had grown to 12.7 per thousand. In 1883, when the Provincial Board of Health began its work, the deaths from contagious or infectious, that is, preventable diseases was 17 per cent. of the total deaths; in 1901 the percentage of deaths from preventable diseases had dropped to 6 1-2 per cent. of the total deaths. This represents an absolute saving of 1,858 lives from preventable deaths, a decrease of over fifty per cent., though the death rate from general causes had increased 35 per cent. This gratifying result comes directly from the work and efforts of the Health Department of the Government. Neglected and dependent children are also in charge of the Government—a work of rescue of great value. Since, 1893, 2,000 children have been rescued from cruel treatment and vicious training, and settled in comfortable foster homes to grow up useful citizens instead of criminals.

Effective License Administration.

The License Department is also under the charge of the Provincial Secretary. The excellent legislation passed in regard to the liquor traffic and its good administration has been of the most salutary effect in decreasing intemperance and crime, as well as the number of places where strong drink can be sold. The first effect was the steady decrease in the number of licenses issued. In 1874-5, the year before the Crooks Act was passed, the number of liquor licenses of all kinds was 6,185. There was a steady lessening of the number till, in 1899-'00, it had dropped to 2,950. In the 756 municipalities of the Province there are 141 where no licenses at all are issued; 435, where one and not more than two licenses are granted, and 625 in which there is no shop license. Under the present Ontario License law the commitments for drunkenness have so decreased that, while in 1876 they were in the ratio of one to every 444 persons, they are now only one to every 836. Throughout the other Provinces of the Dominion commitments for drunkenness are on the average one to every 320 persons; while in Ontario they are one to every 836 of the population,

A Condition Fairly Attributable to the operation and administration of the License Law. The annual commitments for drunkenness in Ontario have decreased by 2391 in the past 13 years. Since the present Liquor License Act was passed in 1877 there have been 54 amending provisions, all tending to restriction of the traffic and, together with the administration, leading to a large decrease in the number of places where liquor can be sold, to the improvement of their character, to the great lessening of commitments for drunkenness and crime due to drink, to the decided advance of temperance sentiment and to the marked diminution of drinking habits, which have placed the Province of Ontario in the position of being the most sober, most law-observing and most moral community to be found anywhere.

The Liquor Act of 1902.

In the early part of the present year the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council decided in favour of the validity of the Manitoba Liquor Act a measure of partial prohibition, which, as the preamble states, prohibits only "provincial transactions in liquor." The decision of the Privy Council as to the competency of Provincial Legislatures to pass measures of partial prohibition has been acted upon in compliance with more or less specific requests on the part of those in sympathy with prohibition for liquor legislation similar to the Manitoba Act, and at the last session of the Ontario Legislature a Bill was passed entitled "The Liquor License Act of 1902," requiring the prohibition, of the liquor traffic so far as Provincial authority can go, the Act to come into force upon its approval by the people, whose will is to be ascertained by a vote to be taken throughout the Province on the 4th day of December next. The voting has been fixed at a time when the question "Are you in favour of bringing into force the Liquor Act of 1902?" will not be complicated with any political or municipal considerations which might interfere with a full, fair and unbiased expression of the people's opinion. If the majority of the votes cast are in favour of the Act going into force, and if the number of voters in favour of bringing the Act in force exceeds one-half of the number of electors who voted at the next preceding general election, the Lieutenant Governor shall issue his proclamation declaring the Act to be in force from and after the first day of May, 1904. The Act is thus referred to the people for their approval, and the friends of prohibition are called upon to see that the question is not made a foot-ball by either political party. The desire of the Government is to keep it free from party influences and it has therefore provided that the people shall exercise their will upon the question, apart entirely from considerations of a political or municipal character.

The Subject Important.

The subject is a big enough one—sufficiently important to the community—to be decided upon its merits, and should not require the help of accidental or incidental assistance. A clear and definite proposition is to be submitted to the electorate, uncomplicated, so far as the conditions of submission are concerned, with local or general politics, and if such questions are introduced from without the full blame will rest with those who desire to make political or party capital at the expense of a full and honest expression of public opinion on the important question of prohibition, a condition which the best thought upon the subject declares is essential to effective enforcement of a prohibitory enactment.

The Educational Record.

Perhaps the most important matter that can engage the attention of the Government or enlist the interest of the people, is that of education. The Education Department of Ontario has charge of the whole system of the Province, which in connection with its efficient administration, constitutes a provincial educational equipment unsurpassed by, if not superior to, that of any other state or country. While this department is under a responsible minister, some features are directly under control of the Legislature. The regulations of the Minister, prepared after consultation with inspectors and teachers, have to be approved by the Legislature before they can become operative. The Legislature has full control, therefore, of the machinery of our school system. In spite of the academic and sometimes puerile criticisms of our school system the opponents of the Government in the House have never proposed any amendment to any of the regulations presented for approval, showing, to that extent at least, that the regulations and administration of the department are wise and in the interests of the people. Continuous improvement has marked our educational system and administration in the direction of simplification. There are now only 18 departmental examinations required, whereas under Dr. Ryerson there were 27 such examinations. In 1885 each of four universities had examinations for matriculation for which a fee was charged; now a local examination at the close of the school term on a standard accepted by all the universities, suffices.

Providing for Technical Education.

Technical schools were provided for by an Act passed in 1897 making the provisions of the High Schools Act applicable to these institutions, and rendering it lawful for the municipal corporation of any city or town to appropriate such sums as might be deemed expedient for their establishment. The conditions upon which money is voted by the Legislature to High Schools were made applicable to all appropriations for Technical Schools. Further provisions in aid of Technical Education were enacted during the session just closed.

Conditions Simplified.

In 1875 there were 17 different grades of certificates for Public School teachers. Now there are only 3 non-professional grades, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd and district. The examination of teachers is conducted by a council of 12, six selected by the responsible minister and six by the universities. An amendment to the school law in 1900 constituted the Educational Council a consultative council who may be consulted by the Minister on whatever points their advice may be useful. Under the Government the question of text books has been so dealt with that now the authorized public school text books of the Province number only 13 and the total cost is only $5.77. That is assuming, as is the average, that it takes ten years to complete a public school course, it only requires an expenditure of 58 cents a year for school books, and perhaps less in families where an advancing member of the family may leave his books for another younger member. Figures obtained by the Education Department of the total number of school books issued by publishers the past three years show that on the basis of the average annual enrolment of pupils in the public schools for these years the annual average cost of school books to the pupils in the public schools of Ontario was 21 1-3 cents, especially when compared with the cost of inferior text books elsewhere. In seventeen States of the Union, and cities where free text books have been adopted, the average yearly cost per pupil is 98 8-10 cents. In the schools of Hamilton and Brantford, in Ontario, the cost is an average of 28 cents. As to the complaints sometimes made of the frequent changes in text books, there have been only two changes in our readers since our school system was organized, 55 years ago, and trustees can control changes to the extent of retaining as long as they like, any authorized text books. In 1883 there were 27 different books used in the schools in four subjects; now there is only one book for each subject authorized. One excellent feature insisted upon by the Government is to apply, in regard to our text books, the motto, "Canada for the Canadians." In 1883, out of 184 books used in the Public and High Schools, only 49 were written by Canadians, and 135 by British or American authors. In 1901 every book used in the Public and High Schools is the work of a Canadian author, except two, a Greek book for beginners and an Euclid, and every book is printed, bound and finished in Canada by Canadian workmen.

Certainly Not an Onerous Cost.

Law-Making and Administration.

The laws of Ontario, in their character, scope and enforcement are a credit to the Government of the Province of Ontario. The Attorney-General's Department exercises supervision over the administration of justice throughout the Province, and with the supervision of legislation in the course of enactment. How well the functions of this department are being, and have been, performed, is shown by the fact that no country has a more perfect code of laws, protecting all the interests of all classes of citizens, and in no country are laws better administered, for no country has a higher standard of morality, and in no country is found a people more law-abiding. Legislation has been kept well abreast of the times, since reforms are not being clamoured for by the people. The laws and court procedure have been greatly simplified, and the cost to suitors consequently greatly lessened. With a new constitution, the British North America Act, it was to be expected that there would be conflicts of jurisdiction and indefiniteness concerning provincial rights.

Provincial Rights.

This has given rise to disputes in these regards and the Liberal Government of Ontario has fought hard and successfully for the maintenance and acquirement of provincial rights, securing to the province many valuable rights, such as that of the province to estates which escheat to the Crown for want of heirs; the right of the Province to deal with liquor licenses, carrying with it an annual provincial revenue of over $300,000 a year; the right of the Province to the large portion of New Ontario consisting of 65 million of acres of land rich in agricultural areas, timber, mineral and other wealth, which the Conservative Government of the Dominion, assisted by the Conservative Opposition of this Province, tried for years to wrest from Ontario and to divide between Manitoba and Quebec. This attempt at spoliation would have succeeded had it not been for the stubborn resistance of the Liberal Government of the Province of Ontario. This territory, thus rescued, is the revenue producing part of this great Province. Some partial idea of its importance may be gathered from the fact that in various industries, directly assisted by the Government, and encouraged and stimulated by its policy, there have been expended within the past three or four years, in different parts of New Ontario, the enormous sum of fifteen million dollars, and most of this in preparing for actual productive operations. In its effort to promote electoral purity the Ross Government in 1900, the first year after assuming power, passed a stringent election law, imposing severe penalties for its infraction, and providing for the protection of witnesses, who but for such protection might be tempted in self-defence to withhold the truth.

Most Important and Valuable

Incorporation of New Companies.

The returns of the Registrar-General's Department, a department conjoined with the Provincial-Secretary's, show considerable activity in the incorporation of new companies, and also show a large increase of revenue. The year before the present Provincial Secretary took office, the revenue of the Provincial Secretary's Department amounted to only $28,520, and in 1901 the total revenue has grown to $87,534. This shows that the business of the people is carefully managed and improvements inaugurated by the application of good business methods.

Audit of Accounts.

In addition to placing upon the statute books the best code of municipal laws in the world, the Liberal Government has provided an important safeguard to municipalities in governmental supervision of municipal accounts. In the year 1897 the office of municipal auditor was created and in that year the losses by municipalities through defalcations of local treasurers and through imperfect methods of bookkeeping amounted to the sum of nearly $100,000; next year the losses had dropped to $11,000 and in 1899 to $4,000, but such has been the improvement of bookkeeping method adopted through the Provincial Municipal Auditor, there were no losses by municipalities in the years 1900 and 1901. In timely enactment of wise laws and in their effective enforcement the Ontario Government has earned, and still retains a claim to the confidence of the people of Ontario.

Public Works and Public Buildings.

The Commissioner of Public Works has to do with Public Buildings, and Public Works, Railways, Colonization Roads, the Bureau of Labour, Fisheries, etc. Under this Department there has been expended from January 1st, 1872 to December 31st, 1901, for public buildings, public works, roads, railways, etc., $25,536,549.49. In 1872 the number of public buildings and institutions in operation was 19; in 1901 there were 54, comprising in all 350 separate structures. Since 1872, with an expenditure of $3,338,743.28 there have been constructed 5,292 miles of new colonization roads; 1,546 miles have been repaired and 114,003 feet of bridges built. The good roads movement inaugurated by the Liberal Government has resulted in great improvements over the unsatisfactory statute labour methods—these improvements consisting of better drainage and grading of roads, enlarged use of road metal, and in one eighth of the Province the plans of the Government Road Commissioner, Mr. A. W. Campbell, have been adopted. The action of the Government in devoting a million dollars to assist in the establishment and construction of county road systems is one that must have a widespread and beneficial result.

Another Victory

of the Liberal Government for Provincial rights was the decision of the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council, that our fisheries, which had long been controlled by the Dominion Government and claimed by the latter, were the property of this Province. The importance of this is seen in the fact that though the fishery industry is only in its infancy, having only been under Ontario jurisdiction a couple of years, yet last year a capital of a million dollars was invested in commercial fisheries, employing over 2,000 persons, with a season's catch of a million and a half dollars, and a revenue to the Province of over $35,000. This is the purely commercial side. This district, with its numerous angling waters, will stand to reap great advantage individually, through the sums distributed by large number of visiting tourists representing a large summer population and furnishing a market for local produce which has no other convenient market outlet. With the Provincial possession of our fisheries, adequate protection and preservation of our fish, which divided and disputed jurisdiction has largely prevented in the past, will be, and is now being provided, our streams are being actively restocked, last season nearly 10,000 adult bass having been deposited at a score of different points in the Province, and this year as many, if not more, will be deposited in depleted waters.

Public Interests Guarded.

In spite of the accusation made against the Government, that it is the special friend of corporations, the railway legislation of the Government has been in the direction of larger control over railway corporations. This legislation has been directed by the Ross Government towards the avoidance of the evils of monopoly and the preservation of public rights without unnecessary impediment to private enterprise. The railway policy of the Ross Government is intimately connected with its development policy of New Ontario. Since 1896, there have been chartered twenty-five steam railway companies, all, with a few minor exceptions, in New Ontario, where they will open up fertile areas to settlement and develop mineral and other resources. During this time the Ontario Rainy River Railway has been completed from Port Arthur to Winnipeg, tapping here and there rich agricultural and mining areas, already stimulated to new life by the construction of this line. The subsidizing and construction of the Algoma Central and Manitoulin and North Shore Railways, will be of immense benefit in opening up stretches of country rich in minerals, timber and other resources, hitherto valueless. In 1900 the General Railway Act was passed, imposing upon railway companies valuable conditions. Among the conditions attached to all unearned subsidies are:—All labour shall be paid the current rate of wages and no citizen of a country having an alien labour law shall be employed. Subsidized lines are to be built of material made and purchased in Canada. All companies which received aid under the act of 1901 have the above conditions imposed and others added.

The Province Reserves the Right to take over any railway, the subsidy to count as part of the price; special rates to favoured shippers are unlawful, farm drainage must not be interfered with, road making material for settlers must be carried at cost and railway companies must come under the drainage laws. Labour, in addition to receiving current wages, must not be overcharged for board and clothing, wages can be collected as in the case of the law relating to public works, construction camps must be maintained in proper sanitary condition, and every possible condition is imposed to protect the labourer's interests. In the construction of a line to give railway communication to the Temiscaming district, now rapidly filling with settlers, the Government becomes the pioneer in Government construction and ownership of railways. This line is to be built out of the proceeds of Provincial lands adjoining the railway. The survey of this railway was begun in 1901 and about half the length, 106 miles, is surveyed and an easy route laid out. The general railway policy of the Government is not only in the public interest but in that of the development of the great resources of our new territory, which in the process must secure advantages for older Ontario, whose commercial activities will be stimulated by the demand which development operations and settlement in the newer portion will create. The Ross Government is thoroughly alive to the value of our northern possession and is thoroughly committed in sentiment and practice to the most energetic measures of development the conditions demand. I am completely in sympathy with this feature as well as all the other features of the Government's policy, the town of Peterborough having been specially benefitted in the demand for machinery, resulting from these development operations which two of our large establishments have supplied. Thus operating throughout the Province, the development policy of the Government while creating new wealth in the newer portions, will confer important advantages on older Ontario.

Laws in the Interests of Labour.

There is no interest which has received more full and earnest consideration at the hands of the Liberal Government than that of the wage earner. The history of labour legislation coincides with that of the Liberal administration, for previous to the advent of the Liberal party nothing had been done to protect the labourer from the many forms of injustice to which the greed of employers rendered him liable; nothing had been done to safeguard him from accident arising from dangerous surroundings, or to provide against un-

If You Need Help

Let Me Know It.

Tell Me of Some Sick One, and Let Me Send My Book.

NO MONEY IS WANTED.

If you are not well, please tell me the trouble—tell me which book you need.

That is all I ask—just a postal card, with the name of some one who needs help.

I have spent a lifetime in learning how to cure these troubles. Year after year I have perfected the treatment until it is almost sure. I want you to know about it.

You may take the treatment at my risk, if you will. You will not have a penny to pay if it fails.

With the book, I will send an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I will authorize your druggist to let you take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself.

I will leave the decision to you.

Don't think that this is impossible, for I do just as I say. I have done it in over half a million cases already.

It is true that I cannot always succeed. Sometimes a cause, like cancer, makes a cure impossible. But those cases are rare, and I am willing to take the risk.

It is also true that not all people are honest. But the cost is only $5.50, and experience has proved that very few of the cured will avoid it.

My records for five years show that 39 out of each 40 who accept those six bottles pay, and pay gladly. I am satisfied with that.

Please note what that record means.

They are all difficult cases where six bottles are taken. In simple cases, the patient gets a bottle or two from his druggist. Yet 39 in each 40 of those difficult conditions are cured.

That is a remarkable record, which has never been approached in the history of medicine. There is no other remedy which any physician would dare to offer on such a plan as mine.

There are 39 chances in 40 that I can cure you, no matter how severe your case, no matter what else has failed.

My success comes from knowing how to strengthen the inside nerves.

Every vital organ in the body gets its power from these nerves. When some organ grows weak, and fails in its duty, its nerve power is weak. It is just like an engine that needs more steam.

My Restorative brings back that nerve power. It removes the cause of the trouble. And most of the conditions I treat can never be cured in any other way. Some of you know this already.

My book will make the matter clear.

If you are sick, or a friend is sick, please don't fail to write me.

You have everything to gain and nothing to lose by it. Your future is at stake. If I take the risk won't you take the remedy? Won't you at least write for my book?

Simply state which book you want, and address to Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

sanitary conditions. With these and similar objects in view a large amount of legislation has been placed upon the statute book by the Liberals. The wishes of labour have been deferred to and the best features of advanced laws in other countries have been taken advantage of in framing legislation in the interest of the working classes of Ontario. Labour laws have been amended and improved from time to time as experience suggested; and now, it is safe to assert, there is no country where the wage earners—especially the class who most require protection—the women and children—are more thoroughly shielded so far as laws can afford protection, against the consequences of injustice, negligence or want of consideration of employers than in the Province of Ontario.

In 1873 the Mechanics Lien Act was passed in order to prevent what was at that time a frequent hardship—the defrauding of wage earners and sub-contractors employed in the erection of buildings or the construction of machinery—by giving them a lien on the property. The scope of the Act has subsequently been greatly enlarged and its working perfected by amendments passed in 1893 and 1896. An important provision of the later Act obliged the owner of the property to retain from the contractor from 15 to 20 per cent. of the money due the latter for 30 days after the completion of the work, to satisfy liens under the Act. A special preference was given for 30 days wages to the mechanic or labourer and all devices adopted to defeat the priority of the wage-earners' claims were declared null and void. The efficiency of the Act in its present shape has been thoroughly demonstrated.

The principle of Employers' Liability for accidents caused by defective machinery, negligence of fellow employees in positions of authority, or the operation of regulations was established in 1886. The Act then passed specified the defects which rendered a railroad company liable under its provisions, fixing the maximum amount of compensation at 3 years' earnings. Agreements to avoid this liability are not allowed, except for some adequate consideration other than that of being taken into employment. Several amendments have been made to the Act, one of the most important having been passed in 1889, extending the liability to the employer for whom the work was done, as well as to the contractor. An Act passed in 1899 threw the onus of proof, as to the compliance with the Statutes, as to keeping machinery, etc., in a specified condition, upon the party whose duty it was to do so.

In 1884 the Ontario Factories Act was adopted, and it came into force in 1886. This Act contains a large number of provisions relative to the health, comfort and safety of factory employees. It prohibits the employment of children, young girls and women in such a way that their health is likely to be permanently injured. No boy under 12, and no girl under 14, is permitted to be employed in the case of high buildings. The Act gives the Inspector ample power for the efficient discharge of his duties, and provides a simple means ed, and children under 14, and women, are forbidden to be employed more than ten hours per day, or 60 per week. Factories are to be kept in proper sanitary condition, machinery and other sources of danger, properly guarded and each factory supplied with the means of extinof enforcing its provisions. Additional stringent provisions for the protection of young persons were passed in 1889, and the definition of a factory was extended so as to include establishments where more than five persons were employed. More rigid enactments as to fire escapes and the prevention of accidents were added in 1895. In 1901 the Act was further amended by making the owner of a factory who failed to provide the equipment or conveniences required two months after receiving notice from the Inspector, liable to a fine of $500. The same penalty was provided in case the owner of a factory over two stories in height, or over one, where it was deemed necessary, failed to provide fire escapes. It was also provided that the owner of a factory should not begin operations without a certificate from the Inspector and a permit to operate.

An analagous measure in respect to shops was passed in 1888. It ordered that seats be provided for female employees and restricted the hours of labour for young persons. This Act was greatly extended in its scope by the legislation of 1897 which consolidated several measures passed in the interval for protection of persons employed in other places than factories. It limited the hours during which any child, young girl or woman might be employed to those between seven a.m. and six p.m., except on Saturdays and days preceding a holiday and included stringent provisions as to ventilation, sanitary conditions and fire escapes. An amendment passed in 1900 considerably increases the powers of the inspector and prohibits the sale of clothing made in any dwelling or tenement without a permit from him stating that the place was in a good sanitary condition. If the inspector finds unhealthy conditions or infectious disease he must report to the Board of Health who may order the destruction of the clothing. In 1901 an amendment to the Act made the owner liable to a fine of $500 for a failure to provide sanitary conveniences after two months' notice. Special legislation with regard to bake shops passed in 1896 and amended in 1897, and 1901, enforces cleanliness and healthy surroundings and provides that no employees shall be required to work on Sunday, nor more than 12 hours out of the 24, nor more than 60 hours in any week.

The Railway Accidents Act passed in 1891 was the outcome of an investigation by a special committee as to the causes of loss of life from railway accidents. It specified a number of improvements which the railway companies were required to make in bridges, tracks and freight cars, and provides that in case of accidents caused by their failure to do so, the employees shall be placed in as good a position with respect to the right of compensation as though they were not in the company's service.

In 1873 acts were passed to facilitate agreements between employees and workmen for participation in profits, and to facilitate the adjustment of industrial disputes. The principle embodied in the latter was extended in 1894 by the passage of the Act respecting Councils of Conciliation and Arbitration for settling industrial disputes embracing many provisions which have been found to work advantageously in the United States and elsewhere.

The collection of wages has been greatly facilitated by several acts giving additional powers to Police Magistrates and Justices of the Peace to enforce payment by summary process. A measure passed in 1885 provided that in case of an assignment by a debtor for the benefit of creditors, the persons in his employment shall be paid three months wages in full and be entitled to rank as general creditors for the balance due them. The same principle was made applicable to the assets of a joint stock company in process of liquidation, to the estates of deceased persons, and to the cases of persons in the employment of a debtor whose property has been seized by the sheriff. In 1899 an amendment was passed making such wages payable by the assignee or other person charged with winding up an estate one month from the time the estate was placed in his hands. By a statute passed in 1874, wages to the amount of $25 are exempt from seizure, attachment or garnishment for debt. In 1891 the Woodmen's Lien Act extended the principle of the Mechanics' Lien to those engaged in the lumbering business. The scope of this measure was considerably widened by later amendments. The payment of wages to workmen employed on public works is secured by a measure enacted in 1896 making moneys in the hands of the Government, due to defaulting contractors, available to meet such claims and providing that the Government may require a monthly statement from contractors showing the amount of unpaid wages. In the case of companies aided by bonus, the Government is authorized to detain a portion of the amount to secure claims for wages.

With a view to the protection of the Ontario workingmen from unfair competition with foreigners, brought in under agreements to labour, the Legislature in 1886 provided that such agreements should be void and of no effect as against the imported labourers. This legislation tends to discourage the practice of advancing money to foreign workmen to pay their passage here, for if the contract is broken, the employer cannot recover anything. In 1898 the bonuses granted to railways were made subject to the condition that no person shall be employed in their construction who is the subject of any country which has an alien law excluding Canadians from employment on public works. The same clause is embodied in the railway subsidy enactments of the following year, and in 1900 it was enacted as a general law relating to all railway companies receiving subsidies either in money or land. Any company employing such foreigners is made liable to a fine of $20 per day for each person so employed. This act also provides that subsidized railway companies must pay current wages to those employed in construction and that on the breach of this condition such amounts may be deducted from the subsidies earned by them as the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may think proper.

With the expansion of the mining industry, the necessity arose for strict regulations to prevent the accidents which frequently occur in this hazardous occupation, from defective machinery or the neglect of due precautions. The Mines Act of 1892, amended in 1896 and 1900, made elaborate provisions to ensure ventilation, proper care in the use of and storage of explosives, ample protection from machinery, safety in the raising and lowering of workmen, and all other due and necessary precautions to minimize the dangers of the industry. The employment of females is prohibited, and that of boys restricted as to hours. The law is very comprehensive in its scope.

An Act adopted in 1892 admitted trade unions having an insurance or benefit fund to incorporation and registration as friendly societies. The facilities for the organization of Co-operative Association were increased by ameliorative legislation in 1880, which authorized such associations to incur debts for the purchase of business premises, and increased the maximum value of the shares that might be held by one member from $400 to $1,000. To enable workingmen to poll their votes without loss or reduction of wages, the Legislature in 1886 enacted a law that any voter shall be entitled to absent himself from any service for two hours between twelve and two in the middle of the day.

The system of the immigration of children was regulated by an Act passed in 1897 providing that no child shall be brought into the Province from abroad by any other person than the parent without a certificate that it has not been convicted of crime, or displayed vicious or criminal tendencies. Penalties are provided for the importation of diseased, defective or criminal children.

In 1900, a most important step was taken in the establishment of the Bureau of Labour for the purpose of collecting, systematizing and publishing information relating to employment, wages and labour, industrial disputes, trade unions and in fact anything having a bearing upon the commercial, industrial and sanitary conditions of the working people and the prosperity of the industries of the Province. Full and accurate information is the first requisite for judicious and effective legislative action. The usefulness of the Labour Bureau is recognized in those states and countries where it has been for some time part of the administrative mechanism, and the operations of the Bureau will place within our reach a mass of statistics which will be of great value in dealing with labour problems.

Not the least important of recent enactments for ameliorating the condition of labour is the Act adopted in 1901 respecting sanitary regulation in unorganized Territories, in which power is given to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to make regulations for the cleansing, regulating and inspection of lumber, mining and railway construction camps, and providing for the employment of medical practitioners and the erection of hospitals in connection with the camps.

The Government have been guided in their administrative policy by the same enlightened principles which have dictated their legislation on labour questions. Where mechanics and workmen are employed under the immediate direction of the Public Works Department at Toronto, they have introduced the nine, and in some cases, the eight, hour day. And in letting contracts for printing and binding the books to be used by municipalities and school boards under the "Municipal Audit Act," contractors are required to perform all work in Ontario and to pay the highest, or union wages, to all engaged in the work.

I am giving only a mere outline of the volume of progressive enactments dealing with almost every phase of the labour question, which have been passed by the Liberal party. It is a record they have every reason to be proud of, because such legislation, safe-guarding the rights and the interest of the masses of the people, protecting those who by their position are less able to protect themselves than the financially independent, is in harmony and accord with the best traditions of Liberalism. The workingmen may rest assured that the manner in which the Liberal Government has acceded to the just and reasonable claims of labour in the past is the best guarantee for further and more advanced legislation along the same lines in the future.

General Policy and Practice.

The policy and practice of the Liberal Government have been to assist the people by expenditures which lessen the amount of local taxation annually imposed; that is, to return the money of the people to the people. In this way large sums of money have been returned to the people. A very great proportion of the annual expenditure has been thus devoted to giving the people important advantages and lessening taxation. Had the Government pursued a different course in this respect and left the people to tax themselves or go without the advantages represented by provincial expenditures, our credit balances would have been so increased that with the economical management which has prevailed, we should have had an unwieldy and, in one sense, useless surplus, while the people would have had to tax themselves for the various services which have been provided for by the 80 or 90 millions of dollars that have been returned to them during the past thirty years. The amount which has thus been returned to and received by the County of Peterborough in that time is $547,281.42. In every way possible, the Liberal administration of Ontario has legislated and administered in the interests of the people; their constant aim is to add to their past achievements by vigorously prosecuting a policy of developing the immense resources of this great province, of expanding provincial industries of every character and of helping the promotion of all the interests of all sections of Ontario.

In appealing to the electors as a member of a Government with such a splendid record and so progressive a policy, I do so with confidence that my views will receive the sanction and the approval of an intelligent electorate. It is unnecessary for me to make any specific promises. I have been your representative for sixteen years, and the nature and extent of the services I have rendered should either condemn or commend my candidature. I have endeavoured in the past to promote to the utmost of my power, the best interests of all classes of the community and all sections of the riding, and should I be again honoured with the confidence of the electors, my aim shall continue to be to show them in the most practical way possible that their confidence has not been misplaced.

I have the honour to remain, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

J. R. STRATTON

$48,000 FOR THE POPE.

Cabled From New York to Rome as Part of Year's Offering.

New York, March 29.—Although the regular annual Peter's Pence collections have not been taken up yet in the Archdiocese of New York, the sum of $48,000 has been already forwarded from here to Rome for the support of the Pope. This money was obtained by levying assessments on each parish in accordance with its financial standing and was cabled directly to Cardinal Rampolla, Papal Secretary of State, on the day of the recent pontifical mass of thanksgiving for the Holy Father in St. Patrick's Cathedral, which was attended by all the bishops of the province. The acknowledgement of the receipt of the money was sent, it is said, by Bishop Farley, who is now in Rome.

Special effort is being made this year all over the world to establish a record in the amount of Peter's Pence offerings. It is thought that the total of the offerings from the New York Archdiocese will reach $100,000. The fee is one of the richest in the world and is said to contain about 1,000,000 Catholics, many of whom possess great wealth.

The total of the Peter's Pence from all nations last year was $450,000. This country alone will probably contribute this year as much as all the world combined gave in 1901.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

HAS THE APPROVAL AND INDORSATION OF THE BEST PEOPLE AS A LIFE GIVER.

No Other Spring Medicine can Give Such Cheering and Happy Results to Sick and Diseased People.

As spring ushers in, the physically weak, sick and diseased, realize that their condition is one of extreme danger. It is a well known fact that while the trees bud and dress anew, thousands of men and women are cut off by the common diseases of life. This fact should arouse the attention of the ailing and sick to the folly of underestimating and neglecting the ills that make life miserable at this season.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound at this season will save many a precious life. The great compound equalizes and calms all the nervous tissues and induces the body to take on firm and solid flesh. It purifies the blood as is plainly shown by the rapid clearing of the skin of all evidences of humors within; it regulates the organs of digestion; it gives natural sleep and quiet rest.

All our best physicians recognize Paine's Celery Compound as the one scientific spring remedy, and it is universally prescribed by them wherever there is need of a vigorous and prompt restoring to health and strength. The use of one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound will bring the happiest results to all weak, broken-down and despondent sufferers, and will quickly banish the fears of doubters and unbelievers. Paine's Celery Compound has the approval and indorsation of clergymen, professional men generally, judges, members of parliament, merchants and the best people. Test its virtues, dear sufferer; it cannot disappoint you.

Fertile Egypt.

The fertility of Egyptian soil is illustrated by the fact that every one of 10,500 square miles can support 928 persons, whereas even in densely populated Belgium there are only 580 to the square mile.

Nervous Dyspepsia

Can Never be Cured by More Temporary Aids to Digestion--The Nerves Must be Restored and Filled With Vitalizing Nerve Force.

You know that certain drugs, such as pepsin and bismuth, bring about artificial digestion, and if you have dyspepsia or indigestion it is possible that, like hosts of others, you have taken these into the stomach, hoping that they will take the place of gastric juice and other digestive fluids, digest the food and by resting the stomach effect a cure.

Did you ever hear of a bodily organ being strengthened by inactivity? It is to the organ that is exercised that the new, rich blood is conveyed in order to restore the tissues wasted by the functions of that organ, and so the stomach that is given rest does not get stronger, but the gastric juice gradually ceases to flow, and you are finally compelled to resort to the continual use of artificial digestants.

If instead of these temporary aids you seek permanent cure you must treat the nerves, because it is the nerves that control the glands of the stomach, and only when the supply of nerve force is liberal is digestion rightly performed and the body properly nourished.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is no experiment, as you know if you have read the hundreds of testimonials that are appearing in the daily press. We recommend it for nervous dyspepsia and headache, because it has actually cured scores and hundreds of cases. Here is an interesting letter:

Mrs. R. H. Scott, 667 Queen street east, Toronto, states:—"For a long time I was a great sufferer from nervous dyspepsia, and as a consequence of the stomach trouble I was nervous and sometimes had severe headaches and dizzy spells. Since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I can say that my digestion is good, and as a result I have been entirely freed of the other troublesome symptoms. I think this an excellent treatment for nervous dyspepsia, as well as an invaluable system-builder."

This treatment will prove equally effective in your case, because it actually contains the most powerful restoratives known to the medical profession. It cures by building up the system, and instilling new vital nerve force into the wasted and depleted nerve cells. 50 cents a box; 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 10

RUSSIA AND CHINA AGREE.

Early Signing of Manchurian Convention Is Now Expected.

London, March 29.—The Pekin correspondent of The Times cables that Paul Lessar, the Russian Minister to China and Prince Ching, President of the Chinese Foreign Office, have agreed upon the main conditions of the Manchurian convention, and that the early signing of the agreement is expected.

The evacuation of three provinces is to be carried out in three successive periods of six months from the signing of the convention. Various vague conditions, such as "if the state of the country permits," are to be excluded from the agreement. It is stipulated that the convention be ratified within three months from the day it is signed.

The Times' correspondent says further that China is inclined to agree to Germany's demand for the extension of the railway from Tsinan Fu, in Shan Tung Province, across the Grand Canal at Te Chan to Ching Ting, on the Pekin-Hankow line.

There grow two plants known and used before Columbus discovered America. One is a specific for inflamed membranes and the other a certain cure for bronchitis. Combined with Tar, Tamarac, Tolu and other herbs they go to make up Four T's, the only positive cure known to-day for whooping cough and bronchitis. A 25c. bottle cures an ordinary cough in 24 hours. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

TO SOLVE A SEWAGE PROBLEM.

A Peterborough Scientist to be Associated With the Work.

At the last session of the Ontario Legislature an appropriation was made for the purpose of procuring an analysis of the sewage from certain manufacturing establishments in the town of Berlin and other places. This sewage, from the nature of the industries carried on is impregnated with noxious chemicals, which prevent the precipication of the sewerage by natural processes, and the object is, by analysis and investigation, to devise some means of neutralizing the injurious effects of the sewage in question when mixed with ordinary sewerage.

Since the session the Government has appointed a special chemist and bacteriologist to discover or devise means of bringing to an end and preventing the trouble that arises from the intermixture of manufacturing sewage with domestic sewage. Prof. Amyot, bacteriologist of the Provincial laboratory and Mr. Arthur Robinson, B.A., Sc., fellow in chemistry, at the School of Practical Science, have been appointed to conduct the investigation mentioned. Profes-or Amyot and Mr. Robinson will at once proceed to Berlin to enter upon their special work.

Mr. Robinson is a son of the late Isaac Robinson of this town, and a nephew of Mr. H. C. Winoh. He will be permanently connected with the Provincial Laboratory.

BAND CONCERT.

There was a Large Attendance at the Opera House Last Night.

The 57th Regimental Band gave two concerts yesterday. The matinee in the afternoon was only fairly well attended but the evening entertainment proved to be a great drawing card. The opera house was uncomfortably packed and the programme was thoroughly appreciated. The feature of yesterday's entertainments was the appearance of Mr. Will J. White, a comedian of high merit. He was liberal in his responses which were decidedly humourous, and he had his audience in roars of laughter throughout the afternoon and evening.

An interesting number was the saxaphone solo by Mr. Fred C. Miller who rendered "The Palms" in a very excellent manner for a novice at this sweet-toned instrument. The medley, "Popular Tennessee" in which a number of popular songs were introduced, drew forth solos from Mr. Cronk on the barritone, and Mr. Hughes on the cornet that were rendered in a delightful manner.

SHOT IN THE HAND.

An Accident Caused by the Premature Discharge of a Revolver.

A young son of Mr. Alva Wilson, Wescott street, met with an accident, of rather a serious nature yesterday, through the premature discharge of a revolver, with which he and a companion had been shooting at a mark. It appears that his companion was in the act of handing young Wilson the revolver, when it was accidentally discharged, the ball penetrating and passing through the palm of the left hand, inflicting a very painful wound. It is not anticipated that the accident will permanently impair the usefulness of the hand.

OBITUARY.

The Late Miss Josephine Hallahan.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock of the late Miss Josephine Hallahan, whose death occurred yesterday, at the early age of twenty-four years. The deeply regretted death is ascribed to a decline which was first apparent about five months ago. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. James Hallahan, formerly of Otonabee. Two sisters survive, Miss Maude, and Mrs. Frank LePlante, of Rochester, N.Y. Interment will take place in the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

AN EASTER DELICACY.

If you need a delicious appetizer after your Lenten fast you can find none better than Fearman's Hams and Breakfast Bacon—the best in the world. They should be named "Fearno-man," as these goods are fearless of any successful competition. Order your supplies for Easter from Messrs. HENRY & CO., Grocers and Liquor Merchants, George Street.

WEST PETERBOROUGH NOMINATION.

(From the Peterborough Times, Independent.)

If we are to regard the great mass meeting of electors assembled in the Opera Houbo on Saturday, which was as big in enthusiasm and energy as in numbers, as a criterion, we are amply justified in regarding Hon. J. R. Stratton's election as certain as his nomination. The Times has never seen a meeting of the kind that contained greater elements of encouragement to a candidate, nor one that showed a more united front. In spite of bad roads and distance, the friends of Mr. Stratton and the Government from every part of the constituency, were in the opera house, and when they got there they showed a spirit of confidence and determination to "get there" in another sense, which must encourage friends and dismay opponents. We do not know who or if anybody, will be brought out to oppose Mr. Stratton, but this we do know, that whoever his opponent may be, the Provincial Secretary will, as a result of the coming contest be again the representative of West Peterborough. Mr. Stratton has made a good representative; his career has been so much in the interests of the town and county that it would not be wise to consider the advisability of trying for a change—better let, not only well enough, but very good, alone. In consideration of the excellent service Mr. Stratton has given the town and West Peterborough, and in view of his power to continue such service at a time when the growth of the town and its interests need the most staunch and influential friends, we think that it would be a wise as well as a graceful thing to allow him to be returned unopposed. Another thing in favour of this is the fact that opposition will be useless, so far as preventing his election is concerned; and putting up opposition will partake very much of the nature of factiousness, for the nomination of a candidate in opposition will be for opposition's sake, not with the hope of success, and will mean the sacrifice of some aspiring innocent.

The Times is not a hide-bound believer in extreme partizanship. There are better things for a town and country than party triumph, and that is being represented by a man who will represent the solid good sense and loyalty to important interests of an electorate which can in the public interests rise above party consideration. The Times has great sympathy with Mr. G. F. Marter, of North Toronto, who separated himself from his party on one or two issues, and resolved to "go it alone," in what he considers the public interests. In his address to the electors of North Toronto, he says:

"For some years, particularly the "past two, the conviction has been "steadily growing upon me that ex-"treme partyism, at any rate in Pro-"vincial politics, is neither desirable "nor wise, but on the contrary, often "positively foolish and injurious."

We don't blame party politicians of either stripe for working for a party triumph; it is natural and to a certain extent right. But where in doing so they sacrifice important advantages, they are more loyal to their party than to their country.

MR. H. P. LINDSAY TO THE RESCUE

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir,—My attention has been drawn to certain statements made by the Examiner, with respect to Mr. W. W. Buchanan, who recently, at the request of the local Executive of the Ontario Alliance, addressed a mass meeting in Peterborough. It was stated that Mr. Buchanan was receiving $125 a month for his services. This statement is untrue. The following are the facts ascertained from prominent members of the Executive of the Ontario Alliance:

At the time of the large Provincial Convention in Toronto, a few weeks ago, Mr. Buchanan happened to be in Ontario, attending the funeral of his father. Knowing him to be one of the ablest speakers in Canada, and a leading prohibitionist, the Ontario Alliance put forth strenuous efforts to secure his services for some weeks on the Ontario platform. Mr. Buchanan yielded to their urgent request, and consented to give a month of his time, provided his travelling and hotel expenses were paid. Without his knowledge the Alliance Executive passed a resolution to pay him $125 for the month. Mr. Buchanan was annoyed that any such terms should have been offered, and has not accepted one dollar for his services.

When several weeks ago Hon. S. C. Biggs made a statement in the public press to the effect that Mr. Buchanan was receiving $125 a month for his services, Rev. Dr. Chown promptly replied to it, explaining how such an offer had come to be made, and stating further that Mr. Buchanan had refused to entertain any question of salary. When here Mr. Buchanan privately confirmed Dr. Chown's statement.

Although for a time Mr. Buchanan was a salaried officer of the Royal Templars, every zealous temperance worker knows that he has given years and years of service to the cause without any renumeration, but, instead, at a great personal sacrifice.

In the Wentworth election referred to the Liberals nominated an anti-prohibitionist, and that in the first election after Sir Oliver Mowat made his famous type-written pledge. It was a protest against this that Mr. Buchanan entered the field at the last moment. He contested the riding as an Independent Liberal, promising to support Sir Oliver Mowat and his government in legislation that did not conflict with his convictions as a prohibitionist. The Hon. G. W. Ross, a professing prohibitionist, went into the riding and opposed him, preferring an anti-prohibitionist to a prohibitionist leader, who was prepared to give his government a generous support.

In the Hamilton election, to which reference was made, Mr. Buchanan opposed the Conservatives equally with the Liberals, as both of the old parties had candidates in the field. His nomination was in strict accordance with the Alliance plans after both candidates had refused to give any pledge in favour of prohibition; and yet Hon G. W. Ross, Vice-Pres. of the Alliance, again entered the contest and opposed his election.

All who heard Mr. Buchanan in the Opera House here know that he is a man of exceptional talents, and a gentleman of such high probity that he would not stoop to take unfair advantage in a public utterance. His speech was characterized by calmness, fair presentation of facts and logical reasoning. It made a profound impression upon those present.

I deem it in the interests of the public that these facts be known, especially by every temperance elector, and I would respectfully ask that this be given the same publicity in your daily and weekly issues as was the other statements reflecting on Mr. Buchanan.

Thanking you Mr. Editor,

I remain yours truly,

H. P. LINDSAY,

President Peterborough Temperance Alliance.

We publish Mr. Lindsay's letter, not so much for its intrinsic merit as a valuable contribution to promoting the cause of temperance, as to show to what extent some persons are prepared to use the sacred cause of moral reform for the purpose of advancing the unworthy interests of a local clique of political wirepullers. We all know how energetic and disinterested Mr. Lindsay is at the present time.

His attitude and his partizan slant at the first meeting held in the ostensible interests of prohibition, and also at the convention a couple of weeks ago, is well known—as merely that of an advertising agent, or man-of-all-work for a little clique of Review office Tories, who have energetically and with an industry worthy of a better cause, been endeavouring to mix up the prohibition question with politics, for party purposes.

We all know how deeply disinterested Mr. Lindsay was at the convention in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, with his political adviser, Mr. Buchanan, at his elbow, coaching him when to put in a political "lick" against the Government. Mr. Lindsay's letter is, itself, evidence of an understanding; the whole tone of the letter is partizan, and the cloven hoof obtrudes itself in every paragraph.

The reference in the Examiner which, ostensibly, gave rise to his letter, was written precisely ten days ago. Ten days have been time enough to admit of consultation with Mr. Buchanan, and admit of a caucus of the local clique. Mr. Lindsay's hand may have written the letter in a merely mechanical sense, but its sentiment and spirit are those of Mr. Buchanan and the clique — the voice is the voice of Jacob but the hand is the hand of Esau.

And Mr. Lindsay's political animus is shown by his adding to his name his official temperance title at the end of a letter filled with partizan gall and bitterness, especially, gall.

The anxiety of party animus is shown in sending the letter to the Review the same day it appeared in the Examiner, in which it would have been printed on Thursday if it had been handed in at an earlier hour.

The Review's heading of Mr. Lindsay's letter — "Mr. Stratton's Attack on Mr. Buchanan,"—is an unwarranted perversion of language and serves as a fitting prelude to the party tinge that colours the whole of this epistle.

The Examiner's reference to Mr. Buchanan was merely an answer, and an "attack" on the hypocritical statement of the Review that Mr. Buchanan had "given his time and talent" to the temperance cause — hypocritical, because the Anti-Dunkin Act and anti-Scott Act journal, cares as much about the interests of temperance as the proprietor of a White-chapel boozing ken.

Mr. Lindsay is very disinterested now—on the eve of an election, when he thinks he can advance the interests of the clique, by applauding and glorifying his party co-partner, Mr. Buchanan, and attacking Premier Ross, who has given the people the only provincial prohibition legislation it has ever had and to the full extent of provincial powers as defined by the Privy Council, and co-operating with a Review clique of Tories with whom fair-minded and honest-dealing Conservatives have nothing in common. The extraordinary spectacle of the Review championing prohibition and temperance has only one parallel—Satan reproving sin.

We give Mr. Lindsay full benefit of his denial that Mr. Buchanan receives $125 a month and expenses. We know that Hon. S. C. Biggs, a prominent member of the Ontario Alliance, was present at a meeting when Mr. Buchanan's remuneration was fixed at $125 per month. When Mr. Buchanan saw how the thing looked he may have renounced the bargain, in which, if he has refused remuneration, he showed remarkable self-denial—a gentleman who can talk temperance and act the party politician at one and the same time, certainly exercises a talent worthy of substantial reward.

Or perhaps Mr. Buchanan feels that the man who boomed a political party which passed a prohibitory law in Manitoba, and then left prohibition in the lurch to fight its own way or die unbefriended, should by some act of abnegation, atone for his desertion of prohibition in the Paririe Province.

The Examiner does not object to Mr. Buchanan getting $125 a month or a night for ostensibly advocating prohibition, but it does object, in the name of decency to Mr. Buchanan coming to Peterborough and co-operating and working in sympathy with the Review clique of Tories which, with Mr. Lindsay's able and publicly demonstrated assistance, is energetically prostituting prohibition to the discreditable work of of serving the ends of a local Tory clique which does not seem inclined to stick at anything in its attempt to discredit and misrepresent the only Ontario Government that has ever passed a prohibitory law to the full extent of its power.

If Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Nicholls and Mr. Lindsay are sincere in their advocacy of the cause of temperance and desire a prohibitory liquor law, they would be doing their work in Manitoba instead of wasting their time in promoting party political interests.

A PRESENTATION.

Mr. J. C. Smythe Receives Gifts From Teachers and Pupils.

Mr. J. C. Symthe, of the Central School staff, who has been granted a five months leave of absence for the benefit of his health was agreeably surprised on Thursday afternoon when the teachers and the members of the entrance class detained him after school and presented him with a set of military brushes, a walking stick and a quantity of beautiful cut flowers. The accompanying address was read as subjoined:

Mr. J. C. Smythe, Peterborough.

Dear sir,—It is with feelings of regret we learn that, for a time at least, our relations with you will be severed, and we cannot allow you to go without some expression of our heartfelt appreciation of the sympathy you have shown us, the labour you have bestowed upon us, and the keen interest you have always manifested in our success and welfare.

We have found you ever a faithful and painstaking instructor, a kind and courteous gentleman, a ready and willing counsellor and assistant.

It will be gratifying for you to know that in the expression of these sentiments, your pupils are joined by your fellow teachers and colleagues, and that you will be followed by the best wishes and good-will of those with whom as teachers, you have for these many years been so intimately associated.

We would ask your acceptance of these slight tokens of our esteem and respect, trusting that they may in some small measure prove silent reminders of the pleasant and profitable hours we have spent together.

It is our sincere hope that you may have a speedy restoration to good health, and that He to whom alone are all things known may be constantly your Guide and Protector.

Signed on behalf of the teachers of the Central School, and of the pupils in the Entrance Class.

PHEMIE SMITH.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon and a most entertaining programme was given. Mr. Smythe expressed his appreciation in suitable terms of the thoughtfulness which suggested the attention which he received. He leaves next week for Pittsburg.

THE FIRST EASTER MORN.

Matthew 28th, 1—6.

In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow;

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here; for he is risen.

PURPLE VIOLETS.

Violets in purple mourning,
Bloomed as flakes of driven snow,
Calvary's rugged path adorning,
Ere the Saviour knew its woe.

When the Virgin Mother, holy,
In her bitter anguish passed,
O'er the blossoms white and lowly,
Was her sacred shadow cast;

And the agony of sorrow,
Falling like a purple pall,— Unforgotten with the morrow—
Still doth linger over all.

Purple violets! remind us,
O, reproach us with His pain,
Lest the fleeting days should find us
Crucifying Him again!

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, March 29th.—A southern stock which should advance 20 points. We are speaking of T. C. I. This southern stock is at present deriving its benefit from the wondrous condition of the iron and steel industry. Its management has gone on steadily improving. This stock was a short time ago paying 8 per cent. per annum, and it will soon be again worth more money than it was then. Its local field is its own. In 99 T. C. I. sold above 126. It is mercurial in its fluctuations. Its small capitalization causing it to move with gigantic strides. Its last boom carried the shares above 80, and at the time the general market was not so high as at the present time or the conditions of the industry as good. Yesterday the stock showed signs of starting up around sixty. It has been accumulating for some time past. We believe the present bull market will see the stock again cross 80. If bought now it should be held for 20 points. The T. C. I. Company owns extensive coal and iron mines in Tennesee. Hanover Bank people are greatest holders of stock. The Company also controls the Alabama Steel and Iron Company. T. C. I. is a stock which should be traded in only liberal margin, owing to its rapid and mercurial movement. There is no better stock for traders who like quick stocks, to others who buy to carry for a long pull at present price and at existing conditions, it is a most excellent proposition.

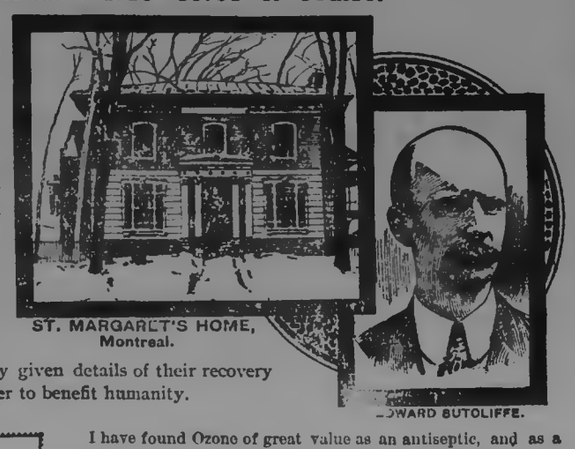
A Professional Nurse Gives It Praise.



ST. MARGARET'S HOME, Montreal.

EDWARD BUTCLIFFE.

Powley's Liquified Ozone possesses an unique position in Montreal. It has achieved so much good; been employed successfully in such desperately hopeless cases of disease, that twenty of the most prominent institutions have recognized it as being of the most extraordinary value as a curative agent. Nor is that all. We have statements from a great number of the responsible citizens of this city who have gratefully given details of their recovery through using Ozone, in order to benefit humanity.

MISS M. E. ROSS, Professional Nurse.

I have found Ozone of great value as an antiseptic, and as a general tonic. Many of my patients have taken Powley's Liquified Ozone, and all have been greatly benefited by it.

I have used your Liquified Ozone and have found it of great benefit for loss of appetite and general debility. After I started taking Ozone I was able to take a good hearty meal. Accept my grateful thanks for your wonderful remedy.

(Signed) MISS HARRIETT BLENERHASSETT,
St. Margaret's Home, 557 Sherbrooke St., Montreal, P. Q.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is a radical change from existing methods of curing disease. Nearly every agent in use now, has as its principal ingredient some drug or narcotic, which simply serves to conceal the disease, giving temporary benefit. Now Ozone is a natural and effective method of treating disease. It feeds the body oxygen through the blood, by which it is absorbed. It makes the system healthy, is antiseptic and destroys the germs of disease indirectly and directly. It contains no drugs, narcotics, or alcohol; simply Nature's blood food. The Ozone treatment is being advocated everywhere in the treatment of disease. Ozone is the most scientific and effective curative agency of the age. In Powley's Liquified Ozone you get the Ozone treatment in a bottle—more effective and less expensive than in any other form.

KILLED IN A "DRIVE"

Canadian Fought Single-Handed Till Death Claimed Him.

BOERS CAPTURED FOUR OTHERS

These Gallant Canadians Had Been Separated From Their Column Pursuing Delarey's Men—Total Boer Prisoners Captured 179—Among Them Commandant H. Kruger—Night Stopped Pursuit.

Pretoria, Transvaal Colony, March 28.—About 1,500 Boers, under Delarey, Liebenberg, Kemp and Wolmarans, were within the area of Lord Kitchener's latest move, but although surprised by the rapidity displayed by the British troops, gaps in the latter's lines enabled most of the burghers to escape. The Boer prisoners totalled 179 men, including Commandant H. Kruger and ex-Landrost Neethling of Krugersdorp.

From the first prisoners captured, it was learned that Gen. Delarey himself was outside the actual cordon, having slept some distance westward. But Liebenberg, Kemp and other Boer commanders were inside the column of troops.

The first body, consisting of about 500 Boers, sighted at 10 o'clock in the morning, March 24, retreated at full speed, making for a gap between the British columns. A race for the opening ensued.

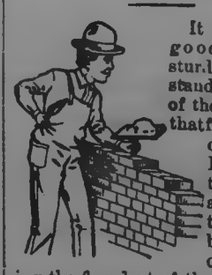
British mounted infantry, which had already ridden upwards of fifty miles, pressed their tired horses until they gave out, when the men jumped off and raced forward on foot. Some of the mounted men, however, were able to gallop right into the gap just ahead of the burghers, whom they met with a warm fire.

These troops also succeeded in driving back another body of 300 Boers, who were forced to desert the guns they had captured from the Von Donop convoy in February. The Boers tried to get through several openings, but on each occasion were forced to double back, until they ultimately found a gap and passed out of the British lines within sight of Klerksdorp. Night fell before the pursuing columns could overtake the Boers.

Five Canadians, who fell out of their column and tried to work their way back, were surrounded by a Boer force, and made a splendid defence. But finally seeing their case was hopeless, four of the Canadians surrendered. The fifth, however, indignantly refused to throw down his arms, and continued a single-handed fight until he was killed. This was regarded as one of the most interesting events of the day.

An instance of the resourcefulness of the Boers was given by Liebenberg and several hundred men. Taking advantage of the confusion of the drive, he and his followers assumed a formation similar to that of a British column, and, moving close to one of the numerous gaps in the British lines, succeeded in reaching this opening before their ruse was detected, and got safely away.

Bricklayer's Backache.



It requires a good strong sturdy man to stand the strain of the hard work that falls to the lot of a mason. Exposure to the hot sun and the cutting winds, bending over, inhaling the fine dust of the lime, brick or stone, all these things are bound sooner or later to tell on the kidneys and put them out of working order.

The poor old back begins to ache and pain, the urine is scant and scalds when passing.

Any mason who finds his back aching and his kidneys bothering him can have these troubles removed and be put in fit shape for his work by a bottle or two of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

ACTED LIKE A CHARM.

Mr. Geo. Grass, South Street, Aylmer, Ont., a stone and brickmason, well known in that town and vicinity, says: "For some fifteen years I have had trouble with my back and kidneys. It arose from my attempting to lift a very heavy stone and straining myself. I have tried all sorts of remedies in the hope of being cured, but obtained very little relief. My back would be so bad at times that it was with great pain and difficulty I could straighten up when I arose from my bed in the morning, and I suffered so much that I had to give up my mason work altogether. I read a good deal about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and bought a supply from my druggist. They acted like a charm—took the soreness and stiffness out of my back so that I can now straighten up with ease. The pain is all gone and I feel strong and well.'

THE INQUEST AT BRANTFORD.

No Theory Crystallized Into a Fact by the Evidence so Far—Adjourned Until April 21.

Brantford, March 29.—The adjourned inquest into the cause of the death of James Quirk was resumed Wednesday evening in the Court House. Crown Attorney Wilkes was in charge of the case for the Crown. Detective Murray was present. No spectators were allowed at the session, except newspaper men. There was no room for the general public. No bit of evidence adduced crystallized a theory. The newest bit of evidence was Toole's statement that he had received a letter from a man in Detroit, known to Mr. Westbrook, declaring that he had sworn vengeance, and would get it.

Another point also emanated from Toole, namely, that a stranger had called at the hotel on Sunday and had asked for Quirk. But Toole had not told Quirk of this circumstance.

The entire session, which lasted from 8 until 11.20 p.m., was taken up with the evidence of Kennedy, the bell boy, Mrs. Quirk, the widow of the murdered man, and John Toole, his partner.

The report of the autopsy, which is in the hands of the coroner, was not made public, and Dr. Frank, who performed it, was not called upon.

Each of the three witnesses was in the box about one hour. An adjournment was made until Monday, April 21.

Jury Gave Her $2,500.

Toronto, March 29.—The action commenced on Wednesday in the Civil Assizes of Mrs. Mary Betzner against the Toronto Railway Company was commenced at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the jury brought in a verdict awarding the plaintiff $2,500 and the costs of the suit.

Mrs. Betzner, on July 11 last, was riding north on a Belt Line car on Spadina avenue. When the car stopped at Willcocks street and she was about to alight, she was thrown to the ground, sustaining considerable injury. For this she sued the company for $3,000 damages, claiming that the car started before she could get off. The company said that she got off before the car stopped.

TWO LINDSAY DOCTORS COULDN'T CURE MR. MURDOCK.

His Case a Severe one—Pain so Intense Morphine had to be Administered—No Control of his Bladder—Wife Thought he Would Die.

Doctors Failed to do him any Good—One Bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Eased the Pain and Allowed him Sleep—Two Bottles Cured him.

Mr. E. Gregory, the Well-Known Lindsay Druggist, Endorses Mr. Murdock's Statement of his Case.

Everybody in Lindsay, Ont., knows Jim Murdock who has been engaged in the cartage and delivery business in that town for some years past, and latterly has been in the employ of the Rathbun Company.

A few months ago his friends were well aware that he was in a very serious condition due to trouble with his kidneys and bladder, and many had grave apprehensions as to the ultimate outcome, as he was rapidly going down hill, despite the efforts of two of Lindsay's best physicians to cure him.

He was confined to bed six weeks, and the severe pain in his back and in the region of his bladder, made it excruciating agony for him to move. In fact the pain became so intense at times, that large doses of morphine had to be administered to give him ease and very few nights was he able to get sleep without the aid of an opiate. Besides this, he had lost control of his bladder, and the frequent and painful urination added to his misery.

He had a doctor in attendance constantly, who said he suffered from ulcer on the neck of the bladder, took bottle after bottle of his medicine, but got little relief. Then he tried another doctor, but his treatment proved of no more benefit than that of the first one, and Mr. Murdock felt that unless something were done for him, he was not long for this world.

A friend visiting him one day happened to tell him of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and the great things they were doing for people suffering from kidney and bladder disease. He sent to Mr. Gregory's drug store and got a bottle—the first few doses gave him ease from the awful pain. When the bottle was finished he felt wonderfully improved, and by the time the second bottle was taken, Mr. Murdock was a cured man.

Mr. Murdock's Statement.

"I was laid up in bed for over six weeks suffering from a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. The pain in my back and across my bladder was so severe, that the doctors were obliged to give me morphine. I had two of them in attendance at different times, but although they did their best for me, I kept getting worse.

"They said I had an ulcer on the neck of the bladder, and did not think I could be cured without an operation.

"I lost control of my bladder and the water kept coming away every little while and distressed me greatly.

"I took a great deal of doctors' medicine, and although it was very expensive, it did not help me. I was getting very thin and wasted and both my wife and I despaired of my recovery.

"A friend one day happened to tell me of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and I sent to Gregory's drug store for a bottle of them. I had only taken a few doses when the pain eased up. I began to feel better and could control my water and by the time I had used two bottles I was completely cured. When I was sick my weight had gone down to 135 pounds. Now I weigh 173 pounds and never felt better in my life. Although I work hard every day I never have a pain or ache or trace of my old trouble.

"I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, as I verily believe that they saved my life when the doctors could do nothing for me."

(Signed) JAMES M. MURDOCK.

Mr. Gregory's Confirmation.

Mr. E. Gregory, the popular Lindsay druggist, who sold Mr. Murdock the Tablets, confirmed his statement as follows:

"I have known Mr. James M. Murdock for some time past. He is a hard working and highly respected citizen of Lindsay and I can vouch for the accuracy of his statements regarding his case, and his cure by Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. Many people in this town are using the Tablets with splendid results, and their sale with us exceeds that of any other kidney remedy."

(Signed) E. GREGORY.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the formula of Zina Pitcher, M.D., formerly Professor of Materia Medica and Genito-Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich. They are the most effective, scientific treatment, for backache, lame or weak back, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, dizziness, mist before the eyes, bloating, gravel, stone in the bladder, high coloured urine, sediment, scalding or smarting, irritability of the bladder, frequent calls during the day or night, pains in the joints or muscles, uric acid in the blood, kidney troubles of women, bed wetting of children and all forms of kidney, bladder or urinary troubles of young or old.

GIFT TO THE EMPIRE

Cecil Rhodes' Big Project for Imperial Education.

WILL TAKE BULK OF HIS FORTUNE

The Daily Mail's Statement of a British Empire Builder's Fortune—Will Be Devoted to Fitting "Younger Britain" to Cope With the World—Plan Embraces the Whole British Empire.

London, March 28.—The Daily Mail says it is in a position to assert that Cecil Rhodes left the bulk of his fortune, outside of some personal and family bequests, to the promotion of his vast Imperial plan of education. This project embraces every land where the Union Jack flies. Its purpose is the intellectual betterment of the British race throughout the world and the fostering of the Imperial sentiment.

The Daily Mail adds that this idea of better fitting "younger Britain" to cope successfully with rival nationalities was long a dominant scheme with Cecil Rhodes, but that even his closest friends little imagined the absorbing hold it obtained upon him until this was disclosed by the terms of the will.

The details of this plan of education will be made public in a few days.

The Daily Mail correspondent says that a death mask of the face has been successfully taken. The features which were distorted, as a result of his malady, resumes their reposeful dignity in death. After the autopsy which revealed an extensive aneurism of the heart, the remains were placed in a coffin and conveyed early Thursday to Groote Schuur.

The body has since been placed in a shell. It was found impossible to embalm it, owing to the operations necessitated by the attacks of dropsy. The body will lie in the hall at Groote Schuur until next Monday, in order to enable the public to view it. It will be brought to Cape Town next Tuesday.

The executors of the late Cecil Rhodes are, Lord Rosebery, Earl Grey, Alfred Beit, a director of the British Chartered South Africa Company, Mr. Mitchell B. Hawksley, counsel for the British Chartered South Africa Company, and Dr. Jameson.

The original will of Mr. Rhodes is in London, and will be published shortly.

Cecil Rhodes left the Dalham Hall estate at Newmarket to his brother, Col. Frank W. Rhodes. This estate was purchased by Cecil Rhodes last December.

ON THE "LONG CECIL."

Rhodes' Coffin Will Thus Be Carried Through Cape Town.

Cape Town, March 28.—The coffin containing the body of Cecil Rhodes will be conveyed to the Parliament Buildings here during the morning of April 3, and will lie in state, in the vestibule till 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when it will be removed to the Anglican Cathedral, where the first portion of the burial service will be read. The funeral procession will afterwards traverse the principal streets of Cape Town to the railroad station. Thence the coffin will be taken by special train to Buluwayo, stopping for a short time at Kimberley. Only a few intimate friends will accompany the body to Buluwayo. The coffin, during the funeral procession at Cape Town, will be carried on the gun carriage of "Long Cecil," the famous gun used at the siege of Kimberley.

Traditional Ceremony.

Vienna, March 29.—Emperor Francis Joseph, Maundy Thursday, performed at the Hofburg the traditional ceremony of washing the feet of 12 aged men. The nobility and the diplomatic corps witnessed the ceremony, after which His Majesty hung bags of money on the necks of the participants, whose aggregate age was 1,070 years. The old men wore ancient Dutch costumes. The ages of 12 women recipients of the Imperial Maundy gifts aggregated 1,182 years.

ANOTHER HAPPY MOTHER

Tells how her Baby of Eight Months, Profited by Wise Treatment.

Teething time is the critical age in a child's life. Any slight disorder in the stomach or bowels at that time greatly increases the peevishness of the little one and may have serious and even fatal results. It is impossible to take too great care of your baby's health during this period, and no better remedy than Baby's Own Tablets is known for the minor ailments of childhood. Among the mothers who have proved the worth of this medicine is Mrs. R. McMaster, Cookstown, Ont. Her little baby girl was suffering from the combined trials of indigestion, constipation and teething, and the mother's strength was severely taxed by the continuous care the child needed. A box of Baby's Own Tablets, however, made such an improvement that Mrs. McMaster is now enthusiastic in their praise. "It gives me great pleasure to testify to the value of Baby's Own Tablets," she writes. "My baby of eight months was much troubled with constipation and indigestion and was very restless at night. I procured a box of Baby's Own Tablets and the results were so satisfactory that I have not used any medicine since. My baby girl is now regular and healthy and getting her teeth seems much easier, and she rests a great deal better. These Tablets are a great help to little ones when teething."

Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiate or other harmful drug. They produce natural sleep because they regulate the stomach and bowels and comfort the nerves. They promptly cure such troubles as colic, sour stomach, constipation, diarrhoea, worms, indigestion and simple fever. They break up colds, prevent croup and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. Dissolved in water they can be given with absolute safety to the youngest infant. Sold by druggists, or sent postpaid at 25 cents a box, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Free sample sent on application. Mention

Surprising Results.

Simple Internal Remedy Makes Remarkable Cures of Catarrh.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes, for catarrh, and have found how useless and inconvenient they are, will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form; druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents for full sized treatment is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children, by destroying nerve sensation. The irritation in throat which causes coughing, is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause, but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach, because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics, Blood Root, Red Gum from Eucalyptus Tree, etc., when you use these Tablets you know what you are putting into your system, and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates, or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Mr. Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures, says: "I can heartily recommend to all Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches, and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by by this harmless but effective remedy."

Dr. Wainwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for Catarrhal Headaches and Catarrhal Deafness, because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children, because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croups at

The guns captured from Von Donop's convoy were brilliantly recaptured by the Scottish Horse, who charged up to the muzzles of the artillery and rode the Boer gunners off their feet before the latter had a chance to fire.

To Meet Mr. Steyn.

Kroonstad, Orange River Colony, March 25.—(Tuesday)—The members of the Transvaal government, headed by acting-President Schalkburger, arrived here Sunday.

On Monday morning one of the Boer delegates was escorted through the British lines, blindfolded, on horseback, and under a white flag, to meet President Steyn.

The delegate has not yet returned. The other members of the party are quartered in a private house, where they are allowed considerable liberty.

They will probably remain here several days.

Another Canadian Ill.

Ottawa, March 29.—The following cablegram has been received by His Excellency the Governor-General:

London, March 27, 1902.—Regret to inform you that Ernest Paton, 1529, "C" division S.A.C., dangerously ill, 22 March, of enteric fever. His father is H. Paton, 153 Bleecker street, Toronto.

(Sgd) Chamberlain.

Father O'Leary May Go.

Ottawa, March 29.—Rev. Father O'Leary may go as chaplain to the Canadian contingent to the coronation. Father O'Leary went out to South Africa with the first contingent.

Liberals to Meet Boers.

Paris, March 29.—The Figaro yesterday says that it has strong reason to believe that an interview is about to take place between Lord Rosebery, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannman, the Duke of Devonshire and other Liberal leaders who are now in Paris, and Dr. Leyds, the European representative of the Transvaal. The Figaro says Dr. Leyds reached Paris from Brussels Thursday night.

Prayer For Peace.

London, March 29.—A "prayer for peace" was the only novel feature of the observance of Good Friday in Great Britain.

BROTHERS ALL.

"English and Boers Are Alike the Sons of God," Says Pope Leo in Calling For Peace Prayers.

Rome, March 29.—The text of the appeal issued by the Pope for prayers throughout all Christendom, irrespective of sect, for the hastening of peace in South Africa, is creating much comment. As published in The Osservatore Romano, recognized as the organ of the Vatican as nearly as any paper can be, it reads:

Before the horrors of the war conducted in South Africa with so much obstinacy Catholic spirit is filled with great grief and considers the day at hand for ending the mutual hatred of the combatants, when, instead of anger, peace will spread her wings over that blood imbued country. English and Boers are alike the sons of God. All are brothers.

Political interests may divide them, but both should recognize that this bloody war is disastrous to both. There is nobody but admits that dignified peace is desirable. It is desired by the combatants themselves.

Blessed will be the hour when the English nation will see fit to end its sacrifices and when the valiant Boers will join in a sentiment of concord.

The Catholic hallelujah will resound more happily through the entire world, even among dissenters, who join in wishing that conclusion of peace of which Christ was the author and consummator.

Who can dare separate himself from those hearts which daily call upon Heaven to give peace which will reunite Christian civilization, bearing a common legitimate mission to save human generations?

Alcoholism and Insanity.

Alcoholism in the parents is held responsible by Dr. Bourneville of Paris for much of the idiocy and imbecility in France. Of 2,000 boys and 500 girls suffering from these troubles 40 per cent were children of parents given to [illegible] drinking.

VISIT TO AUSTRALIA

Postmaster-General's Correspondence With the Premier.

TRADE RELATIONS OF CANADA

Suggestions Submitted re. Trade With the Commonwealth by Mr. Mulock to Premier Barton—The Pacific Cable and Its Accompaniments—Arrangements For Conference of Colonial Premiers.

Ottawa, March 27.—A return brought down in the House yesterday contains the correspondence between Hon. William Mulock and Sir Wilfrid Laurier from March 26 to August 6, 1901. The first letter is written from the steamship Himlaya at Marseille on March 26, and contains the account of a conversation which Mr. Mulock had with Lord Strathcona while in London. This conversation and the subsequent correspondence covers a number of subjects.

On May 20 Mr. Mulock writes from Melbourne, where Mr. Mulock talked with Premier Barton.

On May 28 Mr. Mulock submitted to Mr. Barton a written proposition, containing the following suggestions:

(1) Absolute free trade between the two countries, excepting in respect to liquors, tobaccos, and, perhaps, a few other named articles.

(2) Free trade in respect to an enumerated list.

(3) Reciprocal free trade on a preferential basis, except as to articles mentioned in proposition No. 1.

(4) Reciprocal trade on a preferential basis in respect to an enumerated list.

(5) Free trade in respect of an enumerated list, and also reciprocal trade on a preferential basis in respect to an enumerated list.

He also reviews his letter to Sir Wilfrid in regard to ocean lines.

This section of the parliamentary return concludes with a copy of the minutes of the Pacific cable meeting, conveyed by a letter, dated White Hall, Aug. 14, 1901, to Lord Minto from the Colonial Office. It contains this sentence: Mr. Mulock was one of the witnesses, and gave evidence of the intention of the Canadian Government to lay a special cable between Canada and England for the use of the Canadian people.

The next section deals with the correspondence between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Australian Premier, re the approaching conference in London. Sir Wilfrid submits to Premier Barton the following questions for consideration:

(1) Closer trade relations.

(2) Improvement of the mail service by Canada between Great Britain and Australia.

(3) Improvement of transportation facilities by the establishment of a first-class line of passenger steamers between Australia and Vancouver; by the establishment of a line of steamers (chiefly for cargo) between Australian and Canadian ports on the Atlantic, stopping en route at South Africa.

(4) Consideration of the effect on the Pacific cable scheme by the concession granted by New South Wales to the Eastern Telegraph Company.

Mr. Bourassa Resumes.

The debate yesterday was resumed by Mr. Bourassa, who could not see the use of taking a vote of Mr. Borden's amendment because of the prevalence of protectionist sentiment in Canada. The mere raising or lowering of duties being a detail to be governed by circumstances. As for Imperial relations, he trusted the Prime Minister when he went to the coronation, would impress upon Mr. Chamberlain that Canada would consider no proposals for closer relationship until our various grievances, such as the cattle embargo and the British interference in the immigration question, had been removed.

Mr. Richardson (South Grey) replied in a finished speech, in the course of which he repudiated Mr. Bourassa's statement that the preference had not been appreciated in Great Britain. He favored a stable protectionist policy, affording ample protection to Canadian industries.

Mr. D. C. Fraser (Guysboro, N.S.) referring to Mr. Charlton, expressed doubts that all that hon. gentleman's legislative efforts in the interest of morality, would excuse his apostacy on the tariff issue.

Mr. Porter moved the adjournment of the debate.

Replying to a question by Mr. Lancaster, Mr. Blair said the corporation of St. Catharines had not been granted a water power privilege from the old Welland Canal for the reason that the Government was waiting the engineer's report. Several questions of minor importance were also answered, and the House adjourned for the day at 6 o'clock.

The Telephone Bills Postponed.

Charles Fitzpatrick on behalf of the Government, are to be laid over till next session. This announcement was made by the Minister of Justice yesterday morning to the deputation of representatives of municipalities which waited on him. Why don't you remove that weight at the pit of the Stomach?

Why don't you regulate that variable appetite, and condition the digestive organs so that it will not be necessary to starve the stomach to avoid distress after eating.

The first step is to regulate the bowels.

THREE LIVES LOST.

Two Engineers and a Conductor of the G.T.R. Killed at Jarvis.

St. Thomas, March 29.—A serious accident took place on the loop line of the Grand Trunk Railway at Jarvis about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, resulting in the death of two engine drivers and one conductor and great loss to the company. Both trains were Wabash, and the cause of the accident is attributed to the engineer of the train going east not fallowing his orders to stop at Jarvis.

The names of the dead are: John Charleton and James McGill, drivers, and Frederick McDonald, conductor, all of St. Thomas.

The westbound train, in charge of Engineer McGill and Conductor McDonald, went through Jarvis, and was backing down a switch when the second freight, in charge of Engineer Charleton, crashed into it. There was a heavy fog at the time, and it is thought that Charleton did not see the other train about to go on the siding.

The remains of Charleton and McGill were brought here last night, and conveyed to P. R. Williams' undertaking rooms, where an inquest will be held to-day.

McGill and McDonald are each survived by a wife and two children. Charleton leaves a widow and three children. All three men had been employed by the Wabash Company for upwards of ten years, and were well known here.

Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

St. Louis, Mo., March 29.—The St. Louis Board of Equalization yesterday unanimously adopted resolutions to tax property of all kinds at its true cash value, as the law directs. This will include the assessment of all franchise property on the same basis as real estate and personal holdings are now taxed.

Died Aged 102.

Kingston March 29.—Mrs Celia De Marsh died Thursday, aged 102. Deceased was born at Pointe Claire Que., in 1800. Half her life was spent at Bedford Mills, in Frontenac County. Three sons and two daughters survive. She had 46 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren.

OVERBURDENED.

The Egyptian woman looks greatly overburdened, and yet the physical burdens she carries will not compare with the burdens borne by many an American woman. There is no burden like the burden of disease. The woman who suffers from inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down pains, weak back and nervousness, bears a burden which crushes her very life.

Every woman should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures the womanly diseases which cause weakness and feebleness. It quiets the nerves, cures the aching back and throbbing head, and gives strength for wifely cares and maternal duties.

"When I first wrote to you I was in a bad condition, and had almost given up," says Mrs. Della Snider, of Wilkesville, Vinton Co., Ohio. "I was suffering from female trouble of the worst kind; I couldn't eat anything without suffering great distress; throat hurt me by spells, was nervous and weak. Had numb hands and arms, heart trouble, pains all through my body and aching head and neck. It seemed that I could not work at all. I got Dr. Pierce's medicine and took it as directed, and the first week it began to help me. I took three bottles and am glad to say that it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired, send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ON EASTER MORNING.

Beautiful children, whose voices sweet
Echo the carol the bells repeat
All in the Easter morning,
Did ye know that before the sun so red
Had clambered up from his downy bed
Loveliest carols were sung and said
Early on Easter morning?

Out where the willows are bending low,
Out where the mists drift to and fro,
All in the Easter morning,
Little brown birds in quiet nest,
Twittering low 'neath mother's breast,
Say, "Spring is coming; let's sing our best,"
Early on Easter morning.

Dainty fernlets, in woolly fold,
Safely hidden from wind and cold,
All in the Easter morning,
Lifting their blankets, peep to see
What kind of a place the world may be
And waken and rustle merrily
Early on Easter morning.

The clear little brook sings low and sweet,
Touching the pebbles with dainty feet,
All in the Easter morning.
"Spring is coming; I make the way
Green, where the flowers shall be some day;
Singing, I herald the sun's first ray
Early on Easter morning."

Beautiful ones, are the sun was red
Loveliest carols were sung and said
All in the Easter morning.
The light mist shroudeth the sleepy town,
But the birds and the ferns and the brooklet brown
Sing in the gray, while the stars look down,
Early on Easter morning.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles as the trouble is likely to become chronic and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation, and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

St. John, N.B., March 27.—The steamship Parthenia sailed at midnight for South Africa with hay for the British army, and also a general cargo. Consumption is Infectious.

Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the White Plague. Persons coming in contact with consumptives should inhale Catarrhozone several times each day, as it is a powerful destroyer of germs and renders them inocuous. Catarrhozone is a most efficient preventive and may be thoroughly relied upon to promote expectoration, soothe the cough, and benefit in many ways too numerous to mention. Both from a medical and scientific point of view Catarrhozone is the most valuable addition to the armament against consumption. Its merit cannot be too warmly applauded. Sold at all druggists, two months' treatment, price $1; small size, 25c.; or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Anaemic Young Girl.

Perhaps she is sixteen. Suddenly she seems to lose strength, her beauty fades because her strength fails, her eyes lose their lustre. How her spirit droops! It alarms you, but all this may be correctly quickly. Get her Ferrozone, it is a nerve tonic, it aids the stomach to do its work. Appetite? She'll eat anything, and digest it too. How the Teachers Will Go.

Ottawa, March 29.—The Canadian teachers for South Africa will be sent in two lots of twenty each. The Manitoba members are complaining that only one teacher has been allowed to their province. The question of expense, however, enters into the matter. It would have been rather hard to require teachers from the west to pay their own railway fare from the west to the port of embarkation. The total number of those who applied for positions as teachers was 500, and there are only 40 to go.

IN LOCAL MILITARY CIRCLES.

Spring Drill Opens on Tuesday Next.

Peterborough Should Have Representatives on the Coronation Contingent Other Notes.

In less than a week's time the spring drill of the 57th Regiment will have commenced and from now forward a revival in military enthusiasm may be expected. There should be a good representation of all ranks on Tuesday night it is expected that quite a number of recruits will be enlisted. There is no reason why the Rangers should not be recruited up to full strength this season.

The decision that has been reached by the militia department to send 500 men from Canada to take part in the Coronation Festivities should be carefully observed by local military men When the Canadian contingent to the Queen's Jubilee was drawn, there was not a representative from the 57th Regiment chosen, although a representative from each of the four squadrons of the 3rd Dragoons was on the strength of the Canadian contingent. Now, however, there is one more opportunity for the local military men and every effort should be exerted towards having at least two or three representatives of the 57th on the Regiment that will take part in the Coronation ceremony.

Lt.-Col. Duff, of Kingston, ex-commanding officer of the 4th Hussars, who is well known to local military men, passed the 76th milestone of his life on Monday and was the recipient of congratulatuons from a large number of friends, who knew of the event. Strange to say, Mrs. Duff was also born on the 24th of March, but not in the same year. Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Duff were the recipients of many beautiful floral offerings from friends in Kingston and Toronto. On Feb. 1st, the colonel will complete his 27th year as police magistrate.

The Royal Review at the Exhibition Grounds last fall was a great success so far as the Ontario Rifle Association was concerned. It has been some time since the Association has had a balance on the right side, but the receipts from the Royal Review have left a balance to their credit in the bank of $5,360.60.

Lt.-Col. J. E. Farwell, of the 34th Regt., has resigned, owing to having reached the age limit. He will be succeeded by John A. McGillivray, of Toronto. Colonel McGillivray is Supreme Secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters.

The Peterborough aggregation are: Defence, A. Boucher, R. Hall; centre, H. Daly; forwards, G. Miller, N. Miller; team managers, Will Campbell, Sandford Hall. Friday afternoon the boys played at Brantford, where they also came out victorious, the score being 45—15. On Monday they play the Toronto West End team.

EASTER TOGGERY FOR MEN AND BOYS.

H. LeBrun & Co. are Holding a Special Easter "Opening" Event.

The question of dress is paramount this week. With the advent of the new season, the principal thought of the masculine, as well as the feminine, world, is that of dress. Where is the man, woman or child who will not don new raiment on Easter?

For the Men and boys, Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. are holding a special "opening" event before Easter. All departments are thrown open for their inspection. Their exclusive display of new spring clothing, hats, neckwear, shirts, gloves, handkerchiefs, hosiery, underwear, etc., is a sight for good dressers. The City Clothing Store has been successfully catering for the dress needs of the men and boys of Peterborough for the past twenty-five years.

This season's carefully selected suits, spring overcoats and other seasonable outfittings does the firm especial credit.

The hats and neckwear stocks make a very fine showing of the smartest, nobbiest spring styles in vogue. Their list of Easter novelties should keep the clerks busy all week.

Where Is Arthur Lindsay?

Ottawa, March 29.—The family and friends of Mr. Arthur Lindsay, chief clerk in the Postal Department, are greatly alarmed over the latter's continued absence. Mr. Lindsay entered the Civil Service in 1864, and, until, in the present instance, has never been out of the city without the department and his family knowing his whereabouts. In reply to inquiries, Dr. Coulter, Deputy Postmaster-General, says that there is no reason known to him why he should have disappeared; and, while not sharing the family fears that he has met with foul play, he says everything in his branch of the work was left in proper condition. Mr. Lindsay was last in his office on Thursday, March 20.

THE SPRING FEELING.

Variable Spring Weather Disastrous to Weak People.

Even Usually Robust People Feel run Down and out of Sorts at This Time—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the Very Best Spring Tonic.

The spring months are a trying time to most people. At no other time of the year do health and strength seem so hard to gain and to hold. You do not feel that you are really sick, but you feel about as bad as you could if you were seriously ill. That feeling ought to be got rid of—and it can be. What you need is a tonic to enrich the blood and free it from the impurities which have lodged in your system during the winter, and which are responsible for your present condition. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only reliable, never-failing tonic medicine. These pills make new, rich blood, strengthen the nerves and bring health and vitality to every organ in the body. They are an ideal spring medicine and the best thing in the world for all diseases having their origin in impoverished or impure blood. The case of Miss Belle Cohoon, White Rock Mills, N. S., is strong corroboration of these statements. She says: "Three years ago this spring I was very much run down. The least exertion exhausted me. I seemed to lose ambition and a feeling of languor and sluggishness took its place. My appetite failed me and my sleep at nights was disturbed and restless. In fact I was in a pitiable condition. After trying two or three medicines without benefit, I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they speedily worked a change for the better and by the time I had used a half dozen boxes I felt stronger than I had done for years. I have since used the pills in the spring and I find them an excellent tonic."

Because of their thorough and prompt action on the blood and nerves these pills speedily cure anaemia, rheumatism, sciatica, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, scrofula and eruptions of the skin, erysipelas, kidney and liver troubles and the functional ailments which make the lives of so many women a source of constant misery. Other so-called tonic pills are mere imitations of this sterling remedy. Get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief, and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the region of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25 cent bottles.

ORGANIZING FOR COMING CAMPAIGN

Fine Rally of Supporters of Ross Government.

PRELIMINARY ORGANIZATION.

A General and Ward Chairmen Appointed—Enthusiastic Send-off of Hon. Mr. Stratton's Candidature—Other Addresses.

An exceedingly successful meeting of the supporters of the Ross Government, and of Hon. J. R. Stratton, was held in the Liberal Committee Rooms, (Labour Hall, Water street,) on Saturday night for the purpose of organizing for the coming general election campaign in West Peterborough.

The attendance was large, very large, especially, in consideration of the fact that the night was a very unfavourable one for a large attendance — the business of Saturday night preventing the attendance of a great many who would otherwise have been present.

There was no lack of numbers, and there was no lack of enthusiasm, and fighting spirit, the whole of the large gathering being united upon the claims of the Ross Government to enthusiastic support, and upon the Government candidate, who, as a member of that Government, as well as in his capacity as a private member, has done so much to advance the interests of the riding and the town. The certainty of success, naturally inspired the meeting with a zeal and enthusiasm, which promise to carry everything before them, as far as the coming political contest goes.

The initial steps of organization were completed and the foundation laid for one of the most signal electoral victories in the history of the West Riding of Peterborough.

MR. STRATTON'S ADDRESS.

Before the business of the meeting began, Mr. Stratton, the candidate nominated a week previously under such promising auspices, briefly addressed the gathering. He was glad to see so many of the familiar faces of his old friends present, and the largeness of the number was a pleasant surprise. The meeting was called on very short notice, and it being Saturday night, he did not anticipate anything like the large attendance he saw before him. As he would be out of town for some little time, he thought best to attend promptly to preliminary organization. He dealt briefly with the necessity of effective organization—from lack of it the best cause might suffer reverse. He added that the date of the elections had not yet been decided upon, but whether or not it was early in June, it was best to be in a state of readiness for active work. He did not know who his opponent was to be, or whether he was to have opposition; he did not propose to be taken by surprise with uncompleted organization. He was sure the Government candidate in West Peterborough would win, whoever came out in opposition. (Applause.) We would give our opponent a fair fight. We had faith in the present Government, for no Government which had ever held power in the province had done so much, nor aimed, nor desired, to do so much to develop the resources of the province, new and old, as had been done by the Ross Government in the past two years. When the railways the Government had put in course of construction, were completed, there would be such an inrush of settlers, as would promote a great trade with old Ontario, creating demands upon the goods of our merchants and the products of our factories, and giving increased employment to workingmen, and stimulating every branch of trade and industry. He called attention to the large sums spent in Peterborough already for mechanical and other supplies, giving increased employment from only a partial application of the Government's policy to the encouragement of new industries in the new regions, and from these data we could form some idea of the benefits that would flow directly from a policy of advance and development. We never had as we had at present in Peterborough, and it must be improved and sustained. The condition of things we enjoyed did not suggest the advisability of a change in the Government of the province. The policy of the Ross Government — energetic, progressive and wide-awake — appealed to the enterprising instincts of an energetic people. We would go to the polls in the coming contest without any of the disturbing cries our opponents had used in the past, and which they would probably repeat in some form at this juncture, for the Opposition had no other policy but a policy of abuse and personal detraction, and the local organ of the Opposition in Peterborough was a good example of the way in which a policy of slander could be employed with the object of injurjuring a representative who was doing his best to advance the best interests of the town and county, and should have the encouragement of every citizen who was more loyal to the town and county than to blind party bigotry. He had issued an address to the electors a retrospective consideration of the record of the Government. He who read this would see that it had been the aim, which was successful to a gratifying extent, to do the best that could be done for the Province of Ontario. (Applause.)

WORK OF ORGANIZATION.

The work of preliminary organization was then entered upon and effected with a facility only possible where every element was in sympathy with the work to be done, and with the cause in whose interests it was to be done.

Mr. Adam Hall was unanimously chosen chairman of the whole town and the subordinate committees.

Mr. Hall took the chair and presided over the meeting. He returned thanks for the honour of receiving so important and responsible a position. He would do his best to discharge its duties faithfully and was sure he and the committees and all concerned would work together unitedly, energetically and hopefully for they had a good cause and a good candidate, as they had had a good representative for many years. We had reason to feel proud of our candidate. He occupied an arduous position and filled it with great success as all would admit. He must and would be re-elected whoever was his opponent. (Applause.) He had made the best member we ever had and it would be a graceful thing for West Peterborough to elect by acclamation the man who had served the riding so well, that he deserved the support of all electors without regard to politics.

CHAIRMAN OF WARD COMMITTEES.

The following gentlemen were appointed chairman of the several Ward Committees:

No. 1 Ward—Mr. W. H. White.
No. 2 Ward—Mr. Robert Kerr.
No. 3 Ward — Mr. Andrew McFarlane.
No. 4 Ward—Mr. J. J. Hartley.

Mr. Arthur McClellan and Mr. Jas. McCabe were appointed general town secretaries.

The appointment of sub-division chairman was deferred, the matter being left to the respective ward chairman to call meetings for this purpose.

After organization, brief addresses were given by several of the large number present, upon both the local and general provincial political situation and prospects.

Mr. J. H. McClellan stated that his first introduction to a Peterborough audience was in a Liberal committee room. It was during the election before last. He was introduced by Mr. Stratton and had heard him and Mr. Ross speak. He knew both men would be heard from and his expectations were realized when Mr. Ross was made Premier and Mr. Stratton Provincial Secretary. He thought it would be a nice thing for the Conservative party to elect Mr. Stratton by acclamation, as they did when he was first taken into the Cabinet. They could do as they liked about the matter, however, as in the event of an election the supporters of Mr. Stratton would do their duty by him and re-elect him by an increased thousand of a majority. The Opposition paper asked why Mr. Kendry had not been elected by acclamation. It was simply a matter of one supporting the best Government the country ever had and the other opposed the best Government and deserved opposition. In connection with the matter of the grant to the Dickson dam the speaker pointed out that these dams were a great source of revenue to the country as dues were paid on every stick of timber which went over them. He concluded by mentioning the influence which Mr. Stratton had used with the Dominion Government to secure the grant for the Ennismore bridge.

Mr. D. O'Connel was heartily in accord with what had been said. We have had a Government in power for a long time and the length of time it had kept the confidence of the people was evidence that it was a good Government, and there was little doubt it would be returned to power again. Long possession of power had not made it careless. During the past few years especially, the Government had gone beyond the usual functions of Government and entered upon undertakings in the public interests which in other countries would be left to private enterprise. There was little doubt that the Government would be returned, but no doubt could be felt in regard to the election of the present candidate whoever might oppose him. If he were opposed it would not be from any hope of success—but from a spirit of factious opposition. If there were any work needed he, (Mr. O'Connel) would give his best services to promote the success of the Liberal cause.

Mr. Martin McNamara spoke briefly promising to get his coat off when the time came.

Mr. J. J. Hartley spoke of Mr. Stratton's various campaigns and predicted that the present one would be the most successful of all. Even if Mr. Stratton was not able to be on the field very much, still he could rest satisfied that his supporters would do their duty by him.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum stated that he had supported Mr. Stratton since he first came out and regarded his election now as being more essential to the benefit of the town and county than ever before. The ratepayers of Peterborough and the property owners would not make fools of themselves for party purposes, and at the expense of their substantial interests.

Mr. M. H. Quinlan referred to the manner in which the present Provincial Government had shown its ability to conduct the affairs of Ontario. The members had shown that they were progressive and the people of the province had been given an opportunity of forming an opinion as to what they might expect in the future. Fault, of course, could be found. It could even be found with Mr. Stratton, but this to him was one of the very best proofs that both the Government and Hon. Mr. Stratton were doing their duty. Anyone in a public office that could please everyone was of no use. Neither the Government nor Mr. Stratton could please everybody, but both possessed that admirable quality—backbone enough to carry out what was just and right. Even those who were not pleased had to admire. The speaker was confident that the Government would be returned by a larger majority than it had at the present time.

Mr. Wm. Eyers directed his attention to a brief discussion of the merits of the Prohibition Bill and the Referendum. He claimed that the Government was right in demanding to have proof that the people wanted prohibition. The process of ascertaining the wish of the people by the medium of the referendum was in the interests of temperance as well as of the country at large. If there was not a strong sentiment behind the introduction of this prohibition Bill it would be repealed and this would be the worst blow which the cause of temperance has ever received in Ontario. The Bill would certainly have to be repealed if not strongly endorsed, as in Ontario the people rule — it was a Government for the people by the people and of the people, and if the sentiment behind the bill was not strong enough to enable the provisions to be carried out, the people would not allow it to remain on the statute books, and it would go the way of the Dunkin Act and Scott Act. Some talk was heard to the effect that there was no need of asking the people to declare on the question as there had been plebiscites taken which should settle the matter, but, said the speaker, there never was a plebiscite taken in Ontario on such a question. A pleb-

NAUSEATING POLITICAL WRITING.

(Lakefield News, Independent.)

If there is one thing more than another calculated to make a fair-minded man sick it is the way in which the Opposition organs attempt to bulldoze the public by gross misrepresentations of the trend of politics. The Mail and Empire is about as bad an offender in this respect as can be found in Ontario. Its latest infliction on the public is an article in last Wednesday's issue headed "Lording it over the People" in which it simply wallows in a mire of misstatements of its own creation. The article begins as follows:

"Mr. J. R. Stratton was nominated in West Peterborough last week. The peculiarity of his speech of acceptance was the pompous air of superiority, the patronizing tone in which he addressed his audience. Mr. Stratton is like all the other Ontario Ministers in that he is not a public servant seeking the suffrages of the sovereign electors, but a great magnate kindly condescending once more to permit his subjects to enjoy the benefits of his generosity. The story related by Mr. Stratton was a story of expenditures entered upon for the benefit of an unworthy and altogether undeserving people. Out of the goodness of his heart Mr. Stratton has permitted asylums and jails to be built and maintained, while his colleagues, also inspired by charitable feelings, have allowed railways to be constructed, and the Agricultural College to keep open its doors."

We have no hesitation, whatever, in characterising the above as arrant drivel. It is the publication of articles of this stamp that has caused that once great journal to stink in the nostrils of many of its old time supporters. About thirty or forty gentlemen from Lakefield attended the convention in Peterborough and we venture to say that there is not one of them but would cheerfully acknowledge that Mr. Stratton's speech was one absolutely free from any suspicion of pompous superiority. This was evidently also the opinion of the vast assembly present, judging from the enthusiastic plaudits. The trouble with the Mail and Empire and in fact with most Opposition organs seems to be that the continual straining after power has caused such an astigmatism of their moral perceptions that they mistake geniality for pomposity, candour for hypocrisy and political acumen for political trickery.

THE GREAT WHEAT PROBLEM.

Is

Now that the Northwest wheat crop is assuming large proportions the question is being discussed as to the best way to market it. Hitherto farmers have thrown all their wheat on the market at once, and, while the crop was small, the world absorbed it with no appreciable disturbance of values. Now that the exportable crop has reached fifty million bushels the situation has changed, and newspapers devoted to the grain and milling interests of the United States claim that the Manitoba crop has been the strongest bear influence in depressing prices this season. It is true that a great deal of this wheat could not be got out of the country, because of the inability of the railways to handle it, but much of what was left was rushed into the elevators and so appeared in the visible supply and was a factor in all calculations. The Commercial concludes that if the farmer would provide storage on the farm and market the grain in a smaller stream, spreading it over a longer period, the depressing influence of the big crops would not be as keenly felt. That there is something in this conclusion is shown by the fact that our wheat was sold for export at a price below corresponding Duluth and Minneapolis grades, because as much of the late crop as possible was rushed out of the country for what it would fetch. The American Miller concludes that the United States wheat grower is no longer the controlling factor in Mark Lane, and that this conclusion would have been forced home sooner if the Canadian car famine had not greatly retarded the movement abroad of the Canadian crop. The Miller says:—"No one is prepared to say when Canada will produce a hundred million bushels of wheat, but it will not be long hence. This hundred million bushels will then be dumped on the English or Continental markets within six months, the same as the fifty million bushels are now, for want of granaries on the farms or elevators in the towns to store it. It must be got rid of as quickly as it is threshed, and the effect on trade is obvious."

The plan proposed by the United States trade to overcome this Canadian competition, is the removal of the United States duty on the wheat. Thereby it is assumed that the Canadian grain would go into the United States to be stored in their elevators and ground in their mills, and practically the whole crop would come under United States influence. The subject is an interesting, indeed, to many, a fascinating one, as so many other subjects of importance are connected with it. In the first place, it is certain that United States farmers would oppose the abolition of the duty, as they fear certain nearby competition more than any theoretical possibilities abroad. Should their opposition be overcome, however, and the exportable balance of the Canadian North-West wheat be marketed in the United States, what would become of that question so often debated, of carrying Manitoba wheat to Europe by way of the St. Lawrence? It is true that some of it would eventually come this way, but it would be through United States sources, and be carried largely by the United States lake marine. This would eventually, it would seem, retard the growth of the Canadian lake marine, unless it led to some modification of the navigation laws affecting the lake shipping of the two countries. On the other hand, the purchase of a hundred million bushels of wheat would quite alter the figures showing the relative value of our mutual commerce. Last year we bought from the United States to the value of $110,485,000, and sold to her goods valued at $72,382,000. A hundred million bushels of wheat at only 70 cents a bushel amounts, however, to $70,000,000, and in a few years the United States may be complaining that the balance of trade is very much against her. These are only speculations, however interesting. What seems certain is that the car famine in the North-West did have the effect of preventing something of a slump in the market, and the St. Lawrence route seems likely to benefit this season by having an additional amount of grain to carry. — Montreal Witness.

ADMITS THAT HE IS DILLON.

Welland Dynamiter Will No Longer Pass as Dallman.

Buffalo, March 30.—A special to The Express from Kingston says that Dallman has confessed that he is Dillon, the Clan Na Gael executive.

It is now believed that the discovery of Dallman's identity was the reason for the special guard being placed outside the walls of the prison every night. The authorities know that in him they have a prisoner whom it is important to hold, and extra precautions were deemed advisable to preclude any possibility of escape.

The fact is now recalled that when Dallman entered the penitentiary he tried to pass off as a Dutchman, but the sham was transparent, and there has been no doubt from the first that he is an Irishman of the physical force party.

Trouble in the East.

London, March 31.—In a letter from Athens, published this morning in The Times, the correspondent says there are many indications that grave trouble is coming in Macedonia and Albania. There is no doubt that M. Sarafoff (chief of Macedonian Committee) has planned a general rising of the Christian populations of European Turkey for the coming spring. The protests of the powers, writes the correspondent, urged to action by the Greek circular, have resulted in Turkey making energetic military preparations, in the face of which it is possible that M. Sarafoff will not venture to put his plans into execution. Still, owing to Russian machinations and the jealousies of the powers, continues The Times correspondent, which prevent the execution of the reforms stipulated in the Berlin treaty, the outlook is disquieting.

Boy Kills a Child.

Toledo, O., March 30.—Danny Rosenbecker, 13 years old, was arrested this morning for the murder of 7-year-old Arthur Shanteu. The parents of the boys reside on adjoining farms two miles from this city. Rosenbecker says that while he and Shanteu were hunting crawfish yesterday afternoon, the latter called him a name and attempted to strike him with a club, whereupon he retaliated by striking Shanteu with a butcher knife.

WIND ON A RAMPAGE.

Crowded Church Unroofed at Knoxville, Pa., the Spire of Another Struck by Lightning—People Injured.

Pittsburg, March 30.—In a terrific windstorm to-day, the Knoxville Presbyterian Church in Knoxville was unroofed. The church at the time was filled with an Easter congregation numbering about 600 persons. While the minister was in the midst of his sermon, a strong gust of wind blew over the large chimney and lifted a portion of the roof off the building. The bricks from the chimney crashed thru the roof and carried a huge piece of the hardwood ceiling, measuring about 40 x 20 feet, down upon worshippers in the pews. Forty persons were hurt. Five may die.

As Rev. J. W. English, pastor of the Robinson Run U. P. Church, near McDonald, was raising his arms to pronounce the benediction lightning struck the church spire, and it toppled upon the roof, crushing it and injuring a number of worshippers, two of whom will die.

The Noblestown Presbyterian Church was also unroofed, but the congregation escaped injury.

A bulletin received from Wellsburg, W.Va., at 1 a.m., says two people are dead and several injured.

Buffalo Torn Loose.

Buffalo, N.Y., March 30.—A wind storm swept over the eastern suburbs of this city this evening, doing considerable damage. Trolley poles were twisted, splintered and broken, sidewalks were torn up and hurled great distances, and small trees were uprooted. Fortunately, the storm spent its force in an almost unpopulated part of the city and its path was very narrow. William Patton, a cab driver, was thrown from the seat of his carriage into a network of live wires and badly burned. At the hospital it is said he will recover. One of the horses was killed, and the four occupants of the carriage were slightly injured.

Five Dollars a Box

The Price Cut no Figure With Him.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop my purchasing them should I ever suffer again as I did for a week before using them.

The one 50 cent box I bought at my druggist's did the work and my digestion is all right again.

Many of my neighbours have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented and Mr. Ellms also wants me to use his name in endorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. (Signed,) A. Ellms and Chas. F. Buzzell, Asst. Postmaster, South Sudbury, Mass.

Mrs. Jas. Barton, of Toronto, Canada, writes:—"For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took meicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surpised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestive, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere endorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

Shot in Self Defence.

Parry Sound, March 29.— Thomas Hooper, held in connection with the death of Samuel Cooper of Seguin Falls, formerly of Toronto, was discharged Thursday. The evidence at the trial showed that Hooper had shot in self-defence. The judge declared the shooting was perfectly justifiable.

Hooper is 65 years of age. Cooper was younger and a big man. The deed was done under great excitement and fear.

Peculiar Fatal Accident.

Gorrie, March 29.—A very sad fatality occurred in Gorrie last evening, which resulted in the death of Mr. Henry Sanderson, contractor, of this place. He was in the act of fishing close to the bridge, when his fishing pole came in contact with a live electric light wire. As a consequence he was instantly killed. Deceased was in his 42nd year, and leaves a widow and a family of three to mourn his loss.

POPE SAYS HIS END IS NEAR.

His Easter Encyclical Is a Testament to the Church.

Rome, March 30.—The Osservatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican, prints the encyclical issued by the Pope to-day, in which he says the time has come when he must recognize that he is approaching the end of the term of his life on earth and that this encyclical should be his testament to the Catholic Church.

The Pope says he would encourage the Catholic Bishops thruout the world to continue vigorously to resist the persecutions which now afflict the Church. These persecutions will continue, but they will not affect the spread of the light of Christ among infidels. Never has humanity found itself in more miserable conditions than at present. There is disorder in all social relations and especially in family relations; excessive liberty has been created which has fostered socialism and anarchism.

Unjust wars, the encyclical says, are being waged by strong nations against weak and feeble peoples. There are exaggerated armaments among great nations, the effects of which are even more disastrous than war. All these things have created world-wide inquietude. Unceasing troubles and misery have provoked the people to anarchism, which henceforth promises to constitute a formidable league against Emperors, Kings and Presidents of all governments. These governments must adopt decisive measures for the defence of genuine liberty and must enforce the teaching of religion.

In conclusion the Pope invokes the union of Christian churches as the leading remedy to save society from the violent attacks of Atheists and Freemasonry. He maintains the necessity of upholding the temporal rights of the church and counsels the active spread of Catholic workmen's societies.

His Holiness thanks the bishops for their friendly manifestations on the occasion of his jubilee and proceeds to deplore the spread of Atheism, which he finds to be invading all departments of the state. He also condemns the forthcoming institution of the law of divorce in Italy, and urges all Catholics to combat doctrines contrary to religion.

Drugs Couldn't Cure Her.

Lydia Lepard, of Holt, Ont., Tries the New System of Curing People With Marvelous Success.

I have been a sufferer for about five years from stomach trouble. My stomach was so weak that I could not eat enough to keep my strength up, and at last got so weak that I had to take to bed. I was treated by three of the best doctors, but could get no relief. I had taken all kinds of patent medicine and drugs, but couldn't get relief that way. I commenced taking Ozone because I believed that drugs couldn't cure me, and I wanted to try this natural method. I must say it has worked wonders in my case. I can eat a hearty meal, and now I feel brighter and better than I have done for years. I am completely cured.

I also suffered from rheumatism in my side and arm, and the Ozone has completely cured that trouble. Signed Lydia Lepard, Holt, Ont.

A great many people think it is necessary to take a pill to make their bowels move, a tablet to give them a good digestion, and a powder to make them sleep. They wouldn't require these drugs if they were to keep their systems healthy in a natural way by using Powley's Liquified Ozone. People with sedentary occupations find that by taking Ozone it has the same effect as exercise or a good long walk. Their blood obtains its required amount of oxygen and they enjoy robust health. You can do likewise. This new discovery is for sale at all druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle.

A CAPE COLONY FIGHT

Marshall's Horse Severely Handled Near Sutherland.

THE PURSUIT OF MR. STEYN

Mr. Schalkburger Unable to Find Him—He and Dewet Have Been Traced to Parys—West of the Railway in Northern Orange River Colony — Another Canadian Hit.

London, March 31.—A casualty list published Saturday afternoon records a hitherto unreported fight in the Rhenoster Valley, near Sutherland, Cape Colony, March 24, when the British were evidently severely handled. They lost eight men killed and ten men wounded, and twenty-nine were captured. The latter have since been released.

HUNTING FOR MR. STEYN.

So Far Mr. Schalkburger Has Not Found Him to Talk Peace.

Pretoria, March 31.—The efforts of Acting President Schalkburger to open negotiations with Mr. Steyn, the former President of the Orange Free State, have thus far been unsuccessful. Dewet and Steyn have crossed the main line of the railroad going west. They were escorted by Vannickirk and Vandermerwe, and have been traced to Parys, about 30 miles northwest of Heilbron road, Orange River Colony, by Col. Garrett.

More Peace Movements.

London, March 31.—Nothing more definite has transpired concening the peace negotiations in South Africa.

Messrs. Wessels and Wolmarans, the Boer delegates, who were recently in the United States, have been interviewed since they returned to France, and then expressed their hope that a satisfactory compromise would follow Mr. Schalkburger's mission.

Mr. Wessels is credited with declaring that Mr. Kruger would approve any terms of peace arrived at in South Africa.

The Hague correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says, in a despatch, that he believes Dr. Kuypers, the Dutch Premier, who started last Thursday on a visit to Belgium and Germany, goes to these countries in the interests of peace.

BRITISH OFFICERS' EXECUTION.

Australian Premier Asks Lord Kitchener For Details.

Melbourne, March 31.—Official details of the execution of Australian officers for having shot unarmed Boer prisoners in South Africa are anxiously awaited here. The wife of Lieut. Handcock one of the officers, was not aware of his fate until the news was published yesterday.

The Rt. Hon. Edmund Barton, Premier of the Australian Commonwealth, has sent a message to Lord Kitchener, asking for particulars of the affair.

Details Known Through Leakage

London, March 31.—The details have been known in military circles here through a leakage from the War Office, but have been kept out of the newspapers. Lord Kitchener's rigorous enforcement of discipline can hardly escape observation when Parliament meets. The Australian officers were arrested, tried by court-martial, and sentenced either to imprisonment or death.

The British Revenue.

London, March 31.—A Treasury report, issued yesterday, shows that the total revenue of the United Kingdom for the year ending March 31, 1902, was £152,691,637, as compared with £140,018,624 in the previous year. The largest contribution came from excise duties, which amounted to £33,000,000. The property and income tax receipts were £34,000,000, and the money received from customs, £31,000,000. The balance on March 31 was £8,228,029.

Scott of the 43rd, Capt. Rennie of the Queen's Own and Staff-Sergeant Bayles of the Royal Grenadiers have accepted positions. Surgeon-Major Ross of the 77th is unable to go and has consequently been forced to decline.

To Refit Shamrock II.

New York, March 31.—The Press will say to-day: Preparations are being made for the refitting of Shamrock II. Work on the defeated British challenger was begun last Thursday, in the Erie Basin. Much secrecy is observed about the yacht, but it is said Sir Thomas Lipton intends to refit her and take her to the Great Lakes, via the St. Lawrence and the Welland Canal.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief, and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the region of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25 cent bottles.

Jamaica Is Disappointed.

Kingston, Ja., March 31.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, replying to a memorial from the members of the legislature, says that, with all goodwill towards the people of Jamaica and their representatives, he cannot consent to the new constitution until the existing conditions have been given a fair and adequate trial, and by common consent have been found wanting. General disappointment is expressed over Mr. Chamberlain's reply.

One Thousand Killed.

Pekin, March 20.—Chinese officials say that a thousand people have been killed in riots at Ta Ming Fu, the southernmost prefecture of the Province of Chi Li. This, perhaps, is an exaggeration, but the loss of life was undoubtedly great.

Soldiers have been despatched to quiet the disturbance, and missionaries have been warned to keep out of the disturbed district.

Killed by an Engine.

Belleville, March 31.—Miss Laura Penny of this city attempted to cross the railway track at the city depot Saturday afternoon in front of a moving train and was killed. She was 50 years of age and an old and respected resident of the city.

A STEAMER ON FIRE

Pretoria, for Bermuda, Had to Return to New York.

HAY ON FIRE NEXT PETROLEUM

Steamer's Passengers Were Transferred at Sea to the Noordland, Which Returned to New York With Them —They Were Free From Panic, Although the Circumstances Were Fear-Inspiring.

New York, March 30.—The steamer Pretoria of the Quebec line returned to this port to-night with fire in her forward hold. Her passengers came in a short time previously on the steamer Noordland of the American line, having been transferred at sea. The Pretoria is anchored at Tompkinsville, and fire boats from the city were despatched to her assistance about 9.30 p.m. The Noordland is anchored off quarantine, and the passengers taken from the Pretoria will be landed in the morning, after which she will proceed on her voyage to Liverpool.

The Pretoria left this port Saturday afternoon bound for Hamilton, Bermuda, with Captain McKenzie in command. At midnight smoke was seen coming from the forward hold. The fire could not be exactly located. The engines were stopped and Captain McKenzie got everything ready for any emergency which might arise. The lifeboats were put in condition for hasty lowering and were stocked with provisions. At this time the vessel was 100 miles south of Sandy Hook.

At 6 o'clock this morning (Sunday) the captain saw that the flames in the hold were making headway against the stream of water pouring into the compartment. This determined, Captain McKenzie turned his vessel for New York.

At 9 o'clock the steamer Noordland hove in sight. She was bound from Philadelphia to Liverpool. The Pretoria signalled her. While the Noordland lay close by, Captain McKenzie opened the hatches. He found that a shipment of hay in the front compartment was blazing fiercely, and what made the danger much worse was that the next compartment was stored with petroleum.

This decided Captain McKenzie to remove his passengers, who during all this time, had given no evidence of panic.

After the passengers were transferred to the lifeboats, both vessels came on to New York.

The Pretoria had on board 28 first cabin passengers, 10 in the second cabin and 19 in the steerage.

Ashore in St. John Harbor.

Halifax, N.S., March 30.—The S.S. Lake Superior is ashore in St. John Harbor. The steamer arrived from Liverpool this afternoon, and in coming to anchor at the Upper Quarantine grounds she dragged her anchor chain and swung on to the round reef. Troop & Co., agents of the Elder-Dempster Co., and owners of the Lake Superior, say they expect the steamer is allright. The vessel is still hard on the reef, but they say the bottom is soft. Efforts to float her have been abandoned for the present, because of the falling tide. Another attempt will be made to get her off at high tide in the morning. There are about 1000 immigrants aboard. If the steamer cannot be floated at the next effort the passengers will be taken off and conveyed to the Sand Point Immigration Building.

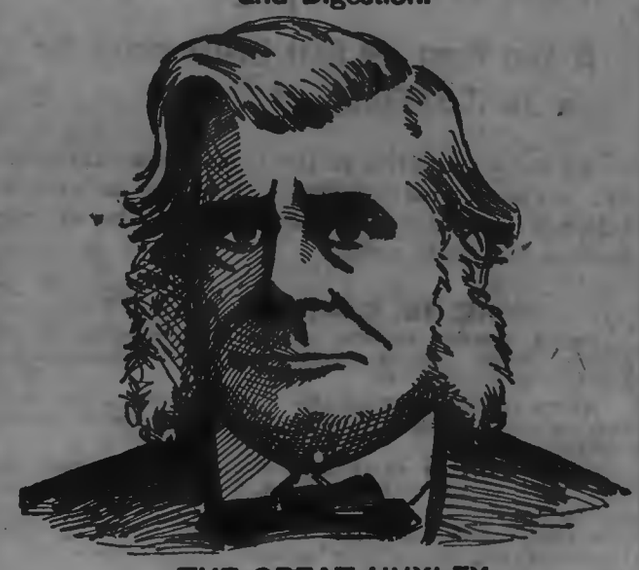
Karl's Clover Root Tea corrects the Stomach

A Law Unto Himself.

Every Man Must be That, to Retain His Health and Digestion.



THE GREAT HUXLEY.

There are thousands of people in this world who eat no meat from one year's end to another, and certain savage tribes in Africa and Polynesia are almost exclusively meat eaters; but while there are thousands of these there are millions who live upon a mixed diet of meat, vegetables and grains, and if numbers is a criterion, it would seem that a mixed diet is the best for the human family.

The fact that you will find many vegetarians who appear healthy and vigorous and meat eaters equally so, and any number of robust specimens who eat both meat and vegetables, and anything else that comes their way, all goes to show that the old saw is the true one, that every man must be a law to himself as to what he shall eat and drink.

To repair the waste of tissue in brain workers as well as to replace the muscle and sinew of the labourers, can only be done through the process of digestion.

Every nerve, muscle, sinew, every drop of blood is extracted from the food we eat and digest.

In these days of hustle and worry, and artificial habits of life, scarcely one person in a thousand can lay claim to a perfect digestion; dyspepsia is a national affliction, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a national blessing.

Most cases of poor digestion are caused by failure of the stomach to secrete sufficient gastric juice, or too little Hydrochloric acid and lack of peptones and lack of these important essentials to perfect digestion are found in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in convenient palatable form.

The great English Scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and peptogenic products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion, is to take after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant, harmless form all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

One or two of these tablets taken after meals insure perfect digestion and assimilation of the food.

Cathartic pills and laxative medicines have no effect whatever in digesting food, and to call such remedies a cure for dyspepsia is far fetched and absurd.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain pepsin free from animal matter, diastase and other digestives, and not only digest all wholesome foods, but tend to increase the flow of gastric juices, and by giving the weak stomach a much needed rest bring about a healthy condition of the digestive organs and a normal appetite.

Nervous, thin-blooded, run-down people should bear in mind, that drugs and stimulants cannot furnish good blood, strong muscles and steady nerves; these come only from wholesome food, thoroughly digested; a fifty cent box of Stuart's Tablets taken after meals for a few weeks will do you more real good than drugs, stimulants and dieting combined.

Henry Kirkpatrick, of Lawrence, Mass., says: "Men and women whose occupation precludes an active outdoor life should make it a daily practice to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals, I have done so myself and I know positively that I owe my present health and vigour to their daily use.

"From the time I was 23 when I graduated from school with broken health from overwork until I was 34, I scarcely knew what it was to be free from stomach weakness, I had no appetite whatever for breakfast and very little for any other meal.

"I had acidity and heartburn nearly every day and sometimes was alarmed by irregularity and palpitation of the heart, but all this gradually disappeared after I began using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I can eat my meals with relish and satisfaction which I had not known since I was a growing boy."

Mrs. Jas. Barton, of Toronto, Canada, writes: "For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken, all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble, and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surprised at the change they have made in me."

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Calif., says: "Have used and recommended Stuart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right."

Mr. E. H. Davis, of Hampton, Va., says: "I doctored five years for dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, than in five years of the doctor's treatment."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is probably the safest, most popular and successful digestive on the market and sold by druggists everywhere in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Choir of Jarvis Street Baptist Church Will Come to Town on May 12th.

The music loving public of Peterborough is to be once more indebted to Mr. John Crane, organist and choir master of St. Paul's Church for the excellence of the musical talent that he is about to bring to town. Mr. Crane has made arrangements for a sacred concert in St. Paul's church on the evening of May 12th, when the Jarvis street Baptist church, of Toronto, will provide the programme. The sacred concert is being put on by the choir of St. Paul's, not with a view of making money but for the educational affect it should produce amongst the choirs of the town. Only a small admission fee sufficient to cover the expense of the undertaking will be asked. The Jarvis street Baptist church choir is under the directorship of Mr. Vogt, who is also leader of the celebrated Mendlessohn choir, of Toronto, which is acknowledged to be the best in Canada. The Toronto vocalists will come to Peterborough and will return by special train so that there will be considerable expense incurred. The choir will consist of 50 voices.

As before stated the scheme is for the purpose of giving the choirs of the various churches of the town an opportunity of hearing a choir of well trained voices under an exceptionally able leadership. The enterprise on behalf of Mr. Crane and his choir is deserving of warm praise and should be largely patronized.

The game will last one solid hour. At the ten minutes intermission Mr. J. Halpany will entertain the spectators, so that the time will be fully occupied. The local team will be as follows: Defence, Ross Dobbin and W. Campbell; Centre, Fred Smith; forwards, Sandford Hall and Geo. Robertson; referee, Horace Ayers. The Ottawa team will be as follows; Defence, Lamb, Musgrove; centre, J. Watt; forwards, Merritt, Hill.

CANED AND CHAINED.

A Peterborough Boy's Hearty "Send-off."

It always gives the Examiner pleasure to record the success of Peterborough boys abroad, who bring credit upon themselves, directly, and, indirectly, upon the town; and to note the respect and appreciation which their brains and moral ballast win for them in other places.

Mr. Stanley W. Matthews, son of Mr. Benjamin Matthews, town, and a graduate of the Collegiate Institute, where was laid the good foundation of the knowledge he has put to so good use, has for some time filled the position of mathematical master in the Fort William High School, and so capably that his work has attracted attention even at the far distant Pacific Coast. He was offered at a good advance in salary, and accepted, the billet of mathematical and commercial master in the Vancouver, B. C., High School.

The occasion of his recently leaving Fort William, it is learned from the local press, was marked by evidences of the esteem he has gained there. His pupils in the High School presented him with a complimentary address and a beautiful gold locket and chain, and his friends in the social element, at an entertainment in his favour, presented him with an elegant silver mounted umbrella.

The many friends of Mr. Matthews and his family in Peterborough will be pleased to learn of his success, though it removes him to the "jumping off place" of the Dominion—he has "gone west" so far that he can't go much further without completing the circle and going east again.

—The congregation of St. Paul's church were very nearly being left without any organ music yesterday. Something went wrong with the organ and it was only with great difficulty that the defect was repaired to some extent and the organ was able to be used. Its condition hardly did justice to the organist and soloists.

DEATH OF MRS. J. T. WHITE.

Eldest Sister of Messrs. A. R. and R. J. Kidd of Town.

Information was received in town this morning of the death of Christy Kidd, wife of Alderman J. T. White, of Kingston, and eldest sister of Messrs. A. R. and R. J. Kidd, of town. The deceased has been a sufferer from heart trouble for some time, and complained considerably when visiting last summer at the old homestead in Dummer. Her death, however, came unexpectedly, and will occasion deep sorrow to her many friends, who have long appreciated her many fine attributes of heart and mind. Three children survive — Dr. Napier White, Captain Bert White and Miss Lillie. The funeral will take place on Wednesday and will be attended by a number of relatives from this vicinity.

PRESENTED PARTING TOKENS.

Miss Marks Remembered by the Pupils of the South Central School.

Miss Mark, who has resigned her position on the teaching staff of the South Central School, was pleasantly surprised on Thursday morning last by the teaching staff and the pupils of her class. The former presented Miss Mark with a very handsome silver salver and a terra cotta vase as a token of their friendship and esteem, and as remembrancers.. At a pleasing concert arranged for the morning, the girls of Miss Mark's class made her the recipient of a dainty china fruit set, Miss Hazel Buller making the presentation and Miss Rosa Mulholland reading a suitable address. The boys also took pleasure in presenting their teacher with an elegant brass clock. Stanley Bamford presided with ability at the entertainment, and for this particular feature Norman Hatton delivered an apt address expressive of regret at Miss Mark's departure, their appreciation of her efforts and hearty well-wishes and esteem for her. Willie Cox presented the gift.

Miss Mark feelingly thanked her pupils for their very kindly expressions and evidences of sincere friendship.

Miss Mark leaves on Monday for a visit among friends at Kingston.

JUDGMENT IN JORY CASE.

Defendant has Been Ordered to Pay $3.00 a Week.

The Case has Been Appealed to the County Judge and Will Come up Again.

In the County Police Court, on Saturday, County Magistrate Edmison, delivered judgment in the case of Jory vs. Jory, which was heard before him some weeks ago.

The complainant in the case was Elizabeth Jory, who laid her complaint against her husband Edwin Jory, under "The Deserted Wives Maintainance Act" with a view to obtaining an order requiring the husband to pay her a weekly sum not exceeding $5.00 for her maintainance and support. The act provides that a married woman deserted by her husband may take proceedings of this nature. The act also declares that a married woman shall be deemed to have been deserted within the meaning of the act, when she is living apart from her husband because of repeated assaults or other acts of cruelty. It also provides that no order for payment of any sum by the husband shall be made in favour of a wife, who is found to have committed adultery, unless the adultery has been condoned; and any order made may be discharged at anytime upon proof that the wife since the making thereof has been guilty of adultery.

At the time of the hearing of the case there were a great many witnesses examined, and the details of the case were thoroughly gone into. After reviewing the evidence and citing cases of reference, in one of which Blake & Co. argues for the complainant, Police Magistrate Edmison says, "I fully agree with the reasoning of this K. C., and I am of the opinion that the proximate act and circumstances proved in this case is not sufficient to remove it beyond the region of suspicion, and is not sufficient to warrant me in branding the wife as having been guilty of adultery. To find a woman judically, a woman guilty of such a serious offence is a most serious thing—it is of the most dire consequence to her, and not only that, but her children and relatives are injuriously affected, and such a finding should never be made in the absence of direct testimony, except upon the evidence of the most convincedescription, and in this case the evidence is not of that description, and the defence must fall for want of sufficient proof.

The magistrate made an order in favour of the wife of $3.00 a week, and the expenses of the trial.

R. B. Hall for complainant; A. O. Langley for defendant.

It is understood that the case has been appealed and that it will come up before His Honour Judge Ketchum, on the 11th of April.

UNFAIR CRITICISM.

The Review says Mr. Stratton sometimes complains about the Review's criticism of his public actions. The Examiner might quietly remind the Review that Mr. Stratton does not complain of any criticism. It is wilful and deliberate misrepresentation of his public actions that he feels he has reason to object to. For instance Mr. Stratton addressed the Young Liberal Club at Hamilton on Monday evening last. The Hamilton Times contained about three columns of a synopsis of Mr. Stratton's address on that occasion. During his remarks, Mr. Stratton pointed out that he was frequently surprised at the criticism of the actions of the Government. He read an extract of puerile comment from the Hamilton Spectator which showed a lamentable and unpatriotic ignorance of provincial conditions and resources and a lamentable lack of patriotism on the part of the editor of the Spectator. It was as follows:

"Is not this New Ontario business being overdone? Is it in the interest of Old Ontario, which foots the bill, that the boomsters of New Ontario should be glutted with success? Is it not possible that Old Ontario is paying too much for the whistle when it is "building up" New Ontario? What is there up there BESIDES ALLEGED MINES? Is there any farming land? Is it such a place as one would advise a friend to go to grow up with the country? If it really is, as the boomers say, the best place on earth, how is it that it requires so much booming—so much "building up" at the cost of the people of Old Ontario?"

Mr. Stratton expressed the opinion that such contemptible nonsense would disgrace the columns of the most insignificant journal in the province, yet it was such stuff as this that was printed for the intelligent electors of Hamilton. Mr. Stratton pointed out that one of the "alleged mines"—the Helen Mine—had last year alone paid to steamers over $200,000 for freight, conveying its ore to Midland, Hamilton, Deseronto and other ports; that another "alleged" mine had paid over $250,000 to the C.P.R. for freight. The Spectator asked "Is there any farming land?" "Is it such a place as one would advise a friend to go to?". Mr. Stratton pointed out that in the Rainy River District there were a million acres of excellent timbered farming land — as fine as any in the world — in one block fronting the Rainy River, and through which the Rainy River Railway runs, much of which was already being farmed, and settlers were pouring in. He also pointed out that at Wabigoon, over 46,000 acres had been taken up in the last two or three years by settlers; and also that the revenue from the timber, last year alone, from New Ontario amounted to $1,500,000. Mr. Stratton also showed that there were a million acres of excellent farming land in the Temiscaming District, and near at hand a grand area of 16,000,000 acres of splendid farming land had been explored and reported upon. He showed also that lands were taken up in the Temiscaming District 18 miles in advance of the colonization roads, and he proved the lack of information on the part of the editor of the Spectator to such an extent as to make that journal appear ridiculous. And that journal felt the criticism so keenly that its editor had retaliated by publishing the article which was repeated in Saturday's Review. Then, the Review hasn't even the decency or fair play to publish from the Hamilton Times the matter which called forth the belittling criticism, the local organ republished and gloated over. If the Review wanted to be fair it would at least have shown the difference of opinion between the Times and the Spectator by publishing the comments of both journals. But anything that the Review can scrape up anywhere derogatory to Mr. Stratton, is published. Referring to Mr. Stratton's address at Hamilton, the Times says:

"Hon. J. R. Stratton's address was the feature. It was Mr. Stratton's first appearance here, and on all sides his address was conceded to be one of the very best ever heard in Hamilton on Provincial issues. The Provincial Secretary has a great grasp of public affairs, and presents his facts in a most interesting, concise and consecutive way. He is ready of speech, choice in forms of expression, and has the bearing and finish of a past master of the art of public speaking."

Mr. Stratton does not claim to be an orator, and the remarks of the Times are altogether too flattering. It does not require an orator to set forth the claims of the Ross Government to the approval of the people.

A GOOD BEGINNING.

Hon. J. R. Stratton delivered an address at Hamilton on Monday evening last at the formal opening of the Hamilton Young Liberals' Club. Referring to the address of the Provincial Secretary, the Hamilton Times says:

"The attendance at the formal opening of the new Liberal Club rooms last night was all that could be desired, the presence of many ladies adding interest to the occasion. The managers of the club are to be congratulated upon the success of the affair, to ensure which they had spared no pains. Hon. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., for West Peterborough, and Provincial Secretary in the Ross Government, made the speech of the evening, taking up his task in a business-like way, and proving to the satisfaction of all present that the Government, of which he is a member is fully entitled to a continuation of the confidence of the people of Ontario. He did not bewilder his hearers with a maze of figures, but gave enough to amply justify his contention that the large expenditures of the Government have been made in the public interest, and that Hamilton and Wentworth County have received their fair share of the advantage. It would have been easy for the Government to pile up a large cash surplus by withholding from the municipalities the annual grants for education, charities, the administration of justice, the promotion of agriculture, etc., but the policy of the Government has been a saving to the people's pockets, and, notwithstanding this liberality, the Government has plenty left, both of cash in the banks and of interest-bearing assets. Mr. Stratton recalled that more than twenty-five years ago the Rykerts, Landers, Boultbees and other Opposition leaders had declared that direct taxation stared the province in the face, but the direct taxation has not come yet, and, he said, it will not come so long as the management of Ontario's affairs is entrusted to the Liberal party.

"He had a large map of Ontario on the wall behind the platform, and he showed what the Government and Legislature were doing for the development of the territory which Sir Oliver Mowat had secured for Ontario by the judgment of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, in spite of the determined efforts of the Conservatives to rob our people of their rightful property. In that district north of the lakes are many millions of acres of fertile lands, upon which the sons of Ontario can make comfortable homes for themselves, instead of going to the United States or Manitoba. There are hundreds of millions of cords of pulp wood, to feed the mills and keep the wheels of industry humming from which the estimated Government revenue at 40 cents per cord will exceed one hundred millions of dollars. There are mines of iron and nickel and copper and gold, the development of which is already employing many men at good wages, whose wants in the way of clothing, furniture, tools and the other necessaries of life, will be largely supplied by the manufacturing population of Hamilton and Toronto. To connect these two sources of wealth with the capital and other cities of the province, the Government has encouraged the building of railways on terms which carefully conserve the public interest. All this has been done in the face of the steady and malicious opposition of Mr. Whitney and his followers—an opposition so unreasonable that even an old hard-shell Tory like Mr. Marter was compelled to protest against it.

"Mr. Stratton's speech was a lesson to his audience on the extent and the resources of Ontario; he showed where the revenue will come from which will make direct taxation unnecessary, and will enable the Government to deal as liberally with the municipalities and the people in the future as in the past. He challenged any man to point to a Province, a State or a country so happily situated as Ontario from a financial point of view; with no debt, no Provincial taxation, a surplus in the bank, vast resources to draw upon for future support, room for the population to extend—all because of good, careful management by a Liberal Government. With such a record, and with such a policy, the Ross Government appeals to the people without fear of consequences. It makes no special bid for the support of any race or of any creed, but claims general support as the reward of having done what was right in its dealings with all the interests entrusted to its care.

"After Mr. Stratton's speech, a fair summary of which will be found in other columns of this issue, the gentlemen who followed him felt that the heavy work was done, and spoke in a lighter vein. Mr. Pattullo's contrast of Hamilton's two members—Carscallen with the "fatal gift of oratory," and Colquhoun without it—the one squirming with uneasiness when his Tory friends did or said something particularly foolish, and the other opening his mouth, shutting his eyes and voting Tory without question or reason—fitted in beautifully with local knowledge of the men. Mr. Pirie kept the audience in good humour during his brief discourse. He can make a hard political speech when he chooses, but last night he went in for fun, exercising his mathematical faculty on a calculation of how many years' subscription to the Dundas Banner the cordwood in New Ontario would pay for. Mr. Pirie and Mr. Pattullo were already favourites with the Hamilton Liberals, and after the acquaintance formed last night Mr. Stratton can always be sure of a cordial reception in this city."

THE REVENUE GROWS

A Splendid Advance in the Last Nine Months.

AN INCREASE OF $1,958,592

Speculation as to the Adjournment—One Section Thinks Prorogation Will Come Early in May; Another That It Will Not Be Till the 23rd May—Ontario House Dissolved.

Ottawa, March 31.—This being a Government holiday, the customs houses will be closed. The accounts of the month were made up Saturday. The revenue for March is therefore not for the full period of 31 days, as was the case last year. This makes the betterment which has occurred all the more gratifying.

The customs revenue for the nine months ending yesterday was $23,598,608, as against $21,640,015 for the same period of last year, showing an increase of $1,958,592. For the month of March the revenue was $2,923,398, as against $2,640,284 for the same month in 1901, being an advance of $283,162.

It is estimated from present indications that the revenue for the present fiscal year will be $31,500,000, as against $29,100,000 for the previous 12 months. The continued increase of revenue is such as to give the liveliest grounds for satisfaction.

Speculation as to Adjournment.

When the House reassembles on Tuesday Mr. Gus Porter, Conservative member for West Hastings, will resume the debate on the budget. The debate may possibly be concluded on Friday evening, but there is a likelihood of it going over till next week. Many of the members entertain the idea that there will be a revision of the tariff next session, and so are taking advantage of the present debate to put themselves on record. Opinions differ as to when the session will close. In some quarters it is thought that the House will prorogue early in May, but not a few members are of opinion that business will not be wound up till the 23rd of that month. At present there seems to be no good reason why the session should be prolonged until the latter date. Once the budget is ended the supplementary estimates will be brought down, and there will doubtless be railway subsidies and one or two Government measures. There are, of course, numerous private bills awaiting legislation, but in five weeks from now the Parliamentary slate should be wiped pretty clean.

THE LEGISLATURE DISSOLVED.

Ninth Parliament of Ontario Ends Though Lapse of Time.

Toronto, March 31.—Dissolution came to the ninth Parliament of the Ontario Legislature on Saturday by lapse of time, and none of its ninety-four members may now write M. P.P. after his name. The provision of the act of 1901, extending the life of the House in case the Legislature should be in session on the 29th of March of this year, was not taken advantage of, as the House had concluded its business two weeks previously. No intimation has been given as to the date of the elections but from the recent statement of Premier Ross and the activity of both parties it is unlikely that much time will be lost in issuing the writs.

Premier Ross will probably deliver an important speech at Newmarket on Friday afternoon in connection with the North York Liberal convention.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles as the trouble is likely to become chronic and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation, and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

Probably Fatal Accident.

Sault Ste. Marie, March 31.—Thomas James, a woodsman, was run over by a C.P.R. express. Engineer Roach noticed a man sitting on the track, but could not stop the train in time to avoid the accident. The train was stopped after the pilot had passed over James' body. He was taken out and carried to the hospital at Thessalon. He sustained a fracture of the right leg, and several serious bruises. It is feared the accident will prove fatal.

The Anaemic Young Girl.

Perhaps she is sixteen. Suddenly she seems to lose strength, her beauty fades because her strength fails, her eyes lose their lustre. How her spirit droops! It alarms you, but all this may be correctly quickly. Get her Ferrozone, it is a nerve tonic, it aids the stomach to do its work. Appetite? She'll eat anything, and digest it too. Ferrozone is an absolute specific for the anaemia of young people. Ask your druggist for it.

Laurie Guilty of Manslaughter.

Montreal, March 31.—At a late hour Saturday night, Edward Laurin, tried for killing his father's negro coachman, a man named Smith, was found guilty of manslaughter. The trial lasted 16 days, and the accused, who belongs to a good family, and who had served in South Africa, was defended by Donald Macmaster and H. C. St. Pierre, K.C.

Easter Memories

By B. G. MASON...

"EASTER and eggs 30 cents a dozen! Why, when I was a boy I could get them for the asking. When that mite of a girl brought her brother's luncheon today, she said, 'We won't get any eggs this Easter, John; they're too high.' Easter and no eggs! Think of it, Sarah!"

David Harris laid his paper across his knees, took off his spectacles and looked straight into the blazing wood fire as if gazing on some enchanted picture.

"I wish she'd come every day," he murmured softly. "Strange, but there was something about the girl that reminded me strongly of Beth—something pink on her hat or around her neck, I don't know just what, but Beth and her pink sunbonnet haven't been out of my mind this afternoon. Beth had a lovely peach bloom complexion, and those March winds down along the Delaware have such a way of burning delicate skins that Beth always wore sunbonnets when we went off on early spring tramps, and pink was her favorite color."

"Easter was a great day at your house, Cousin David," remarked his companion.

"Yes. Beth and I usually spent the afternoon before hunting eggs and coloring them. There were great boxes of them behind the counter in father's store, but we preferred to run over to grandfather's farm, a mile or more away, and hunt for what we wanted. It was fun.

"Grandmother's reply to our yearly question was ever the same, 'Certainly, my dears, run out to the henhouse and fill your baskets.' But the substantial brick henhouse with its sitting room and dining room and its up stairs where the fowls went to roost drew us not thither. We liked best to search for the hiding places of the outdoor hens, those that roamed over the farm at their own sweet will, stole their nests and laid whenever and wherever they pleased. There were no egg trusts in those days and no 'corners' in eggs, but plenty of nooks and corners where eggs were to be found, and we knew just where to look for them. Haystacks and strawstacks were favorite depositories, and Beth and I did love to slide down those great, clean, conical piles. Mangers and haymows where we loved to jump, calf pens and dog kennels always yielded bountifully and gave us no end of fun. Strikes! Such things were unknown. Those hens knew that they were born to lay eggs, and there was a jubilant cackling going on all day somewhere on the farm. It was always Easter with those hens.

"After the egg hunting Beth and I buried ourselves in the kitchen for the remainder of the day, with pots, pans, kettles and dyestuffs. It wouldn't have been half an Easter to us without colored eggs. Logwood chips produced a beautiful purple, onion skins a yellow tinge. For variety we sometimes stuck bits of beeswax on the shells, which in these places remained white and gave the eggs a spotted appearance.

"From mother's box of pieces or from some neighboring mother's box Beth brought forth bright colored figured calicoes, reds, blues, greens, etc., colors that would 'run.' She sewed a bit of cloth round each egg, then we dropped them into boiling water, where they remained a few minutes and came out with the figures and colors of the cloth stamped upon them. Artistic creations these were. We expressed our joy by dancing around the room, then laid the eggs separately on platters and exhibited them to admiring friends.

"Oh, Beth, Beth! It's twenty years or more since you went away, and I'd give the world for a glimpse of your sweet face under that pink sunbonnet now!" was the cry of the man's yearning heart. He bowed his head upon his hands and for a few moments seemed lost in thought.

The March wind whistled and shrieked without, emphasizing the silence within.

"Sarah," resumed Mr. Harris, rising suddenly, "I'd like to have John and his sister spend Easter with us. What do you say?"

"Why, yes, of course, with all my heart."

"We'll have them come, then, and we'll give them all the eggs they can eat for once. Don't believe they ever saw a hen's nest in their lives."

Corn Cure.

A certain cure for the most long standing corn will be found as follows: Mix a small piece of bread with a little vinegar; apply to corn two or three nights. It will then be completely cured.

Consumption is Infectious.

Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the White Plague. Persons coming in contact with consumptives should inhale Catarrhozone several times each day, as it is a powerful destroyer of germs and renders them inocuous. Catarrhozone is a most efficient preventive and may be thoroughly relied upon to promote expectoration, soothe the cough, and benefit in many ways too numerous to mention. Both from a medical and scientific point of view Catarrhozone is the most valuable addition to the armament against consumption. Its merit cannot be too warmly applauded. Sold at all druggists, two months' treatment, price $1; small size, 25c.; or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Vanished Interest.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "do you think that women ought to be prevented from voting?"

"Certainly not."

"Wouldn't you try to stop me if I tried to go to the polls?"

"Not for an instant."

"Well, then, what in the world is the use of wanting to vote?"

A Sluggish Inactive Liver

Brings Biliousness, Indigestion and Most Painful Bodily Derangements—The Wonderful Curative Influence of

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Not only is the liver the largest and one of the most important organs in the human body, but when deranged it becomes the source of endless suffering. When the liver is clogged by the inactivity of the kidneys and bowels it, becomes torpid and fails to filter the bile from the blood, thus producing biliousness and a general impairment of the digestive system.

The tongue is coated, the head aches, digestion is imperfect; there is aching of the limbs, and back, feelings of fullness, weight and soreness over the stomach and liver; the eye becomes yellow and jaundiced, and the complexion muddy; the urine is scanty and highly coloured, and the bowels irregular, constipation and looseness alternating. There is little use of treating the liver separately, as it can never be set right until the kidneys and bowels are made active in removing the waste matter from the body. It is for this very reason that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have always proved so wonderfully successful in curing the most chronic cases of liver complaint, biliousness and complicated ailments of the kidney, liver and bowels.

Mr. James Clark, Consecon, Prince Edward Co., Ont., states:—"Eleven years ago I was taken with pains in my back, settling in my hips and extending up my spine. The pain was very severe, and at times almost unendurable, and many days I was not able to do an hour's work. My weight was reduced from 190 to 160 pounds, and though I had consulted many first-class physicians and tried several advertised medicines, I could get no relief.

"At this time my father-in-law told me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and said he knew they would cure me. I secured a box, and great was my surprise when I began to feel better after using only the one box. I continued their use until I had taken four boxes, which made me a sound man, and I also regained my usual weight, 190 pounds. I cannot say too much in favour of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which have done so much for me. I have recommended them to a number of my friends and have never met with one case where they did not meet with good success. My daughter, Mrs. Chas. Philips, has also been cured of a severe stomach trouble by the use of these pills."

A Child's Cry

Pierces the mother's heart like a sword. Often the mother who would do everything for the little one she loves, is utterly impotent to help and finds no help in physicians. That was the case with Mrs. Duncan, whose little one was almost blind with scrofula. But fortunately she was led to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and so cured the child without resorting to a painful operation.

The great blood-purifying properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery have been proved over and over again in cases of scrofula, eczema, eruptions and other diseases which are caused by an impure condition of the blood. It entirely eradicates the poisons which feed disease, and builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh.

"My little daughter became afflicted with scrofula, which affected her eyes," writes Mrs. Agnes L. Duncan, of Mansfield, Sebastian Co., Ark. "She could not bear the light for over a year. We tried to cure her eyes, but nothing did any good. We had our home physician and he advised us to take her to an oculist, as her eyelids would have to be 'scraped.' They had become so thick he thought she would never recover her sight. As there was no one else to whom we could apply my heart sank within me. I went to your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser,' read your treatment on scrofula, getting the properties of medicines there advised. With five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I have entirely cured my child.

"Hoping this will be of some use to you and a blessing to other sufferers, with heartfelt thanks, I remain."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an excellent laxative for children. They are easy to take and thorough in action.

TWO SHIPWRECKED CREWS.

Steamer Oruro Arrives in Halifax With the Unfortunates.

Halifax, N.S., March 29.—The steamer Oruro, which arrived yesterday from the West Indies, brought the crews of two shipwrecked vessels, and landed them here. The Bright Clio, Capt. Gerhardt, of Lunenburg, N.S., was wrecked at St. Martins on Feb. 16 during a storm, and the crew were saved with difficulty. The other vessel was the schooner Cavalier, Capt. Dean, which was blown ashore during a heavy gale at San Domingo on Jan. 28. The vessel parted her chains and drifted on the rocks, the crew narrowly escaping with their lives. The Cavalier is owned in Hayti. The Oruro brought a full cargo. She has 7,000 bags of sugar for Montreal, a large quantity of rum for England, and a lot of molasses.

Krupp and Essen.

"The old lady," Herr Krupp's mother, managed the small business affairs while Alfred stepped into the shop, rolled up his sleeves, worked all day with his arms and then until midnight with his brain. They lived in a small cottage which is still standing in the factory and which he did not exchange for a better home until long after his marriage. I now quote Mr. Krupp's own words uttered on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the factory:

"From my fourteenth year I had the care of a family father during the day, added to hard work at the factory, and at night had to study how to overcome the difficulties in the way. During this period I lived on potatoes, bread and coffee and scant portions of meat and toiled until late in the night. For twenty-five years I struggled thus until conditions grew a little easier. My last remembrance of that period is the growing danger of total ruin and my endurance, suffering and hard labor to avert the calamity, and I say all this for the encouragement of young men who have nothing, are nothing and want to get something and be somebody."

In 1832 the factory gave employment to only ten men. At the time of Mr. Krupp's death over 40,000 men were employed in and about Essen, in the factory and the adjoining mines.

CANADA IN NEW YORK.

Hon. F. W. Borden, Minister of Militia, Reviews the Troops.

New York, March 29.—Last night was Canadian night at the military tournament, and the troops were reviewed by the Hon. F. W. Borden, Canadian Minister of Militia and Defence.

When the Minister arrived at Madison Square Garden he walked down the centre of the arena, accompanied by his staff, and preceded by the detachment of 48th Highlanders and their pipers. The box of honor was decorated with British flags. The house rose en masse as the band played "God Save the King."

Floods in the West.

Winnipeg, March 29.—Advices from Brandon yesterday say the river has risen four inches again, and is now overflowing its banks in many places. Residents on the flats are flooded out and a great many citizens have cellars full of water. Over $100,000 damage has been done there already. The C.P.R. managed to patch up their track in such a way that they were able to get a train through yesterday. The Great Northern is still in trouble, owing to a wash-out near Rosenfeldt. There is not much apprehension felt in Winnipeg. The rivers are still four or five feet below the banks, and an immense quantity of water would have to accumulate before it got dangerous. The ice has not yet moved.

28 Gallons of Blood

pass every hour through the heart kidneys and liver. How vastly important it is that this blood should be pure so that these important organs are not irritated. And also how important it is that each of these organs should be strong and healthy so that their work may be thoroughly accomplished. Merrill's System Tonic is not only a powerful purifier but a reconstructive tonic for these important organs. 50 doses, price 50c, at Ormond & Walsh.

Booked For a Museum.

She was an ignorant but ambitious woman, relates the Chicago Tribune, and the great ambition of her life was gratified when her husband was elected a member of congress. Immediately after the result of the election was known the new congressman's wife drove in from her country home to the county seat to call in triumph on her dearest enemies in a social way. She called first on the wife of the local banker, who had sent her three daughters through Vassar, and after receiving the congratulations of the family she turned the conversation to her plans for the future of her own daughter, Jennie.

"I am going to give Jennie every educational advantage," she said. "As soon as the congressman and I get to Washington we are going to put Jennie in the Smithsonian institute."

Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

An Elephantine Nurse.

Miss C. F. Gordon-Cumming in her book on Ceylon gives a few lines to a pet elephant, who seems to have been a creature of much amiability and intelligence. He had been captured young and was known as Kurunegalla Jack. He used to go the hospital rounds with his master, a medical officer, who had taught him to be generally useful and even to administer pills. A Malay soldier one day dropped his pill, whereupon Jack picked it up and dropped it into the man's open mouth with a puff that blew it safely down.

Glass.

A method of quickly rendering glass transparent during the process of manufacture consists in forcing into the melted materials a stream of oxygen gas, the enormous heat generated oxidizing all deleterious materials.

iscite was taken, it was true, but it was taken on the question of total prohibition, something which the Ontario Government had no power to legislate upon. The present Bill referred only to partial prohibition, which was not anything like the questions of the past. No fairer way could possibly have been selected to settle the matter than by the proposal to let the people pronounce their verdict by the Referendum.

Messrs. D. Belleghem and Andrew Macfarlane followed in brief addresses in reference to organization. Mr. A. C. McCallum also spoke.

Mr. E. B. Stone stated that he found a confident feeling prevailing all over the country that the Government majority would be greater than ever at the close of the present campaign. He urged the committeemen to work just as hard, however, as if they thought there was going to be a very tight run in West Peterborough, as all wanted to see the majority doubled, if possible. Mr. Stone closed with a pleasing reference to the personnel of the Cabinet, stating that none of the Ministers were above their job, as shown by the fact that the poorest man that calls at the Buildings receives just as much consideration as the richest.

Mr. F. D. Kerr stated that if there was any supporter of the Ross Government who had any doubts as to the wisdom of the Government's policy, he would not have to go to one of his own party to find out that the policy was all right, as we find Mr. Marter, late leader of the Opposition, breaking from his party in the matter of the developing of New Ontario, and the Referendum. On the Railway Policy, we also find that another member of the Opposition, Mr. Carnegie, does the same thing. When we find men doing this on the eve of an election none can but realize that the Government's policy is in the best interests of the country.

Mr. G. E. Martin expressed great confidence in the return of the Government. There was no public man whom he admired so much as Hon. G. W. Ross. In addition to his great powers as a public speaker he was a great and a good man. It would be a calamity indeed to the province if such a man on coming before the country for the first time as Premier, was left at home. There was happily no fear of anything like this occurring.

Mr. G. M. Roger was sure that the Conservatives realized that they could not beat Mr. Stratton even if they tried, and they realized that it would be a bad thing for the town if such a thing happened. The Liberals were consequently going into the election with the greatest confidence, while the supporters of the Opposition had to acknowledge themselves beaten at the start. Mr. Stratton could not be expected to agree with everyone. He would be a poor tool if he did. Peterborough wanted a man with courage enough to take his stand and who was not afraid to use his own judgment.

Mr. J. K. Stabler wanted to ask those people who wanted a change of Government, what they wanted it for? Affairs were prosperous from one end of the province to the other. No charges of extravigance could be brought against the Government, and the policy was most progressive. All should be satisfied. For his part he would do his best to elect Mr. Stratton.

Mr. Hugh Darke said that he had polled his first vote for Mr. Stratton and intended to do the same again this year.

Mr. R. R. Hall passed a strong eulogy upon the Ross Government; and Mr. Stratton as a member of it, had given excellent service and on that ground should be re-elected. Mr. Hall then went on to speak of the importance of effective organization, entering into details of the manner in which it should be carried out, giving many valuable suggestions as to the manner in which effective organization would be brought about.

CONCLUDING REMARKS.

Hon. Mr. Stratton spoke in conclusion, emphasing the suggestion made by Mr. Hall, and pointing out that owing to the rapid growth of the town the registrations to be made would be much larger than at any previous election. Referring to the attacks that had been made upon him in reference to some local matters, Mr. Stratton pointed out that there was no comparison in the conditions in connection with the Stony Creek dams and the Ennismore bridge. On the night before the last election, at a meeting in Ennismore, Mr. Garvin had made a big bid for local support by promising, if elected, that he would build a permanent iron bridge. He (Mr. Stratton) said he would make no promises, but he would do the best he could, and the electors of Ennismore took him at his word. When a deputation representing the township of Ennismore, the town and county, came to the Government, asking for a grant, they got all they asked for, and more, for at his (Mr. Stratton's) suggestion a sum of $500 was added for an approach, but as the county built the approach, the $500 was spent in Ennismore, and the residents got the advantage of better roads to reach the bridge, and no one was displeased at getting an aggregate grant in excess of what was asked for, except the Review. As to dams and works for the convenience of lumbermen and settlers, the Government were building two others in our northern waters, which would be of benefit to the Gilmour Company and to the settlers. If these dams were not built lumbermen and settlers could not get their logs to market. As to the Stony Creek dams, the Dickson Company knew that the interest of the Government was to provide facilities for getting lumber out, for the Government got a revenue of $1.25 on every thousand feet of logs that passed over the dams. The Government has been doing this for thirty years for lumbermen and settlers. There might be no large settlement there now, because the Government withholds lands from location on account of the danger of fire in the work of clearing. These dams would last for thirty years and more, and would be to the public. The Review simply attacked the Stony Creek dams because the Dickson Company was known to be composed of Liberals, and always showed which side it were on, and would have been Liberal whether the dams had been built or not. Why did not the Review attack the late Dominion Government for building dams of a similar kind in the interests of their political friends? Because the lumbermen benefitted were Conservatives — a circumstance which shows that it was not public interests but party capital that had dictated its attacks upon the speaker. Why, asked Mr. Stratton, could not the Opposition organ say something to the credit of a public man? In all his career the Review had never given him one word of credit, of encouragement, or help in his efforts to benefit West Peterborough, but by its bitter personal opposition had made it more difficult for him to procure benefits for the town and county. This was shown in regard to the principle involved in No. 5 dam, in which he (Mr. Stratton) had not now, or ever had, one cent of interest financially. He took the stand for the interest of the manufacturing development of the town, and in the interests of our merchants and workingmen, who would be benefitted by the employment given and wages earned and spent in the town. He insisted that the Government, to which on general principles he gave a most hearty support, should lease these water-powers at reasonable figures. He plainly told the Government through the Examiner, and otherwise, that if they valued his support they must take a stand in the matter of leasing these water-powers in the public interests. And they did take that stand and the results had been that thousands of dollars had been spent in construction and wages to the immediate and future benefit of the town. Was he, as the representative of the people, to stand idle and see capital kept idle, labour deprived of employment and our factories waiting to be built without

A PERMANENT CONVENIENCE

to get the conditions favourable to water power being developed at a reasonable rate? He did not stand idle. He did his best to get good terms from the Government and he would not have been worthy of his position had he done anything else. (Applause.) And the stand he took in the public interest in regard to No. 5 dam he took in regard to other dams on the river. The Mail and Empire had attacked him, but it suddenly became silent, when it was shown in the Examiner that the Mail lived on the profits of the greatest water power steal on the continent, and the course of the Review in regard to the Ennismore bridge and the Dickson dams was not dictated by any desire to promote the public interests, but only by a desire to personally attack and injure, if it could, an opponent, no matter how much, at the same time, the public interests were injured. Mr. Stratton said he was bound to do his best for the public and his constituents no matter how much his personal course was attacked. After referring to the hopeful outlook for the Ross Government in the country, Mr. Stratton remarked that his position in the Government would call him outside the riding a good deal and in his absence at the call of duty, he trusted, and he was sure he would not trust in vain, to his friends and supporters in West Peterborough carrying on the campaign as vigourously as if he were at home and to stand by him in his efforts to build up the town and benefit West Peterborough in every possible way. (Loud applause.) And we would have a great victory not only in East and West Peterborough, but throughout the Province. (Applause.)

The most successful preliminary organization meeting ever held in the town came to a close with cheers for the King, the Ross Government and Mr. Stratton.

ST. JOHN'S AND ALL SAINTS'

Vestry Meetings That Were Held Last Night.

THE NEW CHURCH WARDENS.

St. John's Church Finances are in a Healthy Condition—The Wardens Thanked.

The annual Vestry Meeting of St. John's church was held last night. There was a large attendance of the memebrs of the congregation of both sexes, and much interest was manifested throughout.

After the meeting had been opened the Churchwardens presented their reports for the past year, which were unusually interesting. Both Mr. John Bell and Mr. W. E. Conway read carefully prepared statements, giving the financial history for the year and indicating the present position of the church. From these the most important fact was disclosed that while the congregation had begun the financial year under a load of accumulated debts aggregating some $1200 by the operations of the year these had all been paid in full and a balance left in the treasury which would be devoted to needed improvements. This condition had been arrived at by a policy of strict economy and by a vigorous canvass of arrearages, which had been almost entirely paid or written off the books, so that the new year is begun under favourable conditions. The only indebtedness of the church to-day was the mortgage debt, and as the interest on it had been reduced in ten years from $669 per annum to $200, it was felt that it should be left alone for the present, without burdening the congregation.

The report went on to point out that it was most necessary to continue the policy of economy and to further increase the revenue of the church, although a considerable sum of money would have to be spent at once on the sidewalks and other needed improvements.

Appreciative reference was made to the valuable services of the organist, Miss Cochrane, and the choirmaster, Mr. Glidden, who had efficiently and kindly served the church. A decided advance had been made during the year in the quality of the music, and the Wardens recommended that more financial encouragement be given, if possible, to the members of the choir.

During the year a number of the members of the congregation had been visited and given information in regard to the financial position of the church, and with the assistance of the Advisory Committee this work should be largely increased during the coming year. In closing the reports urged that to whatever extent the present position of the church might be deemed satisfactory, the credit should be given to the financial support the members of the congregation had given to the Wardens in the work.

The chairman handed to the outgoing church wardens two handsome prayer books in recognition of their successful year's work. He reviewed Mr. John Bell's strong personal assistance which had been most valuable, especially to the church in certain departments; he had done very much to show that there was a welcome and a place in the church for working men. As for Mr. Conway, it was universally conceded that he had scored a most brilliant success as a financier, and had taken his place in the front rank of the splendid body of men who had served St. John's as church wardens. Under his management the congregation had passed successfully through a critical stage in its history, and he had won the admiration and gratitude of all. These sentiments were warmly endorsed by the congregation.

THE OFFICERS.

The election of wardens was then taken up.

The Rector appointed Mr. W. E. Conway and the congregation appointed Mr. Harry Long, who had also served with distinction some time ago. It was felt that with this leadership the church would make a further advance.

The Advisory Committee were then appointed as follows: Messrs. F. D. Kerr, R. M. Dennistoun, Dr. Brunham, P. Campbell, H. Rush, A. Elliott, Dr. R. P. Boucher and Dr. J. T. S. Halliday.

The importance of this committee was strongly urged. Through it the whole congregation is represented in dealing with financial questions throughout the year.

The appointment of sidesmen was left over until the adjourned meeting when the reports of the various church organizations would be presented.

During the evening a communication was read by the vestry clerk, Mr. W. H. Walkey, from Rev. W. L. Armitage gracefully referring to the severance of his relations with the congregation and expressing best wishes for the future. The meeting adjourned for two weeks.

AT ALL SAINTS.

There was a most gratifying attendance at All Saints' annual Vestry meeting last evening, the ladies of the congregation, as well as the men, turning out in large numbers.

The Rector, Rev. W. L. Armitage, occupied the chair and after cordially welcoming those present, stated that as there was a great deal of business to be taken up, it had been decided that the reports from the different church societies would not be presented until the adjourned meeting two weeks hence.

The minutes of the last annual meeting and of a general meeting in September last, were read and confirmed.

The Rector brought up a matter in which the Synod asked for the consideration of a proposition to increase the contribution to the Diocesian Endowment Fund. The question was left in abeyance.

A committee composed of Messrs. W. B. Bamford, J. H. McClellan, W. Buller and J. Green was appointed to wait on the Council in reference to the placing of an electric light in front of the church.

The Rector introduced the subject of the inauguration of a parish magazine, dwelling on the many different benefits which would accrue to the congregation through such a medium. He announced his decision of undertaking the enterprise by about the middle of May, assuring the congregation that he would undertake all of the responsibility and would only ask their co-operation.

The Church Wardens, Messrs. Mulholland and Edgar, presented their financial statement, which was commented upon as being most satisfactory, and was referred to the Auditors.

Messrs. W. H. Dayman and Thos. Hooper were appointed Auditors.

The Rector referred to the retiring Wardens in terms of warm praise and also spoke of the former Wardens in the same manner.

Mr. Edgar was selected as Rector's Warden and Mr. Dayman was elected act in this capacity for the congregation.

Lay Delegates to the Synod were elected as follows: Mr. J. H. McClellan, Mr. D. H. Burritt and Mr. Watts.

The salary of Miss Bullen, organist, was advanced by a substantial sum, and some very pleasant remarks were made concerning her faithful services.

Mr. W. Buller was re-appointed as the church's representative on the Town Charity Board.

Mr. Bamford was chosen to represent All Saints on the Nicholls Hospital Board.

Messrs. W. H. Bamford and J. Green will represent the church in connection with the delegation, which will wait on the Town Council to solicit a grant for the Gravenhurst Hospital for Consumptives.

An increase of fifty dollars a year was made unanimously to Rev. Mr. Armitage's stipend, and the salary of the sexton was also raised.

At the adjourned meeting, the matter of church extension will be discussed.

SOUTH HURON CONVENTION.

Rev. W. J. Waddell and Rev. G.H. Long Methodist Ministers Approve of the Referendum.

Mr. M. Y. McLean, of the Seaforth Expositor, on Saturday last was nominated for the South Riding of Huron. We clip the following extract from the Globe's report of the Convention proceedings:—

"In accepting the nomination, Mr. McLean reviewed the record of the Government, and said it was a privilege for anyone to vote and work for such a party and such a platform. Rev. W. J. Waddell, Methodist minister was present as a delegate, and addressed the meeting. He eulogised the Government on its splendid record and progressive policy. HE WAS A PROHIBITIONIST, BUT DID NOT WISH TO SEE A LAW PASSED WITHOUT THE SANCTION OF A SUBSTANTIAL MAJORITY OF THE ELECTORATE, AND HE THOUGHT THE REFERENDUM WAS AS FAIR AS THE MOST ARDENT PROHIBITIONIST COULD REASONABLY EXPECT. EARNEST PROHIBITIONIST AS HE IS, HE DID NOT THINK HE COULD ASK FOR ANYTHING MORE EQUITABLE AND JUST THAN THE POLICY OF THE GOVERNMENT ON THIS QUESTION. REV. G. H. LONG, METHODIST MINISTER, WAS ALSO PRESENT AS A DELEGATE, AND STATED HIS POSITION ON THE QUESTION OF TEMPERANCE AND HIS CONNECTION WITH THE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION HELD IN SOUTH HURON LAST WEEK.

A POPULAR HEALTH RESORT.

The Grand Trunk Railway System have included in the large list of summer and winter resorts which they are bring before the public, the Sanitarium at St. Catharines, Ont., a retreat for rest and recuperation. A mineral spring which is used for bathing and massage purposes at this establishment, was discovered years ago, and has been the means of attracting hundreds of the best class of people from the south to enjoy the benefits derived from bathing in it.

Considerably denser than sea water, the effects are very marked, and when heated and skillfully applied cures rheumatism, gout, scrofula, neuralgia, liver trouble, skin diseases and cases of nervous prostration. Many of the cures are simply wonderful. The waters of this spring are referred to in Encyclopaedia Brittanica, Appleton's American Encyclopaedia, Hare's System of Therapeutics, etc.

It is only during the last few years that a commodious Sanitarium has been established at this point, combining rest, cure and family hotel.

Copies of a neat little booklet giving further particulars may be had by applying to M. C. Dickson, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

THE NEW CONTINGENT

South African Force May Be Divided into Two Regiments.

MR. KRUGER ET AL AT UTRECHT

They Will Talk About Acting President Schalkburger's Peace Move Although They Cannot Understand Why Dewet Cannot Be Found—A Meeting of Burghers May Be Necessary to Peace.

Ottawa, April 1.—When the Minister of Militia returns to Ottawa from his trip to New York and Boston he will probably find awaiting him a despatch from the Colonial Office giving the details respecting the organization of the force of 2,000 men to be despatched to South Africa. It is learned that in addition to the mounts required for this force 500 extra horses will be taken, making 2,500 in all. The general impression is that the force will be divided into two regiments, and it would not be surprising if the command of one were given to Major Cameron, who is now in South Africa with the Second Mounted Rifles.

BOERS TO CONFER.

Mr. Kruger and His Associates to Hold an Important Meeting at Utrecht—Dewet Puzzling Them.

The Hague, April 1.—Mr. Kruger, Dr. Leyds and the Boer delegates in Europe are expected to hold an important meeting at Utrecht, April 2, to consider the situation, in view of acting President Schalkburger's peace move. Well-informed people here say Gen. Schalkburger was evidently influenced by the receipt of the news of the result of the Dutch note to Great Britain on the subject of peace in South Africa, and other despatches from here. It is known that his communications with President Steyn and General Dewet, which have, heretofore been easily carried on, were interrupted by the recent British military movements, and, as it was necessary to communicate with Mr. Steyn and Gen. Dewet before any peace proposition could be formulated, Gen. Schalkburger had to apply to Lord Kitchener for a safe conduct. Considerable surprise is expressed here at Schalkburger's delay in getting in touch with Dewet, and it is thought something unusual must be behind it. But, even if the Orange Free State and Transvaal officials agreed to peace terms, it would be necessary for both republics to call a general meeting of the commanders, and submit the proposals to the burghers, before they could be submitted to Lord Kitchener.

Gave No Authority.

London, April 1.—The charges brought by J. G. S. MacNeill, Irish Nationalist member of the House of Commons, that the execution of Commandant Scheepers by the British at Graaf Reinert, Cape Colony, Jan. 18, was attended by shocking brutality, have twice before been made by Mr. MacNeill in the House of Commons. He refused to name his authority for his allegations, and Mr. Brodrick, the Secretary for War, declined to have the matter investigated.

Buller in the Forefront.

London, April 1.—The persistence of General Sir Redvers Buller in keeping his grievance in the eye of the public has led to a pretty general demand that all the Spion Kop despatches be published.

Wolseley's Short Stay.

London, Eng., April 1.—Lord Wolseley will make no stay at the Cape, as he is obliged to get back to London before the end of April, he being the Gold Stick in waiting on the King during May.

IMPORTANT SPEECH

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick on Great Transportation Question.

QUEBEC CITIZENS HONOR HIM

A Non-Political Banquet Which Was a Most Successful Affair—How Canada's Products Are Taxed—Cheap Transportation More Important to Canada Than Fast Transportation—St. Lawrence Route.

Quebec, April 1.—The non-political banquet by the citizens of Quebec to Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice, at the Garrison Club last night, was a most successful affair, amongst those present, in addition to the guest, being Col. Wilson, Commandant of Quebec and President of the club; Mayor and Premier Parent, Solicitor-General Carroll, Messrs. Wm. Power, M.P. for Quebec West; A. Malouin, M.P. for Quebec Centre; Talbot, M.P. for Bellechasse, and Hon. L. P. Pelletier.

Mr. Fitzpatrick made a most important speech. After referring in a sympathetic manner to the death of Hon. R. R. Dobell and of ex-Mayor Fremont, formerly M.P. for the County of Quebec, he plunged into the great question of Canada's transportation, showing that, though it cost the Canadian farmers a million dollars a year more than it did their American competitors to transport their dairy, live stock and agricultural produce to the seaboard, yet the exports of this class of produce from the Dominion during the last five years had increased at the average rate of a million dollars a year. He dealt fully with the problem confronting this country of reducing the cost of transportation to a minimum. He contended that it was necessary to make the navigation of the St. Lawrence as safe to shippers as the streets of London were to wayfarers, and entered into details of the methods to be adopted for removing what he called the national curse of extra marine insurance, citing in support of his argument a recent statement by Mr. Reford of Montreal that it cost every steamer coming to the St. Lawrence $5,000 a trip more than if she went to an American port. He urged that cheap transportation was a more important problem to Canada than fast transportation, yet he declared that the inauguration in the near future of a fast line of steamers between Quebec and Liverpool was as much an assured fact as the rising of to-morrow's sun, or as the construction of the half-completed Quebec bridge, which he was ridiculed for promising a couple of years ago. He dilated upon the advantages that must flow to the whole of Canada from the early completion of the Quebec bridge, from the establishment of elevators at Quebec by the Wolvin syndicate from Buffalo, from the Great Northern and South Shore Railways, and also from the proposed trans-Canada railway, which was destined to open up the rich agricultural country of northern Quebec and of the Peace River Valley. Referring to the Chinese wall of exclusion established to the south of us by our American neighbors, he said there would be no whining in Canada, but that Canadians with their back set firm to the wall had only to grind their teeth against foreign exactions and turn to the world's other markets. The time had gone by when Quebec viewed these matters in any narrow, parochial spirit. What we want, he added, is to make the St. Lawrence route perfectly safe for navigation from the Straits of Belle Isle to Fort William.

Peculiar Revolver Accident.

Chatham, April 1.—On Saturday evening a singular accident befel A. S. Thornton, accountant of the Bank of Commerce. A. W. Larmour, the teller, was in the act of carrying a cash drawer, when he accidentally let fall from it a 32-calibre revolver. The weapon struck the floor muzzle upward, discharging the cartridge then under the hammer. The ball passed harmlessly by Mr. Larmour, but struck Mr. Thornton in the left hand. Grazing the thumb, it passed diagonally through the palm.

Forty Were Killed.

San Domingo, Republic of Santo Domingo, April 1.—The town of Barahona, on the south coast, was attacked by the revolutionists, after a severe fight, in which 40 were killed or wounded. Later, a Government gunboat bombarded Barahona, and landed troops, who retook the town. The revolutionists retired to a stronghold in the neighborhood.

Brantford's Murder Mystery.

Brantford, Ont., April 1. — The Quirk murder case still remains an unsolved mystery. The local theories are changing, and public suspicion now attaches to another than the first man suspected. Detective Murray is expected back in the city this morning to take up the case again.

Drowned at Lindsay.

Lindsay, April 1.—Freddie Brown, aged about 8, son of Mr. H. M. Brown, proprietor of Brown's Hotel here, while playing near the river yesterday afternoon, fell in and went over the slide near the dam at the Lindsay locks and was drowned. The body has not yet been recovered.

Charged With Arson.

Rat Portage, April 1.—Charles Fraser, who until about a month ago conducted a livery stable here, was arrested last night charged with attempted arson. Fraser's barns were discovered on fire several times within four months.

Toronto Lacrosse Sailed.

Halifax, April 1.—The Toronto lacrosse players sailed for Liverpool last night on the steamer Parisian.

EXPLOSION OF COAL DUST GAS.

Twenty-Two Miners Hurled Into Eternity at a Tennessee Mine.

Chattanooga, Tenn. April 1.—Late yesterday afternoon an explosion of gas in the Nelson Mine of the Dayton Coal and Iron Company, at Dayton, Tenn., ignited the dry coal dust in the mine, and caused a terrific explosion. Twenty-two men are known to be dead. Ten bodies have been recovered, and 12 bodies, it is reported, are not yet found. W. T. Head, brother of James Head, superintendent of the mine, was fatally injured. There are workmen known as "firemen," who go through the mine after all the miners are out, and set off blasts. The two "firemen" who, it is supposed caused the explosion yesterday, were killed by it. They shot the blasts before all the miners had got out of the mine. It is supposed that one of the fuses was defective, and resulted in what is known as the "blown blast." The flame shooting out from the blasts ignited the gas, which, in turn, ignited the accumulation of dry coal dust in the mine.

DIAMOND DYES
For The Home in Springtime.

In thousands of homes throughout this vast Dominion, mothers and daughters are working merrily and happily with Diamond Dyes.

Last year's faded and dingy dresses, skirts, blouses, capes, jackets, as well as children's and men's suits, are being transformed into new and handsome garments for spring wear. This home dyeing saves scores of dollars annually to economising families.

Success in home dyeing is only assured and guaranteed when the Diamond Dyes are used. The use of crude, common and imitation package dyes is a danger and a source of loss to all who unfortunately use them.

Send a post card with your address if you desire to secure the full range of Diamond Dye, Mat and Rug Patterns. The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, Que., will mail these novel designs free of charge.

Ask Subsidy For Shipbuilding.

Montreal, Que., April 1.—The Council of the Montreal Board of Trade has addressed a memorial to the Canadian Government asking for better facilities for getting western Canadian produce to deep water.

The petitioners also ask for a subsidy of $2 per ton on all ships built in Canada having one thousand tons capacity.

French Brig Wrecked.

London, April 1. — Fogs on the coast yesterday have resulted in a number of minor mishaps to shipping. The French brig Russia, bound for Newfoundland, and having on board a crew of 31 men, was wrecked on the rocks west of St. Catharines, Isle of Wight. The crew were safely landed.

Etruria in Sight.

London, April 1.—An arrival at Queenstown reports sighting on March 29 the disabled Cunard Line steamer Etruria, which left Fayal, Azores, March 17, for Liverpool. She was in tow of two tugs, and a steamer was steering her.

Found Dead in Bed.

Quebec, April 1.—J. N. Prouix, registrar of the Department of Lands, Forests and Fisheries, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning.

Eminent German Dead.

Berlin, April 1.—Dr. Ernest Lieber, the centrist leader in the Reichstag, is dead. He was born in 1838.

Shoemaker's Backache.

The constant bending over that of necessity a shoemaker must do when at work comes hard on the back and hard on the kidneys.

Backache, lame, weak and sore back are the bugbears of a shoemaker's existence.

The kidneys get cramped and strained, are unable to filter the blood as they should—they tell of their disordered condition by making the back ache and pain.

There isn't much use rubbing on liniments or sticking on plasters when the prime cause of the ache lies in the kidneys.

The remedy that is most effectual for "shoemaker's backache," as for all kinds of backache and kidney trouble, is Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

INTENSE PAIN.

John Saunders, shoemaker, Whitby, Ont., gives the following evidence:—"I procured a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets at the drug store, and can say that they gave me great relief immediately. I was suffering with intense pain in the back and biliousness, with bad taste in the mouth, and loss of appetite. Under the influence of the medicine all this quickly disappeared and I feel well again. One thing I wish to say, while they did the work finely, they were very gentle in action, no distress, no griping like other medicines, and I was able to work all the time. I can heartily recommend them to all who suffer from backache, kidney trouble or biliousness."

MAY BORROW £250,000,000.

Chancellor of Exchequer to Take Advantage of Peace Talk.

London, April 1.—It is thought that the Chancellor of the Exchequer will take advantage of the cheerfulness over the South African situation, because of the unexpected resuming of peace negotiations, to submit a new loan.

That new loan, assuming that the war continues, cannot be less than £50,000,000 ($250,000,000).

It is also certain that, unless the peace negotiations are successful, which few people dare hope, the Chancellor must fix the price of issue for the new loan at a much lower rate than that of previous loans.

Will Equal Last Year.

St. John's, Nfld., April 1.—The steamers Aurora, Diana and Iceland, having on board, respectively, 24,000, 22,000 and 20,000 seals, arrived here yesterday morning. They bring reports from the sealing grounds similar to those of the sealers which had previously arrived, showing that 16 of the 20 ships will have big catches. It now seems that the aggregate weight of this season's catch is likely to approach that of last year' the seals now caught being heavier than those caught in 1901.

Golden Wedding in Preston.

FOR THE CORONATION

List of Contingents From the Various Colonies.

PREMIER FORCES ARE TO BE 580

They Belong to Canada and Australia —300 Mounted Men and 280 Infantry —Will Surpass Those at the Jubilee by 1,750 Men—The Estimates Made by the London Daily Mail.

London, April 1.—The Daily Mail says: The arrangements for the visit of the Colonial troops are now almost complete, and they form a remarkable tribute to the felicitous selection of the Colonial Office, which has once again fully interpreted the popular sentimeant.

The contingents will be some 2,500 strong—a far larger proportion than came to this country for the Jubilee—then there were only some 800 men—and they are in every way more representative.

The following is the list, which can be accepted as absolutely accurate, although certain conditions have to be made to it, and circumstances which may arise hereafter may slightly affect the totals:

Canada (300 mounted)	580	Sierra Leone and Gambia.	25
Australia (300 mounted)	580	Gold Coast	32
New Zealand	150	Lagos	25

In short, troops are coming from every colony which has any, the great object being to secure as much diversity as possible, in order to evoke the true Imperial spirit through representatives from all parts of the British Empire, and to illustrate the great variety of races and climes over which His Majesty holds sway. As a matter of fact there is every reason to expect the colonial troops will be made the picturesque feature of the ceremony; these coupled, of course, with the 1,000 representatives from India's many regiments.

Some of the colonial troops will be mounted, but the majority will be infantry, and in all probability a high place of honor will be accorded to them.

There should be enough to line the whole route that the King will take on his way to Westminster Abbey, which, it will be observed from the recent decision of the Coronation Committee, is to be by the shorter course of the Mall, the Horse Guards, the Whitehall, while guards, composed exclusively of colonial troops, will be stationed at different places along the route to turn out and salute His Majesty as he passes.

Colonial sentiment in London is delighted with the tact and catholicity shown in the selection, and it is confidently expected that the list will give general pleasure, more particularly in the smaller dependencies which might conceivably have feared that in such a large scheme their claims would be overlooked.

There is no doubt that arrangements are in progress to give the colonial representatives the warmest welcome in this country, and there is little chance of any hitch, such as arose through the misunderstandings, in an isolated case or two, on the occasion of the jubilee. There is only a fear that the colonials may be overwhelmed with courtesies and kindnesses. Certain it is that the War Office, which can, when it likes, manage these matters with remarkable tact and ability, is doing its best to secure a welcome for one and all of the colonials, no matter their race or origin, which will leave an ineradicable recollection of how they were received in London at the King's coronation.

Cape War Veterans.

Cape Town, March 31.—Mr. Chamberlain has sent a despatch inviting the Cape Government to send a contingent of four officers and 150 men to represent the colonial forces at the military displays in connection with the coronation.

The Government has not yet made its choice, but the Premier intends that the contingent shall be thoroughly representative of all corps raised by the colony in connection with the war.

When the Governor Leaves.

Ottawa, April 1.—The Governor-General will leave by the Parisian on June 9, to attend the coronation ceremonies. Lady Minto will start in April, accompanied by Lady Sybil Beauclerc.

Bisley For Coronation.

Ottawa, April 1.—Pte. W. E. Bennett and Pte. C. S. Scott of the 43rd, Capt. Rennie of the Queen's Own, and Staff-Sergt. Bayles of the Royal Grenadiers have taken places on the Bisley team Sergt.-Major Ross of the 77th is unable to go. The D.R.A. executive is having plans prepared for a new building for competitors to be put up at Rockliffe this summer. The Bisley team will almost certainly have a place in the coronation procession.

French General Elections.

Paris, April 1.—At a council of the Ministers yesterday morning, President Loubet signed a decree fixing the general elections for April 27.

Watchman Was Drowned.

Halifax, April 1.—William Webber, aged 68, a night watchman, fell over Stairs' Wharf at Dartmouth last evening and was drowned.

Vapo-Cresolene quickly cures colds, coughs, sore throat, whooping cough and croup.

Why It Won.

A shoe that has won the highest award at the Paris World's Fair ought to be good enough for a lady to wear.

Beauty, comfort, style, appearance and durability are the points that won the gold medal.

Its price and value make it the choice of thousands of ladies who know how to dress tastefully and comfortably.

"JUDAS CHAMBERLAIN."

Opinion From the Emerald Isle Upholds John Dillon.

London, April 1.—A despatch to The Times from Dublin says that at a meeting of the Dublin Harbor Executive of the United Irish League, it was resolved to congratulate John Dillon on his recent action in the British House of Commons in calling Hon. Joseph Chamberlain a liar, the result being suspension for a week. The mover of the resolution said that no words less strong would have described the Irish opinion of "Judas Chamberlain." The language expressed the contempt the Irish hold for a Government carrying on a war of corruption and debauchery. The Castlereagh Board of Guardians on Saturday passed a resolution condemning the Roscommon grand jury, and calling attention to the dangerous state of the country. The chairman declared that they might thank the gallant Boers that coercion was not now in force. The capture of Methuen averted coercion from Ireland.

WHILE PARLIAMENT Is in Session, Ottawa People Hear of a Marvellous Cure

It is a Rescue From Suffering and Death Effected by

Paine's Celery Compound

THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE.

MR. BROWN, SAYS:

"After the Use of Paine's Celery Compound I am now in the Best of Health."

The greatest of modern physicians, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., after years of long practice and close scientific study, gave to suffering and diseased men and women his marvellous life-giving prescription, with the conviction and positive knowledge that it had peculiar virtues and ample powers to cure, after the terrible virdict "incurable" was uttered by the medical practitioner.

Thousands of the strongest testimonials from the best known and most reliable men and women of our country fully sustain the claims made by Dr. Phelps regarding his incomparable Paine's Celery Compound.

One of the most convincing proofs furnished, comes recently from a gentleman widely known in the Capital City, we refer to Mr. Alfred Brown, 91 O'Connor street, Ottawa, Ont. Mr. Brown's letter fully demonstrates the fact that the greatest sufferer may cast off his or her burden of disease and become well, strong and happy. It proves too that the great medicine maintains more firmly than before its unrivalled place in the estimation of people of wealth and social standing as well as with the masses. Mr. Brown says:

"I acknowledge with thankfulness and pleasure the fact that I have been cured of a very painful illness of eight years standing by use of Paine's Celery Compound. I had, during the years of my illness tried almost all the advertised medicines without deriving any good results. I was also treated by several of the best doctors of this city, hoping to find that one of them at least would understand my case.

"I was getting worse, and was told I was incurable. I was indeed in a critical condition. I could not go from the house alone, as I was liable to sudden collapse. I tried hospital treatment, but no relief or good results came to me. I could not sleep; anything I ate increased my agonies; I was extremely weak, restless, tired and despondent; was obliged to walk about with my hands pressed firmly into my left side to ease my pains; my feet and hands were cold continually; had inclination to vomit, had profuse, cold sweats, quick breathing and would be racked with pain for hours at a time.

"After the regular use of Paine's Celery Compound for a time, I am now in the best of health, have good appetite and can use any kind of food. Thank God I am my old self once more, all through the use of Paine's Celery Compound."

BIRTH.

MORGAN.—At Peterborough, on Tuesday, March 18th, 1902, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morgan, a daughter.

THE MUD LAKE BRIDGE.

Stories Circulated as to its Condition—Engineer Says That it is all Right.

A number of persons who were in town from Bridgenorth and Ennismore yesterday afternoon, reported that the new Mud Lake Bridge was in great danger of being swept away by the pressure of ice that is bearing upon the floating portion of the bridge during the windstorms. In fact the story was circulated that it looked very much as if the bridge was going to pieces in sections, and that traffic was dangerous over the handsome new twenty-six thousand dollar structure.

Mr. John Belcher, County Engineer, visited the Mud Lake Bridge yesterday afternoon. He states that the bridge is in no such state as was reported, and that traffic is being carried on without any interruption. He admits that the many thousand tons of ice that is swaying to and fro upon the piers and floats has made an impression upon the bridge and that several large steel chains have snapped. He further states that should the bridge pass through the next week in its present condition it will have come through the season quite satisfactorily.

Of course Mr. Belcher's statement should be looked upon as authorative but the residents of Bridgenorth and those who live in that vicinity, have become very much excited. As a result, alarming stories as to the condition of the bridge were floating around town last night.

Mr. Belcher visited the bridge again this morning and found that his statements of last night were perfectly correct, with the exception of the fact that one of the chains on the Ennismore side had broken and allowed the bridge to move out of line for a distance of three feet.

A MARCH WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Ellen Smith and Mr. Walter Tate.

A very pleasant time was spent at the home of Mrs. John Young, Smith, on the evening of March 26th, when her youngest daughter, Ellen, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Walter Tate of the same place.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Nickle, of Bridgenorth, in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

The bride was charmingly attired and carried a bouquet of carnations, and was assisted by Miss Louise Tindle. Mr. John Young, brother of the bride, very ably performed the duties of groomsman.

After the nuptial knot had been tied and congratulations had been extended, all sat down to a sumptuous repast, the rest of the evening being spent in social intercourse and games.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful presents, testifying to the high esteem in which she was held. Mr. and Mrs. Tate will take up their residence in Smith, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends, who join in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous married life.

EASTER WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. Thomas H. Cooper of Dummer and Miss Elizabeth A. Bullock.

On Wednesday evening, the 26th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bullock, of Warsaw, guests assembled to the number of about 75, to witness the marriage of Miss Elizabeth A., eldest daughter of the home to Mr. Thomas H. Cooper, one of Dummer's enterprising young farmers.

At 6 o'clock the strains of a beautiful march rendered by Mrs. George Taylor, served as a signal call, and the contracting parties presented themselves beneath an evergreen arch. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. McQuade, of Warsaw.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Adalaide Calvin, of Essex County, while Mr. Wm. G. Bullock, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

All costumes were of most becoming texture, cut and shade, decked out with orange blossoms, etc.

After the ceremony and the extending of due congratulations a bountiful repast was partaken of and a pleasant evening spent.

The gifts to the bride were in profusion. The festivities being over, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper repaired to their future home, the guests all saying "Bon Voyage" through life.

ORGAN RECITAL.

Murray Street Baptist Church.

The New York Musical Courier says:—"Mr. A. Blakeley has made an excellent reputation, not only as a performer, but also for the interesting and musicianly character of his programmes."

The London, (Eng.) Musical Opinion says:—"Mr. Blakeley always presents his music in a novel and artistic manner."

Mr. Blakeley will be assisted by Master Clarence Glass, who though only eleven years of age, is an accomplished vocalist, and sings upper "D" with ease, and Master Frank Williams, aged twelve, who is quite a remarkable violinist.

Note date, Tuesday April 8th. Tickets 25c., can be obtained at Sailsbury's bookstore. Peterborough music warehouse, Madill's drug store, C. B. Routley's, Examiner office.

TO-NIGHT'S DRILL.

There Should be a Large Attendance at the Shed To-night.

The first drill of the season of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, will take place this evening, and there should be a good turn out of officers, non-commissioned officers and men. Any person who has not yet joined the regiment, and who intends doing so, should be at the drill shed in good time. There is a large number of recruits to be enlisted, it is understood, and it would be advantageous to all parties if the new men would start in at once, as the work would be greatly expedited.

A NEW BUILDING.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons Will Erect One This Summer.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, Peterborough's well known sail, tent and awning manufacturers, intend erecting a handsome new factory, opposite their present premises, corner of King and George streets.

The plans and specifications have just been completed by Mr. John Belcher, architect, and they provide for an elegant structure, fifty feet in height, consisting of a basement and three stories. The building will be of stone and brick, and will be 45 x 100 feet.

The basement will be used for storage purposes; the ground floor will be devoted to show room and office use; the second flat will be for manufacturing purposes; whilst the third floor will be utilised for drying purposes.

In addition to the main building there will be erected a handsome brick stable and driving shed to the rear, which will, needless to say, will be a source of much convenience, and will fill a long-felt want. The entire plant will be a substantial addition to Peterborough's present lot of manufacturing establishments, and will be in keeping with the general go-aheadedness of this enterprising firm. The work on the structure will be commenced very shortly.

POLICE COURT.

The Authorities Will Endeavour to Stop Loafing on the Streets.

At the police court this morning a young man was fined $2 for loitering on Park street on Sunday. The police intend waging war on the young men of the town who persist in loafing on the street and obstructing traffic.

Mr. T. G. Holmes, a local junk dealer, was charged with purchasing junk from a boy who was under age. The lad in question was Roy Scriver, but as it was shown that the boy brought to Mr. Holmes a note on nearly every occasion alleging the same to have been written by his mother and permitting Mr. Holmes to make the said purchases, the case was dismissed. The mother, while she did not admit having signed the notes, acknowledged that she knew of them.

Town Solicitor E. H. D. Hall appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. F. D. Kerr for the defendant.

FRED BRADFIELD'S CASE.

He was Released From Military Custody and Will Come Home.

Mr. Fred Bradfield's friends will be pleased to hear that he has been released from his military confinement in Toronto, and will be back to Peterborough at once. Bradfield, it will be remembered, enlisted for South Africa and then did not go, owing, it is alleged, to his desire to satisfy the wishes of his mother. He was subsequently arrested by military authority and taken to Toronto. Bradfield's father has been in Toronto in connection with the matter but the conditions of his release are not given out as yet.

IN LATEST SPORTING CIRCLES.

The Ottawa Basket Ballers Play Here To-night.

The Lacrosse Situation—Baseballers Organizing.

BASKET BALL.

The basket-ball match which takes place at the Y.M.C.A. this evening between Ottawa and Peterborough should prove to be one of the leading attractions of the season at the "Y." There should be a large attendance. The Ottawa team are an aggregation with a splendid record and are confident of turning down the locals, but the Peterborough men may fool them. The Ottawa men have been on a tour to Toronto and other places and they will arrive here at 7.30 o'clock per C.P.R. The game should commence shortly after 8 o'clock. Tickets for the match may be secured at Tully's drug store.

The Peterborough Brownies returned home to-day after an enjoyable trip to Hamilton, Brantford and Toronto. They were successful in the two former places but suffered defeat by the Toronto West Enders. The Brownies have reason to be proud of their record nevertheless.

LACROSSE.

The matter of grounds for the local lacrosse team this summer is certainly a discouraging feature in connection with the game in Peterborough. The old P.A.A.A. grounds are no more, it seems doubtful if the Riverside grounds can be utilized and the only recourse appears to be, to use the oval and run the risk of getting no gate receipts. It is time that the local lacrossists had begun to practice. The teams of other towns are already getting out on the green but Peterborough will very likely be heard from before many days.

RUGBY.

Mr. A. W. McPherson, captain of the Peterborough Rugby team and member of the Executive of the O.R.F.U., was in Toronto on Saturday attending a meeting of the Executive of the Union. A number of important matters were disposed of and a general review of the rugby situation also came up. Mr. McPherson intimated to the Executive that, now that the age limit is abolished, there might be a probability of such towns as Port Hope, Lindsay and Norwood placing teams in the field this fall. Mr. McPherson, we think is quite right in sizing up the situation in this manner and there should be no difficulty in having a local Junior District, made up of Lindsay, Peterborough II., Port Hope and Norwood.

CRICKET.

The Peterborough Colts' Cricket Club will meet on Friday night of this week for the purpose of organizing for the coming season. There should be a large turn out of members, as besides the election of officers for the coming year the executive committee will submit a draft constitution for the approval of the meeting. The Colts had a very successful season last year, and they anticipate even greater success this summer.

BASEBALL.

Baseball is going to boom in Cobourg this year by all appearances, and the club of that town has organized for the coming year with the following officers:

Hon. Pres.—Dr. Kerr.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—J S Skeaff.
Pres.—A R Dundas.
Vice-Pres.—O G John.
Manager—H McGuire.
Treas.—E W Hargraft.
Sec.—David D Kerr.

Patrons—Mayor Huycke, J B McColl, M.P., Sam Clarke, M.L.A., W J Crossen, John Dick, Col. Cornell, J D Hayden, J E Skidmore, Capt. Walker, W L Allen, B O'Brien.

Committee of Management — Manager, Captain and Peter Duncan.

The Cobourg Post has this to say: "'Danny' McCabe, of Peterborough, the grandpapa of baseball in this section, has issued his annual spring circular inviting Cobourg to join a league to be composed of Peterborough, Belleville, Port Hope and Bowmanville. If we remember right, Dan has tried to promote such a league before."

Yes, and if the scheme was not carried out it was not owing to any fault of Danny or the Peterborough enthusiasts. If Cobourg, Bowmanville and other towns had taken more interest in the matter, baseball would not be at as low a state as it is at the present time. Peterborough has grown about tired of supporting a team and not being able to have a league formed in this district. The only year in which the Midland League did exist, Peterborough won the championship.

The residents of Auburn are determined that the game shall not die out in that end of the town. The young baseball enthusiasts of the north end met a few evenings ago and discussed the situation. Wally Parnell says that he is going to have an aggregation that will turn down anything in the district.

The baseball fever has struck Bobcaygeon and the young men of that town have organized a team. The following officers were elected:

Pres.—Geo Taylor.
Vice-Pres.—M. Walsh.
Sec.-Treas.—E. J. Woollard.
Captain—W. A. McIntyre.
Committee — Jackson Reid, R. Hurst, H. S. Garlick, A. Kennedy.

THE ORDERS WERE VIOLATED.

Engineer Charleton Was Confused by Instructions—Jury's Recommendation.

Jarvis, March 31.—Coroner McDonald Saturday afternoon conducted an inquest on the body of Eugene James McGill, who was killed in the railway accident here on Good Friday morning. The jury, after listening to the evidence, brought in the following verdict:

"That deceased man came to his death on the morning of March 28, 1902, at the station house, Jarvis, from injuries received by being caught in a collision at 7 o'clock on the Wabash Railway running over the G.T.R.

"We are of the opinion that the cause was the violation of telegraphic orders by one John Charlton, engine driver on train No. 1,850; that the said violation resulted, we think, from his being confused by orders received at Thornbury and Simcoe. We are further of the opinion that the G.T.R. should have means of communication between the rear end of all trains and the engine driver. We are also of the opinion that had it not been for the dense fog at the time the accident would not have occurred."

ARBITRATION IN AUSTRALIA.

Hospital Speeches at a Picnic of the Industrial Union.

Sydney, N.S.W. March 31.—The Compulsory Industrial Arbitration Court, whose membership includes representatives of employers and employes, which was recently established here, will open in April.

Speaking yesterday at a picnic which the Government tendered to the delegates of the industrial unions, Justice Cohen, a member of the arbitration Court, expressed the opinion that the court's establishment would prove to be a messsage of peace to the industrial world. Labor leaders spoke in a similar strain.

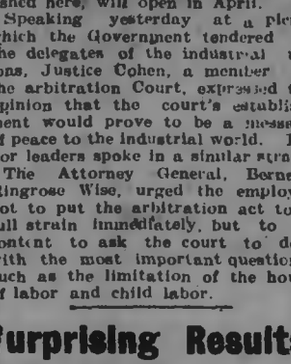
The Attorney General, Bernard Ringrose Wise, urged the employes not to put the arbitration act to a full strain immediately, but to be content to ask the court to deal with the most important questions, such as the limitation of the hours of labor and child labor.

Surprising Results.

A Simple Internal Remedy Makes Remarkable Cures of Catarrh.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes, for catarrh, and have found how useless and inconvenient they are, will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form; druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents for full sized treatment is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children, by destroying nerve sensation. The irritation in throat which causes coughing, is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause, but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return.



Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach, because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics. Blood Root, Red Gum from Eucalyptus Tree, etc., when you use these Tablets you know what you are putting into your system, and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates, or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Mr. Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures, says: "I can heartily recommend to all Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches, and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by by this harmless but effective remedy."

Dr. Wainwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for Catarrhal Headaches and Catarrhal Deafness, because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children, because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croups at the very beginning.

Damage of Many Thousands.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 1.—The damage by Sunday's storm will probably reach several hundred thousand dollars. The effects of the wind can be seen on all sides—houses, churches and many large plants uprooted, bridges partly dismantled, and fences and trees down.

A Wrong Burial Certificate.

When a physician issues a burial certificate for one who has died of consumption or throat trouble, he should say, Cause of death, neglect, to take Four T's when the cough first started. Four T's cure a cough in 24 hours and the worst cold in two days, and you get a large bottle for 25c. at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

SMOTHER A COUGH.

You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs.

Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue.

That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.

HAVE DECLARED LOCKOUT.

Toronto Master Painters Force the Issue and Shops Are Closed.

Toronto, March 31.—On Saturday at noon-hour between 250 and 300 union painters and decorators employed by members of the Master Painters' Association received word that on Monday morning their services would not be required. This was the ordered lockout agreed upon by the masters at a meeting held last week and after the men had refused to accept their offer.

The men sent an ultimatum to the employers last February demanding an eight-hour working day and an increase in wages from 25c to 30c an hour. The employers readily granted the shorter work day, but refused the increase, which the men asked to go into effect on April 15. In the meantime a conference was arranged between the bosses and the men, at which the former agreed to compromise at 27½c an hour. The offer was refused at a largely-attended meeting of the union, held last Tuesday. They decided to strike on April 15 if their demands were not granted. The employers took action first and ordered a lockout for this morning.

Carpenters Will Refuse.

Over 500 union carpenters and joiners met in Richmond Hall on Saturday afternoon and unanimously decided to refuse the offer of an increase of 2½c an hour offered by the employers. The men recently asked an increase from 25c to 30c an hour to date from May 1. If the demand is not acceded to they say they will strike. The union carpenters and joiners number 800.

THINK IT OVER.

IT IS WORTH SOME THOUGHT.

Sir William Roberts, M.D., F.R.S., says; "Man has departed widely, and is departing more and more, in regard to his food, from the simplicity and uniformity of his primitive nature."

To-day, thousands commence the morning meal with heavy, rich meats, together with foods of a starchy nature, the digestion of which requires all the existing energy of the body.

The demands of the wise, as far as breakfast is concerned, is for a health cereal, such as Malt Breakfast Food, light and soothing to the stomach, a nourisher to the body and brain, a bestower of energy, a regulator of digestion, and a flesh and bone builder.

If people would fortify themselves for the day they should become users of delicious Malt Breakfast Food, which yields abundant strength and vitality. No other grain food so quickly enriches the blood and builds up the nerve tissues and centres of the brain. See your grocer.

Twenty Years of Itching Piles.

Sufferings Ended Seven Years Ago —A Permanent Cure by

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Mr. Alex McLaughlin is well known and highly respected in Bowmanville, Ont., where he has resided for about thirty years. His cure of itching piles, after twenty years of almost constant and often very severe suffering, is a remarkable one. There can scarcely be a stronger recommendation for Dr. Chase's Ointment, and his letter will be read with interest by many who are still victims of this dreadful malady.

Mr. McLaughlin, writes: "For twenty long years I suffered from itching piles, and only persons who have been troubled with that annoying disease can imagine what I endured during that time. About seven years ago I asked a druggist if he had anything to cure me. He said that Dr. Chase's Ointment was most favourably spoken of, and on his recommendation I took a box.

"After three applications I felt better, and by the time I had used one box I was on a fair way to recovery. I continued the treatment until thoroughly cured, and as that was seven years ago, and I have not suffered any since, I am firmly convinced that the ointment made a perfect cure.

"I consider Dr. Chase's Ointment an invaluable treatment for piles. In my case I think the cure was remarkable when you consider that I am getting up in years and had been so long a sufferer from disease."

It is all nonsense to talk about a surgical operation as the only cure for piles. Scores of people are being cured every day by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Not merely relieved — though relief itself is a great thing to the sufferer from piles — but cured thoroughly and permanently, as Mr. McLaughlin has been. Dr. Chase's Ointment has no worthy rival. It stands alone as an absolute cure for piles of every form; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 12

Burdock BLOOD BITTERS

Turns Bad Blood into Rich Red Blood.

This spring you will need something to take away that tired, listless feeling brought on by the system being clogged with impurities which have accumulated during the winter.

Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy you require.

It has no equal as a spring medicine. It has been used by thousands for a quarter of a century with unequalled success.

HERE IS PROOF.

Mrs. J. T. Skine of Shigawake, Que., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring medicine for the past four years and don't think there is its equal. When I feel drowsy, tired and have no desire to eat I get a bottle of B.B.B. It purifies the blood and builds up the constitution better than any other remedy."

EASTER'S BEAUTY BLOOM.

Favorite Flowers of the Queen Festival of Christendom.

Easter is essentially an artistic holiday and pre-eminently a day of flowers. Nothing is so beautiful as the great spring miracle, the budding of life and bloom out of the bare, brown branches that seemed like so many dead things during winter. Every bright spring day now the crowds of promenaders, men and women, big and little, show a responsiveness to the awakening of the earth, and florists' windows and sidewalks give promise of the abundance of flowers soon to be. Preparations for Easter, the crown of the flower season, says the Philadelphia Times, are begun by the florists many weeks before the day actually arrives, and the smartest shops in town are all receiving their orders now.

What flowers are the people's favorites? First and foremost the lily, Easter's symbolic flower. Thousands of people who buy and enjoy the Bermuda lilies have little idea what an extensive business the propagation of these lovely spring flowers has become. The bulbs are shipped from Bermuda in great quantities during the autumn and winter and placed in greenhouses to be developed into the lovely plant which has become symbolic of Easter. As to the number of these bulbs now produced in Bermuda and shipped to the United States for Easter purposes it is said that between 10,000,000 and 15,000,000 bulbs were sent last year.

The enormous quantities of Easter lilies produced happily place a plant within the reach of the most modest purse. This Easter plants can probably be secured at all prices varying from 50 cents upward, so that hundreds of these jewel-like flowers will shed their purity and beauty in the humblest of homes.

Easter lilies, however, are not the only flowers of Eastertide. Perhaps the most popular flower after the lily is the azalea, which is already being sold in the shops and along the streets, the prices ranging all the way from $2 to well on up to $50. The azaleas come in the double and single varieties and in colors that deepen from snowy white through the most delicate pinks to a vivid rose and deep crimson.

Roses will be depended upon largely this Easter, while lilacs, the very expensive product of the greenhouse, and lilies of the valley, hyacinths, marguerites and a very effective yellow daisy which appears early in the spring will all be very popular Easter favorites.

Easter being the queen festival of Christianity, flowers are a chosen medium for the expression of philanthropic inclinations at this season. You have the reputation of being a good natured, well meaning man, or you are a kind hearted woman. Then remember the children in the hospitals, who cannot share in the sunshine and spring skies of Easter day, and the grownup sick also, for you never saw a man or woman who was too old to appreciate a flower, and the dear people in the old folks' home, who have few Easters yet to come, and in remembering them—

> At last a heavenly hand
> Give thee, give thee,
> Lilies of eternal peace.

It is a pity that the flowers will not comply with the needs of the Easter festival and bloom two months earlier than usual, but happily for the luxurious Christians of the modern world our florists know how to create an artificial spring to match the imaginary moon, and they also know how to import from tropical islands the flowers that bloom in their spring a thousand miles away.

All through this snowy and frosty winter fields of lilies have been growing for us in Bermuda and are now exhaling their fragrance in city greenhouses. The early Easter, therefore, will not lack its flowery offerings, nor would it lack them if it should come in the middle of January.

The flowers that salute the morning of this beautiful festival connect us with the remotest recorded antiquity. The oldest Egyptian tombs bear testimony, both in their pictures and in their inscriptions, that 4,000 years ago human beings made the same use of flowers in the religious festival of the spring that we do in 1902.

Before Pharaoh reigned the eastern people placed flowers upon such altars as they had in token of gratitude and gladness. Wreaths and garlands of flowers were hung in the temples. Bouquets and mounds and pyramids of flowers were employed precisely as they are with us.

At private feasts a bouquet was offered to each guest on his arrival, and we perceive that it was a polite observance for guests to exchange flowers selected from their bouquets. It would be difficult to think of any use of flowers made by us, whether in private entertainments or in public ceremonials, which was not perfectly familiar to civilized peoples before the pyramids were built.

If in some of our conspicuous churches there is ostentation or excess in the display of costly flowers on Easter morning, we need not harshly condemn an indulgence which has the merit of being harmless and of giving a banquet of delight to a great multitude of people.

Nor is it the waste it once was, for after the glorious music of the festival has died away and the congregation has dispersed the potted flowers bloom on as before, and the gathered flowers are carried away to the hospitals and asylums.

No Dregs In Easter's Cup.

Easter means something joyous, we are sure, at any rate. And it is not associated with bills. It is the only festal cup without dregs. There is no 1st of January dogging its shadow, no indigestion after its simple pleasures.

"I wrote Dr. Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free."

"I endured nearly four years of suffering," writes Mrs. J. L. Myers, of Washington, W. Va., "caused principally from improper medical attention after the birth of a child, and female weakness, resulting in a complication of diseases. Had a terrible cough and an incessant pain and soreness in lungs. Was reduced in flesh from 184 pounds to about 100 pounds in eighteen months. I had no appetite, and became so weak and nervous I could scarcely sit up. I doctored with our home physicians for two years with no benefit, I was finally induced to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I wrote to Doctor Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free, advising the proper medicines for my case. After taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and four of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three doses each day, also taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed and some of his 'Pellets,' I ceased coughing, and am now enjoying splendid health and have gained thirty-five pounds in weight. I again feel like my former self, thanks to Dr. Pierce and his great medicines.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter FREE. All correspondence sacredly confidential, and all womanly confidences guarded by strict professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A QUEER BUSINESS.

Making Up Beggars So That They Will Excite Public Sympathy.

"How beggars are made" might be made the subject of a singularly interesting article. And it would refer not to the unkind cuts of fortune, but to the appliances whereby a certain deft and none too scrupulous manufacturer equips men and women who, for purposes of their own, wish to be considered lame, halt or blind. That it is easier to be crippled than to work is the maxim upon which this particular trade is established.

"I'm what is called a street 'sham fakir,'" said one of these dealers in disguises recently. "I fake up most of the sham disabled mill operatives, crippled sailors, etc., and charge 'em a small fee. If it's a woman with a tale that her husband beats her, I paint her a black eye and put her arm in a sling. Say it's a man on a 'blind' lay. Well, I paint some scars on his face to imitate the marks of a lead explosion and give him a green eye shade and a 'blind' card.

"If a man's really maimed, it makes it easier. Suppose he's been run over and had his leg off. I paint a picture of a burning house and him jumping out of a top window with a child in his arms and a yarn under it. 'Kind friends, I lost my leg through rescuing my employer's child.' That's a sure take of a 'fiver' a day.

"I make all these rigs myself," he said, "and hire 'em out. It pays, but I have to keep dark, for the police are very down on my sort. This hollow wooden cap with an iron hook fits over your head, and here's a clubfoot boot and yonder a pair for both feet.

"A queer business? You'd say so if you knew the jobs I'm asked to do sometimes. Only yesterday a woman wanted vitriol scars made on her face and actually wanted me to use real vitriol. Didn't know what she was asking? Oh, yes! Why, bless you, some beggars'll maul themselves horribly to excite sympathy. In fact, they'd do anything rather than work."

Classical Cannibal.

"But why," asked the subchief of the cannibal isles, "do you insist upon having the man who fell while leading the charge against us served up at the banquet this evening? He seems to be hard as nails."

"Huh!" answered the chief of the cannibal isles. "I read in a book of poetry left by our last meal that 'the bravest are the tenderest.'"

Don't Sneer.

Never bring a human being, however silly, ignorant and weak—above all, any little child—to shame and confusion of face. Never, by petulance, by suspicion, by ridicule, even by selfish and silly haste—never, above all, by indulging in the brutal pleasure of a sneer, crush what is finest and rouse up what is coarsest in the heart of any fellow creature.

Prima Facie Evidence.

The late Lord Morris on one occasion gave a characteristic illustration of the meaning of "prima facie evidence."

"If," he said to the jury, "you saw a man coming out of a public house wiping his month, that would be prima facie evidence that he had been having a drink."

Outmaneuvered.

The Lady—Did any one call while I was out?

The Maid—No, ma'am.

The Lady—That's very strange. I wonder what people think I have a day "at home" for anyway.

First National Convention.

On May 26, 1835, what was probably the first national nominating convention in the history of the country met in Baltimore. It was attended by 600 men, a majority of whom were residents of Maryland. The convention was called by General Jackson. It was called a year ahead of the presidential campaign in order that time might be taken by the forelock in behalf of General Jackson's political protege, Martin Van Buren.—Ganton's Magazine.

Not to Be Learned.

A dignified bishop while passing along a London street heard three vegetable peddlers engaged in a rather blasphemous argument.

Intending to rebuke them, he said to one of the offenders, "My good man, where did you learn to swear like that?"

"Lord luv yer, guv'nor," replied the brawny peddler, clapping him genially on the shoulder, "ye can't learn it! It's a gift!"

Long Life is Inherited.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lives dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful diseases as no other preparation was ever known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

The Fad in Easter Cards.

Almost all the Easter cards are distinctly secular. Flowers and doves and other emblems of peace and purity adorn them, but there are few representations of sepulchers and very few religious texts. To such an extent has the secular card craze been carried, indeed, that those who refuse to buy them are known as specialists, and some few ecclesiastical cards, which no doubt the shopkeepers think inappropriate to the season and only called for by cranks, are stowed away for them.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper digestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids digestion. Nerviline cures dyspeptic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, colic, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c. bottles everywhere.

Old Moon Beliefs.

The health, growth and development of children and animals were years ago supposed to be influenced by the moon. If the sign was right at the time of birth, they would be well formed and intellectual, but if it was wrong there was no telling what sort of creatures they would become. Every worthless fellow, every dog, rooting hog, fence jumping cow or kicking horse was believed to have been born under an unfavorable phase of the queen of night. Queer people or those who were of hateful disposition were children of the dark moon, with the sign below the heart.

Josh Billings Said of Niagara Falls

That the reason why people liked it was "Becawz nobody kin make wun jest like it." For the same reason people like Four T's, the great guaranteed cough cure. It is the only lung remedy made that cures coughs and colds in two days with perfect safety. Children like it and it cures croupy coughs. Sold in 25c. bottles by Ormond & Walsh, druggists.

She Hadn't Thought of That.

"You should never take anything that doesn't agree with you," said the doctor.

"If I'd always followed that rule, Marie," said the patient, turning to his wife, "where would you be?"

EASTER SERVICES.

Bright Music Rendered by the Choirs of the Different Churches.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

The services Sunday were very bright and heartily joined in by the large congregations. The music was exceptionally well rendered and was very appropriate. The "Te Deum" by Constance, the "Jubilate" by Schilling and "Ebden's Evening Service" are very suitable for such a festival. The anthems "I am He that liveth" and "This is the day" both occurring in the special Psalms for the day impressed the Easter message.

Mr. Jos Legg and Mr. James Browne took the tenor solos and Mr. R. H. Shepherd the base solos. Miss Duncan was heard for the first time in two alto solos in the morning service. Her voice possesses a rare quality of richness.

The children's service at 3 p.m. was well attended, and the offertory, $17.04 will be devoted to Indian Homes in the Northwest.

Rev. W. L. Armitage preached at the three services, speaking on "St. Paul's Teaching of the Resurrection" in the morning, "The Ladder to Heaven" in the afternoon and on "I Lay Down My Life, that I Might take it Again" in the evening.

There were 170 communicants at the morning service and the offertory throughout the day amounted to $208.18. The chancel was very pretty with the abundance of lilies and other flowers and reflected great credit on the taste of the Chancel Guild.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

In St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday large congregations attended the different services. Three masses were celebrated in the morning, at 8, 9.15 and 10.30. The last was a Pontificial High Mass celebrated by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, assisted by the Cathedral clergy. The sermons at the morning services were on the festival of the resurrection. Grand Vespers at 7.00 o'clock in the evening was chanted by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, and an eloquent and scholarly discourse on the lessons to be learned from the resurrection of our Lord was delivered by Rev. Father McColl. The sanctuary decorations were beautifully arranged and were seen to advantage during the Vesper services. The Easter offering during the day was a liberal one.

The music at St. Peter's was in keeping wth the nature of the day and was of a very excellent quality. Indeed the Bishop during the service made reference to the splendid musical programme that was rendered by the choir under the able leadership of Miss K. Hurley.

ST. PAUL'S.

At St. Paul's church Sunday morning, in the anthem "King of Kings," Miss Annie Hall rendered the solo parts in a very pleasing manner. In the evening Mrs. Mein and Mr. Crane sang in a very excellent manner a duet entitled "Art Thou Weary."

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

St. Luke's church presented an exceedingly bright and pretty appearance on the occasion of the great festival of the Church. The chancel was decorated with lilies and white hyacinths, and on the altar were placed vases containing white stocks and white cut roses. Banners with texts alluding to the Resurrection were hung up in the church; the pulpit and the font were also decorated with flowers and banners. Both the morning services were attended by large congregations, at the 11 o'clock service seating room being at a premium. About 200 partook of the Holy Sacrament.

The choir acquitted itself excellently under the efficient management of Mr. John L. Armstrong. In the anthem, "He is Risen," Miss Edith Burnham took the soprano solo, Miss Phillips the alto solo, and Mr. R. B. Rogers, the bass solo. The whole service referred in singing, reading and preaching to the glorious Resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. The Rector had asked the congregation to make a thank offering of $300.00, to which the response was from all sources the neat sum of $360.00.

The sermon in the morning was from Revelations xxii, 16—"The Morning Star." Rev. E. A. Langfeldt spoke as follows: When Christ rose on the first resurrection morning from the grave it was not the Church's sunrise. But what rose this Easter Day was that beautiful "star" which harbingers the sunrise, waking the early dawn and telling us that the day is coming—its pledge and earnest.

Christ's mission, after He rose, was chiefly to speak of the things of the Kingdom, to tell of another breaking of love and joy upon the earth, the pioneer of a happier day.

True to the parable of nature — for the "morning star" seems to be made for little else but to proclaim that the day is coming.

Thus the Resurrection is the "Morning Star," and the Second Advent is the Sun going forth in His strength.

The order of events as they took place on the first Easter morning testify this truth. For "early when it was yet dark," Mary came to the sepulchre and found Him gone. As Mary went up the hill the morning star was looking down upon her from the heavens, but the sun was not yet come. But yet by that very star from the western sky she knew that the sun would be over the horizon.

We have the Star, the assuring, heralding, preparing Star, and we shall soon see the Sun.

Both are Jesus. But the one is a feebler revelation, lying still in the shadow; the other is the King in His beauty. If the Lord is risen upon you, the light is there. This makes the darkness of your heart more perceptible and more felt. That sense of darkness is an index of the "Morning Star." Without the Star we would scarcely know that it was dark. Only it shows that it is not yet day—not the perfect day for which we look.

But the Morning Star makes the day break sure; and the Morning Star is lovely and brilliant compared to the midnight that would be without it. And nobody can tell what the state of this world would be without the direct and indirect rays of the Lord Jesus Christ.

In the evening the rain lessened the attendance no doubt, yet the church was nearly filled with an attentive congregation.

ST. JOHN'S.

The services at St. John's were very interesting. The choir was augumented by Messrs. R. Gliddon with the cornet and Mr. W. Lech with the violin. The collections for the new rectory fund amounted to $385 and it is expected that when the envelopes are in next Sunday the amount collected will be at least $400.

AT RIVERDALE.

A bright and helpful Easter service was given Sunday at Riverdale by the scholars of the Sabbath School.

Two splendid choruses, "'Tis Easter" and "Hosanna to our King" were sung by a class of girls. A duet by Alice Mabel and Maggie McElwain, and another by Misses Lottie and Nessie Smith. A solo "The Cross of Calvary" was very sweetly sung by Miss E. Smith, and the primary class, as their share gave an acrostic on the word "Arisen."

Rev. Mr. Bennett, of Peterborough, gave a short address expressing very clearly what Easter should mean to each one of us.

Mr. J. Hart, a former superintendent, in a brief address expressed his sympath with, and good wishes for, the school which he had helped to start just ten years ago.

Quite a number of the parents and friends attended the service and a pleasant and profitable time was spent by all.

EASTER TOGGERY FOR MEN AND BOYS.

H. LeBrun & Co. are Holding a Special Easter "Opening" Event.

The question of dress is paramount this week. With the advent of the new season, the principal thought of the masculine, as well as the feminine, world, is that of dress. Where is the man, woman or child who will not don new raiment on Easter?

For the Men and boys, Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. are holding a special "opening" event before Easter. All departments are thrown open for their inspection. Their exclusive display of new spring clothing, hats, neckwear, shirts, gloves, handkerchiefs, hosiery, underwear, etc., is a sight for good dressers. The City Clothing Store has been successfully catering for the dress needs of the men and boys of Peterborough for past twenty-five years.

This season's carefully selected suits, spring overcoats and other seasonable outfittings does the firm especial credit.

The hats and neckwear stocks make a very fine showing of the smartest, nobbiest spring styles in vogue. Their list of Easter novelties should keep the clerks busy all week.

JUBILEE POINT.

Mr. Dan Foley has Rented the Place for the Season.

Mr. Dan Foley, who for the past number of years, has been the popular wine clerk at the Jubilee Point Hotel, will leave for the point in the course of a few weeks in order to set the house in order for another season's business. Mr. Foley has this season rented the house and bar and will assume full management of this popular resort. Judging from Dan's experience in the past and his genial manner, there is reason to believe that Jubilee Point will be a popular resort for tourists this summer.

APPOINTMENTS.

The Committee on Appointments reported as appended:

To the chairman and members of the Board of Education:

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report in reference to the matters referred to them as follows:

1. In reference to the application of Jas. Russell, for an increase in salary, we recommend that no action be taken.

2. We recommend that Miss Carey and Miss Packenham be appointed as teachers on the Public School staff to fill the positions rendered vacant by the resignations of Miss Might and Miss Meharry. Miss Packenham's appointment to date from Easter holidays, and Miss Carey's appointment to date from 1st of May.

3. As instructed we advertised for a janitor for the Collegiate Institute building and received a number of applications and we recommend that Mr. John Menzies be appointed to the position for one month from 1st of April on trial; salary to be at the rate of $325 per annum.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
W. G. FERGUSON,
Chairman.

Mr. Ferguson moved, seconded by Mr. McBain, that the report be adopted.

Mr. Wrighton moved in amendment seconded by Dr. Burnham, that the report be taken up clause by clause. The amendment was carried.

The clauses down to that of the appointment of a janitor were duly passed, but at this juncture some difficulty arose.

Mr. Jameson moved that the recommendation of the appointment of Mr. John Menzies be adopted.

Mr. Wrighton moved in amendment seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the name of Mr. John Hart be substituted for that of Mr. Menzies.

Mr. Stevenson asked that an effort be made to retain Mr. Wood as janitor. He thought that it would be a great mistake to have the present janitor leave, and he felt sure that he could be persuaded to remain. Mr. Stevenson would be willing that he should be paid a little extra salary.

Mr. Bamford saw no reason why Mr. Menzies should not be appointed as recommended in the report.

Mr. Wrighton said that he could strongly recommend Mr. Hart.

The amendment was carried.

Mr. McBain said that Mr. Menzies was now acting under instructions from the Committee on Appointments, and could collect his month's salary.

Dr. Caldwell and Dr. Burnham were appointed a committee to wait on the Town Council in conjunction with other representatives in reference to the matter of sending consumptives to a proper Sanitarium.

Messrs. Eastwood, Hartley, Langford and Jameson were appointed a committee to meet the Ashburnham School Trustees for the purpose of discussing the advisability of introducing the teaching of Domestic Science and Manual Training in the local schools, with authority to gather whatever information they may be able on the subject.

The business being over, Mr. James Stevenson, probably the oldest trustee in Ontario, addressed a few words to the members, and presented them with two large bound volumes of Shakespeare's works for the use of the Institute library. Mr. Stevenson has been a member of the Board of Education since 1848, and served continuously for 17 years as chairman. He gave a short sketch of the growth of the schools during that period.

Mr. McBain moved, seconded by Mr. Ferguson, that the thanks of this Board be tendered Mr. Stevenson for the gift to the schools and for his very deep interest in the work carried on.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

Millinery

Not thrown together, but created by deft fingers, guided by artistic taste.

There is a saying that there is a place for everything. That's true of Millinery, and at this Millinery store everything is in its place. That's what causes the sweet harmony that stands out in the Millinery Dept. and causes you to remark "what a pleasing display." "Doesn't that just look like me?" The stock will always be seasonably stocked, but we believe there is no time like the first of the season to get the truly smart effects. We advise early selection.

Costumes and Skirts

of the up-to-date order with the fit you Would expect to get if you paid your tailor $35.00 to $45.00. Yet our prices only run about half of that for even the swellest suits. Prices start at $5.00 and run up to $22.50. They are natty Suits, some of them with a jauntiness that would grace "Fifth Avenue," New York. A look at them in our new Ready-to-wear Department would be appreciated.

Dress Goods

Never have we had the unparalelled success in our Dress Goods such as has crowned our efforts for this season. By careful study of the proper materials to be worn, we have managed to strike "the right" cloths which have caused this excellent Output. We haven't everything shown this Spring, but we do believe we have the correct things. VALUES as well as style count largely at this store, and the cash and one price principle on which we work, enables us to mark all prices at the lowest possible margin of profit.

A Few Timely Suggestions of Interest.

Police Made a Raid on a Gambling Joint in Lindsay—The Canoe Slide at the Locks.

The constables of the County Court and the High Court of Justice of the Counties of Northumberland and Durham, now appear in becoming uniforms at the sittings of these courts. The idea is an excellent one and adds a great deal to the dignity of the proceedings. The County Council of the County of Peterborough might well take example by the action of the Counties Council of Northumberland and Durham. The present system of having the constables in and around the court room in ordinary civilian attire is both confusing and perhaps not any too appropriate.

The old trouble of the manner in which the people of the town, and country, too, for that matter, make their entrance and exit from the post office, still exists. When will people learn to enter by the door to their right, and come out of the office on the same principle? The confusion that is experienced by people going in and out of any door that happens to be nearest them, is great to say the least, and a little thought on the part of the public would facilitate traffic at this point.

Some time ago the Toronto Globe published an item from its issue of 50 years ago, in which the statement was made that at that time an Indian of the Alnwick Reserve had attained the age of 110 years, and was still in good health. Johnston Paudash, who was in town a few days ago and who is generally posted on all matters, past and present, in connection with the people of the Reserves, told the Examiner that Captain Jack lived to the grand old age of 128 years, or thereabouts. This was remarkable indeed.

The canoeists and others who patronize the Otonabee River below the locks for boating, are becoming anxious that a suitable slide will be provided for the ascent and descent of their frail crafts. This is an important matter of course, and it is pleasing to note the interest the canoeists are taking in the matter, but there is no need for alarm. It goes without saying that nothing will be left undone by the department to provide a safe and easy means for the lowering of the boats from above the locks to the waters below, and vice versa.

The Lindsay Post says that a few days ago Chief Nevison received a hint that some young men were spending a lot of their time in a certain confectionery store and a very brief investigation held him to conclude that they did not spend their time in eating tarts or sucking bullseyes. He visited the place at a very late hour and found several well known young men engaged in card playing and also found money on the table. They were arrested and appeared before Magistrate Steers at 9.30 a.m. Two of the party were fined $20 each, with $3.05 costs added in each case; the third being older than his companions, was fined $30 and costs. The fines were made payable forthwith. The proprietor of the confectionery store was also arrested and will stand his trial at the General Sessions.

THREE CHICAGO DOCTORS

Failed to Do for Miss Mabelle L. LaMonte What Was Accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

monthly periods, for it meant a couple of days in bed in awful agony. I finally made up my mind that the good doctors were guessing; and hearing from different friends such good reports of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I tried that. I bless the day I did, for it was the dawning of a new life for me. I used five bottles before I was cured, but when they were taken I was a well woman once more. Your Compound is certainly wonderful. Several of my friends have used it since, and nothing but the best do I ever hear from its use."—Yours, MABELLE L. CANADA'S ERA OF PROSPERITY.

Evidence accumulates on all hands of remarkable business activity throughout the Dominion. There is no evidence whatever that the present era of prosperity has reached its climax. On the contrary, everything seems to point to an indefinite continuation of the good times which have been with us for a few years back. The extraordinary demand for houses in Toronto is a reliable measure of the business activity that prevails throughout the country generally. The future ahead of Toronto never seemed more promising than at the present time. The building of the C.P.R., some twenty years ago, was one of the principal forces that accounted for Toronto's development at that time and during the subsequent decade. But much greater forces are at work to-day looking towards the development of Western Canada. The C. P. R. will spend millions in improvements, the Canadian Northern will proceed with the extension of its transcontental line, the country between the C.P.R. and Hudson's Bay will be made accessible by railways, and various other railway enterprises in our northern latitudes have been laid out and will be undertaken in the immediate future. Canada has just made a decent start in the exploitation of her northern areas. Hon. J. H. Ross, Yukon Commissioner, states that there is plenty of room for four transcontinental lines through Canada, and he would not be surprised if the Canadian Northern in time extended a line to the Yukon. The settlement of the prairies was practically all we had in prospect when the C. P. R. was started two decades ago. Now the settlement of Manitoba and the Territories is only one feature of the many-sided interests. We have coal and iron industries in the far east, pulp and paper mills in Northern Ontario and Quebec, nickel mines at Sudbury, a great industrial development at Sault Ste. Marie, increasing mining activity in British Columbia, the gold mines of the Yukon, and water powers all over. And in all these things we are only making a start. The growth of the Dominion ought to proceed very rapidly in the immediate future, and everything points to this growth being continuous for many years to come. The position of the city of Toronto in this new development is assured. It will be benefitted in direct proportion to the development of the country generally. Toronto is financially interested in not a few of the big projects now under way all over the Dominion, and she must of necessity share in the general prosperity of the Dominion. Mr. Ames, president of the Board of Trade, made a true forecast when he said that Toronto would have a population of half a million before many realized it. The building companies might safely enlarge their operations in Toronto. It is said there are 1500 families who are not occupying houses of their own simply because there are no houses for them to occupy. By the time these are supplied there will be 1500 others wanting houses. Toronto has certainly exceeded its habitable capacity. There is both safety and profit for the companies or individuals who put their money in brick and mortar in Toronto.—Toronto World.

Though it may not be altogether correct to ascribe good times to the policy and administration of governments, yet it is quite true that the good times of which the World justly boats, have been, and are, coincident with Liberal rule, coming in, as they did, about the same time as the present Dominion Government came into power, which, it is fair to assume, has had much to do in applying a policy that gave the country the greatest possible benefits from the wave of prosperity. The good times and the active development which accompany them, have been vastly stimulated by the energetic and public-spirited policy of the Ross Government. The great activities that make the Canadian "Soo" the cynosure of the eyes of the continent, would not have been possible except for the encouragement furnished by the advance policy of the Ross Government.

The general activity throughout New Ontario is also to be traced very largely to the application of the policy of the present Government, and this activity has not only been exhibited in New Ontario, but has reflected great prosperity upon the older sections of the province. When, under the energetic rule of two good Liberal Governments — in Ontario and at Ottawa — we have such abounding prosperity, and such a splendid outlook for the future, where can be found any place for a partizan cry—"It is time for a change." Better let not only well enough, but very good, alone. Better enjoy our present and prospective conditions of prosperity, than fly to others that we know not of.

Yet we find the World and other journals of its political stripe, fairly gloating over our prosperity, and at the same time clamouring for the removal of the Ross Government, which stands for progress and energetic development of our provincial resources — important factors of our good times. And not only its removal but its replacement by a party which shares with its leader, Mr. Whitney, a lack of faith in New Ontario, when he dubs it the "land of the stunted poplar," though at this moment it is not only giving employment to millions of capital and thousands of workingmen on the spot, but creating an important trade with the older settled parts of the province, and adding largely to the provincial revenue.

OLD AND NEW ONTARIO.

(The Globe.)

It is not to be forgotten that in the rapid progress of the Dominion the older portion of Ontario, having its centre in this city, will have to fight for its position. Powerful rivals will arise in the west, new industrial and commercial centres, and while this will be one of the features of a growth of which all Canadians will be proud, we must not lag behind in the race. Now, while our Ontario cities have not a great prairie country behind them awaiting development, they have in northern and western Ontario a country of varied resources, which ought to become the home of a great population, engaged in mining, manufacturing and agriculture. No doubt our cities will get their fair share of the trade of Manitoba and the west, but northern Ontario is their peculiar field, to which they should devote special attention. The means of communication between old and new Ontario are of the highest importance. Take, for instance, our connection with the Temiskaming region. In order to reach this from Toronto we must travel by a long and circuitous route mainly through the Province of Quebec, partly rail and partly water. The new Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway will bring the new settlements into close touch with Toronto and the surrounding country. It will also open up large new areas of arable land, and there is little doubt that in time it will be extended to James Bay.

But this is only one aspect of the development of northern Ontario; westward we find Sault Ste. Marie, with the wonderful fabric of industry built up by Mr. Clergue and his co-workers. Still farther west the building of a new railway through the Rainy River district will not only furnish a new outlet for western grain, but will open up a country having great industrial resources.

In regard to all these matters the Ontario Opposition has committed a mistake similar to that of some twenty years ago. When the ownership and control of a large part of Ontario was in dispute, and the Ontario Government had to fight the whole power of the Government at Ottawa, the Ontario Opposition adopted a critical, uncertain attitude, calculated to embarrass rather than aid the defenders of the rights of Ontario. Mr. Whitney is committing a similar error to-day. Everything that is proposed is wrong. Every project for development is a "gigantic steal" or is proposed with some sinister design. His course was such that so prominent a supporter as Mr. Marter, who knows new Ontario thoroughly, has been obliged to register a protest and to declare his approval of the Government policy. As times goes on the foresight of men like Mr. Conmee, who long ago saw the vast capabilities of new Ontario, will become more and more apparent.

REFERENDUM IN MANITOBA.

To-day the voting on the prohibition referendum takes place throughout Manitoba. In the plebiscite submitted to the people of Manitoba on September 28, 1898, the following vote was polled:

	For.	Against.
Winnipeg	1,451	921
Brandon	3,696	507
Lisgar	2,289	429
Macdonald	2,239	306
Marquette	1,830	145
Provencher	349	294
Selkirk	926	377
Total	12,270	2,979
Majority for prohibition	9,291
Total vote polled	15,249
Votes on list	49,304

The total vote, remarks the Globe, is undoubtedly much greater now than it was in 1898. In December, 1899, for example, there were 67,770 voters on the list. The Prohibition party is by no means united in the Province as to the advisability of turning out and working heartily for the act or not. One section is disposed to do so; another has expressed its intention of staying away from the polls. As will have been observed, Rev. Mr. McKay, President of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, sent a note of encouragement to Manitoba Prohibitionists advising them to do their utmost to carry the law. Mr. W. R. Mulock, President of the Manitoba branch, is inclined to challenge this action of his fellow-President. The unalterable policy and attitude of the Manitoba branch of the alliance, he says, is to ignore the so-called referendum, and every action they have taken has been with the "express object of influencing every Prohibitionist in Manitoba not to vote." If the Prohibitionists were a unit on this policy it might be very effective, but unfortunately they are not. The only result will be that a small vote will be polled for prohibition, and, rightly or wrongly, these figures will be quoted as a document in the controversy until there is something that can be regarded as a substitute for it. When will such a substitute be obtainable?

The vote to-day in Manitoba will be a good test of the bona fides and sincerity of the temperance electors of the province, for, whatever the conditions and circumstances, if they believe the Prohibition Bill the best the limited powers of the province permit of, it is their duty to vote in making it the law of the land. No doubt the mass of people in favour of prohibition are earnest and sincere, but they permit themselves to be swayed by leaders who, perhaps, mix up other issues and considerations with the temperance question. The course of a good cause does not always move on velvet. A persistent and severe struggle against difficulties has marked the triumph of every great reform. Do the leaders of the Manitoba prohibition movement expect to be exempt from the conditions that attach to every contest for right in this world? It is easy to win if we can create the conditions of the contest. If the British could have dictated the conditions of the struggle in South Africa, the Boer resistance would have been crushed long ago. If the Boers had consented to come out in the open veldt and give a straight stand-up fight, the war would have been over in a few hours. The British did not shirk and "lie down" because they could not have the fight made easy. They felt their course was right; they have fought the fight with the courage of their convictions, and practically won the the victory. The leaders of the prohibition movement in Manitoba at the first difficulty in their paths, advise the rank and file to lay down their arms like cowards because a fight is needed to win the victory. Judging by the strength of prohibition sentiment in Manitoba, the referendum can be passed with the majority needed to secure its enforcement, if those in favour of it show a united front and poll their votes. But, one prohibition leader says, "quit you like men;" another practically says, "quit like cowards." If the former advice is followed the prohibitionists can doubtless have what they want, if the latter, defeat is certain, and the responsibility for the failure of prohibition will rest upon the heads and consciences of the leaders who have advised throwing down their arms, when, with a united fight, victory was in sight, and upon the individual electors who have followed their advice.

I Will Cure You of

Rheumatism

No pay until you know it.

After 2,000 experiments, I have learned how to cure Rheumatism. Not to turn bony joints into flesh again; that is impossible. But I can cure the disease always, at any stage, and forever.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, for every druggist keeps it. Use it for a month, and if it does what I claim, pay your druggist $5.00 for it. If it doesn't, I will pay him myself.

I have no samples. Any medicine that can effect Rheumatism with but a few doses must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs. It is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that, even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how impossible this seems to you, I know it and I take the risk. I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that $3 out of every 40 who get those six bottles pay, and pay gladly. I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. Let me send you an order for the medicine. Take it for a month, for it won't harm you anyway. If it cures, pay $5.50. I leave that entirely to you. I will mail you a book that tells how I do it.

Simply state name of your dealer, and address Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

THREE CARS LEFT THE TRACKS.

Remarkable Experience of Mail Clerk After Accident.

Toronto April 2.—C.P.R. train No. 19, from the north, due at the Union Station at 8.40 o'clock last night, did not arrive till nearly 1 o'clock this morning.

The train left Toronto at 8.25 yesterday morning, and about a mile south of Flesherton the rails spread, allowing the express, mail and baggage cars immediately in rear of the tender, to leave the tracks. The express car was smashed into kindling wood, and the other coaches were turned over. Express Messenger Corrigan had a miraculous escape from instant death. When picked up it was found that he was suffering from a crushed leg, caused by the safe in the car rolling over on him. Mail Clerk Legate was engaged in sorting letters when the accident occurred, and he cannot understand why he was not taken out of the overturned car before five hours had elapsed, unless the crew of the train were not aware of his presence there.

The train was going at the rate of about 25 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Rejuvenates the Fagged-Out System and Restores Perfect Health.

To thousands of people out-of-sorts, weary, despondent, morose, irritable, with weak, faltering step, pale faces and dull and sunken eyes, not sick enough to be confined to bed, this is a critical and dangerous season, a time that urgently calls for prompt action if recuperation and cure are the prime objects.

The past experience of hundreds of thousands ,including able medical men, clergymen, judges, lawyers, literary men and women, the rich and those in high social position, points unhesitatingly to Paine's Celery Compound, the great medical prescription of modern times, that gives to the ailing, sick and diseased the true condition of health that insures happiness and true pleasure from day to day.

The virtues peculiar to Paine's Celery Compound quickly manifest their power in the correction of unhealthy nerve action and supplying the veins with pure, more abundant, more vigorous and life-giving blood.

Paine's Celery Compound is pre-eminently the best spring medicine known to medical science for thoroughly cleansing and purifying the blood and banishing the varied ills that result from a poisoned and impure condition of the life stream.

If you have any of the varied symptoms of rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney disease, eczema, or salt rheum, a few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, used at this time, will dispel all trouble and danger. We urge every weak, ailing and sick person to fairly test the medicine that is doing more for suffering humanity that all other remedies combined.

Gale on North Atlantic.

St. John's, Nfld., April 2.— The sealing steamer Greenland arrived here Monday night with a cargo of 20,000 seals. The sealer Iceland is stormbound at Bonavista; she is so heavily laden with seals that she fears to continue her voyage to this port. The Virginia is believed to be in the fog off the coast. There is a furious gale on the North Atlantic.

ONTARIO TEACHERS

Educationists Now in Annual Conference in Toronto.

SESSION IS A RECORD-BREAKER

Hon. Mr. Harcourt Speaks of Some Problems of the Day—The Terms of Normal and Model Schools Should Be Lengthened—The Traveling Library—The Consolidation of Rural Schools Advocated.

Toronto, April 2.—The 41st annual meeting of the Ontario Educational Association opened in the Education Department buildings yesterday morning, and the attendance of teachers, General Secretary Doan stated, indicated a record-breaking session. Many of the sections got immediately to work, and a number of interesting addresses were delivered. The public school section received a report of the committee on the Minister's annual report, President Bell of the classical section urged the advantage of Latin for teachers, and Chairman Lough of the training section discussed a reform of the public school curriculum.

During the afternoon many papers were read on various subjects in the various sections of the work.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt.

The general meeting in the evening proved thoroughly enjoyable. President John Henderson occupied the chair. An address was delivered by Hon. R. Harcourt, Minister of Education, and the audience afterwards inspected the various departments of the building, which were all looking their best. The main halls were tastefully decorated by miniature flags.

In the course of his address, the Minister of Education stated that there would likely be a fourth Normal School in the province shortly, located in the northern district. He thought the terms of the county model schools should be lengthened, and commented upon the good standing of Ontario, in an educational way compared with the United States and England. It would, in his opinion, be perhaps advisable to extend the Normal School term, considering that in other countries it was much longer.

Referring to the traveling library system the speaker expressed the strongest hope for its development, and in order to assist it, made an offer of $1 to every $2 given by school boards towards the establishment of libraries in rural schools. He hoped the system would also embrace art galleries in the near future. Continuing, he dealt with the necessity of extending the system of manual training and technical education, stating that in this city there would be some schools where manual training would be commenced this summer, as well as studies in domestic science, natural science, drawing and music. No fees would be charged. In Berlin they were about to expend $15,000 on a building for manual training. He urged women in universities to commence the study of domestic science. In conclusion he advocated the consolidation of rural schools, and expressed the opinion that examinations were, perhaps, more limited than at present absolutely necessary.

Among those occupying seats on the platform were Chancellor Burwash, Maurice Hutton and Principal MacCabe of the Ottawa Normal School.

250 Were Drowned.

Victoria, April 2.—Advices from the east say Tonkin exchanges contain accounts of a disaster to a Chinese-owned steam launch in the river near Hanoi, involving a serious loss of life. The launch Kwang Fat left Namdinh for Hanoi, having on board Madame Arlhae (the wife of an inspector of the native guard, who was lying sick in the Lucessen Hospital in Hanoi,) their infant child and about 100 Chinese passengers. The launch was obviously overloaded, and it foundered. Over two hundred and fifty persons, including Madame Arlhae and her baby, and a number of Chinese women and children were drowned.

A Flood Causes Drowning

Glenboro, Man., April 2.—Another drowning fatality, due to the floods, is reported. Arthur Hibbert and Harry Egan started Monday night about 8 p.m. to drive across Oak Creek near Old Stockton. When they arrived at Oak Creek it was dark, and the water being very high, they did not notice the bridge was gone, and they drove into the water 17 feet deep. They were both thrown out of the rig and Hibbert was drowned. Egan, who is a good swimmer, managed to save himself after being carried about 300 yards down the stream.

ARCHDEACON SHAW.

First English Missionary to Japan, a Native of Canada, is Dead.

Toronto, April 2.—Word was received in the city last night of the death of the Venerable Archdeacon Shaw, a former Church of England minister in Toronto, which occurred at the British Legation at Tokio, Japan. The news of Archdeacon Shaw's death will be received with regret in many circles.

The Venerable Archdeacon Alexander Croft Shaw had wide experience as a missionary. He was born in Toronto, Feb. 9, 1846, and was, therefore, in his 57th year. He was the son of the late Major Alexander Shaw, who lived at Oak Hill, Toronto, and a grandson of the late Major-General Shaw of the Queen's Rangers. Deceased was educated at Upper Canada College, where he secured the Wellington and Jubilee scholarships. He also went to Trinity University, where he obtained the degree of B.A. and M.A. In 1870 he was ordained by the then Bishop of Toronto. Three years later he was accepted as a missionary by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, and was sent to Japan. He had the proud distinction of being the first missionary to be sent to that country, where he founded the Church of England. He also trained the first clergy ordained in the Japanese church. In various ways he has been able to aid in the development of Japan, and for his services he received the formal thanks of that country's Government. In 1881 he was appointed by Lord Granville, then Foreign Secretary, chaplain to the British Legation at Tokio. In 1887 he received the appointment of Archdeacon of Japan. He was the author of a number of works dealing with missionary life in Japan. In 1875 he married Miss May Cattell of London, England.

SIX HUNDRED STRIKE.

Longshoremen of Halifax Went Out at Midnight Tuesday

Halifax, N.S., April 2.—The Longshoremen's Union, decided to go out on strike at midnight. Over 600 men will be affected. They now receive 20 cents an hour. They demand 25 cents an hour for day work and 30 cents for night work, and 50 cents an hour for Sundays and holidays. The steamship agents have refused to accede to the demands. To-day the agency of the Furness-Withy Steampship Company locked out the 150 union men in their employ. They engaged 40 non-union men to remove the cargo from the steamer Dalton Hall. When the order was issued, the men employed on the steamers all stopped work.

Five Dollars a Box

The Price Cut no Figure With Him.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop my purchasing them should I ever suffer again as I did for a week before using them.

The one 50 cent box I bought at my druggist's did the work and my digestion is all right again.

Many of my neighbours have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented and Mr. Elims also wants me to use his name in endorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. (Signed,) A. Elims and Chas. F. Bussell, Asst. Postmaster, South Sudbury, Mass.

Mrs. Jas. Barton, of Toronto, Canada, writes:—"For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surpised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestive, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere endorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

WANT A COMMISSION

Library Association Urges Appointment of One.

TUESDAY AN INTERESTING DAY

The Ontario Government Will Be Asked to Enquire Into the Whole Question of Public Libraries—The Association Elects Officers For the Current Year—Some of the Papers Read.

Toronto, April 2.—The delegates to the Ontario Library Association convention yesterday morning paid a visit to the libraries of the Toronto and Victoria Universities. Subsequently, on reassembling at McMaster, Miss C. A. Rowe of Brockville read a paper on "Some Useful Methods in a Small Public Library," in which she gave many valuable administrative hints.

"Vicissitudes of a Public Library During 50 Years," a paper by Miss Jane Carnochan, gave a sketch of the Public Library, Niagara, from its formation in 1848.

In the afternoon a paper on "The Training of Librarians in Ontario," was read by E. A. Hardy, Lindsay. "Canadian Fiction," in the hands of Lawrence J. Burpee of Ottawa proved to be an interesting paper.

John A. Cooper, editor of The Canadian Magazine, gave a paper on Canadian periodicals, and Dr. S. P. May one on "How to Secure the Passing of a Free Library Bylaw."

A resolution was passed requesting the Lieutenant-Governor-in- Council to appoint a commissioner to examine into and report upon the whole question of the library system of the province.

Another one was passed expressing pleasure at the progress made in erecting reading camps and club houses, and at the liberality of the lumber and mining companies and other industries in fitting them up.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, H. H. Langton, Toronto; first vice-president, R. J. Blackwell, London; second vice-president, W. Tyter, B. A., Guelph; secretary, E. A. Hardy, Lindsay; treasurer, Prof. MacCallum, Toronto; Councillors, James Bain, Toronto; W. J. Robertson, St. Catharines; H. A. Lovell, Smith's Falls; H. Robertson, Collingwood; T. Scollard, Chatham.

Weary Brain Workers.

Fagged out, ideas come as slowly as molasses. You think of things just a minute or two too late. Snap's gone! The buoyancy that made work a pleasure—that's gone too. The doctor would tell you that you are run down, not eating enough nor digesting enough. Your stomach needs aid, your digestion needs a bracer too. You blood requires Phosphorous and Iron that it may be formed readily. Now Ferrozone is a wonderful nerve bracer and blood maker. It's food for the blood and nerves, it will make you strong quickly and permanently. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Author of Ben Bolt Dead.

Newark, N.J., April 2.—Dr. Thomas Dunn English, author of "Ben Bolt," died at his home in this city yesterday. He was born in Philadelphia in 1818, and graduated from the University of Pennsylvania as a doctor of medicine in 1839. Later he studied law, and was admitted to the Philadelphia bar. He engaged in journalism in New York from 1844 to 1859, when he came to Newark to practice medicine. He was a member of the New Jersey Legislature in 1863-64. He served two terms in Congress from a New Jersey district.

Fire Chief Injured.

Hamilton, April 2.—Word was received here last night of a blaze and accident at Dundas. It appears Bertram's machine shop took fire and considerable damage was done before it was extinguished by the volunteer brigade. W. H. Knowles, fire chief, while walking on the second floor, fell through a hole, and dropped about 14 feet, alighting on a machine. He was rendered unconscious. He was removed to his home, and doctors were called. It is not thought that he is fatally injured.

"PUT OUT THE FIRE"

Dr. Agnew's Ointment will relieve and cure any skin disease just as surely as it cured this soldier's Erysipelas—the first application kills the "sting."

Lieut. Buckaam, National Soldiers' Home, in Grant County, Indiana, had a very acute attack of Erysipelas. His face and head were in torment with burning and itching sensations. A druggist recommended Dr. Agnew's Ointment as the quickest relief and cure. He bought a box and found it as good as it promised, and a few applications, to use his own words, "put out the fire and less than a box entirely cured me." Price 35 cts.

Murray Street Music.

The report of the Easter music in the Murray street Baptist church, has been inadvertently omitted until to-day's issue. The programme of music by the choir was of an exceptionally high order. It included in the morning the anthem, Gaul's "This is the Day," and Bamford's "Jubilate Deo." A solo, "The Resurrection," was well rendered by Miss Hall. The evening's anthems were Gaul's "This is the Day," and Roger's "Christ is Risen from the Dead." A very pleasing solo was sung by Miss Hall during the offertory. Miss Agar presided at the organ in her usual capable manner.

The expenses amounted to about $2100, which were all met, a debt of $147 carried over from last year, being also met. Missionary objects were supported substantially. The full reports of all the organisations of St. Luke's will be given at the adjourned meeting on April 21st.

Special reference was made to the large Easter offerings, amounting to in all $340.00.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the Wardens, also to the organist, Mr. John L. Armstrong, whose services as organist and choir leader are much appreciated by the congregation, and which give entire satisfaction. The music on Easter Day was exceptionally good and much admired. Votes of thanks were also tendered to the choir, the different organizations, and to the faithful sexton, Mr. J. Ball.

The meeting adjourned for three weeks. The Rector pronounced the benediction.

THE GOLF COLTS' BALL.

It Proved to be a Most Brilliant Function Last Evening.

The ball which was given in the opera house last evening, under the auspices of the 'Colts" of the Golf Club, may fairly be classed as the most brilliant of the many successful social functions which have taken place this season. The decorations were superb, the walls and ceiling being completely enveloped in flags and bunting — green and red, the Club colours, predominating in the tasteful arrangements of the drapings. The arrangement of the stage as a drawingroom was particularly effective, and the fitting up of the space beneath the gallery, as cosy corners, was also greatly appreciated. Long Bros. catered in their usual faultless manner. The floor was in fine condition, and the presence of Glionna's orchestra from Toronto, put the finishing touch to an evening of perfect enjoyment.

The costumes worn by the ladies were exceptionally pretty, and the fact of a number of the military men appearing in uniform, heightened the taking effect.

The lady patronesses were Mrs. Peter Campbell, Mrs. Dr. Boucher, Mrs. John Crane, Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Mrs. E. C. Complin, Mrs. A. H. Stratton, Mrs. Dr. Young and Mrs. Dr. Greer, and the committee of management comprised Messrs. John Crane, Hon. chairman; Mr. A. J. N. Terrill, Hon. secretary; C. B. McAllister, E. C. Complin, A. H. Stratton, Dr. Young, Dr. Greer, Dickson Davidson, Dr. Neill and A. A. Hollingshead.

The decorations were put up by J. J. Turner & Sons, under the very able superintendence of Mr. Walter Wesley, the draping of the wainscotting and gallery was kindly undertaken by Mr. Roly Johnston, of Richard Hall & Sons, which firm very obligingly placed an immense stock of rugs, curtains, etc., at the disposal of the committee. Similar articles were also kindly loaned by Robt. Fair, A. W. Cressman, W. Lech & Sons, Thos. Barrie and Fred Clarke. The palms were loaned by the Oriental Hotel. Mr. Jack Miller at great personal inconvenience placed his services at the command of the committee and the many pretty effects in electric lighting were due to his efforts.

SMALL-POX CASE.

Erastus Wood, of Otonabee, Said to be Down With This Disease.

A case of small-pox at Jackson's Corners, six or seven miles south of Peterborough, has been reported to Dr. Shaw, Medical Health Officer, of the Township of Otonabee, who has taken prompt and effective measures to isolate the case and prevent the spread of the disease beyond the strictly quarantined residence.

The patient is reported to be Mr. Erastus Wood, who about twenty days ago, while at work north, came in contact with a man who had just returned from the Michigan lumber camps. This man seemed to be suffering from chicken-pox, but the fact of Mr. Woods having contracted small-pox, and this being the only possible source of infection, the origin of his disease is accounted for.

A week ago Sunday Mr. Wood was taken ill and the family physician was summoned. As the symptoms did not resemble those of small-pox the disease was not suspected. However, though the disease did not follow the typical course its later developments left no doubt as to the nature of the disease.

The latest reports from the Medical Health Officer, Dr. Shaw, state that the strictest quarantine regulations, and other safeguards have been put in force.

OTTAWA WON IN BASKETBALL

An Interesting Game at the Y. M. C. A.

ATTENDANCE WAS LARGE.

The Locals put up a Good Game, but Were Outclassed by the Senators.

Last evening in the Peterborough Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, there took place one of the most hotly contested games in the history of the Association here. The Ottawa quintette has been touring the basketball centres of the Province and getting in some good practice, and were in A1 condition for the contest of last evening. The Peterborough boys, with the exception of one, were all new men, and although they were much lighter than their opponents, put up a strong game, in fact the combination of the Peterborough's was excellent, but they failed to score. The score at the end stood 26 to 21 in favour of Ottawa. The applause all through the game was deafening, as brilliant plays were made by either side.

Mr. James Connal, Chairman of the Physical Committee, after a few preliminary remarks, faced the ball off; Smith securing the ball and quickly passed to Robertson, who, however, failed to score, the ball travelled backward and forward, during which some brilliant combination was shown by both sides. Merrill, of the Ottawas, at last secured the ball, and after some hard checking, scored for Ottawa. Time, eight minutes. Ottawa secured the ball at the toss-up, and again scored. Time, two minutes. The Peterboroughs now appeared to wake up, and played with an energy unsurpassed. Ottawa fouled and Peterborough scored. After a few minutes play Robertson again scored for Peterborough. Merrill and Hill for Ottawa were wonders, and after some pretty combination again scored for Ottawa. The play started off again, and Peterborough fouled and Ottawa scored. Peterborough now scored two fouls and a basket, making it 15 to 10 in favour of Ottawa at half time.

Mr. Jos. Halpany entertained the spectators during half-time with a number of well rendered vocal selections, which were much appreciated and applauded.

The second half started off fast and furious, Peterborough scoring two baskets within five minutes, making it stand one point in Peterborough's favour. Dobbin and Campbell, on defence, worked like Trojans, while Smith at centre was a regular cyclone. Hall and Robertson as forwards, played well and hard, but were so closely checked that it was impossible to score. When the timekeeper's whistle blew Ottawa was five points in the lead. The Ottawa men all played well, and are an evenly balanced team. The game was entirely free from rough play throughout, and was a good exhibition of basketball.

After the game both teams were banqueted by Physical Director Ayers, who proved himself a worthy host. Speeches were made by a number of those present eulogizing the Ottawa team, and were responded to by Physical Director Lee and the captain of the Ottawas.

On Friday evening the closing exhibition will take place, and will be free to all interested in the work. An excellent programme has been prepared for the occasion.

TENNIS.

The annual general meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Club will be held this evening in the Y.M.C.A. parlours at 8 o'clock.

MR. LINDSAY AND THE POLITICO-PROHIBITION GAME.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir,—I am much obliged to you for publishing my letter, as now your readers know the facts regarding Mr. W. W. Buchanan's position, which was my only reason for taking up space in you paper.

Mr. Buchanan was the guest of the temperance people of Peterborough, and especially of the local branch of the Ontario Alliance, and he conducted himself in such a gentlemanly way that I have yet to hear of one who found fault with his utterances, although I hear a number say it was the best address they ever listened to. As regards Mr. Buchanan writing my letter, I can truthfully say I have never heard from him directly or indirectly in any form since he was here on the 13th of March, nor do I know where it is, so you are wrong in your guess of who wrote the letter, but is it any more a crime for me to get some one to write a letter, than it is for some men who consider themselves giants intellectually and in other ways, to have men hired to write their letters and their speeches as well.

Regarding my position as President of the local branch of the Ontario Alliance, I refused to accept the position, but it was pressed on me, so I consented to fill the position temporarily. I am not anxious for this office, as I have not the time to give to it that it requires as, according to instructions, we have to go into politics and vote and work for which ever candidate will come out and pledge himself for prohibition and temperance reforms, and here I may say I am so much of a politician that I am willing to vote for Hon. J. R. Stratton, if he will pledge himself in writing to support prohibition and temperance measures, and vote for them in the House, no matter who brings them up—Grit or Tory. If he will not do that, then he will not get my vote, nor should he get the vote of any temperance man whether Grit or Tory.

Now, will Mr. Stratton pledge himself? There is to be no riding two horses in this election, either for temperance or against it. As to the way I conducted the meetings, I leave the people who were there to judge whether I showed any partisan "gall or bitterness." It sometimes depends on what kind of glasses we look through what we see. As regards the Review clique, I don't know whom you refer to, but no one in the Review office or in any way connected with it, or any other kind of a clique had anything to do with my letter, any more than the Examiner staff had.

Now, Mr. Editor, I am not interested in politics,—nor have I taken any interest more than an ordinary citizen. I simply vote for what I consider the best man, and let others do the same, without trying to bully them into voting as I think. But, Mr. Editor, I think your comments have done the temperance cause good, and I am sure it has not hurt me.

Yours truly,
H. P. LINDSAY,
Pres. Peterborough County Alliance.

If Mr. Lindsay were sincere in regard to the first paragraph of the above letter, that would seem to be enough to answer his purpose, but, as in his first letter, he goes out of his way to introduce matter entirely irrelevant to his asserted purpose.

In the first place the Examiner only referred to Mr. Buchanan's financial relations with the Alliance, on the strength of a published report of an arrangement made and could not have been supposed to know that, as Mr. Lindsay said, Mr. Buchanan had repudiated the arrangement made, and declined to accept any remuneration besides his expenses.

He had no expenses in Peterborough—only his railway fare from Belleville—for he was the guest of private citizens during his stay here. In view of Mr. Lindsay's assertion, how can be explained the fact, as is alleged, of Mr. Buchanan taking the whole proceeds of the Opera House collections — a considerable sum — and leaving the local temperance workers to foot a considerable bill for hall rent and other expenses, and making it necessary to practically borrow money to meet it?

It is also difficult to understand Mr. Lindsay's earnest defence of Mr. Buchanan. The taking of the collection could be over-looked, but how can an ardent temperance man like Mr. Lindsay overlook Mr. Buchanan's so completely failing to work the party end of his visit as to bring down the profane malediction of some members of the Review Tory clique?

Mr. Lindsay does not seem to want to understand. The Examiner referred to his first letter as having been inspired—though Mr. Lindsay may have written it, it seemed evident that the spirit of it was suggested by others.

He claims that he is not a politician, but a temperance man, yet he consorts with political elements that have no earthly claim to be considered temperance elements.

His first letter was sent to the Review the same day it was sent to the Examiner. The above letter was also sent to the Review to-day, though why the Review should get a letter, intended to thank the Examiner for inserting another letter, is not clear, unless the political offeet, palpably designed to be made, was an object.

The above letter is a thinly disguised attack on Mr. Stratton, whose position in regard to prohibition has been often stated and is well known. He is a member of a Government which has given the only measure of prohibition an Ontario Government has ever given, and he and the Government assume full responsibility for its passage and will accept full responsibiliety for its enforcement, unless the people are prevented from adopting it through the intrigues and wire-pulling of party politicians, who place party success before prohibition.

When Mr. Lindsay's attitude in regard to prohibition is championed by the Review—the bitter opponent of the Dunkin Act and the Scott Act—who can object to the inference that party capital is being made of the prohibition movement.

Mr. Lindsay is kind enough to say that the Examiner's comments on his letter has "done good to the cause of temperance." If this is true it was by exposing the political game that was being played with such bare-faced effrontery that a fool could not be deceived as to the object aimed at, and it is more than can be said of Mr. Lindsay's course the past few weeks.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York,—Gates following are said to be buying U. P.

New York, April 1st,—A few low priced issues. The Easter holidays being over, a period marking the return of many of Wall street's leading operators from their twixt winter and spring vacations in the south and various nearby resorts should bring about increased activity in the share list. The standard shares all having a bright outlook for the future, many of the minor low-priced issues are at present worthy of attention.

Amn Ice has declined to nominal figures, and will more than likely pass its current dividends. The outside interest has been pretty well shaken out, and the price reached a figure that nevertheless warrants buying. The Amn Ice Co has nearly a monopoly of the ice business of nearly all the large eastern cities and will be certain to rise again and do business at a good profit. Its plant and good will should be more than worth the present price for which the property is now selling.

Colorad Southern, Iowa Centl and Wis C are also good to buy at present. They like Chicago and Great Western are bound to be taken in by large systems their prices should go higher.

Mex Natl and Mex Centl present at present a favourable outlook for the future. Steps to develop American trade with the Silver Republic are being taken with greater energy than ever before. These lines will prove direct beneficiaries of this action. The earnings will increase more rapidly than heretofore, while more buyers will be consequently found for the shares. These stocks have a better market at present than ever before, and in the natural order of events must, and will continue to improve. We anticipate quite a rise in these securities in the near future.

Leather stock has been dormant for so long a period that we hesitate to recommend its purchase. Nevertheless it shows strength and indications of waking from its lethargy, and working higher. The long and tedious inactivity in this stock has pretty well driven the long interest left from the last bull campaign (when it sold up to 40,) out, and the inevitable conclusion must be drawn that these sold out shares, have again drifted into the hands o fthe insiders who lifted its price before the process of re-securing the stock has been a long one. It would now appear to be about over, so we believe the stock will work up to at least around 20 more buyers could be found around 25 for leather than below 15.

Dr. Kendall, Cape Breton, Suggests That the Government Go Into the Coal-Mining Business—Other Speakers.

Ottawa, April 2.—The House resumed business after the Easter holidays yesterday afternoon, and the whole sitting was devoted to the debate. Mr. E. Gus Porter resumed the debate. It was his maiden Parliamentary effort. He made a good impression and received the warm congratulations of his political friends. Dr. Kendall (Cape Breton) made a valuable contribution to the debate, and entered a vigorous protest against the extortion of the Nova Scotia Coal Companies, suggesting that if necessary the Government undertake the mining of coal in order to relieve the people from excessive prices. Mr. Rosamond, a woollen manufacturer, quoted the growth in imports of woollens of the class manufactured in Canada as the cause of serious depression in the woollen industry. Mr. Robert Holmes, in reply to Mr. Rosamond, quoted the statement of a woollen manufacturer, who assured him his mill had all the work it could do, and commended the Government for having resisted the pressure to increase the tariff.

Mr. Calvert introduced a bill to incorporate the Huron & Erie Canal Company.

Mr. T. O. Davis called attention to the fact that in the census bulletins the halfbreeds of the Territories are classed as Indians. Hon. Mr. Fisher stated that it was intended to change the wording of the census so as to meet the objection now raised.

A RAILWAY MAN.

Extraordinary Unpleasant Symptoms of Kidney Trouble in This Case.

Tortured by all Kinds of Pains and Aches he Tries Everything, but Fails to Find Relief Till a Friend Advises him to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills—They Have Made a Well Man of Him and he is Grateful.

Ottawa, Ont., March 30. (Special.)—Frank Chartrand, a railway man, whose home is at 130 Little Chaudiere street, has acknowledged that Dodd's Kidney Pills have done more for him than anything else in the world has ever done. He says: "I suffered with backache and was always drowsy and had a very heavy feeling in my limbs.

"I had frequent severe headaches and more times very sharp pains in the top of my head, which gave me much annoyance in my work.

"My fingers would cramp and I would have an uneasiness in my legs and occasional pains in the loins.

"I was dizzy in spells and short of breath. If I ate a hearty meal I would have a pain in my left side. My appetite would sometimes be very good and sometimes I couldn't eat anything.

"I had a constant soreness and tenderness over the spine and tired feeling in the region of my kidneys.

"I suffered quite a little with a dragging heavy feeling across the loins.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a friend of mine who had been cured, and I began to use them.

"Almost from the start I began to feel the wonderful improvement, which continued as the treatment proceeded, till the unpleasant symptoms had one by one entirely disappeared.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills have worked a wonderful cure in my case and I cannot speak too highly of this great and good remedy."

What Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for Mr. Chartrand they have done for thousands of others, and they'll do the same for you if you give them a chance.

There are many railway men in Canada to-day who find Dodd's Kidney Pills indispensable. They are the railway man's surest and best friend.

The constant vibration on trains and engines is very hard on the kidneys and Dodd's Kidney Pills make these organs well and able to resist disease.

LAKE SUPERIOR FAST.

Steamer Was Drawn Out of the Mud, But Tide Took Her Back.

St. John, N.B., April 1.—The Elder Dempster steamer Lake Superior is hard and fast on the mud bar in the harbor. Another effort was made yesterday afternoon at high tide to haul the big ship into deep water. Ten tugs took hold, and as they steamed the steamer was moved a couple of hundred feet up the harbor but the current soon carried her back again. She is now partly in the mud, and, it is thought, rests partly on the rocks of the reef. The work of disembarking her 1,182 passengers progressed all day. The lightering of the cargo has not been started. Another effort to get the steamer off will be made before the cargo is touched.

The Charges Are Denied.

A Wrong Idea of the Nerves.

The Action of the Heart, Lungs, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys Dependent on the Nerve Force—Extraordinary Results From the use of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

There is not a single organ of the human body that can perform its functions without a liberal supply of nerve force—the motive power of the body.

The nervous system should never be thought of as a separate part of the body. Its branches extend from the brain and the spinal column to the tips of the fingers and toes. Just as the blood is carried by the arteries to every nook and corner of the system, so the nerve force, by means of nerve fibres, is distributed, and nerve force is just as important to life as is good, rich blood.

When the nerve cells are wasted, by over-exertion, worry or disease, more rapidly than they are replaced, the action of the heart becomes slower, the lungs begin to weaken, the stomach fails to do its duty, the liver and kidneys falter in their work as filters, and the excretory organs get feeble and inactive. You may be a sufferer from weakness and exhaustion of the nerves, and may have been attributing the trouble to the stomach, kidneys or other organs. Nervous exhaustion is marked by restlessness, disturbed sleep, languid, weary feelings, headache, dyspepsia and bodily pains, inability to concentrate the thoughts, absent-mindedness, weakened memory, twisting of the muscles and eyelids, sudden startings and jerking of the limbs in sleep, dizziness, irritability and gloomy forbodings.

Through the medium of the nervous system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food carries new life and energy to every organ of the body. It strengthens the action of the heart, invigorates the stomach, makes the kidneys, liver and bowels more active, and builds up the entire system.

If you experience any of these symptoms of nervous exhaustion, you can rely absolutely on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to cure you. It does not stimulate, but thoroughly cures, by forming new, red corpuscles in the blood and creating nerve force.

Mr. E. Rosevear, a retired school teacher of 2 Markham-place, Toronto, says:

"I am getting up in years, and, as a natural result of severe study, my health has been undermined, and my system very much run down. I got so weak and nervous, and suffered so much from dizziness, that I found it necessary to begin a treatment of some kind. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been so highly spoken of that I decided to give it a trial, and can now speak of its merits from personal experience. It has built me up wonderfully, and strengthened and restored my nervous system."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A DOG BY HIS POINTS

IMPORTANT QUALITIES POSSESSED BY PRIZE-WINNING CANINES.

The Judging of a Dog in Practice Is as Difficult as It Is Easy in Theory—Points to Be Considered—The Purpose of the Breed—The Perfect Greyhound—Stonehenge on Greyhounds.

The judging of a dog is simple enough as a general theory, but most difficult in correct practice. It is natural that the public at large should understand little about it, as the breeding of fine dogs either for love of the animal or as a business is limited to the comparstive few.

The average owner of a dog does not know the points of value in his animal, it is safe to say, although this is not true in the case of any one at all who pretends to be a dog fancier.

When we speak of judging a dog by his points, we speak the literal truth. That a dog should be pleasing to the eye is of less importance to the judge than to the ordinary visitor to the show. "The homeliest bulldog always gets the prize," you have heard repeated again and again. The prize winner is not the homeliest to the judge. He represents most truly those points which are necessary to making the best bulldog for the purposes for which a bulldog is intended.

Every dog may be said to have some purpose. The mastiff is a watchdog, the setter is a hunter, the King Charles spaniel a toy, the coach dog is, or rather, was, an ornament to a coach and team; therefore, when the judge considers an exhibit he gives the most importance to the points which specially suit the dog for his purpose. So it can readily be seen that, while the one part may be of great importance in one dog, it is of very little importance in another.

Stonehenge is the Blackstone of dog judging. To show how detailed are the points to be considered in the judging of a greyhound, for instance, here is a small portion of what he says:

"The beamlike back is all important, for without strength in this department, though high speed may be obtained for a short distance, it is impossible to maintain it, and then we have a flashy animal who is brought up at the end of a quarter of a mile. The back should have the strength and form of a beam. There is a long muscle which runs from the hips forward to be attached to the angles of the ribs, and this, if well developed, gives great power in turning, so that it is an essential point, and upon the size of it the squareness mainly depends. Without width of hip no back can be strong, since the muscles have no possibility of attachment in sufficient breadth, and the same may be said of the ribs.

"In examining, therefore, a dog out of condition the experienced eye often detects the probability of the future development of a good back, even though there is no appearance of muscle at the time, because, the bones being of good size and breadth, there is every reason to expect, with health, exercise and good feeding, that they will be covered by their usual moving powers and will then show the substance which is desired.

"It is also desired to have depth of back from above downward, by which the whole body is 'buckled and unbuckled' with quickness and power, as is required in the gallop. The muscles of the abdomen may draw the chest toward the hind legs powerfully, but the action is too slow, and for quick contraction those of the under side of the back are essential.

"By the 'side' is to be understood the chest, which is composed of two sides combined. The beamlike form of this part depends upon the width of the angles of the ribs where they curve toward the backbone and upon which, as I before observed, the size of the back depends. Very round ribs, like a barrel, are not so desirable as the squared form which I have alluded to because of several anatomical reasons.

"Great depth of chest is apt to prevent the dog stooping on rough ground, as he strikes it against ridges or large stones, but a moderately deep chest is a valuable point, giving plenty of 'bellows room,' as it is popularly called. This, however, is provided far better by breadth than by depth, and the former should be insisted upon more than the latter, provided there is not that round, tublike form of the ribs which interferes with the action of the shoulder blades and often accompanies low breeding."

Hydrogen a Nonconductor.

Professor Trowbridge of Harvard University has been making researches which lead him to the conclusion that pure hydrogen is a nonconductor of electricity. An electric discharge cannot penetrate an atmosphere of pure hydrogen nor, in fact, any gas. In ordinary cases the spark is transmitted by the ions, resulting from the decomposition of water. Schumann has shown that pure hydrogen at atmospheric pressure transmits ultra violet rays as freely as the most perfect vacuum. Hence this gas, by Maxwell's theory, must be a nonconductor. Professor Dewar has also shown experimentally that liquid hydrogen is a non-conductor.

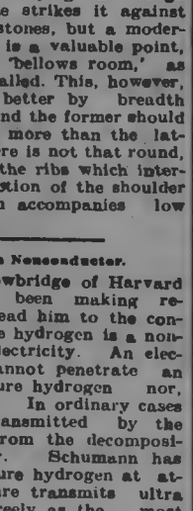
Know that in spite of hard work in the clear forest air the blood often becomes impure. The heavy food served in the lumber camps is to a great extent responsible for this condition of the blood, which renders the body an easy prey to many forms of disease. There is no better blood purifier than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures eruptions, pimples, eczema, scrofula, rheumatism, and other diseases caused by an impure condition of the blood. It cures absolutely and altogether by cleansing the blood from the poisons which breed and feed disease.



Accept no substitute for the "Discovery." There is no other medicine "just as good" for the blood.

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. James Murphy, of Fonda, Pocahontas Co., Iowa. "It has cured me of chronic scrofula of twelve years' standing. I also had chronic diarrhea for twelve years. I am in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery' before I stopped."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages, and over 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper cover, or 50 cents for the book in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FAD BECAME A MANIA.

Tempted by Harvard Book Plates, a Doctor Turned Thief.

It would seem from the experience of the Harvard college library that book plate collecting may sometimes develop into a dangerous and expensive mania. A few years ago the Harvard library found that the engraved labels which it pastes on the inside of the covers of its books as marks of its ownership were disappearing from some of the less used volumes. The older book plates, it appears, are highly prized by collectors, and some of them are particularly valuable for their artistic merit as well as for interesting associations with early book collecting in this country. These were naturally the special prey of the thief.

Detectives took the matter in hand, and the offender was discovered with full evidence of his guilt upon him. He confessed to stealing the library's property and to having it in his possession. By the time the matter reached the courts the greater part of the book plates had been restored, the thief having settled satisfactorily with the persons to whom he had sold or given them, and, as the prisoner had repaid the expense to which the library had been put, the college consented to leave the matter of sentence with the court, which imposed a fine of $150 on one count and put the other count on file, to be brought up again later if it should be desirable, meanwhile placing the offender under $1,000 bonds for his future appearance if he should be wanted.

A striking point in the case is that the guilty man is in no way a common criminal. His education (he has a degree of doctor) and his taste seem only to have made his thefts more intelligent and discriminating, however. He knew the value of his peculiar booty, and he knew how to dispose of it, his very personality being a protection to him in that part of his misdemeanor. Apparently the fad developed to a mania and that to kleptomania in his mind.

A number of the stolen plates have not yet been traced at all, and collectors have been warned against accepting Harvard plates of the older engraved varieties unless there is unmistakable evidence that they came honestly into the possession of the person who offers them.

SIR HENRY STRONG WILL RETIRE.

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Makes Application.

Ottawa, April 1.—Sir Henry Strong, Chief Justice of Canada, will retire from the Supreme Court bench in September next. He has applied to the Minister of Justice to be retired.

The Chief Justice, son of the Rev. Samuel S. Strong, sometime acting-chaplain to the forces in Quebec and rector at Ottawa, according to Morgan, was a student in Toronto under the late Henry Eccles, was called to the bar in 1849, and practiced for many years with Mr. Eccles. Also with former Chief Justice Taylor of Manitoba, the late Hon. James D. Edgar and Dr. John Hoskin. He was appointed a judge in 1869 and has been a member of the Supreme Court since its formation in 1874. He was promoted to the Chief Justiceship in 1892, on the death of Sir W. J. Ritchie.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper digestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids digestion. Nerviline cures dyspeptic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, colic, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c. bottles everywhere.

New Theory of Cancer.

Cleveland, April 1.—Before the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists yesterday, Dr. Lecount of Chicago presented a paper in which he said that the so-called parasites of cancer were not parasites, but parts of cells, thus clashing with the widely parasite theory of cancer.

To Have Its Lighting Plant.

Gravenhurst, April 1.—Two by-laws were voted upon here yesterday. One to raise $15,000 to purchase the existing electric light plant resulted in 110 votes for the by-law and 7 against, majority 103.

A by-law to raise the sum of $4,000 was passed by 95 majority.

Long Life is Inherited.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lives dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful diseases as no other preparation was ever known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Fire Is Extinguished.

New York, April 1.—The Quebec Line steamer Pretoria, which returned to port Sunday night with the cargo in her fore hold on fire, lay off at Staten Island yesterday. The fire was extinguished early yesterday morning, and a wrecking tug began to pump the water out of the fore hold. It was still impossible to estimate the amount of damage done by the fire.

A BOTTLE OF POWDER.

A Nine Year old Ops Township boy was too Inquisitive—The Results.

While Michael, the nine year old son of Mr. J. J. Hogan, East Ops, was exploring the recesses of the root house, yesterday evening, he came across a small bottle containing about a tablespoonful of powder, and after retiring with his prize to the barn, so as to be safe from interruption, he struck a match and dropped it into the bottle. There was a sharp explosion, and when the lad had picked himself up he felt queer all over, while blood was dripping from his right hand.

His cries attracted attention and he was carried into the house, where he related the story of his unlucky find and experiment. The powder had blackened his face and singed his hair and eye brows, while particles of glass had cut him in a number of places. One large piece lodged in the right palm near the thumb, and Dr. Shier, of Lindsay, had to be called in to extract it, and dress the wound. In all the lad bore about fifty marks of the explosion.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Of the Schools of Peterborough County.

REV. J. G. POTTER PRESIDED.

The Receipts and Expenditures—Some Interesting Reports—The Officers for the Years.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough County S. S. Council was held on Wednesday evening, March 19th, at ten o'clock, with a fair attendance. Owing no doubt to the state of the roads some of the more distant members were detained at home. The meeting was presided over by the president, Rev. J. G. Potter.

Letters of regret were read from B. F. Doxsee, Hastings, and W. E. Roxburgh, Norwood.

After the usual devotional exercises and reading of the minutes, encouraging reports were presented by the President, Field Secretary, Primary Supt., Assistant Primary Supt., and Treasurer.

The report of the Field Secretary, Dr. Harrison, carefully reviewed the work of the past year and contained many valuable suggestions for the furtherance of the work. The following items are taken from it;

"There is one of our Township Associations that has not as yet adopted the plan of holding its annual meeting when we are having the series of annual conventions for the town and townships, that of Smith and Lakefield."

"So far our Township Associations have not all responded by electing a representative to this Council."

"Our town and township associations are not pushing the work of the departments as it should be, in fact some make no provision at all for Primary, Home Class and Normal

"In the syllabus issued by the Executive of the Provincial Association, we take pardonable pleasure in observing that Peterborough county Association is one of four Associations in the province that contributes one hundred dollars or more to provincial work. At present we are $35 in arrears of last year's pledge of $130. Our pledge this year is $100."

The report of the treasurer revealed the fact that only three of the associations in the county contributed financially to the work of the association. This should not be so for we are largely indebted to organized efforts for all the forward movements of the S. S.

The treasurer's report for the year was as follows—

The report of the Primary Supt. was as follows:

Since our last annual meeting I have visited 16 Sabbath Schools, 11 in town and 5 in rural districts. In three of the schools visited the following books were placed in the Sabbath School Library for the use of the teachers,

"Teaching and Teachers," by Turnbull, $1; "Practical Primary Plans," by Israel P. Black, $1; "Child Nature," by Elizabeth Harrison, $1; "Point of Contact," by Patterson Du Bois, 60c; "Normal Outlines," by G. W. Pease, 2 copies, 50; total, $4.10.

Most of the other schools visited purchased these books last year.

In only one or two schools where chairs or benches were used did I find chairs sufficiently low to enable the children to rest their feet on the floor. Since then two schools at least have rectified this defect.

I have endeavoured to impress on the minds of those in authority the desirability of having surroundings most favourable for attracting and instructing the young. It is particularly difficult to hold the attention of pupils in primary grades, hence the need of every suitable means to the desired end.

I have also attended four S.S. Rallies and gave a short talk at each of these.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

L. GARVIN.

The Assistant Primary Superintendent, Miss English, reported as to the correspondence of the department, the literature sent to the various schools and also that two sets of books had been ordered for a teacher's library at Frazerville and Bethel.

The officers for the ensuing year are:

Otonabee, Miss E. Armstrong; Dummer, Rev. W. L. Atkinson; Smith and Lakefield, Mr. R. Udy; North Smith and Harvey, Rev. J. P. Berry; Asphodel, Mr. J. Sargent; Belmont, Mrs. Mathieson; Peterborough and Ashburnham, Rev. J. Bastow; Y.M.C.A., Mr. G. H. Williamson.

Reports were presented by the Associations of Peterborough, and Ashburnham; Dummer, Asphodel, Belmont and Smith and Lakefield. No report was presented from Otonabee and North Smith and Harvey.

The annual conventions will be held in May, beginning Sunday May 18th.

An effort is being made to bring the General Secretary, Mr. J. A. Jackson, B.A., to assist at them.

The committee to make the necessary arrangements for the conventions are—Rev. J. G. Potter, Mrs. Garvin, Miss L. Bennett, Mr. T. W. Robinson and Dr. Harrison.

Before dismissing, a resolution of thanks was passed to the Board of the Y.M.C.A. for so kindly allowing the Association the use of the room.

THE SCIENTIFIC WAY.

Drugs Couldn't Cure Mr. Hagens of Montreal, so he Tried the New No-Drug System of Curing People and was Made Well of a Running Sore Which Lasted Ten Years.

I feel it my duty to write you my testimonial to the wonderful curative powers of Powley's Liquified Ozone. Ten years ago I bruised my left leg between the knee and the ankle, and it broke out in a running sore. I tried every known remedy and drug, but none of them effected a cure. Sometimes my leg was so bad that I would have to lay off from my work. About the last of June it became so bad that I was confined to my house, and for eight weeks was unable to leave my room, the pain being intense. The sore was running very badly all the time, and it covered a space on my leg the size of the palm of my hand. It was very much discoloured and there was a large piece of proud flesh in it that it seemed impossible to heal. In fact, I never expected that my leg would be cured. I had heard a great deal about your no-drug preparation and I procured a bottle of Ozone and applied it to the sore and also began to take it inwardly. Before I had finished one bottle, I found the sore beginning to heal. I am happy to inform you that the sore is now completely healed up and I have no pain. I am now working every day, experiencing no inconvenience whatever from my leg. My general health is good and I have to thank you for your wonderful preparation, as I have to attribute my present good health and cure to that alone.

I shall ever praise Ozone for the good it has done me, and I shall always keep it in my house as a family standby.

I will be glad to answer any communications as to the truth of this statement, and you may publish the same for the good of others.

One night in June my leg was so bad and the pain so intense I was taken with a violent fit and my wife thought I would die. Before morning we applied Ozone freely and I was relieved. (Signed.) C. Hagens, 94 Anderson street, Montreal, P.Q.

You can secure a bottle of Powley's Liquified Ozone at your druggists for 50 cents or $1. You will never regret purchasing it. It is the scientific way of curing disease—nature's blood food and blood purifier.

MANITOBA'S VERDICT

The Liquor Act Defeated on the Referendum.

CITIES STRONGLY OPPOSE IT

Winnipeg's Big Majority Against Prohibition—The Returns Received—The Act Supported in Some of the Rural Municipalities, But Not Strong Enough to Counteract the Urban Vote.

Winnipeg, April 3.—The Manitoba Liquor Act was defeated yesterday.

In Winnipeg the vote stood for the act 2,454, against 5,883. So far the total vote stands 14,764 against the act, and 9,114 for. Final returns will not be known until to-day, but the vote will be a slightly decreased ratio. The act is certainly defeated by at least five thousand majority.

Appended is the vote in some of the principal towns outside of Winnipeg:

The vote in the country was not heavy, owing to the attitude of the Temperance Alliance in counselling people not to vote, but to reserve their energies for the general election. At the last provincial general election in Manitoba the total number of votes on the lists showed 67,770 voters. It is not anticipated that the vote yesterday will amount to half of this.

The anti-prohibitionists are satisfied with the result, and so, apparently, are the temperance advocates of non-voting, who, among prohibitionists, are in the majority in Winnipeg.

The result of the vote means no prohibition act and a big fight, prohibition versus liquor at the general election, when it is expected the parties led by Greenway and Roblin will both take the position that the people, having pronounced against prohibition, it will not be placed as a plank in the platform of either of the old line parties. Prohibitionists and independents will likely nominate men in at least every rural riding in the province.

It required 62 per cent. of the total vote polled to carry the referendum.

Eleven Men Killed in One Day.

Manila, April 3.—At yesterday's session of the trial by court-martial of Major Littleton W. T. Waller of the Marine Corps on the charge of killing natives of the Island of Samar without trial, Private McGee of the Marine Corps testified that twelve men were shot, eleven on one day and one the next day. When called upon to clear up certain points of his testimony, McGee refused to answer, on the ground that it might incriminate him.

Dentists' Materials Seized.

Montreal, April 3.—The Canadian customs here have seized dentists' materials, such as false teeth and fittings, to the value of $13,000, which, it is claimed, have been smuggled from New York from time to time for a local wholesale house, by the connivance of customs attaches, five of whom, it is said, have been dismissed.

Engineer's Gruesome Find.

Ottawa, April 3.—The engineer of the Toronto train, which arrived in the city at 7.15 o'clock yesterday morning, discovered about one mile west of Franktown, 36 miles from Ottawa, the dead body of a man. The body is that of a young man probably 22 or 23 years of age, about 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighing probably 175 pounds. The dead man has not been identified.

MR. MATCHETT'S PAPER.

He Discussed the Public School History in Toronto, Yesterday, Before the Convention.

"The Present Public School Text-Book in History" was the title of a paper by M. W. Matchett, of Peterborough, read at the joint meeting of the Public School Department, Training Department, Historical Section and the Ontario Historical Association, held in Toronto yesterday afternoon. Mr. Matchett said that as the Canadian portion of the book is a reprint from the High School History it is evidently not well adapted for public school use. The language is somewhat beyond the comprehension of the average public school pupil ,hence he learns history imperfectly, and acquires a distaste for the subject. The present book lacks a "table of contents," an "index" and a full explanation of how we are governed, how we elect public officers, and their duties. It could be improved by giving more space to the Canadian portion, and to biographical essays; by adding a list of important dates with events, a list of sovereigns, with dates, a number of pictures, and by using heavier type for important names, words, etc. Public school text-books should be prepared by a committee of public school teachers, or there should be such a committee to choose the best manuscript submitted, and have the book published at a reasonable profit, or sold at cost by the Educational Department. Then, with the aid of a good text-book, every teacher should develop in his pupils the highest type of Canadian and British citizenship.

On motion of Mr. Matchett, seconded by Mr. A. Weidenhammer, of Waterloo, a resolution was passed (1) condemning the public school text-book in history on account of the difficulty of the language; (2) that the department be requested to have a more suitable text-book prepared in the near future; (3) that in its preparation public school teachers be consulted.

Another resolution, moved by Mr. Carstairs and seconded by Prof. Wrong, was passed, as follows:—That, whereas the present curriculum of history for our primary and secondary schools is indefinite, a representative committee of six be appointed (1) to draw up a syllabus of work suited to each grade of our primary and secondary schools; (2) to suggest a supply of material as shall be suited to each grade.

The committee appointed under this resolution was as follows:—Messrs. Carstairs, Matchett, Weidenhammer, Rev. J. O. Miller, St. Catharines; Edwards, London.

Millinery

Not thrown together, but created by deft fingers, guided by artistic taste.

There is a saying that there is a place for everything. That's true of Millinery, and at this Millinery store everything is in its place. That's what causes the sweet harmony that stands out in the Millinery Dept. and causes you to remark "what a pleasing display." "Doesn't that just look like me?" The stock will always be seasonably stocked, but we believe there is no time like the first of the season to get the truly smart effects. We advise early selection.

Costumes and Skirts

of the up-to-date order with the fit you would expect to get if you paid your tailor $35.00 to $45.00. Yet our prices only run about half of that for even the swellest suits. Prices start at $5.00 and run up to $22.50. They are natty Suits, some of them with a jauntiness that would grace "Fifth Avenue," New York. A look at them in our new Ready-to-wear Department would be appreciated.

Dress Goods

Never have we had the unparalelled success in our Dress Goods such as has crowned our efforts for this season. By careful study of the proper materials to be worn, we have managed to strike "the right" cloths which have caused this excellent output. We have'nt everything shown this Spring, but we do believe we have the correct things. VALUES as well as style count largely at this store, and the cash and one price principle on which we work, enables us to mark all prices at the lowest possible margin of profit.

A FISH STORY.

A Monster Maskinonge or a "Whopper."

The Toronto Star says: "Probably the largest maskinonge caught in Ontario last year is one mentioned in the report to the Department of Fisheries sent in by Inspector J. M. Hurley, of Belleville. He says that in Crow Lake, near Marmora, several parties landed maskinonge weighing from 30 to 35 lbs., and he saw one that weighed 44 lbs. caught between Massassaga Park and Ox Point, an old fishing ground, which has been fished for upwards of a century.'"

PLENTY OF THRILL.

A Vancouver exchange contains the following item concerning a horse belonging to Mr. W. H. Kent, formerly local manager of the Bell Telephone Company:

"One of the most exciting runaways in many months occurred this morning shortly after ten o'clock on Hastings street. The horse was owned by H. W. Kent, general superintendent of the New Westminster and Burrard Inlet Telephone Co., and was driven by John Dillabough, inspector of the company's lines for British Columbia. The horse became unmanageable on Hastings street near Homer, but was got under control before getting away. Mr. Dillabough and a policeman turned the animal and walked him up as far as the Bank of Commerce. He seemed to have cooled down somewhat and Mr. Dillabough got into the rig. The horse started off quietly but had not gone more than a few yards when he reared and bolted, tearing up Hastings street at a terrible clip. Dillabough stood up in the carriage and did his utmost to control the maddened animal, but his tugging at the reins had no effect. The horse tore into the hydrant at the corner of Hastings and Seymour streets and wrenched it from the socket. Then the animal took across the street and took the sidewalk opposite Lucas' barber shop. The carriage struck struck a telephone pole, and the horse went out from the shafts as if shot from a gun. Dillabough was thrown headlong and struck the sidewalk with considerable force. He was stunned by the fall but soon recovered and walked unaided to the telephone office. Had the carriage struck the telephone pole at the curb Dillabough would either have been killed or very seriously injured. The vehicle was badly damaged."

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper digestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids digestion. Nerviline cures dyspeptic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, colic, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c. bottles everywhere.

SETTLERS IN EXCHANGE FOR SOLDIERS.

Canada not only does not object to our young men going to South Africa to help fight and win the battles, but sends them with her blessing. While we do this, we do not do it in the hope of direct reward, though this country does get a reward in the warmer places the deeds of her sons have won in the hearts of the authorities at home and in the added prominence given to the high character of Canadian citizenship and the indirect prominence given to our capabilities and resources. But without being greedy, there is one little return the British Isles might make Canada. We need population and we should feel well repaid if for the boys we have sent to South Africa — some of whom, alas! we left there — they would send a few more thousand of their surplus population, struggling for bare existence, to people our waiting lands in New Ontario and the Northwest. We have millions of acres waiting to be made into millions of prosperous farmsteads, and happy homes. Send us along your British immigrants, we shall make them welcome, and if they are of the right stuff they will make themselves homes upon soil of unsurpassed fertility, and with the best all-round climate on the continent, and under the best form of government, and freest institutions in the world.

A BROAD VIEW.

Commenting on Sir Richard Cartwright's speech on the budget, The Montreal Herald says:—"The speech was rightly acclaimed as the speech of the session. It was far more than that, however. It was an admirable presentation of the large aspects of the present political situation, and a stirring vindication of the policy for which the Liberal party of Canada has contended during a quarter of a century, as justified by the events of the past five years. In the tribute paid by Sir Richard Cartwright to the memory, the character and the wise foresight of Alexander Mackenzie there rang out the strong note of personal satisfaction over the reversal, after long years, of the verdict passed upon Mackenzie by the gererality of men in the years succeeding 1878. This splendid speech cannot fail to make a deep impression upon the country, and more especially upon the Liberal party, a portion of whom have of late shown signs of being led into error by the very success of the policy they so long have supported. Nor is the exposure of the census-stuffing of 1891 the least important of the topics touched upon by Sir Richard Cartwright. That part of his speech will repay the most careful attention. It reveals a state of things existing in that year which was a disgrace to the Parliament and Government of Canada, and of which more ought to be made known, before, at all events, we revert to the system under which forty thousand people, counted as in this Province of Quebec, had taken up their homes in the United States."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Liberals have often had to fight for Ontario in the courts. The Conservatives sought to seize control of the liquor licenses, to deprive us of the revenue from escheats and brewers' and distillers' licenses. They say the Liberals are too friendly to corporations, yet they opposed our taxing them $548,349, as they opposed our collecting from succession dues $1,839,102. Had they had their way we should have been deprived in these matters alone of nearly $10,000,000 of revenue.—Hon. Mr. Stratton at Hamilton.

Mr. George F. Marter was at Sault Ste. Marie the other day and was interviewed by the Sault Express. Questioned as to the stand he had taken on the agreement between the Government and the Montreal Pulp and Paper Company, he said: "I challenge any member of the Legislature to meet me on the floor of the House or at any other place, and I will prove to the satisfaction of the public that I voted for a fair and just concession." Asked to the prospects for his re-election in North Toronto, he declared that he had no doubt that he would be returned by a large majority.

STR. SUNBEAM GOES TO LINDSAY

Another Addition to our Fleet of Passenger Steamers.

(From the Lindsay Post.)

Our citizens will be interested in learning that Messrs. Jos. Parkin and John Carew have purchased the fine passenger steamer Sunbeam from the owners, Messrs. Whyte and Grills, of Lakefield, and the craft will be brought to Lindsay as soon as navigation opens.

The Sunbeam is 85 feet long, beam 18 feet, and draught 4 feet. She was built for the lower lake passenger business, and during the last two seasons was on the route between Lakefield and Chemong, connecting at points mentioned with the Trent Valley Navigation Co's steamer, Ogemah. She is of the propellor type, has powerful engines, and is licensed to carry 220 passengers. Her hull is of three-inch white oak planking and the work throughout is of the most substantial character.

We understand it is the intention of the new owners to place the boat in the excursion service. The craft is of a size that will permit her to pass through Rosedale lock, therefore a new route will be opened up to pleasureseekers. Excursions can now be planned to Coboconk, Laidlaw's Landing, Kirkfield and other points up the Trent Valley Canal, while there are dozens of delightful spots along the shores of Balsam Lake that are unknown to the people of this vicinity. The boat will be commanded by Capt. Parkin.

Surprising Results.

A Simple Internal Remedy Makes Remarkable Cures of Catarrh.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes, for catarrh, and have found how useless and inconvenient they are, will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form; druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents for full sized treatment is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children, by destroying nerve sensation. The irritation in throat which causes coughing, is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause, but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach, because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics. Blood Root, Red Gum from Eucalyptus Tree, etc., when you use these Tablets, you know what you are putting into your system, and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates, or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Mr. Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures, says: "I can heartily recommend to all Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches, and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by by this harmless but effective remedy."

Dr. Wainwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for Catarrhal Headaches and Catarrhal Deafness, because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children, because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croups at the very beginning.

ONEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

This week's issue of the Examiner containing an account of and the speeches made at the Liberal convention has been read with great interest, and will have much to do with changing the opinions of the many one-sided people, especially at a time of prosperity like this and how foolish under these favourable conditions to give up a certainty for an uncertainty.

The event of the season will be the Old Folk's Concert on Monday evening in aid of the Mechanics' Institute Library.

AUSTRALIANS' CRIMES

London Paper Says They Killed Boers for Their Money.

SHOT NATIVES LIKE RABBITS

Ten Boers Shot Down by a Squadron of Soldiers After Some of the Non-Commissioned Officers Had Refused to Carry Out the Death Sentence—Another Sharp Rear-Guard Action.

London, April 3.—The Morning Leader publishes the alleged story of the crimes which led to the court-martial and execution of two Australian officers in South Africa, which is just now exciting keen indignation in Australia.

The Morning Leader asserts that several officers of this particular irregular corps shot natives like rabbits, and they are even suspected of murdering men of their own command, against whom they had grudges.

The incident which led to their court-martial was the cold-blooded "execution" by those officers of 10 Boers, who were journeying to Pietersburg with the object of surrendering. It was supposed that these Boers had £20,000 with them. Actuated by cupidity, the Australians stopped the Boers, tried them by mock court-martial and ordered all of them to be shot. This was done by a squadron of the soldiers, after some non-commissioned officers had refused to carry out the death sentence.

The officers then ransacked the Boers' wagons, and were disgusted upon finding that the £20,000 was in Transvaal paper money.

The Morning Leader says further that a German missionary, a few miles distant from the scene of the "execution," heard of the affair. Lieut. Hancock, one of the Australians concerned, fearing he would divulge his information, shot the missionary down. This shooting eventually led to a complaint by the German Consul to Lord Kitchener, who proceeded to court-martial the Australians.

REAR-GUARD ACTION.

An Attack on a Laager Which Had to Be Withdrawn.

London, April 3.—Lord Kitchener, in a despatch from Pretoria, made public last evening, announced that the Second Dragoon Guards fought a sharp rear-guard action near Boschmans' Kop, during the evening of March 31. Four officers are known to have been wounded. No further details of the casualties have been received. The column commander, Col. Lawley, detached the Dragoons, with the object of surprising a Boer laager, reported to have been located ten miles east of Boschman's Kop. The Dragoons found the Boers strongly posted, and the burghers were subsequently largely reinforced, with the result that the Dragoons had to fight a hard rear-guard action in order to regain the main column. The heavy firing called up Col. Lawley and his troops, who drove off the Boers. The latter's loss is reported to have been heavy.

Engineer Lost Control.

London, April 3.—It has been suggested that the train wreck near Barberton, Transvaal Colony, March 30, resulting in the death of 39 soldiers and the wounding of 45 others, nearly all of whom belonged to the Hampshire Regiment, was caused by the Boers, but Lord Kitchener reports that it was accidental. The train was descending a steep grade when the engine and five trucks jumped the track and turned over.

Details of the train wreck show that, after leaving Barberton, the engineer lost control of the train on the down grade, and, for three miles it went at the rate of 80 miles an hour. The engine jumped the rails at a sharp curve, with five trucks filled with soldiers. A terrific smash-up followed, and the boiler of the engine exploded. The engineer and fireman were killed. Six of the injured soldiers have since died.

WITH A TATTERED UNION JACK.

How Rhodes' Coffin Is Draped—Queen Alexandra's Wreath.

Cape Town, April 3.—A private service for his family and friends was held over the remains of Cecil Rhodes at Groote Schur last evening.

The body was brought here at midnight last night, and deposited in the vestibule of the Parliament Building. The coffin is draped with a tattered Union Jack, which belonged to Mr. Rhodes, and which he regarded with peculiar veneration, and with a tattered flag of the British Chartered South Africa Company which went through the fight at Massikessi. On these two flags rest the cap and gown which the deceased wore when he took his degree at Oxford. Cape policemen are grouped in the corners of the chamber as a guard over the remains. A beautiful wreath of flowers from Queen Alexandra has been placed at the head of the bier. Rudyard Kipling will take part in the funeral procession.

PROVISION FOR TEACHERS.

Hon. Mr. Ross to Introduce a Measure to Aid Superannuation—Educationists' Meetings on Wednesday.

Toronto, April 3.—What with the discussion of the question of increased salaries for teachers, a revision of the methods in imparting knowledge, and various other matters of importance, in an educational sense, the delegates to the Ontario Educational Association had a busy time of it yesterday.

The general meeting in the evening was the most important one of the convention.

A report was submitted from the committee appointed to deal with the question of teachers' pensions and retiring allowances. The report stated that Hon. Mr. Ross had informed the chairman that it was his intention to introduce a general superannuation act at the next session of the Legislature to provide for pensions for Government employes on their retirement, and that it was his intention to include in that act a provision for assisting the superannuation of teachers.

Charles D. Fraser, Toronto, read a paper on the High School entrance examination.

W. F. Moore, Dundas, spoke on "The Status of the Educational Council."

In conclusion, the lecturer, seconded by Mr. Cook of Thorold, moved that in the opinion of the association the council should have its membership increased to 19— seven university men, three collegiate, five public school, one inspector, one trustee, one from the training schools, one outsider; that these should be elected by the bodies they represented, except the outsider, who should be appointed by the Minister, and should be chairman; that the committee should have charge of authorization of the text books, examinations and curricula; that they should be paid for their services.

J. Squair moved in amendment that the matter be referred to a committee to be named by the chairman, to be dealt with.

On division the amendment carried.

The appointment of a general committee to deal with resolutions from the Local Teachers' Association, as suggested by the East Victoria Teachers' Association, was also submitted to the same committee for consideration.

President James Henderson delivered a brief address, in which he regarded the system of education in Ontario good, but not without its defects, some of which he enumerated.

S. Silcox, St. Thomas, read a paper, in which he pointed out the inadequacy of the remuneration to teachers in the province, and moved that houses should be granted by the Legislature to those schools in which efficient teachers have been engaged for a continuous period of three years at a salary which the respective Legislatures consider ample.

Mr. Young, Hamilton, seconded the motion, and in doing so said it was a crime that some teachers should be working for the salaries given them.

The motion passed unanimously.

Inspector John Seath was the only one nominated for the position of president of the association, and he was declared elected amidst hearty applause. R. W. Doan was re-elected general secretary and W. J. Hendry treasurer.

Before adjourning the association recorded itself in favor of a library commission and expressed its appreciation of the reading camp and club house improvement clubs.

A POSTMASTER'S OPINION.

No one is More Qualified to Give an Intelligent and Truthful Experience—His Conclusions Seem Reasonable.

No more intelligent, reasonable, and and capable public officers can be found than the postmasters of Canada.

Honest, truthful and courteous they are generally consulted by their neighbours and patrons and their opinions are universally respected and their advice followed.

The postmasters are a power in the land and they have been careful to maintain the respect of the people by not hazarding an opinion which could not be supported as a sound one.

Mr. R. Jancouski, postmaster at Fesserton, Ontario, is known personally to every man, woman and child among the patrons of that office and to many others outside.

Mr. Jancouski says:—

"I have given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a fair trial and can with every confidence recommend them.

"I have known of many others who have found this remedy to be all that could be desired as a cure for Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble."

The opinion of Mr. Jancouski is concurred in by everyone who has given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets anything like a fair trial.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have established themselves as an honest remedy that does everything that is claimed for them.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are a specific aid for diseases of the Stomach and Digestive Organs only.

Of course by removing these diseases they cause all the ailments resulting from the deranged Stomach to disappear. Headache and Heart Trouble, for instance, are most frequently the results of Indigestion, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Indigestion and with it goes the Palpitation and Headache.

There are many thousands to-day in Canada to whom this experience should come as a message of hope, for there is really no reason why none should suffer a moment longer with Dyspepsia or other Stomach Trouble, when such an infallible remedy as Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets is for sale in every drug store in the land.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured and cured completely many skeptical Dyspeptics.

Miss Blair Married in Ottawa.

Ottawa, April 3.—The marriage of Miss Marion Blair, the eldest daughter of Hon. A. G. Blair, to Mr. C. Walter Clarke of St. John, N.B., took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Andrew's Church. The edifice was beautifully decorated with white and yellow flowers, daisies, white lilac and daffodils being lavishly used. Rev. Dr. Herridge officiated. There were about fifty people invited to witness the ceremony.

THE BRANTFORD MURDER.

Sergt. Wallace and P. C. Donnelly Are in Charge.

Brantford, April 3.—If any progress has been made by the police authorities during the last three or four days in solving the Quirk murder mystery there are no signs of it on the surface. The impression is widespread in the city that the police are at a standstill, and may remain so for some time.

The case is in the hands of Sergt. Wallace and P. C. Donnelly of the local police force. They have paid numerous visits to the Commercial Hotel, and have gone over the whole ground pretty thoroughly. They have taken measurements of all distances which are at all likely to be of any use as evidence. They have also interviewed a number of the servants and boarders during the past few days.

Sir Henry in Washington.

Washington, April 3.—Sir Henry Strong, Chief Justice of the Dominion of Canada; Don. M. Dickinson of Detroit, Mich., and David Castro, Chief Justice of Salvador, comprising the board appointed to arbitrate the claims of the Salvador Commercial Company, against the Government of Salvador for damages sustained through the alleged appropriation of the company's concession rights by the Government, paid their respects to the President and Secretary Hay yesterday.

The Doctors Told Miss Blake She Was Going Into Consumption.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Truly Rescued Her From the Grave.

This is the Season to use the Great Medicine if you Would Banish the Seeds of the Great White Plague.

On every hand we see men and women who at this season should be active, hale and strong, losing flesh and weight, looking pale and languid. We hear them complain of feverishness, pain in the chest and of shortness of breath.

Ah! reader, these are a few of the symptoms of the White Plague! Act at once with wisdom and decision; you cannot afford to lose precious time experimenting with medicines that have no reputation—that have no positive victories to their credit.

Heaven help you to use the life-saver that rescued Miss Blake from an untimely grave! Her doctors told her she was going into consumption. Providence directed her to make use of Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle produced a marvellous effect; her life blood was being freshened and enriched; her appetite was improved; strength was taking the place of weakness and the tinge of health was coming to the pale face. Miss Blake who resides on Hughson street, Hamilton, Ont., tells her story for the benefit of others.

"For years I suffered greatly and was under the care of doctors who finally told me I was going into consumption. I was getting worse through the use of medicines, and I gave up my doctors. While in a very critical condition, not able to sleep or rest, always faint and weak, appetite and digestion bad, and my system rundown and little life left in me, I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After taking one bottle I felt much relieved. I have used in all seven bottles, and am now a new woman, can enjoy life, and am as well as I wish to be. Many thanks for your great medicine."

Long-Service Medals Presented.

Ottawa, April 3.—The feature of the state ball at Government House last night was the presentation of long-service medals to the Minister of Militia, the Deputy Minister, Col. Macdonald, Chief Superintendent of Military Stores, Lieut.-Col. MacPherson, and others. The presentation was also made of the Distinguished Service Order to Capt. Morrison, and his investure was greeted with special applause. It was the only South African distinction awarded, and His Excellency made special reference to the circumstances under which it was won.

Nip Disease in the Bud.

It is difficult to eradicate a disease after it has become seated, therefore it is wise to take any ailment in its initial stages and by such remedies as are sufficient, stop it in its course. Cold is the commonest complaint of man, and when neglected leads to serious results. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will cure the severest cold or most violent cough.

"Sims" Richards Dead.

Toronto, April 3.—Samuel Richardson, better known as "Sims" Richards," who ten years ago was Toronto's most popular tenor singer, died yesterday morning in the Western Hospital. Deceased was 54 years of age. He was born in London, Eng., and at the age of 8 years was a paid chorister in St. Stephen's Church choir.

MacFadden and daughter Estella, of Peterborough, spent Easter with Mrs. Archambault and Mrs. Deyell, town. .....Mr. Morley Lyle, of the Canadian Canoe Co., Peterborough, was in town on business last week.

Mr. Alonzo W. Spooner has taken an active interest in the Grant-Hamilton Oil Company of Toronto, and will be Secretary and Treasurer of the organization. Mr. Spooner, who has had an active and successful business career in Port Hope, and later in Toronto, and who is, in addition, one of the oldest oil dealers in the city, has many friends in the Province, who will be interested to learn of his assumption of this new post.—The Globe.

The Topical Sun, a paper published in West Palm Beach, Fla., says—"A Toronto party, consisting of Mrs. A.E. Ames and her children, Miss Ethel and Master George, also Miss Emma Morrow and Miss Shaw, who have been spending several weeks at Hotel Royal Pionciana, left for Ashville, N. C., on Thursday morning, where they will remain for several weeks. While here they were very popular, and made many friends in the sunny south, who hope to have them return next season. Mr. Ames, who is a banker and President of the Board of Trade of Toronto, Canada, arrived with the party, and after locating them comfortably returned home. He has under consideration a very large investment in Florida, which will undoubtedly give enormous returns. On Wednesday evening a birthday party was given in honour of Master George Ames, who is a particular favourite among the guests of the Royal Poinciana. The floral decorations were especially pretty. As a compliment to the Canadians, the British flag was displayed during their stay at Palm Beach."

THE SMALL-POX CASE.

Mr. W. H. Andrews Left to Nurse the Man who is Afflicted.

Mr. W. H. Andrews left this afternoon for Jackson's Corners, Otonabee, where he will act in the family of Mr. Erastus Wood in the same capacity as he did in Jackson Park this winter. It will be remembered that yesterday's Examiner contained an item referring to an alleged case of small pox in Otonabee the victim being Erastus Wood. The house has been placed under strict quarantine and every precaution is being exerted to prevent the spread of the disease. Mr. Andrews acted as orderly at the quarantine hospital in Jackson Park last winter in a highly satisfactory manner and the experience he gained there will serve him to good advantage in his new charge.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. Joseph Sproule.

The death of Mrs. Joseph Sproule, who passed away at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. John Haggart, 167 Brock street, this morning, removes a citizen who has been a very highly respected resident of the town for over forty years.

The deceased lady, who had reached the ripe age of 87 years, was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, and came to Canada with her husband in 1850, and has ever since resided in Peterborough. Her husband, Mr. Joseph Sproule, a well-known and highly-respected citizen, survives his wife, he also being of the venerable age of 87 years. The other surviving members of the family are Mrs. John Haggart, Peterborough; Mr. A. H. R. Sproule, County Tyrone, Ireland, and Mr. G. B. Sproule, Helena, Montana, U. S. Another son, the late Dr. Sproule, who died in Ireland nine or ten years ago, will be well remembered as having lived in Peterborough for some time about sixteen years ago.

The late Mrs. Sproule was a lady of unusual education and culture, though she was of a retiring disposition, so often associated with the possession of superior mental qualities, and in her domestic, social and other relations she won the esteem of all favoured with her acquaintance. In religion she was a Presbyterian.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. Haggart, No. 167 Brock street, to-morrow, (Friday) afternoon, at three o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The Peterborough Tennis Club has Organized.

What is Happening in Base-ball, Lacrosse and General Sporting Fraternity.

TENNIS.

The annual spring meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Club, was held in the Y.M.C.A. last night.

The reports of the doings of the club, and the financial statement for the season of 1901, showed that the year just past had been undoubtedly the most successful in its history, and that after accounts had been paid there still remained a neat surplus to be carried over to the credit of the year 1902.

Judging from the large number present, and the satisfactory arrangements which have been made for the carrying on of the club for the ensuing year, a very successful season may confidently be looked forward to.

A constitution was carefully framed and adopted for the future governing of the club's affairs.

A very hearty vote of thanks was unanimously passed to Mrs. John Burnham for her kindness in extending the club the use of her beautiful grounds.

A vote of thanks was also passed to the Y.M.C.A. for the use of a room for holding meetings.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year;

Patroness—Mrs. John Burnham.
President—Mr. F. D. Kerr.
Vice-President—Miss Hatton.
2nd Vice-President—Miss Annie Hall.
Hon. Sec.-Treas.—Mr. W. Harold Cluxton.
Executive Committee — Miss Denistoun, Mrs. F. Rogers, Miss Lundy, Mr. Hal. Burnham, and the officers of the club.

LACROSSE.

The Lindsay Post: "For several years lacrosse in this town has been a complete failure, financially and otherwise. Year after year the club is reorganised and an attempt made to make the national game of Canada a success in Lindsay, but without any result. This town should have a strong team in the C. L. A. like Peterborough, Orillia, and a dozen other places, but it has not, and it is not likely to have, simply because the promoters of the game will not go about it the right way. They should appoint a capable manager, who will see that the boys are out for practice at least three nights in each week. It takes time to put a crack team in the field—one year will not do, perhaps it will take three or four seasons."

Captain George Wheeler is the oldest man on the Toronto lacrosse team, which is now en route to England. He is 29 years of age. Jack Dowling is 26, and all the others range between 20 and 23. Wheeler, Hughie Lambe, W. A. Taylor, Ernie McLean and Jimmy Murray, are natives of Toronto; Dowling comes from Bolton; Billy Hanley from Midland; Percy McBride from Brampton; Charlie Querrie, from Markham; Fred Mara from Orangeville; Frank McLaren from Perth, and T. A. Adamson, from Hamilton.

The total weight of the team is 1,764 lbs.; average weight, 147 lbs.; average weight of defence, 154 1-3 lbs.; average weight of home, 141 3-5 lbs.; total height, 68 feet 10 inches; average height, 5 feet 8 5-6 inches; average age, 22 years 9 months. The spare men are C. A. Tobin, W. Jeffreys, G. R. Simpson and J. E. Curran.

BASEBALL.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Buffalo Baseball Club, of Lindsay, was held last evening. Mr. J. Cote officiated as chairman. He read the treasurer's report, giving the receipts and expenditures of last season's game. The report was a very satisfactory one. After some other business had been transacted the elections of officers took place and resulted as follows:

Pres.—Dr. D. Shier.
Vice-Pres.—Geo. Finlay.
Sec.—R. Scott.
Treas.—W. Brown.
Manager—H. J. Nasworthy.
Captain—J. Cote.

The Toronto Star says:—"Of all the new players on the local team, Torontonians are chiefly interested in "Chaucer" Elliott, of Kingston. Everybody here is pulling for him."

CURLIANA.

A meeting of the Thistle Curling Club will be held at the rink parlours to-morrow night.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH, OTONABEE.

The annual vestry meeting of St. Mark's church, Otonabee, was held last night, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt presiding.

Mr. David Lawson presented his financial report, which showed an income of $249.41, and expenditure of $209.16, leaving a balance of $40.25 hand.

Mr. Mark Greystock, who was first appointed Churchwarden in 1867, and held that office for 35 years, handed in his resignation on account of his advanced age. The resignation was reluctantly accepted, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered him for his faithful services and his devotion to the church. A committee was also appointed to draw up a resolution and have it engrossed and framed and presented to Mr. Greystock.

The election of Warden resulted in the election of Mr. Anthony Taylor, Mr. David Lawson having resigned as People's Warden.

The Rector appointed Mr. Thomas Greystock to be his Warden. Dr. H. C. Burritt and Mr. F. B. Cumberland were elected lay delegates to the Synod.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Miss Rose Graystock for her gratuitous services as organist. Upon motion of Mr. A. Taylor, seconded by Mr. A. Collins, the sum of $5 was presented to Miss Greystock as a mark of appreciation.

Mr. A. Collins was appointed as librarian.

A discussion followed as to a new fence to be put around the grave-yard and Mr. Mark Greystock very graciously donated the sum of $100 to be used for a new iron fence. A committee consisting of David Lawson, A. Collins, T. Thorne, John Dixon, the Rector, and Wardens ex-officio, was appointed to carry this out forthwith.

The meeting then adjourned sine die.

TAMMANY METHODS OF JOURNALISM.

Under the heading of "Tammany Methods," the Review printed something last night. This heading is strictly appropriate if it applies to the style of untruthful journalism, which is represented by the following, which is absolutely and unquivocally untrue and without foundation, as regards the article quoted:

"The Liberal Ministers, Hon. Mr. Gibson and Hon. Mr. Stratton, and other provincial lights in the Government party," says the Review, "were present at the opening of a new Liberal Club at Hamilton the other evening. The Hamilton Spectator has since discovered that the membership of this club is being boomed in a rather novel, and witbal, peculiar manner. Here is what the Spectator says:

"The Grit gentlemen who are pushing the new Liberal Club have hit upon a grand plan to give the club a good membership—as far as members are concerned. The liquor dealers have been notified that each is expected to contribute $20 to the funds of the club, or to furnish twenty members at a dollar each. There is not much chance for the liquor man. It will probably cost him $20 either way, and he will, as a matter of course, prefer to send the twenty members and get something for his money."

The Hamilton Times thus "nails the lie" of which the Spectator has been guilty, and which the Review endorsed by republication. The Times, under the expressive heading "At It Again," which shows the Spectator to be an old offender, says:

"The Spectator deems it a breach of good manners for the Times to rebuke it for lying, but it continues to give provocation by its persistence in that line of industry. Take its whole-cloth composition in Thursday's evening's issue for an illustration. Nobody could have told the Spec. that the liquor dealers of Hamilton have been notified by the 'Grit gentlemen who are pushing the new Liberal Club,' that 'each is expected to contribute $20 to the funds of the club or to furnish twenty dollars at a dollar each.' No such scheme has been suggested by or to any member of the club. The idea originated in the depraved mind of the Spectator liar, who considers it a huge joke to be caught in a lie, and who glories in the possession of a reputation for unveracity of which any man with a spark of decency would be ashamed. He whines when he is called a liar and then proceeds to furnish more evidence that the name is properly applied."

The course of the Spectator, in printing such a mendacious invention as that quoted above, and the Review in republishing it, with commendation, show how "Tammany Methods" are employed in the interests of gutter journalism. We are sure such methods do not meet the approval of the better element of the Conservative party. No one but a bigoted and bitter partisan would sympathize with and endorse such unfair and dishonest tactics.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

A Committee Appointed to Collect Information Regarding Normal Training.

Messrs. Murty, (chairman,) O'Connell, Lynch, Hickey, and Kylie were present at the regular meeting of the Separate School Board last evening.

Messrs. Kylie and Lynch were appointed to get all possible information regarding the teaching of Manual Training and Domestic Science, as these subjects are now taught in several of the schools of the province.

A couple of small accounts were paid, and the Board adjourned at an early hour.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Clara Strain and Mr. Wm. Roberts, of Town.

A very pretty and interesting event took place last evening in St. John's church, it being the occasion of the marriage of Miss Clara L. Strain, daughter of Mr. John Strain, of town, and Mr. Wm. Roberts, also of town.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Davidson, in the presence of a large number of friends of the contrating parties.

The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Birdie Strain, while the duties of groomsman were performed by Mr. G. Dormer, of Ashburnham.

The newly married couple will take up residence on Stewart Street.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, March 2nd.—Two Stocks That are Coming to the Front.—Evidence of the present prevailing favourable conditions is the continued heavy traffic of the soft coal roads. The report of the C. & O. for February show an increase net of 18 per cent. in earnings, bringing the net increase for eight months up to $4,187,789. This is nearly as much as the company earned net for the year 1900, and was at that time considered excellent. The company is at present earning over four per cent. on its share capital. Norfolk and W. earnings also continue on the side of improvement. The common at present time is selling only four points higher than this time last year, while it is five points lower than its high record for last November, and three points below its best price for this year, which was made on January 3rd. Improvement in the status of the stocks is not rejected in present market prices, consequently both issues should be an excellent purchase at the present time. Nor. and W. have just completed arrangements for extensive addition to its equipment, which it is believed, will result in considerable economy in handling traffic. The outlook for both roads is very bright. The friendly control of the Penna system assures traffic which formerly went elsewhere. Old Erie keeps coming to the front with dazzling figures all in the line of improvement. For eight months its net earnings show a gain of over two and a quarter millions over similar period three years ago. The factors that have advanced the coal stocks are being held preserved, and added to in force and volume. Coal stocks will probably improve in value this spring and summer, as much, if not more, than any other class of stock exchange securities. Did you note the marvellous gain in Feb. earnings for the Union Pacific System, amounting to about $500,000? It would seem futile to anticipate anything of a decline in the stock market, when such reports are being constantly issued by one company after another. Stocks should rise to the level commensurate with their earning improvement made in the past four months.

Malt Breakfast Food

A Strong and Easy Winner.

For the past ten years millers and speculators, with a very limited knowledge of the chemistry and physical value of grain foods, have placed on the market preparations under various names; some of these preparations they designate as "health foods." No greater delusions or snares have ever been foisted on the public.

Food experts, analytical chemists and physicians qualified to speak on the subject, quite agree that Malt Breakfast Food is the only true health food now before the public. This finding of scientific men should influence and direct those now making use of poorly prepared breakfast cereals.

The exquisite deliciousness of Malt Breakfast Food, its palatableness, its strengthening virtues and its economical features all combine to make it popular; it is a strong and easy winner with all classes of our people. Your Grocer delights to recommend Malt Breakfast Food.

Infants too young to take medicine may be cured of croup, whooping cough and colds by using Vapo-Cresolene—they breathe it.

TO AMEND BANK ACT

Mr. Maclean's Proposal Not Regarded as Necessary.

END OF THE BUDGET DEBATE

The Division Will Be Taken on Tuesday Next—Four Budget Speeches Ticked Off on Wednesday—Ministers' Answers to Questions by Members—Work in Committees and Several Deputations.

Ottawa, April 3.—Four speeches were ticked off the still formidable list of budget orations yesterday, and it was publicly announced that the division would be taken at Tuesday's session. The speakers yesterday were Messrs. Pringle, Turgeon, Lavell and Maclaren (Huntingdon). The House rose at 10.30.

Last evening the private legislation on the order paper was disposed of. The following bills were given third readings:—To incorporate the Board of the Presbyterian College of Halifax—Mr. Fraser. To incorporate the Canadian Manufacturers' Association—Mr. Campbell. To incorporate the Sovereign Life Assurance Company—Mr. Campbell.

The Bank Act.

Upon the motion for the second reading of Mr. Guthrie's bill incorporating the Crown Bank of Canada, Mr. W. F. Maclean suggested to the Finance Minister that the bank act should be amended, so that anyone could engage in banking without coming to Parliament. If there was anything that Canada wanted, he said, it was enlarged banking facilities, and he thought that now was the time to make a change in the law. He would have the act amended so as to allow anyone to begin business as a banker on filing letters of incorporation and avowing the intention to conform to the law. Banks should also be allowed to increase their capital without coming to Parliament for a special act. The Canadian banking system was, he said, the best in the world for those engaged in the business, and there was no bank but was worth double its invested capital. If a change were made, a license to do business could be issued by the Finance Department on the filing of the necessary papers, and if that were done, he believe there woud not be three or four new banks established this year, but a dozen.

Mr. Fielding's Reply.

Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, replied that if any practical inconvenience or evil had arisen through the present law he would be disposed to agree with Mr. Maclean, but there had been nothing of the kind. The lines within which the bank charters were granted were clearly laid down, and all anyone had to do was to ask for a charter, when, as a rule, it was given. It might be argued that this being the case, it might as well be done by an executive act as by a legislative act; but, after all, Parliament might wish to retain the control it possessed at present over the chartering of banks. While theoretically what Mr. Maclean said was all right, it was a case where it might be just as well to let well enough alone.

Bills Introduced.

The following bills were introduced:

To incorporate the Canadian Northern Telegraph Company—Mr. Davis.

To incorporate the Canadian Northern Express Company—Mr. Davis.

Respecting the Bay of Quinte Railway Company.—Mr. Campbell.

Respecting the Quebec Southern Railway Company—Mr. Geoffrion.

To incorporate the Nepigon Railway Company—Mr. McColl.

Respecting the Medicine Hat Railway and Coal Company—Mr. Scott.

Respecting the Red Deer Valley Railway and Coal Company—Mr. Parmalee.

Respecting the South Shore Railway Company—Mr. Geoffrion.

Answers to Questions.

Replying to Mr. Oliver, the Minister of Agriculture stated that the Government had no official information that the War Office purposed purchasing horses in the Northwest during the summer, but that it was a matter of public notoriety that Col. Dent had been buying horses in Canada for the Imperial authorities, and that he intended making purchases in the west from time to time.

In reply to Mr. Casgrain, the Minister of Justice stated that Chief Justice Strong did not attend the sittings of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, and so the $1,000 voted last session for his expenses in connection with these sittings had not been expended.

Mr. Oliver was informed by the Minister of the Interior that up to March 1, 1902, there were patented to the C.P.R. 9,464,572 acres of land; to the Calgary and Edmonton Railway 1,002,003 acres. The Government purposed continuing to issue patents to these companies until the lands granted them were patented.

Replying to a question regarding the proposed testing in the courts of the question of the exemption from taxation of the C.P.R. land grant, Mr. Sifton, stated that on Oct. 7 last the Deputy Minister of Justice was sent a memorandum respecting the subject. It had been decided that the best course to follow was to have some municipality being up action in the courts against the C.P.R. Arrangements in this connection were now being made.

The Budget Debate.

Mr. R. A. Pringle of Cornwall resumed the debate on the budget, and he was followed by Mr. Turgeon (Liberal), Gloucester, N. B., Frank Lavell of Leeds and Grenville, and Mr. Maclaren (Huntingdon).

The adjournment of the debate was moved by Mr. George Taylor, Conservative whip.

The leader of the Government announced that an arrangement had been reached to take the division on the budget at Tuesday's sitting next week.

IN THE COMMITTEES.

Telephone and Cattle Guard Bills Held Over Till Next Session.

The two telephone bills, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick's and Mr. W. F. Maclean's, came before the Railway Committee yesterday morning. On Col. Tisdale's question as to what the Government intended to do about the matter, Mr. Fitzpatrick replied that the Government were determined to pass legislation, but at the request of the Municipal League, they had decided to leave it over till next session.

Mr. Maclean objected to laying the bills over. If his bill, for instance, interfered with municipal rights, let the proper amendments be made, but let the relief be given at once.

When the motion was put Mr. Maclean alone voted against postponement.

Dr. Roddick's Bill Passed.

The Cattle Guards Bill, after a lengthy debate, was also held over on the motion of Mr. Blair, made at the last meeting. Mr. Blair's motion was carried by 50 to 42 against.

Dr. Roddick's bill for the establishment of a Dominion Medical Council in Canada was adopted by the special committee appointed for its consideration yesterday forenoon, in practically the same shape as sent forward by the Commons.

Deputations Yesterday.

Representatives of the Canadian publishing and employing printers' interests, centering mainly in Toronto, had interviews yesterday with Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice, and subsequently with the Minister of Agriculture in regard to amendments in the Copyright Act. Until further investigation the Government adheres to Sir John Thompson's policy.

Mr. John McLaren and others waited on the Hon. Messrs. Mulock, Fielding and Paterson yesterday afternoon. Their object was to ask a bounty on the production of arsenic ore in Canada. The Government representatives promised to give the request consideration.

Gerald Sifton's Second Trial.

Toronto, April 3.—The second trial of Gerald Sifton on the charge of murdering his father, Joseph Sifton, on June 21, 1900, will commence at London on Monday next before Chief Justice Falconbridge. At his first trial the jury disagreed, when it was understood that ten jurors stood for conviction and two for acquittal. Inspector John Murray will leave shortly for London to prepare for the trial.

Is Not This Stealing?

Are not Imitators who Live on the Reputation of the Article They Imitate Thieves?

In Spite of at Least Half a Dozen Imitators, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has More Than Three Times the Sale of any Remedy Recommended for Throat and Lung Troubles.

Have you ever been imposed upon when asking for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine by being offered an imitation? Many have been and we know of some who have changed their druggist as a result. It is not safe to deal with a druggist who offers imitations and substitutes. An honest druggist will not offend his customers by such questionable methods.

The use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has become so universal that on all sides are springing up preparations of turpentine and seed put up in packages similar to Dr. Chase's, with the object of making sales on the reputation of this famous remedy. Is not this dishonourable? Is it not stealing, or even worse? For beside the injury done to the proprietors of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, the people are being deceived. In some cases no doubt, even life is lost as a result.

Are you being deceived? Have you asked for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and been given an imitation or substitute? There is no doubt about the virtue of this great throat and lung remedy It is too well known as a thorough cure for bronchitis, coughs and colds, to need further words of commendation. What we want to do is to warn you against imitations. To be certain that you are getting the genuine be sure that Dr. Chase's portrait and signature are on the wrapper.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has reached phenomenal sales, because it cures when other remedies fail. It is far-reaching in its effects, curing the cold as well as the cough, and uprooting the most serious forms of bronchitis, asthma, and similar throat and lung diseases. Twenty-five cents a bottle. PEACE CONFERENCE

Will Now Soon Be Held as Steyn Has Been Located.

BOTHA AND DELAREY EXPECTED

Commandant De Villiers Asks For Terms—Proposal For General Surrender Discussed—Dewet Is Still Being Pressed—Bad Railway Accident in Which 39 British Were Killed and 45 Injured.

Pretoria, April 1.—President Steyn and General Delarey have been located, and a meeting between them and Acting President Schalkburger is expected to be arranged without further delay. It is reported that General Botha will also attend the conference.

Commandant Mears has sent in word that his commando will abide by the decision of the Boer Government.

Commandant De Villiers, who has been operating in the Kimberley district, has sent in a flag of truce, asking for terms.

Surrenders Occurring Daily.

Heidelberg, Transvaal, March 31.—Commandant Alberts has called a meeting of the Boers in his district, to take place 35 miles east of The Springs Station, in order to discuss the proposal for a general surrender. It is said that General Hans Botha has summoned a similar meeting at Amsterdam. Surrenders are occurring daily in the Standerton district.

Again Pressing Dewet.

Pretoria, April 1.—The peace movement, however, has in no way interfered with the military operations. The British are again sweeping the northwest districts of the Orange River Colony, where it is believed they have about a thousand of General Dewet's men within the cordon.

Caught in Ambush.

PAPER BY MR. J. McCAIG

On the Subject of Irrigation in Southern Alberta.

Some Most Interesting Facts in Connection With This Method of Agriculture.

Mr. J. McCaig, headmaster of the Lethbridge High School, and a former member of the local Collegiate Institute staff, has written the appended most interesting paper, which enters into the subject of the advantages of promoting agriculture through the medium of irrigation:

There are certain parts of the Northwest Territories that lack some of the natural conditions necessary to successful agriculture. Most parts of the Territories have excellent land, the season is favourable to the ripening of cereal and vegetable crops and of some fruits, but some parts of the district lack sufficient moisture. The areas naturally favourable to agriculture are Eastern Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Northern Alberta. Of course the farther the distance north the less favourable are the chances for successful ripening of grain crops. The area from which the moisture for these districts is furnished, is the Hudson Bay and the Great Lakes, and consequently the farther west we get in the Territories, or rather the farther southwest from Hudson's Bay, the smaller is the precipitation. The moisture of the south-west Pacific is cut off by the Rocy Mountains, consequently the western part of Assiniboia and the southern part of Alberta, are arid, or perhaps it should rather be said, semi-arid. These are purely prairie areas. They have no wood, except in the river bottoms, and here it is small and scrubby. These areas are given over to ranching, as they grow the buffalo and bunch grasses and blue joint in the highest perfection. The land is excellent, ranging from sandy to clay loam, is free from rocks, and is easily worked. The climate is the finest and most exhilarating in Canada, for either the invalid or healthy man, but the district lacks water.

It is not strange that even though there are still some areas of agricultural lands open to homesteading in the Territories, the west should show a keen susceptibility to the needs of the country, and that this susceptibility should find expression in prompt action, though this action requires considerable courage and capital. The West, like all new colonies, displays a rapid development in all lines suggested by its resources.

For the purpose of rendering large areas in South Alberta productive, which formerly supported a few scattered range cattle, an irrigation canal has been constructed which has its beginning near the Montana boundaries in the south west corner of district, and its terminus at Lethbridge. It follows a north-easterly direction along the right bank of the St. Mary's River, which is its fountain head. By this enterprise, which was inaugurated by Mr. E. T. Galt, who is already widely known on account of his part in developing the mining interests of the Lethbridge district, about 500,00 acres are estimated to be converted into lands suitable for all branches of intensive agriculture. The length of the main canal is about seventy miles but this length has already been increased within two years to one hundred and fifteen miles by the addition of important lateral ditches.

Irrigation engineering at first sight seems comparatively simple; water will run down hill, but not up hill. Its only running down hill makes its laying out more complex than the laying out of a railway bed. Long detours have to be made around elevations. In other cases the water has to be carried over coulees and smaller depressions by means of trestleworks. Cuts on the Galt canal sometimes reach a depth of thirty feet. Where land is about the height required by the bed of the canal "fills" are made at each side, making a kind of raised ditch.

It is true of most occupations that the more art and skill involved in their pursuit the larger the profits and rewards. The same is true of irrigation farming. Farming under irrigation practically means crop insurance. Even in places such as Ontario where the natural rainfall is sufficient in total quantity for the growing of cereal and root crops in high perfection, the distribution of rain fall is not based on the necessities of crops at a given time. Under irrigation farming water may be witheld from the land; hence there is no danger of rotting the seed by too much water in the spring. In the second place the water can be applied just when it is needed, and for this reason crops do not suffer a reduction of from a third to a half in value by drought just at the ripening period.

There is another important advantage that irrigation has over natural watering, even if the quantity and time of distribution of the latter were just right. This is that by irrigation we get each year a renewal of land fertility by the deposition of sediment. It is for this reason that the irrigated lands of Colorado will stand cropping in wheat year after year without showing any exhaustion. The lands of the Nile Valley illustrate the same affect from flooding. The system on the whole is a standing proof of the need as well as advantage of man's directing and adjusting to his use and profit the forces of nature instead of relying on their natural operation; for whatever may be said of the consistency of nature's operations and movements as a whole, they need the co-operation and control of man's ingenuity to make them of most use to him.

Southern Alberta has had large numbers of settlers from Utah during the past three or four years. The work that has been done on lands by them is of the highest credit to their industry and thrift. They are all irrigationists and are making a distinguished success of irrigation farming. Their grain and vegetable crops are simply enormous. They are located chiefly in the southern part of the district and already have half a dozen towns of from 500 to 1,000 inhabitants. In the neighbourhood of Lethbridge are quite a number of settlers from Ontario and from different States of the American Union. Although most of these are novices in irrigation they find no difficulty in applying the water as the land surface is very uniform and of regular dip. The advantages of the system in giving increased yields is fully appreciated and conceded by them.

The importance of the irrigation canal to the district can scarcely be overestimated. Owing to high freight rates and the distance of agricultural lands from Lethbridge ordinary and staple foodstuffs have been very high. This has been a drawback and check to the industries of the town. The Galt Mines employ five hundred men the year round, and the railways and machine shops over a hundred more. The furnishing of cheap foods to the labouring classes of the town will make possible the putting of the Galt coal on the market at a greater advantage than hitherto. On the other hand the steady labouring population connected with the mines is going to make a sure market for the products of the settler on the irrigated lands. The demand for these products is not limited to the local market. The mining camps of British Columbia, which at best is a very patchy country as far as its agriculture is concerned, can take more of such products as pork, butter, eggs, potatoes and other vegetables than the district can furnish. By the inauguration of irrigation in Southern Alberta two complementary and mutually assisting industries have been brought together, the labourer of the town and the settler.

NOT GUILTY ON ONE COUNT.

Kersey Bros. of Edy's Mills Did Not Rob Mails.

Barnia, April 4.—At the Assizes yesterday the trial of Walter and Isaac Kersey, on the charge of robbing the mails of a certain registered letter on the road between Oil Springs and Edy's Mills in February, 1898, came to an abrupt close at the conclusion of the Crown's evidence. His Lordship addressed the jury, stating that the evidence of the chief witness for the Crown could not be relied upon, and a verdict of not guilty was entered upon the record. The defence was not called upon.

Court adjourned till this morning, when the case of the King v. Walter and Isaac Kersey, for theft of a mail package containing $1,400 in December last at Edy's Mills on the occasion of the safe in the postoffice there being blown open, will be taken up.

Canadian Club Banquet.

Hamilton, April 4.—The annual banquet of the Canadian Club was held last evening at the Royal Hotel, and was attended by about 125 guests. It was quite a brilliant function, being graced by the presence of Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice; Hon. George E. Foster, ex-Minister of Finance, and Dan McGillicuddy, the sage of Goderich. President R. A. Robertson was the chairman. Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick responded to the toast of "Canada," and Hon. Mr. Foster to that of "Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions Beyond the Sea." Their responses were intensely patriotic. Both gentlemen were given a splendid reception. Mr. McGillicuddy was also well received, and spoke effectively. During the evening songs were given by George Allan, H. Morton and E. G. Payne, and Anderson's orchestra played a number of selections.

Begged to Be Saved.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 4.—Delia Tansey of Buffalo went over the American Falls at 6 o'clock last evening. The woman jumped over the railing of Goat Island Bridge, about 10 feet from shore. William Conners of Liverpool, Eng., who was on the bridge at the time, ran down the shore and waded into the river. A rake was passed to him, which he succeeded in fastening in her clothes. Miss Tansey begged piteously to be saved. He tried to draw the woman toward the shore, but her clothing tore and she was carried over the brink of the Falls. Two hundred people saw the woman go to her death.

Lost His Right Leg.

Napanee, April 4.—Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock as an eastbound G. T. R. freight train was passing up grade, through the cutting about a mile east of the station here, James Hartrick, a lad of about 17 years, and another boy, attempted to jump on the slow-going freight and ride to the top of the grade. Hartrick missed his footing, and in some way fell underneath the wheels, and his right leg was completely crushed off a few inches above the ankle. The unfortunate boy is deaf and dumb.

Fatally Hurt at Woodstock.

London, April 4.—John Warner, a Grand Trunk brakeman, living at 830 Colborne street, was fatally hurt at Woodstock yesterday morning and died from his injuries last evening. Warner was on the side ladder of a freight car, when the ladder slipped, causing him to fall to the ground. An arm and leg of Warner's, which went under the wheels, were completely severed. The other arm was bruised, while the remaining leg was badly smashed. He was a married man with two children.

Canadian Wool Seized.

Montreal, April 4.—It is reported that an important seizure of Canadian wool, which was being smuggled into the United States from Canada has been made by the United States customs officials near Moore's Jct. on the borders of New York State. The officials here are reticent on the subject, but the quantity said to have been confiscated amounts to 1,500 lbs., representing nearly $4,000. The duty on scoured wool entering the United States is heavy, and the temptation to an evasion of customs duties is consequently strong.

Ameer's Widow Opposes Him.

Allahabad, British India, April 4.—Hudda Mullah, the fanatic, who has in the past endeavored to embroil Great Britain and Afghanistan, has started for Cabul, the capital of Afghanistan, with 5,000 armed followers. It is feared that his arrival at Cabul will cause disturbances, as the widow of the late Ameer is opposed to him.

The Canadian Rifles especially distinguished themselves. Party commanded by Lieut. Bruce Carruthers holding its post till every man was killed or wounded.

BOUNTY FOR ARSENIC.

Something in Which Peterborough is Also Interested.

Hon. Messrs. Fielding, Mulock, Sutherland and Paterson received a deputation yesterday at Ottawa from the County of Hastings, who asked for a bounty in aid of the production of arsenic from ore. The deputation was introduced by Sir Mackenzie Bowell, and consisted of Messrs. E. W. Rathbun, Deseronto; E. D. O'Flynn, Madoc; C. F. Aylesworth, Madoc; B. O. Lott, Anson; C. W. Craig, Tweed; P. Kirkegaard, Delaro; George Collins, Trenton; Andrew Bell, Almonte; C. D. Kerr, Cordova; P. P. Clark, St. Ola; Joseph James, C. E. James, Actionolite; H. H. Dewart, Toronto; E. S. Leetham, John McLaren, Ottawa; Thomas Mackie, M.P., North Renfrew; W. H. Biggar, Belleville, and Frank Wartman, Colebrook. The speakers were Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Mr. Joseph James, Mr. E. W. Rathbun, Mr. E. D. O'Flynn, Mr. P. Kirkegaard, Mr. H. H. Dewart and Mr. W. H. Biggar. Statistics were given to show that the bounty asked for would lead to the investment of capital, and result in the establishment of a flourishing industry. The amount wanted is $15 a ton for the first three years, $10 for the next two years, and $5 for the sixth and seventh years, when it would terminate. The Dominion Government is asked to contribute two-thirds and the Ontario Government one-third of the proposed bounty. The Finance Minister said that the application would be given every consideration.

AN OPEN LETTER

To Mr. Fielding and to General Managers of the Banks.

Gentlemen.—Are you willing, by a single stroke of the pen, to contribute largely to the comfort of the entire population of Canada? Are you willing, by such a simple method, to do away with, very largely, one of the methods by which infectious disease is undoubtedly spread? Surely, if a simple order can do these things, you will not refuse to give it?

Give orders, then, that all bills which are soiled are to be called in, and sent out no more. It is just as easy to issue clean bills as dirty ones. Everyone who handles money is constantly disgusted at the filthy condition of our bills, the stench from which is often literally horrible. Why continue such a state of affairs? There is not a person living, I presume, who would not rather rather handle a clean bill than a dirty one. Unquestionably, also disease is spread by the handling of dirty money. And when, by a simple order, you can obviate daily discomfort to hundreds of thousands of people, why not give the order?

Will you not, in the interests of the whole Canadian people, do what I ask?

Yours faithfully,
MAX LIEBICH,
Principal of the Grammar School, Berthier, Que.

CANADIAN CASUALTY COMPANY

Names of Capitalists and Public Men in the new Corporation.

The business of accident insurance is to receive an impetus in Canada. Capitalists and public men representative of every province in the Dominion are members of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Casualty Company, which will enter the field of accident insurance on a large scale at an early date.

Amongst the many prominent public men who are the provisional directors of the company, are the Hon. R. P. Roblin, M.P.P., of Manitoba, representing that Province, Mr. J. Douglas Hazen, K.C., M.P.P., of St. John, representing the province of New Brunswick; Dr. J. T. Carroll, of Vancouver, representing the province of British Columbia; the Hon. John Haggart, of Perth, Ont., and the Hon. W. H. Montague, M.D., and Hugh S. Brennan, of Hamilton, A. S. Irving, of Toronto, Director of the Imperial Trusts Co., and Director of Ontario Bank; Mr. A. G. C. Dinnick, and the Rev. Alex. Sutherland, D. D., of Toronto, Joseph Rosser, capitalist, of Ailsa Craig; and T. B. Puddicombe, capitalist, of Hayaville, and J. P. Murray of Toronto Carpet Co.

Among financial men this company is acknowledged to be the strongest Accident Insurance Company that will do a Canadian accident business. It is conceded by investors and brokers that the Canadian Casualty Company enters the field at a most opportune time and its future is assured.

By reason of the prosperity that exists and the large amount of Canadian capital seeking investment, the stock of this company is being eagerly taken up by the investing public. As an investment this stock is among the best that has come before our notice for some time.

Mr. G. A. Jordan, the inspector of the above company, is at present in town, representing its interests, and should with the knowledge of the character of the Canadian Casualty Company, as set forth above, receive a warm welcome from those desirous of placing any surplus means at their command in what represents a safe and lucrative investment.

SOMETHING TO THINK OF.

The Review a day or two ago printed the following :

"A contemporary calls attention to the 'expenditures to which the Ross Government pledged Ontario during the recent session. They are as follows:

Main estimates	$4,004,228
Supplementaries...	181,947
Further supplementaries...	3,750
Railway certificates, (debt)...	92,248
Annuities (debt)...	102,900
New railway subsidies...	696,000
Temiscamingue railway	2,234,000
	$7,315,073

"The possible revenue this year is $4,075,000.

"By the Government power has been taken to expend $3,230,073 more than it will receive.

"This will necessitate an addition to the debt, which already stands at $5,800,000.

"Our debt will be $9,000,000 in a few years, without taking into consideration further excessive expenditures.

"But the Ross Government can draw upon us in the shape of direct taxation, and this it will do next session unless we declare that it is time for a change."

Our evening contemporary does not state the source from which it obtained the above remarkable production, and no wonder, for a more deliberate, extravagant, deceptive and misleading distortion of the financial affairs of the province could not be found in the most grotesque mathematical nightmare.

Truth is so dangerously mixed with falsehood as to emphasise the misleading and unfair character of the figures. The figures in themselves are straight enough, but their application is viciously crooked. The effort is made to show that the total expenditure for the current year amounts to $7,315,073.

To make this total there are improperly added the sum of of $2,234,000 for the construction of the Temiscamingue Railway, and $696,000 as subsidies to railways, and falsely presented as expenditures for the current year. The item in regard to the railway is doubly misleading. Not only is that amount not to be expended this year, but not one dollar of ordinary provincial revenue is to be devoted to the construction of the railway. It is to be built from the proceeds of wild lands in the vicinity of the line, lands which are now, because inaccessible, practically without value, but will be made valuable and opened to settlement and development by the building of the railway.

Then there is improperly added in $696,000 as subsidies to railways. These subsidies cannot by any means, but by direct misrepresentation, be included in this year's expenditure. They will not be paid till they are earned and some of them may not be earned for years, and some of them, possibly, never earned.

These two items make a total of $2,930,000 falsely and improperly charged to the current expenditures, of the year, and being deducted, leave the total expenditure for the year (even including railway obligations), at the most, $4,385,073. Then the estimated revenue is $4,075,000, which, with cash in bank to the credit of the province, of, in round numbers, $1,900,000, makes a total available revenue of $5,975,000 to meet a possible expenditure of $4,385,000, which upon the present basis of receipts and expenditures, will leave a surplus at the end of the year of $1,590,000, instead of the deficit of $3,230,073, falsely figured out in the distorted and crooked statement printed above.

There will be no addition to the debt for there is no provincial debt of one dollar, let alone $5,000,000, as stated. The province of Ontario on December 31, 1901, had to its credit interest-bearing assets, representing a surplus of assets of $2,500,000, after allowing for every obligation, even those not presently payable, but to be met year by year out of current revenue.

One paragraph of the above asserts that the "Ross Government can draw upon us in the shape of direct taxation, and this it will do next session unless we declare it is time for a change."

If there had been a change a few years ago and the Opposition had come into power we should, very probably, had direct taxation by this time.

As Hon. Mr. Stratton pointed out at Hamilton, recently, "The Liberals have often had to fight for Ontario in the courts. The Conservatives at Ottawa sought to seize control of the liquor licenses, (meaning a loss to the Province of $11.5000,000 of revenue, of which six millions went to the municipalities,) to deprive us of the revenue from escheats and brewers' and distillers' licenses. They say the Liberals are too friendly to corporations, yet they opposed our taxing these wealthy bodies $648,349, as they opposed our collecting from succession dues $1,839,102. Had they had their way we should have been deprived in these matters alone of nearly $13,000,000."

For the past quarter of a century Opposition journals and Opposition members of parliament have been declaring, from year to year, that we were on the "verge of direct taxation" for provincial purposes.

But direct taxation has never come, and it was never more improbable than it is at the present time. Through the exploration of New Ontario, the vast region saved to this province by the Liberals, resources have been discovered which, if developed as they are being developed by the policy of the Ross Government, and in spite of the opposition of the Opposition, will yield a revenue which will postpone direct taxation for a hundred years.

The last paragraph of the above article is—"Do not the taxpayers think its about time to call a halt?" The provincial expenditures, great or small, do not affect the taxpayer except in one way. The taxpayer does not pay one cent of direct taxation for provincial purposes. A low rate of provincial expenditure is not in the interest of the general taxpayer.

On the contrary the higher the expenditure—of course, within the limits of the financial resources of the province—the more the general taxpayer is benefitted. That principle would, of course, apply to municipal expenditure with this difference, that in the latter case the taxpayer would have to contribute directly in taxes to the money represented by the expenditures he gets the benefit of; whereas the benefits he derives from provincial expenditure are positive and not relative; he receives advantages he would not otherwise receive unless he was directly taxed to provide them.

About one half of the total estimated expenditure for this year of $4,000,000, will be entirely devoted to the maintenence of our public institutions, hospitals and charities, and education, services which directly relieve taxpayers from local taxation. Do the ratepayers think it is time to call a halt in expenditures that relieve them of the burden of taxation? Do the electors believe it is time to call a halt in the Ross Government's policy of developing our new country in a way that will yield a revenue that will permit of a continuation of expenditures which lessen taxation and will stave off the possibiltiy of direct taxation for a century to come?

Did the Opposition leaders and members have such a tender care for the taxpayers when they supported the Conservatives at Ottawa in an attempt to turn the revenue from liquor licenses into the Dominion treasury which would have robbed the municipalities of a source of revenue which since 1876 has put over $6,000,000 into the treasuries of municipalities?

A Woodstock by-law submitted to the ratepayers got 740 votes to 268 against it, yet was defeated because 900 did not vote for it. The referendum proviso is not strange to Ontario electors.

The Montreal Witness rightly warns church boards and other societies who pass resolutions repudiating the referendum, that they are doing all that in them lies in direct opposition to the cause they pretend to advocate.

A poet of the "spring" variety has been celebrating in immortal verse the birthday of the Toronto Mail and Empire and promises "three cheers when Whitney's won." That's a noble promise for it implies the possibility of the Mail and Empire continuing its existence far and deep into the century. One can but admire the poet's delicate way of suggesting the prophecy.

Mr. Matheson, 1st Lieutenant of the Ontario Opposition leader, said in the House last session that it was only in 1901 that we discovered New Ontario. He forgets history. In 1875 Hon. Alexander Mackenzie reported that the territory belonged to Ontario; but Sir Oliver Mowat had a long fight to establish our title against the Tories, who sought to rob us of it. Why? That they might parcel it out among their heelers. They had already divided up 50,000 square miles of that beautiful timber "among the boys" at less than a cent an acre—$5 a square mile. —Hon. Mr. Stratton at Hamilton.

Five Dollars a Box

The Price Cut no Figure With Him.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop my purchasing them should I ever suffer again as I did for a week before using them.

The one 50 cent box I bought at my druggist's did the work and my digestion is all right again.

Many of my neighbours have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented and Mr. Ellms also wants me to use his name in endorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. (Signed,) A. Ellms and Chas. F. Buzzell, Asst. Postmaster, South Sudbury, Mass.

Mrs. Jas. Barton, of Toronto, Canada, writes:—"For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took meicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surpised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestive, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere endorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

TAKEN TO RHODESIA.

Remains of Late Rt. Hon. Cecil Rhodes, After Public Funeral at Cape Town, Conveyed Thither.

Cape Town, April 3.—Throughout the morning a continuous stream of people passed by the coffin containing the body of Cecil Rhodes, as it rested in Parliament House. The funeral procession this afternoon was most inspiring. The coffin was draped with the tattered Union Jack which belonged to Mr. Rhodes, and which he regarded with peculiar veneration, and with the flag of the British Chartered South Africa Company, which went through the fight at Massikessi, and was carried on the "Long Cecil" gun carriage, used at the siege of Kimberley, through the crowded streets to the cathedral. The streets were lined by troops, who saluted the passing cortege. The pall-bearers were: Dr. Jameson, Sir John Gordon Sprigg, the Premier of Cape Colony, and six others. The chief mourner was Col. Frank Rhodes, who walked alone and bare-headed, followed by the other brothers of the deceased and representatives of Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner, and Sir Walter Healy-Hutchinson, the Governor and Commander-in-chief of the Cape of Good Hope.

All business was suspended during the funeral, and all the public buildings were draped in mourning.

In front of the cathedral stood a huge crowd, bare-headed, and the building itself was filled to its capacity. The Archbishop and other clergy received the body at the porch, and there the opening sentences of the burial service were pronounced, with bells tolling and the organ playing a funeral march. The procession then passed down the main transept.

The Archbishop made an address, during which he declared that Mr. Rhodes had faults, of which he, probably was as conscious as any one, but, nevertheless, he was a great man. Though not a church-goer, continued the Archbishop, Mr. Rhodes was essentially religious.

At the conclusion of the services the procession reformed, a dead march was played, and the mourners proceeded to the station There the coffin was borne into the DeBeers Company's saloon car, which had been converted into a chapele ardente. The family, the executors of the will and others accompanied the remains to Rhodesia.

The Anaemic Young Girl.

Perhaps she is sixteen. Suddenly she seems to lose strength, her beauty fades because her strength fails, her eyes lose their lustre. How her spirit droops! It alarms you, but all this may be correctly quickly. Get her Ferrozone, it is a nerve tonic, it aids the stomach to do its work. Appetite? She'll eat anything, and digest it too. Ferrozone is an absolute specific for the anaemia of young people. Ask your druggist for it.

Sir John Bourinot Drank Iodine.

Ottawa, April 4.—Sir John Bourinot had a peculair accident, which might have resulted very seriously, Wednesday evening. About 10 o'clock he went to take some medicine, and picked up the bottle which he thought contained cascara. He took a large dose, and drank it down before he discovered it was iodine. Dr. Fred W. Birkett was called, and arrived a few minutes after. He treated Sir John, and at midnight had him out of danger, though suffering severely from burning. The iodine was in a bottle exactly the same size as that which he had been accustomed to take medicine from. The bottles had been moved around on the shelf and misplaced.

12 HOTELS IN ASHES

No Lives, Fortunately, Lost in Atlantic City Fire.

ESTIMATED LOSS IS $750,000

Nothing Is Left on the Famous Board Walk From Illinois Avenue to Nearly Young's Pier Except the Iron Supports — Although No Lives Were Lost a Dozen Persons Were Slightly Injured.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 4.—Twelve hotels and more than a score of small buildings adjoining the board walk, which is built along the ocean edge, were destroyed yesterday by a fire which swept the beach front for two long blocks from Illinois avenue to New York avenue. The loss, it is believed, will exceed $750,000. In this respect the conflagration is the most disastrous that has ever visited this city. Fortunately no lives were lost, though probably a dozen persons were slightly injured and burned during the progress of the fire.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but is said to have started in either Brady's Bath or the Tarleton, which adjoins the baths at Illinois avenue and the board walk.

The hotels destroyed and their estimated losses are: The Luray and Annex, the latter formerly known as the Norwood, owned by J. S. White & Son, $125,000; the New Holland, Mrs. M. J. Lee, $30,000; Stratford, Arnold W. Waldner, $40,000; Berkely Bew Bros., $50,000; Bryn Mawr, J. and E. Kefer, $25,000; Stickney, Mrsf L. V. Stickney, $20,000; Evard, James T. Gorman, $20,000; Rio Grande, J. P. Kilpatrick, $30,000; Mervine, K. Elis, $20,000; Academy Hotel and Academy of Musix, Charles Fralinger, $25,000; Windsor, G. Jason, Waters (partly destroyed), $25,000; Tarlton, G. Jason Waters, $20,000.

The fire was discovered shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and for nearly five hourse the flames raged with such violence as to threaten the city with destruction.

Nothing is left on the board walk from Illinois avenue to a point within a few feet of Young's Pier, but the iron supports. This is the portion of the walk that is used most by promenaders.

Weary Brain Workers.

Fagged out, ideas come as slowly as molasses. You think of things just a minute or two too late. Snap's gone! The buoyancy that made work a pleasure—that's gone too. The doctor would tell you that you are run down, not eating enough nor digesting enough. Your stomach needs aid, your digestion needs a bracer too. You blood requires Phosphorous and Iron that it may be formed readily. Now Ferrozone is a wonderful nerve bracer and blood maker. It's food for the blood and nerves, it will make you strong quickly and permanently. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Rough House in Newfoundland.

St. John's Nfld., April, April 4.—A violent scene occurred in the colonial legislature last night between the Minister of Finance, E. Jackman, and Mr. Morine, the leader of the Opposition. "Mean dirty liar," "scoundrel," "black-guard," and coward," were among the epithets exchanged between the two men.

Ealet ava Veteran Found Dead.

Windsor, April 4.—George Knight, aged 92 years, the oldest pensioner in Windsor, a veteran of the Crimean war and a participant in the famous battle of Balaclava, was found dead last evening, his body lying in the middle of McDougall street. He had died of apoplexy.

Bad Indeed.

Losing flesh is a bad sign. Take Scott's Emulsion for it. For weak digestion, for defective nourishment, for consumption, take Scott's Emulsion. It restores flesh because it strikes at the cause of the loss.

A PEACE CONFERENCE

Negotiations Have Been Opened but Where Not Yet Known.

DEWET VERY EVIL INFLUENCE

Steyn Is Said to Be as Stubborn as Ever, and Nothing Is Expected From the Present Negotiations—Pressure of British Cordon Likely to Accomplish More Than Schalkburger.

Kroonstad, Orange River Colony, April 3. — Acting-President Schalkburger has opened negotiations with President Steyn, who has been located with Delarey and Kemp, but the whereabouts of the party has not been ascertained. Dewet has been located near Boshof.

Dewet's Bad Influence.

Kroonstad, Orange River Colony, April 1, Tuesday.—The Transvaal delegates are still here. It is believed that General Dewet is influencing President Steyn not to meet acting President Schalkburger.

Steyn Not Changed.

Pretoria, Wednesday, April 2.—Communications have passed between President Steyn and the Transvaal mission at Kroonstad, but nothing is yet known of the result. The majority of the military men and civilians here expect more from the continual pressure of the troops than from the present negotiations. It is pointed out that once before when hard pressed the Transvaalers showed a desire for peace, but were promptly overridden by President Steyn. Nothing in the present situation, so far as known, indicates that President Steyn is less irreconciliable than previously. Indeed, the known facts seem to point to a greater determination to continue the struggle.

Situations in Natal.

Durban, Natal, April 3.—General traffic is closed throughout the whole country north of the Tugela River. The region is stoutly protected by lines of blockhouses extending from Ladysmith. Permits are required to enable people to proceed beyond Colenso. The town guards at Ladysmith, Dundee and Newcastle are under arms and have been recruited to their full strength.

The Other Side of the Story.

London, April 4.—Lieut. Witton, one of the Australians sentenced to life imprisonment at penal servitude at the same time that the Australian officers were sentenced to death, for shooting and robbing Boers who were traveling to Pietersburg with the object of surrendering, has arrived in England to serve his sentence. He gives an account of the affair as follows:

"One of their (the Australian) officers, had been murdered by Boers. Shortly afterwards the Australians captured a number of Boers, including one wearing the uniform of the murdered officer. They immediately held a drumhead court martial, found the man guilty, and ordered him to be shot. For this the Australians were arrested in October and tried by court martial. Their sentences, after revision by the Imperial Government, were communicated to them in February. Two of the Australians were shot."

Dentists For South Africa.

Ottawa, April 4.—The Militia Department has cabled to the War Office offering the services of half a dozen skilled dental surgeons for duty in the base hospitals and general hospitals in South Africa. The department was led to make the offer owing to the receipts of numerous applications for service by Canadian dentists.

Total Canadian Casualties.

Ottawa, April 4.—Up to date 207 Canadians have died in South Africa from bullet wounds or disease, the proportion of deaths in the various regiments being as follows:

Royal Canadian Regiment	68
Canadian Mounted Rifles, dragoons and artillery	47
Strathcona Horse	30
Canadian Scouts	10
S. A. C.	45
Second Mounted Rifles	1
Various corps	6

THE EMPIRE'S DEFENCE.

The Citizen Soldier an Increasingly Important Factor in This Regard.

Montreal, April 4.—The Star's London cable states that Lord Dundonald will assume command of the Canadian militia at the termination of O'Grady-Haly's term of office. Lord Dundonald is now at Ascot, awaiting the gazetting of the appointment.

In view of Lord Dundonald's selection there have turned up recent expressions of his views. He has a tremendous belief in the citizen soldier as an increasingly important element in the defence of the Empire, the State providing freely everything to secure his efficiency. He says on the true recognition of the citizen soldier depends the solution of one of the gravest political problems before our race, and insists on the paramount importance of good shooting to make the Empire safe.

Lord Dundonald sends me this message for publication: "The Canadians who served under me in South Africa were men from the top of the head to the soles of their feet. To be more explicit, there are persons with rifles and men with rifles. When a general has men under him with rifles, he knows what he can do, and what risks he can take. Dundonald."

CONVENTION CLOSES.

Organization Urged Upon the Teachers—Religion in the Schools Discussed—The Concluding Business.

Toronto, April 4.—The meeting of the Ontario Educational Society was brought to a close last night, and opinion was undivided in it having been the most successful in the history of the association.

Among the questions dealt with yesterday of more than ordinary interest, was that of the Bible as a text book. The discussion was opened by C. E. Kelly, with a paper which he read upon the subject before the Public School Department.

After an animated discussion, two resolutions were passed, one disapproving of the Bible as a text book, and the other by a vote of 54 to 42 approving of the use of selections from it for the teaching of ethics, literature and history.

On motion of Inspector Collis, seconded by J. W. Garvin, the opinion was expressed that the boards of rural school trustees should consist of six members, two being elected annually, instead of one, as at present, and that the Government should see that the minimum salaries of teachers was $350 a year.

This action arose out of a suggestion from Mr. McQueen of Kirkwell, that something should be done to free the teacher from the abuse that might follow the personal enmity of one trustee.

S. Silcox told the section of two years' progress in nature study in St. Thomas Public Schools, emphasizing the benefits to education by the study of nature, in training the senses, in arousing interest and in connecting the school with the world.

The Public School Department adopted a lengthy list of resolutions, among them being the following:

That no certificate to teach be granted to any person under 21 years of age.

That the training ter.. in the Model School be extended to one year.

That it is a matter of regret that the Minister of Education has made Latin a compulsory subject for junior and senior leaving certificates, and that he be requested to restore the options as they have existed heretofore.

That the basis of apportionment of legislative grant be dependent upon the following: (a) Building and equipments; (b) Average attendance; (c) Amount of salary paid to teachers.

That a committee on legislation be appointed to study the question of scarcity of teachers and to endeavor to organize county conventions so that teachers' interests may be kept continually before the local members of the Legislature.

The last resolution was regarded as of the utmost importance by the department, as it is looked upon as equivalent to a union of the teachers to protect their own interests—a much felt want for many years.

The committee in question will consist of six members, with Mr. Spence of St. Mary's as chairman.

A highly interesting address was given at the general meeting of the evening by James H. Coyne of St. Thomas, on "The French Explorers of the Great Lakes."

Rev. Herbert Symons, Port Hope, was heard in an interesting paper on "Arnold of Rugby."

The report of the treasurer showed a surplus of between $400 and $500.

A notice of motion was given that future meetings be held in Toronto University, and the meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

A POSTMASTER'S OPINION.

No one is More Qualified to Give an Intelligent and Truthful Experience—His Conclusions Seem Reasonable.

No more intelligent, reasonable, and and capable public officers can be found than the postmasters of Canada.

Honest, truthful and courteous they are generally consulted by their neighbours and patrons and their opinions are universally respected and their advice followed.

The postmasters are a power in the land and they have been careful to maintain the respect of the people by not hazarding an opinion which could not be supported as a sound one.

Mr. R. Jancouski, postmaster at Fesserton, Ontario, is known personally to every man, woman and child among the patrons of that office and to many others outside.

Mr. Jancouski says:—

"I have given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a fair trial and can with every confidence recommend them.

"I have known of many others who have found this remedy to be all that could be desired as a cure for Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble."

The opinion of Mr. Jancouski is concurred in by everyone who has given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets anything like a fair trial.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have established themselves as an honest remedy that does everything that is claimed for them.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are a specific aid for diseases of the Stomach and Digestive Organs only.

Of course by removing these diseases they cause all the ailments resulting from the deranged Stomach to disappear. Headache and Heart Trouble, for instance, are most frequently the results of Indigestion, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Indigestion and with it goes the Palpitation and Headache.

There are many thousands to-day in Canada to whom this experience should come as a message of hope, for there is really no reason why none should suffer a moment longer with Dyspepsia or other Stomach Trouble, when such an infallible remedy as Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets is for sale in every drug store in the land.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured and cured completely many skeptical Dyspeptics.
